JOSEPH D. WEEKS'S REPORT.

COMMUNICATION

FROM

THE SUPERINTENDENT OF CENSUS,

IN RESPONSE TO

The resolution of the House asking him to submit the report of Joseph D. Weeks, special agent in charge of statistics of wages and manufacturing industries.

JANUARY 17, 1884.—Referred to the Committee on Labor and ordered to be printed.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, CENSUS OFFICE,
Washington, D. C., January 15, 1884.

SIR: In response to the resolution submitted by Mr. Hopkins, of Pennsylvania, and agreed to by the House of Representatives, that the Superintendent of the Census be requested to submit to the House the report of Joseph D. Weeks, special agent in charge of statistics of wages in manufacturing industries, &c., I have the honor to state that the report in question has been received by this office, in manuscript, from Mr. Weeks, but it has not been revised, or arranged in form for printing or distribution. This will be done at the earliest practicable moment, and the report placed in the hands of the Public Printer, with a view to forwarding advance proof-sheets thereof for the use of the House.

Presuming that this action will be in accord with the purpose of the resolution of the House,

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

C. W. SEATON,
Superintendent of Census.

Hon. JOHN G. CARLISLE,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

POOL vs. SKINNER.

PAPERS

IN THE CONTESTED-ELECTION CASE OF

C. C. POOL vs. T. G. SKINNER,

OF THE FIRST DISTRICT OF NORTH CAROLINA.

ANUARY 17, 1884.—Referred to the Committee on Elections and ordered to be printed

WASHINGTON, D. C., December 18, 18 8

SIR: I hereby notify you that I shall contest your right to a seat in the Forty-eighth Congress, and that I shall take the steps required by law in such contest.

The grounds on which I shall base the contest and deny your right to the seat are mainly the following, to wit:

First. The proclamation of the governor of the State of North Carolina, calling the election to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the Hon. Walter F. Pool, directed it to be held in the district established by the act of the legislature at its session which commenced in January, 1883, composed of the counties of Beaufort, Camden, Carteret, Chowan, Currituck, Dare, Gates, Hertford, Hyde, Martin, Pamlico, Pasquotank, Perquimans, Pitt, Tyrrell, and Washington. The election was accordingly held in the above-named counties only, and the county of Bertie was not permitted to participate in the election.

The election should have been held in the district as constituted previous to the reapportionment of the State and subsisting at the time the elections were held for the Forty eighth Congress, in November, 1882, from which district so constituted the Hon. Walter F. Pool was elected to the Forty-eighth Congress, and in which district the county of Bertie was comprised and the county of Carteret was not comprised. Wherefore I claim that the vote of the county of Carteret should not be reckoned in the election to fill the said vacancy, and the county of Bertie should be allowed an opportunity of voting for a Representative to fill said vacancy.

And I allege and aver that, estimating from the known vote of the county of Bertie at every election for the last ten years involving the party issues passed upon in this election now in contest, that county, if it had been allowed to vote, would have given to me a majority of not less than 600 votes against you; and it was for this known reason that, in the reapportionment of districts in 1883, as aforesaid, this county of Bertie was detached from the first Congressional district and the county of Carteret was attached to it.

Second. I allege that in the county of Pitt irregularities occurred, and deliberate frauds were practiced at several of the voting precincts, by which I was deprived, at Pactolus precinct of a majority of 120 votes; and at Cobb's precinct 40 votes, legally cast for me, were thrown out and not counted; and at Roundtree's precinct 130 votes legally cast for me, were thrown out and not counted; and at Beaver Dam precinct 74 votes, legally cast for me, were thrown out and not counted. And to be more specific and precise, I allege and set forth:

I. That, at Pactolus precinct, in the county of Pitt, the registrar, a partisan and supporter of yours, who legally and officially had the sole possession and custody of the registration book of the precinct, did, on the evening preceding the day of the election, negligently and willfully permit the said registration book to go into the possession and custody of another person, to me unknown, so that the said book was concealed or destroyed, and could not be had and used on the next day for the purpose of holding the election, in consequence of which, no election was, or could legally be, held at said precinct, and those electors entitled to vote then were thus deprived of their right to participate in the election. And all this was fraudulently allowed and done because it was known, or confidently believed, from the usual vote cast at that precinct in former elections, and from the known contents of said registration book, being the list of the legal and registered voters, that, should a legal election be held there, I should receive over you at least 160 majority.

II. That at Cobb's precinct, in the county of Pitt, forty votes, legally cast for me, were thrown out by the poll-holders, and were not counted, upon some frivolous and untenable pretense that the ballots were, on their face, irregular and unlawful.

III. That at Beaver Dam precinct, in the county of Pitt, 74 votes, legally cast for me, were thrown out by the poll-holders, and were not counted, upon some frivolous and untenable pretense that the ballots were, on their face, irregular and unlawful.

IV. That at Roundtree's precinct, in the county of Pitt, 130 votes, legally cast for me, were thrown out by the poll-holders, and were not counted, upon some frivolous and untenable pretence that the ballots were, on their face, irregular and unlawful. And as to 34 of said 130 votes, the pretense for rejecting them was (I am informed) that the name on the ballots was Charles C. Tool, instead of Charles C. Pool; and, as to 22 of the said 130 votes, the pretense for rejecting them was because the name on the ballots was Charlie C. Pool, instead of Charles C. Pool; and, as to 74 of the 130 votes, the pretense for rejecting them was because the name on the ballots was Charles C. Poll, instead of Charles C. Pool; and I claim that all said 130 ballots were meant for me, and should now be counted for me; and I charge that partisans and supporters of you, with intent to defraud, prepared and had printed the said erroneous ballots, and imposed them upon ignorant and unsuspecting electors, whose intent was to vote for me, and against you.

V. That at Bethel precinct, in the county of Pitt, there were 40 or more electors, entitled to be registered as voters, who lawfully applied for registration, and were refused on unlawful and frivolous pretexts, which electors, had they been registered, would have voted for me, and against you.

And I protest and claim that, because of the said frauds and multifarious evil an corrupt practices on the part of the officers preparing for and holding the electiod at said several precincts in the County of Pitt, by which legal electors were denien and deprived of the right of participation in the election, if there can be no certaintd arrived at in regard to the true intention and suffrages of the electors of said countyy then the entire vote of the County of Pitt should be discarded from the count, or else, a new election for the district should be ordered.

And I finally allege and aver that, if the said frauds and irregularities shall be corrected, and the true vote of the district counted, as it was cast, or meant by the electors to be cast, it will then appear that I was lawfully elected a member of the Forty-eighth Congress, and that I am entitled to be seated as a member, and that you were not lawfully elected, and are not entitled to retain a seat as a member of said Congress.

Very respectfully,

CHARLES C. POOL.

THOMAS G. SKINNER, Esq.

(Indorsed:) C. C. Pool, contestant, v. Thos. Skinner, contestee. Notice of contest. Copy served December 18, 1883.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 12, 1884.

SIR: In answer to the notice of your intention to contest my right to a seat as a member of the Forty-Eighth Congress from the first district of North Carolina, which notice was served upon me December 18, 1883, saving and reserving to myself all benefit and advantage of exception which can be taken to the same by reason of the many errors, uncertainties, and defects in the said notice, and in no respect waiving any objection thereto, for answer thereunto, or unto so much and such parts thereof as I am advised is or are material and necessary for me to make answer unto, I say:

I. That I admit that the proclamation of J. L. Robinson, lieutenant-governor and acting governor of North Carolina, issued on the —— day of ————, 1883, directed the election to be held in the counties mentioned in your notice of contest, to wit, Beaufort, Camden, Carteret, Chowan, Currituck, Dare, Gates, Hertford, Hyde, Martin, Pamlico, Pasquotank, Perquimans, Pitt, Tyrrell, and Washington; that the county of Bertie did not participate in said election, and ought not to have participated therein; and that the county of Carteret did participate therein, as it ought to have done.

That the act of the general assembly of North Carolina, ratified March 6, 1883, to wit, "An act to divide the State into ——— Congressional districts" (Acts 1883, chapter 226), divided the State into nine Congressional districts, and that the said act took effect immediately upon its passage, and all laws inconsistent therewith, more especially the act dividing the State of North Carolina into eight Congressional districts (Acts 1871–'72, chapter 171), were by said act of 1883 repealed. A copy of this act will be produced, when required, as a part of this answer.

That the proclamation of the governor and the election held in accordance therewith in the first district of North Carolina, on November 20, 1883, were strictly in accordance with and under and by virtue of the Constitution and laws of the United States and of the State of North Carolina; that said proclamation and election were legal and valid, and said election was duly held in the only existing first district of North Carolina, represented by Hon. W. F. Pool at the time of his death, and by said election I was elected as a member of the Forty-eighth Congress from the said first district.

And further answering, I say that under the Constitution and laws of the United States and of the State of North Carolina the final determination of all questions arising conecrning the division of the State into districts is left to the State; that the executive department of the State is charged by the Constitution of the United States with the duty of calling special elections to fill all vacancies that may occur in the representation from the State; and that when the legislative power has, in the exercise of its legitimate functions, repealed an act establishing eight districts, and passed an act establishing new districts, the first district having been slightly changed in boundary but not in identity, and when the executive department, in the legitimate exercise of its functions, has, in conformity with the legislative action, decided that the existing first district is the proper district in which the election should be holden, that the decision of such question is or should be binding upon the House of Representatives.

That while it is true that the House is the sole judge of the election, qualification, and returns of its members, in such determination the action of the State in establishing new districts, and the action of the executive, the sole and proper constitutional authority in determining what is the district in case of a vacancy, should not be arbitrarily overridden by the House of Representatives, but should be conclusive.

For these and other reasons, I say that the vote of the county of Carteret, forming a part of the first district, must be counted in the returns of the vote of said district, and the county of Bertie ought not to have voted in said district.

But I deny that the vote of Bertie would have changed the result of the election, whether the vote of Carteret should have been counted or not.

Secondly. In regard to the vague, uncertain, and erroneous charges brought against the returns of the votes of the several precincts in Pitt County, I reply in the first place, generally and specifically, that the allegations are too indefinite to be entertained by the House of Representatives, or to require me to answer, and I do not waive any objection upon this account. I deny, upon information and belief, that there were any frauds, irregularities, or errors in the several precincts mentioned, Pactolus, Beaver Dam (otherwise known as Cobb's, and not a separate precinct, as stated in your notice), Bethel and Rounheed's, in the county of Pitt, or any of them.

That the election officers acted in accordance with the law in the conduct of the election; that no legal ballots cast for you were rejected, and no illegal ballots for me were received. That the action of the election officers was reported to the board of canvassers, a body clothed by the law of the State with judicial powers, and such board counted and recorded in the returns every legal ballot cast for you in Pitt County.

I expressly deny, upon information and belief, that any illegal ballot or ballots intended to deceive were prepared or used by any supporter of mine, or that any supporter of mine concealed or destroyed the registration book of Pactolus precinct. On the contrary, I aver, upon information, that the books were taken by supporters of yours with a view and intention of casting discredit upon the election and with the hope that thereby the vote of the county of Pitt, which it was known was largely in my favor, could be drawn in question.

And, thirdly, further answering, I aver that I am not only entitled to the vote as canvassed by the board of State canvassers, a certified copy of which I will produce when thereto required, by which there are counted for me 12,339, and for you are counted 11,562, giving me a clear majority of 777 votes; but that in addition thereto I received and am entitled to have counted for me a majority of 32 votes in Murfreesborough precinct, Hertford County, whereby my majority should be increased to 809.

That at said precinct a legal election was held and the votes duly counted, but by the failure of the officer deputized to bring up the returns to the board of county canvassers in due time, the said returns were not included in the vote of Hertford County. That I am entitled now to have the same counted for me.

Further and finally answering, I say that if all your deductions of law were correct and all the allegations of fact were true (all of which have been and are here again specifically denied), even in that event you would not be entitled to the seat I hold in the Forty-eighth Congress.

PAPERS AND TESTIMONY

IN THE CONTESTED ELECTION CASE OF

BENJAMIN T. FREDERICK vs. JAMES WILSON

FROM THE FIFTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT OF IOWA.

JANUARY 10, 1884.—Referred to the Committee on Elections and ordered to be printed.

No. 1.

NOTICE OF CONTEST.

B. T. FREDERICK
vs.
JAMES WILSON.

Before the Hon. House of Representatives of the United States of America.

IN THE MATTER OF THE CONTEST OF BENJAMIN T. Frederick against JAMES WILSON FOR A SEAT AS MEMBER OF THE House of Representatives of the United States for the fifth Congressional district of the State of Iowa. } Notice of contest.

To JAMES WILSON, Esq.:

You are hereby notified that I, the undersigned, Benjamin T. Frederick, a citizen of the fifth Congressional district of the State of Iowa, residing at Marshalltown in said district, late candidate for the office of Representative in Congress in and for said district, hereby contest your alleged and claimed election to the office of Representative in Congress from said district at the November election held on the first Tuesday next after the first Monday of November, A. D. 1882, and claim the certificate awarded to you by the board of State canvassers of the State of Iowa, composed of the executive council of said State, is illegal and unjust, and I, the said contestant, hereby give you notice of the followng grounds of contest:

Specification first.

Your contestant alleges that the board of State canvassers at the city of Des Moines, consisting of the executive council of the State of Iowa, held on the 7th day of December, A. D. 1882, erred in awarding to you, James Wilson, the certificate of election as Representative in Congress and in counting the returns from the several counties from the fifth Representative or Congressional district of Iowa, in this, to wit:

The said fifth Congressional district is composed of the following counties of the State of Iowa, to wit, the counties of Marshall, Tama, Benton, Linn, Johnson, and Iowa; that by the abstracts of the votes made by the board of county canvassers from said respective counties and duly certified to the board of State canvassers by abstract duly made as provided by the laws of said State and duly certified and returned to the secretary of the State of Iowa.

The abstract of the vote from the said several counties showed the following votes were cast for the office of Representative in Congress.

From the said county of Marshall aforesaid for the said office the returns showed by said abstract that James Wilson received one thousand eight hundred votes, and that Benjamin T. Frederick received one thousand six hundred seventy-six votes for the said office.

From the county of Tama in said district the abstract of the votes as certified to said State board of canvassers showed that James Wilson received for the office of Representative in Congress one thousand nine hundred seventy-eight votes, and that Benjamin T. Frederick received one thousand four hundred seventeen votes for said office of Representative in Congress.

From the county of Benton in said district the returns of said county, made and certified to said board of State canvassers, showed that for the office of Representative in Congress James Wilson received two thousand seventeen votes, and for the same office your contestant, Benjamin T. Frederick, received one thousand seven hundred and sixty-eight votes.

From the county of Linn in said district the abstract of votes made and returned to the board of State canvassers by the said county canvassers showed that Benjamin T. Frederick received for the said office of Representative in Congress twenty-eight hundred fifty-eight votes, and that James Wilson received for said office twenty-eight hundred votes.

That from the county of Johnson in said district the returns made by the said county canvassers to the board of State cavassers shows that Benjamin T. Frederick, contestant, received for the office of Representative in Congress two thousand six hundred thirty-five votes, and that James Wilson received for said office of Representative in Congress one thousand eight hundred thirteen votes.

In the county of Iowa the returns made by its board of county canvassers to said board of State canvassers showed Benjamin T. Frederick, your contestant, received for said office of Representative in Congress fourteen hundred and six votes, and that James Wilson received for said office thirteen hundred thirty-five votes.

That said returns from said several counties constitute the entire returns from said Congressional district for the office of Representative in Congress, and that the aggregate vote, as shown by the aggregate returns, as certified by the board of county canvassers in said district for the office of Representative in Congress, showed that Benjamin T. Frederick, your contestant, received eleven thousand seven hundred sixty votes, and James Wilson received for said office of Representative in Congress only eleven thousand seven hundred forty-three votes, giving your contestant a majority of seventeen votes over said James Wilson for said office.

That the board of State canvassers of the State of Iowa, by adopting an erroneous principle, erroneously and unlawfully counted as a part of a return certain votes, to wit:

Forty-eight votes not formally counted by the board of county canvassers of Marshall County, Iowa, in said district, for James Wilson, and eight votes for Benjamin T. Frederick, your contestant, the same not being a return of votes cast in Marshall County, Iowa. Said return so counted being a paper returned to said board of State canvassers in the form of a resolution, showing that no proper returns had been made from a certain election precinct in Marshall County, in said district, and the vote had not been counted by the county canvassers in said precinct. A copy of said paper is hereto attached, marked A, and made part hereof. And said paper was not made a part of the abstract of any return of the votes cast in said county and was not certified to as an election return and had not been counted as a return of the votes cast in said county, but simply certified up as an informal poll-book from Taylor Township, an election precinct, with the reasons of the county canvassers for not treating the same as a return from said precinct, and the said board of State canvassers erroneously counted as a return the pretended vote of said precinct illegally and unjustly, and without any authority, and thereby changed the result of said election, and awarded the certificate of said election to said James Wilson illegally und unlawfully. That said paper A, above referred to, did not purport to be an abstract or a part of an abstract of the returns from said county; was not marked an election return, and was not sent as such, and it was no part of the duty of said State canvassers to examine or treat the same as a return. And said paper was made after the return of the abstract of the votes made and after the board of county canvassers had discharged their duty as such and adjourned, and were not acting as a board of county canvassers. That the board of State canvassers had no legal authority or power to revise the returns as certified to them, and had no right to treat said paper as a return or abstract of any votes returned from said county of Marshall, and by so erroneously and unjustly treating said paper as a return and crediting said James Wilson with forty-eight votes as returned from Marshall County not so returned they awarded to him illegally said certificate of election.

Specification second.

Your contestant, Benjamin T. Frederick, further shows and charges the truth to be that at said November election held in the said fifth Congressional district in the State of Iowa on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, A. D. 1882, as aforesaid, in a certain election precinct known as Taylor Township, in the county of Marshall, in said district aforesaid, nine votes were in fact cast for him for which he should be credited, and as shown by the poll-books from said election precinct, for the office of Representative in Congress not counted by the board of canvassers of Marshall County, Iowa, in counting and abstracting the votes of said county in said district, and he, this contestant, is entitled to have the same counted for him.

And Benjamin T. Frederick, your contestant, further shows concerning said election in said township of Taylor, in the county of Marshall and State of Iowa, and in said fifth Congressional district, that at said November election in the year 1882, as aforesaid, held in said township, at which said election James Wilson and your contestant were voted for for the office of Representative in Congress, the said election was fraudulently conducted in said precinct; that one of the judges of the election, William H. Stewart, wrongfully and fraudulently, on the afternoon of the day of said election and while the board of election were receiving the votes from the electors who were voting, wrongfully and illegally opened the ballot-box in which the votes were being deposited and took out and handled and pretended to count over the ballots there cast in an unofficial way, and was permitted to handle the same and did after thus handling the votes and pretending to count the same close up and lock said ballot-box in said township election precinct, and it is believed changed the ballots thus cast, and said ballots left in the box were not the ballots cast by the electors who voted for contestant for said office; and said votes at said election precinct were afterwards counted in the absence of said Stewart and a return made, but the said return was illegal, fraudulent, and void, and should not be considered.

Your contestant, Benjamin T. Frederick, further shows that in Taylor Township election precinct, in said Marshall County, Iowa, five illegal votes were cast for James Wilson by persons not qualified to vote for the office of Representative in Congress, in violation of law the names of whom are to contestant unknown.

Specification third.

Your contestant, Benjamin T. Frederick, shows that in a certain election precinct in the county of Marshall, in the fifth Congressional district in the State of Iowa, known as Liberty Township, at the November election in the year 1882, in which election James Wilson and your contestant, Benjamin T. Frederick, were each voted for for a Representative in Congress, and at which election said James Wilson claims to be elected, a certain place designated by the trustees of Liberty Township as the place where the election to take place on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, A. D. 1882, was to be held, and it was the duty of such trustees of such township to give due notice of such change of place of holding such election by posting up notices in three public places in the township ten days before the day of election was to be held; yet, the judges of said election at said November election, in the year 1882 aforesaid, wrongfully and unlawfully, and without cause, changed the place of holding said election in said precinct, without notice, to another place, a distance of two miles from the place designated and appointed by the township trustees of said election, whereby several persons, duly qualified electors, who would have voted at said election for this contestant for said office aforesaid, were prevented from voting for him because of a want of notice of the place of voting at said election; and also at said election held in said precinct aforesaid, in the township of Liberty, county of Marshall, in the district and State aforesaid, four illegal, disqualified persons, not electors in said precinct, cast their votes and illegally voted for said respondent, James Wilson, for said office of Representative in Congress, the names of said persons being to contestant unknown.

Your contestant further shows that in said election precinct in Liberty Township, in said Marshall County, at said November election held at the time and place aforesaid, in said precinct aforesaid, the said judges of election received the votes from the electors without entering the names of the electors upon the poll-books, and placed them in the ballot-box, and said judges of election were not sworn when the votes and ballots were received from the persons offering themselves as voters. That the same was done fraudulently; that the said judges of said election opened the ballot-box in said precinct in the middle of the afternoon of said day of election, before the time for closing the polls had arrived, and said judges and clerks of election proceeded to receive votes when the ballot-box was open and while they were counting the returns, and fraudulently neglected to have the poll-books opened during the forenoon of the day, or enter the names of the persons voting thereon, and upon counting the ballots, fraudulently entered upon the poll-books sufficient names to correspond with the number of ballots counted, and made a return thereof. That said return made was fraudulent and unjust, and the said return was made to show that James Wilson received for the office of Representative in Congress, sixty-three votes and your contestant only forty votes for such office. And the votes so returned did not show all the ballots cast at said election for said office for your said contestant, and he received five more votes than shown by the return made by said judges of said election, and the said James Wilson twenty-three votes less than counted and returned for him, and said twenty-three persons who were illegal, disqualified persons, not electors in said precinct, were permitted to illegally and did illegally vote for him, whose names are to contestant unknown.

Specification fifth.

Your contestant charges that at said election held in November, A. D. 1882, in the township of Green Castle, of Marshall, in said fifth Congressional in the State of Iowa certain evil-disposed persons, whose names are to contestant unknown, fraudulently and unlawfully, by falsely representing to certain illiterate voters and electors in said precinct who desired to vote for contestant, Benjamin T. Frederick, and so expressed themselves, received from such persons tickets upon which they were informed Benjamin T. Frederick's name was printed for the office of Representative in Congress, and believing the truth so to be, when, in fact, the said tickets had the name of James Wilson printed thereon, and twenty persons voted for James Wilson who intended to vote, and supposed they were voting, for your contestant for said office.

Your contestant also shows that at said election two votes were cast for him not counted or returned at said election for said office, and the said James Wilson received ten illegal votes cast for him in said precinct by persons not electors and not competent or qualified electors, and who had no right to vote, whose names are to contestant unknown. And that more votes were cast for him, the contestant, than were counted, and less votes were cast for said James Wilson than were counted for said office.

Specification sixth.

Your contestant, Benjamin T. Frederick, shows that at said November election aforesaid in the city of Marshalltown, county of Marshall and State of Iowa, in the fourth ward of said city, on the said day of election, while the polls were open one ———, a duly authorized and qualified elector of said precinct, came to the polls of said election and offered to vote for your contestant for the office of Representative in Congress, and he was refused permission to vote because he was, as alleged, not a citizen of the United States, when he was a duly qualified resident citizen and voter and elector of said ward and precinct, and entitled to vote at said election.

That several persons who were not electors in said precinct, and not qualified and not entitled to vote, to the number of five, were permitted to vote in said ward for James Wilson for said office. And at said election at the time aforesaid in the second, third, and fourth wards in said city of Marshalltown, in said Congressional district aforesaid, to wit, three persons in each of said wards who were not legally or lawfully qualified electors of said district, were permitted to vote and did vote for said James Wilson for the office of Representative in Congress at the aforesaid election.

That in the first, second, third, and fourth wards in said city more votes were counted by the election board for James Wilson in each election precinct than he actually received for the office of Representative in Congress, and less votes were counted for Benjamin T. Frederick than he received and were cast for him for said office.

Specification seventh.

Your contestant, Benjamin T. Frederick, shows that at said November election, 1882, aforesaid, in the county of Marshall and Congressional district aforesaid, in the following voting precincts in said county last aforesaid, to wit, Eden Township, State Center Township, Marietta Township, Minerva Township, Le Grand Township, Liscomb Township, Iowa Township, and Linn Township, all voting precincts in said county, five persons in each precinct aforesaid (each township being an election precinct), who were illegal and disqualified electors who had no right to vote, did vote illegally for James Wilson for Representative in Congress, and their votes and each of them counted for him, and there were counted for him in each of said townships more votes than he actually received, and less votes than were actually polled for Benjamin T. Frederick were counted for him for said office of Representative in Congress for said district, and the names of said illegal voters who voted for said James Wilson are to contestant unknown.

Specification eighth.

Your contestant, Benjamin T. Frederick, further shows that at said November election, A. D. 1882, held in said district and State aforesaid, in the township of Cedar, an election precinct in the county of Johnson, in said district aforesaid, the board of election canvassers in said precinct in counting out the ballots and the number of votes cast and in counting the number of ballots polled and in making return of the poll-books in said precinct committed an error. The said poll-books in said precinct show that one hundred twenty-eight votes were cast for Representative in Congress in said precinct, of which Benjamin T. Frederick received sixty-three votes. Yet the returns from said township duly made by the township canvassers only showed your said contestant received fifty-three votes, when in fact the ballots actually cast and the number of persons voting and the tickets show in fact said Benjamin T. Frederick did receive sixty-three votes.

That afterwards said error and mistake was discovered and a new return made correcting the error, but after the abstract of the returns had been made by the board of county canvassers to the secretary of state; and hence the said Benjamin T. Frederick, your contestant, received ten more votes than were counted and returned for him in said precinct.

Also, that five persons voted for said James Wilson in said township for said office who had no right to vote in said precinct and were not qualified voters therein for office of Representative in Congress.

Specification ninth.

Your contestant further shows that at said election aforesaid, in the district and State aforesaid, in the township of Big Grove, an election precinct in Johnson County aforesaid, in said district, there were polled for your contestant for said office aforesaid—there was one more vote cast for your contestant than was returned and certified by the board of canvassers in said precinct. And there was also counted two more votes for said James Wilson than he was entitled to receive in said precinct. Also, that five persons voted in said precinct for James Wilson for the said office of Representative in Congress who were not qualified voters in said precinct and had no right to vote, whose ballots were received and counted.

Specification ten.

Your contestant alleges that at said November election aforesaid, in a certain election precinct known as West Lucas Township, in the county of Johnson, in the district and State aforesaid, the said James Wilson was credited in the returns from said precinct three more votes than were cast for him, and Benjamin T. Frederick was credited with three votes less than were cast for him. And also that three other persons not electors and not qualified to vote in said precinct voted for and were permitted to vote for said James Wilson in said precinct for said office of Representative in Congress, and that said above error in counting against contestant and in favor of said Wilson was an error in the vote for the office aforesaid.

Specification eleven.

Your contestant further shows that at the election aforesaid, in the district aforesaid, in the townships of Jefferson, Munroe, Hardin, Madison, Penn, Clear Creek, Newport, Graham, Scott, Union, Washington, Sharon, Liberty, Fremont, Pleasant Valley, Lincoln, East Lucas, North Iowa City, South Iowa City, and Big Grove Township, all in said county of Johnson and in said district aforesaid, in the State of Iowa, there were counted by the several township canvassers for the office of Representative in Congress for James Wilson three votes in each township more than he actually received and there were counted for said Frederick ten votes in each township less than he actually received, and also that in each of said townships five persons, not qualified voters and who had no right to vote in said precinct, voted for said James Wilson, and such illegal votes were counted for him for said office of Representative in Congress.

Specification twelve.

Your contestant shows that at said November election, in the year 1882, in the precinct of Vinton, in the town of Vinton, in the county of Benton, in the district aforesaid, at said election aforesaid, ten disqualified persons not voters or electors in said precinct where they voted, were permitted to vote illegally for James Wilson for the office of Representative in Congress, and their votes counted.

That in counting the ballots cast the judges of election permitted persons not officers, clerks, or judges of said election to count the votes; that spurious ballots were put in the box for said Wilson, and more votes were counted for him than he actually received for said office; that persons not clerks of said election were permitted to count and handle the ballots while the votes were counted out, and to keep the tally-list and poll-books, and ten more votes were counted for said James Wilson than he actually received, while ten less votes were counted for your contestant than he actually received for said office of Representative in Congress in said election precinct.

That in the county of Benton aforesaid, and in Homer Township, in said county, in the district aforesaid, at the election aforesaid, six persons who were unauthorized to vote, and who were not electors in said precinct, voted illegally at said election, and their votes received and counted for said James Wilson for the office of Representative in Congress, and less votes were counted for your contestant for said office than were cast for him.

That in the township of Jackson, county of Benton, at the election aforesaid for the office aforesaid, seven votes were cast by persons not authorized to vote and not electors for James Wilson for said office of Representative in Congress, and such illegal votes were counted and returned for him, while less votes were counted in said precinct at said election for said office than were, in fact, cast and voted for your contestant.

And at said election aforesaid, in the county aforesaid, in the State and Congressional district aforesaid, at the township of Canton, an election precinct in said county, eight persons not legal and qualified voters and electors voted for said James Wilson for the office of Representative in Congress in violation of law, and said votes were counted and returned for him illegally, while in said precinct aforesaid the said contestant had less votes counted and returned for him than were in fact cast for him for said office.

Specification thirteen.

Your contestant further shows that at the election held in November, 1882, aforesaid, in the precinct of Polk Township, county of Benton, district and State aforesaid, the board of election and canvassers in said precinct failed to count and return all the votes cast for your contestant for the office of Representative in Congress, but that four votes were cast for him, not counted, and returned by said board, that should be credited to him, and four illegal votes were cast for James Wilson in said precinct at said election by persons not legal voters and electors, and were counted for said Wilson for the office aforesaid and returned unjustly and illegally to his credit.

Specification fourteenth.

Your contestant further charges that at the November election in 1882, in the following election precincts in the county of Benton, to wit, Harrison Township, Bruce Township, Munroe Township, Taylor Township, Polk Township, Benton Township, Shellsbury Township, Eden Township, Kane Township, Union Township, Eldorado Township, Fremont Township, Florence Township, St. Clair Township, Leroy Township, and Iowa Township, each being an election precinct in said county, in each of said precincts four persons whose names are unknown to contestant, who were not legally qualified voters and electors, voted for James Wilson for the office of Representative in Congress, and such illegal votes were counted for him wrongfully, and in each of said townships more votes were counted for James Wilson than were cast for him, and less votes were counted for Benjamin T. Frederick than were cast or polled for him for said office aforesaid.

Specification fifteen.

Your contestant further shows, alleges, and notifies you that at the said November election, in the year 1882, held in Iowa County, in said district and State aforesaid, in the following election precincts in said county last aforesaid, to wit, Cono, Washington, Lenon, Henry Creek, Amana, Marengo, Iowa, Hilton, Summer, Hartford, Lincoln, Pilot, Troy, York, Dayton, English, Fillmore, and Green Townships illegal votes voted by persons disqualified to vote by law in said precincts, to wit, five persons, not electors or voters, did at said election aforesaid wrongfully vote for James Wilson in each of said precincts for the office of Representative in Congress for said district, and such votes were counted for him, and three votes more were counted in each of said precincts for said Wilson for said office than were cast for him, and five votes less were counted for this contestant for said office in each township than he received.

Specification sixteen.

And this contestant further charges and shows that at said election aforesaid, in the district and State aforesaid, in the election precinct of Buckingham, in the county of Tama, in said district, there were cast for Benjamin T. Frederick for the office of Representative in Congress forty-three votes; that the judges and can vassers of said election, by error and mistake, only returned thirty-eight votes as cast for him, and five less votes than were cast for him in said precinct, and more votes were counted by one vote for James Wilson for said office than he received. Also, that five persons not legal voters or electors, but disqualified voters and electors, voted for James Wilson for said office in each township and election precinct, and such votes were counted and returned for him.

Specification seventeen.

This contestant alleges that at said November election last aforesaid, in the county of Tama aforesaid, in the district aforesaid, to wit, in Tama, Perry, Geneseo, and Toledo Townships, each of which were voting precincts, in each of which five illegal votes were cast by persons not electors and not qualified to vote in said precincts or either of them for James Wilson for the office of Representative in Congress, and also that in counting said votes in each of said precincts said judges of the election and canvassers counted five less votes for said contestant than he in fact received for said office.

Specification eighteen.

This contestant further shows that in the county of Tama aforesaid, in said district and State aforesaid, at the election held in November, A. D. 1882, aforesaid, in the Township of Clark, said election was corruptly and illegally conducted. That one of the judges of said election bet and wagered money on the result of said election, and prepared spurious tickets to deceive the voters, and placed some of them in the ballot-box unlawfully, and during the day of the election, and during the time the polls were open the ballot-box was carried away by one of the judges of said election, and in canvassing the votes more votes were counted for James Wilson than there were ballots cast for him, and fraudulent and spurious tickets were counted for him for said office of Representative in Congress, and six persons not qualified or legal electors voted for said James Wilson, and their votes counted for him for said office, and less votes counted for contestant than he was entitled to receive and were cast for him.

Specification nineteen.

This contestant shows that in the county of Tama, in said district, in a certain precinct known as Carroll Township, at said election aforesaid, this contestant had forty-three votes cast for him for the office of Representative in Congress for said district, yet no returns were made by the judges and canvassers of said election whatever of such votes. That in said township said judges of said election wrongfully sent up a paper to the board of county canvassers crediting James Wilson forty-eight votes in said township, but did not certify the same. That said judges of election were not sworn, nor were the clerks, nor were the returns in any way certified or identified, yet the board of county canvassers counted and returned and certified in the abstract of said votes cast at said election made to the board of State canvassers said forty-eight votes as votes cast for James Wilson wrongfully for said office of Representative in Congress, and also certified more votes than were in fact cast for him, and said board of township canvassers certified and counted less votes for contestant than were cast for him.

Specification twenty.

Your contestant further shows that at said November election held in 1882 aforesaid, in the district and State aforesaid, in the township of Highland, in the county of Tama aforesaid, the board of canvassers of said precinct last aforesaid returned nine votes, by error in counting, that were in fact cast, as shown by the ballots for this contestant, less than were cast for him for the office of Representative in Congress, and also four persons not qualified to vote, and not electors in said precinct, were permitted to vote, and did vote, for James Wilson for the office of Representative in Congress, and were counted for him illegally, and the nine votes not counted above referred to were cast for this, your contestant, for the office of Representative aforesaid, and he should be credited with them.

Specification twenty-first.

This your contestant, Benjamin T. Frederick, shows further: That at the said election held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1882, in the said fifth Congressional district in the State of Iowa, in the county of Linn, in said district, in the election precinct herein below named, he claims the following matters set forth, to wit: That in the city of Cedar Rapids, in said district, fifteen votes were cast for James Wilson for the office of Representative in Congress by persons not legal voters and not qualified to vote, whose names are unknown to contestant, and such votes were counted for said Wilson for the said office. And less votes were counted for Benjamin T. Frederick, your contestant, than he was entitled to receive by three votes. That in the township of Grant, in said county, five votes were cast for James Wilson for the office of Representative in Congress at said election aforesaid by persons not legal electors or qualified to vote in said township and precinct, and less votes were counted for this contestant for said office in said election precinct than he was entitled to receive. That in the township of Spring Grove, in said county, at said election aforesaid, six persons not legally or qualified voters or electors in said precinct voted for James Wilson for said office of Representative in Congress, not by law authorized to vote and whose votes were illegal, and your contestant received in said precinct more votes by two than were counted for him for said office by the canvassing or election board of said precinct.

That in the township of Jackson, an election precinct in said county last aforesaid, four illegal and disqualified persons not voters or electors in said precinct voted for said James Wilson for the office of Representative in Congress illegally, and said votes were counted and returned for him, the names of such voters being unknown, and less votes were counted and returned by five by the judges and election canvassers of said precinct for your contestant for said office than were cast for him at said election.

That in the township of Bowlder, in said county, at said election aforesaid, three persons not legally qualified voters and electors in said precinct voted for James Wilson unlawfully for said office of Representative in Congress aforesaid, whose names are to contestant unknown, and the board of election in said precinct counted and returned less votes for your contestant by three than were in fact cast for him in said precinct for said office aforesaid.

That in the township of Otter Creek, in the county aforesaid, at said election aforesaid, five persons not legal voters or electors in said precinct unlawfully and wrongfully voted for James Wilson for the office of Representative in Congress, whose names are unknown to contestant, and the board of canvassers in said election precinct, in counting the votes, counted more votes for James Wilson and less votes for your contestant than had been cast for said respective parties for the office aforesaid.

That in the townships of Maine and Buffalo, each election precincts in the county aforesaid, at the election aforesaid, seven illegal and disqualified persons, not electors, voted in each of said precincts for James Wilson for the office of Representative in Congress, and on the canvass of the votes in said precincts, and in each of them, an error was made by the board of canvassers, whereby more votes for said office were counted for James Wilson and less votes for your contestant than the respective parties were entitled to receive.

That in the townships of Munroe, Brown, and Marion, each election precincts in said county of Linn aforesaid, at the election aforesaid, ten illegal votes were cast in each of said precincts for James Wilson for the office of Representative in Congress by persons not electors in said precinct, and not legal voters therein, and the judges of said respective townships, and canvassing board counted and returned the same, and in counting and returning the votes cast, returned five votes for said office for your contestant in each of said townships less than were cast for him.

That in the township of Clinton Rapids, in said election aforesaid, six illegal and disqualified persons, not voters or electors, voted for James Wilson for the office of Representative in Congress whose names are unknown.

That in the township of Linn, in the county aforesaid, one illegal vote was cast at said election for James Wilson by a person not a voter or elector in said precinct for said office aforesaid.

That in the townships of Fairfax, College, and Franklin, in the county aforesaid, each being in the county aforesaid, each being an election precinct in said county, at the election aforesaid five illegal and disqualified persons voted for said James Wilson for said office of Representative in Congress in each of said precincts. And in each of said precincts more votes were cast for your contestant than were counted and returned for him for said office of Representative in Congress.

This your contestant, Benjamin T. Frederick, claims that he will and can verify; that he was at the November election in 1882, held in said fifth Congressional district of Iowa, duly elected to the office of Representative in Congress by a majority of all the votes cast at said election, and that he will prove and substantiate the several specifications herein set forth, and he requires that you, James Wilson, serve a copy of your answer to the various specifications herein set forth upon him within thirty days from the day of service of this notice of contest and make defense thereto. And he further notifies you that he will in due time present his proofs before the House of Representatives of the United States, and ask that he be declared the duly elected Representative in Congress in and for the fifth Congressional district of Iowa.

EXHIBIT A.—Proceedings of the board of supervisors Marshall County, Iowa.

The board of supervisors in and for Marshall County, Iowa, convened as a board of canvassers November 13th, 1882, at 12 o'clock m., and proceeded to canvass the votes cast in the several election precincts in said county at the general election held November 7th, 1882. All the members of the board were present and called to order by Geo. A. Turner, the chairman, who presided.

The canvass proceeded without interruption until the return from Taylor Township was examined, when objections were made to having the vote from said Taylor Township canvassed. It appeared that two only of the judges who presided at said election in Taylor Township had signed the returns. After being advised in the matter Supervisor Archerd presented the following:

"Whereas the poll-book from Taylor Township not having been properly signed: Therefore,

"Resolved, That the same be rejected."

The roll being called, the yeas were Geo. A. Turner, R. H. Archerd, J. M. Gilchrist. Nays—none.

So the vote was not counted.

The canvass was then continued until the returns were complete. (See election record.)

On motion the board adjourned as a board of canvassers to meet at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning in regular session.

Nov. 14th.

The board of supervisors convened pursuant to adjournment.

Members all present; Chairman Turner presiding.

Minutes of yesterday read and approved.

The following was presented and read: "We, the board of supervisors of Marshall County, Iowa, hereby certify the following facts in regard to the canvass of the votes cast at the last general election in Taylor Township in said county, November 7th, 1882. The poll-books of votes cast in said Taylor Township showed that it was attested as a true return by two judges of said election signing their names in the proper form and the proper place; but the name of the third judge, W. H. Steward, was written in the following manner:

"W. H. Steward, per clerk," and showed on its face that the returns were not signed by W. H. Steward. Two clerks signed the said returns in proper form as clerks of said election.

"We further certify that the return showed that for—

Secretary of state:

John A. T. Hull received 54 votes.
T. O. Walker " 4 "
Wm. Gaston " 2 "

For auditor of state:

John L. Brown received 54 votes.
Wm. Thompson " 4 "
G. A. Wyatt " 2 "

For treasurer of state:

Edwin H. Conger received 54 votes.
John Foley " 4 "
George Dew, " 2 "

For judge of supreme court:

Wm. H. Seevers received 54 votes.
Chas. E. Bronson " 4 "

For clerk of supreme court:

Gilbert B. Pray received 54 votes.
H. F. Bonorden " 4 "
E. N. Clark " 2 "

For reporter of supreme court:

Ezra C. Ebersole received 54 votes.
L. A. Palmer " 4 "
J. H. Wilson " 2 "

For district judge 11th dist.:

H. C. Henderson received 54 votes.
B. L. Burritt " 5 "
B. T. Frederick " 1 "

For district attorney 11th dist.:

John L, Stevens received 54 votes.
Martin W. Anderson " 4 "

"Forty-eight votes cast in said Taylor Township for James Wilson for Representative from the fifth Congressional district of Iowa, and that eight votes were cast at said election for B. T. Frederick, and two votes were cast for David Stubbs, candidate for said office.

"We further certify that because the said return showed they were not signed by all the judges of the election in Taylor Township, we rejected the vote of said township. And if the same should be counted under the facts shown, the vote above named should be added to the number of votes of each candidate named. The auditor is hereby directed to certify to the State canvassing board the return fromTaylor Township as they appear on file in his office.

"Done at Marshalltown, this 14th day of November, 1882."

Moved by Supervisor Archard that the foregoing certificate be adopted and spread upon the minutes. Motion seconded by Supervisor Gilchrist.

On call of the roll Supervisors Turner and Archerd voted "ay," and Supervisor Gilchrist voted "nay."

So the motion prevailed.

STATE OF IOWA,

ANSWER OF CONTESTEE.

BENJAMIN T. FREDERICK, CONTESTANT,
v.
JAMES WILSON, CONTESTEE.

Fifth Congressional district, Iowa.

To Benjamin T. Frederick, contestant, or Brown & Carney, your solicitors:

You will please take notice that you are served with a copy of my answer to your notice of contest, as follows:

Answer of contestee.

Before the honorable House of Representatives, United States of America.

BENJ. T. FREDERICK, CONTESTANT, versus.
JAMES WILSON, CONTESTEE.

In the matter of the contest in the fifth Congressional district of the State of Iowa.

To BENJAMIN T. FREDERICK, Esq.:

The contestee resists the claim of contestant to the seat claimed for reasons herein set forth:

He admits the counties of Marshall, Tama, Benton, Linn, Johnson, and Iowa compose the fifth Congressional district of Iowa.

Admits the election held therein for Representative in Congress.

Admits that contestant and contestee were candidates therefor.

Admits that the board of State canvassers awarded to this contestee the certificate of election.

The 1st specification.

MARSHALL CO., TAYLOR TOWNSHIP.

He denies that the board of State canvassers wrongfully counted the votes from Marshall County, and denies that they counted for this contestee forty-eight votes more than the abstract of votes showed he was entitled to or had received.

He avers that at such election, in the precinct of Taylor Township, in Marshall County, the returns showed—

This contestee received 48 votes:

The contestant received 8 votes;

David Platner received 2 votes.

That the election returns of that precinct were in due form certified by two of the three judges of election, and the name of the third judge had the words "per clerk" following it; but the names of all the judges were signed to the return, and nothing appeared from the returns showing that they were not signed by authority of the judges.

When the board of supervisors for said county canvassed the returns of that county they counted the votes of Taylor Township as above set forth, and found that—

This contestee received 48 votes;

Yet, because the name of one of the judges of the election was followed by the words "per clerk" they did not add the votes of that township to the abstract sent to the secretary of state on that day, but on the following day, Nov. 14th, 1882, while the board was still in session, they, at this contestee's request (he not being present nor represented by counsel on the previous day), certified to the State canvassing board the additional votes from Taylor Township which they had counted as aforesaid.

This contestee avers that the certificate made by the board of supervisors November 14th, 1882, certifying the votes which had been counted from Taylor Township was voted for by two of the three members of the board, and was voted against by one of the three. the "one" being a personal friend of contestant, and knowing then that if the votes of Taylor Township were not certified it would change the result of the election, and give the certificate to the contestant, endeavored to disfranchise the 58 voters from that township for that purpose; and there was no pretense that the votes from that township had not been cast, as the returns then fully showed.

As to the manner of the returns being signed by the judges of election, and as to the certificate by the board of supervisors to the board of State canvassers, this contestee alleges that section 45, paragraph 4, of the Code of Iowa, under which such officers were acting, provides as follows:

"Words giving a joint authority to three or more public officers, or other persons, shall be construed as giving such authority to a majority of them unless it be otherwise expressed in the act giving the authority."

And the returns from that township and the certificate of the counting of the same by the board of supervisors were valid.

By the Code of Iowa, section 635, "the board of supervisors" are required "to open and canvass the returns, and make abstracts, stating in words written at length the number of ballots cast in the county for each officer," &c. And this contestee avers that the said board did make the abstracts at the proper term as to Taylor Township as well as to the whole county; and he further avers that the certificate of the number of votes cast in Taylor Township was true, and was voluntarily made by the board, and, being such as could have been compelled by a writ of mandamus, the doing the act voluntarily was lawful and proper.

This contestee denies that by the proper abstract of the votes from Marshall County before the board of State canvassers this contestee had 1,800 votes, but he avers that he had 1,848 votes; and he denies that by the proper abstract of the votes from Marshall County before the board of State canvassers the contestant had 1,776 votes, but he avers that he had 1,784 votes; and he denies that by the proper abstracts of the votes from all the counties in the district this contestee had 11,743 votes, but he had 11,791 votes; and he denies that by the proper abstracts from all the counties in the district the contestant had 11,760 votes, but he had 11,768 votes.

And this contestee avers that by the returns of the several boards of supervisors to the State canvassing board, duly and properly made, he had a majority of 23 votes for Representative in Congress from said district, and there was no claim nor pretense made by the contestant, either before the board of supervisors of Marshall County or before the board of State canvassers, that such was not the fact; and he avers that at such election in Taylor Township there were cast for him as a candidate for Representative in Congress 48 votes which were and should still be counted for him.

The 2nd specification.

TAYLOR TOWNSHIP.

(Answer.)

This contestee denies that at said election there were cast in Taylor Township, Marshall County, nine votes for the contestant, as claimed in specification 2.

This contestee denies that the judges of election, or either of them, at such election in Taylor Township, Marshall County, took the ballots from the ballot-box improperly, and denies that any changes were made in the ballots after they were cast by the judges of election or by any one, and denies that any illegal votes were cast at such election for this contestee, as stated in said specification.

The 3rd specification.

LIBERTY.

(Answer.)

This contestee denies that in Liberty Township, Marshall County, Iowa, the judges of election changed the place of election, without proper notice, to another place;

Denies that any electors were prevented from voting for the contestant because of a want of notice, or for any other reason;

Denies that any persons disqualified from voting in such precinct cast their votes for this contestee;

Denies that the judges received the votes from any electors without entering their names on the poll-books;

Denies that the judges of election were not sworn when the votes were received;

Denies that the judges of election opened the ballot-boxes before the time for closing the polls had arrived;

Denies that any names were entered upon the poll-books of persons not voting;

Denies that the poll-books and ballots do not show the names of all persons voting;

Denies that the contestant received five or any number of votes more than the returns of election showed;

Denies that he, this contestee, received twenty-three or any other number of votes fewer than were counted and returned for him; and

Denies that he received any votes from any disqualified person, as alleged in said specification.

(No copy was received of any 4th specification.)

The 5th specification.

GREENCASTLE.

(Answer.)

The contestee denies that at said election in the township of Greencastle, in Marshall County, Iowa, any persons were induced to vote for him by representation that certain tickets contained the name of contestant, when, in fact, the name of contestee was upon said tickets as a candidate for Representative in Congress;

Denies that he received any votes at said election in said precinct from persons intending to vote for contestant by the false representations of any one;

Denies that any votes were cast for contestant which were not counted for him and returned;

Denies that he received ten or any illegal vote or votes from persons not qualified electors; and

Denies that any votes were counted for him which were not, in fact, cast as alleged in said specification.

The 6th specification.

MARSHALLTOWN.

(Answer.)

The contestee denies that in the precinct known as the 1st ward of the city of Marshalltown any qualified elector was refused permission to vote for contestant at said election;

Denies that at said election any persons in said precinct who were not qualified electors voted for this contestee; and

Denies that any persons who were not qualified electors voted for contestee in the precincts known as the 2nd, 3rd, or 4th wards of said city at said election (or in either of them), as alleged in said specification.

The 7th specification.

EDEN, STATE CENTER, ETC.

(Answer.)

The contestee denies that at said election in the county of Marshall, and in the precincts known as the townships of Eden, State Center, Marietta, Minerva, Le Grand, Liscomb, Iowa, and Linn, or in either of them, any persons not qualified electors voted for him;

Denies that in said townships and precincts, or in either of them, there were counted for him more or other votes than he received at said election;

Denies that in said townships or precincts, or in either of them, there were counted for the contestant fewer votes than were polled at said election for him, as alleged in said specification.

The 8th specification.

JOHNSON COUNTY, CEDAR TOWNSHIP.

(Answer.)

Contestee denies that the contestant at said election in Cedar Township, Johnson County, Iowa, in said district, received ten, or any, more votes than were counted for him; and

Denies that at said election in that precinct any persons voted for this contestee who were not qualified electors, as alleged in said specification.

The 9th specification.

JOHNSON COUNTY, BIG GROVE TOWNSHIP.

(Answer.)

Contestee denies that at said election in Big Grove Township, in said county of Johnson, there were any votes polled for contestant which were not counted and certified;

Denies that any more votes were counted for contestee than were cast for him or he was entitled to receive; and

Denies that any persons voted for him who were not qualified electors, as alleged in said specification.

The 10th specification.

JOHNSON COUNTY, WEST LUCAS TOWNSHIP.

(Answer.)

Contestee denies that at said election in West Lucas Township, in Johnson County, he was credited with or had counted for him any votes that were not cast for him;

Denies that contestant had counted for him fewer votes than were cast for him; and

Denies that any persons not qualified electors voted for him, this contestee, as alleged in said specification.

The 11th specification.

JOHNSON COUNTY, JEFFERSON TOWNSHIP, ETC.

(Answer.)

Contestee denies that at said election in said county of Johnson, in the townships of Jefferson, Monroe, Hardin, Madison, Penn, Clear Creek, Newport, Graham, Scott, Union, Washington, Sharon, Liberty, Pleasant Valley, Freemont, Lincoln, East Lucas, North Iowa City, South Iowa City, and Big Grove, or in either of them, or in any other precinct in said county, there were counted by the canvassers for contestee more votes than he actually received;

Denies that, in either of said townships, there were counted fewer votes for the contestant than he actually received; and

Denies that in either of said townships any persons not qualified electors voted for him, the contestee, as alleged in said specification.

The 12th specification.

BENTON COUNTY, VINTON TOWNSHIP.

(Answer.)

For answer to specification twelve your contestee says that he denies that at the November election, in the year 1882, in the precinct of Vinton, in the town of Vinton, in the county of Benton, in the district aforesaid, at said election aforesaid, ten or any disqualified persons, not voters or electors in said precinct where they voted, were permitted to vote illegally for James Wilson, your contestee, for the office of Representative in Congress from the 5th Congressional district of Iowa, and that said votes were counted;

Further denies that in counting the ballots cast the judges of the election permitted persons not officers, clerks, or judges of said election to count the votes;

Denies that spurious ballots were put in the box for said Wilson at said precinct;

Denies that more votes were counted for Wilson than he actually received for said office;

Denies that persons not clerks of said election were permitted to count or handle the ballots while the votes were being counted out, or to keep the tally-lists or poll-books;

Denies that ten, or any, votes were counted for James Wilson, your contestee, more than he actually received;

Denies that ten, or any fewer, votes were counted for B. T. Frederick, contestant, than he actually received for the office of Representative in Congress from the 5th Congressional district of Iowa in said precinct;

Denies that in the county of Benton aforesaid, and in the said township of Homer, in said county, in the district aforesaid, at the election aforesaid, six, or any persons who were unauthorized to vote, and not electors in said presinct, voted illegally at said election, and their votes were received and counted for James Wilson, your contestee, for the office of Representative in Congress;

Denies that in the township of Jackson, county of Benton, at the election aforesaid, for the office aforesaid, seven or any persons voted (not authorized to vote, nor electors) for James Wilson, contestee, for the office of Representative in Congress, and that said votes were counted and returned for him;

Denies that fewer votes were counted for contestant, B. T. Frederick, in said precinct at said election for said office than were in fact cast and voted for him;

Denies that at said election aforesaid in the State, Congressional district, and county aforesaid, at the township of Canton, an election precinct in said county, eight, or any, persons not legal electors and voters voted for James Wilson, contestee, for the office of Representative in Congress, or that said votes were counted and returned for him illegally.

Denies that contestant, B. T. Frederick, had fewer votes counted and returned for him than were actually cast for him for the office of Representative in Congress from the 5th Congressional district of Iowa.

Specification 13*th.*

BENTON COUNTY, POLK TOWNSHIP.

(Answer.)

You contestee, for answer to specification thirteen, says, that he denies that at an election held on the day provided by law in November, 1882, in the precinct of Polk Township, county of Benton, 5th Congressional district of State of Iowa, that the board of election and canvassers in said precinct failed to count and return all the votes cast for contestant, B. T. Frederick, for Representative in Congress, and denies that four, or any, votes were cast for him that were not counted and returned that should have been counted and returned for him;

Denies that four, or any, votes were cast for James Wilson, your contestee, in said precinct at said election for Representative in Congress, by persons not legally electors or voters, and were wrongfully and illegally returned to his credit.

Specification 14*th.*

BENTON COUNTY, TOWNSHIPS OF HARRISON, BRUCE, ECT.

(Answer.)

For answer to specification fourteen of contestant, your contestee says, that he denies that at the November election in 1882, in the following precincts in the county of Benton, to wit, Harrison Township, Bruce Township, Monroe Township, Taylor Township, Benton Township, Shellsburg Township, Eden Township, Kane Township, Union Township, Eldorado Township, Freemont Township, Florence Township, St. Clair Township, Iowa Township, Polk Township, and Leroy Township, each being an election precinct in said county, four, or any, persons who were not legally voters and electors, voted for James Wilson, your contestee, for the office of Representative in Congress, and that such votes were counted for him wrongfully;

Denies that in each of said townships more votes were counted for your contestee than were cast for him; and Denies that fewer votes were counted for Benjamin T. Frederick in said precincts, or either of them, than were actually cast or polled for him for the office of Representative in Congress.

The 15*th specification.*

IOWA COUNTY.

(Answer.)

The contestee denies that at said election in Iowa County, in the townships of Cono, Washington, Lennox, Honey Creek, Iowa, Hilton, Sumner, Hartford, Amana, Marengo, Lincoln, Pilot, Troy, York, Dayton, English, Filmore, and Green, or in either of them, or in any other precinct in said county, any persons not qualified electors voted for him, and denies that any such votes were counted for him;

Denies that any more votes were counted at either of said precincts at said election for him than were cast for him; and

Denies that any number of votes fewer than contestant received were counted for him, as alleged in said specification.

The 16*th specification.*

TAMA COUNTY, RUCKINGHAM TOWNSHIP.

(Answer.)

The contestee denies that at said election in Tama County, in Buckingham Township, more votes were cast for the contestant than were counted and returned for him;

Denies that more votes were counted for contestee than he received;

Denies that any persons not legal voters voted for the contestee, and denies that any such votes were counted for him, as alleged in said specification.

The 17*th spccification.*

TAMA COUNTY, TAMA, PERRY, GENESEO AND TOLEDO TOWNSHIPS.

(Answer.)

The contestee denies that at said election in the townships of Tama, Perry, Geneseo, and Toledo, or in either of them, any votes were cast for him by persons not qualified to vote; and denies that fewer votes were counted or returned for contestant in either of said precincts than were cast for him, as alleged in said specification.

The 18th specification.

TAMA COUNTY, CLARK TOWNSHIP.

(Answer.)

The contestee denies that at said election in said county, in Clark Township, more votes were counted for him than were cast for him;

Denies that any persons not qualified electors voted for him;

Denies that any fewer votes were counted for contestant than were cast for him, as alleged in said specification;

Denies that said election was illegally conducted; and

Denies that one of the judges bet or wagered money on the result of said election, or prepared spurious tickets or placed them in the ballot-box.

The 19th specification.

TAMA COUNTY, CARROLL TOWNSHIP.

(Answer.)

The contestee denies that at said election in Carroll Township, in said county, the votes cast for contestant were not counted and certified and returned;

Denies that fewer votes than were cast for contestant were counted, certified, and returned;

Denies that more votes were counted for contestee than were cast for him;

Denies that the county canvassers improperly certified the returns from this township; and Denies that the judges or clerks were not sworn.

The 20th specification.

TAMA COUNTY, HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP.

(Answer.)

The contestee denies that at said election in said county, in Highland Township, the board of canvassers returned nine or any fewer votes for the contestant than he received;

Denies that any persons not qualified electors voted for this contestee; and

Denies that any such votes were counted for him; and

Denies that any votes were cast for the contestant which were not counted for him.

The 21st specification.

LINN COUNTY.

(Answer.)

This contestee denies that at said election in Linn County, in the city of Cedar Rapids, any votes were cast for him by persons not legal voters and qualified electors, and denies that the votes of any such persons were counted for him, and denies that a smaller number of votes was counted for the contestant than he was entitled to receive;

He denies that at said election in said county, in Grant Township, any votes were cast for him by persons not legal and qualified electors, and denies that fewer votes were counted for the contestant than he was entitled to receive;

He denies that at said election in Spring Grove Township any persons not qualified electors voted for him, and denies that contestant received more votes than were counted for him;

He denies that at said election in Jackson Township any persons not qualified electors voted for him, and denies that any votes by disqualified persons were counted for him, and he denies that any fewer votes were counted for contestant than were cast for him;

He denies that in the township of Boulder, in said county, at said election, any persons not legally qualified to vote voted for him, and he denies that any fewer votes were counted and returned for the contestant than he received;

He denies that in the township of Washington, in said county, at said election, any persons who were not qualified electors voted for him, and he denies that any fewer votes were counted and returned for the contestant than were cast for him;

He denies that in the township of Otter Creek, in said county, at said election, any persons not qualified electors voted for him; denies that the board of canvassers counted more votes for him than had been cast for him, and he denies that said board counted fewer votes for contestant than had been cast for him;

He denies that in the township of Maine and the township of Buffalo, or in either of them, in said county, at said election, any disqualified persons voted for him, and denies that more votes were counted in either for him than had been cast for him, and denies that any fewer votes in said precincts, or either of them, were counted for the contestant than he was entitled to receive;

He denies that in the townships of Monroe, Brown, and Marion, or in either of them, in said county, at said election any illegal votes were cast for him; and

He denies that the judges in said townships, or in either of them, returned fewer votes for contestant than were cast for him;

He denies that in the township of Clinton Rapids, in said county, at said election, any persons not qualified electors voted for him;

He denies that any person not a qualified elector voted for him in Linn Township, in said county, at said election; and

He denies that in the townships of Fairfax, College, Putnam, and Franklin, or either of them, or in any other precinct in said county, at said election, any person not a qualified elector voted for him; and

He denies that in either of said precincts more votes were cast for the contestant than were counted for him.

And now generally: This contestee denies each specification made in the notice of contest, to the extent that this contestee received and had counted for him any votes cast by persons not qualified electors in any of the election precincts in said Congressional district; and

He denies that the contestant did not receive and have counted for him all votes cast for him by qualified electors in any and all the election precincts in said district; and

He denies that any qualified elector who desired to vote for the contestant was prevented from doing so.

And in addition to taking issue with the notice of contest, and as grounds upon which he rests the validity of his election, he states the following:

At the election appointed by law for electing Representatives in Congress, held in the fifth Congressional district, in the State of Iowa (in November, 1882, which is the same election referred to by contestant), which district is composed of the counties of Marshall, Tama, Benton, Linn, Johnson, and Iowa, held in November, 1882, in the several voting precincts in said district, at which election both the contestant and contestee were candidates for the office of Representative in Congress from said district, there were cast in the entire district for this contestee for said office 11,791 votes; and from the returns made to the board of State canvassers, which were counted by said board, there appeared to have been cast for contestant for said office in the entire district 11,768 votes.

Yet this contestee alleges that the contestant did not receive 11,768 votes at said election in said district for said office, but he received many fewer than that number, as will appear by the following specifications:

Specification 1st.

MARSHALL COUNTY, MARSHALL TOWNSHIP.

Article 2, section 1, of the constitution of the State of Iowa provides for the qualifications of electors as follows: He shall be a male citizen of the United States, 21 years of age, a resident of the State six months, and of the county sixty days.

REGISTRY LAW.

By act of the legislature of Iowa, passed by the 12th general assembly, a registration of all qualified electors is provided for, which is found in the Code of Iowa, 1873, section 594 to section 602, and by the latter section it is made applicable to townships having a population of over six thousand inhabitants, as shown by the preceding census.

The township of Marshall, in the county of Marshall, in said district and State, in which is the city of Marshalltown, the geographical limits being the same, had by the census of 1880 a population of over 6,000 inhabitants, and the registry law was in force within such township at the election before referred to in the notice of contest and herein.

It is provided in the laws of Iowa, code, section 618, with reference to the registry of electors and the general election, that "No votes shall be received from any person whose name does not appear there unless he shall furnish the judges his affidavit showing that he is a qualified elector, and a sufficient reason for not appearing before the board on the day for correcting the register, and shall also prove by one freeholder or householder, whose name is on the register, that such affiant knows him to be a resident of that election precinct."

The affidavits are required to be kept by the judges and filed in the office of the clerk of the township.

The township of Marshall aforesaid is divided into four election precincts, corresponding with the wards of the city, and known and designated as the first, second, third, and fourth wards in the city, and a registry of voters was kept therein.

THE FIRST WARD.

This contestee avers that within the voting precinct known as the first ward, within said township, city, county, and district, there were cast at said election, by twenty-five persons whose names were not upon the register and who did not make nor produce the affidavits before referred to, and who were not qualified electors within said precinct, ballots for the contestant as a candidate for the office of Representative in Congress from this district to the number of twenty-five which were wrongfully counted and returned for contestant, and at said election within said precinct there were ballots cast and counted for contestant by persons not qualified electors to the number of twenty, and which should be deducted from the number of votes cast for contestant as a candidate for said office, as shown by the action of the board of State canvassers.

THE SECOND WARD.

He further avers that within the voting precinct known as the second ward, within said city, county, and district, there were cast at said election, by fifty persons whose names were not upon the register, and who did not make or present the affidavits before referred to, and who were not qualified electors within said precinct, ballots for the contestant as a candidate for Representative in Congress from this district to the number of fifty, which were wrongfully counted and returned for contestant, and at said election within said precinct there were ballots cast and counted for contestant as a candidate for Representative in Congress from said district by persons not qualified electors to the number of fifty, and which should be deducted from the number of votes cast for contestant as a candidate for said office, as shown by the action of the State board of canvassers.

THE THIRD WARD.

He further avers that within the voting precinct known as the third ward, within said city, county, and district, there were cast at said election, by sixty persons whose names were not upon the register, and who did not make or present the affidavits before referred to, and who were not qualified electors within said precinct, ballots for the contestant as a candidate for Representative in Congress from the said district to the number of sixty, which were wrongfully counted and returned for contestant, and at said election, within said precinct, there were ballots cast and counted for contestant as a candidate for Representative, as aforesaid, by persons not qualified electors to the number of sixty, and which should be deducted from the number of votes cast for contestant as a candidate for said office, as shown by the action of the State board of canvassers.

THE FOURTH WARD.

He further avers that within the voting precinct known as the fourth ward, within said county and district, there were cast at said election, by one hundred persons whose names were not upon the register, and who did not make or present the affidavits before referred to, and who were not qualified electors within said precinct, ballots for the contestant as a candidate for Representative in Congress from the said district to the number of one hundred, which were wrongfully counted and returned for contestant, and at said election, within said precinct, there were ballots cast for and counted for contestant as a candidate for Representative in Congress from said district by persons not qualified electors to the number of one hundred, and which should be deducted from the number of votes cast for contestant as a candidate for said office, as shown by the action of the State board of canvassers.

Specification 2nd.

TAYLOR TOWNSHIP.

He further avers that at said election in said county of Marshall, in a voting precinct known as Taylor Township, in said district, the contestant caused tickets to be circulated to be used as ballots by electors, with the name of contestant printed thereon, and represented them to be ballots for the contestee, as a candidate for the office of Representative in Congress, and by such representation caused three electors who intended to vote for this contestee, unsuspecting the imposition, to vote for the contestant by using such printed tickets as ballots, supposing them to contain the name of this contestee as a candidate for that office, which ballots were counted and returned for the contestant, and should now be deducted from the number of votes cast for contestant, as shown by the return of the township. And at said election in said last-named precinct, there were cast for this contestee, as a candidate for Representative in Congress from said district, forty-eight ballots by forty-eight qualified electors within said precinct, which ballots should be counted for him.

Specification 3rd.

JEFFERSON TOWNSHIP.

He further avers that at said election, at the voting precinct in Jefferson Township, in said county and district, three persons not qualified electors or voters and not entitled to vote in said precinct, did illegally vote and cast their ballots for the contestant for Representative in Congress from the district aforesaid, and said ballots were by the judges of election received and counted and returned for said contestant.

Specification 4th.

IOWA TOWNSHIP.

He further avers that at said election, at the voting precinct in Iowa Township, in said county and district, three persons not qualified electors and not entitled to vote in said precinct, did illegally vote and cast their ballots for the contestant for Representative in Congress from the district aforesaid, and said ballots were by the judges of election received and counted and returned for the contestant.

He further avers that at said election in said last-named precinct, the contestant caused tickets to be circulated, to be used as ballots by electors, with the name of contestant printed thereon, and represented them to be ballots for the contestee as a candidate for the office of Representative in Congress, and by such representations caused six electors who intended to vote for this contestee, not suspecting the imposition, to vote for the contestant by using such printed tickets as ballots, supposing them to contain the name of this contestee as a candidate for that office, which ballots were counted and returned for the contestant.

Specification 5th.

LIBERTY, STATE CENTER, LE GRAND, AND GREENCASTLE.

He further avers that at said election, at the voting precincts of Liberty Township, Le Grand Township, State Center Township, and Greencastle Township, in said county and district, being voting precincts therein, and in each of said precincts, ten persons not qualified electors in said precincts, or in either of them, and not entitled to vote in either of them, did illegally vote and cast their ballots for the contestant for Representative in Congress from the district aforesaid, and said ballots were by the judges of election received and counted and returned for the contestant in each of said precincts.

Specification 6th.

LISCOMB, LOGAN, WASHINGTON, MARIETTA, LINN, MINERVA, EDEN, MARION, TIMBER CREEK, BANGOR, AND VIENNA.

He further avers that at said election in the township of Liscomb, in the township of Logan, in the township of Washington, in the township of Marietta, in the township of Linn, in the township of Minerva, in the township of Eden, in the township of Marion, in the township of Timber Creek, in the township of Bangor, and in the township of Vienna, and in each of them, they and each of them being voting precincts in the county of Marshall, in the fifth Congressional district of the State of Iowa, five persons in each of said precincts, who were not qualified electors, and not qualified or legal voters within the precinct where they offered their ballots, did illegally vote and cast their ballots for the contestant for Representative in Congress from said district, and said ballots were, by the judges of election, received and counted and returned for the contestant in each of said precincts.

Specification 7th.

JOHNSON COUNTY.

The contestee further shows that at said election for Representative in Congress from the fifth Congressional district, in November, 1882, in the State of Iowa, in the township of Big Grove, in the township of Jefferson, in the township of Monroe, in the township of Madison, in the township of Penn, in the township of Newport, in the township of Graham, in the township of Iowa City, in the north precinct thereof; in the township of Scott, in the township of Iowa City, in the south precinct thereof; in the township of Lincoln, in the township of Freemont, in the township of Liberty, in the township of East Lucas, in the township of West Lucas, in the township of Union, in the township of Hardin, in the township of Sharon, in the township of Washington, in the township of Cedar, and in the township of Oxford, and in each of them, they and each of them being voting precincts in the county of Johnson, in the said fifth Congressional district of the State of Iowa, fifteen persons in each of said precincts, who were not qualified electors, and who were not qualified nor legal voters within the precinct where they offered their votes, did illegally vote and cast their ballots for the contestant, Benj. T. Frederick, as a candidate for Representative in Congress from said district, and said ballots were, by the judges of election, received and counted and returned for him, the said Benj. T. Frederick, in each of said precincts.

And in each of said precincts two qualified electors therein did vote and cast their ballots for this contestee as a candidate for said office of Representative, which ballots were not counted nor returned for him, said contestee.

Specification 8th.

BENTON COUNTY.

Your contestee further shows and charges the fact to be, that at the November election for the year 1882, at the township of Vinton, in the precinct of Vinton, in Benton County, State of Iowa, six persons, not voters nor electors nor entitled to vote at said election, did vote and cast their ballots for Benjamin T. Frederick for Representative in Congress from the fifth Congressional district of said State, and that said ballots were by the judges of said election precinct deposited in the ballot-box and were by said judges illegally counted and returned for said Benjamin T. Frederick.

Specification 9th.

BENTON COUNTY, FREEMONT AND IOWA TOWNSHIPS.

Your contestee further shows and charges the fact to be, that at the November election for the year 1882, in the township of Freemont, a voting precinct in Benton County, in the fifth Congressional district of the State of Iowa, and in the township of Iowa, a voting precinct in said county, district, and State, and in each of said precincts, eight persons, not qualified voters or electors, and not entitled to vote in either of said precincts did illegally vote and cast their ballots for Benjamin T. Frederick for Representative in Congress from the district aforesaid, and said ballots were by the judges of the election in each of the said precincts received and deposited in the ballot-boxes, and said illegal votes were by the judges of said election counted and returned for said Benjamin T. Frederick.

Specification 10th.

BENTON COUNTY.

Your contestee further shows and charges the fact to be, that at the November election for the year 1882, the following named townships, and each of them, were voting precincts in the county of Benton, in the fifth Congressional district of the State of Iowa, to wit, Florence Township, St. Clair Township, Leroy Township, Kane Township, Union Township, Eldorado Township, Shellsburg Township, Canton Township, Eden Township, Big Grove Township, Homer Township, Monroe Township, Jackson Township, Taylor Township, Benton Township, Polk Township, Harrison Township, Cedar Township, and Bruce Township; that at said precincts, and each of them, at said November election, five persons who were not entitled to vote at the precinct where they voted, and who were not qualified electors, voted and cast their ballots for Benj. T. Frederick for Representative in Congress from said district as aforesaid, which said ballots were received by the judges of election at each of said precincts and by them deposited in the ballot-box and counted and returned for said Benjamin T. Frederick.

Specification 11*th.*

BENTON COUNTY.

Your contestee further charges and shows the fact to be, that at the November election for the year 1882, at the township of Vinton, at the township of Polk, at the township of Leroy, at the township of Union, at the township of Iowa, and at each of them, they and each of them being voting precincts in the county of Benton, in the fifth Congressional district of the State of Iowa, the contestant, Benjamin T. Frederick, did, prior to said November election, deposit at such precincts and each of them, with persons whose names are unknown to your contestee, large sums of money to be corruptly used to procure votes for the said Frederick for Representative in Congress as aforesaid, and that said money so deposited was used by the said persons, on said day of election, and prior thereto, with the knowledge and procurement of the said Benjamin T. Frederick to procure votes for him as aforesaid, and that by the use of the said corruption fund so furnished by the said Frederick as aforesaid, ten persons were procured in each of said precincts to vote for said Frederick for Representative in Congress as aforesaid, who would not have voted for him but for the corrupt use of the said fund as aforesaid.

Specification 12*th.*

BENTON COUNTY.

Your contestee further shows and charges the fact to be, that at the November election for the year 1882, in the township of Polk, a voting precinct in the county of Benton, in the fifth Congressional district of the State of Iowa, after the polls were closed at said precinct and before the ballots were counted, the judges of election wrongfully, illegally, and unlawfully excluded the public and compared the lists and counted the ballots in a room with locked doors, from which the public was unlawfully excluded as aforesaid, and did unlawfully return the private count to the county board of canvassers, who unlawfully counted and returned the same to the State board; and in said counting sixty-two more votes than the said Benjamin T. Frederick was entitled to were counted and returned for him as a Representative in Congress from the precinct and district aforesaid.

Specification 13*th.*

IOWA COUNTY.

Your contestee further shows and charges the fact to be, that at the November election for the year 1882, for the election of Representative in Congress, the following named townships, and each of them, were voting precincts in the county of Iowa, in the fifth Congressional district of the State of Iowa, to wit, Cono Township, Washington Township, Lennox Township, Honey Creek Township, Sumner Township, Hartford Township, Lincoln Township, Pilot Township, Troy Township, York Township, Dayton Township, English Township, Fillmore Township, Green Township, Iowa Township, Homestead Township, and Amana Township; that at said precincts, and each of them, at said November election, five persons who were not entitled to vote at the precinct where they voted, and who were not qualified electors, voted and cast their ballots for Benjamin T. Frederick for Representative in Congress from said district as aforesaid, which said ballots were received by the judges of election at each of said precincts, and by them counted and returned for said Benjamin T. Frederick.

Specification 14*th.*

TAMA COUNTY.

Frederick for Representative in Congress from said district as aforesaid, which said ballots were by the judges of said election in each of said precincts, received and counted and returned for the said Benj. T. Frederick as such candidate.

Specification 15*th*.

TAMA COUNTY.

Your contestee further shows and charges the facts to be, that at the November election for the year 1882, for the election of Representatives in Congress, the following-named townships, and each of them, were voting precincts in the county of Tama, in the fifth Congressional district of the State of Iowa, to wit, Toledo Township, Richland Township, Grant Township, Crystal Township, Columbia Township, Lincoln Township, Buckingham Township, Perry Township, Salt Creek Township, Clark Township, Oneida Township, Carlton Township, and Howard Township.

That at said precincts and at each of them, at said November election, five persons who were not entitled to vote at the precinct where they voted, and who were not qualified electors, voted and cast their ballots for Benj. T. Frederick for Representative in Congress from said district as aforesaid, which said ballots were at each of said precincts received and counted and returned for the said contestant.

Specification 16*th*.

TAMA COUNTY.

Your contestee further shows and charges the facts to be, that at the November election for Representatives in Congress in the year 1882 the following-named townships, and each of them, were voting precincts in the county of Tama, in the fifth Congressional district of the State of Iowa, to wit, Tama Township and Carroll Township; that at said precinct of Tama Township, at said election, this contestee received as a candidate for Representative in Congress from said district one hundred and eighty-six votes, which were cast by qualified electors in that precinct; and at the precinct of Carroll this contestee received as a candidate for Representative in Congress from said district forty-nine votes, which were cast by qualified electors in that precinct; which ballots were received by the judges of the respective precincts, and which were not returned for this contestee, but which should now be counted for him.

Specification 17*th*.

LINN COUNTY.

Your contestee further shows and charges the facts to be, that at the November election for the year 1882 for the election of Representatives in Congress the following-named townships, and each of them, were voting precincts in the county of Linn, in the fifth Congressional district of the State of Iowa, to wit, Franklin Township, College Township, Fairfax Township, Clinton Township, Bertram Township, Linn Township, Brown Township, Monroe Township, Washington Township, Otter Creek Township, Maine Township, Buffalo Township, Spring Grove Township, and Grant Township.

That at said precincts, and at each of them, at said election, thirty persons who were not entitled to vote at the precinct where they voted, and who were not qualified electors, voted and cast their ballots for Benj. T. Frederick for Representative in Congress from said district as aforesaid, which said ballots were at each of said precincts received and counted and returned by the judges of said respective election precincts for said contestant.

Specification 18*th*.

J. H. BRADLEY,
Att'y for Contestee.

THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
THE STATE OF IOWA, Marshall County, ss:

I, J. H. Bradley, being first duly sworn, do depose and affirm and state that on the first day of February, A. D. 1883, in said county and State at the city of Marshalltown, I served the foregoing answer of the contestee, by offering to read the same to J. L. Carney, esq., one of the firm of Brown and Carney, the contestant's solicitors, which reading he then and there waived, and by giving to him a true copy of said answer. Done at the office and place of business of Brown and Carney, said contestant's, solicitors, the said contestant, Benjamin T. Frederick, not being found at his usual place of business nor at his residence.

And I also served the same by giving a copy thereof to Mrs. Wealthy T. Frederick, the wife of the contestant, Benjamin T. Frederick, and a member of his family over 21 years of age, at the residence of said Benjamin T. Frederick, in said city of Marshalltown, Iowa, both the said contestant, Benjamin T. Frederick, and Timothy Brown, of the firm of Brown and Carney, being absent from said county.

Witness my hand.

J. H. BRADLEY.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 1st day of February, A. D. 1883.
Witness my hand and seal notarial, the day and year above written.

We, the board of supervisors of Marshall County, Iowa, hereby certify to the following facts in regard to the canvass of votes cast at the last general election in Taylor Township, in said county, on November 7th, 1882:

The poll-book of votes cast in said Taylor Township showed that it was attested as "a true return" by two judges of said election, signing their names in proper form and in the proper place; but the name of the third judge, W. H. Steward, was written in the following manner: "W. H. Steward, per cl'k," and showed on its face that the returns were not signed by W. H. Steward. Two clerks signed the said returns in proper form as clerks of said election.

We further certify that the said returns show that—

For sec'ty of state:
J. A. T. Hull rec'd 54 votes.
T. O. Walker " 4 "
Wm. Gaston " 2 "

For auditor of State:
John L. Brown rec'd 54 votes.
Wm. Thompson " 4 "
G. A. Wyatt " 2 "

For treasurer of State:
Edwin H. Conger rec'd 54 votes.
John Foley " 4 "
Geo. Derr " 2 "

For attorney-general:
Smith McPherson rec'd 54 votes.
J. H. Bremerman " 4 "
James Rice " 2 "

For judge of supreme court:
Wm. H. Seevers rec'd 54 votes.
Charles E. Bronson rec'd 4 "

For clerk of supreme court:
Gilbert B. Pray received 54 votes.
H. F. Bonorden " 4 "
E. N. Clark " 2 "

For reporter of supreme court:
Ezra C. Ebersole rec'd 54 votes.
L. A. Palmer " 4 "
J. H. Wilson " 2 "

For judge 11' judicial district:
H. C. Henderson rec'd 54 votes.
B. L. Burritt " 5 "

For dist. attorney 11' judicial dist.:
John L. Stevens received 54 votes.
Martin W. Anderson rec'd 4 votes.

Forty-eight votes were cast in said Taylor Township for James Wilson for Representative from the 5th Congressional district of Iowa, and that eight votes were cast at said election for B. T. Frederick and two votes were cast for David Platner, candidates for said office.

We further certify that because the said returns showed they were not signed by all of the judges of the election in Taylor Township we rejected the vote of said township, and if the same should be counted under the facts shown the votes above named should be added to the number of votes of each candidate named. The auditor is hereby directed to certify to the State canvassing board the returns from Taylor as they appear on file in his office.

Done at Marshalltown this 14th day of Nov., 1882.

Moved by Supervisor Archerd that the within certificates be adopted and spread upon the records, seconded by Supervisor Gilchrist. On call of the roll Supervisors Turner and Archerd voted aye and Supervisor Gilchrist voted nay. So the motion was adopted.

We, the undersigned members of the board of supervisors and ex-officio board of county canvassers for Tama County, do hereby certify the following to be a true and correct abstract of the votes cast in Carroll and Tama Townships, in said county, at a general election held on the 7th day of November, A. D. 1882, for the office of Representative in Congress for the fifth Congressional district, as shown by the poll-books returned from the said townships:

For the office of Representative in Congress there were cast in Carroll Township ninety-two (92) votes, of which James Wilson received forty-nine (49) votes, Ben. T. Frederick received forty-three (43) votes. In Tama Township, four hundred and fourteen (414) votes, of which James Wilson received one hundred and eighty-five (185) votes; Ben. T. Frederick received two hundred and eighteen (218) votes; David Platner received ten (10) votes; scattering, one (1) vote.

We further certify that the votes of said Carroll and Tama townships were not by us consolidated and returned with the other votes of the county, only because the returns from said Carroll Township was not signed by any one as judge of election, and the return from said Tama Township was not attested by any one as clerk of election, and, being in doubt as to whether these returns (so called) bear upon their face sufficient evidence to entitle them to be considered and counted, we certify them and the facts affecting them separately, requesting the board of State canvassers to count or not count them, as in their judgment the law in the case and justice to all concerned may require.

In testimony whereof we have hereunto set our hands and caused this to be attested by the clerk of the board of supervisors and the seal of said county.

Board of State Canvassers.

STATE OF IOWA,
Office of Secretary of State:

I, John A. T. Hull, secretary of state of the State of Iowa, hereby certify the foregoing to be a true and correct copy of the election returns from all the counties composing the fifth Congressional district of the State, to wit, the counties of Benton, Iowa, Johnson, Linn, Marshall, and Tama, of the ballots cast in said counties at the general election held on the 7th day of November, A. D. 1882, for the office of Representative in Congress for said district, and of the abstract of votes and finding made by the board of State canvassers from the returns from said district, as appears from the original returns and abstract on file in this office.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the great seal of the State, at Des Moines, this 25th day of October, A. D. 1883.

[SEAL.]

J. A. T. HULL,
Secretary of State.

In the district court of the State of Iowa in and for Polk Co.

B. T. FREDERICK vs. BUREN R. SHERMAN, GOVERNOR; J. A. T. HULL, secretary of state; W. V. Lucas, auditor; and E. H. Conger, treasurer; constituting and sitting as a State board of canvassers.	Petition in equity.

Your petitioner, B. T. Frederick, humbly complaining of the def'ts above named as a State board of canvassers who hold respectively the offices above indicated in the State of Iowa, respectfully shows to the court as follows, to wit:

That heretofore, to wit, at the general election held on the 7th day of November, 1882, in the State of Iowa, the plaintiff was a candidate in the 5 Congressional district of Iowa for the office of Representative in Congress, said Congressional district being composed of the following counties, to wit: Johnson, Iowa, Tama, Marshall, Benton, and Linn, and that in accordance with the provisions of the law the respective boards of supervisors of said counties met as boards of canvassers on the Monday following said election, to wit, Nov. 13, 1882, and proceeded to and did canvass the returns of the votes cast in said counties, respectively, and declared the result thereof by resolution in due form of law and made due return thereof to the secretary of state. That the board of canvassers of Marshall County duly performed said duty and made due return thereof to said secretary of state, which said return was duly and formally opened by the said official in the presence of all of the above-named def'ts, sitting as a board of canvassers, on the 7th day of December, 1882, and which said return is in words and figures as shown in Exhibit A, hereto attached and made a part hereof, and pl'ff avers that said return is the true and only return of Marshall County and of the board of canvassers of said county made of said official canvass, and that as appears by said return the said canvass was completed on the 13 day of November, 1882. That the above-named deft's, by virtue of their official positions held by them, constitute the board of State canvassers, and that, as above stated, the said return of the board of canvassers of Marshall County was duly kept under seal by the secretary of state until said State board met as a board of canvassers on the 7th day of December, 1882, when the same was duly and formally opened by him in presence of the board and was accepted by them as being duly authenticated and in due form and having attached thereto the genuine signatures of the proper officers and duly attested. That about the time of the opening of said returns from Marshall County the secretary of state, J. A. T. Hull, produced before said board a certain paper, a true copy of which is hereto attached and made a part hereof, marked Exhibit B.

That plaintiff is not advised as to whom and from whom said paper was obtained by said Hull, but avers and charges that said Hull received said paper by mail in an envelope containing and having indorsed thereon nothing but the usual post-mark and the words "Secretary of State, Des Moines, Iowa." That said def'ts now threaten because of the production of said papers to change and modify the return of the board of canvassers of Marshall County, made as aforesaid, by adding thereto forty-eight votes for James Wilson, pl'ff's competitor, and eight votes for plaintiff for the office of Representative in Congress in and for said Congressional district, thereby adding to the vote of Wilson, in said county, above the amount duly returned as cast for him, the net number of forty votes, pl'ff avers that the said action contemplated and threatened by said board would change the result of said canvass of votes of said election for Representative in Congress, and would show that said James Wilson had received a majority of the votes in said Congressional district for Representative in Congress, whereas if said return from said county of Marshall shall not be thus changed and modified, pl'ff would be and is shown by the aggregate of the returns of said counties in said Congressional district, all of which have been duly opened according to law, have received the highest number of votes for said office and would be entitled to a certificate of election accordingly. That the action of said board as contemplated and threatened would thus result in great irremedial injury to pl'ff, and would deprive him of said certificate of election to which he is justly entitled according to said returns. That said board have no right whatever to take said paper into consideration, nor can said return from said county as made and duly certified be lawfully changed or modified by State board, but that nevertheless and notwithstanding the illegality thereof and the great prejudice and irreparable injury done to pl'ff thereby, def'ts, acting as a State board of canvassers, will so modify and change said return from Marshall County, unless restrained from so doing by a writ of injunction from this court, and that plaintiff will thereby be deprived of the certificate of election to which he would otherwise be entitled, and that plaintiff has no other adequate remedy in the premises. Wherefore plaintiff prays for a preliminary writ of injunction restraining def'ts and each of them, and as a State board of canvassers, from making use of said paper to affect said canvass and from changing or modifying the return of the vote of Marshall County as made and certified to them as shown in Exhibit A, hereto attached, and that on final hearing hereof said injunction be made perpetual, and for costs of suit.

T. BROWN AND NOURSE & KAUFFMAN,
Att'ys for Pl'ff.

STATE OF IOWA,
Polk County, ss:

I, B. T. Frederick, on oath, state that I am plaintiff in above cause; that I know the contents of the foregoing petition, and that the averments thereof are true as I verily believe.

B. T. FREDERICK.

Subscribed in my presence by B. T. Frederick, and before me by him sworn to on the 8th day of December, 1882.

W. H. McHENRY,
Judge of the District Court.

(Indorsed:) B. T. Frederick vs. B. R. Sherman, gov., et al. Petition in equity. Filed Dec. 8th, 1882. P. D. Aukeny, clerk. T. Brown, and Nourse and Kauffman, for pl'ff.

Let the writ of injunction issue as prayed, on filing a bond in the penal sum of five hundred dollars, with sureties to be approved by the clerk.

W. H. McHENRY,
Judge of said Court.

THE STATE OF IOWA:

To Buren R. Sherman, governor, J. A. T. Hull, Sec'y of State, W. V. Lucas, State Auditor, and E. H. Conger, State Treasurer, as and sitting as a State board of canvassers of Iowa, defendants:

Whereas B. T. Frederick, as plaintiff, has this day filed in the office of the district court of the State of Iowa, in and for Polk County, a petition duly sworn to, making the above-named defendants therein, and praying for the allowance of a writ of injunction against said defendant; and whereas the Hon. Wm. H. McHenry, judge of the district court of said county, has made an order allowing said writ of injunction to issue, upon the filing of a bond, with sureties, pursuant to said order; and whereas said order has been complied with, and such bond filed and approved: Now, therefore, you, the said above-named officers of the State of Iowa, as a State board of canvassers, defendants as aforesaid, in the name and by the authority of the State of Iowa, are hereby strictly enjoined and restrained from using a certain paper produced by the secretary of state before you, purporting to show certain alleged facts as to the canvass of the vote by the board of supervisors of Marshall County, sitting as a board of canvassers concerning the vote of Taylor Township, in Marshall County, Iowa, and purporting to be the act of the board of supervisors of said county, done Nov. 14, 1882, to affect in any way the regular return from said county, opened by the secretary of state in your presence on Dec. 7, 1882, and that you be further restrained from changing or modifying in any way, by reason of said paper, the said return so opened in your presence, and signed and attested Nov. 13, 1882, by said board of canvassers of Marshall County, Iowa, until the further order of our said court in the premises.

To the Sheriff of Polk County:

You are hereby commanded to make due service of this writ upon said defendant, and hereof fail not, and make return of the writ unto our said district court, with your doings hereon, on the first day of our said district court.

Witness P. D. Aukeny, clerk of said court, and the seal thereof hereunto affixed, this 8 day of Dec., A. D. 1882.

[SEAL OF DISTRICT COURT.] P. D. AUKENY, Clerk.

The within writ came into my hands on the 8th day of December, 1882, and on the same day I served the same on the within-named Buren R. Sherman, governor, J. A. T. Hull, sec'y of state, W. V. Lucas, auditor of state, and E. H. Conger, treasurer of state, sitting as a State board of canvassers of Iowa, by reading the original to them and delivering them one copy, they each waiving individual copies.

All done in Polk County, Iowa.

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

We, the undersigned, members of the board of supervisors and ex officio board of county canvassers for Marshall County, do hereby certify the following to be a true and correct abstract of the votes cast in said county at a general election held on the 7th day of November, A. D. 1882, for the office of Representative in Congress for the 5th Congressional district, as shown by the poll-books returned from the several townships and election precincts: For the office of Representative in Congress there were thirty-four hundred and seventy-six (3,476) votes cast, of which James Wilson received eighteen hundred (1,800) votes, B. T. Frederick received sixteen hundred and seventy-six (1,676) votes.

In testimony whereof we have hereunto set our hands and caused this to be attested by the clerk of the board of supervisors and the seal of said county.

Done at Marshalltown, the county seat of said county, this 13th day of November, A. D. 1882.

I, A. N. French, county auditor and clerk of the board of supervisors, do hereby certify the foregoing to be a true and correct copy of the official canvass made on the vote cast for Representative in Congress for the fifth Congressional district in Marshall County, Iowa, as made by the canvassing board, November 13th, 1882.

[SEAL.] A. N. FRENCH,
County Auditor and Clerk of Board of Supervisors.

NOVEMBER 14.

The board of supervisors convened pursuant to adjournment. Members all present.

Minutes of yesterday read and approved.

The following was presented and read:

We, the board of supervisors of Marshall County, Iowa, hereby certify the following facts in regard to the canvass of votes cast at the last general election in Taylor Township, in said county, Nov. 7th, 1882. The poll-book of votes cast in said Taylor Township showed that it was attested as a true return by two judges of said election signing their names in proper form and in the proper place, but the name of the third judge, W. H. Steward was written in the following manner, "W. H. Steward, per cl'k," and showed on its face that the returns were not signed by W. H. Steward.

Two clerks signed the said returns in proper form as clerks of said election. We further certify that the return showed that—

For secretary of State:

John A. T. Hull received 54 votes.
T. O. Walker received 4 votes.
Wm. Gaston " 2

For auditor of State:

John L. Brown received 54 votes.
Wm. Thompson " 4 "
G. A. Watt " 2 "

For treasurer of State:

Edwin H. Conger received 54 votes.
John Foley " 4 "
Geo. Derr " 2 "

For attorney-general:

Smith McPherson received 54 votes.
J. H. Bremerman " 4 "
James Rice " 2 "

For judge of supreme court:

Wm. H. Suvers received 54 votes.
Charles E. Bronson " 4 "

For clerk of supreme court:

Gilbert B. Pray received 54 votes.
H. F. Brunden " 4 "
E. N. Clark " 2 "

For reporter of supreme court:

Ezra C. Ebersole received 54 votes.
L. A. Palmer " 4 "

For district judge, 11th district:

H. C. Henderson received 54 votes.
B. L. Burritt " 5 "
B. F. Frederick " 1 "

For district attorney, 11th district:

Martin N. Anderson 4 "

Forty-eight votes were cast in said Taylor Township for James Wilson for Representative from the 5th Congressional district of Iowa, and that eight votes were cast at said election for B. T. Frederick, and two votes were cast for David Stubbs, candidates for said office. We further certify that because the said return showed they were not signed by all of the judges of the election in Taylor Township we rejected the vote of said township, and if the same should be counted under the facts shown, the votes above named should be added to the number of votes of each candidate named. The auditor is hereby directed to certify to the State canvassing board the return from Taylor Township as they appear on file in his office.

Done at Marshalltown this 14th day of Nov., 1882.

Moved by Supervisor Archerd that the foregoing certificate be adopted and spread upon the minutes. Motion seconded by Supervisor Gilchrist. On call of the roll Supervisors Turner and Archerd voted ay, and Supervisor Gilchrist voted nay; so the motion prevailed.

The board then adjourned to one o'clock p. m.

I, A. N. French, county auditor for Marshall County, Iowa, and clerk of the board of supervisors, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true and correct copy of the proceedings of the board of supervisors relating to the canvass of Taylor Township vote, had November 14th, 1882.

TESTIMONY FOR THE CONTESTANT.

No. 1.

Depositions of witnesses taken in pursuance to an agreement made by and between the parties hereto so to do, by and before Cassius M. Norton, a notary public in and for Marshall County, State of Iowa, the same to be used in the hearing of a certain contested election case for the office of Representative to the United States Congress from the Fifth Congressional District of the State of Iowa, now pending in the House of Representatives of the United States, wherein Benjamin T. Frederick, of Marshall County, Iowa, is contestant, and James Wilson, of Tama County, Iowa, is contestee, or respondent, on the part of said contestant.

A. N. FRENCH, of lawful age, being produced, sworn, and examined on part of the contestant, testifies as follows:

Int. 1. State your name, age, place of residence, and occupation.—Ans. A. N. French; 45 years; Marshalltown, Iowa; am auditor of Marshall Co., Iowa.

Int. 2. How long have you been county auditor?—Ans. My last term commenced in Jan'y, 1882.

Int. 3. Are you ex-officio clerk of the board of supervisors?—Ans. I am.

Int. 4. State if you remember of the election returns of Marshall County for the election of a Representative to the United States Congress being returned to you last fall from the several precincts of Marshall Co., Iowa.—Ans. I do so remember of the returns being made.

Int. 5. In what condition was the returns of Taylor T'w'p, Marshall County, Iowa, when they were returned to you?

(Contestee objects, because the returns are the better evidence.)

Ans. The returns were made in their proper envelope, properly indorsed and properly sealed.

Int. 6. Was the return, after it was brought into your office, taken out of your office by any person, to your knowledge?

(Objected to as irrelevant and immaterial.)

Ans. It was not.

Int. 7. Did you see the return at any time before it was sealed?—Ans. I did not.

Int. 8. Did you see the return at any time before it was opened before the board of supervisors?

(Objected to, same as to No. 6, above.)

Ans. I did not.

Int. 9. Who delivered the returns to you?—Ans. I do not remember whether it was Mr. Strang, or Mr. Adna Fogg, or Mr. Santee; they were all in the office at the time.

Int. 10. Did you have any conversation with any of those gentlemen concerning its return before its delivery; or, was there any conversation in your presence, between them and others, concerning it; and if so, state what it was.

(Objected to same as to int. 6 above.)

Ans. The gentlemen named came into the office and asked advice in regard to signing the return. They had sealed the envelope before signing, and they wanted to know what they should do. I furnished them a new envelope, and took them into the room adjacent to the auditor's office—being a part of it—and furnished them with writing materials, and advised them to complete their return. I may also add that Mr. Malmsberry, one of their township trustees, was also with them.

Int. 11. What did they do there?—Ans. I left the room then, and do not know.

Int. 12. Do you know whether they removed the envelope from the return as brought in or not; or whether any one did?—Ans. I suppose it must have been, for when the returns were opened before the board they were signed.

Int. 13. Did you see any portion of the old envelope the return came in after that in the room, or do you know that they used the new envelope that you furnished them to inclose the return?—Ans. I saw only the envelope the return was made in; I don't know whether it was the old or new one.

Int. 14. Who was in the room besides the trustees and persons you have named at the time you furnished these parties with pen, ink, and a new envelope?—Ans. I don't think there was anybody in the room; at least I didn't see anyone.

Int. 15. Was Mr. Wm. H. Stewart there at that time?—Ans. No, sir; I think not.

Int. 16. Was he one of the trustees of Taylor Township at that time?—Ans. I believe he was.

Int. 17. State how the returns of State Centre Township, Marshall County, Iowa, of the last November election, 1882, for a Representative in Congress were delivered to you, and by whom?

(Objected to as irrelevant.)

Ans. I am under the impression the returns were made to me by mail.

Int. 18. Is that an impression, or are you satisfied that such was the fact? State what you know of it.—Ans. One township returns, and perhaps more, came through the mails; and I think State Centre was one of them.

Int. 19. What other township in Marshall County sent its election returns for the Nov. election, 1882, to you by mail, if you remember?

Ans. I do not remember.

Int. 20. Did you act as the clerk of the board of supervisors at the time of making the abstract of the election returns of Marshall County, Iowa, and in transmitting them to the office of the secretary of the state?

(Objected to as immaterial.)

Ans. I did.

Int. 21. Have you in your office a copy of the abstract of the votes certified to by the board of supervisors and transmitted to the office of the secy. of state, signed by the entire board?—Ans. I have.

Int. 22. Will you make a copy of said abstract, certify to it, and attach it to this your deposition, and make it a part of your testimony?—Ans. I will.

Cross-examination:

X Int. 1. Who were the township trustees for Taylor Township whom you have referred to?—Ans. Isaac Malmsberry, Wm. H. Steward, and Adna Fogg.

X Int. 2. And who were the clerks of election?—Ans. R. E. Strang and E. N. Santee I think.

X Int. 3. Was there more than one return from Taylor Township?—There was not.

X Int. 4. Does your abstract called for by the 22nd direct int. include the votes from the whole county?

(Objected to by contestant as immaterial and irrelevant; abstract being the best evidence.)

Ans. It does not include the whole vote of the whole county.

X Int. 5. Why does it not?—Ans. The vote of Taylor Township was thrown out by direction of the board of supervisors.

X Int. 6. Why was it thrown out?

(Objected to by the contestant because the record is the best evidence.)

Ans. Because the name of Wm. H. Steward attached to the certificate did not appear to be in his own handwriting, and on its face showed that it was not his handwriting.

X. Int. 7. What was there on the face of the return showing that the name was not in Wm. H. Steward's handwriting?—Ans. The return was signed "Wm. H. Steward, per cl'k."

X Int. 8. Did the board of supervisors make a subsequent return of the election in Taylor Township to the sec'y of state?—Ans. They did.

X Int. 9. Can you produce a copy of that return to be attached to your deposition; and if so, will you do so?

(Objected to as incompetent and because the board of supervisors cannot make a second return.)

Ans. I can make a copy, and will do so.

X Int. 10. How many votes did the contestee, Mr. Wilson, receive in Taylor Township that were not put in the abstract sent the first day to the sec'y of state, as shown by the return from that township?

(Objected to as not the best evidence, irrelevant, and immaterial.)

Ans. Mr. Wilson received forty-eight votes.

X Int. 11. Was the fact that Wm. H. Steward's name was followed by the words "per clerk" the only reason for rejecting that township by the board?—Ans. I heard of no other objection.

CASSIUS M. NORTON, N. P., &c.

Township, in said county, November 7th, 1882. The poll-book of votes cast in said Taylor Township, showed that it was attested as a true return by two judges of said election signing their names in proper form and in the proper place, but the name of the third judge, W. H. Steward, was written in the following manner, "W. H. Steward, per clk." and showed on its face that the returns were not signed by W. H. Steward.

Two clerks signed the said returns in proper form as clerks of said election. We further certify that the return showed that—

For Secretary of State:
John A. T. Hull received 54 votes.
T. O. Walker " 4 "
Wm. Gaston " 2 "

For Auditor of State:
John L. Brown, received 54 votes.
Wm. Thompson " 4 "
G. A. Wiatt. " 2 "

For Treasurer of State:
Edwin H. Conger received 54 votes.
John Foley " 4 "
Geo. Derr " 2 "

For Attorney-General:
Smith McPherson received 54 votes.
J. H. Bremermann " 4 "
James Rice " 2 "

For Judge of Supreme Court:
Wm. H. Seevers, received 54 votes.
Chas. E. Bronson " 4 "

For Clerk of Supreme Court:
Gilbert B. Pray received 54 votes.
H. F. Bonorden " 4 "
E. N. Clark " 2 "

For Reporter of Supreme Court:
Ezra C. Ebersole received 54 votes.
L. A. Palmer " 4 "
J. H. Wilson " 2 "

For District Judge, 11th District:
H. C. Henderson received 54 votes.
B. L. Burritt " 5 "
B. T. Frederick " 1 "

For district attorney, 11th district:
John L. Stevens received 54 votes.
Martin W. Anderson " 4 "

Forty-eight votes were cast in said for James Wilson for Representative from the 5th Congressional district of Iowa, and that eight votes were cast at said election for B. T. Frederick, and two votes were cast for David Stubbs, candidates for said office.

We further certify that because the said return showed they were not signed by all of the judges of the election in Taylor Township we rejected the vote of said township, and if the same should be counted under the facts shown, the vote above named should be added to the number of votes of each candidate named.

The auditor is hereby directed to certify to the State canvassing board the return from Taylor Township as they appear on file in his office.

Done at Marshalltown this 14th day of Nov., 1882.

Moved by Supervisor Archerd that the foregoing certificate be adopted and spread upon the minutes.

Motion seconded by Supervisor J. M. Gilchrist.

On call ot the roll Supervisors Turner and Archerd voted aye, and Supervisor Gilchrist voted nay.

So the motion prevailed.

I, A. N. French, auditor for Marshall County, Iowa, do hereby certify the foregoing to be a true and correct copy of the record of the board of supervisors of said county, as the same appears of record, so far as the proceedings of Nov. 14th relate to the canvass of the votes cast Nov. 7th, 1882.

Filed Feb'y 15th, 1883, as Exhibit B, to deposition of A. N. French, same thereto attached, and so marked.

CASSIUS M. NORTON,
Notary Public, &c.

A. J. MELTON, of lawful age, being produced, sworn, and examined on the part of contestant, testifies as follows:

Int. 1. State your name, age, place of residence, and occupation.—Ans. A. J. Melton; 52 years; reside in Taylor Township, Marshall County, Iowa; occupation, farmer.

Int. 2. How long have you resided in Taylor Township.?—Ans. A year ago the 13th of this month.

Int. 3. How long have you resided in the State of Iowa?—Ans. Twenty-eight years last April.

Int. 4. Are you a citizen of the United States?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Int. 5. Did you vote at the Nov. election, 1882, for the office of Representative to Congress; and if so, for whom and where?—Ans. I voted in Taylor Township, Marshall County, Iowa, and Mr. B. T. Frederick is the man I voted for; this gentleman here (pointing to contestant) is the man I voted for.

Int. 6. State if you was present at the November election, 1882, in Taylor Township, and if yea, state whether the ballot-box in said township was opened at the time the electors were voting.—Ans. I was at the election that day. I did not see the ballot-box open while I was there.

Int. 7. What time of day was you there at the election?—Ans. I think it was about 11 o'clock a. m. when I got there; I came 3 miles.

Cross-examination:

X Int. 1. Was your ballot put in the ballot-box?—Ans. I think it was.

X Int. 2. Where were you born?—Ans. I was born in the State of Indiana.

A. J. MELTON.

CASSIUS M. NORTON,
Notary Public in and for Marshall County, Iowa.

S. BOSWORTH, of lawful age being produced, sworn, and examined, on part of contestant, testifies as follows:

Int. 1. State your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—Ans. Stewart Bosworth; age, 53 years; reside in Marshalltown, Iowa, now; am a carpenter.

Int. 2. Were you present at an election held in Taylor Township, being the general election held in November, 1882?—Ans. I was.

Int. 3. Where was it held?—Ans. I think it was called the Willow Hill Schoolhouse.

Int. 4. Was that the election at which the electors were voting for the office of Representative in Congress?—Ans. It was, as I understood it.

Int. 5. You may state whether you observed the ballot-box open during the time the electors were voting.—Ans. Directly after I voted it was proposed that they commence counting off, and they did so, that was sometime before night.

Int. 6. Did they receive votes after they commenced counting out?—Ans. I couldn't say, as I went away.

Int. 7. About what time of day was it that they opened the box and commenced counting out?—Ans. It was, as near as I can remember, between four and five o'clock.

Int. 8. What time did you get to the polls?—Ans. It was about 4 o'clock, I think.

Int. 9. How long was it before they opened the box after you got there?—Ans. It might have been three-quarters of an hour, perhaps.

Int. 10. Did you see any other persons vote before or after the box was opened while you were there?—Ans. I saw persons vote before but not after.

Int. 11. How do you fix the time as to when the box was opened?—Ans. Only from my recollection and from the box being opened, as I thought, before the time for opening provided by law, and besides I went home three miles and got home before sundown—quite early I thought. I will correct that, it is four miles.

CASSIUS M. NORTON,
Notary Public in and for Marshall Co., Iowa.

WM. ERNST, being produced, sworn, and examined on the part of the contestant, testifies as follows:

Int. 1. State your name, age, place of residence, and occupation.—Ans. Wm. Ernst; age 53 years; reside in Taylor Township, this county; am a farmer.

Int. 2. How long have you resided in Taylor Township, and are you a citizen of the United States?—Ans. About eighteen years. Yes.

Int. 3. Did you vote in Taylor Township at the Nov. election, 1882, for the office of Representative in Congress; and if yea, for whom did you vote?—Ans. Yes. I voted for Benj. T. Frederick, the contestant.

Int. 4. You may state where the election was held in said township, and state, if you know, whether the ballot-box was open during the time the electors were depositing their votes.—Ans. The election was held at the "Willow Hill School-house," and the box was open during the time of voting.

Int. 5. State if you saw persons handling the ballots in the box during the hours and time of voting; and if so, who they were and what you saw done.—Ans. Yes, I saw the ballots handled during the hours and time of voting. I saw Wm. H. Steward handling the ballots. I asked him to tell me how many Frederick votes there were in the box, and he dug around in the box until he got about all there was. He called my attention to a ticket—to a Republican ticket—that was filled out with Frederick's name in place of Wilson's.

Int. 6. What was the peculiarity of this ticket, and what did he say about it?—Ans. It was this: I was peddling tickets for all Republicans, except for Frederick, for Congress, and Steward thought it was strange they didn't take the printed tickets in place of filling them out themselves.

Int. 7. How many tickets did he find in the box on which Frederick's name appeared for the office of Representative in Congress?—Ans. At that time, I cannot recollect exactly, but I think there was five or six at that time.

Int. 8. What time of day was it that the ballot-box was opened and the ballots handled by Steward?—Ans. About two o'clock, I think, in the afternoon.

Int. 9. Do you know how many ballots were cast for Frederick for the office of Representative to Congress there that day? If so, state.—Ans. I know of eight, and if the person who wrote Frederick's name on a Republican ticket is outside of them there was nine; there might have been more, but them I knew.

Int. 10. Did you see this ballot that had the name of Frederick written upon it for the office of Representative in Congress, and did you see Steward take it out of the box?—Ans. I saw it, and I saw him take it out of the box.

Int. 11. Was this ballot-box opened before they commenced counting; that is, before commencing to make up their tally-sheets, and was it opened more than once?—Ans. I suppose it was opened to count the ballots; it remained open all the afternoon from the time they opened; it never was closed, I guess; I don't think it was closed; I was around there most of the afternoon, only as persons were voting, taking in a vote, and I don't know as it was closed then.

Int. 12. At the time Steward was hunting around to see how many Frederick votes were polled, were they counting or was he hunting around irrespective of the count?—Ans. The box was open, and they were counting at the time.

Int. 13. Had these votes been counted when he told you the number of Frederick votes that were cast, or was he only looking through the box to see how many votes Frederick had got?—Ans. He was looking through the box at the time to see; I asked him to look; I told him to see how many Frederick votes there was in the box.

Int. 14. State anything else you may have observed at that time that you have not already stated.—Ans. I cannot recollect of anything else that occurred at that time.

Int. 15. Did Mr. Steward remain till the ballots were all counted?—Ans. I don't think he did; I think not; I didn't understand the question; I know he did not stay till they were all counted.

Int. 16. Was there opportunity for Mr. Steward or others to change the ballots in the box if he or they desired so to do?—Ans. Well, I think there was; the way it was I think there was opportunity for "stuffing" the box; that a person might have thrown in and taken out ballots.

Cross-examination:

X Int. 1. Did you see any changes made in the ballots?—Ans. No.

X Int. 2. Did you see eight men vote there for Frederick that day?—Ans. Yes.

X Int. 3. Who were they?—Ans. Estel, Melton, Webber, Lundstrum, O. N. Lane, Horner, D. C. Ernst; I saw seven vote besides myself.

X Int. 4. Did you give each one of these men the ticket that he voted, and did you see him put it in the hands of the judges?—Ans. I gave them tickets and followed them to the box and saw them hand them to the judges.

X Int. 5. Was each one of these tickets printed with Frederick's name, or was his name written in?—Ans. I think they were all printed but two, and they were "Greenback" tickets; one was voted by Mr. J. M. Webber and the other by Mr. Lundstrum.

X Int. 6. Were these tickets that were printed with Frederick's name, Republican or Democratic tickets, otherwise than his name?—Ans. They were both Republican and Democratic, with his name in them.

X Int. 7. They had the names of the different candidates for State and county offices on them, had they not?—Ans. I think they had.

X Int. 8. How many names were on each ticket—about how many, if you cannot give the exact number?—Ans. I should have to guess at it; I think twenty on some of them—the Greenback ticket was not as large as the others, and still it might have been.

X Int. 9. Were you peddling, as you say, Republican tickets with Frederick's name upon them?—Ans. Yes.

X Int. 10. You say you voted for Frederick; was your ticket all printed, and was it a Republican or Democratic ticket?—Ans. My ticket was all printed; it was a Democratic ticket.

X Int. 11. Did all these men whose names you have given look at their tickets and see Frederick's name upon them?—Ans. I can't say that they saw it; but I know that I told them if they wouldn't take a Democrat ticket I would give or offer them a Republican ticket, telling them it was all Republican except Frederick's name for Congressman.

X Int. 12. How near were you to the polls when these men voted?—Ans. I generally went up with them as near as a man can ordinarily get to the polls.

X Int. 13. How near the ballot-box were you when Estel voted?—Ans. I think him and I were sitting right close to the polls when he made out his ticket, as near as I can recollect about it.

X Int. 14. How near when he voted?—Ans. I was sitting right by the teller at the time.

X Int. 15. How long before that had he made out his ticket?—Ans. I think he voted right off, as soon as he got his ticket ready.

X Int. 16. What had he to do to get his ticket ready?—Ans. Simply to fold it and to get the appendage to it for township officers cut off and fixed.

X Int. 17. Had his ticket that he gave to the judges of election any writing upon it, or was it all printed?—Ans. I can't say as to that; I wasn't so particular as to whether it was printed or wrote.

X Int. 18. Was the election board in the school-house; that is, inside of the school-house all the time?—Ans. They was during the time they voted; they went home to dinner, and took the box with them; they wasn't in then.

X Int. 19. From what hour to what hour was the poll kept open?—Ans. I think probably they opened between 8 and nine o'clock in the morning, and I staid till about dark, when I went away, and the poll was open yet; I cannot say about what time that was, as I don't know what time it became dark.

X Int. 20. Did you remain in the house all the day, or while the poll was open?—Ans. I was in the house the principal part of the time.

X Int. 21. What part of the time in the afternoon were you in the house?—Ans. I was in the house the principal part of the afternoon, from one o'clock till evening, until I went away; I would go the door when any one came and would look to see if any one was coming; sometimes after I had canvassed those thoroughly that were in the house I would step out to see if any one was coming.

X Int. 22. Did you sit close by the ballot-box all the time you were in the house?—Ans. No.

X Int. 23. What was Melton's ticket, all in print, or was there some writing upon it?—Ans. His was all in print, unless there was some of us voted in the morning without cutting the township appendage off; he might have neglected his, I can't say positively.

X Int. 24. Did you see the name of Frederick on his ticket that he gave to the judges?—Ans. I gave him a straight Democrat ticket, and he voted it; I didn't look to see if it was there, but it was a straight Democrat ticket; I wasn't particular when I gave a man a Democrat ticket.

X Int. 25. How far were you from Melton when he gave the judges his ballot?—Ans. Oh, I was close enough by to see him give it to them.

X Int. 26. How close?—Ans. I was probably within eight or ten feet of him; I was not very particular about him.

X Int. 27. Where were you sitting or standing when you gave him his ticket?—Ans. I was sitting on the north side of the house.

X Int. 28. How far from the ballot-box?—Ans. Probably eight or ten feet from the ballot-box.

X Int. 29. How was O. N. Lane's ticket printed or written, in whole or in part?—Ans. I think his was scratched some, but I wouldn't be positive about his.

X Int. 30. Was his a Republican, Democrat, or Greenback ticket?—Ans. I think his was a Greenback ticket.

X Int. 31. How far were you from him when he gave his ballot to the judges?—Ans. I couldn't say positively, it might have been eight, ten, or twelve feet, or it might have been within five or six feet.

X Int. 33. Did Estel and Melton and O. N. Lane vote before or after noon?—Ans. They voted before noon.

X Int. 34. Was Horner's ticket that he gave the judges all printed?—Ans. Yes.

X Int. 35. How far were you from him when he gave the judges his ballot?—Ans. I was right close to him.

X Int. 36. Was it a straight Republican ticket, except Frederick's name?—Ans. Yes.

X Int. 37. Did he vote before or after noon?—Ans. It was late in the evening.

X Int. 38. Did Webber and Lundstrum vote before or after noon?—Ans. Late in the evening.

X Int. 39. Were their tickets Greenback tickets?—Ans. Webber's was; and I thought the other was, but I think I am mistaken about Lundstrum's.

X Int. 40. What do you now think Lundstrum's ticket was?—Ans. I think it was Republican, with the exception of Frederick's name.

X Int. 41. Was Frederick's name printed or written on Lundstrum's ballot which he gave to the judges?—Ans. Well, I couldn't say positive; it was there.

X Int. 42. How do you know, if you may be mistaken about the ticket he voted?—Ans. He was a pretty hard man to get to vote to suit me; I had to electioneer him a considerable.

X Int. 43. How do you know that Frederick's name was on his ballot, if you may be mistaken about the ticket he voted?—Ans. I wasn't mistaken in the name that was in the ticket, but can't say whether it was written or printed now.

X 44. Did you see his ticket open before he folded it and handed it to the judges?—Ans. Yes.

X Int. 45. And was it a Republican or Greenback ticket?—Ans. I think it was a Republican; I can't say positive.

X Int. 46. Did you see Frederick's name upon his ticket?—Ans. Yes.

X Int. 47. And can't you tell whether it was printed or written?—Ans. I can't tell; it is my impression that the ticket was pretty badly scratched; that is my impression now.

X Int. 48. Can't you tell whether Wilson's or Platner's name was scratched off Lundstrum's ticket?—Ans. I can't. I think Wilson's name was scratched off his ticket.

X Int. 49. What other scratching was on his ticket except the candidate for Congressman?—Ans. I can't tell you; I noticed that the ticket was scratched.

X Int. 50. Were there three or four erasures on his ticket?—Ans. I didn't count them particularly; I know there was erasures made, but I didn't count them.

X Int. 51. Has not Lundstrum told you of the ticket he voted since then?—Ans. No.

X Int. 52. Had he any ticket except the one you gave him?—Ans. I don't know as he did or did not; I gave him a variety.

X Int. 53. Where did you get the straight Republican tickets with Frederick's name upon them?—Ans. At the "Statesman's" office.

X Int. 54. Was the ballot which Steward showed you from the box erased with pen or pencil, in substituting Frederick's name upon it?—Ans. I can't say positively, but I think with a pencil.

X Int. 55. Was it erased as to any other candidate than for Congressman?—Ans. I can't say.

X Int. 56. Was the ballot-box opened before you asked Steward to show you the Frederick ballots?—Ans. Yes.

X Int. 57. When was it that you asked him to show you the Frederick ballots—at what time?—Ans. It was between two and three o'clock.

X Int. 58. What length of time was consumed in looking them over by you and Steward?—Ans. It didn't take long; probably two or three minutes or five.

X Int. 59. What time did Steward go away from the election board that afternoon?—Ans. I can't say, but it was about dark; he wanted to take the train to go West.

X. Int. 60. Did you remain at the polls till its close?—Ans. No; I left about the same time that Steward did.

X Int. 61. Did you go before he did?—Ans. I went out of the house just afore he did.

Int. 3. Are you a citizen of the United States?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Int. 4. Did you vote at the gen'l election in Nov., 1882, in Taylor Township for the office of Representative to Congress; and if yea, who did you vote for?—Ans. Yes; Benj. T. Frederick.
Int. 5. What time of day were you at the polls?—Ans. I came between eight and nine.
Int. 6. Had Bill Steward commenced counting the votes then?—Ans. I didn't see him counting the votes while I was there.

Cross-examinati

X Int. 1. Did you vote straight Democrat ticket?—Ans. I did.
X Int. 2. Did you look at each name upon it before voting?—Ans. It was a ticket I got of my father. I saw Frederick's name on it.
X Int. 3. From your las answer do you wish me to infer that you did not look at any other name than Frederick's?—Ans. I seen the whole ticket, and probably looked at it all, but I do not remember any names now but Frederick's; am certain it was a Democratic ticket.
X Int. 4. Your father did not ask you to vote the straight Republican ticket except Frederick, did he?—Ans. I voted as I pleased; he asked me nothing. He knew how I voted.
X Int. 5. How long did you remain at the polls?—Ans. I came between 8 and 9, and staid till twelve o'clock.

Int. 1. State your name, age, place of residence, and occupation.—Ans. Anton Estel; 48 years; reside in Taylor Township, Marshall County, Iowa; am a farmer.
Int. 2. How long have you resided there?—Ans. About four years—a little over.
Int. 3. Are you a citizen of the United States?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Int. 4. Did you vote at the Nov. election, 1882, in Taylor Township, and if so, for whom did you vote for, for office of Representative to Congress?—Ans. Yes, I voted for Benj. T. Frederick.
Int. 5. What time of day were you at the polls, and how long did you stay?—Ans. I went between eleven and twelve, and staid about fifteen minutes.

Cross-examination:

X Int. 1. Did you vote a scratched or erased ticket, or a straight one?—Ans. Straight.
X Int. 2. Was it a straight Democratic ticket?—Ans. Yes, it was a straight Democratic ticket.
X Int. 3. Who gave the ticket to you?—Ans. I believe Mr. Melton gave it to me.
X Int. 4. Who was present when you voted?—Ans. Mr. Ernst, Mr. Melton; that is all I recollect.
X Int. 5. Did you look at each name on your ticket?—Ans. I don't know as I did particularly, but I looked particularly about Mr. Fredrick's name.
X Int. 6. Did Mr. Wm. Ernst give you the ticket that you voted?—Ans. No.
X Int. 7. Was he in the room when you voted?—Ans. Yes; he was sitting alongside of me.
X Int. 8. Was your attention called to the name of Fredrick on your ticket by any one; if so, by whom?—Ans. No, sir; by nobody.
X Int. 9. Who did you vote for for judge?—Ans. I don't recollect now anymore.

J. M. WEBBER, being produced, sworn, and examined on the part of contestant, testifies as follows:

Int. 1. State your name, age, place of residence, and occupation.—Ans. John M. Webber, aged 51 years, reside in Taylor Township, Marshall Co., Iowa; by occupation a farmer.

Int. 2. State how long you have resided in Taylor Township, Marshall County, Iowa.—Ans. About sixteen years.

Int. 3. Are you a citizen of the United States?—Ans. Yes.

Int. 4. Did you vote at the Nov. election, 1882, in said Taylor Township, for the office of Representative to Congress; if yea, for whom did you vote?—Ans. I did; I voted for B. T. Frederick.

Int. 5. State what time in the day you voted.—Ans. About four o'clock in the afternoon.

Int. 6. State whether the ballot-box was open or not during the time the board of election was receiving the ballots of the electors?—Ans. It was open while I was there.

Int. 7. How long were you there?—Ans. Probably an hour and a half.

Int. 8. What time did you get there?—Ans. I think it was about four o'clock.

Int. 9. Was there opportunity for parties who felt so disposed to "stuff" the ballot-box and change the votes, particularly those that had control of it?—Ans. Yes, sir; I do, I think so.

Cross-examination:

X Int. 1. What were the judges of election doing while you were there?—Ans. Most of the time they were receiving and counting out votes.

X Int. 2. Were they counting when you got there?—Ans. That was about the first I saw of them; I think they was, the ballots were open.

X Int. 3. Had they just commenced to count when you got there?—Ans. I could not say.

X Int. 4. Did they continue to count while you remained?—Ans. Yes, most of the time.

X Int. 5. Did you remain till the poll closed?—Ans. No, sir.

X Int. 6. How many votes were polled while you were there?—Ans. I could not say, sir.

X Int. 7. Can't you tell approximately? Come as near as you can.—Ans. I should say twelve or fifteen; somewheres near that.

X Int. 8. Did you see any ballots taken out of the box except for counting?—Ans. I ain't sure as I did, but it seems to me they took out one vote, Mr. Horner's vote, to look at it, but I won't be positive.

X Int. 9. Did you see any ballot changed by anybody?—Ans. I believe not, sir, if I understand the question.

X Int. 10. Were you there when Mr. Horner voted?—Ans. Yes, sir.

X Int. 11. Was Mr. Horner there when you think they looked at his ballot?—Ans. I think he was.

X Int. 12. How came the question of his ballot to be raised?—Ans. He went to hand his ballot and Mr Steward wanted to look at it before he put it in; there was some talk then, some saying "Shove it in," and they hesitated somewhat before putting it in.

X Int. 13. Who was it that insisted that it should not be looked at?—Ans. Mr. Wm. Ernst, I believe.

X Int. 14. Did Mr. Horner say anything about it; if so, what?—Ans. He insisted in putting that ticket in that he first handed to him.

X Int. 15. What did he say?—Ans. He said the ticket was all right, and wanted to vote.

X Int. 16. Did Steward want to look at it, or did he want Horner to look at it?—Ans. It appeared that Steward wanted to look at it and drew back and turned a little one side from the polls and that he should take another ticket and vote, from the one he was putting in.

X Int. 17. Wasn't it suggested to Horner that there might have been a mistake about his ticket, that it contained the name of Frederick instead of Wilson, and wasn't it said that he better see that it was a straight ticket before depositing it?—Ans. There might have been something to that effect said, but Horner knew the ticket he was voting, he knew that Frederick was on the ticket himself.

X Int. 18. Did you vote the Greenback ticket?—Ans. Yes, sir.

X Int. 19. Was Frederick's name printed or written on your ballot?—Ans. Written.

Redirect examination:

R. D. Int. You erased Platner's name and wrote Frederick's in place of it?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Int. 2. Are you a citizen of the United States?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Int. 3. Did you vote in Taylor Township at the general election in Nov., 1882, for the office of Representative in Congress? If so, for whom did you vote?—Ans. Yes, sir; I voted for Ben Frederick.

Int. 4. That is, for the contestant here?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Int. 5. What hour of the day did you vote, about?—Ans. About between five and six in the evening.

Int. 6. Was the ballot-box open when you voted?—Ans. It was not.

Int. 7. Do you know whether it was opened?—Ans. They opened it a little bit after I voted. I don't know whether it had been opened before or not.

Cross-examination:

X Int. 1. What was it opened for when you were there?—Ans. I suppose it was to count the votes.

X Int. 2. Did they count them while you was there?—A. Yes; they counted some of them.

X Int. 3. Did you see any ballots changed and taken from the box by anybody?—Ans. No; I didn't give any attention to it. I was not inside the house over five minutes.

X Int. 4. Who gave you your ticket that you voted?—Ans. Mr. Bill Ernst.

X Int. 5. What was it, a Republican or a Democratic ticket?—Ans. It was a Republican turned over to a Democratic ticket.

X Int. 6. What do you mean by "turned over"? How changed or turned over?—Ans. For instance, as if you should print Republican and Democrat in one ticket.

X Int. 7. Was it a Republican ticket, except the name of Mr. Frederick?—Ans. I cannot recollect that, whether it was a Republican ticket or not.

X Int 8. Was Frederick's name printed or written on your ballot?—Ans. it was written.

X Int. 9. Who wrote it?—Ans. I forget whether I done it myself, or Mr. Webber.

X Int. 10. Don't you know whether it was a Republican or a Democratic ticket scratched?—Ans. I ain't sure, but think it was a Republican ticket

WM. J. HORNER, being produced, sworn, and examined on the part of the contestant, testifies as follows:

Int. 1. State your name, age, place of residence, and occupation.—Ans. Wm. J. Horner; aged 22 years; reside in Taylor Township, Marshall County, Iowa; am a farmer.

Int. 2. Are you a citizen of the United States?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Int. 3. Did you vote in Taylor Township at the Nov. election, 1882, for the office of Representative to Congress, and if so, for whom did you vote?—Ans. Yes, I did; I voted for Mr. Frederick.

Int. 4. State what time of day you voted.—Ans. It was between five and six o'clock in the evening.

Int. Did you see the ballot-box open that day while the electors were voting?—Ans. I don't mind seeing it open that day; I saw it open that evening.

Cross-examination:

X Int. 1. After you went to the poll did you remain till it closed?—Ans. I remained there till eight o'clock; they were not done counting votes yet; perhaps later than eight.

X Int. 2. How long did the judges continue to receive votes after you came?—Ans. I don't think they received any after I voted, that I know of.

X Int. 3. Did any one offer to vote after you?—Ans. Not that I know of.

X Int. 4. How do you know Frederick's name was on the ballot you voted?—Ans. I don't really know that it was.

X Int. 5. Did you see his name on the ballot before you voted it?—Ans. I read the ballot, all the names that were on it. Mr. Wm. Ernst gave me the ticket; he said it was a Republican ticket.

X Int. 6. Did he tell you that Frederick's name was on the ticket?—Ans. I don't remember whether he did or not.

X Int. 7. If you did not know that Frederick's name was upon your ballot, how do you know that you voted for Frederick?—Ans. Why they had some false tickets there. I don't know why they were gotten up in that way, and they gave me one of those.

X Int. 8. Did you intend to vote for Frederick when you voted?—Ans. No, sir.

X Int. 9. Did you know that Frederick's name was upon your ballot?—Ans. I believe I told you once I was not certain. When I went to the poll, Mr. Steward asked me if I had a straight Republican ticket; I told him I supposed I had, and handed it to him.

X Int. 10. Was Mr. Ernst spoken of, the Wm. Ernst who has given his testimony before the notary here to-day?—Ans. Yes, sir; he is.

X Int. 11. You say you looked at the names on the ticket?—Ans. I looked at the names on the ticket, but being a stranger here I did not know Mr. Frederick from Mr. Wilson, and did not know the Republican candidate from the Democrat without being told.

Redirect examination:

R. D. Int. 1. If you read the names on your ticket you knew the name of Benj. T. Frederick was on the ticket, didn't you—you knew at the time the names were there?—Ans. Not knowing the candidates before I went to the election, I would not know. I presume if his name was on it I read it.

WM. J. HORNER.

CASSIUS M. NORTON,
Notary Public in and for Marshall County, Iowa.

THORNTON HUBBARD, of lawful age, being produced, sworn, and examined on the part of the contestant, testifies as follows:

Int. 1. State your name, age, place of residence, and occupation.—Ans. Thornton Hubbard; 67 years old; reside in Taylor Township, Marshall County, Iowa; am a farmer.

Int. 2. Were you at the general election held in Taylor Township in Nov., 1882; and if so, during what time of the day were you there?—Ans. Yes; I was there from a half after two, I think, till a half after four.

Int. 3. Was the ballot-box open or kept open by the judges while you were there; and if so, did you see the ballots that had been deposited by the electors handled by any one; if so, by whom?—Ans. The ballot-box was open when I went there. I see some of the tickets handled by Mr. Steward and passed over to Mr Adna Fogg.

Int. 4. What else did you see that appeared to be irregular?—Ans. I don't know hardly what. Well, the ballot-box while I was there, was shut and three votes received.

Int. 5. Were these ballots that were handled and passed around ballots from the ballot-box?—Ans. They were.

Int. 6. Were the judges discussing among themselves how the several electors had voted from examining the ballots as they were deposited?—Ans. I didn't hear a word to that effect.

Cross-examination:

X Int. 1. Were the judges canvassing the votes and the clerks making up the tally-sheets?—Ans. I believe they were.

X Int. 2. Did you see any other handling of ballots other than was done in counting?—Ans. No, sir; I did not.

X Int. 3. Did you see any changes of ballots made by anybody?—Ans. No, sir. I didn't.

X Int. 4. Did anybody besides the judges handle the ballots?—Ans. Not that I seen of.

THORNTON HUBBARD.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, and in my presence, by the said Thornton Hubbard, this 15th day of February, A. D. 1883.

CASSIUS M. NORTON,
Notary Public in and for Marshall County, Iowa.

J. O. CUTLER, of lawful age, being produced, sworn, and examined on the part of e contestant, testifies as follows:

Int. 1. State your name, age, place of residence, and occupation.—Ans J. O. Cutler; age, 50 years; State Centre, Marshall County, Iowa; dealer in seeds, &c.

Int. 2. Do you now and did you during the month of Nov., 1882, hold any official position in State Centre Township, Marshall County, Iowa?—Ans. I did not in 1882; I am now township clerk.

Int. 2. Who were you the successor of?—Ans. Of Mr. Adams; F. W. Adams.

Int 4. Are you the custodian of the ballot-box that was used at the Nov. election, 1882, for State Centre Township, that contains the votes that were cast for the office of Representative in Congress, and how long have you been such custodian?—Ans. I am the custodian, and have had the ballot box and poll-list since I received them from the old township clerk, Mr. Adams; I received the poll-list with the other book from Mr. Adams; the ballot-box I found in the town hall where the election was held; I did not receive that from Mr. Adams.

Int. 5. Does the ballot-box contain the ballots of that election, and was it fastened when you found it?—Ans. Why, I suppose they do; I wasn't a judge of the election; I supposed it did; I found the ballots in the box; the box was locked and the key was in the lock.

Int. 6. When did you get the ballot-box?—Ans. I couldn't tell you just when it was; there was some delay in settling up with the old trustees, and I didn't get possession of anything belonging to the office until after his settlement with the trustees.

Int. 7. Does the box contain the same ballots that were in it at the time you recd. it?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Int. 8. Who occupies the town hall where you found it, and whereabouts in the hall was the box when you found it?—Ans. The town council meets there, fire companies meet there, and it is under the general supervision of the marshal for any purpose; I found it sitting on top of the corporation recorder's desk.

Int. 9. Do you know whether the ballots were in the box as they were at the time the votes were canvassed, and in what condition did they appear?—Ans. I am not able to say what condition the ballots were in at the time of the canvass, and of course cannot say whether they are in the same condition now.

Int. 10. Are they loose or in any way fastened together?—Ans. They are strung on a string.

Int. 11. Will you produce the ballots in the presence of the notary and count them, and state how many were cast for James Wilson for the office of Representative in Congress, and how many were cast for Benj. T. Frederick for the same office?

(Objected to by contestee because it is not shown that the ballots are in the same condition as when canvassed, nor that they could not have been changed.)

Ans. I have no objection to recounting the ballots, if done in the presence of at least one of the trustees; and further, I would say that after finding the box I locked it and gave the key to Mr. L. B. Goodrich, one of the township trustees.

(Mr. L. B. Goodrich being produced, the ballot-box is opened, and the ballots are counted by J. O. Cutler, township clerk, and L. B. Goodrich, township trustee.)

Int. 12. (To witness, J. O. Cutler.) Have you counted the ballots found in the box for the office of Representative to Congress, and who assisted you? And state the result of your count.

(Objected to; same as Int. 11 above.)

Ans. I have; Mr. Goodrich, one of the trustees, assisted me; one hundred and ninety-three (193) for James Wilson, and eighty (80) for Mr. Benj. T. Frederick, two for Mr. Platner, one for Mr. Snyder, and seven blanks.

Int. 13. You may state how you found the ballots in the box as to their being fastened together and as appearing not to have been changed or disturbed.—Ans. I found them strung on a string; and as to their being changed, I can't see how I can answer that question.

Int. 14. You may state if you found the ballots cast for Frederick strung together, bunched together, and the ballots for Wilson strung or bunched together, and if you found any for Frederick separately among those cast for Wilson.—Ans. I found the most of the ballots for Wilson together, and the most of the Frederick ballots together, and some ballots scattering among all the tickets.

Int. 15. State the order in which the ballots appeared on the string; if you cannot remember, examine again.

(Objected to; same as to Int. 11, above.)

Ans. First, I find 2 for Platner, and one Frederick ticket, then two Democratic tickets scratched for Wilson, then comes sixty-five votes for Frederick on Democratic tickets, then one for Wilson, then one for Billy Snyder, and then thirteen for Frederick, then seven blanks for no Congressman, then comes one hundred and sixty-four votes for Wilson, then one for Frederick, and then twenty-six for Wilson.

Cross-examination:

X Int. 1. How often has this hall where the ballot-box has been, been used by the fire company or others between the time of election and the time you took it away?—Ans. I can't say positive. The fire company has monthly meetings and the council monthly monthly regular meetings, and the marshal goes through the room to take prisoners into the "calaboose."

X Int. 2. Was the hall locked where the box was kept?—Ans. I suppose it has been but not having charge of the hall I cannot say positively.

X Int. 3. Did the recorder of the town use this hall for an office, or was his desk in the hall for council meetings simply?—Ans. Only for council meeting; he has an office aside from the town hall.

X Int. 4. When did you get this ballot-box and remove it?—Ans. I can't give the exact date; it was somewhere about the last of January or the first of February, 1883.

X Int. 5. Have you examined these ballots before this day?—Ans. I have; in the presence of Mr. Goodrich, one of the township trustees, and Mr. E. P. Thompson and Mr. C. W. Stone, of Marshalltown.

X Int. 6. When was this, and who requested the examination?—Ans. About two weeks ago; Mr. Stone requested it.

X Int. 7. Whom did he assume to act for; that is, Mr. Stone?—Ans. For Mr. Frederick.

X Int. 8. What did he say, if anything, about a discrepancy between the ballots and return, or what reason did he give, if any, for examining the ballots?—Ans. He said he was in the interest of Mr. Frederick, and wanted to know whether the ballot was correct, and after recounting the ballot he said that evidently the discrepancy was a mistake in counting.

X Int. 9. Did he say anything about any information he had that there was a mistake?—Ans. Not to my knowledge.

X Int. 10. Do you find any Republican tickets with Wilson's name erased and Frederick's name substituted in this box?—Ans. I do.

X Int. 11. About how many?—Ans. I will have to count them, I guess; there are thirteen.

X Int. 12. From the location or situation of this box in the hall, with the key left in the lock, would it have been possible for any one, so disposed, to have changed a ballot?—A. I think it would have been possible.

X Int. 13. Can you tell that all the ballots now in this box were the ballots that were left in it by the election board after canvassing, and as they were canvassed?

(Objected to by contestee as leading and immaterial.)

Ans. I can't tell positively.

Redirect-examination:

R. D. Int. 1. At the time yourself, Mr. Stone, and Mr. Thompson were present when you first counted the ballots before to-day, were any of them altered, changed, or erased for the person or persons voted for the office of Representative to Congress by any one in such count?—Ans. No, sir; they wasn't.

R. D. Int. 2. Has there been any change since that time in the ballots?—Ans. No, sir.

Recross-examination:

R. X Int. 1. By saying there was no change of the ballots when you examined them before, you mean to say there was no change then made at that time, do you not; and not that there had been none before that time?—Ans. That is what I meant.

Re-redirect ex.:

R. D. Int. 1. You don't know that any change had been made before that time, do you?—Ans. I don't know of any.

J. O. CUTLER.

CASSIUS M. NORTON,
Notary Public in and for Marshall County, Iowa.

Contestee recalls J. O. CUTLER, witness.

R. R. X. Int. 2. When you counted the ballots in the presence of Mr. Stone, did you make the count the same as you do now?—Ans. We made the count for Mr. Frederick the same, but one less for Mr. Wilson; that is, at that count we made it one less for Mr. Wilson than we did to-day.

Int. By contestant. You may state whether you can explain that discrepancy in the count made in the presence of Mr. Stone, and the one made to-day?—Ans. I think it was caused by not counting one vote for Mr. Wilson when we counted in the presence of Mr. Stone, on a ticket that had had the head of the ticket torn off for State officers.

L. B. GOODRICH, of lawful age, being produced, sworn, and examined on the part of contestant, testifies as follows:

Int. 1. State your name, age, place of residence, and occupation.—Ans. L. B. Goodrich; 31 y'rs old; reside in State Centre, Marshall Co., Iowa; hardware dealer.

Int. 2. Are you an officer of State Centre Township; if so, how long have you been such officer, and what office do you hold?—Ans. I am one of the trustees; have been for three or four years, can't tell which.

Int. 3. Were you one of the judges at the Nov. election of 1882, in State Centre Township, at which the electors voted for the office of Representative to Congress?—Ans. I was.

Int. 4. Have you been present to-day during the examination of the ballots in the ballot-box; and were you present and assisting when the said ballots were canvassed and counted at the Nov. election, 1882?—Ans. I was present to-day, and was also present at the election.

Int. 5. How were the ballots left in the box at the time of the canvass at the said election?—Ans. They were strung on a string, and left in the box, locked up.

Int. 6. How was their appearance to-day, as compared to the manner in which they were left at the canvass of the election.

Ans. I can't tell as to each identical ticket, if that is what you mean; I think there has been a change in the ballots, in the twenty-seventh ballot.

Int. 7. What evidence of a change do you find?—Ans. From the way they were assorted and counted. I believe it impossible for there being a straight Democratic ticket mixed with a straight Republican ticket as counted and strung.

Int. 8. Did you count in the evening or by daylight?—Ans. In the evening.

Int. 9. How were the ballots separated; Democrat and Republican and mixed tickets, and placed upon the string? Please explain.—Ans. When the polls were closed we emptied the box on the table, and counted all the votes to see that they compared with the poll-list; found them correct at first count. We then separated straight Republican tickets into piles of five, then handed them to Mr. Swift, and he called them to the clerks; we separated the straight Democrat tickets into piles of five, passed them to Mr. Swift, who called them to the clerks; we separated all the scratched tickets that we could find scratched alike into piles of five, the balance we called single. Mr. Swift done all the calling. Mr. Chamberlain made the most of the piles, handed them to me, and I looked them over, and if found all alike, passed them to Mr. Swift. There being such a marked difference between a straight Democrat and a straight Republican ticket in appearance, that I believe it impossible for a Democrat ticket to have passed into one of the piles of the Republican tickets through Mr. Chamberlain, myself, and Mr. Swift's hands without being noticed; as I now find one Democrat ticket among the straight Republican tickets.

Int. 10. Was these tickets counted five at a time where they were all Democratic or Republican, and were all the ballots all strung as counted?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Int. 11. This twenty-seventh ticket is the 27th from the bottom of the string, is it not?—Ans. It is the twenty-seventh from the bottom.

Int. 12. It would come right in the middle of a pile of fives, or near it, wouldn't it?—Ans. It would; it would be the second ticket in a pile of fives.

Int. 13. When a pile of fives were passed to you did you separate each of them, or simply turn up the corners to count them?—Ans. I held the bottom of the tickets between my thumb and finger and turned them over and counted them.

Int. 14. Did you go over each pile more than once?—Ans. I can't answer that positively.

Int. 15. Did you find any mistake at any time in the character of the ballots that Mr. Chamberlain handed to you?—Ans. I think I found one or two mistakes.

Int. 16. Mr. Chamberlain you regard as a careful and upright man, do you not?—Ans. I do.

Int. 17. If Mr. Chamberlain made one or two mistakes, do you now mean to swear that it is absolutely impossible for you to make one; or do you mean to say that you counted those ballots not intending to make any mistake?—Ans. I do not swear that I did not make a mistake; I swear that I believe it impossible to pass the three without discovery, and no mistake was reported from Mr. Swift.

Int. 18. Would not he be as liable to make a mistake as you or Mr. Chamberlain?—Ans. I think he would; I think any man is liable to make a mistake—although I think he would be more apt to discover a mistake than Mr. Chamberlain or myself, as he had nothing to do but call them, while we had to place them in piles.

Int. 19. Yet he called them in fives, and not separately?—Ans. He examined them separately before calling.

Int 20. In the same manner that you did, did he not?—Ans. Not exactly; he had to call the county and township ticket separately; I would call them in this way: five down to county or township ticket, as the case might be; he would then examine them, and then called them in the same way, and the balance he would call separately.

Int 21. Do you know that the package from the twenty-sixth to thirtieth ticket was not also supposed to be straight as to county and township officers; and if so, would they not have been called in fives?—Ans. They would not have been straight with a Democratic ticket in there; I do not remember whether there was any straight township tickets called in piles of five or not, either Republican or Democrat; there was a great deal of scratching on township tickets; there may have been some township tickets called in fives, but I do not remember any.

Int 22. In order for any person to have changed this 27th ticket from the bottom, it would have been necessary to have removed all other tickets above that from the string, would it not; or to have removed all below that from the string?—Ans. It would.

X Int 23. You have no direct recollection of this particular ticket, the 27th, and you only base your opinion that it has been changed upon your belief in the correctness of the count when the canvass was made?—Ans. I have no particular recollection of the ticket at the time the count was made, and I believe the count correct.

Cross-examination:

X Int 1. There were several names on each ballot, both in State, and county, and township, were there not; and all on a single strip or slips of paper on each party ticket?—Ans. Yes, sir.

X Int 2. About how many names were there on each ticket to be called off to the clerks?—Ans. I don't know whether I can give an idea without seeing a ticket; I could't remember half, especially the state officers.

X Int 3. Were there not many persons of each party standing by or around the table while the canvass was made, observing the count?—Ans. The room was full; I should think there was as many as fifteen in front of the table looking over on the ballots, some of them keeping tally as to some of the officers; there were persons there of both parties, Democrat and Republican, and I think there were one or two Greenbackers there.

X Int. 4. Do you believe the canvass and return then made was correct?—Ans. I do.

Redirect examination:

R. D. Int. 1. Did you assist Mr. Cutler in counting the ballots in the box to-day, and did you find the count testified to by him of eighty ballots purporting to be cast for Benj. T. Frederick and one hundred and ninety-three for James Wilson for the office of Representative to Congress correct as the ballots now show?—Ans. That is correct.

J. D. CHAMBERLAIN, being produced, sworn, and examined on the part of the contestant, testifies as follows:

Int. 1. State your name, age, residence, and occupation.
(Witness Chamberlain before answering is excused by contestant's att'y.)

F. W. ADAMS, of lawful age, being produced, sworn, and examined on the part of contestant, testifies as follows:

Int. 1. State yonr name, age, place of residence, and occupation.—Ans. F. W. Adams; 28 years of age; State Centre, Iowa; attorney.

Int. 2. Was you clerk of State Centre Township, Marshall County, for the year 1882?—Ans. Yes, sir; the latter part of the year.

Int. 3. Were you one of the clerks of the November election, 1882, held in this township, at which the electors voted for the office of Representative in Congress?—Ans. I was.

Int. 4. Did you have the care and control of the ballot-box up to the time your successor was elected?—Ans. The ballot-box was left at the place of election, at the time of election, up to the time my successor was qualified, and I turned the same and books over to him.

Int. 5. Was the box left locked?—Ans. I couldn't say positively whether it was or was not.

Int. 6. Did you see the ballot-box open to-day; and, if yea, how did the appearance of the ballots compare with the manner in which they were left?—Ans. I did see the ballot-box open to-day, and the ballots appeared much as they did on the night of the election when they were first counted.

Int. 7. Did you see any indications that they had been in any manner tampered with?—Ans. I did not.

Int. 8. Who put the ballots on the string when they were strung after election?—Ans. One of the trustees; I wouldn't be positive which.

Cross-examination:

X Int. 1. You did not examine the ballots critically to-day, did you?—Ans. I did not.

X Int. 2. You did not handle them at all to-day, did you?—Ans. I did not.

X Int. 3. You could not from what you saw of them to-day say whether the erasures on any of the tickets was made before or since election, could you?—Ans. I could not. The general appearance of the tickets is much the same as they were the night of the election.

X Int. 4. Did you on the night of the election examine the tickets as to scratches or erasures?—Ans. I did not.

X Int. 5. Can you now, from the examination you have made to-day, tell whether this batch of tickets contains all that were canvassed on the night of the election?—Ans. I could not.

Int. 1. Did you place the ballots that have been counted to-day upon the string at the time of the election?—Ans. I did.

Int. 2. Was there several Republican tickets, as you remember, that had Wilson's name scratched and Frederick's written?—Ans. I think there were a few.

Int. 3. Are the general appearance of the ballots as a whole, and the manner in which they appear on the string to-day, similar, to your recollection, to the manner in which they were placed on the string at the time of the canvass?—Ans. I think they are.

Cross-examination:

X Int. 1. Can you tell from the examination made to-day of the ballots that none of them have been changed since the canvass?—Ans. No, sir; I can't.

S. BOSWORTH, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, notary public for Marshall County, on the 4th day of May, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Did you attend the November election in 1882, in Taylor Township?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 2. What time did you get there, Mr. Bosworth?—A. About 4 o'clock; I got there about the time Mr. Seibert did; I saw him there.

Q. 3. Did you vote at the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. Was the ballot-box open when you got there?

(Contestant objects—immaterial; not proper rebutting evidence.)

A. I did not notice that they were counting any votes; simply that the box was open.

Q. 5. Were they counting votes?—A. I didn't see them.

Q. 6. Was it open while you were there?—A. Not that I noticed.

Q. 7. Did you pay any attention to them to see whether they were counting votes?—A. I saw them all the time; I was coming away, and I heard them make a remark about counting votes, and they opened the box just as I was leaving.

Q. 8. Did you know they had counted up to that time?—A. I did not know that any such thing would be done.

Q. 9. How long did you stay?—A. Perhaps nearly an hour.

Q. 10. What time did you go home?—A. Sometime before sun down.

Q. 11. About sun down?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 12. How far did you go to get home?—A. I believe about three miles; I think the sun was about half an hour high.

Q. 13. You don't know the time you precisely got there?—A. No, sir; I had been at work some time in the afternoon; I said to the man who came there, "Is to-day election day?" said he, "Yes." I stopped work and rode up with him.

Q. 14. You don't exactly know the time you got there?—A. No, sir; not exactly.

Q. 15. That was in November; you must not have gotten home before 5 o'clock?—A. Well, it was 6 o'clock before dark at that time, I remember.

Q. 16. You think the sun was half an hour high when you got home?—A. The sun was not down yet; I did the chores before night.

Q. 17. Were they receiving votes during the time that they were counting votes?—A. I don't think they took any in after that time; my impression is that they were looking them over; I have that in my mind. It seemed to be generally understood that it was not time to close the polls.

Recross-examination:

Q. 18. They were not through when you left?—A. Mr. Seibert was there, and also Mr. Ernst.

Q. 19. Was Mr. Stewart?—A. Yes, sir; he was there at the table with the others of the board.

Deposition of witnesses produced before me, Eldon Moran, notary public and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony, and duly sworn by J. H. Bradley, a notary public for Marshall County, Iowa, on this 4th day of May, 1883, in pursuance of the notice hereunto attached, in a proceeding pending before the House of Representatives of the United States of America in a contested election for the office of Representative in Congress, in which proceeding Benj. T. Frederick is contestant and James Wilson, contestee.

The following testimony was taken before me:

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

THORNTON HUBBARD, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, notary public for Marshall County, Iowa, on this 4th day of May, '83, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. H. Bradley on part of coutestee):

Q. 1. Do you reside in Taylor Township?—A. Yes, sir; I have for 20 years.

Q. 2. Did you go to the Nov. election, '82?—A. Yes, sir; I did.

Q. 3. What time did you go there?—A. I left home about two o'clock; it was about one and three-fourths or two miles; I went right along at a common gait.

Q. 4. What time did you get there?—A. I was home by five o'clock.

Q. You may state what time you got there, or what time you saw the ballot-box open.

(Contestee objects; not proper rebutting evidence.)

A. It was open when I got there.

Q. 6. When you got there?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 7. Was it open from that time till you went away?—A. No, sir; it was shut up for a while.

Q. 8. It was open when you got there?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 9. What were they doing with the box; who had it open?—A. Stewart appeared to have it open.

Q. 10. What was he doing with it; was he handling the tickets?—A. I believe that he was.

Q. 11. What ticket do you usually vote, the Democratic or Republican?—A. I usually vote the Republican ticket.

Q. 12. You didn't vote at that election?—A. No, sir, not at all.

Q. 13. Why didn't you vote?

(Objection as immaterial.)

A. Because I had made up my mind before the election a good while I would not vote for either of the candidates for Congressman, consequently I didn't vote at all.

Q. 14. How long was the box open after you got there?

(Objection; not proper rebutting evidence.)

Q. 15. For how long a time was it open after you got there?—A. Well, it is possible that it was open 20 or 30 minutes, then shut up.

Q. 16. Did they open it again while you were there?—A. Well, now, I couldn't say positively.

Q. 17. Were they counting the votes when you got there?—A. I am of the opinion that they were.

Q. 18. You say they were counting votes then?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 19. How did you go, afoot, or did you ride?—A. I went up in a wagon.

Q. 20. You started about two o'clock?—A. Yes, sir, I looked at the clock when I started.

Q. 21. You went a mile and a half?—A. Yes, sir, a mile and three-quarters.

Q. 22. Did you look at the clock when you got home?—A. Yes, sir.

Q 23. What time was it?—A. A little after 5 o'clock.

Q. 24. About how long did it take you to go over there?—A. I think not over 30 or 35 minutes from the time I started till the time I got there.

Q. 25. How long did you remain there?—A. I cannot say.

Q. 26. You were there an hour or more?—A. I think likely I was.

Q. 27. When you got home you looked at the clock and found it was 5 o'clock?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 28. Was it sundown when you got home?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 29. What did Stewart say about the result of the election and number of Democratic votes at the time he had the box open when you got there, about half-past two o'clock?

(Contestee objects; immaterial.)

Q. 30. State anything he said?

(Objection, immaterial, no proper rebutting evidence.)

A. I spoke to Stewart relative to the amount of votes cast, but I heard him say nothing about any particular candidate.

Q. 31. Did you see him have any tickets out of the box?—A. I believe I did.

Q. 32. Did he put them back or not?—A. I think they were passed over to the other judges of the election.

Q. 33. They looked at them?—A. I think they were passed to Adna Fogg, and he passed them to Malmsberry.

Q. 34. You are the same Mr. Hubbard that testified here before in the direct examination?—A. Yes, sir, I am.

Q. 35. Do you know what time Mr. Stewart left the polls?—A. No, sir; I don't know; he was there when I left the school-house.

Cross-examination:

Q. 36. Do you mean that they were canvassing the returns when you saw that they had the ballot-box open?—A. I mean that they were canvassing the votes and passing them over to make preparation for the returns.

Q. 37. That is, the tally-list? Were the clerks tallying the votes at that time?—A. I believe that they were.

Q. 38. Did you see any handling of the votes except in making the count and tally?—A. None at all.

Q. 39. How near were you to the ballot-box?—A. I think not over 6 feet from it.

Q. 40. Did you see William Ernst there?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 41. What was he doing?—A. Well, he had tickets in his hand passing them around.

Q, 42. Did you see him at the ballot-box looking into the box?—A. I didn't.

Q. 43. Did you see him near the ballot-box looking at the tickets or talking to Stewart about them?—A. No, sir, I didn't.

Q. 44. How long did you say you were there?—A. I think something like an hour.

Q. 45. What time did you go home?—A. About 5 o'clock, I think, or a little before that.

Q. 46. Do you know anything about your clock being correct?—A. I think it was pretty correct.

Q. 47. Had they done counting returns when they left?—A. No, sir.

Q. 48. Was William Ernst there when you left?—A. I think that he went away.

Q. 49. Did he go before you did?—A. I think that he did.

Redirect:

Q. 50. You didn't see him in the room when you went away?—A. I think that he started out of the room and said that he was going home. That is what happened there. I am under the impression that he left.

THORNTON HUBBARD.

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

J. M. WEBBER, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, notary public for Marshall County, on this 4th day of May, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Where do you live?—A. In Taylor township, Marshall County, Iowa.

Q. 2. Did you attend the election in Nov., 1882?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. You know Will Horner?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. Were you present when he received his ticket?—A. Yes, sir; I was.

Q. 5. What conversation took place when he received that ticket?

(Contestee objects—immaterial, and not being rebutting evidence.)

Q. 6. You may state what conversation took place; whether he knew who was on the ticket for Congressman?—A. Mr. Ernst had tickets, all straight Republican tickets, with the exception of Frederick's name on instead of Wilson's; he showed them to him, and told him that all the difference there was they had Wilson's name scratched off. He wanted to vote the Republican ticket, and for Frederick. Mr. Wilson said this is the ticket you want to vote; he took the ticket, went to the polls, and put it in.

Q. 7. You heard Mr. Ernst tell Mr. Horner that?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 8. What time did you get to the election, Mr. Webber?—A. Not far from 4 o'clock.
Q. 9. I will ask you if the ballot-box was open when you got there?—A. Yes, sir; the ballot-box was open when I got there.
(Objection to the question as immaterial and not proper rebutting evidence.)
Q. 10. What were they doing, counting out votes? Did you hear Mr. Stewart say anything as to how many Democratic or Republican votes were cast for Congressman?—A. Not particularly; there was some talk as to how many Democratic votes were cast.
Q. 11. What did Mr. Stewart say to that?
(Objection to the question as immaterial and not proper rebutting evidence.)
A. There was a little dispute about it; so they went to hunting up votes to see what there was in the box.
Q. 12. Did they hunt them up?—A. They got over the entire tally of the vote, but I don't think that they settled the matter.
Q. 13. He was hunting in the ballot-box for votes?
(Objection as immaterial and not proper rebutting evidence.)
A. Yes, sir; at one time he was.
Q. 14. How long did you remain?—A. I was there probably an hour and a half.
Q. 15. At what time did you go back home?—A. A little before dark.
Q. 16. Was Stewart there while you were there?
(Objection as immaterial and not the proper rebutting evidence.)
A. Yes, sir; he was.
Q. 17. What time did you go there?—A. I don't know.
Q. 18. How far did you have to go?—A. About a half a mile.
Q. 19. From what Mr. Stewart said did he seem to know how many Republican and Democratic votes were cast?
(Objection as immaterial and not the proper rebutting evidence.)
A. He appeared to know all about the Democratic votes.
(Objection as immaterial and not the proper rebutting evidence.)
Q. 20. He was acting as one of the judges of the election?—A. Yes, sir; he was.
Q. 21. Was you present when he was telling Ernst how many votes they had?
(Objection as immaterial and not the proper rebutting evidence.)
Q. 22. What did you hear him say about Horner's vote?
(Objection as immaterial and not the proper rebutting evidence.)
A. Mr. Stewart thought that they were putting the wrong ticket; he hesitated about receiving the vote; they stood a minute and held the ballot in his hands; Ernst said something about taking his vote and shoving it in without any blarney about it; that is all right.
Q. 23. What did Horner say?—A. He wanted to vote the ticket.
Q. 24. Did Horner tell him to put it in?—A. Yes, sir; after a few minutes.
Q. 25. What did Mr. Stewart say about it immediately afterward; about it being a Frederick ticket?—A. I don't know; I didn't remember.
Q. 26. Did you hear him make any remarks about deceiving Horner?—A. I don't remember just what words were used.

Cross-examination:

Q. 27. You say you did not settle the number of Democratic votes?—A. I believe so, but am not positive.
Q. 28. What time did you say you went away?—A. I don't know any more; I think about 4 o'clock when I came there. I think I was there about an hour and a half.
Q. 29. Who went away with you?—A. I think no one.
Q. 30. Was Ernst there when you went away?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 31. Was Stewart there?—A. Yes, sir.

A. N. FRENCH, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, notary public for Marshall County, on this 4th day of May, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part or contestant and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. You are the auditor of Marshall County?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 2. You may state if you have any record in your county, showing the number of inhabitants there are in Marshall town, and certified by city census?—A. Well, the U. S. census report.
Q. 3. That is a little printed volume, is it not?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 4. Well, have you any under seal of the city, or from any census board in the city, certified under seal, any ordinary return in form——— A. Of the population of the county?

Q. 5. I mean of Marshall town.—A. I don't believe I have.

Q. 6. Has there ever been any certified return of, the census, showing the population of Marshall town returned to you by any city official, or by any census board in the city? certified under seal, or report copied certified under seal, that has been placed in your hands officially?—A. I know of no census of the town or county except city census, the printed one, that is all I have any knowledge of.

Cross-examination:

Q. 7. Is there any requirement of the statute or of the office, making it your duty to have a written report from the seal of the Secretary of State of the census of the city?—A. I am not aware of anything of the kind.

Q. 8. What is the report you spoke of, the printed report of the census of 1880, of the population of Marshall town; what is the number?

(Contestant objects; not the best evidence.)

A. The U. S. census returns in 1880 is something over 66; but I don't remember just exactly the number.

Q. 9. Have you got it in your office?—A. Yes, sir; I think so.

Q. 10. Will you bring it in, and give the commissioners the number of voters, or population of the city, as by it?—A. Yes, sir; I will.

Excused for the present.—Witness having returned, evidence is resumed.

A. I will see now if I can't find that census; I can't find it; I have looked for a good long time, but I can't find it; I don't believe it is here.

Brown appearing on the part of the contestant, and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Where do you reside at present?—A. Taylor Township.

Q. 2. Where did you reside in November, 1882?—A. Taylor Township.

Q. 3. What county?—A. Marshall County.

Q. 4. Did you vote at the November election, 1882, for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. Whom did you vote for?—A. For B. T. Frederick.

Q. 6. Where did you vote?—A. At what is called Willow School-House, Taylor Township, Marshall County, Iowa.

Q. 7. At what time did you get to the election?—A. It was some time near 11 o'clock in the morning, I think.

Cross-examination:

Q. 8. Where do you say that you live now?—A. In Taylor Township, at present.

Q. 9. I think that you said that you lived there at the time of the election?—A. Yes, sir; I did. I lived there a year. I am making arrangements to move to town here.

Q. 10. How long have you lived in Taylor Township?—A. About a year the first of next April.

Q. 11. What kind of a ticket did you vote?—A. The Republican ticket, with the exception of Mr. Frederick's name on it.

Q. 12. Did you erase Mr. Wilson's name?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 13. Did you write Frederick's name in yourself?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 14. You did it with a pencil?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 15. What time did you vote?—A. Between 11 and 12 o'clock somewhere. I don't know just what time it was.

Q. 16. You voted the Republican ticket, except Wilson?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 17. You took the straight Republican ticket?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 18. You didn't take some of those mongrel tickets with Frederick's name printed in?—A. No, sir; but I was handed one of them.

Q. 19. You didn't take one of those?—A. Yes, sir; but I didn't vote it.

Q. 20. Who was present when you voted?—A. Well, I don't know that I can tell any, except the judges and one or two of the clerks.

Q. 21. Anybody see your ticket besides yourself?—A. No, sir.

Q. 22. Anybody present when you changed it?—A. No, sir.

Q. 23. Where did you change it?—A. On the north side of the school-house.

Q. 24. You were alone there, were you?—A. Yes, sir.

Brown appearing on the part of the contestant and J. H. Bradley on the part of the contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. My name is R. E. Strang; I live in Taylor township, and my occupation is that of farmer.

Q. 2. Were you one of the clerks at the November election, 1882, held in Taylor township?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. State where the poll-books of that township at the November election were signed and made up.—A. They were signed at the county board of supervisor's office at the court-house here.

Q. 4. In Marshalltown?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. Was the poll-book in the envelope when you saw it there?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 6. Who had it?—A. The clerk had it in the presence of the judges.

Q. 7. Were you one of the clerks?—A. I am not the township clerk.

Q. 8. What was his name?—A. William Santee.

Q. 9. Did the judges of the election meet there in Marshalltown, Iowa, to sign the poll-book?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 10. One of the judges wasn't there, was he?—A. No, sir.

Q. 11. Who of the judges met there? Was Mr. Stewart there?—A. No, sir.

Q. 12. Who signed his name to it?—A. The township clerk.

Q. 13. How long was that after the election?—A. It was in the afternoon, next day after the election.

Q. 14. Did you examine the poll-book at that time?—A. I think not.

Q. 15. You don't know whether it had been changed or not, do you?—A. No, sir; I do not know. I could not swear to that, although I do not think that it had.

Q. 16. The ballot-box was kept open a part of the time on the afternoon of the election, was it?—A. Yes, sir, at different times.

Q. 17. How long before the election closed?—A. I should say two or three hours.

Cross-examination:

Q. 18. When the poll-book was signed at the auditor's office, is that the time that the poll-book was brought in from the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 19. Was there any change or erasure made in the poll-book at the time by the judges or by you?—A. No, sir.

Q. 20. Upon the afternoon of the election in Taylor Township when the ballot-box was opened there, and what was the ballot-box opened for?—A. One of the judges, Mr. Stewart, made a remark something like this, "that he had to go away on the train that night," had to go west, where his stock was, and he spoke to us in this way: if any one came in after the box was closed to take their votes. Mr. Sante, the township clerk, said it was very common to do that way. I see no reason why there could be any objection to that, and the other judges consented to it, and we commenced counting.

Q. 21. Was anything done with the ballots on the afternoon of the election by the judges except to count them?—A. Mr. Stewart, one of the judges, took them out of the box and handed them to the judge next to him, and he read them to us clerks, and then the clerk, M. Fogg, handed them to the next clerk, Mr. Malmsbury.

Q. 22. He was judge, wasn't he?—A. Yes, sir; he strung them on a string.

Q. 23. The question is, whether the judge had the box open except to count the ballots—that is all—any changes made there?—A. No, sir.

Q. 24. Did you see them yourself?—A. No, sir; I did not, only as they were handed to the other judges.

Q. 25. Were you there during the whole count?—A. Yes, sir; I was.

Q. 26. What time did you get through counting them?—A. I think it was about 8 o'clock; I don't remember.

Q. 27. What time did Stewart go away?—A. He went away a little while before that; not long.

Q. 28. Did he go before you finished counting?—A. No, sir; not before we finished counting, but before we finished up our books—tally-list, that is.

Q. 29. You had counted all the ballots before Stewart went away?—A. Yes, sir; he handed the last ballots to the judge sitting next to me, and closed the box before he went away.

Redirect:

Q. 30. He wanted to take the 6.40 train, didn't he?—A. I think not.

Q. 31. What train was it?—A. 11.45 train, I understood.

Q. 32. Wasn't he going to go north on the 7 o'clock train?—A. No, sir; he was going to Ida County, where he had his stock. He said he wanted to go home, because the hired man came after him.

Q. 33. He went home before dark, didn't he?—A. No, sir; it was a good while before dark; we had the lights lit for a good while before we finished counting.

Recross-examination:

Q. 34. He went away—John F. Stewart—Man came after him?—A. Yes; Horner is his hired man.

Q. 35. William Horner?—A. Yes, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 36. You don't know whether this poll-book had been changed or not when you sent it over here, for you didn't examine it, did you?—A. No, sir.

Q. 37. You don't mean to swear that Mr. Stewart could have taken out or changed the votes without your knowing it?—A. Mr. Stewart was not there.

Q. 38. I mean at the time of the election, when the ballot-box was opened during the p. m., at different times?—A. I don't understand the question.

Q. 39. You don't pretend to say that he could not have changed the votes without your knowledge?—A. I don't think that he could.

Q. 40. You mean to say that he could not have put any votes in or have taken any out there in the afternoon?—A. I don't see how he could have done it without our seeing him.

Q. 41. He discussed the question as to how many voted, didn't he? Didn't he want to see Mr. Horner's ticket before he voted?—A. I don't remember anything being said about that.

Q. 42. Do you say that he didn't?—A. I did not hear him say anything of that kind.

Q. 43. He may have said it and you not have heard him say it?—A. Well, I didn't hear him say it, and I sat next to him.

Q. 44. Do you not remember him discussing Mr. Horner's ticket, of telling him that he did not have the straight ticket?—A. No, sir.

Q. 45. You don't remember anything about that?—A. No, sir.

Brown appearing on the part of the contestant, and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. You may state, Mr. Johnson, your age?—A. Twenty-one years.

Q. 2. Your place of residence?—A. Marshalltown, Iowa.

Q. 3. What is your occupation?—A. My occupation is deputy auditor of Marshall County, State of Iowa.

Q. 4. Were you deputy auditor in November of 1882?—A. I was.

Q. 5. Did you know the trustees of Taylor Township, Tarshall County, State of Iowa?—A. Let me ask you a question; you mean those at the time or now?

Q. 6. I mean those at the time?—A. Yes sir, I do; also know them now.

Q. 7. Name them?—A. Mr. William H. Steward, Anda Fogg, Isaac Malmsbury.

Q. 8. State if you have been in the auditor's office at the time—state who the clerks of that township were in November, 1882?—A. The name of the township clerk was W. N. Santee.

Q. 9. Of the clerk of the election?—A. R. E. Strang.

Q. 10. State if you were present when the judges of Taylor Township brought in the returns of the election of 1882 of that township?—A. I could not say as to that; there was quite a crowd in there (in the office) for some time after the election, and the returns were coming in pretty rapidly; don't remember.

Q. 11. Were you in the office, Mr. Johnson, auditor's office, when these gentlemen you have mentioned, or a part of them, all except Mr. Stewart, were present when the returns came for Taylor Township?—A. No, sir; I was not there.

Q. 12. Do you remember an envelope being changed, you being present, Mr. French and some others?—A. No, sir; I don't know anything about it; I am sure that it did not occur.

Q. 13. Do you know the name of the party with whom this did occur in the back room?—A. No, sir; I didn't.

Q 14. Never heard anybody say?—A. No, sir; I don't remember.

Cross-examination:

Q. 15. Was there more than one poll-book returned from Taylor Township by the judges of the election?—A. I think not, I have not seen more than one to my knowledge.

Q. 16. You have not seen more than one poll returned from any of the precincts; only one from each?—A, Yes, sir; that is all.

Redirect cross-examination:

Q. 17. Did you not know when Taylor Township brought in the returns, and filed it with the auditor, then took the envelope and went into the back room?—A. Not to my own knowledge.

Q. 18. Were you not present at the time he gave them the envelope?—A. I might have been in the outer office; that has been used by the board of supervisors as their room.

Q. 19. Did you know of the trustees of Taylor Township going in with an envelope and taking the poll-book after they had brought it in there?—A. No, sir; I don't know to my own knowledge.

Q. 20. State what you did see; also, what you heard them say.—A. The same of the board that I saw in the outer office, when they came in they went into the outer room with Mr. French; that is all I know or remember about it.

Q. 21. Did you see the old envelope that they tore off their returns?—A. No, sir; I didn't; I don't remember of it.

Q. 22. Did you take ink or paper in there for them to fix these returns?—A. No, sir; I don't think I went in there at all; I am positive of that.

Each witness was by me duly sworn or caused to be sworn in my presence as provided by law, and when sworn the questions were propounded to him by the respective parties, Benj. T. Frederick, contestant, and James Wilson, contestee, by their respective att'ys, and the question by me read to the witnesses, who answered the same, and his answer by me in the language of the witness taken down under each question propounded and reduced to writing, till the deposition was completed.

I further certify that when the testimony of each witness was taken, I carefully read the same over to the witness, who corrected the same, and each correction noted, and said testimony was then signed by the witness, and sworn to by him before me.

I further certify that T. Brown & Carney appeared as counsel for the contestant, Benj. T. Frederick; and J. H. Bradley appeared as counsel for the contestee, James Wilson.

In witness whereof I have set my hand and seal notarially, this 4th day of May, 1883.

ELDON MORAN,
Notary Public for Johnson County, Iowa, and Commissioner agreed upon to take Testimony.

No. 3.

FREDERICK
v.
WILSON. } Testimony.

MARSHALLTOWN.

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

Deposition of witnesses produced before me, Eldon Moran, a notary public and commissioner ageed upon to take testimony, and duly sworn before J. H. Bradley, a notary public for Marshall County, on this 10th day of March, '83, in the town of Marshalltown, at office of Brown and Carney, in pursuance of the notice hereunto attached, in a proceeding pending before the House of Representatives of the United States of America, in a contested election for the office of Representative in Congress, in which proceeding Benj. T. Frederick is contestant and James Wilson contestee, Brown and Carney appearing for contestant, J. H. Bradley for contestee.

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

W. D. FORBISH, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, notary public for Marshall County, on this 10th day of March, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, J. H. Bradley on part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupatien?—A. W. D. Forbish; Marshall County, Iowa; occupation, grocer; age, 46.

Q. 2. State if you were not an officer at the Nov. election in Gilman, Green Castle Township, in which the electors voted for the office of Representative in Congress.—A. I was township clerk last election.

Q. 3. Do you hold that office now?—A. Yes, sir; I do.

Q. 4. State whether you have the ballot-box and the ballots cast at said election.—A. I believe I have.

Q. 5. State where the ballot-box has been kept since the election.—A. In my possession, as far as I know.

Q. 6. How has it been kept?—A. No one has had access to it, it has been sealed, and it is now just as it was after the time of the election.

Q. 7. Does it now contain the same ballots cast then?—A. Yes, sir; I think it does.

Q. 8. You may open the ballot-box in the presence of the commissioner and Mr. Archer and count the vote for Representative in Congress; tell how many each candidate received.

(Contestee objects to the question for the reason that it has not been shown that the ballots have not been changed.)

Q. 9. Has the ballot-box been kept as it now is, and how is the seal put on?—A. There is a piece of white paper pasted over the end with mucilage, also pasted over the ballot-hole; we have no key to the box; 146 for Wilson, 91 for Frederick.

Q. 10. Is your count to-day a correct one?—A. Yes, sir; I believe it is.

Q. 11. Who has assisted you in making the count?—A. I have made the count myself.

Q. 12. Did any one assist you in the matter?—A. Mr. Archer tallied.

Q. 13. What office did he hold at the election?—A. He was assistant clerk.

Cross-examination:

Q. 14. What kind of a seal was there on this ballot-box?—A. A piece of white paper on the end of the box with mucilage pasted over the lid; it did not have any lock.

Q. 15. Any mark on the paper?—A. Yes, sir; there was.

Q. 16. Who put it there?—A. I did, myself.

Q. 17. Have the ballots been counted since that time till now?—A. No, sir.

Q. 18. Were they ever strung?—A. No, sir.

Q. 19. I thought I saw a string mark?—A. No, sir; never strung at all. You may examine for yourself.

Q. 20. Where has the ballot-box been kept?—A. In our store in Gilman.

Q. 21. Has the ballot-box been locked?—A. No, sir; no more than I have spoken of, only sealed as I have described.

Q. 22. How about the store now, has it been kept on the shelf?—A. Well, sir, it has been standing on the top shelf; you may call it a place above the shelving.

O. B. BARROWS, being produced and sworn before me, J. H. Bradley, notary public, in and for Marhall County, on this 10th day of March, A. D. 1883, testifies as follows, being examined by me (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Were you one of the judges of the Nov. election, second ward, in the city of Marshalltown, in which the electors voted for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir; I was.

Q. 2. State whether you assisted in the record of the votes cast at the election.—A. I was present, looked over Mr. Binford's shoulder when he recounted, three or four days ago.

Q. 3. Did you assist to-day in the recounting of the ballots of either of the wards?—A. No, sir; I did not.

Q. 4. At that time how many ballots did you find cast for James Wilson for Representative in Congress?—A. 125.

Q. 5. How many did you find cast for B. F. Frederick for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. 158.

Q. 6. How many for David Platner?—A. 11.

Q. 7. How many blanks?—A. I think 15.

Q. 8. You may state how the tickets were counted on the night of the election in that ward.—A. I think Mr. W. H. Hunnyton took them, strung them out, and I read the names of each ballot through by twos single. I tossed them to another gentleman, who folded the votes together and strung them. He doubled the tickets one under another and strung them.

Q. 9. What kind of a light did you have?—A. A kerosene lamp; perhaps two of them; I don't know.

Q. 10. Were there a good many tickets found crossed for the office of Representative in Congress in that ward?—A. There were quite a number.

Q. 11. You say that some of the tickets were dimly scratched at the recount?—A. I think that there were, perhaps, some which were dimly scratched at the recount.

Q. 12. In the count of the election, considering that it was done in the night time, was there a liability of errors?—A. I should say so.

Q. 15. Are you satisfied that your last count was the correct one?—A. I am, sir.

Q. 16. From the examination of the ballots, as you said, then when the box was opened at your last count, do you think they are the same ballots cast at the election?—A. Yes, sir; I think they are the same ones, just as Mr. Howe strung them.

Q. 17. But they have not the appearance of having been altered or changed?—A. They had no appearance or indication of having been taken off the string. I noticed that as they were taken off the string there were one or two holes punched through each ticket, as there would be necessarily in punching the needle through in re-stringing them. They would have to be careful to fold them the same way and put the needle in the same place or there would be additional holes in them.

Q. 18. Did you identify any of the tickets you counted on the evening of the election?—A. I could not be positive as to that.

Q. 19. These tickets when they were folded and strung were folded squarely, were they?—A. You mean exactly square?

Q. 20. No, sir; not that night. They were folded two ways?—A. No, sir; just one way, only not lopped on the other, so the top and bottom ones would be near together.

Q. 21. Do you have any trouble in taking a long strip of paper, unfolding it and folding it the same way?—A. No, sir, no trouble.

Q. 22. Some of the tickets were dimly scratched?—A. Yes, sir, very dimly; some of them more dimly than others.

Q. 23. Can you tell from the appearance of these ballots to-day which ones were scratched before they were put in the ballot-box?—A. No, sir.

Q. 24. You can't pick out a single one?—A. No, sir, not to say positively, for they passed out of my hand, and I can't say anything about it.

Q. 25. I judge, then, you voted the straight ticket yourself; did you vote for Frederick?—A. Yes, sir, I voted for Frederick.

Q. 26. Do you know of any liability of committing an error?—A. No, sir.

Q. 27. You think that these are the same ballots?—A. I think they are, but don't know positive about it.

Q. 28. What is there about them now; anything about the printing that is peculiar?—A. No, sir; nothing peculiar about the printing.

Q. 29. Or about the writing?—A. No, sir.

Q. 30. Or the erasures?—A. Nothing that I see.

Q. 31. Or the folding?—A. Nothing, only that they looked as if they had been folded all together, that is all.

Q. 32. On the outside, you mean?—A. Yes, sir; general appearance.

Q. 33. The printing and writing are all on the inside?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 34. Then it is the outer appearance?—A. Yes, sir; but when he folded them together we read each ticket separately, and he folded each ticket just as it read.

Q. 35. If you would take 309 other pieces of paper and fold them up in that way, could you tell them from the outside which was which?—A. That is all true; I could not tell the difference.

Q. 36. Did you say there were any indications of their having been taken from the string and put back in the same hole?—A. No, sir; I say it was quite possible.

Q. 37. Any instrument can be put in a hole and put back a number of times, can it not?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 38. You can't tell from the looks of the instrument how many times it had been put into the hole?—A. No, sir; of course not.

Q. 39. Did you examine them so as to determine whether the string might not have been put in twice?—A. Yes, sir; but of course I could not say that it was not.

O. B. BARROWS.

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

ROBERT BINFORD, being produced and sworn before me, J. H. Bradley, a notary public in and for Marshall Co., on this 10th day of March, A. D. 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. H. Brown on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name?—A. Robert Binford.

Q. 1. Age?—A. 40 years old.
Q. 3. What is your place of residence?—A. I reside in Marshalltown, Iowa:
Q. 4. What is your occupation?—A. Clerk for McCormick Harvesting Co.
Q. 5. Were you one of the clerks of the election in the 3d ward precinct, in Marshalltown, at the Nov. election, '82?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 6. Is that the same ward that Mr. Burrows is in? Are you also township clerk of Marshalltown?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 7. I will ask you if you have the ballots in your possession that were cast in the 2d ward precinct, at the Nov. election, '82?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 8. And also the ballots cast in the 3d and 4th precincts?—A. I have the ballots as they were returned.
Q. 9. Where have the ballots been kept since they were returned and since they have been in your possession?—A. They have been kept in the box, at Mr. Pinkham's back office,
Q. 10. What condition has the box been kept in as to being closed and fastened?—A. It has never been fastened; it had what they call shoe-cartoon as a cover; no lock and fastening.
Q. 11. Where were the ballots kept; in the ballot-box?—A. No, sir; as I understand it has never had a ballot-box.
Q. 12. Who took the ballots out of the box?—A. Some of the ballots were returned without the box from some of the wards.
Q. 13. Well, I mean the 2d ward?—A. I think that they were returned by Mr. Barrows without the box.
Q. 14. Will you have it without or with the box?—A. I think it was without the box. I think that he left the box at the clerk's office. The books were the same books that were tallied from in the 2d ward; the tickets, poll-book, and affidavits were returned.
Q. 15. Are you certain about that?—A. My impression about that is that they were returned without the box; the clerk's office was on the road from where they voted to my office.
Q. 16. How were the ballots fastened?—A. They were strung on a string, simply.
Q. 17. Now, you may state if the votes on the string were tied.—A. Yes, sir; they were tied in all the wards..
Q. 18. As to 2d ward, how was it?—A. Yes, sir; the ends of the string were tied together.
Q. 25. Do you remember how you left them in the box?—A. I put them, all of the election returns of all the wards, into the box together, and marked on the bunch what wards they were returned from, and put them into the box and left them there.
Q. 26. When you opened how did they appear as to having been disturbed when you put them in the box?—A. I can't tell whether they had been disturbed or not, but I don't think they had been.
Q. 27. Was there anything lying on top of the box?—A. I think that there was, recently. There might have been, since the election, before now.
Q. 28. Who occupies this room in which they were kept?—A. Well, sir, that is what we call our back room from the office—the room the ballots were kept in. We used it for a kind of store-room to keep our coal in; also a great deal of printed matter which the company furnishes; also some other traps.
Q. 29. Who had access to that room besides yourself?—Ans. Mr. Chas. Berenick and J. W. Morgan, both of them office with us, and of course have access to the back-room office.
Q. 30. Do they have any property in that back office?—A. Mr. Berenic has a lounge in there and a couple of chairs.
Q. 31. Does Mr. Pinkham have access to it?—A. Yes, sir; it is his office.
Q. 32. Have you ever known that box being disturbed or changed since the election?—A. I have taken out the affidavits and run over them two or three times.
Q. 33. At whose request?—A. I think once or twice at B. W. Johnson's, and once at C. W. Stone's request.
Q. 34. Did any one handle the ballots, to your knowledge?—A. No; never to my knowledge.
Q. 35. When you put the ballots in the box, was there anything laid on top of the ballots?—A. The ballots, poll-book, register, and affidavits were just thrown in there; we put them all into the box together.
Q. 26. What laid on the top?—A. I can't say. I think that the ballots were put in at one end and the affidavits, and then the poll-book and the register were laid on top.
Q. 37. Did you find them that way when you looked at the poll-book and register?—A. Well, the last time we looked at them they were in that way.
Q. 38. You may state if you have the ballots of the 2d ward now in your possession.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 39. Will you produce them before the commissioner?—A. Yes, sir; I can produce them.

(Witness produces them before the commissioner.)

Q. 40. Are they tied in the manner they were tied when they were returned to you?—A. No, sir; they were strung when returned to me.

Q. 41. Who unstrung the ballots?—A. I unstrung them, two or three days ago.

Q. 42. In whose presence?—A. O. P. Barrows, G. W. Westlake, F. D. McGrewstone, and Mr. Pinkham.

Q. 43. Who handled them at that time?—A. I did myself.

Q. 44. Anybody else?—A. No, sir; not to my knowledge.

Q. 45. Anything changed that you might not have known about at that time?—A. No, sir; I think I should have known it.

Q. 46. You may now count the ballots for the 2d ward, and call to your assistance Mr. Norton and Mr. Barrows, and state how many votes were cast, as shown by the ballots, for the office of Representative in Congress, and how many for each of the candidates.

(The contestee objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, because the ballots had not been shown to be the same as when the canvass was made.

Witness canvasses the votes.)

A. 309 ballots were cast—158 for Frederick, 125 for Wilson, 11 for Platner, and 15 were blanks.

Q. 47. Has that count been carefully made?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 48. State what time of day it was when the judges canvassed the ballots at the election in that ward?—A. I can't say; I was not in that ward.

Q. 49. State if you have the poll-book of that ward in your possession?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 50. Please produce the poll-book of the 2d ward of Marshalltown precinct.—Ans. Here it is.

Q. 51. State how many votes that poll-book shows to have been cast at the Nov. election, 1882.—A. 308.

Q. 52. State how many votes were shown by that return to have been cast for James Wilson.—A. 126.

Q. 53. How many are shown by that poll-book to have been cast for Ben. Frederick?—A. 158.

Q. 54. How many for David Platner?—Ans. It don't show any.

Q. 55. That poll-book don't show any for Platner?—A. No, sir.

Q. 56. How many does it show were returned for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. 295.

Q. 57. Turn to the tally-list and state how many appear to have been cast for David Platner?—A. 11.

Q. 58. How many for Ben. T. Frederick?—A. 126.

Q. 59. How does the number of votes that appears to have been cast by the tally-list compare with the No. of votes found in the box?—A. The same as ballots found, 308.

Q. 60. You may state if you have the ballots in your possession in the third ward precinct.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 61. State when they were delivered to you.—A. I took possession of them immediately after the count on the evening of the 7th or early in the morning of the 8th of Nov.

Q. 62. State where you kept these ballots?—A. They were taken to Mr. Pinkham's office, where they have been kept ever since that time.

Q. 63. Where were they placed?—A. They were locked up in the office, and the next day put into the box I spoke of.

Q. 64. Have these ballots ever been disturbed to your knowledge since the election?—A. Only as we counted them over the other day, and the box has been open to get out the affidavits two or three times.

Q. 65. Who opened it?—A. I did.

Q. 66. Did you disturb any of the third ward ballots?—A. No more than was necessary to get out the affidavits.

Q. 67. Did you change any of them?—A. No, sir.

Q. 68. Do you believe these are the same ballots cast at the election in Nov.?—A. Yes, sir; I think they are.

Q. 69. Were they strung?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 70. How were they fastened?—A. They were strung, and the ends of the string tied together.

Q. 71. Did you find them in the same position as when you first examined them?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 72 Who, to your knowledge, has access to the box except yourself?—A. No one, to my knowledge.

Q. 73. Who is it that keeps the office that could have had an opportunity to have opened the box?—A. S. W. Pinkham, J. W. Morgan, Chas. Bennecke, all have keys to the office.

Q. 74. Has the office been locked against all other persons besides those you have named?—A. No, only during the time we have gone to the post-office and the court-house; we don't always lock the office.

Q. 75. Has some one been there while you have been out?—A. No, sir; not always.

Q. 76. How has the office been kept as to being locked?—A. Always been locked, so far as I have known; I was always the first one there in the morning.

Q. 77. You may call to your assistance the clerks and trustees, or any of them, of the 3rd ward. Were you clerk of the third ward election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 78. You may state if you have the poll-book of the 3rd ward in your possession?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 79. State how many ballots the poll-books show to have been cast at your election for the office of Representative in Congress as shown by the tally-sheets for each candidate?—A. The tally-list shows James Wilson 112, Frederick 260, David Platner 2.

Q. 80. Turn to the returns and read the totals?—A. For the office of Representative in Congress there were 374 ballots cast, of which James Wilson had 112, B. T. Frederick 260, David Planter 2.

Q. 81. I will ask you if at that election there were no mistakes as to the keeping of these talleys at the time of the election, that is, if the clerks at any time went ahead of one another?—A. I don't think they did; I don't remember.

Q. 82. Now, notice the ballots of the 3rd ward, Mr. O. P. Arnold and S. M. Norton, and count the ballots and state how many ballots were cast for the office of Representative in Congress, third ward, Marshall precinct, Marshall County, Iowa, and how many each candidate received.

(The contestee objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, because the ballots were not shown as being the same as when the canvass was made.)

A. There were 383 votes cast altogether; for James Wilson, 110; Ben. T. Frederick, 262; David Platner, 2; blank, 6; E. Shurtz, 2; O. Caswell, 1.

Q. 83. You may now present the poll-books of the third ward, and state how many votes are shown to have been cast in that election. Read the number of votes as shown by the record.—A. The poll-books show 383 votes cast.

Q. 84. How many cast for Wilson?—A. The tally list shows Wilson 112.

Q. 85. How many for B. T. Frederick?—A. 260. David Platner 2.

Q. 86. Now, turn to the certificate.—A. For Representative in Congress, 374 ballots cast, of which Jas. Wilson had 112 votes; B. T. Frederick, 260; David Planter, two.

Q. 87. Any retnrns for any of the others?—A. No, sir; no returns for any of the others.

Q. 88. You may state if at the time of the election there were no errors of the clerks that kept tally-list in that ward or any discrepancy between them?—A. I don't remember any discrepancy.

Q. 89. Were both clerks present all the time?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 89. What time of day was it when you counted the votes in that ward?—A. Well, it was after night, somewhere between 9 and one or two o'clock.

Q. 90. Were the votes counted more than once?—A. No, sir; they were only counted once; that is, by counting off each name.

Q. 91. What kind of light did you have?—A. We had one gas-burner.

Q. 92. State if some of these ballots were erased with lead pencil so that it would be difficult to see by the light at night.—A. Some are erased rather dim that might be overlooked at night.

Q. 93. Have these ballots ever been removed from the string?—A. Not but once, to my knowledge; that was three or four days ago.

Q. 94. Who removed them at that time?—A. I removed them.

Q. 95. Who was present?—A. O. B. Barrows, J. W. McGrew, and Mr. Stone and Pinkham part of the time.

Q. 96. State if any of the ballots were changed.—A. No, sir; not to my remembrance or knowledge.

Q. 97. Would you have been likely to have known if there had been any change?—A. Yes, sir; if there had been change at that time.

Q. 98. State if you remember if the ballots at the time were open that belonged in the third ward. Were they the same as when placed in the box after the election?—A. Yes, sir; apparently.

Q. 99. How were they folded and put into the box?—A. You mean on election day?

Q. 100. Yes, sir.—A. Generally doubled up in small enough compass to go into a little hole about an inch long and a quarter of an inch wide.

Q. 101. No; I mean how were they folded when they were strung, double or single?—A. They were strung double in that ward.

Q. 111. Did you find them so at the time you took the ballot-box and counted the second time?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 112. Does the number of ballots found in the box compare with the number shown in the poll-book at the original count of the election?—A. I remember of whole tickets found in the box at that time, I think, tallied with the tally list. There were three pieces of tickets strung on there for some cause, I don't know what.

Q. 113. Have any of these pieces been counted to-day for either Wilson or Frederick?—A. No, sir.

Q. 114. Have you the ballots of the first ward in your possession, in Marshall precinct, Marshall Co., Iowa?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 115. Where have these ballots been kept since the election?—A. They have been kept with the others, in the same manner that the ballots from the other wards were.

Q. 116. In the same position and circumstances and place?—A. Yes, sir; in exactly the same circumstances.

Q. 117. You may now call to your assistance any of the judges, trustees, or clerks of the first ward, and count the ballots that you find in that ward.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 118. Which one of the judges is present now?—A. Two of the judges—N. S. Nelson and S. B. Pinkham.

Q. 119. You may proceed to count the ballots cast for Representative in that ward, and state how many were cast for the office of Representative in Congress, as shown by the ballots in your possession, and how many for each candidate.

(Witness proceeds, with the aid of Messrs. Nelson and Pinkham.)

(Contestee objects to the question as incompetent and irrelevant, because the ballots were not shown to be the same as when the canvass was made.)

Q. 120. You have recounted the ballots, have you?—A. I find 250 ballots cast for Representative: B. T. Frederick, 164; Jas. Wilson, 76. I won't testify that Jas. Wilson has 76 or B. T. Frederick 164, for some of them did not get the vote. For Platner, 3; blanks, 10; E. Lee, one; and Delos Arnold, one. Did not want to have it put down that Jas. Wilson or B. T. Frederick had so many, because some of the ballots are marked Wilson and some Frederick, without the initials.

Q. 121. State how many ballots B. T. Frederick received for the office of Representative and how many ballots James Wilson received for the same office. That is, I mean from your count?—A. I have just got them now. Do you want it from the return?

Q. 122. Yes, sir. Look at the poll-book and see how many ballots cast at said election agree with tally-book in the precinct first ward in Marshalltown?—A. Tally-list shows 255 votes cast and tally-list shows Jas. Wilson, 84; B. T. Frederick, 163; David Plattner, 2.

Q. 123. Now then to the return made to the board of supervisors, Marshall Co., and state what the record shows as cast for the office of Representative in Congress, 5th district of Iowa, city of Mariette?—A. For the office of Representative in Congress, 5th dist., 249 ballots, of which Jas. Wilson has 84, and B. T. Frederick 163, and David Plattner two votes.

Q. 124. State how many votes you find there? You may state if there is a ballot there on which the name of Wilson is written; also state what is written on said ballot for the office of Representative in Congress?

(Witness examines the ballots.)

I find one ballot which says for Representative in Congress, 5th dist., B. T. Frederick, of Marshall Co., name printed and crossed out; also under it on the following list Wilson. The "I" is not written on account of not having room enough. The "I" is left out.

Q. 124. Please take out the ballot that has the name of Wilson on it and permit the commissioner to attach it to the evidence as an exhibit marked "F."

(Contestee objects to the introduction of the same ballot in evidence for the reason that the contestee may want to use it in the evidence.)

Q. 125. In your count to-day you saw this ticket counted, and for whom?—A. The ticket was counted for Wilson.

Q. 126. How was the name spelled there?—A. I should say W-l-s-o-n.

Q. 127. Is the n distinguishable?—A. About half of the n is written; the writing runs clear out to the end of the paper.

Q. 128. As it reads now there is one half of the n that appears to have never been on the ticket?—A. Yes, sir; a little over half of the n.

Q. 129. You may state whether there is a ticket that is apparently torn through Frederick's name. Was that ticket counted for Frederick?—A. No, sir; not this count, it wasn't.

Q. 131. You may also attach that ticket to your evidence as an exhibit, G, and make it a part of the answer. You see any pencil marks or erasures on that ticket other than it is torn across the name of Frederick?

A. Yes, sir; I think that I can.

Q. 132. Please examine it with the glass.

(Witness examines the ticket with the magnifying glass).

A It looks to me as if it were torn with a pencil.

Q. 133. Was that ticket counted for Frederick to-day in your count?—A. No, sir; it was counted as a blank.

Q. 134. Have you the ballot-box in your possession in the 4th ward?—A. No, sir.

Q. 135. Have you the ballots cast at the 4th ward in your possession?—A. I have.

Q. 136. How have those ballots been kept while in your possession, and when did you receive them?—Ans. I received them on the morning of the 8th, next morning after the election; in the ballot-box of the 4th ward; canvass was made; there were 383 votes cast, of which Frederick receives 271; Wilson, 96; Platner, 4; blanks, 12. I took them out of the ballot-box myself, and kept them just as I have kept the ballots when of the other wards.

Q. 137. To your knowledge, have any of the ballots been changed or disturbed or meddled with since the election?—A. No, sir; not to my knowledge.

Q. 138. Were they tied?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 139. Describe to the commissioner how they were strung?—A. They were strung open, just single, without being folded.

Q. 140. State how the string was fastened?—A. Just tied.

Q. 141. Have the ballots the same appearance as they had when you received them?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 142. Did you know who the judges of the election in the 4th ward were, also who the clerks were?—A. No, sir; only by the returns.

Q. 143. You may call to your assistance Mr. R. Eastbrook and W. H. Harrington, and count the tickets, and state how many votes, for Representative for the 5th district, 4th ward, in this city, and you may also state how many each candidate received.

(Objection, incompetent and irrelevant, because the ballots were not shown to be the same as when the canvass was made.)

A. There were 383 votes cast, of which Frederick receives 271; Wilson, 96; Platner, 4; blanks, 12.

Q. 144. Have you the poll-book of the 4th ward of the precinct of Marshalltown?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 145. Please present it and see how many votes on tally-list of the Nov. election, 1882, for Representative in Congress?—A. Tally-list shows Jas. Wilson, 98; B. T. Frederick, 270; David P. Platner, 4; Andy Abbott, 7.

Q. 146. Turn to the returns in that book and read them to the commissioner that he may copy the same?—A. The returns show for Representative in Congress, 5th Cong. dist. of Iowa, that there were 373 votes cast, of which James Wilson had 98; B. T. Frederick, 270; Andy Abbott, 7; David Platner, 4.

Q. 147. You may state if there is a ballot there which you have counted for Wilson in which the name is written Wilso for Congressman?

(Witness examines the ballots.)

A. I think that there is such a ballot here. For Representative in Congress, 5th Iowa dist., Marshall Co., Wisson Congress; that is the way it reads.

Q. 148. You may take that ballot from the files, pass it to the commissioner, and let him attach it as an exhibit to your answer to his interrogatory, marked Exhibit H. You may state if you counted that ballot for Wilson in your return.

A. We did in this count to-day count for Wilson.

Cross-examination:

Q. 149. How many ballots that you have counted to-day from the Second ward, ballots that you count blank, were scratched?—A. I don't know that I could tell without an examination.

Q. 150. In the Second ward are the ballots counted blank by you to-day, most of them or nearly all of them, scratched tickets?—A. Yes, sir; I think that they are.

Q. 151. Are there several of the ballots of that ward with Wilson's name erased and Frederick's written in pencil?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 152. Is that also true of the 3rd ward?—A. Yes, sir; to the erasure of Wilson and the writing of Frederick.

Q. 153. Is that also of the First ward?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 154. And of the 4th ward?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 155. Can you tell from the books of these tickets to-day where Wilson's name is erased and Frederick written in pencil when it was done?—A. No, sir.

Q. 156. Can you tell from the face of the ticket that erasures were not made since the canvass?—A. No, sir; I can't.

Q. 157. You were on the election board of the Third ward, were you?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 158. One of the clerks of the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 159. Who took the tickets out of the box—ballot-box—of that ward at the canvass on the night of the election?—A. I think that the judges took them out; I think that all the judges took some out.

Q. 160. Who were the judges?—A. Mr. O. P. Arnold, D. W. Hartwell, and B. S. Burrett.

Q. 161. Can you explain the manner in which the tickets were counted in the box at night after the election?—A. The tickets were all taken from the box and strung, and then they were sorted, first the straight tickets, so far as they were straight, and then we counted, I think, every bunch. They were passed from one to another and marked on the back; then afterward they were counted; then I think they were tallied down so far as a State ticket.

Q. 162. You mean from one to another of the judges?—A. After they were sorted out in bunches one of the judges or clerks would count the tickets, then the other clerk would recount the bunch to see whether they were right; then they would recount until they were satisfied as to the number of bunches; then the whole number of tickets, without any scratches on the State tickets, were tallied, and so on through the whole State ticket; then we finished the scratched ones; then sorted out the tickets for Representative; also for judge and attorney.

Q. 163. What evidence have you, aside from the taking of the ballots and counting them, that there was any error committed?—A. I haven't any evidence that I can think of just now.

Q. 164. When you say in the 4th ward the ballots have the same appearance as the ballots returned to you, as township clerk, do you mean individual ballots or a bunch of ballots?—A. I mean a bunch of ballots; I never examined them individually.

Q. 165. Did you examine the ballots when they were returned to you at all after the canvass, until two or three days ago?—A. No, sir; not any further than I examined them when they were returned; they were returned in bunches; I marked them on the back of each bunch what ward they were in; marked them just as they were returned.

Q. 166. You say there were four men that had keys to your office?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 167. How often has your office been left unlocked or open during the day when nobody was in?—A. I suppose almost every day from the election day until now.

Q. 168. For how long a time have you known it for any one time to have been so?—A. It was our custom, except when going to the post-office or going out for a few minutes, perhaps not more than half an hour, to lock the office; if we were to be gone for any length of time it was always locked.

Q. 169. When did Mr. Stone apply to you to see the poll-book—about what time?—A. I should say four or six weeks ago. The first time I have looked at the poll-books and affidavits for Mr. Stone.

Q. 170. Did he know where the poll-books were kept—in what room—at that time?—A. I could not say whether he did or not.

Q. 171. When he came in did he go to the back room and get them and bring them to the front room?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 172. Did he go to the back room with you?—A. No, sir; I went in, brought them out, examined them on the desk in the front room.

Q. 173. Did you bring in the box and all of them at that time?—A. I think at one time we did not and at another time we did.

Q. 174. He knew that these ballots were in an open paper box, without being locked?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 175. You think that was as much as four or six weeks ago?—A. Yes, sir; I think so.

Q. 176. Now Mr. Stone is at work for Mr. Frederick in looking up testimony?—A. It is so stated.

Q. 177. You say simply that you have never seen anybody change these ballots?—A. Yes, sir; that is what I say.

Q. 178. In the Third ward did you count the ballots to see if they corresponded to the number of votes on the night of the canvass?—A. I would not be positive; we counted them to compare with the tally-list, but they were counted in bunches before we commenced to tally.

Q. 179. How many votes, as shown by the tally-books, in all, were cast in the Second ward?—A. 308.

Q. 180. The number of ballots you find in the box to-day is 309?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 181. How many votes, as shown by the poll-book, have you in the 4th ward?—A. 380.

Q. 182. And the ballots you have counted to-day are 383?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 384. When were these ballots put in that room you have spoken of—the room in the office?—A. The next day after the election.

Q. 183. When did you first count them?—A. We first counted them on the 7th of this month—the 7th of March.

Q. 184. You say in your direct examination as to the third ward, that you would have known of a change if any had been made—you would have known it?—A. I don't know what that relates to; I don't know that I could answer as to mark or erasure on any ballot.

Q. 185. You don't mean to say that in your answer to that question on direct examination that you don't know that there was any mark or erasure on any ballots?—A. No, sir; I don't mean that in my answer.

Q. 186. I think you have testified that the ballots were all kept in one place?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 187. They have not been under lock and key, except being in the room when the room was locked, since the election?—A. No, sir.

Q. 188. Did you count the ballots of the third ward at the time of the election, 1882—the canvass?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 189. Do you believe that the ward returns were rightly made at that time?—A. Yes, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 190. You did not count the ballots yourself on the night of the election?—A. Yes, sir; I counted some of them. They were counted in bunches, not being sorted out; first, as to the straight tickets, State tickets, Greenback, Republican, &c., and then the scratched tickets that we counted in bunches, one clerk and a judge would count, and then pass them to another.

Q. 191. Did you look carefully to see whether any ticket was scratched?—A. Yes, sir; we tried to reckon carefully, and only one of us attended to the sorting.

Q. 192. Was there any liability to mistake or error, it being done in the night?—A. Yes, sir; of course there was a possibility.

Q. 193. It being night and the name not being very clearly erased, in looking over the tickets it would be very difficult to determine whether some were erased or not?—A. Yes, sir; some that were erased lightly might have been overlooked.

Q. 194. You are satisfied that your count to-day is correct?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 195. It is a much more careful examination than you made on the night of the election?—A. Yes, sir; I should say so.

Q. 196. Here you have looked for one office; there you have a good many to look out?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 197. You never knew of Mr. Stone being in there to disturb the ballots?—A. No, sir; not to my knowledge.

Q. 198. Mr. C. W. Stone is a Republican, is he not?—A. Yes, sir; I have always understood him to be a Republican.

Q. 199. What are the politics of these gentlemen that keep your office, Pinkham, Brennecke, &c.?—A. I think they are Republicans.

Q. 200. Was it possible for C. W. Stone to have changed these tickets from the time you were there with him without your having known it?—A. He did not do it when he looked them over with me, for we did not take the tickets out of the box.

Q. 201. At the time you counted them on that day was it possible for him or any one else to have changed the ticket without your having known it?—A. Yes, sir; it might have been possible, but not probable.

Q. 202. Who handled the tickets on that day?—A. I handled them.

Q. 203. Did any one besides you handle them?—A. I don't know that they did; I don't remember now that they did.

Q. 204. You may state if there were any tickets of the third ward that had Wilson's name erased and Frederick's name put in that you remember of when you canvassed the votes of the election?—A. I am satisfied that there were. I know that there were such ballots.

Q. 205. Did you attend the election you attended that day, and did you not know of men erasing Wilson's name in the third ward and voting the ticket with Frederick's name printed?—A. Yes, sir; I know of some such.

Q. 206. Do you know of tickets being voted where another name was put on for Congressman?—A. Yes, sir; with name printed on and scratched off, so that it was counted blank.

Recross-examination:

Q. 207. These last you have counted to-day as blank?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 208. Now, about the politics of Col. Stone; is he not for Frederick?—A. He told me that he was working in the interest of Frederick.

Q. 209. Is he a thorough Frederick man?—A. He never said that he voted for him.

Q. 210. Now, take the gentlemen who occupied your office; how did they vote; how about Mr. Pinkham?—A. I have always understood that Mr. Pinkham voted for Frederick.

Q. 211. Voted for Frederick?—A. Yes, sir; I understood that Mr. Pinkham supported Frederick; he said that he was a neighbor of his. Mr. Morgan said to-day that he didn't vote for any one for Representative. I scratched Wilson's name and voted blank as to Representative.

Q. 212. You state that there were tickets voted on the day of election that you say had Wilson's name scratched and Frederick's name substituted?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 213. You cannot tell how many?—A. No, sir.

Q. 214. You cannot tell whether all those that appear here so to-day were generally so that day?—A. No, sir.

(Paid as fee by contestant, 85 cents.)

ROBERT BINFORD.

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

C. M. NORTON, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, a notary public for Marshall County, on this 10th day of March, A. D. 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Were you one of the judges of the Nov. election, '82, in the second precinct, Marshall Township, in which the electors of said ward voted for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. I acted as clerk of the election in the ward at that time.

Q. 2. You may state if you have at any time since that time aided or assisted in the counting of the ballots cast at said election.—A. I assisted the township clerk to-day in counting the votes cast.

Q. 3. How many ballots did you find in the count to-day that were for the office of Representative in Congress for each candidate?—A. Well, my tally list shows that there were 125 votes for James Wilson, 158 for B. T. Frederick, 11 for Platner; 15 ballots on which no name for Representative in Congress appeared.

Q. 4. You may state, if you remember at the time the votes were counted on the evening of the 7th of Nov., '82, whether any of the ballots had the name of Wilson erased and the name of Frederick written in?—A. Well, I saw some ballots of that kind. I did not examine them or have them in my hands.

Q. 5. You may state how often the ballots were counted over in the count made on the part of the precinct canvass at that election?—A. I think they were counted twice; that is, before they were tallied one judge counted them and the next judge would take them and examine them to verify them and his count.

Q. 6. What kind of light did you have?—A. We had two lamps.

Q. 7. Was it done in the night?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 8. Was there liability of mistake in the count?—A. There is a possibility of a mistake being made.

Q. 8. Do you remember how the ballots were put into the ballot-box at the time?—A. Mr. Howe had charge of stringing the ballots, and doubled them over, stringing them. He made some remark about its being a good old Democratic way.

Q. 9. Have you assisted in any other count of any other wards to-day?—A. I kept list for the Third ward with Mr. Arnold.

Q. 10. How many ballots did you find in your tally-list in your count to-day, for the office of Representative in Congress, and how many for each candidate?—A. I can remember better by looking at the sheet. Third ward had 110 for Wilson and 262 for Frederick; two for Platner, besides two blanks.

Q. 11. Did you keep your tally correct to-day?—A. Yes, sir; I did as called.

Q. 12. Did you announce your tally each time that it was called to you?—A. Yes, sir; I did.

Cross-examination:

Q. 13. You can't tell how many ballots had Wilson's name errased and had Frederick's name written in at the election?—A. No, sir; I can't.

Q. 14. You can't tell how many of that kind were counted to-day?—A. No, sir; I did not examine them to-day. I think that some of the ballots had Wilson's name erased and Frederick's name written in.

Q. 15. That would not be witness that there were more at one time than at another of that character?—A. No, sir.

Q. 16. It would not satisfy you so, would it?—A. I do not know; it might have been so.

Q. 17. You say the ballots were counted twice before they were tallied?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 18. Was it the intention and purpose there to count correctly?—A. Yes, sir; it was.

Q. 19. You were careful to-day?—A. We endeavored to be.

Q. 20. You say there was a possibility of mistake?—A. Yes, sir; a possibility.

Q. 21. And so there is or was to-day, was not there?—A. Yes, sir; a possibility.

Q. 22. There were officers on the board, were there not?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 23. How many to-day have counted these ballots of this ward?—A. I don't remember of anybody else besides Mr. Binford, township clerk.

Q. 24. You didn't count them, did you?—A. No, sir; I merely tallied them.

Q. Then you acted as counter to-day; you mean you simply made the tally-list from the calling?—A. That is all.

Q. 25. You didn't count the ballots at all, then?—A. No, sir.

Q. 27. Now is there anything about these ballots, as folded or strung, that would satisfy you to a mathematical certainty that they are the same ballots with the same number of erasures and scratches?—A. It is possible that they may have been changed so far as that is concerned.

Q. 28. They could have been changed at the canvass?—A Yes, sir.

Q. 29. There is a possibility of their being changed between those two days?—A. Yes, sir; they might have been.

Q. 30. You kept tally correctly to-day?—A. Yes, sir; according to my judgment.

Q. 31. You did, according to your judgment, on the night of the canvass?—A. Yes, sir; I did.

Q. 32. You then believe that the canvass was right?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 33. You now believe that this canvass is right?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 34. And both may be true, may they not?—A. No, sir; hardly.

Q. 35. You understand me; you made the tally correctly on the night, as you believe?—A. I believe we did.

Q. 36. You made it correctly to-day, did you?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 37. You might have been correct both times. Could the ballots have been changed between the two?—A. Yes, sir; there might have been a change or mistake one way or another.

Q. 38. Nobody is infallible.—A. No, sir.

Q. 39. The three judges and two clerks were supposed to be under oath?—A. Yes, sir; we subscribed to the proper oath.

Q. 40. Were you under oath when you made the tally to-day?—A. Yes, sir; I was.

Q. 41. You were not testifying then?—A. No, sir.

Q. 42. Mr. Robt. Binford was testifying?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 43. Can you take any ballot here and tell whether an erasure was made before or since canvass?—A. No, sir.

Q. 44. Not a single one of them?—A. No, sir; not positively.

Q. 45. Unless it was your own?—A. Mine was a printed ticket.

Redirect:

Q. 46. To-day you have canvassed the vote as to one office, have you?—A. Yes, sir; that was all.

Q. 47. Is not there less liability to mistake when you canvass for one office only, than when you canvass for two of them?—A. Yes, sir; I think there is a chance of making a more correct count of only one particular office than canvassing for the whole of them?

Recross-examination:

Q. 48. Suppose it to be admitted that you counted rightly to-day does it necessarily follow in your opinion that these ballots have been changed?—A. Well——

Q. 49. Suppose it to be admitted that you counted rightly to-day, does it necessarily follow that these ballots have been changed?—A. No, sir; I don't think it would.

Q. 50. Did not you testify to the counting the other day at Binford's office?—A. No, sir; I did not.

C. M. NORTON.

Paid as fee of the contestee, 85 cts.

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

W. H. HARRINGTON, being produced and sworn before me, J. H. Bradley, a notary public in and for Marshall County, on this 10th day of March, A. D. 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. W. Bradley on the part of the contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, place of residence, and occupation?—A. I reside in 4th ward, city of Marshalltown; age, 34 years; my occupation is that of a farmer.

Q. 2. Were you one of the clerks of the election of the 4th ward, city of Marshalltown, November, 1882, in which electors voted for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. You may state what was done with the ballots after the election in your ward—I mean after the votes were canvassed.—A. After the votes were cast, and after the polls were closed, the ballots were taken out of the box, I think, wholly by Mr. Estbrook, as one of the judges of the election. He counted them out as he took them out. He counted them up in bunches of five, passed them across the table to C. C. Shaw, who was another one of the judges of the election; he counted them again, then called the names from the ticket, then passed them to Mr. Doolittle, who was one of the judges, who then strung them.

Q. 4. Did you return the ballots to Mr. Binford?—A. No, sir.

Q. 5. You were not clerk of the election?—A. Yes, sir; I was one of the clerks; but the ballots were not returned at that time to Mr. Binford. I think that they were taken to Mr. Frenche's office in the court-house.

Q. 6. Was the ballot-box locked?—A. Yes, sir; it was shut and locked, as I understood it. I did not do it myself, but it was done with that understanding.

Q. 7. Did you assist in canvassing and counting the ballots in 4th ward to-day?—A. Yes, sir; I did.

Q. 8. How many ballots did you find cast for the office of Representative in Congress at the October election, 1882, and how many for each candidate?—A. There were—well, some of these were declared not cast for any. The total number of votes cast, according to count to-day, was 383. Frederick received 271; Wilson, 96; Platner, 4; blanks, 12.

Q. 9. Did you examine the ballots as they were counted to-day?—A. Not particularly, except to count them.

Q. 10. Did you count them?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 11. Did you make correct count?—A. I think I did; I calculated to.

Q. 12. How many times did you count them over?—A. Twice.

Q. 13. Are you satisfied your count made to day is correct?—A. I am satisfied it is correct.

Q. 14. You may state what time in the day or night it was when counted or canvassed the ballots of the election.—Ans. The polls were closed at eight o'clock, and we commenced counting at once; we counted continually until we finished. My impression is now that it was pretty close to three o'clock in the morning when we got through.

Q. 15. What kind of light did you have?—A. I think we had three kerosene lamps all the time; later in the evening they brought another.

Q. 16. Do you remember at the election some of the ballots had the name of Wilson scratched off and that of Frederick written in?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 17. Were there a good many such tickets?—A. Well, sir, quite a good many; of course I could not tell just how many.

Q. 18. In view of the fact that there were many scratched tickets for the office of Representative in Congress, and the count was made in the night, was not there a liability to a mistake in that count?—A. Yes, sir; I should think there was; there is a chance for a mistake at all times.

Q. 19. In the canvass to-day you have only looked at the ballots as they were cast for one office?—A. That is all.

Q. 20. There has been no liability for a serious mistake in your count to-day?—A. I should say not; I think no man is infallible.

Q. 21. Who assisted in your count to-day?—A. Mr. Binford.

Q. 22. Was that count made rather hurriedly on the evening of the election, in view of the number of tickets you had to canvass and the number of scratched tickets?—A. Of course we worked as fast as we could; still there was plenty of time to have counted the votes; the worst trouble there was, was the lights.

Q. 23. The light was not good?—A. No, sir; it was not.

Q. 24. What do you say as to light being good?—A. It was poor, especially in the latter part of the evening.

Cross-examination:

Q. 25. Can you pick out any ballots out of this bunch you saw to-day and say that they were counted wrongly that night?—A. I cannot take out any and say that it was counted wrongly.

Q. 26. Are you sure you counted wrongly that night?—A. No, sir.

Q. 27. Are you sure you counted rightly to-day?—A. No, sir; I cannot swear positively; still I believe that they are counted right.

Q. 28. A man is liable to make a mistake?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 29. Often bank cashiers make mistakes?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 30. Sometimes bank presidents?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 31. And when you made this canvass you were endeavoring to count rightly: you did not intend to make any mistakes?—A. We did not intend to make any mistakes.

Q. 32. Did you count any ballots?—A. No, sir; not any ballots.

Q. 33. You simply made a tally?—A. Yes, sir; but I kept watch of the tickets as best I could.

Q. 34. You counted the ballots twice to-day?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 35. Did you separate them, the Frederick and the Wilson tickets?—A. I separated them once; no, sir; not the Frederick and Wilson tickets.

Q. 36. Robt. Binford separated them?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 37. You counted two different polls?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 38. When you counted these two different polls, did you look to see whether Frederick's or Wilson's name was on each one just to see how many pieces of paper there were in each poll?—A. Yes, sir; that is all; I tallied from his count; he read the names and I supposed they were correct.

Q. 39. Then what did you mean when you said there was no liability of serious mistake to-day?—A. I say in the count; I do not see how there could be an error when they were counted twice.

Q. 40. You did not know but what Wilson's name was on some of Frederick's votes to-day or vice versa?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 41. Then you say there might have been an error in that respect?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 42. Would not think it very serious if Mr. Esterbrook took out the ballots; he was the county auditor here last term?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 43. You endeavored to count rightly on the night of the canvass?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 44. And supposed that you had done so?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 45. You do not know now that you did so?—A. No, sir.

Q. 46. Do you find more ballots in the box than there were persons voting?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 47. That was correct?—A. Yes, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 48. Did you count there the evening of the election to see whether there were more ballots in the box than names on the ballot book?—A. I don't think the ballots were counted as a whole that evening; as I said, they were taken out of the ballot-box, five in a bunch, passed from one judge to another; he then counted or called the names, and they were tallied.

Q. 49. Then you did not count the ballots on the evening of the election to see whether the count was the same?—A No, sir.

Q. 50. Or to compare it with the number of votes cast?—A. No, sir; we did not.

W. H. HARRINGTON.

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

Deposition of witness produced and sworn before me, Eldon Moran, a notary public and commissioner, agreed upon to take testimony on this 10th day of March, A. D. 1883, in a proceeding pending before the House of Representatives of the United States of America in a contested election for the office of Representative in Congress, in which proceeding Benj. T. Frederick is contestant, and Jas. Wilson is contestee; Brown and Carney appearing as attorneys for B. T. Frederick, and J. H. Bradley appearing as attorney for Jas. Wilson, contestee.

R. E. EVERETT, of lawful age, being produced and sworn in due form of law, testifies as follows:

Q. 1. What is your name, age, residence, and occupation?—A. R. E. Everett; age, 24; occupation, broker; reside at Montour, Iowa.

Q. 2. State whether you now hold any official position or had in the year 1882?—A. I held the office of township clerk since January first, 1882.

Q. 3. Have you the ballot-box containing the ballots cast in the November election, 1882, for the office of Representative in Congress? How has the ballot-box been kept since that election, and where has it been kept?—A. It has been kept since about Jan.

second or third in my store, that is, since I received it, and previous to that time I think it has been kept in the bank building. The township clerk at that time was the cashier of the bank, so I think that he kept it in the bank building.

Q. 4. Now, as to its being kept locked?—A. It has been locked since I have had it.

Q. 5. Who has had the key?—A. I have had it.

Q. 6. Has anybody had access to that box since it has been in your possession?—A. No, sir.

Q. 8. Does it contain the same ballots it did contain at the time you received it?—A. It does, so far as I know, as I have not examined them from that time until last Monday.

Q. 9. Are there none of the officers of Indian Township here with you?—A. Yes, sir; A. B. Taplin is here with me.

Q. 10. You may, in connection with that gentleman, open the ballot-box in the presence of the commissioners, count the ballots, and see how many were cast in that township, for the office of Representative in Congress, fifth district, and also how many each candidate for that office received.

(Contestee objects to the question because the witness has only had possession of the ballot-box since Jan. 2nd, and it is not shown that they are the same ballots that were thrown at the election in Nov., 1882, and because the ballots are not shown to be the same ballots cast at the election; also because it is irrelevant.)

(Witness, assisted by Mr. A. B. Taplin, produces and makes the canvass of the votes cast at the Nov. election, 1882, Indian Village Township, Tama County, Iowa.)

Q. 11. Have you now counted the votes?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 12. Now state how many were cast for the office of Representative in Congress, 5th dist.?—A. At the time of that examination we had 108 for Frederick, 121 for Wilson, and 6 for David Platner.

Q. 13. You may state how carefully you have counted the votes this time.—A. To the best of my ability.

Q. 14. Have you counted them so that you are satisfied that there is no mistake in your count?—A. So far as I am concerned, I am satisfied that there is no mistake.

Q. 15. How many times did you count them over, or were they counted over in your presence?—A. I believe two different times.

Q. 16. State how they were counted, whether separately or by fives.—A. They were counted separately.

Q. 17. Who assisted in making the count?—A. Mr. A. B. Taplin.

Q. 18. Did any other person, after you got through counting, count them over?—A. Yes, sir; this gentleman here, Mr. J. H. Bradley.

Q. 19. State whether the count made by each of you was the same?—A. So far as 120 for Wilson is concerned they are the same; also the same for Platner.

Q. 20. How about that for Mr. Frederick?—A. There was one more counted by Mr. Bradley than by myself. I counted 107; Mr. Bradley made 108.

Q. 21. How did the other judge make the count?—A. The same; 107 was agreed upon for Mr. Frederick. I made it 107.

Q. 22. Did not you count them yourself and make them 108?—A. Yes, sir; I am satisfied that I made it 108. As to the count, it was 107.

Q. 23. I mean when you counted the ballots yourself, and made it 108?—A. No, sir; I made it 107.

Q. 24. That would require a recount, because there are 108 ballots there. Now state what you will have it.—A. Well, I would say just as I did at first.

Q. 25. Will you recount these ballots for Frederick and say how many there are there?

(Witness proceeds to make the count of Frederick's votes again.)

Q. 26. What is the result of your recount?—A. 108.

Q. 27. Are you satisfied that this count is correct?—A. So far as I am able to count, I judge it is correct.

Q. 28. There have been no ballots changed since that election to your knowledge?—A. No, sir.

Q. 29. Where do you keep the key to the box?—A. Well, it has been in the corner of the desk just above the ballots. The box also has been sitting on the desk, and the key I dropped into one corner of the desk.

Q. 30. Did anybody else have access to it?—A. If they had they had without my knowledge. I did not calculate that anybody should know anything about it.

Q. 31. Did any one else know anything about where that box and key was?—A. No, sir; I think not.

Q. 32. Have you the tally list of Indian Village Tonwship with you?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 33. Please produce the poll-book, and state how many votes were returned for James Wilson as shown by the poll-book at said election.—A. 132; that is the way it reads in writing.

Q. 34. How many are returned for B. T. Frederick?—A. 107.

Q. 35. Please read the certificate to the commissioner that he may copy the same.—

A. There were 235 ballots cast, of which Jas. Wilson had 132 votes and B. T. Frederick had 107.

Q. 36. For what office?—A. Also David Platner 6 votes; that is all that there is here.

Q. 37. For what office?—A. It says at the head for the office of Representative in Congress, fifth dist.

Q. 38. Turn to the tally-list of the book and say how many are shown by the tally-list.—A. 241.

Q. 39. How many cast for each candidate as shown by the tally-list?—A. 122 for Mr. Wilson.

Q. 40. How many for B. T. Frederick?—A. 107.

Q. 41. Is that a copy of the return sent to the board of supervisors of Tama County?—A. I suppose so; I was not clerk at that time.

Q. 42. Is that the poll-book in your possession as township clerk?—A. Yes, sir; this is the one turned over to me.

Cross-examination:

Q. 43. You obtained these papers and this ballot-box on the 2nd of Jan., you say?—A. Yes, sir; I think it was the 2nd or 3rd.

Q. 44. Who delivered them to you?—A. Mr. Stevens, a former clerk.

Q. 45. Did he bring them to you?—A. Yes, sir; he brought them to my store.

Q. 46. Whereabouts have you kept this ballot-box—in what kind of a room?—A. I have kept it in my dining-room, in the desk or book-case.

Q. 47. The dining-room of your house?--A. No, sir; in my store. Since last Monday it has been kept in my house.

Q. 48. I mean where when you first got it?—A. In the same place; in the dining-room in my store.

Q. 49. Have you a dining-room attached to your store?—A. Yes, sir; dining-room attached to my restaurant.

Q. 50. Public dining-room?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 51. It was kept in the secretary, and the key in the desk?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 52. I understood it was a steel key?

Q. 53. Is it anything more than a hundred others?—A. No, sir; of course not.

Q. 54. Like any other iron key, is it not?—A. No, sir; I think steel key.

Q. 55. Cast-steel key, no doubt; it came from France.—A. Yes, sir; cast-steel key.

Q. 56. Have you ever counted these ballots before to-day?—A. I have never counted them, but I simply took them out and ran them over, and Mr. Stone, I believe, then checked off the names.

Q. 57. Is that Col. Stone C. W. Stone?- A. He was from this place; I don't know his name.

Q. 58. Frederick's agent?—A. I think so. Since that I took them to my house.

Q. 59. What did you do with them then—call them over?—A. I did just as I did the first time; I said Wilson, and he checked it.

Q. 60. Did he handle any of the ballots?—A. No, sir; he did not touch them.

Q. 61. After that you took them to your house?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 62. Do you know that they have been changed since the canvass was made?—A. No, sir; I don't know.

Q. 63. Were you one of the clerks at the election last year?—A. No, sir; not in November.

Q. 64. You say there were 241 votes cast in that township in all?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 65. That is the number of voters?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 66. As by the list shown, that is the full number of votes cast you find in the ballot-box to-day?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 67. Two hundred and forty-three ballots; did you not say you found that number of ballots to-day?—A. I guess that is what it is.

Q. 68. You find 121 for Wilson?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 69. Did you say 108 for Frederick?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 70. 6 for Platner?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 71. Eight blanks?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 72. Now, in regard to this certificate, you say that it shows that there were 235 ballots cast for Congressmen, did you?—A. I took it for that.

Q. 73. Please give it once again, so that it will be no mistake about it.—A. 132.

Q. 74. Please read the whole of this certificate, beginning with this point, and let the commissioner copy it.—A. For the office of Representative in Congress, 5th dist., there were were 235 ballots cast, of which James Wilson had 132 votes, Ben. T. Frederick had 107 votes, and David Platner six votes.

Q. 75. You say you swear that you believe that that is 132?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 76. Is that 30 or 20?—A. I believe it is meant for 30.

Q. 77. Did not it read 122?—A. I am testifying as to what it was meant for.

Q. 78. Did you say it was 132?—A. I say that that is what I did say.

Q. 79. Did you say that is what it reads now?—A. I won't say what it was meant for

Q. 80. Well, do you say that that is thirty or twenty? Is there any "h" in it?—A. I don't think there is anything very plainly written.

Q. 81. Is there any "h" in that word?—A. Well, you cannot get anything more out of me than what I will testify to. I suppose the man who wrote it can tell you all about it—more about it.

Q. 82. Now, let me ask you for the second letter on the twenty—or thirty, as you call it. Is not the low letter like a "u" or a "w," and goes up about half way to the height of a "t"?—A. You mean a capital T?

Q. 83. No, sir; there are no capitals in it. You call it a thirty?—A. That is what I call it.

Q. 84. Did you say that that letter is not a low letter like a w or a u, going about half way to the height of a t? and is not that letter what you call t-h-i-r-t-y and what I call t-w-e-n-t-y?—A. I will tell you what is the letter now; the d and the t are combined; the d in the hundred, I suppose that is meant for twenty-two.

Does not it read 122?—Ans. Well, I will tell you. It did not read anything; it looks as though he meant it to be written in the h.

Q. 86. You say that it did not read anything; why did you read it 132?—A. Because the t and y are very plain.

Q. 87. Is there an hi there?—A. Just as much as there is a t.

Q. Is there any th there?—A. That is what I took it for.

Q. 89. I did not ask you what you took it for.—There is no use of us quarreling.

Q. 90. I want to ask you how the hundred is spelled?—A. It is spelled h-u-n-d--e-d-t-.

Q. 91. What is the next letter?—A. I don't know.

Q. 92. Is it an "h"?—A. It looks like a "th".

Q. 93. h and t?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 94. What next?—A. It looks like an i.

Q. 95. Is it dotted?—A. No, sir.

Ques. 96. Does the letter next to the t come up higher than the t or about half as high?—A. No, sir; about half a space higher than the t. I will spell it most any way you want to.

What is the next letter to the d in hundred? The one here, this d here, the d and t is what I call.—A. Capital T in the first place.

Q. 98. Is there any h there? You say there are three letters there. dth all together?—A. tth. I will tell you what is the matter. A man can make most anything out of it.

Q. 99. It seems that you are able to. Now begin with the hundred and spell the letters as you make them out.—A. What good will that do? I may make it out one thing one time and another time just something else.

Q. 100. Is it possible for you to do that?—A. It is possible that I have already done it. I have discovered so since I commenced looking at it.

Q. 101. Now take that to the light and tell us whether you think that was written and appears to be one hundred twenty-two or one hundred thirty-two?—A. I told you a few moments ago that I believe it has been written for a 122. That is what I believe it has been written for.

You don't believe it was intended for a 132?—A. No, sir.

Q. 103. That has always been your impression?—A Well, it has been since I have heard the opinion of others.

Q. 104. Then when you first said that you thought it was 30 or 20 what did you mean?—A. I mean that is the way I read it.

Q. 105. Now, how did you read it?—A. Well, if I were to read it as I read the writing, it would read much as I had it in the first place; but if I should read it as I believe it was meant, it would read one hundred thirty-two.

Q. 106. Is there any letter following the t in the twenty or thirty that goes up to more than half the height of t except the last t?—A. No, sir; there is not, unless it is the combined d in the hundred.

Q. 107. But is not the d before the t?—A. Yes, sir; in the hundred, of course.

Q. 108. You are calling the d in the hundred a t.—A. Since I sat down here I have discovered that the d ending the 100 is combined with the commencement of the twenty.

Q. 109. You call the d in the 100 a t?—A. Yes, sir; a capital T.

Q. 110. Then you read h-u-n-d-r-e-d; now, does not that read on its face 122 instead of 132?—A. What is it you want to make out of this now?

Q. 201. Does it not spell on its face 122 plainer than it reads 132?—A. If a man wanted to spell 22 it would spell it, and if a man wanted to spell just what it is it would not change my mind.

Q. 202. If you wanted to spell it 132 you would not change it?—A. I can spell it about as well one way as the other, if I wanted to. As I said before, I am a poor hand at reading writing.

Q. 203. Were you not led into the error simply by taking the d in the hundred as being a capital t, then the d as an h?—A. I was not led into it; that is the way to read it. I am a poor hand to read writing readily. Since I examined it more clearly and carefully, I am willing to consider that it is meant for a t; that is, for twenty.

Q. 204. When you see that it makes more votes than were cast you are satisfied that it was 20?—A. Yes, sir; I am.

Q. 205. You see no indication of a dotted i there?—A. No, sir; I see no indications of any dot. No, sir; there is none.

Q. 206. Was there any person beside you when these ballots were counted except Mr. Stone?—A. There were none in the room, I believe. I do not know but that there was some one in the front room.

Q. 207. Any one near you?—No, sir.

Q. 208. Who suggested to you that there was a mistake in the counting of these ballots?—A. There was not any one.

Q. 209. Who asked to have the ballots counted at first?—A. There was not any one asked to have them counted.

Q. 210. What did Stone want?—A. He wanted me to take the ballots out of the box and run them over. When I came to the name of Frederick or Wilson, to name them. They were not counted the day he checked them; I did not watch him check them; I know that he did not handle them, because he said he did not want to handle them.

Q. 211. He told you so, then?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 212. He was particular to tell you that, was he?—A. I told him that I did not know whether to take particular pains or not.

Q. 213. You were not a member of the board at the time of the election?—A. No, sir; but I went to the polls and voted and went away again.

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

C. W. STONE, being produced and sworn before me, J. H. Bradley, a notary public in and for Marshall County, on this 10th day of March, A. D. 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows: T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee:

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation.—A. Age, 41 years; re-idence, Marshalltown, Iowa; occupation, railroading.

Q. 2. You may state if you were present when the ballots have been counted in the different precincts of Marshall County and Tama County?—A. I have been in nearly all of them to see all of the clerks in this county, also in Tama County.

Q. 3. I will also ask you if at any time you have changed or altered any votes after the ballots have been counted, or handled any of the votes?—A. I have been particular to say to the clerk, or either of the parties who counted the votes, that they should handle them themselves, and I did not wish to touch them, so that if there was any mistake found they could come into court themselves and say that no one handled them but themselves.

Q. 4. Have you changed or altered any ballot?—A. I have not touched any ballot; have not changed or altered any. I think that the first township I went to I may have taken my pencil in indicating to the man what I wanted read. I never had the ballots in my hand.

Cross-examination:

Q. 5. What do you mean by slipping them down?—A. The ballots were strung on the string and I said to Carter to run them down and then the names would come prominently before me.

Q. 6. Did you do that with your pencil?—A. Yes, sir; I had my pencil in my hand.

Q. 7. You may have made a mark on the ballot without knowing it?—A. No, sir.

Q. 8. Why not?—A. Because I did not use that end of my pencil.

Q. 9. How do you know?—A. I would not have made one without knowing it.

Q. 10. You say you would not have made one without knowing it?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 11. How do you know that you have?—A. I know that I have not.

Q. 12. You know that you have not?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 13. How do you know it?—A. Because I did not touch them only with the but end of my pencil with rubber on it.

Q. 14. That occurred in Bangor, did it?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 15. Now, you may have brought your pencil across the name of James Wilson?—A. No, sir.

Q. 16. Did not you remember a ticket there with the pencil mark over a part of the name?—A. I don't know that I ever examined them; Mr. Carter counted them up; he sat on the other side and examined them.

Q. 17. You are employed by Mr. Frederick in this canvass?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 18. Employed by the day or month?—A. Yes, sir; by the day.

Q. 19. You have been at work pretty near ever since this county was canvassed?—A. I think 21 days for Frederick.

Q. 20. What township have you had the ballots counted in in Marshall County?—A. I think in every township in Marshall County, except Gilman and Liscomb—I have not been present at all of them; sometimes I would ask them to do it; they did it and reported afterwards.

Q. 21. How many townships have you seen the ballots counted at in this county?—A. I think of 22; in the county I have seen about 16 or 17, probably.

Q. 22. How many in Tama County?—A. 12 or 14.

Q. 23. You told the clerks in the first place you went to that they should not let you touch them or hold them, so that they could testify that no one had hold of them but them.—A. I do not think I told them just that way.

Q. 24. How then?—A. I told them I wanted them to count them and I would check them off; no one else was present; both of us compared the ballots, but they held the ballots themselves, so if there was any discrepancy they could say that nobody else touched them, especially towards the last, I said so in the first one or two townships.

C. W. STONE.

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

O. P. ARNOLD, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, notary public in and for Marshall County, on this 10th day of March, A. D. 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. State your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. Age, 37 years; occupation, furniture dealer.

Q. 2. Were you one of the judges of the election of either of the precincts in the city of Marshalltown at the Nov. election, 1882?—A. I was judge in the third ward.

Q. 3. You may state at what hour of the day or night the votes of that precinct were canvassed?—A. Between the hours of 8 and half-past 12 in the night.

Q. 4. What kind of light did you have in canvassing the votes?—A. Gas light.

Q. Who assisted in making the canvass?—A. G. W. Hartwell, B. L. Burrett, J. W. Morgan, Robt. Binford.

Q. 6. Have you since assisted in the canvass of the votes of that precinct for the office of Representative in Congress, or have you recounted the ballots?—A. I tallied at the recount here, Saturday.

Q. 7. Did the ballots have the same appearance as they had at the time of the election, the same general appearance?—A. Yes, sir; I think they had the same general appearance.

Q. 8. State how many votes you found cast in the last count for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. My tally-sheet shows 110 cast for Mr. Jas. Wilson, 262 for Mr. B. T. Frederick; I do not remember how many for Platner; I could not swear that they were all for Benj. T. Frederick, or all for James Wilson, or for either Wilson or Frederick.

Q. 9. You may state what discrepancy you find in the return made at the election in the last count and in the original count.—A. In the original count our certificate shows 262 for Frederick, 112 for Wilson; the tally shows 110 for Wilson and 262 for Frederick.

Q. 10. You may state what process you used in counting the ballots on the night of the Nov. election.—A. We straightened the ballots in the first place, and then counted in bunches of fives and tens; for instance, one judge would examine the ballots in a bunch, then count them and mark on the back the number of votes in the package, and then it would be passed to another judge, and then to another, and they would recount them.

Q. 11. Now, were the tickets read separately at the time of the recount, that is, the names of each counted separately there, or were the tickets looked over and supposed to be all right and straight tickets?—A. I don't know that I understand your explanation.

Q. 12. Was the name of each candidate read by the judges, or were they looked over in the bunches of 5 or 10 and marked on the back—you supposed to be straight tickets and counted in that way?—A. I do not know about the three judges; I examined all I counted.

Q. 13. Did you suppose them to be correct by looking at each one?—A. I examined them by looking them over, of course; I read the names; if not orally, I read them.

Q. 14. You may state if a good many of the ballots for the office of Representative in Congress were scratched ballots?—A. I should say they were; yes, sir.

Q. 15. Where the printed matter had been changed by pencil?—A. Yes, sir; I should say quite a good many.

Q. 16. Now you may say if some of them were erased without any name written.—A. Yes, sir; I should say that there were.

Q. 17. Now, might there have been an error in looking over the ballots, particularly where the name of the Representative was erased and written in—in the count at that time?—A. Yes, sir; there might have been; it would have been an easy matter to make an error of that kind.

Q. 18. How many persons were candidates for the different offices that were on each ticket, all the offices, I mean?—A. I should be afraid to make a guess; I cannot tell, but I should say from 35 to 30, probably.

Q. 19. When you examined the other day, you only counted over the names for one office, for Representative in Congress?—A. That is all that I tallied.

Q. 20. Would not such an examination be much more thorough than where you were examining for all the offices, and only went through once?—A. Well, I should think probably; less liability.

Q. 21. How many times did you go over the ballots?—A. At least three times.

Q. 22. Each of you; all of the judges?—A. Well, I can only swear for myself; I do not think that I went through a package more than once, unless some other judge disagreed with me in a count.

Q. 23. Were there some disagreements in the count at the election or canvass?—A. I cannot remember that there was.

Q. 24. Was that not true of each of the jndges, that they only went through those packages once?—I cannot swear to that, because I did not ask them how many times they counted them; they were all busy counting them.

Q. 25. Were there a good many persons around at that time?—A. No, sir; we had a stall of our own, and kept them away.

Q. 26. These names were called, that is, when you had the tickets from which you called the names of each candidate one after another through the tally-list, where there were straight tickets?—A. Yes, sir; through the list of each bunch.

Q. 27. Were they called off in so many each bunch, or was each name called singly, tally one, or tally five, or ten?—A. We tallied the same numbers as there were in the bunch.

Q. 28. Now, at the time of the canvass of the ballots, when you looked them over, did you take out each ticket separately and look it over carefully, or did you take the bunch and turn them over?—A. Well, I took them separately; we did that when we were stringing them; we would string them out, look them over carefully, and we would put them in these packages.

Q. 29. Was there not a liability, after the ticket was looked over, to make a mistake by accidentally laying it up with the wrong package?—A. It might possibly occur.

Q. 30. Did you canvass the votes for Representative in Congress separately from the others, or did you take out straight tickets for the State officers first, and canvass them in the different canvasses for the office of Representative?—A. My impression is that we canvassed the State tickets together; that is, straight tickets; then we canvassed the scratched tickets separately.

Q. 31. Then, if the name of Frederick or Wilson, on the ticket for Representative in Congress, had been erased and it was not very clear, it might pass through your hands by error?—A. I think that all the scratched tickets were all called off separately. They were assorted and counted out after we had run through straight tickets, and counted out separately.

Cross-examination:

Q. 32. How good was your light?—A. We had a very good bright light.

Q. 33. Was there any trouble in seeing; did anybody make any complaint?—A. Not from me, nor did I hear anybody make any complaint.

Q. 34. Who took the tickets out of the box?—A. We all three judges strung the tickets.

Q. 35. Did you mean to say that each of the tickets passed through the hands of each of the judges?—A. Yes, sir; I think so.

Q. 36. Now, when there were scratched tickets, as for Representative in Congress, would not your attention be called very particularly to the correctness of the count for that reason than for other candidates, and was not your attention called more particularly to them than to the other candidates because of the scratches?—A. My impression is that that particular night we counted the scratched tickets, and counted them separately, because there were other names scratched on the State ticket as well as for the office of Representative.

Q. 37. You laid the straight tickets in bunches?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 38. Then counted scratched tickets separately?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 39. Now, when you counted scratched tickets would you not be very likely to examine with correctness the scratched ballot for the name of the ticket that was not scratched?—A. Yes, sir; I presume we would, because we did not examine the straight tickets very closely; we bunched them.

Q. 40. Then the great care to be observed was in scratched tickets?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 41. You say the general appearance of the tickets was as canvassed; can you tell anything about these ballots by your observations Saturday; can you identify them?—A. I mean their general appearance was the same as the names of the candidates presented who ran for that office at the general election.

Q. 42. Could you take the ballots from each of these wards and tell by its general appearance in which ward it was cast?—A. No, sir; I think not.

Q. 43. Then the appearance of the tickets would not be any indication that they were the same tickets that you cast?—A. No, sir; I think not.

Q. 44. In making the count here on Friday, you did not count the ballots then, did you?—A. No, sir.

Q. 45. You simply kept tally as Mr. Bunford called them off?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 46. You did not assist in the calling off yourself?—A. No, sir.

Q. 47. Now, is there not greater probability of one man counting the tickets and one man keeping tally, than in three counting tickets and two tallying, as in the case of the canvass; would there not be greater probability of mistake in counting them here Saturday than at the canvass, considering the manner in which they were counted?—A. I think not; I can't say; well, there would be a probability of mistake every time.

Q. 48. Well, at this canvass on Saturday there was but one man that counted the tickets and called them off, and those that kept the tally-list did not count off at all?—A. No, sir.

Q. 49. On the night of the canvass these tickets passed through the hands of the judges, of each judge?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 50. Then there is just a probability that both these men are right?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 51. You supposed when you made the canvass that they were both right?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 52. Your supposition now is that that was right?—A. Well, I believe it was rightly made.

Redirect:

Q. 52. There were a great many tickets, straight Republican tickets, with Mr. Frederick's name on for Representative?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 55. There was a liability, then, in counting those straight tickets on that count?—A. Yes, sir; I think there was a liability of error any time in counting tickets.

Q. 56. In this count, Saturday, did not the attorney for contestee look over all the tickets himself, and afterwards count them; both attorneys for contestant and contestee?—A. I do not think I saw anybody count them but Mr. Binford.

Q. 57. Were there parties standing around and watching the count in the presence of the commissioners?—A. Yes, sir; I should say there were.

Q. 58. How many persons assisted you in tallying?—A. But one.

Q. 59. Were the tallies made separately or in bunches?—A. Made separately.

Q. 60. Did one of the clerks call tally after each count?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 61. Was that done by daylight?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 62. From the manner in which the tally was made on Saturday, would you consider that there was any reasonable probability of error?—A. Well, there would be a possibility. If I should set down and count myself, I could not swear that it was correct, but that it was correct as near as or as far as I know, with the possibility of any man making an error.

Q. 63. Saturday was a dark day, was it not, Mr. Arnold; a dark, cloudy day?—A. It was not as bright as it is this morning.

Q. 64. These tickets were counted under Mr. Brown's skylight?—A. Yes, sir; and that is the first time I ever noticed the skylight.

Q. 65. You did not observe that there was any light but side light on Sat.?—A. No, sir.

Q. 66. Were these ballots counted over more than once on Sat.?—A. I could not swear.

Q. 67. Did you keep tally more than once on Sat.?—A. No, sir.

O. P. ARNOLD.

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

C. B. PINKHAM, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, a notary public in and for Marshall Co., on this 12th day of March, 1882, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. C. B. Pinkham; age, 58 years; residence, Marshalltown, Iowa; general agent McCormick Harvest-machine Co.

Q. 2. Were you one of the officers of the Nov. election the first ward in the city of Marshalltown, 1882?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. You may state what office you held at that election?—A. I was one of the township trustees and acted as one of the judges of the election.

Q. 4. Do you know where the ballots of the Nov. election in 1882 have been kept since that election?—A. Yes, sir; I think I do.

Q. 5. Whereabouts?—A. In the back room over my office.

Q. 6. Have you ever known these ballots to have been disturbed or molested since that election?—A. No, sir.

Q. 7. Have you ever changed or altered any of the ballots?—A. No, sir.

Q. 8. Who occupied the office with you?—A. Mr. Bennecke, Mr. J. W. Worym, have had keys to the room, Mr, Brennecke all of the time, Mr. Worym for the last few weeks.

Q. 9. State whether the office was usually kept locked except when somebody was there?—A. No, sir; we often go in and out without locking the door that is in the main room.

Q. 10. How about the room joining it?—A. Well, since the election the door between the two rooms has been kept shut.

Q. 11. Then the room in which these ballots were kept was not used all the time?—A. No, sir; only as a store room.

Q. 12. Only used occasionally?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 14. You may state if you assisted in a recount of the ballots at any time since the election in Nov. and in what manner.—A. Last Friday I believe I did, I assisted on the second count as to Mr. Wilson and Frederick; I counted them myself after the count was made by township clerk, Binford the second time.

What was the result of that count?—A. I have no figures; my recollection is out of the way a little; I think 77 for Wilson and 164 for Frederick.

Q. 15. What was the original return at the election?—A. 84 for Wilson and 163 for Frederick.

Q. 16. You may state if there were a good many tickets scratched for the office of Representative in Congress.—A. Yes, sir; quite a number, and some without any name at all.

Q. 17. Was the name of Mr. Wilson sometimes on both Democratic and Republican tickets?—A. I do not remember any tickets with the name of Wilson on.

Q. 18. Any with the name of Frederick on?—A. Yes, sir; quite a number, both Democratic and Republican tickets.

Q. 19. I mean any printed?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 20. Were there a good many scratched or changed?—A. Yes, sir; quite a number with Frederick's name on. I think a few of Mr. Wilson's tickets were changed.

Q 21. How was the count made; at what time of the day; what kind of light did you have at the canvass in the Nov. election, 1882?—A. We closed the polls at 8 o'clock; probably we got through counting not far from 1 o'clock.

Q. 22. What kind of light?—A. We had gas light; fair light, but not as strong as it might have been.

Q. 23. How does the general appearance of the ballots when you first saw them since the Nov. election compare with general appearance at the time they were placed in the box at the time of the election?—A. They appeared to me like the same ballots; they are the same in bunches. Yes, sir; I did. Some we had to look for them where it was printed in.

Q. 24. Were the votes counted more than once in the night of the election; that is, did all of the judges go over the votes more than once?—A. No, sir; I do not think they did.

Q. 25. I will ask you if you, after you had gone over and selected out the votes for each of the other judges, go over Frederick's separately?—A. No, sir; just passed from my hands to Mr. East.

Cross-examination:

Q. 26. You took the tickets as Mr. Pinkham took them out of the box.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 27. You examined them to see if they were straight or scratched?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 28. Examined each name on each ticket?—A. Each ticket; then bunched them.

Q. 29. After you passed them to Mr. East, then he called off the names?—A. Yes, sir; so many for each candidate. I think Mr. Arnold was; Mr. Frederick was watching the first count.

Q. 30. Were the attorneys of the representative parties present?—A. Yes, sir; in the room.

Q. 31. Well, they assisted in watching the count, didn't they?—A. I cannot say.

Cross-examination:

Q. 32. This room where the ballots have been kept was the back room of your office, was it not; an office or lumber room?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 33. These ballots were not kept in the ballot-box?—A. No, sir.

Q. 34. In a paper box?—A. Yes, sir. There was a lid to it.

Q. 35. Where were they; in one corner of the room?—A. No, sir; they were on the center of the table most of the time. That is the best of my recollection.

Q. 35. Was the table in the center of the room, or on one side?—A. At one side, against the wall, with a lot of advertising on the same table.

Q. 36. Did you use it very much?—A. No, sir.

Q. 37. Seldom go there except for paper or advertising?—A. Yes, sir; that and fuel.

Q. 38. About how often did you get that?—A. Up to within a few days we had not been taking any out.

Q. 39. These ballots have been there a little over four months, from Nov. to March?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 40. You say there is a door without from the hall into your room?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 41. Keep it locked all the time?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 42. Sometimes the front door is not kept locked; you sometimes go out with it unlocked?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 43. You usually keep it locked?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 44. Did you take the ballot the night of the canvass out of the ballot-box and count out the straight tickets yourself?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 45. Then you passed them to Mr. Nelson, another judge; he examined them, passed them to Mr. East; he agreed, and called them off?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 46. Then they went through the hands of the three judges?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 47. Your purpose was, and that was your belief, was it not, that you then made an honest count?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 47. There were a good many scratched last Friday; you made a different count on the Saturday here?—A. I said there was one more for Frederick and one less for Wilson.

Q. 48. Now, if none of the ballots have been changed, but are precisely as when you put them in the ballot-box, you must have made 12 mistakes on the night of the canvass, did you not?—A. Yes, sir; I presume that is the number; it looked like ten more for Frederick and 2 less for Mr. Wilson, as to our tally.

Q. 49. Can you not tell anything about these ballots from the general appearance as to their identity?—A. Some of them I could recognize not at all.

Q. 50. But cannot you take any one ballot, unless the one you voted yourself, and state whether an erasure was made in the canvass?—A. No, sir.

Q. 51. The judges of the election were all favorable to the election of Frederick?—A. I do not know about Mr. East; I think Mr. Nelson and myself both voted for Mr. Frederick; I did, and he being a Democrat, I suppose he did.

Q. 52. There was no disposition to cheat Frederick out of the election?—A. We gave him the votes he had, of course.

Q. 53. As to liability of mistake of this kind, was there a liability here Saturday?—A. Yes, sir; there is always a liability of mistake of this kind, I suppose.

Redirect:

Q. 54. This room is an upper room?—A. Yes, sir; an upstairs room.

Q. 55 No access to it from the outside?—A. No, sir; only through that door.

STATE OF IOWA.
Marshall County, ss:

N. C. Nelson being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, notary public for Marshall County, on this 2d day of March, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. N. C. Nelson; age, 34 years; residence, Marshalltown, Iowa; occupation, ice dealer.

Q. 2. You may state if you were one of the judges on the November election, 1882, when the electors of Marshalltown voted for the office of Representative in Congress.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. In what ward or precinct?—A. First ward.

Q. 4. You may state how that canvass was made; at what time of day immediately after the election?—A. We canvassed the votes; closed the polls at 8 o'clock; between 8 and 9 o'clock we counted them, that is as near as my recollection goes.

Q. 5. That was the night and morning after the evening of the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 6. You may state if you have since assisted in the recanvass of the votes of that precinct?—A. I sorted the ballots; Mr. Pinkham strung them up; I sorted them in lots mostly in fives.

Q. 7. That was the night of the election?—A. Yes, sir; in bunches of about five, as near as we could get them, first Democratic in one pile, then Republican in another.

Q. 8. Were they counted on the night of the election in fives?—A. Yes, sir; when we could count them straight.

Q. 9. They were counted that way were they?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 10. I will ask if you have made an account since the election, of the ballots cast at the November election?—A. Only made a tally here the other day.

Q. 11. Did you assist in making the count?—A. Myself and Mr. Binford assisted in the count.

Q. 12. You may state if you found any discrepancy in the tally made on the night of the election?—A. I found, I think, one or two more votes for Frederick, and I think eight less for Wilson.

Q. 13. Were there any parties looking over and examining and watching the count as it was made on Saturday by the township clerk?—A. I think so; I don't remember exactly who watched; a few stayed around, I suppose the attorneys.

Q. 14. Attorneys for both parties?—A. For both parties were in the room.

Q. 15. Was there a liability of mistake in the manner in which the vote was counted on the night of the election?—A. Well, of course, I suppose there might have been a mistake or liability.

Q. 16. You said there might have been a mistake?—A. Yes, sir; there might have been.

Q. 17. At the time the votes were counted, for instance, laid out by you or the other judges, examined each name carefully, he just called off in piles and examined them in piles?—A. He checked them in piles after I had strung them in piles.

Q. 18. Was there a liability of votes being miscalled or of laying ballots on the wrong pile in the count?—A. There might have been possibly.

Q. 19. You may state who called the votes.—A. Mr. East called them.

Q. 20. Was he a Democrat or Republican?—A. Supposed to be a Republican.

Q. 21. You may state if there were a good many Republican tickets with Frederick's name printed on them.—A. Yes, sir; some.

Q. 22. Were there a good many that had Wilson's name erased and Frederick's name written in?—A. I remember something to that effect.

Q. 23. Were there some tickets that had the name of both candidates erased?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 24. In the manner in which the tickets were voted on account of interlineations on account of the fact that Frederick's name was printed, does that create a greater difficulty in counting them; was there a liability of mistake considering the manner of the count at that election?—A. Yes, sir; some I guess.

Q. 25. Were you present when they were counted Saturday, here in the presence of the commissioner?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 26. How did the count on Saturday compare with the count you made on the Friday before that?—A. Well, we tallied one vote more as to Mr. Frederick, and one vote less as to Mr. Wilson.

Q. 27. What was the result of the count made Saturday?—A. Well, I think it was 76; my recollection is 165 by the tally list for Mr. Frederick. We did not agree with the township clerk in the count when he counted them after the tally.

Q. 28. Who assisted in counting the ballots afterwards?—A. Nobody but the township clerk; Mr. Binford done the counting.

Q. 29. Who was present and looked over and watched the count?—A. I don't know who was; two men.

Q. 30. When Pinkham took them out of the box after he had selected five straight tickets and handed them to you?—A. Yes, sir; in bunches, straight tickets in a bunch, to me.

Q. 31. He had laid them out in bunches, straight tickets in a bunch?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 32. You selected them in fives?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 33. Mr. East called them off in fives?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 34. Now, they were called off by Mr. East just after you selected them, were they not?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 35. That is, you did not select a bunch of 5's and lay them down in one place?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 36. He took them right from your hands?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 37. Your light was very fair?—A. No, sir; it was only a gas burner.

Q. 38. Gas burner?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 39. You had greater difficulty in counting because the names were scratched?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 40. Your attention was called more particularly to the scratches?—A. Yes, sir; of course that would be true.

Q. 41. You made the canvass on the night of the election carefully, didn't you?—A. Yes, sir; I suppose we did.

Q. 42. You believe that they were right?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 43. Now, that ballot-box had never been opened nor the ballots had never been left lying around 4 months from the time you counted them originally until the last time?—A. I don't know about that.

Q. 44. They had never been left lying around when you counted them first?—A. No, sir.

Q. 45. Each of the judges counted the ballots on the night of the election?—A. Of course, they went through our hands.

Q. 46. Well, he had to read the names from the tickets?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 47. The scratched tickets were counted separately.—A. Yes, sir. I think that we counted the same number of scratched tickets, Representatives scratched and straight, otherwise we took so many of them.

Q. 48. Then you make the straight tickets 65 Republican with Wilson's name erased and Frederick's name substituted?—A. Yes, sir; that would be straight in that case. We had to look out to see whether they were scratched in order to make them straight.

Q. 49. Then you made the arrangement or selection of tickets in bunches of 5's to count them?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 50. Did you detect any mistake by Mr. East in calling off the list; did you find you made any mistake in bunching them?—A. There was one time we came near making a mistake; a mistake not easily corrected, in which I supposed it was all right.

Q. 51. Do you recollect how you were corrected in it?—A. No, sir; I don't remember that.

Q. 52. Was any standing about examining at the time of the canvass?—A. Yes, sir; there were a few around all evening.

Q. 53. Merely around there, I understand, anxious to know the result?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 54. They were there of both parties, were they not?—A. Yes, sir; I suppose so.

Q. 55. Wasn't Mr. East favorable to Mr. Frederick; didn't you understand he voted for Frederick?—A. I don't know; I saw him vote the Republican ticket; I don't know whether Frederick's name was on there or not; I didn't understand about that.

Q. 56. You voted for Mr. Frederick, didn't you?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 57. On Saturday, on the corrected tally list here, you didn't count the tickets; they were counted by Robert Binford?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 58. You kept tally?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 59. Wasn't he only one who did the counting Saturday? Did you see anybody else take the tickets and count them in that ward?—A. That I don't know; he was the only one that counted these tickets; I talked.

Q. 60. Did you make more than one tally in that ward Saturday?—A. No, sir.

Q. 61. Did you believe at that time that your canvass made that night was right?—A. Of course; I believed at that time it was right as near as I could get it.

Q. 62. Don't you believe now that a liability of mistake after these ballots have been left in an open box in an open room, unlocked part of the time, for 4 months with better evidence of the true count on the night of the election than on Saturday?—A. That I could not say.

Q. 63. You cannot say anything from the appearance of these tickets, whether they have been changed in the 4 months?—A. Only one or two that I recognized; they look like the tickets.

Q. 64. Do you think that it is probable you made 10 or 12 mistakes in counting these few tickets on the night of the canvass?—A. No, sir; I did not.

Q. 65. Do you think from the manner you counted that it was probably made?—A. No, sir; not unless it should be in some of these tickets that were scratched so dimly that they might not have been seen; we might have made a mistake in that way.

Q. 66. You were looking particularly for scratched tickets that night?—A. Yes, sir; certainly.

Q. 67. Your eyes are pretty good are they not?—A. Not so very good in the evening; good in the daytime.

Q. 68. Only 34 years old.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 69. Never had occasion to wear glasses?—A. No, sir.

Q. 70. You have always been in pretty vigorous health?—A. Yes, sir.

N. C. NELSON.

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

F. B. MCGREW, being produced and sworn before me, J. H. Bradley, a notary public in and for Marshall County, on this 12th day of March, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. H. Bradley appearing on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. Age, 51;

I reside in Marshalltown, Iowa. I do not know whether I have any occupation or not; farming has been my business.

Q. 2. What ward do you reside in?—A. 4th ward.

Q. 3. Were you one of the judges at the Nov. election in 1882 in which the electors in that ward voted for Representative in Congress?—A. No, sir.

Q. 4. You may state if you have since assisted in the canvass of the ballots in the 4th ward since the election.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. When was that?—A. I think that was last Thursday or Friday. I forget the day.

Q. 6. You were present at the canvass?—A. Mr. Binford, Mr. Burrows, Westlake, Denham, and myself.

Q. 7. You may state if you found any errors in the canvass from the count as you made it at the Nov. election.—A. We found it a little difference in the ballots. That is, we found more ballots than what we found we had on our list at the election; three more, I believe.

Q. 8. Did you say there were 3 more ballots than you counted at the election—I mean more than you enrolled?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 9. What difference did you make in the reconnt of the ballots for the office of Representative?—A. The recount gave Wilson two less, Frederick one more.

Q. 10. Were the ballots tied up?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 11. Were they in the same manner as at the time of the election?—A. Yes, sir; very nearly the same.

Q. 12. Did you know there were any more ballots than were counted on the night of the election?—A. No, sir.

Q. 13. Any more ballots?—A. No, sir; I think not.

Q. 14. The same number that other night?—A. Yes, sir; I think so; I am very positive, just about the same number of ballots we counted.

Q. 15. Then you do not pretend to say, because there were three more ballots than names on the poll-book, that there has been any change in the ballots since the election?—A. I do not know of any change.

Q. 16. You find the same number of ballots that there were found in the canvass of the election?—Yes, sir; that the tally-list shows were tallied at the election.

Q. 17. You saw the tally made on the night of the election; describe the manner, also, at what hours of the day or night?—A. We commenced counting soon after eight o'clock, and counted until about two, probably a little after; Mr. Eastbrook took the tickets from the box, examined the names down to member of Congress, counted down that far, and put up the bunches of fives; he passed them to Mr. Shaw, who took each ticket separately, read them, and passed to Mr. Dolittle, and he strung them.

Q. 18. How were the members of Congress counted?—A. In bunches of 5vs. where they would run down straight; we counted straight tickets.

Q. 19. How were the split tickets counted?—A. Some of them would wait until we got 5 split tickets of the same kind; counted them that way, and took one at a time when scratched up badly; when 5 were scratched alike we would count them that way.

Q. 20. Were they counted more than once?—A. Mr. Eastbrook and Shaw counted them.

Q. 21. You did not count any?—A. No, sir.

Q. 22. You simply tallied as they directed you to?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 23. Was there any discrepancy?—A. Yes, sir, a little discrepancy at one time; it was righted at the time, and proved in the count to come out just right.

Q. 24. What kind of a lamp did you have?—A. I think we had three kerosene lamps.

Q. 25. From the fact that it was done in the night, and that you passed over only once on the number of names on the ticket, was not there quite a liability of mistake?—A. Yes, sir; but I will say that the judges were careful and worked very slowly.

Q. 26. There were some 25 or 30 names on the ticket?—A. I never counted; they were long ones.

Q. 27. What is your judgment as to the number?—A. Well, I don't think 25 names on the ticket; I forgot how many; from 15 to 20.

Q. 28. Where there are so many tickets and so many scratched, there is greater liability of error in the count than where you are counting carefully for one and only one office?—A. Yes, sir; of course that is natural.

Q. 29. What did you do with the ballots after the election?—A. My impression is that Mr. Eastbrook put them in the box, locked it, and took it down to the auditor's office, and turned it over to Mr. French. I think that he called with them, and went home after that; that is the way I remember it now.

Cross-examination:

Q. 30. This ballot-box did not come from the judges of the election into the township clerk's office?—A. No, sir; his office was locked.

Q. 31. Do you not know how or when the township clerk got it from the auditor's office?—A. No, sir.

Q. 32. How about the number of names on each ticket?—A. Let me see: State auditor, State treasurer, attorney-general, judge supreme court, clerk of supreme court, reporter supreme court, member of Congress, judge, district attorney, clerk district court, county recorder; also township—one trustee, three justices of the peace, 3 constables.

Q. 33. Can you not think of any others?—A. I believe that is about all; that makes 19, I believe; I could tell lots better if I had a ticket and counted from that.

Q. 34. Did you count the ballots over at Binford's office Friday last?—A. No, sir; we did not; this First ward we tallied carefully.

Q. 35. I mean the 4th ward.—A. In the 4th ward tickets were counted out, laid in bunches of 5s; when they came to count 5s I saw that they were correctly counted.

Q. 36. You do not know whether they were correctly counted or not?—A. No, sir; I cannot say.

Q. 37. You know that the papers that were sorted were correctly counted?—A. Yes, sir; Mr. Westlake and Berry examined the names with Mr. Binford.

Q. 38. Mr. Estabrook was the judge of the election, and took the ballots from the box; did not he bunch them?—A. Yes, sir; I think in 5s; and he counted them in buches of fives, and would pass them to Mr. Shaw. He would examine each name carefully, and they were read clear through, I think, because he would examine them over again, and read them clear through.

Q. 39. Was the light good so you could see the tally correctly?—A. Yes, sir; it was quite good the fore part of the night, but got very bad before we got through.

Q. 40. How much care was exercised in counting these ballots?—A. I think that the judges were very careful, so much so that they were very slow.

Q. 41. Now was there not more liability of those three judges counting wrongly that night than one man counting them wrongly on Friday?—A. Well, I think where we counted just two names, without reference to other names, and with a good light we might do a litter than that night.

Q. 42. Were these ballots taken from the box that night?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 43. Been left four months in an open room?—A. No, sir; not ten minutes.

Were there not more ballots, you say, in the box than names in the tally list?—A. Yes, sir; three more names in the box than we counted up, three that were not discovered that night. When we got done he compared the ballots with the names on the tally list. In every office there were blanks; some we compared the tallies with the roll and found it corresponded, so if anybody shoved in more votes than were on the roll the fact might be discovered.

Q. 45. You mean to say now that these ballots have been left four months, where they have been left until Friday, when you counted two less for Wilson and one more for Frederick than were counted before in the canvass here?

R. ESTABROOK, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, a notary public in and for the county of Marshall, on this 10th day of March, A. D. 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

R. ESTABROOK, of lawful age, being produced and sworn in due form of law, testifies as follows:

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. Marshalltown, Marshall County, Iowa: fourth ward; age, 57.

Q. 2. Were you one of the officers of the Nov. election of 1882 held in said township, co., and State, in which the electors voted for Jas. Wilson and B. T. Frederick for Representative in Congress?—A. I was.

Q. 3. What office do you hold?—A. Judge of the election.

Q. 4. You may state the manner in which the votes were canvassed on the night of the election, 4th ward—whether you canvassed them in the day or in the night time.—A. The polls were closed at 8 o'clock; we commenced immediately after.

Q. 5. In the morning or evening?—A. In the evening, and got them in numbers of 5 as far as I could. Sometimes we would go down on the State of officers and not see Representative to Congress candidate. Sometimes we would go down further; we generally got as far as that on the 5vs, sometimes still farther. I counted out the votes and took them out in 5vs; looked them over particularly down as low as Representative; then passed them over to Mr. Shaw, and told him how far down they were; below that we would have to call off separately. It was our manner of counting them. Our light was poor until Mr. Hubbard fetched in a lamp.

Q. 6. On account of the manner in which the count was made, the quality of the light, the time of day, was there not a liability of error in them, considering the number of scratched tickets in the box?—A. Yes, sir; there was a liability.

Q. 7. Have you assisted in the recanvass of the ballots for fourth-ward precinct, Marshalltown, since that time? Have you kept any count?—A. No, sir; only Saturday. Yes, sir; in the 4th ward I kept count, tallying, on Saturday.

Q. 8. Did you find any discrepancy then from a former count?—A. Yes, sir; there was a discrepancy.

Q. 9. What was that discrepancy?—A. It was 96 for Wilson, while it was 98 before that.

Q. 10. How were the ballots strung on the evening of the election?—A. ———.

Q. 11. ———?—A. Mr. Shaw passed the votes to Mr. Dolittle; he strung them. They were strung directly through the middle of the ballots. They were not doubled.

Q. 12. You may state when you opened the box to examine them last Friday, wherever it was, if the general appearance of the ballots was the same as before.—A. I do not think that it was.

Q. 13. What did you do with the ballots on the night of election?—A. After we got through counting the ballots we put them back in the box and locked it, and took it down to the village to the auditor's office, and it was to be kept there until the next day some time in the forenoon, and went and carried it up to the clerk's office, that is, to Robert Binford's office.

Cross-examination:

Q. 14. Were you careful in making canvass that night?—A. We took due care, about as much as usual.

Q. 15. You say you looked over each name?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 16. You called attention to Shaw and requested him to look particularly?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 17. Did you observe any mistakes in bunching them as he called them off?—A. I had a recollection that he called them off. If he made a mistake it was corrected right there at once before it went any further, because I had called off. I think he corrected me, or some one did, that is, if there was anything that did not correspond. If there was anything mistaken it was corrected at once.

Q. 18. Are you the Estabrook formerly county auditor?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 19. Was there any more liability to mistake in the canvass that night than there ordinarily is?—A. No, sir; no more than usual, when we have as many names as there were on the tickets.

Q. 20. Quite a good many scratched tickets?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 21. Were you any more particular about scratched tickets because of that?—A. We have to be always careful of scratched tickets; we have to be particularly careful.

Q. 22. The names for Representative was scratched more than any other names on the ticket?—A. Perhaps so; I could not say as to that; I think they were; that is my impression.

Q. 23. Would your attention not be called more particularly to the correctness of the count in reference to Representative in Congress than any other candidate?—A. No, sir; I think not, because we calculated that every one should be right.

Q. 24. You did not count these ballots on Friday or on Saturday, when you were here. You made tally?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 25. Did you count the ballots then?—A. No, sir.

Q. 26. When you say there was a discrepancy, you mean to say it was done here on Saturday, not on the night of the canvass?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 27. Could you tell from the appearance of the ballots now whether any of the erasures or the interlineations were made since or before the canvass?—A. No, sir; I could not.

Q. 28. There is no difference between those tickets, in their appearance, any more than there is between one word and another?—A. Well, I have never examined that before, particularly, and know more about our tickets than any others.

Q. 39. The Representative tickets are all printed from one stamp?—A. Yes, sir; that is usual.

Q. 30. Some were Democratic tickets?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 31. There were no ward tickets?—A. No, sir.

Q. 32. You would know by that ticket and bunch of ballots from what ward it came. You would know whether it came from the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, or 4th ward?—A. No, sir; I would not.

Q. 33. Do you believe that the canvass that you made then was correct?—A. I did believe it at the time. I don't have any reason to doubt it now.

Q. 34. In view of the fact that these ballots have been in the open box without any security, have you any reason now to believe that there was any errors made on the night of the canvass?—A. There is a possibility that there could be.

Redirect:

Q. 36. The possibility of far less error here on Saturday than on the night of the canvass, in view of the fact of your only canvassing for one office, is that not true?—A. Yes, sir.

Recross-examination:

Q. 37. Is there not a strong probability that both counts were correct?—A. Yes, sir; I should say so.

G. W. HARTWELL, being produced and sworn, before J. H. Bradley, notary public for Marshall County, on this 10th day of March, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name?—A. G. W. Hartwell.
Q. 2. What is your age?—A. 68 years.
Q. 3. Where is your place of residence?—A. Marshalltown, Marshall County, Iowa.
Q. 4. What is your occupation?—A. Fruit farming.
Q. 5. Were you one of the officers of the third ward of the November election in 1882?—A. I was.
Q. 6. What office did you hold?—A. I was one of the judges.
Q. 7. State how the canvass was made on the night of the election, at what hours of the day or night?—A. The polls were closed at 8 o'clock, and we commenced immediately to open the box; the votes were taken out; Mr. Arnold, and myself, and Mr. Burret sorted them; we took the State ticket first, and the Republican ticket, then the Democratic ticket, and when they were all straight we counted them out; we had 25, 40, and sometimes 50 in a pile; we would begin with my pile; and Mr. Arnold would take out, and count it; sometimes we would count it twice; after we agreed as to the pile it was handed to Mr. Burret; when we got all the State tickets counted out I reported to the clerk, and he would put it down on the tally list.
Q. 8. Was the office of Representative in Congress counted in the same way?—A. We got through with the State ticket for Representative in Congress, and made the same estimation; there were some Republican tickets with Frederick's name on; we sorted all for Frederick in one pile; then those for Wilson in another pile; we sorted them all over.
Q. 9. What kind of a light did you have?—A. We had gas-light all the while; tolerably fair lights; we could see well enough.
Q. 10. Was there liability for mistake in that canvass—in the one in which the tickets were counted?—A. There might have been; we took a great deal of pains in counting.
Q. 11. You may state if you have assisted in the recanvass of the votes since that time?—A. No, sir; I have not.
Q. 12. Were you present at any recanvass in which you have kept tally?—A. No, sir.
Q. 13. Was the Congressional ticket counted off 40 and 50, etc., at the time?—A. Yes, sir; they were bunched up, and then we got together and examined them over again.
Q. 14. Was there a liability of mislaying the tickets; the Frederick tickets might have been laid on the Wilson ticket, may it not?—A. Yes, sir; there might have been such a mistake.
Q. 15. There was a greater liability of mistake in that canvass, in view of the number of names on the ticket, than though you were only canvassing for one office, wasn't there?—A. Yes, sir.

Cross-examination:

Q. 16. You say you sorted tickets for Representative in Congress in separate piles, didn't you?—A. Yes, sir; we sorted out these Republican tickets with Frederick's name on, put by themselves, also Wilson's tickets by themselves.
Q. 17. Did each of the trustees assist you in counting or sorting?—A. Yes, sir; Mr. Arnold and I did the principal part. Mr. Burret sat on the other side. If we didn't agree we all three counted sometimes. I recollect I was two short; they made two more than I did; in counting I tallied; we counted them over so that we agreed; we calculated to be as correct as possible.
Q. 18. Were you all three counting these piles, these separate piles?—A. Yes, sir. Sometimes Mr. Arnold and I only counted them, but Mr. Burret was there counting, too.
Q. 19. Where there was any error suggested you counted them again?—A. Yes, sir; I counted my ballots twice for certainty.

Q. 20. Wasn't there as much liability to be correct in counting them so as in counting the ballots in the same way as before?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 21. Is there not three times the liability of it?—A. I might make a mistake in counting it over 3 times, and think I was correct.

Q. 22. When 3 men count their tickets is there not three times the liability as when one counted them over?—A. I think they are more likely to have them right, for when there was a difference between Mr. Arnold and me we would count them over to see who was right; we would take particular pains to do that.

Q. 23. Did you take particular pains in making this canvass?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 24. Do you believe it to be correct?—A. Yes, sir; I did at the time.

Q. 25. You haven't made any subsequent canvass?—A. No, sir; nothing to do with them since I strung the tickets and tied them up.

Q. 26. Did you fold the tickets before stringing them?—A. I folded them over this way.

Q. 27. Just folded them lengthwise once.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 28. Did you have any trouble in seeing that night?—A. No, sir; I don't think we did. I understood there was a difference, and I think the difference was made in the tally of the clerk; that is my honest convictions about it.

Q. 29. You didn't know there was two different?—A. No, sir; I only heard them testify here, that is all; I did not know there was any difference myself.

G. W. WESTLAKE, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, notary public for Marshall County, on this 10th day of March, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. Name, G. W. Westlake; age, 58; I can't own any particular business; I work where I feel like it.

Q. 2. Were you one of the officers of the election in the 1st ward in Marshalltown at the November election, 1882?—A. No, sir; I wasn't.

Q. 3. Were you one of the clerks of the election?—A. No, sir.

Q. 4. You may state if you have been present at the time the ballots of the 1st ward in Marshalltown have been recanvassed.—A. I was called there by Mr. Binford, I think, on the 7th.

Q. 5. Did you assist in counting the ballots?—A. I looked over to see them count them.

Q. 6. For what ward?—A. All the wards.

Q. 7. Can you state the result of that count in the 1st ward?—A. Well, sir, I can't give the results of all, because I did not keep tally.

Q. 8. Can you give the result in the first ward?—A. No, sir; I didn't keep the tally; I simply kept the difference, taking it from the poll-book; the difference in the count for Frederick before.

Q. 9. What difference did you find in the different wards in Marshalltown for Representative in Congress?—A. In the first ward, 8; second ward, one; third ward, 4; fourth ward, three.

Q. 10. You found a difference of 16 of the ballots of all the wards?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 11. You may state if that canvass was made carefully that time.—A. Yes, sir; it was as carefully as it could be. I know that I watched it very carefully. It was done right directly in the sunlight, so as to get the best light possible.

Q. 12. Who handled the votes?—A. Mr. Binford handled them.

Q. 13. Was there any ticket changed at that time?—A. No, sir; not to my knowledge.

Q. 14. If there had been any later would you have known it?—A. I should think I would; nobody had access to them but Binford at all after they had been counted.

Q. 15. You may state what the judges said about finding mistakes. State whether there was any surprise that there were mistakes.

A. Yes, sir; there was with some of them; I wanted them to go and look; I think there were three tickets. They became satisfied that they had overlooked them in the dark with the light they had. You will find three tickets in the light, that are scratched dimly, that it would be pretty hard to find by gaslight.

Q. 16. You mean from which Wilson's name was scratched off?—A. Yes, sir; and it was counted for Wilson in the original count, and also one for Frederick, with Wilson's so scratched or written with so dimly, that it would be pretty hard to see it. This ticket in particular I noticed. I remember I put on my glasses to see it was correct or not. I was more than careful on that account, because I wanted to be as correct as possible.

Q. 17. What did the judges say about the 4th ward as to finding any errors?

(Objection, immaterial and incompetent.)

A. I don't know that any of the judges were there.

Q. 18. Well, in the first ward?—A. I did not pay as much attention to that as I ought to; it was my duty to watch outside talk.

Cross-examination:

Q. 19. There were no judges there last Friday at Binford's office?—A. only Mr. Buckingham. I understand he was one of the judges.

Q. 20. You mean at the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 21. But they were not acting as judges there?—A. No, sir.

Q. 22. Not under oath at all?—A. No, sir; nor was I.

Q. 23. This question is mere hearing, not under oath?—A. I do not know what statement they might have made, I was not paying much attention.

Q. 24. You said that they spoke of three they might have miscounted?—A. They spoke of it being possible to have overlooked it; whether it on their part, or on our own, I do not remember.

Q. 25. Those parties who said it were not officers of any election at the time?—A. Yes, sir; it might have been Pinkham who said it.

Q. 26. They were not under oath when they said it?—A. No, sir.

Q. 27. You think that it was said cheerfully by parties not under oath?—A. Yes, sir; I presume so.

Q. 28. Did you count the ballots that day?—A. Yes, sir; I did. I sat right at his left, Mr. Barrows sat on his right. As the names were read off, each one's attention was particularly called to see if the count was correct.

Q. 29. Did you count them?—A. Yes, sir; they were counted off for Congress.

Q. 30. Did you look at the names yourself to see if they were counted correctly?—A. Yes, sir; for we looked at them to see whether any were scratched off or not.

Q. 31. Did you make any mistake in counting?—A. Yes, sir; we called it 50 when it was 49.

Q. 32. Who made the mistake?—A. It was Mr. Binford.

Q. 33. Did you keep tally?—A. No, sir; I simply sat there and counted.

Q. 34. How many ballots were counted for Frederick in the first ward?—A. Well, I did not pay any attention to it; I simply took up the book to see that the return was determined—the difference from that.

Q. 35. You took the figures from their count and made the difference from that?—A. I would take the count, put it down on the book, and foot up the difference; I took the count that he made, you understand.

Q. 36. Now, after you made the count on the 3d, how many ballots were counted for Frederick?—A. That I did not put down; I put it down on paper when I was there and footed the difference, but I did not carry it with me, so I did not tax my memory with the full count.

Q. 37. You don't remember how many ballots there were from either ward?—A. No, sir; I don't know.

Q. 38. Where did they get the ballots from that day?—A. They were brougt out of the box.

Q. 39. Were they all strung on a string after counting?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 40. They were all strung loosely, were they not?—A. Some, I think; I think the first ward was strung; sometimes merely in the middle, not double.

Q. 41. They were strung in bunches?—A. In 5, 8, or 10 in a bunch with a string tied around them.

Q. 42. Not doubled before they were strung?—A. No, sir; I could not say they were.

CHARLES BRENNECKE being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, notary public for Marshall County, on this 10th day of March, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, place of residence, and occupation?—A. Occupation now is not any, much. I am between 68 and 67 years of age; reside in Marshalltown.

Q. 2. You may state what office you have kept since last November.—A. I kept the office there with Pinkham; we were there together.

Q. 3. You may state who else has kept that office.—A. Mr. Morgan has been in there a little while—he has been in there a couple of months—I don't know how long.

Q. 4. Mr. Pinkham, Morgan, Robert Binford and yourself were the only persons there?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. Did you know anything about a back room to that office; how it is seated, if it is seated at all?—A. Well, I hardly go into the room, because I have my table in the front room near the windows. I never made any use of that room, except sometimes I put my umbrella in there.

Q. 6. Have you ever known where the ballots have been kept in that room?—A. It seems to me that I saw them take the ballots out. I never noticed it.

Q. 7. Did you ever go to the box yourself?—A. No, sir.

Q. 8. Did you ever see anybody there handling the ballots other than the clerk of the election?—A. No, sir; I never saw anything of the kind. I never saw any one in there.

Q. 9 Are there any doors to that room except through the office?—A. Yes, sir. When I do not see anybody around I locked it up. I sometimes leave it open when I see Mr. Binford standing down below; he generally sees who is coming up or down.

Q. 10. It is not open except for a short time temporarily?—A. Yes, sir; that is all.

Q. 11. You didn't know where those tickets were kept?—A. No, sir; because I saw Binford, Carson, and Johnson—that is, at one time—I saw them talking about it. I never go into the room. I have no business in there, only just as I say, sometimes in the summer time I put my umbrella in that room.

Q. 12. You have never disturbed any ballots in that room?—A. No, sir.

Q. 13. You saw Mr. Binford taking them out one day?—A. Yes, sir; he looked at them; Mr. Stone was there; that is not my business. Pinkham has his papers in there from the company; he has the big box and divides them out in there.

Cross-examination:

Q. 14. Who else besides your office—what other offices or occupied rooms open in that hall?—A. Well, two little rooms have been vacant, but the back room has been used as a place where he met to play cards sometimes.

Q. 15. Who else has offices in that building?—A. Then on the other side are two rooms occupied by our clerk; those others are people I am not acquainted with.

Q. 16. Does the hall open out back into the lot by a back stairway?—A. No, sir; no back stairway.

Q. 17. It is front stairway?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 18. How many times do you suppose in the last 4 months have you been out of the office when no one lived in the office and left the door unlocked?—A. I can't tell that; I might go out and not lock the door; I lock the door unless I step out for only a few minutes.

Q. 19. How much of the time are you in the office in the daytime?—A. I stay in an hour or two; I don't generally stay longer.

Q. 20. Are you in the office in the evening?—A. No, sir.

Q. 21. Didn't you see any one change these ballots?—A. No, sir.

Q. 22. And don't know who changed them? –A. I can't tell anything about it.

Q. 23. How long ago was it you saw Binford and Stone lock them up?—A. I can't recollect how long it was.

JOSEPH W. MORGAN, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, notary public for Marshall County, on this 10th day of March, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation? What office did you hold since the November of 1882?—A. To the 1st of December I have been occupying the office with Pinkham.

Q. 2. The one that Robert Binford occupied?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. Who else occupies this office?—A. Mr. Brenneke and Mr. Pinkham; these are the only two that I know of.

Q. 4. You may state if that office has been locked during the night since you occupied it.—A. I suppose it has.

Q. 5. You may state whether it has been locked, except when it has been occupied during the day, as far as you know.—A. I think that there have been times when the office has been open during the day.

Q. 6. How long a time at a time?—A. I cannot tell.

Q. 7. You may state how the back room has been kept in that office.—A. No entrance to, except through the front or side door. I think that it has been kept uniformally locked.

Q. 8. Do you know where the ballots of the November election have been kept since you occupied that office?—A. I can only answer that question by saying that on the night of the election the votes of the 3d ward were carried in the office of Mr. Binford, and I went with him. Further than that I know nothing of the votes. Nothing except up to the time when Mr. Stone came there to look them over.

Q. 9. Have you ever handled the votes or changed the ballots in the box?—A. No, sir.

Q. 10. Ever been to the box or known of anybody else going to it, or disturbing it, except at the time Mr. Binford examined these?—A. No, sir.

Cross-examination:

Q. 11. You didn't change those ballots?—A. No, sir.

Q. 12. You don't know who did it, do you?—A. No, sir.

JOSEPH W. MORGAN.

MARSHALL COUNTY, March 10*th*, 1883.

A. N. FRENCH recalled.

Q. 1. You may state if you are the auditor of Marshall County, Iowa.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 2. State if you have a copy of the abstract of the returns of the board of supervisors to the board of State canvassers of the votes cast for Representative in Congress, November election, 1882.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. State if you have the poll-books that were returned to you by the judges of the election of the different precincts in the city of Marshalltown in the Nov. election, 1882.—A. Yes, sir; I have.

Q. 4. Have you the first ward, city of Marshalltown, and state how many votes are shown by the poll-books to have been returned for the office of Representative in Congress in that ward, and how many for each candidate.—A. First precinct, office of Representative in Congress, 5th district, 249 ballots cast, of which James Wilson had 84, B. T. Frederick 163, David Platner 2.

Q. 5. Does that agree with the tally-list? Turn to the abstract of the election and state how many were returned to the board of State canvassers of the precinct.—A. Frederick 163, James Wilson 84, Platner 2; yes, sir; it agrees with the abstract. I am not tallying out with the tally-list now.

Q. 6. Look at the abstract of the 3d ward in Marshalltown and state how many votes were certified for the office of Representative in Congress to the board of State canvassers, and how many were returned by the election board in that precinct as shown by the poll-book or certificate returned, and how many each candidate received.—A. For the office of Representative in Congress, 5th district, there were 374 ballots cast, of which James Wilson received 112; B. T. Frederick, 260; David Platner, 2.

Q. 7. Look at the abstract and see how many the abstract were returned to the board of State canvassers for the respective candidates for the office of Representative in Congress.—A. They agree except as to Platner. I read it 5. It is about two on the poll-book.

Q. 8. State if the abstracts and poll-books of the 3d ward agree, and how many were returned as shown by the abstract returns to the board of State canvassers.—A. Abstract shows James Wilson, 112; Frederick, 260; David Platner, 5.

Q. 9. How many shown by the poll-books?—A. Wilson, 112; Frederick, 260; Platner, 2.

Q. 10. How many as shown by the poll-book returned from the precinct? What is the discrepancy between the abstract and tally-list?—A. I read it 3 votes on Platner's ballot.

Q. 11. You may look at the abstract for the 3d precinct in the city of Marshalltown and state how many votes were returned to the State board of canvassers for the office of Representative in Congress for each candidate.—A. The 2nd ward precinct, James Wilson had 126; Frederick, 188; Platner, 11.

Q. 12. Look at the returns made to the board of supervisors, Marshall County, Iowa, for the precinct, and state how many each returned for the office of Representative in Congress in the November election.—A. 295; James Wilson had 126; Frederick, 158; Platner, 11.

Q. 13. Take the 4th ward, city of Marshalltown, and see by the abstract, as certified by the board of Co. canvassers, Marshall County, to the board of State canvassers, and state how many were returned as votes cast for the office of Representative in Congress, 4th ward.—A. James Wilson, 98; B. T. Frederick, 270; Platner, 4.

Q. 14. Look at the poll-book of the returns to the board of county canvassers for the 4th ward precinct, and state how many were returned for each candidate for the office of Representative in Congress.—A. 373, of which James Wilson received 98; B. T. Frederick, 270; David Platner, 4.

Q. 15. State if these are all the returns you have of the votes cast at the November election, 1882.—A. Yes, sir; they are.

Q. 16. State if that is the correct copy of the abstracts as returned to the secretary of state of the votes for Representative in the 5th district.—A. Yes, sir; it is for these precincts.

I, Eldon Moran, a notary public and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony in this cause, in pursuance of the annexed agreement attached to the testimony of J. S. Adams, whose testimony was taken Feb. 22, 1883, do truly certify that on the 10th day of March, 1883, in pursuance of the notice hereunto attached, I took the depositions of the following-named witnesses: W. D. Forbush, O. B. Barrows, Bob't Binford, O. B. Barrows (recalled), C. M. Norton, W. H. Harrington, R. E. Everett, A. B. Taplin, C. W. Stone, C. A. Stephens, O. P. Arnold, C. B. Pinkham, N. C. Nelson, F. B. McGrew, R. Estabrook, G. W. Hartwell, G. W. Westlake, Chas. Brennecka, Joseph W. Morgan, A. N. French (recalled), whose testimony is set forth herein in the following manner:

Each witness was first sworn by me duly, or caused to be sworn in my presence, as provided by law, and when sworn, the questions were propounded to him by respective parties, Benj. T. Frederick, contestant, and James Wilson, contestee, by their respective att'ys, and the question by me read to the witness, who answered the same, and his answer in the language of the witness was by me taken down, under each question propounded, and reduced to writing until the deposition was completed.

I further certify that when the testimony of each witness was taken I carefully read the same over to the witness, who corrected the same, and each correction noted, and said testimony was then signed by the witness and sworn to by him before.

I further certify that T. Brown and Carney appeared as counsel for contestant, Benj. T. Frederick and J. H. Bradley appeared as counsel for James Wilson, contestee.

In witness whereof I have set my hand and seal hereunto notarially, this 10th day of March, 1883.

C. B. PINKHAM, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, a notary public for Marshall County, on this 4th day of May, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Were you one of the clerks or judges in the November election, 1882?—A. Yes, sir; I was in the first ward.

Q. 2. You may state if you run out of register blanks during that election.—A. No, sir; they did not in my ward.

Q. 3. There are no returns, then, in that ward if any one voted without registering?—A. We didn't run out of blank certificates; we had them in use all day.

Q. 4. You used certificates all day in your ward?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. Were all the voters registered in your ward; whenever they came to vote without being registered they were all sworn?

(Contestee objects to the question as immaterial and incompetent.)

A. Yes, sir; they were.

Q. 6. They were always sworn to by a freeholder in the ward or the city that you were acquainted with?

(Contestee objects as immaterial and incompetent.)

A. Yes, sir; they were, with one exception. I didn't think of it until afterwards. One man, not a freeholder, was certified to by Mr. East; he wasn't a freeholder.

Q. 7. Is he a deputy sheriff?—A. No, sir; the brother of the deputy sheriff. I did not think of it until too late.

Q. 8. Was he one of the clerks of the board?—A. No, sir; one of the judges. It occurred to me afterwards that he vouched for it; it was too late to rectify it when it was ascertained.

O. P. ARNOLD, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, notary public for Marshall County, on this 4th day of May, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. You live in Marshalltown?—A. Yes, sir; I do.

Q. 2. Were you one of the judges in the November election of 1882?—A. Yes, sir; for the 3rd ward.

Q. 3. You may state if there were parties who voted there in that ward whose names were not on the register.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. You may state if they were proved to be voters whose names did not appear, if they proved their residence?

(Contestee objects; incompetent, immaterial, and not the proper rebutting evidence.)

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. Did you run out of blanks that day?—A. Yes, sir; we did.

Q. 6. What was done to supply the absence of blanks?

(Objection; immaterial).

A. I think blank pieces of paper were taken, and the voters signed them.

Q. 7. All the witnesses signed the paper also?—A. Yes, sir; those who vouched for them.

Q. 8. Well, now, did the parties who vouched for the voters also swear that those who voted were voters?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 9. Do you remember of any person that was permitted to vote that was not registered; that proof did not appear satisfactory to the board that they were entitled to vote in that ward?

(Objection; incompetent and immaterial.)

Q. 10. Did you know of any person being permitted to vote whose name did not appear on the registration book; that is, proved to the satisfaction of the board that he was a resident in the ward and entitled to vote?

(Objection; immaterial and incompetent.)

A. No, sir.

Q. 11. Now what was the form of the oath administered—the same as the oath required by the registry law?

(Objection; incompetent and immaterial.)

A. Yes, sir; I don't know as the oath was read in full every time, but it was substantially the same.

Q. 12. Were the witnesses interrogated as to where the party lived and as to his knowledge of his right to vote?

(Objection; immaterial and incompetent; not the proper rebutting evidence.)

Q. 13. That is, the witnesses that were sworn?—A. Yes, sir, I think that they were; that is my impression.

Q. 14. He gave the evidence upon that subject before the party stated that he knew where the party lived?—A That was provided for in the oath.

Q. 15. He made answer to the oath, did he?—A. Yes, sir.

Cross-examination:

Q. 16. You say that he subscribed to the oath; do you mean that he wrote his name at the bottom oath?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 17. What was the oath written upon?—A. Which have you reference to?

Q. 18. I mean those voters that were not registered after you run out of blanks?—A. The oath was read from another paper.

Q. 19. Wasn't it simply a blank of paper the voter signed his name to the bottom and left in blank both oath of witness and voter?—A. Yes, sir, that is a fact.

Q. 20. Then the oath subscribed to was simply a blank piece of paper?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 21. Then the subscribing was written on a piece of blank paper?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 22. Then there was no oath subscribed to in the case?—A. No, sir; not on those blanks.

Q. 23. Was the oath administered in due form?

(Objection as incompetent.)

A. Yes, sir, I think that it was.

O. B. BARROWS, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, notary public of Marshall County, on this 4th day of May, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Were you one of the judges at the election of the 2d ward, city of Marshalltown?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 2. You may state if you remained there during the day.—A. Yes, sir; except while I was gone to dinner.

Q. 3. State if all the persons not upon the register list of the election in that ward who voted produced witnesses to prove up their right to vote, voted after proving up their right to vote.

(Contestee objects; incompetent.)

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. Did you run out of blank register affidavits during the day?—A. Yes, sir; we did towards night.

Q. 5. You may state how the proof was made after you run out of blanks. State whether any oath was administered to the witnesses.—A. The witnesses and voters were both sworn.

Q. 6. Was the oath administered similar to the one provided in the blank?—A. The same oath that had been administered to them before.

Q. 7. The proof duly brought showing that they had a right to vote?—A. Yes, sir.

(Objection; immaterial.)

Q. 8. There was no voter permitted to vote without such proof?—A. No, sir.

Cross-examination:

Q. 9. Was the oath written down?—A. No, sir; not after they had run out of blanks, no, sir; they commenced writing, but the crowd was so great we talked of hiring a special clerk to write out oaths. I think Col. Johnson suggested that they sign their names, administered the oath, also sign the names of the witness, then write out the oaths afterwards. And when we first thought of writing the names without reading the oath Mr. Frederick went up town and brought down a quire of legal cap at the suggestion of some person, I think it was Col. B. W. Johnson, that they did not have time to write out, there were so many wishing to vote. He suggested that it would be as well to let them sign their names and also let the witnesses sign their names.

Q. 10. You think there was no time to comply with the formulas required by the statute?—A. No, sir; there did not seem to be time; there was quite a number voting.

Q. 11. About how many votes were there where they did not subscribe to the regular form?—A. I don't know how many there were; it was along toward dark, in the evening, I remember.

Q. 12. Quite a good number were there?—A. Yes, sir; I should say probably 25 or 50 voting to my distinct recollection; it was about time that they were coming up from the railroads to vote when there were a good many voting.

Q. 13. Now all there was done so far as an affidavit having record of affidavit signed was to have the party sign a blank piece of paper?—A. Yes, sir; I think so.

Q. 14. They were left blank, were they not?—A. I think they were.

Q. 15. There was no oath subscribed at all, was there?—A. I don't think there was any oath subscribed; they were simply sworn by subscribing to that paper.

Q. 16. Subscribing to the piece of blank paper?—A. Yes, sir; I think that was all.

Q. 17. You know subscribe means to write under it, does it not?—A. I guess so; they subscribed their names on the paper.

Q. 18. You don't know whether that was filled up with oaths or affidavits?—A. No, sir; I don't know, indeed.

Q. 19. Those pieces of blank paper were returned in to that very township to the township clerk?—A. I think that they were.

Q. 20. Never any oath written out to comply with the registry law?—A. I don't think there was.

Q. 21. Wasn't there any intention to write out the oath?—A. I think that it was intended to write them out, but I don't think they had them do it.

Q. 22. You did this for the purpose of complying with what you understood to be your duty in the registry law?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 23. You understood that there was a registry law in force at that time the same as now?—A. Yes, sir; that was my understanding.

Q. 24. And the reason the oath was not written out and subscribed by the registry law was that they did not have the time to do it?—A. That is it exactly.

Q. 25. Wasn't it the understanding that these pieces of paper were to be filled afterwards?—A. I think that was the understanding; it was suggested that they could write the oath out; I thought that it was understood that they would.

Q. 26. Who was directed to fill them out?—A. I think that it was the intention of the clerk at the same time. When they closed up they were kept very busy; had no time then. It was late when they got through counting.

Q. 27. You have examined these papers since?—A. No, sir; I have not.

Q. 28. You don't know whether they had time yet to do it?—A. No, sir; I don't know whether they had time or not.

Q. 29. There is not anything to show by these papers themselves whether any party whatever administered the oath to any party?—A. No, sir.

Q. 30. It would not be possible to say which officer administered the oath to the respective parties?—A. My recollection is that C. M. Norton administered the oath to all of them while I was there.

Q. 31. There wasn't anything said to him that he was to fill them afterwards?—A. I don't think so after the election closed.

Q. 34. Well, before the election closed?—A. I think at the time we run out of blanks the matter was talked over. We sent up to the other precincts and they sent word they were out. Frederick went to get paper that they might write them out themselves. There were so many wishing to vote by this time that there was not time. It kept the clerks and judges very busy. Some one suggested that they could be filled out afterwards. I think it was Col. Johnson.

Q. 35. Wasn't it Mr. Frederick, the contestant?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 36. Did he get several quires of paper?—A. I think about one quire. Part of it I took to the poor afterwards.

Q. 37. Was it all used in that way?—A. No, sir; only a small portion of it was. I took the balance home. I handed a part of it to the paupers living in the poor-house.

Q. 38. And the paper was furnished by Frederick, and he was there?—A. He brought it there. I don't know who bought the paper.

Q. 39. There was no question as to there being a registry law in force?—A. That question was raised there, sir.

Q. 40. While you were gone to dinner or supper you don't know how many voted that were not registered?—A. No, sir.

Q. 41. How long were you gone to supper?—A. Perhaps 30 minutes.

Q. 42. Did you go to supper at 6 o'clock?—A. No, sir; I think about 5 or 6.

Q. 43. They were running in votes pretty fast then?—A. No, sir; a little slack; it did not last long after they began to come up from the railroad; I think that they quit about 6 o'clock.

Q. 44. What particular ones did Norton administer the oath to?—A. No particular ones; I think that he administered it to all while I was there.

Q. 45. Do you recollect now?—A. Well, I can't undertake to tell the names of all he administered the oath to.

Q. 46. I didn't ask you the number, but what particular ones he swore.—A. I think he swore all while I was there.

Q. 47. Well, do you know what particular ones he swore; can't you name any that he swore, now?—A. I could not; because we put it to him to administer the oath as he was a notary public. I think that he administered the oath to all.

Q. 48. Do you think he put his seal to these pieces of blank paper?—A. I could not say that he did.

Q. 49. Do you think that he signed any of these pieces of paper?—A. I could not say that he did.

Q. 50. Didn't you know what was in these pieces of paper—the names of all the persons?—A. No, sir; I did not know that.

Q. 51. Did you see any of them?—A. I saw the papers there, on the other end of the table; I had other business to attend to.

Q. 52. Did you see any of them after they were signed?—A. I saw them then, on the table after they were signed.

Q. 53. Did you see any of those papers after that anywhere else?—A. I saw the people signing the papers; I didn't see the papers after they were signed.

Q. 54. You didn't see them since?—A. No, sir; I never saw them since.

Redirect:

Q. 55. Is Mr. Johnson, the man who suggested that, the Hon. B. W. Johnson?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 56. He was formerly Republican?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 57. Supporter of Wilson, is he not?—A. I don't know whom he supported.

Q. 58. Do you know anything about his voting for Wilson in this case?—A. No, sir; I don't know anything about that.

O. B. BARROWS.

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

R. ESTERBROOK, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, a notary public for Marshall County, on this 4th day of March, A. D. '83, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Were you one of the co. judges in the 4th ward at Marshalltown at the city election Nov., '82?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 2. You may state if you run out of register blanks in that ward.—A. We had them until five or six o'clock; we run out before we got through.

Q. 3. Now you may state if you received votes of people on the register during the latter part of the day when you run out of blanks.—A. Yes, sir; the other was a substitute for a blank.

Q. 4. State what the substitute was.—A. Well, it was a writing describing the location, and sometimes the street they were living on; I asked them particularly.

(Objection on the ground that it is immaterial.)

Q. 5. Well, did you swear the witness?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 6. Were all of the witnesses of the parties who wished to vote that were not registered sworn?

(Objection; immaterial, incompetent.)

A. Yes, sir; they were, so far as I know.

Q. 7. Was the same oath administered as prescribed by the blanks?

(Objection; immaterial, incompetent.)

A. Yes, sir; I think that it was the same.

Q. 8. Were these voters who produced witnesses, were they examined by the boar as to the residence of the voter in the ward?—A. Yes, sir; they were all examined alike; sometimes one of the board examined them, and sometimes another. d

Q. 9. Was it proven to the satisfaction of the board that they were residents in the ward at the time the vote was received?—A. Yes, sir; we went through the same course with them; the question came up there whether they were voters.

Q. 10. You allowed any one to vote that proved his residence in the ward the requisite length of time?

(Objection; incompetent, immaterial.)

A. The question was asked them if they could swear that they resided in the 4th ward.

Q. 11. Was that question put to the witness?—A. Yes, sir; the same question was put them all as far as I know.

Cross-examination:

Q. 12. Now, what were these papers they signed; was there any oath registered as to these votes?—A. It was the regular form; they were not until we run out of forms.

Q. 13. What did you do when you run out of the regular forms?—A. We got the number of the residence, and the number of the street as far as we could; I questioned them about the street.

Q. 14. In a good many you did not get anything but the name, did you; that is, the name of the voter?—A. No, sir; sometimes we got the residence; that is, the number of the street, and number of the residence on the street.

Q. 15. You did not make any record of any oath being administered to these persons who went to vote; were they not registered if you run out of blanks; that is, as to their qualifications; was there a written record of it?—A. Yes, sir; there was a writing made of it; I think they or these were with the others that were put with them.

Q. 16. Have you seen any of these since?—A. No, sir; I saw them at the time, but not since.

Q. 17. Did you know that they had nothing but a blank sheet of paper with two names on it; one at the middle, and one at the bottom, without any other on it?—A. No, sir; they were not; I think that they were written; that is, their names in; well, I got to that; they were written there, I had an idea, and my impression was——

Q. 18. Well, not your impression was, but what record was made of the oath that was used for a substitute for the blanks?—A. In swearing them I used the same oath that was on the blank.

Q. 19. What record was made of that?—A. That is what I am coming to; my impression is that the street they lived on was put in also.

Q. 20. There was not any oath written out full anywhere?—A. When we got out of printed blanks?

Q. 21. Yes, sir.—A. No, sir.

Q. 22. All there was, then, was, simply the name written down, and the street?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 23. Now, was the name written by the party voting or by one of the judges of the election?—A. By the judges of the election; they signed it.

Q. 24. How is that?—A. They signed their names.

Q. 25. Then the name was written by the judges of the election, was it?—A. I thought there was a blank filled out and returned to them to sign.

Q. 26. Have not you run out of blanks?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 27. What was written in that blank?—A. That is hard for me to tell.

Q. 28. What is it, then?—A. We used blank papers with names written on; I really cannot tell exactly what was on it.

Q. 29. Was it simply a blank sheet of paper?—A. We took a blank sheet of paper with some writing, giving their names and residences.

Q. 30. Any affidavit written?—A. No, sir; I think not of any length.

Q. 31. Was there any of any shortness?—A. I have no recollection.

Q. 32. You did not see them when Binford produced them?—A. No, sir; once since.
Q. 33. Did you not know that that was returned simply as a blank sheet of paper, with a name or two written on it without any affidavit at all?—A. Well, sir, I never saw them from the time we got through; I have never seen them since.
Q. 34. All that was returned was simply blank pieces of paper that were used—nothing written but the name?—A. I could not say as to that.
Q. 35. Did you swear any with the name written out only; did you swear any of these names after you had run out of blanks, where the affidavit was written out in full?—A. Yes, sir; I swore some of them.
Q. 36. Then these without blanks?—A. You are asking me when they signed their names, if I swore them in regard to being a resident?
Q. 37 No, sir; that is not it at all.—A. What is it, then?
Q. 38. This is the question: Did you swear any of these persons who desired to vote after you ran out of blanks, without the affidavit written out?—A. In full, you mean?
Q. 40. Yes, sir; of course.—A. No, sir; I don't think there was any written out in full.
Q. 41. After you ran out of blanks you adopted this method; took blank pieces of paper and let the party desiring to vote sign it about the middle?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 42. Somebody signed them at the bottom?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 43. That is all the record made of it?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 44. In many instances the party who signed his name at the bottom lived in another ward?—A. I don't recollect any case of that kind; it might have been so.
Q. 45. You were not particular to see that the party that was vouching for the party who was voting was a resident of the same ward?—A. No, sir.
Q. 46. In many instances residents of different wards?—A. No, sir; I don't know of any cases of that kind; though there might have been.
Q. 47. In many instances the party vouching was not on the register?—A. I don't know of any case in which it might have been.
Q. 48. Did you look to see whether the name was on the register?—A. No, sir.
Q. 49. You knew there was a registry law in force—you supposed there was?—A. I looked to see whether they were parties I knew.
Q. 50. You supposed the registry law was in force?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 51. How many votes were there cast in all in the 4th ward, do you think, after you ran out of blanks, where there was no affidavit of any qualification after voting but simply these blank papers signed?—A. I have reason for knowing that.
Q. 52. Can you give any idea?—A. No, sir; none at all. We ran out about 5 or 6 o'clock.
Q. 53. Quite a large number of votes were put in after that?—A. Yes, sir; quite a number.
Q. 54. You held the poll-book open till 8 o'clock; a large number of people, laboring people, voted after supper, did they not, in the 4th ward?—A. Yes, sir; there were a great many of that class of voters.
Q. 55. Why did you simply let parties sign these blank pieces of paper, and did not have them make any affidavit?—A. When we were nearly out they had adopted it there, and I adopted the same course.
Q. 56. Why did you omit that little formality of having them make an affidavit to the votes; why did you not have it written out; was there not time to comply with the law?—A. Well, at the time we were rather hurried.
Q. 57. It was because you were hurried, was it?—A. Yes, sir; we were in a hurry at the time.
Q. 58. There was not any notary attaching his seal to any of these papers?—A. No, sir; not that I saw.
Q. 59. There was no officer that signed these papers, was there?—A. No; there was no board there.

Redirect:

Q. 60. Although you ran out of blanks, the oath was administered in due form to these parties?—A. I suppose it was to some.
Q. 61. Who administered the oath?—A. I did, myself.
Q. 62. Did you administer the same oath to all these that signed the blanks?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 63. You took proof only of men you knew to be truthful and reliable?—A. I would not have taken any other.

Recross-examination:

Q. 64. You did not regard whether the person of whom you took proof lived in the ward?—A. No, sir; it was only as to whether they were truthful and knew the voters in the case.

Redirect:

Q. 65. There was no time to write out blanks without sacrificing a great deal?—

A. There might have been some time we could have written them out; part of the time we could not.

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

Deposition of witnesses produced before me, Eldon Moran, notary public and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony, and duly sworn by J. H. Bradley, a notary public in and for Marshall County, Iowa, on this first day of March, 1883, in pursuance of the notice hereunto attached, at office of Brown and Carny, at Marshalltown, Iowa, in a proceeding pending before the House of Representatives of the United States of America, in a contested election for the office of Representative in Congress, in which proceding Benj. T. Frederick is contestant, and James Wilson, contestee. Brown and Carney appeared for contestant, and J. H. Bradley for contestee. The following testimony was taken before me:

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

EZRA R. WYATT, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, notary public for Marshall County, on this fifth day of March, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name?—A. Ezra R. Wyatt.

Q. 2. Where is your place of residence?—A. I reside in Marshall County, Iowa.

Q. 3. What is your occupation?—A. Farming and stock raising.

Q. 4. Were you one of the officers of the election in Washington Township at the Nov. election, 1882?

Q. 5. Are you at present township clerk?—A. I am.

Q. 6. Have you possession and custody of the ballot-box used in the Nov. election, 1882?—A. Yes, sir; I have it with me.

Q. 7. Where has the ballot-box been kept since the election?—A. It was left on top of a high cupboard in the school-house.

Q. 8. Left locked or unlocked?—A. Left locked.

Q. 9. Was the key in the lock?—A. No, sir; I have it with me.

Q. 10. Have it in your pocket?—A. Yes, sir; carried it with me.

Q. 11. You may state if you have it now in your possession.—A. Yes, sir; I have.

Q. 12. You may state in what condition the ballots were left in the box at the time of the election.—A. They were all put on to a string and put into the box, and then the box locked.

Q. 13. You may now open the ballot-box and count the ballots that were cast at said election.

(Att'y Bradley, on the part of contestee, objects because it is not shown that the ballots are now in the same condition in which they were left by the canvassers.)

Q. 14. Please count them in the presence of the commissioner. You may state whether the ballots are apparently in the same condition as they were at the time when they were counted at the election.—A. Yes, sir; and the tickets are apparently in the same condition in which they were left at the time we counted them; part of one ticket is gone, and part is torn off that I can't find.

Q. 15. Can that have been torn off by one end being partially left out of the box?—A. I can't say as to that; we found it separated and lying loose in the box; it was not strung. There is a small ballot that has nothing but assessor, commencing here, and further down are the township officers; it had no State ticket on it; that was also loose with this piece of ticket; the rest were all strung.

Q. 16. You recollect that small ballot?—A. Yes, sir; I remember it was cast at the election.

Q. 17. You may now proceed to count the ballots, and state how many there are for the office of Representative in Congress, 5th Congressional district, and state how many ballots each candidate received?

(Witness proceeds to count the ballots; Mr. French is called upon to assist in making the tally.)

A. Here are two tickets that don't appear to be for anybody as Congressman. This one you see has never had anything but township names on it. Beginning at the heading, the township ticket part is all that is on it. This one appears to have no Representative on it; the name of the Representative came above it, perhaps.

Q. 18. What kind of a ticket is it, Democratic or Republican?—A. Well, sir, the heading is not here; I will have to compare it. Here is Anderson for dist. att'y, in Harding Co.

Q. 19. Were these Democratic candidates?—A. I can't say from memory; I think it is a Greenback ticket; C. G. Lander for clerk, H. H. Gregg for recorder.

Q. 20. Now you may answer the question as to the result of the ballot?

(Objection on the ground that it is not shown that the ballots are in the same condition that they were when left by the canvassers.)

Q. 21. State it.—A. According to Mr. French's tally I found Wilson 42, Frederick 54, Platner 12.

Q. 22. Who assisted you in making the count just now?—A. Mr. French tallied; I counted them.

Q. 23. Did he announce the number at the end of each tally, every time he tallied; that is, Mr. French?—A. I did not hear him.

Q. 24. Do you know of your own knowledge how many ballots were cast at the election; I mean from your present count?—A. I should have to go over there and count them again.

Q. 25. Well, sir, go ahead and count them again; are they in separate piles?—A. I made 53 for Frederick; I have counted it twice, carefully.

Q. 26. Mr. French had 54?

(Witness proceeds to count Wilson's tickets.)

A. I made it 42; here is one ticket I did not pick up for Frederick, which makes 54.

Q. 27. Now count the Platner pile.

(Witness proceeds to do so.)

A. I find 12. Besides these there are two other tickets.

Q. 28. What is the result as you find it?—A. Frederick 54, Wilson 42, Platner 12, with two other counts scattering.

Q. 29. Please look at the tally books and state how many ballots were cast at the election.—A. There are 110.

Q. 30. How many ballots did you know were found in the box?—A. 110.

Q. 31. Now state whether there was any discrepancy in the count of the clerks at the election on the evening of the election when the votes were tallied, I mean on any count.—A. I think there was a discrepancy between the assistant clerk and myself.

Q. 32. On what count was that?—A. I could not tell.

Q. 33. How much was that discrepancy?—A. I could not positively tell that.

Q. 34. State as nearly as you can.—A. There might be one or two.

Q. 35. Was not your discrepancy for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. I could not say.

Q. 36. You are sure there was a discrepancy?—A. I think there was.

Q. 37. Did you recount the votes?—A. I don't recollect whether we did or not.

Q. 38. Have you the poll-book of Washington Township in your hands?—A. Yes, sir; the one that was left with the township clerk.

Q. 39. It is the regular poll that is left with the clerk?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 40. Is that in the same condition that it was at the time of the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 41. You may state how many votes are shown to have been returned to the county auditor for the office of Representative in Congress.

Witness having examined the poll-book which is in his possessior, says:

A. One hundred and ten ballots were cast, of which James Wilson had 45 votes, Frederick, 52; and Platner, 13.

Q. 42. Now you may state if it is not true that at the election there were no ballots in which the parties did not vote for Representative at all?—A. Yes, sir; I think it is shown by this ticket that they did not vote for Representative—I mean the township ticket referred to.

Q. 43. Then there were not 110 votes cast for the office of Representative in Congress at that time?—A. It seems so by that vote.

Q. 44. Do you remember that that vote was there at that time, and that it was cast at the election?—A. Yes, sir; I recollect it.

Q. 45. Then that poll-book, in relation to that vote, is wrong?—A. Yes, sir; it shows a discrepancy of that vote.

Q. 46. In the recount of the ballots, what discrepancy did you find for the office of Representative in Congress, and in whose favor was it and against whom?—A. I found two more for Mr. Frederick, and three less for Mr. Wilson, one less for Mr. Platner. I find that the heading of the ticket which contains the name of Representative for Congress is gone—I could not say positively whether Democrat, Greenback or Republican.

Q. 47. What do you regard the ticket, from the names of the candidates on it?—A. Greenback, from what I found on it.

Q. 48. Compare it with a straight Democratic ticket, and state whether it is Democratic or otherwise.

(Witness compares it with the other ticket.)

A. It compares with the Democratic ticket, what is left of it.)

Q. 49. Do you remember whether the ballot was torn off when you counted the votes at the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 50. Or whether it was a perfect ballot? Did you recognize any such ballot?—A. No, sir.

Q. 51. Do you recollect at the time of counting as having any such a ballot, torn like that?—A. No, sir; I don't.

Q. 52. What did you say about that ballot being torn since the election?—A. I believe it to have been torn since the election from this fact—that when I opened the box, brought it down from the school-house, it was detached and off the string.

Q. 53. Did it have the appearance of having been strung once?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 54. Was the box locked when you found it at the school-house?—A. I rather think not; we took it home thinking it to be locked; I found the key in my old jacket pocket; I turned it once or twice, but could not get it open; I did not try it until I found the key, and that fetched it; I tried several times before it came open; I am positive I locked it when I left it there.

Cross-examination:

Q. 55. When did you leave the ballot-box at the school-house? When you found the box, was it in the same condition it was when you left it?—A. No, sir.

Q. 56. What was the condition?—A. The back of it was loosened, and I could see a portion of a ticket sticking out; I can show you the box if you want to see the state of affairs.

Q. 57. How much of the ballot was sticking out of the box?—A. Just enough to show that it was one of the tickets. My impression is that it stuck out far enough so that it could be caught hold of and torn off.

Q. 58. How much of an opening was there in the box?—A. I can show you better by taking the box.

Q. 59. Tell it so that the reporter can take it down.—A. There was a small crack, and the back end was loose; the crack was a quarter of an inch wide.

Q. 60. A crack or a space?—A. Well, the lid is broken enough to leave a little space.

Q. 61. There was room enough in that space to take out such ticket and change the name as desired?—A. Might take out a single ticket.

Q. 62. They could be taken out separately?—A. No, sir; they could not do it, unless they got hold of the end of the string that was knotted.

Q. 63. Could not part of the ticket be pulled out?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 64. Could it be pulled out far enough to erase the name?—A. No, sir; I left it on the top; I found it on this shelf, a little lower down.

Q. 66. Was this piece split off when you left it?—A. It had been split off; some of it I had to nail on.

Q. 67. Was the piece with the box when you left it?—A. Yes, sir, but tumbled off the minute I took hold of it; it was on there loose.

Q. 68. When did you take the box home from the school-house?—A. I could not give the date.

Q. 69. How long ago was it; inside of three weeks; since the middle of Feb.?—A. I should judge so.

Q. 70. Election was the early part of Nov.?—A. 7th, I believe.

Q. 71. You say the box was at the school-house probably 9 or 10 weeks?—A. It was there that length of time.

Q. 72. Was school in session at that time?—A. Yes, sir, in session.

Q. 73. Was the ballot so that it could be seen by anybody?—A. Yes, sir; if they took pains to look on top of the cupboard; several cupboards there.

Q. 74. The ballot-box was open, not covered up by anything?—A. No, sir; I did not mean that the box was open, but it was not covered up with cloth.

Q. 75. The ballot-box left uncovered?—A. There were two ballot-boxes left there; we have a township box.

Q. 75. They look like other ballot-boxes?—A. I presume so; I never saw many ballot-boxes.

Q. 77. Does this look like the most that you have seen?—A. Yes, sir; looks like an ordinary ballot-box.

Q. 78. What meetings have been held in the school-house this winter?—A. We have had a kind of a lyceum in the school-house.

Q. 79. How often has that been held there?—A. Probably once a week, when the weather was fine, for the last six weeks.

Q. 80. Has it been held as often as once a week this winter?—A. In the latter part of it.

Q. 81. How many meetings were there from the time of election till you took the ballot-box away?—A. Being away from home this winter, I have never been to any of them.

Q. 82. You say you have not seen the ballot or the piece of the ballot loose in the box?—A. Yes, sir. After we opened the slide and pulled it off we looked the matter up. There was this one that was apparently forgotten; also this little short township and county ticket that was unstrung and lying loose in the box.

Q. 83. Have you any means of knowing whether that was a separate ballot detached from the other ticket or not?—A. Nothing, only the way it was changed by being torn; also the fracture that was made for the purpose of stringing them, it being at the end of what was left.

Q. 84. There was no State ticket attached to that, was there?—A. The latter part of the State ticket.

Q. 85. No; I mean township ticket now?—A. No, sir; no State ticket anywhere.

Q. 86. Without counting that—the township tickets—you find only 109, do you?—A. That is all.

Q. 87. Now, take your poll-book and tell me how many ballots there were shown by your return for the State officers; say, for the office of sec'y of state?

(Witness examines poll-book.)

A. There were 55.

Q. 88. Have you not all of them there together?—A. Do you want the sum total?

Q. 89. Does it not show without your adding them up?—A. Yes, sir; 110.

Q. 90. How many for auditor of state?—A.—110.

Q. 91. How many for treas. of state?—A. 100.

Q. 96. How many for reporter of supreme court?—A. 110.

Q. 97. Can you tell from this township ticket whether it was torn before or after the canvass made by the judges? Can you tell by the looks of it whether it was torn before or after the canvass?—A. I believe, by looking at it, that it was not strung.

Q. 98. Can you tell by the looks of it whether it was torn off before or after the canvass?—A. I could judge only by the puncture here that it was strung, if there was any.

Q. 99. Do you recollect that as a fact that ticket never had a State ticket upon it?—A. No, sir.

Q. 100. Then is there not a ballot gone from the box?—A. There seems to be a discrepancy of one ballot.

Q. 101. Now, as I understand it, when you made the count to-day, counting that township ticket, there were only 110 ballots in the ballot-box?—A. Yes, sir, in all; we call these two scattering.

Q. 102. Are there any tickets in that box that you find the name of Wilson erased and Frederick written in?—A. Yes, sir; I think a number of them.

(Witness examines them.)

Q. 103. Can you tell by the looks of them whether it was done before or after the canvass?—A. No, sir, I cannot.

Q. 104. Is the erasure made with a pencil?—A. Yes, sir; some of them made with an indelible pencil; also, one made with a common pencil.

Q. 105. Are the erasures any of them made with a pen?—A. It looks to me like purple ink; I don't know anything about it.

Q. 106. Are they mostly made with lead pencil?—A. I should judge so.

Q. 107. How many are there?—A. I find ten.

Q. 108. Can you tell if any of those were made before or after the canvass?—A. I cannot tell.

Q. 109. Did you find any of the Frederick tickets with Frederick's name erased and Wilson's name written on?—I will look.

(Witness examines again.)

I find them straight Wilson tickets without any scratches.

Q. 110. Who were the judges of the election?

(Witness examines the poll-book.)

A. B. B. Potter, M. E. Andrews, and F. A. Scott.

Q. 111. Did you examine the ballots on the night of the canvass yourself?—A. No, sir.

Q. 112. You only took the tallies as they were called off to you?—A. Yes, sir, that is all.

Q. 113. You did not examine them?—No, sir.

Q. 114. You cannot tell now whether these ballots are the same as they were that night or not?—A. Not separately; generally they appear the same.

Q. 115. Then you cannot answer that they are the same?—A. No, sir, not as whole.

Q. 116. Can you as to any of them?—A. Yes, sir, as to this township.

Q. 117. There was one ticket where the Republican in Congress was torn off or separated from the township ticket; the one you have been talking about?—A. I do not recognize it at all.

Q. 118. You have one set there?—A. Yes, sir; I have.

Q. 119. Do you recollect whether or not that ballot was torn off the string?—A. No, sir; I have no recollection of that.

Q. 120. How many times have you canvassed the ballots since the election?—A. Once.

Q. 121. Did you count them there?—A. Yes, sir; Mr. C. W. Stone called at my place I took them and counted them myself.

Q. 123. Did you take them off the string?—A. Yes, sir; we also classified them the way we did to-day.

Q. 124. Were they classified as they are to-day when you took them off the string?—A. No, sir; but very much the same.

Q. 125. Were they counted one by one?—A. No, sir.

Q. 126. How were they counted?—A. The trustees matched up five at a time as far as they could tally five at once; towards the last, they took them separately.

Q. 127. Do you remember whether the State tickets were counted in tallies of fives?—A. I think that they were.

Q. 128. Was the Congressional ticket so counted?—A. Yes, sir; it was.

Q. 129. In restringing these tickets, did you string them in the same hole?—A. No, sir.

Q. 130. Made new holes?—A. Yes, sir; made new ones.

Q. 131. How came you to get the ballots from the school-house?—A. He called and said that he wanted to see the tally-list; showed him the tally-book; he said no—that he wanted to count the ballots; I had some hesitancy, so I concluded I had better bring them down from the school-house any way; I opened the box there myself; no other person counted the tickets.

Q. 132. He came to you and wanted you to count the tickets?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 133. Did he suggest that there was a discrepancy?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 134. He seemed to understand that there was a discrepancy?—A. Yes, sir; when he was looking the tickets over.

Q. 135. Did you know anything or hear anything about these ballots being taken out of the box by anybody but the scholars?—A. No, sir; not until there was some talk recently.

Q. 136. You heard the boys handled them and talked of burning them?—A. No, sir; I never heard any such thing; I brought the box away.

Q. 137. Do you not recollect upon what candidate or candidates any discrepancy existed between you and the assistant clerk?—A. No, sir.

Q. 138. Whose count was adopted, yours or that of the other clerk?—A. I think that he yielded to my count.

Q. 139. Do you think your account was right?—A. Yes, sir; I thought so.

Q. 140. Did you know of anybody having the key to this box beside yourself?—A. No, sir.

Q. 141. You only marked down the ballots as the judges gave them to you at the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 142. There must have been a mistake in one, for there were only 110 ballots cast, and one of them did not have any State officers. There might have been a discrepancy there as to State officers?—A. I think there must have been a discrepancy there, because counting these, it makes only 110.

Q. 143. Now as to this loose ballot, was the loose ballot read that was struck out?—A. I cannot answer that; I found them in the box when I drew the cover off.

Q. 144. Well, from the looks of the piece that was struck out, did it have the appearance of being a torn ballot?—A. Yes, sir; it struck me that it was a torn ballot.

Recross-examination:

Q. 145. As I understand, these ballots were pulled up towards this crack in the box?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 146. You found them in the bottom?—A. I adjusted these pieces that were torn off before I started home.

Q. 147. Did you say that as the discrepancy now is that there are only 110 votes for State officers any way, 110 for all State officers, according to the returns?—A. Yes, sir, according to the poll-book.

Q. 148. Now if there were only 110 for State officers in the box, is that the result?—A. Yes, sir; I have come to that conclusion.

Q. 149. Would that be a reasonable conclusion if part of the tickets were taken out?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 150 Would you suppose that there could be a possibility of one ticket being taken out?—A. Yes, sir; they might have taken any number, more or less.

Q. 151. Which of the judges called off the votes?—A. They took turns. One judge sorted out five tickets, then while he was calling off, another judge sorted out a number, it is my impression.

Q. 152. Did each judge call out what he sorted himself?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 153. They were all engaged in it?—A. Yes, sir.

Redirect examination:

Q. 154. How many ballots were cast for township officers and for the all other officers?—A. 110.

Q. 155. Is that correct?—A. Well, township clerk has 102, and for justice there were 92, and for another justice 91, also for assessor 93, township trustees 85.

Q. 156. Is it true that there was one vote for township officers alone and that the poll-books show 110 ballots cast for all?—A. Yes, sir; that is all at the election.

Q. 157. And this 110 you find in the box?—A. Yes, sir; 110 ballots in the box.

Q. 158. And one of them never had State officers on it?—A. No, sir.

Recross-examination:

Q. 159. Do you mean to say that the same bollots cast there are the same ballots found in the box now?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 38. What was your age when you left Canada to come to the U. S.?—A. 17 past.

Q. 39. How far is this place where your parents live from the line between Canada and the U. S.?—A. About 13 miles; somewhere along there. I cannot tell exactly.

Q. 40. Do you know what has been said in your family as to the place in which you were born?

(Objection for the reason that it is hearsay.)

A. Pope's Mills, in York State.

Q. 41. How often did you hear that said?—A. A good many times.

Q. 42. Was that before you came here?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 43. Did you ask them where you were born at any time?—A. Yes, sir.

(Objection, hearsay.)

Q. 44. This is what they told you?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 45. Who told you, your father?—A. My mother; my father was killed in York State.

Q. 46. How long did you understand that your parents lived in York State?—A. A number of years.

Q. 47. Do you know from what was told you, of what was in the family, whether your father was a citizen of New York when he lived there?—A. Yes, sir, he was married there; he married my mother there.

Q. 48. Now when you made inquiry as to where you were born, was it as to whether you had a right to vote?—A. No, sir, I don't know anything about it.

Q. 49. How old were you when you were first told you were born in New York?—A. Ever since I can recollect, I can remember of them telling me that my father ran a mill there.

Q. 50. You understood from your family affairs and matters that your mother came from New York, and your father and mother lived there?—A. Yes, sir, I have been at the place.

Q. 51. Your father was a citizen of New York?—A. I suppose so.

Q. 52. Have you been at the place?—A. Yes, sir; eight years ago.

Q. 53. Have you no grandparents living there?—A. No, sir, but I have other relatives.

Q. 54. What other relatives?—A. Cousins.

Q. 55. What place did you say that it was?—A. Pope's Mill.

Q. 56. What county is it in?—A. I don't know exactly; in St. Lawrence county; I know it is pretty close to the border.

Q. 57. How old are you now?—A. 22.

Q. 58. Was this last fall your first vote?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 59. You came to Iowa when—seventeen?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 60. Are you married?—A. No, sir.

Q. 61. Have you no relatives here?—A. No, sir, not that I know of; I have some west of here.

Q. 62. Your mother now lives in Canada?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 63. Have you brothers or sisters there?—A. Yes, sir.

Redirect examination:

Q. 64. Which side of the St. Lawrence River are Pope's Mills?—A. South side.

Q. 65. What was your father doing at Pope's Mill?—A. Running a mill there.

Q. 66. He used to work there running a mill, did't he?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 67. How long did he run it?—A. I don't know; several years.

Q. 68. Where did you and your mother live when your father was killed?—A. In Canada.

Q. 69. How old were you when he was killed?—A. About ten years old.

Q. 70. You had lived there in Canada from your earliest recollection? You learned that your father was engaged in running a mill when you were born in New York?—A. Yes, sir.

Recross examination:

Q. 71. How old did you understand you were when your parents moved from N. Y to Canada?—A. I was not quite two years old.

MARY EASTMAN, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, a notary public for Marshall County, on this fifth day of March, '83, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. H. Bradley appearing of the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. Age, 23; am a resident of Caroll Co.; occupation, teaching.

Q. 2. Have you been teaching school in Washington Township?—A. Yes, sir; I have.

Q. 3. What neighborhood is that in?—A. It is in Washington Center No 6.

Q. 4. That is the district where Mr. Wyatt lives?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. Is that the school house where the Nov. election was held?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 6. When did you begin teaching there?—A. Latter part of Nov.

Q. 7. You may state if you saw the ballot box of Washington Township in the school-room during the time you were there.—A. Yes, sir; it was sitting on one of the shelves during the whole time.

Q. 8. Do you know of its being open during the time it was there?—A. I do not

Q. 9. Have you been there every day of the school?—A. I went home one noon during the fore part of the term; some time during the first two weeks.

Q. 10. The rest of the time you were there?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 11. During the time outside of that one day, was that ballot-box disturbed by any of the scholars?—A. I don't know that it was—I don't know that it was open. The ballot-box was taken down one day; one of the scholars sat on it during play.

Q. 12*a*. You may state if you have opened it.—A. No, sir.

Q. 12*b*. Did you ever disturb it or see it disturbed other than that?—A. No, sir.

Cross-examination:

Q. 13. You were there all the time that the school was open during the days you taught, except this noon?—A. I have never left the premises I think at any other time during recess or noon.

Q. 14. You don't mean that you have been in the school-house all the time?—A. No, sir; not in doors all the time.

Q. 15. Do you know whether the school-house was used for any other purposes?—A. Yes, sir; for church, sabbath school, and literary societies.

Q. 16. When did the literary society meet?—A. It met near Christmas or New Years; I think the first meeting was near that time at any rate.

Q. 17. How often did it meet, do you know?—A. It met every week only when it was stormy; that is, most every week, I believe.

Q. 18. Was it used in the evening for literary society?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 19. Were you there in the evening?—A. I attended all the literaries.

Q. 20. Who opened and shut the school-house those evenings?—A. I have never been there when the school-house was opened or when it was closed; I think it was opened and closed by the scholars, but cannot state.

Q. 21. Who opened it for church and Sabbath school?—A. Well, I have never been there when it was opened, but I believe it was opened by Elmer Stouffer, who builds the fires.

Q. 22. Did you hear anything said of the box being opened?—A. I have heard them speak of it.

Q. 23. Who did you hear them say had opened the box?—A. I heard one of the scholars speak of Jesse Siebert; I don't know whether they said he opened it or not.

Q. 24. Did you hear anything said of them having a key and opening it?—A. I heard one of the boys say that one of the scholars had a key that fitted it; I did not see it.

Q. 25. Did you hear any of them saying anything about having ballots out of the box?—A. I heard one of the boys say that one of them was going to take the ballots; another one told him not to do it, that they wanted them; did not hear him state that they were taken out.

(Objection on the ground that the testimony is hearsay.)

Q. 26. Did you hear anything said that one of them said they had better burn them up, and another objected?—A. No, sir; I did not hear them say it; I heard it reported afterwards.

Q. 27. Did you know anything about the box being broken?—A. No, sir.

Q. 28. When you saw it, were there any ballots sticking out at any time?—A. I do not know that there were; I never noticed it in any way, further than that it was sitting there.

Q. 29. Was the literary society there every week?—A. Yes, sir, with one exception, I believe.

Q. 30. You attended every one?—A. Yes, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 31. You never saw the box disturbed at any literary meeting?—A. No, sir.

Q. 32. You may give the names of the scholars that attended your school.—A. The names of all my students?

Q. 33. Yes, ma'am.—A. Mr. Ezra Wyatt's family, to begin with.

Q. 34. Give the names and ages of the children as nearly as you can.—A. Florence Wyatt, 16, I believe; Laura Wyatt, 14; Johnnie Wyatt, 12. I don't know that I am giving them just correct, but as nearly as I can guess at it. Callie Wyatt, 7 or 8; Nellie Wyatt, 9 or 10. In the other family, Bine Wyatt, 18; Hattie Wyatt, 15; Charlie Wyatt, 13; Mary Wyatt, 12; Aggie Wyatt, 9 or 10. Also Mr. Staffer's family—Frank, 15; Elmer, 12 or 13; Ray, 11, I think; Stella, about 9 years old; Winnie, 14 years old. Also Mr. Seibert's family—Jessie, Libbie, and Charlie; Rob't Blakely, 19, I believe; George York, 14, I think; Mary Gruer, 14; Willie Gruer, about 12; Miss Mattie Kanedy, about 7; I don't know whether I have given them all or not; Archer Buchan, about 11; Tom Cope, about 8. I don't think of any more.

Q. 35. Did you make inquiry among your scholars to see whether anything had been disturbed anywhere about those boxes?—A. Yes, sir; I have asked them about it.

Q. 36. Did you find whether there had been any disturbance?—A. I think the children said that the box had been disturbed and opened.

Q. 37. Well, did they state whether they disturbed any ballots?—A. They did not state, to my knowldge, that they had disturbed any of them.

Q. 38. Did you know who it was that opened it?—A. I don't think I can say who opened it.

Cross-examination:

Q. 39. How many children attended your school; give the greatest number.—A. Well, at no time more than 25, I think.

Q. 40. How many people attended those literary meetings?—A. I cannot give the number; the house has been crowded.

Q. 41. 50 or more?—A. Yes, sir; more than that.

Q. 2. What is your age?—A. I am 12 years old.

Q. 3. Do you know who built the fires in the school-house during the present winter?—A. On Sundays I built them, and on week days my brother.

Q. 4. Which one of your brothers?—A. Ray Stouffer.

Q. 5. Is he here?—A. No, sir.

Q. 6. Did you attend school there?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 7. Do you know anything about the ballot-box being opened there?—A. Yes, sir; I remember it was opened.

Q. 8. Who opened it?—A. I cannot say who opened it; I think Frank Stauffer and Jesse Siebert.

Q. 9. Was anything taken out of it?—A. No, sir; we had one ticket partly read and school called, and we put the box up and went to our seats.

Q. 10. Do you know anything about a torn ticket?—A. No, sir; I don't know anything about a torn ticket in the box.

Q. 11. Was only one pulled off?—A. No, sir; not pulled off.

Q. 12. Was it opened more than once?—A. I think that it was open a couple of times.

Q. 13. Were you there both times?—A. I was there one morning, some of the boys put a clay man in; that is all I remember about it being open.

Q. 14. Were the tickets ever taken out of the box or unstrung?—A. No, sir.

Cross-examination:

Q. 15. How did they get the box open, Elmer?—A. I didn't see the box opened; I wasn't in that time.

Q. 16. Did they shut it or lock it up?—A. I don't remember.

Q. 17. You were not there when they opened it?—A. No, sir; I came in to see Frank; he was holding the box in his hand.

Q. 18. They had the box open when you came in?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 19. You went away when they shut it?—A. No, sir; went to my seat just as the bell rang.

Q. 20. You didn't see them shut it?—A. No, sir.

Q. 21. You don't know whether they locked it or not?—A. No, sir.

Q. 22. You don't know how they got in the box?—A. No, sir.

Q. 23. You don't know that they unlocked it?—A. No, sir.

Q. 24. You don't think that they had any key to it?—A. They had keys there; I didn't know whether they had keys to the box or not.

Q. 25. You don't know whether they a key to unlock it?—A. No, sir.

Q. 26. You saw it open twice?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 27. And you didn't see any of the ballots taken out when you were there?—A. No, sir; not a ballot taken out while I was there.

Q. 28. Was there any ballots torn while you were there?—A. No, sir.

Q. 29. Wasn't there any piece detatched from the rest?—A. No, sir.

Q. 30. Who were those you say who opened it, or had it opened?—A. I didn't know who opened it, but Frank Stauffer, and Jesse Seebert held the box.

Q. 31. How were they holding it?—A. In their hands.

Q. 32. Standing up, were they?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 33. Didn't sit down and put it in their laps?—A. No, sir.

Q 34. What did they say when they had the box opened? What did they talk about?—A. I don't know; I don't remember.

Q. 35. Just at that time school called, and you went in?—A. I was in a couple of minutes before school called.

Q. 36. Who was in the room when you came in?—A. Most of the scholars and the teacher.

Q. 37. Anybody else looking at it?—A. Yes, sir; most of the scholars were looking at it.

Q. 38. You didn't see the ballots out of the box at all?—A. No, sir; I didn't see the ballots out of the box.

Q. 39. When was this?—A. I don't remember.

Q. 40. How long ago?—A. I don't know how long.

Q. 41. How long was the box open?—A. It was open two or three minutes after I went in.

Q. 42. Was it in the early part of the term or the latter part?—A. It might have been three or four weeks ago.

Q. 43. How long was it open until it was shut up and put away?—A. I don't know when they did open it; it was open when I came in.

Q. 44. How long was the recess?—A. It was at noon; we have an hour for noon.

Recross-examination:

Q. 45. Was this noon?—A. Yes, sir; or recess.

Redirect:

Q. 46. Did you attend the lyceum?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 47. Did you ever see the box open there?—A. No, sir.

Q. 48. Did you attend all the meetings of the lyceum?—A. All but two.

Q. 49. You never saw it open at any of these meetings?—A. No, sir.

Q. 50. Did you attend church and Sabbath-school?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 51. Did you ever see it open at any of these meetings?—A. No, sir.

Q. 52. Never saw the preacher look at it?—A. No, sir.

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. Age 17 years, and place of residence in Washington Township, Marshall County, Iowa.

Q. 2. Did you attend school in that township?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. In what district?—A. Number 6.

Q. 4. How frequently did you attend school?—A. Nearly every day; only missed four or five.

Q. 5. Have you been there at school all the time?—A. Generally went home for dinner.

Q. 6. Were you present at any time when that ballot-box was opened in that room?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 7. Who opened it?—A. I cannot say who did open it; I had the ballot-box in my hand and it was opened with my key, but I do not know who opened it. Some of the scholars had my key, but I do not know which one had it.

Q. 8. How long was it open?—A. About five minutes, or nearly that.

Q. 9. Was it locked up again?—A. No, sir; it wasn't.

Q. 10. They didn't lock it?—A. No, sir; it was put back on the shelf unlocked.

Q. 11. You may state if you disturbed the ballots at the time that it was opened?—A. No, sir; they were picked up and put back in again.

Q. 12. Did you shut the box?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 13. Do you know of its being open at any other time?—A. No, sir; I didn't.

Q. 14. Did you know that any ballots were taken out, changed, erased, or new ones put in at the time it was opened?—A. No, sir; there wasn't.

Q. 15. Did you attend lyceum at your school every night; did you see the ballot-box opened any time at the lyceum?—A. No, sir; I saw it down twice, but never saw it opened. I merely passed by, some one had it open; I did not look at it, but he had it open when I passed.

Q. 16. Do you know anything about pieces of tickets being torn off?—A. No, sir.

Cross-examination:

Q. 17. Mr. Stauffer, when was this that the box was opened?—A. I cannot say; it might have been along in December; towards the fore part of the term, I think, or else the first of January.

Q. 18. Now you say that it was opened with your key?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 19. Sure that it was not locked?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 20. How many scholars?—A. I cannot say just how many; three or four girls; four or five boys.

Q. 21. How large are the girls?—A. About fifteen, or sixteen, or seventeen.

Q. 22. It was indoors that the box was opened?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 23. Nearly everybody knew it?—A. Yes, sir; nearly every scholar in school knew it.

Q. 24. Did nearly everybody know that it was locked?—A. Yes, I guess so.

Q. 25. Were the scholars and boys all around there at the time?—A. Yes, sir; all taking their seats.

Q. 26. What time were you at the lyceum when you saw the box opened after that?—A. At recess during the lyceum, about 10 o'clock at night.

Q. 27. What time was that, in December or January?—A. I think that it was afterwards, along the fore part, or rather the last of January.

Q. 28. When you saw the box opened at the lyceum meeting, was it after that that you saw it opened in school?—A. Yes, sir; I saw it done several other times.

Q. 29. Did you know anything about pieces being split off?—A. No, sir.

Q. 30. Then pieces were not split off to open the box?—A. No, sir; I guess the box was opened with a key.

Q. 31. Then Mr. Wyatt was under the impression that it was unlocked when he took it away. It is quite reasonable?—A. Yes; I am almost certain that it was unocked.

Q. 32. Do you know when Mr. Wyatt took it away?—A. Yes, sir; I was there in school.

Q. 33. That was only three weeks ago?—A. No, sir; I think not over two weeks.

Q. 34. How many times have you seen the box down, being used as a seat or otherwise?—A. I saw it in school when it was used as a seat; also another time.

Q. 35. Did you hear anybody say that they had the ballots out of the box?—A. No, sir.

Q. 36. You didn't suppose there was anything wrong in looking at them?—A. No, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 37. Never saw any ballots taken out of the box?—A. Never saw it opened but once; never saw any taken out.

Q. 33. All the school knew it was opened, did they?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 34. Do you know that the box was locked at all?—A. No, sir; I don't know that.
Q. 35. You don't know whether it was shut up or locked?—A. No, sir; I don't.
Q. 36. You don't know that it was opened at any time at noon?—A. No, sir.
Q. 37. Did you take out any ticket, or read it at this time?—A. I was going to take out one and read it, but it was fastened to the string, so I put it back in, and school was called when I put it back.
Q. 38. Was the teacher there?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 39. It was indoors that the box was opened?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 40. Everybody knew that the box was opened, and could be opened there at school?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 41. Didn't the school attend the lyceum?—A. Yes, sir, all of them.
Q. 42. How many times was the box taken down to your knowledge?—A. Once was all.
Q. 43. Did you see these pieces split off of it?—A. No, sir.
Q. 44. The lid was off when you saw it taken off?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 45. Did you see the key, or know of anybody having a key to it?—A. No, sir.
Q. 46. Hear anybody say who opened it?—A. No, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 47. You say that you held that box all the time?—A. Myself, and Mr. Frank Stauffer.
Q. 48. Still you cannot say who opened it?—A. No, sir; I cannot say that.
Q. 49. Was it you who opened it?—A. No, sir.
Q. 50. How long was it kept open?—A. Just a couple of minutes.
Q. 51. Not over two minutes?—A. No, sir.
Q. 52. It was closed, was it?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 53. And fastened?—A. I could not say as to that.

Recross-examination:

Q. 54. You say it was open two minutes; did you see it opened?—A. No, sir.
Q. 55. Then it was open when you saw it?—A. They had it there; I don't know who opened it.
Q. 56. You mean that you was there after it was opened, while it was open?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 57. You don't know but what it was open half an hour before you saw it?—A. No, sir; it was not open before.
Q. 58. Was it opened then, after you went there?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 59. You held it all the time?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 60. You took it off the shelf?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 61. It was held in your hand, was it?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 62. Somebody opened it?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 63. You don't know who?—A. No, sir.
Q. 64. Whether they had a key or not, you don't know?—A. I expect so, if it was locked.
Q. 65. Do you suppose, that they had a key to it?—A. I don't know.

Redirect by contestant:

Q. 66. Do you know of the ballot box being disturbed at the lyceum?—A. No, sir.
Q. 67. You attended all the lyceums?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 68. It was not disturbed to your knowledge at the lyceum?—A. No, sir.

ROBERT BLAKELY, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, notary public for Marshall County, on this 5th day of March, 1883, and examined before me, Eldon Moran, notary public and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. H. Bradley, on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. My age is 17 years; I reside in Washington County, Iowa; my occupation is that of going to school, and working on a farm.
Q. 2. You may state if you attend school in that district, No. 6, in that township this winter?—A. Yes, sir, until lately.
Q. 3. Did you attend up to the time they had the ballot-box there?—A. The ballot-box was not taken away when I left school.
Q. 4. Did you attend the lyceums?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 5. Did you know of the ballot-box being opened?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 6. How many times?—A. Once.
Q. 7. When was that?—A. I cannot say exactly; along some time in December.
Q. 8. Who held the box?—A. Frank Stouffer and Jesse Seibert held it; I don't know who opened it; some one drew the lid back; one took hold of the ballots and held it up, and made the remark that it was strung up; they put them back in; after a while they shut the lid, and then put the box up.
Q. 9. You may state if you saw any of the ballots taken out or removed.—A. No, sir; not taken out. I saw one taken up by the corner and lifted up by the string. Not taken clear out; just enough to see that they were strung.
Q. 10. Were there any ballots changed or altered? The string was not untied at that time?—A. No, sir.
Q. 11. You attend the lyceums?—A. Yes, sir; I did when it was convenient, only when it was stormy. There were no lyceums on such evenings.
Q. 12. State if you saw the ballot-box opened during the lyceums?—A. No, sir. I was not there. Lots got there before I did.
Q. 13. You don't know of its being opened at any time?—A. No, sir.
Q. 14. When the lid was shoved back the ballot-box was tightly closed, was it?—A. Yes, sir.

Cross-examination:

Q. 15. Did you attend all the lyceums?—A. Yes, sir; all but when it was stormy.
Q. 16. Do you know who they were?—A. Mr. Buchanan and Wesley Smith. I don't know whether they got into the school-house or not.
Q. 17. Were you there when the school-house was opened for the lyceum?—A. No, sir. I was there one evening; the school-house was unlocked that evening. I got there the first. I was among the first, and the school-house was unlocked.
Q. 18. Who was there that evening when you got there?—A. A crowd went up, and we all went in together.
Q. 19. When you got there you found the school-house unlocked. Who was in the school-house when you went in?—A. Nobody in; it was empty.
Q. 20. So the school-house was not locked?—A. No, sir.
Q. 21. Now, those young people who attended lyceums attended school?—A. Yes, sir; most of the school was there.
Q. 22. Most everybody at the school knew that the ballot-box was left unlocked?—A. Yes, sir; I suppose so.

Q. 23. It was left unlocked?—A. Yes, sir; I guess so. I did not see any one lock it.
Q. 24. You did not see it locked?—A. No, sir; just saw them put the lid back.
Q. 25. Then it wasn't locked when they opened it this time?—A. No, sir; I did not get there in time to see them unlock it.
Q. 26. Were you there when they shut it up?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 27. Didn't lock it then?—A. No, sir.
Q. 28. Did everybody know that it was not locked?—A. No, sir.
Q. 29. Everybody at the lyceum knew that it was not locked?—A. I don't know; a good many probably knew.
Q. 30. Do you know whether the school-house was usually left unlocked?—A. I should judge they did leave it unlocked after school—after the lyceum; I think so as a general thing, to my knowledge; I don't know that, only one evening I got there first.
Q. 31. How long did they have the ballot-box open while you were there?—A. I don't know; it might have been two or three minutes, I guess.
Q. 32. Well, there wasn't any accuracy about the fact that the ballot-box had been opened?—A. No, sir; everybody knew it that wanted to know about it.
Q. 33. If anybody had asked you, you would have said yes?—A. Yes, sir; I was not ashamed of it.
Q. 34. Did you tell anybody at the time that the ballot-box had been opened?—A. I don't know that I ever did; only Mr. Stone came out there; he is the first one I ever told, I believe.
Q. 35. You told him that the box had been opened?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 36. When was that you told Mr. Stone?—A. I don't know exactly; a little over a week ago; I don't know exactly what time it was when he was there.
Q. 37. Was that when he was out to see Mr. Wyatt to get the ballots counted?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 38. Mr. Stone told you what he wanted, and asked you what he wanted to find out?—A. Yes, sir; whether the ballots had been changed or not, or any taken out; he asked me if the box had been opened; that was about the only question he asked me.
Q. 39. You told him promptly that it had been opened?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 40. Did you hear of it being opened at any other time?—A. I heard something about a clay man being put in and taken out.

Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. I live in Washington Township, Marshall County, Iowa; I live in school district No. 6; I am 14 years old.
Q. 2. State if you attend school in district No. 6?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 3. Do you know anything about the ballot-box of Washington Township being opened?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 4. How long was it open?—A. About five minutes.
Q. 5. Who opened it?—A. I don't know who did; Frank Stauffer and James Seibert held it.
Q. 6. Was that the only time you ever knew of it being opened?—A. I made a clay man, James Wyatt and Ray Stauffer put it in the box; I took it out; I did not touch anything; I slid the cover and took it out, and shut it up again.
Q. Never a ballot was touched, to your knowledge, the time you raised the lid to look in?—A. No, sir; that is all.
Q. 8. You never saw any ballots taken out or put in?—A. No, sir.
Q. 9. You attended school every day?—A. Some days I did. Well, one week I stayed out; I was sick two or three days.
Q. 10. Outside of that you attended school?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 11. You attended lyceums?—A. Yes, sir; all but one night.
Q. 12. Never knew of the box being opened then?—A. Yes, sir; I was there all the time, except when I was sick.
Q. 13. How long was the box kept open?—A. About five minutes.
Q. 14. Were you standing by all the time?—A. No, sir; I came in just as the cover was slid back to look at it.
Q. 15. You were there until it was shut?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 16. Nothing was taken out while you were there?—A. No, sir.

Cross-examination:

Q. 17. Do you know who unlocked it?—A. No, sir.

Q. 18. Do you know that it was locked at all?—A. No, sir; I don't know; I just came in.

Q. 19. You know that it was not locked when it was shut up?—A. No, sir; it was not locked; it was left unlocked.

Q. 20. You afterwards pulled the slide back to put it in?—A. No, sir; James Wyatt and Ray Stauffer put it in; I went to take it out and slide the cover back and shut it up again.

Q. 21. This clay man was in the first time you opened the box?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 22. How long was this clay man in the box?—A. I don't know; a good while.

Q. 23. Some weeks?—A. I think between one and two weeks; I cannot say for sure.

Q. 24. Did you see anybody else take the box down and handle it?—A. No, sir.

Q. 25. Was there quite a number present when you took the clay man out?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 26. Watched you do it?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 27. They would say that it was not locked at all?—A. Yes, sir; just the scholars; I suppose that they knew that before.

Q. 28. How many do you suppose there were that knew that the box was not locked?—A. I do not believe there were any.

Q. 29. How many were there that knew that the box was not locked?—A. I do not believe there were any that knew that the box was not locked.

Q. 30. How many were there; 25?—A. Miss Bina Wyatt was not there; I cannot say as to others; that is the only one that I know was not there for sure.

Q. 31. The rest of the scholars were there, you think?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 32. You know about this being opened; you did not change the ballots yourself?—A. No, sir.

Q. 33. Did you see any change?—A. No, sir.

Q. 34. You did not know but what a good many were changed?—A. I would not swear but what a good many were changed when I was not there.

JACOB RANDALL, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, notary public for Marshall County, on this 5th day of March, A. D. 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, J. H. Bradley on part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. I am not quite 72 years old; reside in Marietta, Marshall County; my principal occupation is that of postmaster. I hold nearly all the township offices, and attend to that, too.

Q. 2. Were you one of the officers of the November election; and if so, what office did you hold?—A. I was clerk of Marietta Township, and also clerk of the board at the time of the election; have been for the last ten years.

Q. 3. Have you the ballots in your possession cast at the November election, 1882, for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. How has that ballot-box been kept since that time, and where has it been kept?—A. It has been kept in my office under two or three locks and keys, in a bookcase I have in the back office. When I go out I generally lock the door.

Q. 5. Has anybody changed or handled the votes since the election?—A. No, sir; not since I locked them that morning.

Q. 6. Does the ballot-box contain the identical votes that were cast at that election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 6. You may open the ballot-box and count the votes.—A. It has been opened last week some time. Some inquiries were made about the votes one Sabbath day. Instead of going to church I opened the box, I looked over the ballots, and counted them; also looked to see if there was anything wrong about them, and then covered them up. When I counted the ballots over I had a paper. I marked each one as I came to it, so as to know if it were the same ballot or not. They were all in there just as they were at first.

Q. 7. You may open the ballot-box now, in the presence of the commissioner, and state how many votes were cast for the office of Representative in Congress, and how many for each candidate.

(Witness proceeds to open the box and count.)

(Contestee objects that the evidence is incompetent, and then the witness continues to count the ballots.)

A. There is only one ticket about which there is any doubt. I think that is the one on the outside. You may all look at that, and look at the ballots to satisfy yourselves that the ballot was not counted.

Q. 8. You may state how that ticket was voted. Describe it.—A. That is what I cannot tell you anything about. It was doubled up as other tickets are, pretty much as it is now, when it was put in the box. Some person voted it that I reckoned wanted to vote for Frederick. I don't know anything about the ticket that was taken out of the box—I mean that when I read it I remarked that it was a ticket for Wilson and Frederick both. I said we would not count that ticket.

Q. 9. You may state how the Congressional names appeared on the ticket.

(Witness reads it.)

A. It says for Representative in Congress, 5th district, Benjamine T. Frederick, of Marshall County, and James Wilson, of Tama County.

Q. 10. How is the Benjamine of Marshall County on the ticket?—A. Well, the ticket was a Democratic ticket. There is mucilage in the office. I suppose it was aimed to be pasted right over Wilson's name.

Q. 11. The name of Frederick is pasted immediately over Wilson's, is it?—A. Yes, sir; there are two or three pasted in that way. The others are pasted over so as to hide it.

Q. 12. You may attach that ticket to your answer to this case, I mean the ticket that was not counted.—A. Here is another ticket with James Wilson's name marked off, and no other name on it.

Q. 13. Were these counted for Wilson?—A. No, sir.

Q. 14. How many tickets were there in that box, and how many for Frederick?

(Witness examines poll-book of Marietta Township.)

A. James Wilson, 81; B. Frederick, 37; David Platner, 5.

Q. 15. Is that additional to this ticket that the commissioner has marked in evidence?—A. Yes, sir; it was that one that was not counted.

Q. 16. If this ticket were counted Frederick would receive 38, would he not?—A. There was no ticket counted for Frederick, only as I have told you.

Q. 17. How many tickets are there in that package, and have you compared them since the election for Congress?—A. 123.

Q. 18. How many of them, then, are there for James Wilson?—A. 81 counted for Wilson; then there are two, I think—I am not certain; but there is one in which his name has been crossed out; 126 ballots cast, and that one marked in evidence make two for Congress; I think there is one more where the name is crossed.

Cross-examination:

Q. 18. You did not count the ticket you spoke of because the names of both candidates were upon it.—A. How is that?

Q. 19. You did not count the first ticket because the names of both candidates were upon it, is that so?—A. Yes, sir; then there is one for each of them with their names crossed out entirely.

Q. 20. It plainly appears, does it not, on the face of this ticket, that it was a ticket for Frederick, also a ticket for Wilson?—A. Yes, sir; that is the way that I would read it; that was the way that it was read there; it was plain that the man intended to do something and failed, and the vote was not counted.

Q. 21. Does not this ticket read as follows: For Representative to Congress, 5th dist., B. F. Frederick, of Marshall County; James Wilson, of Tama County?—A. This is the ticket, and it is attached, marked B:

Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. H. Bradley on the part contestee):

Q. 1. You may state if you are the auditor of Marshall County, Iowa, and have the poll-books that were returned to you from Washington Township.—A. I have.

Q. 2. Now take the poll-book and read, so the commissioner can take it down, and give the number of votes for each candidate for Congress in Washington Township.

(Witness examines the poll-book.)

A. You just want the certificates just as they were returned?

Q. 3. Yes, sir.—A. For Representatives in Congress there were 110 votes, of which James Wilson had 45, and B. T. Frederick had 52, and David Platner 13.

Q. 4. Is that the number of votes that were returned in the abstract made by the county canvassers for each candidate?—A. Yes, sir; it is the same number.

Q. 5. Turn to the poll-book of Marietta Township.—A. Yes, sir; I have it.

Q. 6. State how many votes were returned from Marietta township for the office of Representative in Congress, as shown by the poll-book, and read from the poll-book, so that the commissioner may take the same down?—A. For Representative in Congress, 5th district, there were 123 ballots cast, of which James Wilson had 81, B. T. Frederick had 37 votes, David Platner had 5 votes.

Q. 7. Have you the poll-book of Legrand township?—A. Yes, sir; I have.

Q. 8. Turn to the poll-book of Legrand township and state how many votes were cast for each candidate for the office of Representative in Congress, 5th district?—A. For the office of Representative in Congress, 5th district, there were 268 ballots cast, of which James Wilson had 180, B. T. Frederick 78, and David Platner 5 votes.

Q. 9. State if your returns from Washington township are the abstract of the votes made by the county canvassers for the township of Marietta and township Bangor, were the same as shown by the poll-book? Also, the same as to Washington township?—A. I will have to look and see.

Q. 10. First I will ask you if you have a copy of the returns made by the county canvassers of the State canvassers?—A. Yes, sir; I have

Q. 11. Now state as to this township. First take Washington township. How many votes were returned for the office of Representative in Congress to the State canvassers of Washington township?—A. For James Wilson 45, for B. T. Frederick 52, for Platner 13.

Q. 12. Now take Marietta?—A. James Wilson 81, B. T. Frederick 37, David Platner 5; this compares with the book.

Q. 13. Now take Legrand township?—A. Schedule shows Wilson 180, Frederick 78, and Platner 5, just the same as I read from the poll-book.

Q. 14. Now state the result of Bangor?—A. For the office of Representative in Congress there were 85 ballots cast, of which James Wilson had 75, B. T. Frederick 2, David Platner had 12. The abstract shows Wilson 75, Frederick 2, Platner 12.

Q. 1. You may state, if you know, what ticket Wesley Horner voted at the November election, 1882, for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. He voted for Frederick.

Q. 2. Did you see the ticket?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. You may state whether he knew whether he voted for Frederick or not before he voted?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. How did he know it?—A. I told him what the ticket was; I told him that the ticket was a Republican ticket with Frederick's name on, and that it was a Democratic.

Cross-examination:

Q. 5. You told him that Frederick was a Democrat?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 6. That is, when you gave him the ticket, was it?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 7. You told him that when you gave him the ticket?—A. I told him when I first offered him a Democratic ticket. He did not want it. Then I said that I had a Republican ticket, with the exception of one man, and that was Frederick, for Congress, and that he was a Democrat.
Q. 8. Did you tell him that this exception was a Democrat, and who was the Democrat candidate for Congress?—A. Yes, sir.

P. C. CARTER, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, notary public for Marshall County, on this 5th day of March, and examined before me, testifies as follows (J. H. Bradley appearing on the part of contestee; T. Brown on the part of contestant):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. 51 years of age; residence, Bangor, Marshall County, Iowa; in mercantile business.
Q. 2. Were you one of the clerks of the Nov. election, '82, in which the electors of Bangor Township voted for Representative in Congress?—A. No, sir; not clerk; I was one of the judges of the election.
Q. 3. Have you in your possession the ballot-box for Bangor Township?—A. Yes, sir; I have.
Q. 4. How long have you had it in your possession?—A. Since about 11 o'clock to-day.
Q. 5. Is the clerk of the election here to-day? Where did you get the ballot-box?—A. I got it; it was in the possession of Squire Hayworth. The clerk at that time resigned his office, and is now in Kansas, and placed the ballot-box in Squire Hayworth's possession.
Q. 6. Do you know where he placed it in his possession?—A. No, sir; I did not. It was about two weeks ago that I left. I presume at that time he placed it in his hands.
Q. 7. You were one of the judges at the Nov. election?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 8. How were the tickets left in the box at that election?—A. They were strung on a string and placed back in the box.
Q. 9. Have you seen the ballots in the box since the election?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 10. When did you see them?—A. It is probably some two weeks ago; I don't remember just when. Mr. Stone came up there and wanted the trustees to come and recanvass the votes, but there was no one present but me. I got the box, and he and I and my partner, Mr. Coffin, examined the ballots.
Q. 11. Do you know how many ballots were cast for each candidate?—A. Well, from the returns there were 63 for Mr. Wilson, 12 for Mr. Platner, and I think for Mr. Frederick there was one ticket having no State officer voted for at all, making in all 86 ballots.
Q. 12. You may state when you examined them again whether you found the same number for Mr. Wilson.
(Objection to the question because it is not shown that the ballots have not been changed. It is not shown that there was no party to change the ballots.)
Q. 13. How did the ballots compare at the time you opened the box; how did their appearance compare with the ballots as they were left on the night of the election?—A. I could not see any change.
Q. 14. They were tied in the same manner?—A. Yes, sir; as far as I have knowledge they were tied. I presume they had been under lock and key, as far as I know.
Q. 15. Who had the key?—A. Mr. Hayworth had it in his possession when I got the box to-day.
Q. 16. Was he judge of the election?—A. No, sir.
Q. 17. He is a magistrate there, is he?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 18. What are his politics?—A. I think he is a Republican.
Q. 20. What are the politics of the clerk?—A. Both Republican.
Q. 21. Now, I will ask you how many ballots were cast for James Wilson, as shown by the ballots now in the box?—A. 69 is the number we counted.
Q. 22. Are there 69 ballots for James Wilson in the ballot-box now?—A. I am of the opinion that the name of Mr. Wilson is scratched on one of these ballots. Mr. Stone and I decided that it was.
Q. 23. Did Mr. Stone handle any of these ballots?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 24. Did he scratch any of them?—A. No, sir.
Q. 25. Are you certain that he did not change any ballot?—A. I am positive.
Q. 26. Can you find the ballot that was counted for Mr. Wilson and that is presumed to be scratched?—A. Yes, sir; I think so.
Q. 27. You may do so, and present it to the commissioner and have it attached to your deposition.
(Witness proceeds to examine the ballots.)
A. Here is the ticket.
Q. 28. Who counted the ticket?—A. Mr. Kirk.
(Ticket marked Exhibit "C.")
(Witness produces Exhibit "C," and it is as follows:

A. (Witness continues.) I guess, since I come to think a little more, I made a mistake in the number for each candidate; there were 86 ballots the way we counted, 2 for Frederick—I guess 71 instead of 69.

Q. 29. I will ask you if you have recounted the ballots since the election?—A. Mr. Stone and I counted them over one day that I was over there.

Q. 30. How many ballots did you find for James Wilson, as Representative, in the box?—A. Mr. Stone and I counted them; by not counting that one that was erased, there were 70, I think,

Q. 31. You have no doubt but that the ballot was erased, have you?

(Objection. The ballot will show for itself whether it is erased or not.)

A. I think that it is erased, by its appearance.

Q. 32. What time did they count the ballots, in the day or night time?—A. By lamplight.

Q. 33. Were these ballots counted singly or in packages of fives?—A. They were counted in packages of five as long as they tallied; after that, they counted singly.

Cross-examination:

Q. 34. Who took the tickets out of the box?—A. I did, myself.

Q. 35. Did you examine them in so doing?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 36. What did you do with them then?—A. I took them to Mr. Crook.

Q. 37. Who called them off to the clerk: who was the other judge of the election?—A. Mr. Willets.

Q. 38. What did Mr. Willets do?—A. He strung them on a string.

Q. 39. Did he examine them as he strung them on a string?—A. I can't say; I think not.

Q. 40. Do you think he did not look at them as he strung them on the string?—A. I cannot say; I think not; not very minutely.

Q. 41. How many people were standing around at the time?—A. I think there was no one, part of the time.

Q. 42. Any one besides the judges and the clerks you mean?—A. No, sir; no one but the board; a part of the time some others were in there; one or two.

Q. 43. You don't say that this ticket you have now attached was exhibited that night?—A. No, sir; it was unobserved by the board.

Q. 44. Now, when did you first observe the erasure?—A. When Mr. Stone and I were looking over the ballots.

Q. 45. That was two weeks ago, was it?—A. Some two or three weeks ago, I don't remember definitely.

Q. 46. You have not had the ballots yourself, and have not had possession of the ballot-box?—A. No, sir.

Q. 47. Who did you say kept it?—A. They were kept by the clerk; he resigned about two weeks ago; then he placed them in the hands of Squire Hayworth.

Q. 48. He resigned about how long ago?—A. Something like two weeks ago, I should think, not to exceed three weeks.

Q. 49. You know where he kept them?—A. In the office.

Q. 50. Where is the clerk now?—A. He has moved to Kansas.

Q. 51. What is his name?—A. Climer.

Q. 52. When he went away he delivered them to Mr. Hayworth?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 53. You did not see them from the time of the election until Mr. Stone came up there for the purpose of counting them?—A. No, sir.

Q. 54. Can you tell from the appearance of the ticket whether the erasure was made before or since the canvass?—A. Can I tell from the appearance of it?

Q. 55. Yes, sir.—A. No, sir; I cannot.

Q. 56. Are the tickets in the box with Wilson's name erased?—A. I think there is only one.

Q. 57. Are there any there with Frederick's name erased?—A. I believe not; I cannot be positive about it.

Q. 58. You don't know, do you, whether this ballot-box has been kept locked all the time, do you?—A. No, sir; I don't.

Q. 59. You don't know that it has been examined into?—A. I could not say as to that.

Q. 60. You have not heard the clerk say that it has not been opened?—A. No, sir.

Q. 61. Mr. Hayworth is a justice of the peace?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 62. He was not one of the judges of election?—A. No, sir.

Q. 63. Nor clerk of the election?—A. No, sir; not on the election board at all.

Q. 64. Leaving it with him would be like leaving it with any stranger?—A. Yes, sir.

(Contestant objects to the question as not proper and leading.)

Q. 65. That would be so, would it not; in no more official custody in his hands than in the hands of anybody else?

(Contestant objects to the question as not proper and leading.)

A. I cannot say that it would.

Q. 66. When Mr. Stone came there what part did he take in the vote?—A. I took the ballots out in this way; held them in my hands; he looked over them as I turned them, I believe; as to the part he took, we just hunted for Wilson's name on each ticket to find how many ballots we could find with his name on not erased; in counting over the whole number we found his name on 71 ballots; then that one with the pencil mark.

Q. 67. Who first suggested to you to count this ballot—did Stone?—A. Yes, sir; he is the only one that said anything about it. I had no knowledge of its being voted until told that they were looking it over that day.

Q. 68. What did Stone want it counted for?—A. Well, I think, as near as I can remember, that we or they or some one said something to the effect that we were going over all the precincts of the Congressional districts examining the ballots to see whether there were any errors or not, when he stated that in the different townships around us he had found more or less mistakes wherever they had been, and that they wanted the privilege of examining ours, thinking, probably, they might find some little error there. He said they had found mistakes everywhere they had been; sometimes in favor of Wilson and sometimes in favor of Frederick.

Q. 69. Did he say where they had been, and where they had counted the ballots?—A. Yes, sir; I believe that was it.

Q. 70. Did they say they were going to count the ballots in every precinct?—A. That is my impression.

Q. 71. Did he suggest that there was any mistake in these ballots?—A. In our township?

Q. 72. Yes, sir.—A. No, sir; I think not. He rather insinuated that there was a probability of it.

Q. 73. Can you conceive of any way in which he could have found out except by getting into the box?—A. I cannot, unless he employed some one else to do it.

Q. 74. When you were counting those ballots on the night of the canvass, did you suppose you were counting them correctly?—A. Yes, sir; I did.

Q. 75. What kind of a light did you have, and how many?—A. I think some three lamps, in a small room.

Q. 76. Have you had no trouble in seeing pencil-marks on this ticket in ordinary light?—A. No, sir.

Q. 77. Have you any trouble in seeing with such a light as you had on that night?—A. No, sir; I think not, if I had been careful. I might have overlooked it.

Q. 78. You mean if it was there?—A. Yes, sir; I mean that.

Q. 79. Well, did Mr. Stone have this ballot in his hand, did you see, at the time of the canvass?—A. I don't think that he did; I think I kept them in my own hands all the time. Well, sir, I cannot remember; he might possibly have had hold of them; it is my impression that he did.

Q. 80. Did you take them off the string?—A. No, sir; I was a little suspicious about it; thought there might be some kind of a snide about it; I was rather careful.

Q. 81. Where is Mr. Crook?—A. He is at home, I presume.

Q. 82. At Bangor?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 83. And the other judge of elec ion—is he there?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 84. What is his name, did you say?—A. Willets.

Q. 85. Mr. Stone was there, claiming to be in the interest of Mr. Frederick, as his agent?—A. He did not state in whose interest he did this.

Q. 86. You don't know, then, whether in the interest of Mr. Frederick or not?—A. No, sir.

(Objection to Exhibit C being attached with part of the Bangor records.)

Redirect:

Q. 87. How is that ballot erased in Exhibit C—how is the name of James Wilson erased?—A. It has the appearance of being erased by one pencil-stroke across it.

Q. 88. Is that erasure very clear; or is it an erasure that might be overlooked in counting the ballots?—A. I should say that it is one that might have been overlooked.

(Paid as fee by contestant.)

I, Eldon Moran, a notary public and commissioner, agreed upon by the parties to take testimony in this cause, in pursuance of the annexed agreement, attached to the testimony of J. L. Adams, whose testimony was taken Feb. 22, 1883, do truly certify that on the 5th day of March, 1883, in pursuance of the notice hereunto annexed, I took the deposition of the following-named witnesses: Ezra Wyatt, R. E. Leech, Mary Eastman, Elmer Stauffer, Frank Stauffer, Charlie Wyatt, Jessie Siebert, Robert Blakely, George B. York, A. N. French, Wm. Ernst, Jas. K. Johnson, R. E. Strang, Jeremiah Picket, Jacob Randall. P. C. Carter, whose testimony is set forth in the following manner: Each witness was first sworn by me duly, or caused to be sworn, in my presence, as provided by law, and when sworn the questions were propounded to him by the respective parties—Benjamine T. Frederick, contestant, and James Wilson, contestee, by their respective att'ys, and the question by me read to the witness, who answered the same, and his answer, in the language of the witness, was by me taken down under each question propounded, and reduced to writing until the deposition was completed.

I further certify, when the testimony of each witness was taken I carefully read the same over to the witnesses, who corrected the same, and each correction noted, and said testimony was then signed by the witness and sworn to by him before me.

I further certify that T. Brown & Carney appeared as counsel for the contestant, Benjamine T. Frederick, and J. H. Bradley appeared as counsel for James Wilson, contestee.

In witness whereof I have set my hand and seal notarially, this 5th day of March, A. D. 1883.

No. 1.

v.
WILSON. } Testimony.

TRAER.

STATE OF IOWA,
Tama County, ss:

Deposition of witnesses produced before me, Eldon Moran, a notary public and commissioner, agreed upon to take testimony, and duly sworn by E. T. Langley, a notary public for Tama County on this 2nd day of March, '83, in the town of Traer, in pursuance of the notice hereunto attached, in a proceeding pending before the House of Representatives of the United States of America, in a contested election for the office of Representative in Congress, in which proceeding Benj. T. Frederick is contestant, and James Wilson, contestee; Brown and Carney for contestant; E. T. Langley, for contestee.

The following testimony was taken before me:

STATE OF IOWA,
Tama County, ss:

JOHN ROBERTS, being produced and sworn before E. T. Langley, a notary public for Tama County, on this 2nd day of March, A. D, 1883, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, F. T. Langley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. John Roberts; 33 years old; reside in Carroll Township, Tama County, Iowa; I am a farmer.

Q. 2. Did you hold any official position in that township in '82, and if so, what?—A. Township clerk.

Q. 3. Have you the ballot-box of Carrol Township in your possession?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. In what condition has it been kept since the election in Nov., '82?—A. Good condition, I guess.

Q. 5. Has it been kept sealed?—A. No, sir.

Q. 6. Has it been out of your possession?—A. No, sir.

Q. 7. Has any one handled the ballots, since they were placed in the box after the election?—A. Well, it has not been out of my charge at all. I opened it and took out some books, and took books home in it.

Q. 8. It has been in your possession all the time?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 9. And the ballots are intact?—A. Yes, sir; just as they were.

Q. 10. You may in the presence of the judges that have been sworn in that township open the box, count the votes for the office of Representative in Congress, and state how many each candidate received.

(Witness proceeds to count the votes.)

Att'y objects to the ballot-box being opened or the ballots being counted as not being the proper way to determine the matter.

(Assisted in the count by H. C. Cochran and John Hill.)

Q. 11. What is the result of the count?—A. Wilson, 49; Frederick, 43—there is one ballot with Wilson's name written and Frederick's not scratched. It is a Democratic ticket with Wilson's name written on with a lead pencil, and Frederick not scratched.

($1.55 paid as witness fee by contestant.)

JOHN ROBERTS.

STATE OF IOWA,
Tama County, ss:

JOHN G. BULL, being produced and sworn before E. T. Langley, a notary public for Tama County, Iowa, on the 2nd day of March, A. D. 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows: T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, E. T. Langley on the part of contestee:

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. John G. Bull; age, 39; am a farmer; reside in Buckingham Township.

Q. 2. Were you one of the clerks at the November election, 1882, in which the electors voted for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. Have you the ballot-box, ballot, and poll-book of that township in your possession?—A. I have had the poll-book ever since the township book were turned over to me.

Q. 4. How long have you had the ballot-box?—A. Since this morning; the keys have been in possession of the clerk, but I have the keys at present.

Q. 5. You may state if this poll-book is one of the poll-books of Buckingham Township, Tama County, Iowa.—A. Yes, sir; it is.

Q. 6. Look at the poll-book. [Witness examines it.] State how many votes the poll-book shows were cast for the office of Representative in Congress for each candidate as shown by the poll-books?—A. As shown by the poll-book, 104 ballots were cast for the office of Representative in Congress. James Wilson had 61 votes; Benjamin Frederick had 43 votes.

Q. 7. State whether any error was made in the return by the board of township canvassers to the board of county canvassers from Buckingham Township for the office of Representative in Congress, and also, if so, what that error was?

(Attorney for contestee objects for the reason that the books and ballots would be the best evidence to show whether or not there was any error made.)

A. What I would say in answering that question would be this, that I have not seen the poll-book since we canvassed the votes in the township.

Q. 8. You didn't make out the poll-book?—A. No, sir; it was returned as this is written, 43, but the tally in that book didn't correspond; the tally here was 38, that is in the other book as we have it, second hand, and we believe it.

(Attorney objects to the witness stating contents of the poll-book, not being the best evidence.)

Q. 9. You may return to the written returns; also read it to the clerk, for the office of Representative in Congress.—A. 104 ballots were cast; James Wilson had 61 votes, B. T. Frederick had 43 votes.

Q. 10. Is that return correct?—A. Yes, sir; I believe it is.

Q. 11. I will ask you if you have re-counted the ballots at any time since the election?—A. I have not seen them since the election; if they have been counted it was before I had charge of it.

Q. 12. You may now open the box, re-count the vote cast for the office of Representative in Congress for Buckingham Township, Tama County, and state the result to the commissioner.

(Attorney objects, same as before, that the books are the best evidence to show the facts in the case.)

Q. 13. You may state the result of the count.—A. We have re-counted the ballots; find 102 ballots were cast; Wilson received 61 votes, and Frederick 43.

CALVIN WORD being produced and sworn before E. T. Langley, notary public for Tama County, on this 2d day of March, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as ollows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and E. T. Langley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Did you vote at the November election 1882 in this precinct?—A. I believe so.

Q. 2. For whom did you vote for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. I think I voted for James Wilson, as near as I can remember.

Q. 3. Did you ever reside in Canada?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. How long?—A. Well, I don't think I can tell you.

Q. 5. Did you ever reside there with your family part of the time? Did you ever vote there?—A. Yes, sir, I have; we moved into Canada when I was 12 years old.

Q. 6. Did you ever vote in Canada?—A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. 7. Have you ever been naturalized?—A. No, sir; I was American, born in the State of Vermont.

Q. 8. How came you to vote in Canada?—A. Because the law allowed me to vote.

Q. 9. Where did your parents live?—A. They lived in the State of Vermont, where I was born.

Q. 10. Where did they move to?—A. In Canada.

Q. 11. Were they Canadian people?—A. No, sir; neither father nor mother. Mother was born and raised there in Vermont; father was born in the State of Massachusetts and raised there.

Q. 12. You lived in Canada, and voted?—A. Yes, sir; but didn't vote very many years; I think that I voted three times for member of Parliament, since I can recollect.

Q. 13. Did you ever, under the laws of Canada, quit your allegiance to the United States and become naturalized there?—A. No, sir; it was not the law there, if a person lived so long in a country he was naturalized by that law, so that I never had occasion, or any of my folks had occasion, to take up arms against the United States.

Q. 14. You were born in the United States?—A. Was born in Vermont; I guess that is in the United States; they used to call me in Canada, Yellow Bellied Jacket.

Redirect:

Q. 15. How long did you live in Canada?—A. I think that I have been in this country 16 or 17 years; at the first election when General Grant was elected.

Q. 16. How old were you when you went to Canada?—A. 12 years of age.

Q. 17. How old are you now?—A. I am almost 74.

Q, 18. Then you lived in Canada from the time you were 12 years old until Grant's election?—A. I think it was Grant's election; he was first elected after I came.

Q. 19. Did you come here about the time of Grant's election?—A. I came here the spring after Lincoln's assassination.

Q. 20. That was in 1866?—A. Yes, sir.

Cross-examination:

Q. 21. Did you mean the spring of his assassination?—A. No, sir; the next spring. I moved into the country the next spring; any householder or tax-payer there was entitled to vote.

Redirect:

Q. 22. How long did he have to live there?—A. A certain length of time.

Q. 23. Was it a number of years before he could vote?—A. Yes, sir; a number of years.

ROBERT PROVEN, being produced and sworn before E. T. Langley, notary public for Tama County, on this 2nd day of March, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant and E. T. Langley appearing on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Were you clerk of Buckingham Township in 1882?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 2. Have you the ballot-box in your possession?—A. No, sir; it was in the possession of one of the trustees, but I have always had the key in my possession.

Q. 3. Have the ballot-box and ballots been disturbed since the election that you know of?—A. Yes, sir; looked over.

Q. 4. When were they looked over?—A. I don't remember the day; but it was done in the presence of the two trustees.

Q. 5. Were the ballots put back in the box?—A. Yes, sir; never one of them taken off the string.

Q. 6. Never any changed?—A. No, sir.

Q. 7. Can you tell how many votes James Wilson received for the office of Representative in Congress by the ballots cast?

(Objection, not the best evidence; record best evidence.)

Q. 8. Also, look at the poll-books.

(Witness examines it.)

A. Wilson, 61.

Q. 9. How many did Frederick receive?—A. 43.

Q. 10. State whether there was any error made in the return you made to the county canvassers?—A. Yes, sir; one tally.

Q. 11. That one tally was five votes?—A. Yes, sir; that was omitted.

Q. 12. Who was it omitted against?—A. It was omitted against Frederick.

Q. 13. Did you make the return?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 14. You have examined that poll-book, haven't you?—A. It was returned to Toledo.

Q. 15. You know that tally was omitted?—A. Yes, sir.

Cross-examination:

Q. 16. All you know about the poll-book that has gone to Toledo is what you have heard others say?—A. Yes, sir; that is all.

Q. 17. You made it, didn't you?—A. I called it out; didn't notice the mistake; I wrote it out of the list in the book 43; there was one tally omitted; I didn't carry the returns to Toledo; one of the trustees did that.

Q. 1. What is your name, age, residence, and occupation?—A. O. Gravatt; age, 50; Buckingham Township.

Q. 2. Were you one of the judges of the election held in November, 1882, in which the electors of your township voted for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. State if you know whether any error was made in the return of the votes sent to the board of county canvassers of your township for the office of Representative in Congress, and what that error was?—A. I have no knowledge of any error, only by hearsay.

Q. 4. Now, state if you ever assisted in counting the votes, and had an examination of the poll-books from your township?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. And ballots?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 6. State how many ballots James Wilson received in Buckingham Township, and how many Frederick received for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. Wilson received 61 votes, and Frederick received 43.

Q. 7. Is that shown by the ballots counted in the presence of the commissioners to-day?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. J. C. Wood; age, 56 years; reside in Buckingham Township; am a farmer.

Q. 2. Were you one of the judges of the November election, 1882, when the electors of that township voted for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. You may state how many ballots were shown by the poll-book and returns were cast for the office of Representative in Congress, and how many each candidate received.—A. 104; the poll-book returned to Toledo shows five short of that, from hearsay. However, I think that I know nothing of it; Wilson read 61, and Frederick would have had 43.

Q. 4. State if you assisted in re-counting the ballots since the election?—A. Yes, sir; it was done at my house.

Q. 5. You may state if that count corresponded with your testimony here to-day as to the number each received.—A. Yes, sir, with our count here to-day.

Q. 6. That was the same count you actually made on the night of the election when you canvassed the votes?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 1. Were you one of the judges of Buckingham Township at the November election, 1882?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 2. Did the electors of your township vote for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. How many votes were received according to the second canvass?—A. B. T. Frederick, 43; James Wilson, 61.

Q. 4. Have you recounted the ballots since the election?—A. Yes, sir; but not until to-day, and here.

Q. 5. Do the ballots correspond with your first count?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 6. You may state whether that was a true count that you made the night of the election.—A. Yes, sir; it was.

W. H. BOWEN, being produced and sworn before James Fowler, notary public for Tama County, on this 2nd day of March, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and Stivers appearing on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Were you one of the clerks of the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 2. Do you know Mr. Haveland?—A. No, sir; I don't know him.

Q. 3. Have you the poll-books of the November election in your possession?—A. Yes, sir; I have.

Q. 4. Please look at them and see if you find the name of Frank Haveland?

(Witness examines the books.)

A. Haveland? Yes, sir.

Q. 5. Do you remember of his voting at the election?—A. I have no recollection of his voting whatever.

Q. 6. You have stated that you were one of the clerks of the election. I will ask you who has had custody and control of the ballot-box since the election?—A. I have.

Q. 7. Has it been in your possession all the time?—A. Yes, sir.

(Objected to by the contestee on the ground that it is improper examination and immaterial.)

Q. 8. Now, Mr. Bowen, state whether or not the ballots in the box that has been in in your possession have been meddled with or disturbed since the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 9 You may state whether or not since the election referred to you have counted the ballots; if so, in the presence of what official?—A. Of the clerk.

(Contestee objects to the question on the ground that it is not proper examination; also it is irrelevant, there being no such issue.)

A. I have, in connection with the judges of the election, that served that day.

Q. 10. Name them, if you please.—A. Andrew Law, Nathan White, Wm. Keith; also W. B. Gillespie, who was clerk.

Q. 11. Now you may state, Mr. Bowen, what was the result of your count here to-day.

(Contestee objects on the ground that it is irrelevant and not proper cross-examination.)

Q. 12. State the whole number of votes, and the number which the contestee and contestant received, as the result of your count here to-day.

(Contestee objects on the ground that it is irrelevant, and not proper cross-examination.)

A. There were for Wilson by the count 297 votes.

Q. 13. Give us the whole count.—A. 297 for Wilson; 100 for Frederick, according to the count to-day.

Q. 14. Now, the whole number of votes?—A. There was one blank vote, making 398 votes cast.

Q. 15. Now you may state what the books show, if you have the book in your possession? State what the book shows the count was, as counted and returned to the board of canvassers?

(Contestee objects, it not being the book transmitted to the auditor of Tama County, and therefore not being the best evidence.)

A. The copy of the book transmitted shows for Wilson 296; for Frederick, 100.

Q. 16. State whether you know this is a correct copy of the book transmitted to the board of canvassers?

(Same objection as above.)

A. Yes, sir; to the best of my knowledge.

Q. 17. I will ask yon if you were subpœnaed by the contestant, Mr. Frederick, to appear here and make this count to-day?

(Contestee objects to the question on the ground that it is immaterial; this point not being in dispute.)

A. Yes, sir; I was subpœnaed to bring the box and ballots.

Q. You may state whether or not, by the attorneys of the contestant, if you were directed to count the ballots in the box?

(Contestee objects to the question on the ground that it is immaterial, and not competent.)

A. Yes, sir; I was.

JAMES FOWLER, being produced and sworn before E. T. Langley, notary public for Tama County, on this 2nd day of March, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and E. T. Langley appearing on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Do you know a man by the name of Frank Haveland?—A. I think that I do.

Q. 2. Did you see him here at the election?—A. Yes, sir; I did.

Q. 3. Do you know that he voted?—A. I will tell you in two or three words all I know about it.

(Objection.)

Q. 4. Answer the question.—A. That is something I can't state.

Q. 5. State just what you know about how he voted.

A. I met him the day of the election. I didn't know him, but asked him to vote for me; I was candidate for clerk; he says to me, "I have got a ticket," and he held it up to me with my name on it, also with Wilson's name on it; I was going to vote for you and Wilson, but I don't think I am a voter; I asked him where he lived; he said, at Mike Forney's, out here; I asked him when he came into the State, and he said about the middle of August; I said I didn't think he was a voter; I was busy; I didn't spend much time on him; in the course of an hour or two he told me that he had voted; he said that the judges only asked him how long he had been in the county.

(Objection as not being responsive to the inquiry; 2nd, irrelevant and immaterial; 3d, not the best evidence, it being simply hearsay.)

Q. 6. Tell if you are a citizen of the township or precinct.—A. Yes, sir; I think so.

Q. 7. Are you pretty well acquainted with the inhabitants of the township?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 8. Did you know of this man before the day of the election?—A. No, sir; I didn't. Mike Forney had told me what somebody else had told him, that there was such a man working for him.

(Objection.)

Q. 9. You say you saw the ticket the man had with Wilson's name on it, and that he proposed to vote?—A. Yes, sir; I had my name on with Wilson's; I was interested. I cannot state what he did—only what he said.

Q. 10. Was he a stranger in the township and county?—A. Yes, sir; only by hearsay do I know him.

Q. 11. When did you first hear of his being here?—A. Well, I think it was about five weeks; I was electioneering for Mike, and told him of this fellow working for him.

(Objection.)

Cross-examination:

Q. 12. You said you were personally acquainted with this young man?—A. No, sir; I didn't say that.

Q. 13. To what you have said in reference to the length of time he has resided here and his voting too, that what he told you or some one else?—A. No, sir; he told me and Linsely on the sidewalk; he said that he would—that he intended to—but didn't think he had lived in the State long enough.

Q. 14. I am not asking you what he said; you needn't tell a long story. Did you know of the limits of the length of his residence on it—what he told you or somebody else?—A. Yes, sir; that is all.

Q. 15. You learned it from somebody else?—A. Yes, sir; of course.

(Wilson.)

Q. 16. Did he say that he voted for Wilson?—A. I could not swear to that; he said he got it in.

Q. 17. What in?—A. The ticket.

Redirect:

Q. 18. Did he tell you where he lived at that time?—A. He told me that time that he went immediately out to Mike Forney's when he came in here; that he came in here on the train, got off, and went out to Mike Forney's.

Q. 1. Where were you born?—A. In Canada.

Q. 2. How long have you lived here in the United States?—A. 18 years the first of this month.

Q. 3. Did you vote at the November election, 1883, this precinct?—A. Yes, sir; I did.

Q. 4. Who did you vote for for Representative in Congress?

(Objection, it not being shown whether he is a legal voter or not.)

A. I won't be required to answer that.

Q. 5. Whom did you vote for for Representative in Congress?—A. Will I be required to answer that?

Q. 6. Yes, sir; you will not be liable to indictment.—A. I voted for Mr. Wilson.

Q. 7. Were you ever naturalized in this country?—A. I was naturalized on the 4th of April in 1865.

Q. 8. Have you got your papers?—A. I have got my papers, but not here; I have them at my brother-in-law's in Minnesota.

Q. 9. How many times were you before the court?—A. I took out my naturalization papers the 4th of April, 1865, and on the same day I took a homestead.

Q. 10. You only took out one set of papers?—A. Then in 1871 I took out my homestead.

Q. 11. Well, did you have to take out but one set of papers?—A. I am not certain about that; it seems to me I did, because I could not take my homestead without.

Q. 12. Have you but one set of papers?—A. That I could prove by sending up there, because I have been from one place to another for a good while. Then I was careless.

Q. 13. Were you ever before the court and sworn with relation to your naturalization papers more than once? I mean, to take out one paper from the clerk?—A. No, sir; I do not think it was, because they said all the time.

Q. 14. Was that before the clerk or court?—A. Before the court.

Q. 15. You then declared your intention of becoming a citizen, did you?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 16. That was the only time you were before the eourt?—A. They said I would revoke the use of my homestead papers.

Cross-examination:

Q. 17. You say that when you went you were sworn before the court; you were before the court?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 18. You are not positive whether you took out one or two sets of papers?—A. No, sir; not positive.

Q. 19. You took out such papers as informed you entitled you to a vote?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 20. Since that time you have been voting?—A. Yes, sir; they said in 6 months afterwards I was a legal voter.

Redirect:

Q. 21. Did you go before the court 6 months afterwards and be sworn and introduce any witness?—A. No, sir.

Q. 22. You never went before the court again?—A. No, sir.

Q. 1. What is your age?—A. 41.
Q. 2. How long have you lived in Tama County?—A. 12 or 13 years; I don't know exactly.
Q. 3. Where were you born?—A. In Canada.
Q. 4. Present any naturalization papers you may have to the commissioner.—A. I haven't them on my person; I have them at home.
Q. 5. Have you ever taken out more than one set of papers?—A. I am not positive of more than one paper.
Q. 6. Have you one paper, then, at home?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 7. You haven't two?—A. No, sir.
Q. 8. You never were in the army?—A. No, sir.
Q. 9. You voted at the November election, 1882?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 10. For Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 11. Who did you vote for?
(Objection—it is not showing that he is an illegal voter.)
A. I voted for Wilson.
Q. 12. Were you ever before the court but once and got papers?—A. No, sir; I am not positive.
Q. 13. Youhave no recollection of that, have you?—A. No, sir; only recollect one.
Q. 14. You have but one paper?—A. I told you that was all I had.

Cross-examination:

Q. 15. Were you ever a soldier?—A. No, sir.
Q. 16. You say you were born in Canada; where was your father born?—A. In Canada.
Q, 17. You remember of going before the court and taking out one paper?—A. Yes, sir; I think the 10th of May, 10 or 12 years ago, in Minnesota.
Q. 18. You haven't got that paper with you?—A. No, sir.
Q. 19. You don't remember what the coudition of it is?—A. No, sir; I can not remember now.
Q. You may state whether you were informed by parties who pretended to know that that was sufficient to give you authority to vote?
(Objection—hearsay.)
A. I asked the clerk whether it was sufficient to homestead on; he said it was. I took them out with the intention of going west on a homestead at that time.
Q. 21. You may state it so that the commissioner may get it down; that you have been voting right along at different elections.—A. Yes, sir, I have voted ever since my first vote.
Q. 24. You may state whether your father has been a resident of the United States all this time.—A. He was considered so in Clinton County; he voted at Grant's election; it was looked up by the parties who had challenged.

Q. 23. What is your father's name?—A. Calvin Ward.

Q. 24. He was accustomed to vote in Canada, wasn't he?—A. No, sir; not that I know of, I never voted there.

Q. 4. Did you vote at the November election, 1882, for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. I did.

Q. 5. Whom did you vote for?

(It is not shown that he is a legal voter.)

A. For Mr. Wilson.

Q. 6. Hand commissioner any papers of naturalization you may have.—A. I have not got mine. I did not suppose I needed them.

Q. State your occupation?—A. City marshal of Traer.

Q. How long did you say that you had resided in this county?—A. Since 1861.

Q. 9. How old were you before you came here?—A. You mean since I came here to stay? I was, off and on, in Michigan and Canada.

Q. 10. State whether your father was a citizen of the United States?

(Objection; Immaterial whether he was or not; also incompetent.)

A. Yes, sir, he was. I was working in Michigan at that time I became of age. I want you to understand that.

Q. 11. When did you leave Canada?—A. When I left Canada last, to stay in this country, I left in 1861.

Q. 12. How long did you live in Canada from your birth?—A. Until I was 17 years of age.

Q. 13. Where did you make your home permanently after that time?—A. In Michigan.

Q. 14. Were you still a minor? Where did your parents reside?—A. In Canada.

Q. 15. What doing in Michigan?—A. Lumbering.

Q. 16. Did you consider Canada your home then?

(Objection: Calling for information.)

A. Not so long as I lived in Michigan.

Q. 17. How often were you home during the time you were in Michigan?—A. I think three times.

Q. 18. Did you have any clothing or dressing material at home?—A. No, sir.

Q. 19. When you were living in Canada, were you living all the time at one place—I mean in Michigan?—A. I made my home in Port Huron, Michigan; was 17 years old then.

Cross-examination:

Q. 20. Your home has been in this country since you were 17?—A. I claimed it before I went to Michigan; it was in 1861, that is, for good.

Q. 21. Well, did you come back as if going home, or as on a visit?—A. I did not calculate that was my home.

Q. 22. Where was your father born?—A. In Vermont.

Q. 23. Your home has been in this country since you were 17?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 24. When did your father leave Canada?—A. In 1866.

Q. 1. Where do you reside?—A. In Traer, Perry Township, this county.
Q. 2. How long have you lived in Tama County?—A. About 18 years; I came here in 1865.
Q. 3. What is your age?—A. 38 or 39.
Q. 4. Where were you born?—A. In Scotland.
Q. 5. Did you vote at the November election, 1882, for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir, I did.
Q. 6. For whom did you vote?
(Objection on the ground that the vote is not yet shown to be illegal.)
A. I voted for James Wilson.
Q. 7. You may present to the commissioner any naturalization papers you may have.—A. I have my papers at home; I lost my first papers, also my discharge from the Army; I supposed there that I did not need any second papers.

Cross-examination:

Q. 8. You say took out your first papers, then had a discharge from the United States Army?—A. Yes, sir; I had a discharge, as Mr. Wilson knows; he was my witness.
Q. 9. Now, at the time you took out what you call your papers, did you go before the court or clerk?—A. Before the court.
Q. 10. Did you have a witness with you there?—A. Yes, sir; I had my discharge papers with me there.
Q. 11. Also a witness?—A. Mr. Wilson was my witness; that was the only one I was acquainted with at that time; I happened to be in Toledo.
Q. 12. Do you remember, in the oath you took, do you remember whether or not you swore allegiance?
(Objection by Brown; not best evidence.)
Q. 13. In the oath you took there you swore allegiance to the United States and renounced allegiance to the old country?—A. Yes, sir.

I, Eldon Moran, a notary public and commissioner, agreed upon by the parties to take testimony in this cause, in pursuance of the annexed agreement attached to the testimony of J. L. Adams, whose testimony was taken Feb. 22d, 1883, do truly certify that on the 1st day of March, 1883, in pursuance of the notice hereunto attached, I took the depositions of the following named witnesses: John Roberts, John G. Bull, Calvin Ward, Robert Provan, O. Gravatt, J. C. Ward, P. H. Mason, Andrew Law, W. H. Bowen, James Fowler, Robert Alway, Wm. Wade, J. C. Ward, Samuel Underhill, J. P. Morrison, Thos. Ward, Wm. Alway, Chas. Maxwell, whose testimony is set forth herein in the following manner: Each witness was first sworn by me duly, or caused to be sworn in my presence, as provided by law, and when sworn the questions were propounded to him by the respective parties, Benj. T. Frederick, contestant, and James Wilson, contestee, by their respective attorneys, and the question by me read to the witness, who answered the same, and his answer, in the language of the witness, was by me taken down under each question propounded and reduced to writing until the deposition was completed.

I further certify when the testimony of each witness was taken, I carefully read the same over to the witness, who corrected the same, and each correction noted, and said testimony was then signed by the witness and sworn to by him before me.

I further certify that T. Brown & Carney appeared as counsel for the contestant, Benj. T. Frederick, and W. H. Stivers appeared as counsel for James Wilson, contestee.

In witness whereof I have set my hand and seal notarially this 1st day of March, A. D. 1883.

THOS. H. WILLIAMSON, being produced and sworn before L. G. Kinnie, a notary public in and for Tama County, on this 6th day of March, A. D. 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and W. H. Stivers on the part of the contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. Age, 27; reside in Tama City, Tama Township, Tama County, Iowa.

Q. 2. What office, if any, do you hold?—A. Township clerk.

Q. 3. When did you qualify and enter on the duties of that office?—A. The 1st of January.

Q. 4. What year?—A. 1883.

Q. 5. Have you in your possession, and under your control the poll-book and ballot-box, and ballots cast at the general election on Nov., 1882, in which B. T. Frederick and James Wilson were candidates for Congress, in Tama Township, Tama County, Iowa?—A. Yes, sir; I have.

Q. 6. When did you receive possession of said poll-book, ballot-box, and ballots, and from whom?—A. I received possession of the poll-box and ballot-box from C.M. Birdsalls, and think that I received the poll-book on the 3d of Jan., and the ballot-box and ballots and receipted for them at the same time, and considered them in my possession, but they were in the shelving in Mr. Birdsall's store.

Q. 7. At the time you really received possession of the ballots and box, what was its condition as to being sealed or otherwise?—A. It was locked, but not sealed.

Q. 8. Who gave it to you?—A. It was then delivered to me and my attention called to the possession of it; I did not take it from there then.

Q. 9. How long did it remain there after it came into your possession?—A. Probably seven weeks.

Q. 10. What did you do with it then?—A. I took it to my place of business.

Q. 11. What was its condition after you took it to your place of business?—A. It was locked but not sealed.

Q. 12. Whereabouts did you keep it?—A. I kept it in a small room back of the stairs; in a back office.

Q. 13. In what is called the reception room or private room of the bank?—A. In behind the counter.

Q. 14. Has it been kept there from that time till this time?—A. Yes, sir; it has with the exception of the day we opened it; it was taken into the private office room.

Q. 15. As far as you know has it been in any way opened by anybody by consent or otherwise, or without your consent, and the ballots examined by any one in any manner, and if so, in what manner and under what circumstances?—A. They have not been opened or examined by any one except myself.

Q. 16. When was that?—A. It was one day last week; I have forgotten the day.

Q. 17. Where was it and who was present?—A. It was in the director's room of the bank.

Q. 18. The 1st National bank?—A. Yes, sir; Dr. Thompson, and H. McAlister, and Mr. Guernsey were present.

Q, 19. How did you open the box?—A. The key had been lost; it had been stated to me that there was no key to the box; I took a hatchet, pried open the box, and broke the lock.

Q. 20. Did anybody count the ballots there at the time?

(Contestee objects to the question because it is not shown that the box was kept and not handled by other interested parties.)

A. I read the ballots to these three parties present at Toledo.

Q. 21. Do you mean that you read them simply the candidates to Congress?—A. Yes, sir; simply the candidates to Congress.

Q. 22. Did any of the other gentlemen present handle any of the ballots at that time?—A. They did not.

Q. 23. What was the result of that count as to candidates for Congress, and how many votes did the count show were cast for Mr. Wilson, and how many for Mr. Frederick as Representative in Congress from the State of Iowa?

(Contestee objects to the question on the ground that it is not shown that these were the original votes cast at the election, nor that the ballot-box remained in the hands of the proper persons from the time of the election up to the time of the cross-examination.)

A. We found that B. T. Frederick had 218 votes, and James Wilson had 176.

Q. 24. What was done with the ballots in the box after the count?—A. I put the ballots in the box; the ballots were never taken out of the box; they were counted in this way, by being held up in this way; then they were dropped right back into the box and I took the box into my room in the store, put a lock on it, and locked it up and sealed it.

Q. 25. Has it remained so ever since?—A. Yes, sir; it has to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Q. 26. As I understand it you had the poll-book in your possession from the 2d or 3d of January continuously?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 27. Where was it kept?—A. With the other township books in the same room.

Q. 28. Will you please produce the ballot-box and ballots?

(Witness produces ballot-box.)

Q. 29. Is this the box which you have produced here before the commissioner, and also this poll-book and ballots, which were counted at the time you speak of; the poll-book, box, and ballots which were received by you from Mr. Birdsall, the former clerk?

Q. 30. Will you be kind enough, with the aid of the judges of Tama Township, to reconnt the ballots for member of Congress? Who were the trustees or judges of election for Tama Township?

(The ballots are recounted in the presence of the judges, Messrs. Fife, Day, and Jackson.)

Q. 31. Were these the old trustees?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 32. They served in '82, at the time of the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 1. Was there any one or both of the Democrats made application for an appointment of a member of the election board at the Nov. election, 1882, in Tama Township?—A. I was chairman of the township committee, and, as such, I asked the clerk to appoint a Democrat on the board.

Q. 2. Did you ask Mr. Birdsall, township clerk?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. Did he accede to your request?—A. He said that any one that I should nominate to the position should be put there, and I nominated Mr. J. H. Holland.

Q. 4. Was it done?—A. When he made his appearance there he was refused, and we put in Mr. Carmichael in his place.

Q. 5. Did you know anything about any votes being refused before the closing of the polls on the day of the election?—A. No, sir; not personally.

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. Age, 47 years; place of residence in Tama County, Iowa, at Tama City, and my occupation is that of an attorney at law.

Q. 2. Were you present on the day last week and at the time Mr. Williamson testified to when he opened the ballot-box of Tama City for Tama Township, State of Iowa, and the ballots cast for the candidate for Congress, 5th district of Iowa, and the ballots recounted by him and other gentlemen?—A. Yes, sir; I was present when the ballots were recounted at the time Dr. Thompson and J. J. McAllister were present the latter part of last week, I think.

Q. 3. Who counted and handled these ballots?—A. Mr. Williamson, township clerk.

Q. 4. Anybody else handle these ballots at all?—A. No, sir.

Q. 5. Did you keep tally of the ballots?—A. No, sir.

Q. 6 What was the result as to the No. of ballots cast for James Wilson and Benj. T. Frederick, candidates for Congress, 5th district of Iowa, in said township, county, and State?

(Objection, not shown that these were the original votes cast at the election nor that the ballot-box has remained in the hands of proper persons prior to the election up to the time of the cross-examination.)

A. There were tallied for Mr. Wilson 176 votes, and for Mr. Frederick 218 votes. I do notrecollect what the Greenback candidate's name was, but I think there were 10 votes for him, and one for Frederick, scattering.

Q. 7 Do you know for whom that scattering vote was cast?—A. I do not recollect, sir.

Q. 8. Neither for Frederick nor Wilson?—A. No, sir, I think not, if my memory serves me right, but for some horse or something.

Q. 9. You were there until after the ballots were put back?—A. Yes, sir; until Mr. Williamson started to go away.

Q. 10. With the box and ballots?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 11. I will ask you if you have examined these tally-books?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 12. Was that there at the time?—A. Yes, sir; I just footed up the number of votes cast for Congress and compared it with the tally-sheet. I noticed this discrepancy, 412 votes on the return sheet, 414 votes cast for Congress; that is all that I noticed particularly to-day.

Q. 13. Did you know Ellery Parks?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know where he resided in '82?—A. No, sir.

Cross-examination:

Q. 15. You say you found a discrepancy between the tally-list and poll-books?—A. No, sir; between No. of votes on the book and the counted number of votes cast for Congress.

Q. 16. You mean the number of voters who voted—that is, the list of voters kept by the board?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 17. You say you found 412?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 18. Counted votes for Congress?—A. It is the poll-book purporting to be the poll-book of the election held at the office of Mills and Guernsey, in Tama City, Tama County, Iowa, 7th November, '82. John Fife. H. Day. H. E. Rainsdell.

Q. 19. Whose book is this, clerk?—A. It is the one kept by the township clerk. Mr. Bridsall was township clerk then.

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of business, and occupation?—A. My age is 51 years, and my place of residence is in Tama City, Iowa.

Q. 2. How long have you lived in Tama Township, Tama County, Iowa?—A. 30 years and over.

Q. 3. Were you present on the day of general election, November, 1882, in said township, county, and State, at and during the time the ballots were being counted by the judges and clerks of the election?—A. I was, sir. part of the time they were counting, but not all the time.

Q. 4. During the time that you were present when the votes were being counted in said township, county, and State, state whether or not there was any discrepancy in the counts between the 2 clerks, and, if so, what was done with it by the judges and clerks?—A. Well, sir, at the latter part of the counting of the votes, the two clerks, in tallying up, discovered a discrepancy of five votes; Mr. Carmichael was five votes ahead of Mr. Birdsall on Mr. Wilson's tally.

Q. 5. You mean Mr. Wilson, the candidate for Congress?—A. Yes, sir; Mr. Birdsall tallied up five to make it even with Mr. Carmichael.

Q. 6. Did they go back and count the ballots to ascertain if it was correct?—A. No, sir; they did not.

Cross-examination:

Q. 7. That was toward the last, wasn't it?—A. Yes, sir; it was along there, probably.

Q. 8. The clerks conferred with one another until they were satisfied where the error was?—A. They conferred together in this way.

Q. 10. I don't care which way they did it; but they did it?—A. I don't know whether they did or not.

Q. 11. After they did confer together they corrected what they claimed was a mistake, didn't they?—A. They finally corrected it.

Q. 12. Was that after they conferred together?—A. Yes, sir; after they talked together of it.

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. Age, 43 years; reside in Highland Township, Tama Co., Iowa.

Q. 2. How long have you lived there?—A. 10 years.

Q. 3. What official position do you hold in that township, if any, and how long have you held that position?—A. I am township clerk, and have been for two years past; am entering upon second term of office as township clerk.

Q. 4. Have you in your possession poll-book, ballot-box, and ballots of said township which were used, and the ballots which were polled at the general election in Nov., 1883, in said township?—A. Yes, sir.

(Witness produces the same ballot-box, ballots, &c.)

Q. 5. This election, Mr. Wilson, wherein the voters voted for Jas. Wilson and Benj. T. Frederick for Representative in Congress, 5th district of Iowa?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 6. In whose possession has the ballot-box, ballots, and poll-book been from the time the ballot was counted until this time, from the night of the election, Nov. 7, 1882, until the present time?—A. In my possession.

Q. 7. What has been its condition as to being locked, sealed, or otherwise during this time?—A. It has been locked.

Q. 8. Been sealed?—A. No, sir.

Q. 9. Where have you kept it?—A. I have kept it in a room in the upper part of the house.

Q. 10. Has the box been opened or the ballots examined by anybody from the time the count was made in the night of the election until the present time?—A. Yes, sir; the box was opened.

Q. 11. By whom, and when?—A. Mr. Frederick and a man from Gilman came over and myself.

Q. 12. About when was this, do you recollect?—A. I cannot give the date, but I think some two or three weeks ago.

Q. 13. Who handled ballots at that time and counted them, if anybody?—A. I handled them myself.

Q. 14. Did anybody else, at that time or at any other time from the time of the count on the day of the election until the present time, count or handle the ballots except you?—A. I think Mr. Frederick strung the ballots.

Q. 15. Just before you had called them over, that is, did you or did you not put them back, and he strung them after you had read them?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 16. That is the way it was done?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 17. Did you keep a record of that count as to what the result was, and the tally of it, or did the other gentleman do that?—A. I had a paper and kept an account of them as they were polled. I haven't it with me.

Q. You did not tally yourself?—A. No, sir.

Q. 19. Who did keep tally, if you know?—A. Mr. Conningham, and Mr Benedict.

Q. 20. What was done with the ballots after this count? What did you do with the ballot-box and poll-book?—A. They were placed in the ballot-box again.

Q. 21. Been kept there ever since?—A. Yes, sir; they were.

Q. 22. Who were the judges of the election in that township, county, and State?—A. Mr. E. I. Fish, Jov. D. Sanborn, and Wm. Vosberg.

Q. 23. Who are judges of that election, and trustees of the township now?—A. H. J. Vosberg is one of the trustees, Mr. Sanborn, also Mr. Fish; there has been a man elected in Fish's place, but he has failed to qualify.

Q. 24. Then Mr. Sanborn is the only one present now of the trustees that was trustee or judge of election before?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 25. Won't you and Mr. Sanborn be kind enough to open ballot-box and canvass the votes for Representative in Congress as shown by the ballots therein?

(Witness proceeds to count ballots, assisted by Mr. Sanborn and by Mr. Fish.)

CHARLES A. WILSON recalled (being produced and sworn before me, L. G. Kinne, a notary public in and for Tama county, on this 6th day of Mar., A. D. 1883, and examined by me, testifies as follows: T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant and W. H. Stivers on the part of the contestee.)

Q. 1. Have you, in connection with Mr. Sanborn and Mr. Fish, made a recauvass of the votes cast in Highland Township, of Tama County, Iowa, for Representative in Congress, 5th district?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 2. What is the result of that canvass; how many votes were cast for Jas. Wilson, 5th dist., and how many for B. T. Frederick, as Representative in Congress, 5th district?—A. It appears from the canvass we have had, that Wilson has 80 votes and Frederick 35.

Q. 3. Did you examine the poll-books to see the returns on there; is that the one you have with you?—A. No, sir; not to-day, I did not.

Q. 4. Just take and examine it to see how the returns show on there.

(Witness examines poll-book.)

How many votes does that show cast for Mr. Wilson?—A. 81 votes for Jas. Wilson.

Q. 5. How many for Frederick?—A. 32 for Frederick; B. F. Frederick had one, and Ben. Frederick one.

Does the total number of votes as you have recanvassed them to-day compare with the number of names on the tally-list?—A. It compares correctly.

Q. 7. Means the same number?—A. Yes, sir; 128.

Q. 8. Did you find, in recanvassing to-day, did you find any ballots, and if so, how many, upon which the names of the candidate for Congress were scratched out and nobody voted for for that office?—Ans. We found six such.

Q. 9. Do you remember when the canvass was made on the night of the election of noticing ballots of that kind?—A. Yes, sir; of seeing them, but not of noticing them particularly.

Q. 10 What is your judgment as to whether or not the ballots you have here to-day are the identical ballots cast at the general election November, 1882, in which Mr. Wilson and Mr. Frederick were candidates for the office of Representative in Congress, 5th district of Iowa?—A. I think they are the identical ballots cast by the voters of that township: that there was one vote tallied for Mr. Wilson because of the fact that one of the votes was so dimly scratched that it would not be discoverable in the evening.

Q. 11. Plain enough to be seen in the daytime? Who is it for, is it not Mr. Wilson?—A. Yes, sir.

Cross-examination:

Q. 12. Have you that scratched ballot? Wish you would present it. (Witness examines the ballot for the purpose of finding it, and presents the ballot in question.) When did you first discover that this ballot had been scratched?—A. Some two or three week ago. I don't know just exactly.

Q. 13. Under what circumstances did you happen to observe it?—A. The day that Mr. Frederick was there was the first time they had been taken out.

Q. 14. Did Mr. Frederick handle these ballots?—A. He had them his hands, yes, sir; but not until after I had counted them.

Q. 15. Do you pronounce that a scratched ticket, Mr. Wilson?

(Witness examines the same.)

A. I would say that it was evidently meant to be scratched.

Q. 16. It is very dim, isn't it?—A. Yes, sir; it is dim. It would not be discovered in the evening.

Q. 17. Is it not about all you can do to discover that any attempt has been made upon it now; how is that? Does not that ballot look as though every attempt at a scratch or erasure that had been made had been rubbed out?—A. It looks to me as though it was possible that that scratch intended to scratch Wilson's name, or afterwards the intention was changed and an attempt made to erase it with a rubber pencil.

Q. 18. On the recount you made 35 for Mr. Frederick, that is, counting those scattering votes for B. T. Frederick and Ben Frederick; there were only two of these scattering votes?—A. This is a Republican ticket with Wilson's name scratched off.

Q. 19. But there were only two called of B. T. Frederick, and one for Ben. Frederick; how is that?—A. I am under the impression that the book that I returned to the court-house has three of these scattering tickets; this comes from an error of the clerk. I remember that I tallied only two scattering votes, when I should have tallied three. I am under the impression that the poll-books at the co. court-house has three scattering votes tallied; I may be mistaken, but this is my impression.

Q. 20. You may state whether you are not satisfied that it was the intention of that voter to rub out the erasure that was made.

(Objection, immaterial and incompetent.)

Q. Give us your best impression in regard to it.—A. That is the only conclusion that I can arrive at from the looks of the ticket; of course, I could not say in regard to the man's intentions.

Q. 21. Your best impression is all that we want.—A. That ticket was evidently tallied in the night time, and was not scratched enough to enable the judges to see it by lamp-light.

Q. 22. Now, is it not sure that the erasure or the attempt at an erasure or scratch, is so dim that when counting them over once your attention was particularly called to a hunt for scratched tickets you would still count that scratched ticket for Mr. Wilson. Suppose you were counting tickets to-day as to result of the election, to whom would you give that count?—A. I cannot see any other way only that I would consider that ticket a black, because there has been a lead pencil used on the ticket. Of course, what the person's intention was in regard to the matter, I am not able to say; of course, that is out of my power, but I am satisfied that that ticket was tallied to Mr. Wilson after the original canvass of the votes give Mr. Wilson 81, as the returns reported.

(As a part of the cross-examination of this witness we introduce these tickets in evidence, asking that it be incorporated in the record, marked Exhibit "D.")

Q. 23. At this time, when Mr. Frederick was there, when you counted the votes, I will ask you if before Mr. Frederick handled these votes or touched them, did not you run over them and arrive at the same conclusion you have here to-day?—A. No, sir.

Q. 25. I will ask you if before they came into his hands at all that you did not go over them and call them off?—A. Yes, sir; the tickets with Frederick's name on I called off the same as to-day I did. We did count them once before Mr. Frederick touched them; on the second count after Frederick touched them, we found them the the same way.

Q. 25. Did you notice the ticket "D" the same as the second count?—A. I do not know about but what Mr. Cunningham spoke about that. I am not positive in regard to that.

C. CUNNINGHAM, being produced and sworn before L. G. Kinne, a notary public in and for Tama Co., on this 6th day of March, A. D. 1883, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and W. H. Stivers on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. Age, 29 years; place of residence in Toledo, Tama County, Iowa.

Q. 2. Were you a member of the election board of Toledo Township, Tama Co., Iowa, at the general election, held in Nov., 1882, at which time Benj. T. Frederick and Jas. Wilson were candidates for Congress, and were voted for, for the office of Representative in Congress of the U. S.?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. What office did you hold in said board?—A. Township clerk.

Q. 4. How long have you been such township clerk?—A. About a year from the 1st of January.

Q. 5. Do you still hold such possession?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 6. Were you present at the time the polls were opened on the morning of the election, heretofore referred to?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 8. There was no announcement made that the same would be kept open in the evening, later than 6 o'clock?—A. No, sir.

C. CUNNINGHAM.

$0.85 paid as fees.

THOS. WILLIAMSON, recalled, testified as follows:

Q. 1. Since going before the commissioner this morning have you made, in connection with the judges, a recanvass of the ballots polled at the general election, 1882, in Tama Township, Tama County, Iowa, in which Wilson and Frederick were candidates for Congress, in this 5th district of Iowa?

(Contestant objects to the question, on the ground that it is not shown that these were the original votes cast at the election, nor that the ballot-box has remained in the hands of proper parties from the time of the election to the time of the examination.)

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 2. What was the result of said canvass, and how many ballots does it show were cast for the candidates for Congress in said town, county, and State? How many for Benj. T. Frederick and how many for James Wilson?

(Contestant objects to the question, on the grounds that it is not shown that these were the original votes cast at the election, nor that the ballot-box has remained in the hands of the proper parties from the time of the election up to the time of the examination.)

A. I found that B. T. Frederick had 218, and Jas. Wilson had 176, and B. Platner had 11, in counting the votes.

Q. 3. Have you examined the poll-book to see how the result you have arrived at now compares with the result shown in the poll-book used at the election?—A. I found that B. T. Frederick had 218 on the poll-book, Jas. Wilson 185, Platner 11, and 10 straggling.

Q. 4. How many ballots did you find in the box cast for member of Congress, altogether?—A. 405 ballots.

Q. 5. Does that include the ballots having upon each the name of a candidate for Congress? Was any of them scratched, and no one voted for for that office?—A. No, sir.

Q. 6. How many of such ballots were cast?—A. Six.

Cross-examination:

Q. 7. As you now find the ballots, that is the way you found them?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 8. You found the ballots with the name of the candidate for Congress scratched off; now tell us whose name was scratched off those six ballots?—A. I cannot tell that; they did not call them to me.

Q. 9. Won't you look now and see?—A. I only tallied.

Q. 10. Then this is simply as it was read to you by the former judges of the township, to-day?—A. Yes, sir; that is all.

JOHN FIFE, being produced and sworn before me, L. G. Kinne, a notary public in and for Tama County, on this 6th day of Mar., A. D. 1883, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant and W. H. Stivers on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. State your name, age, and place of residence.—A. Age, 53 years; reside in Tama City, Iowa.

Q. 2. How long have you resided in Tama Township, Tama County, Iowa?—A. I have resided in that township ever since it was organized—a good many years.

Q. 3. What position did you hold in said township in 1882, and do you hold the same position still?—A. Trustee of the township; I hold it still.

Q. 4. Since you came here before the commissioner this morning have you, with any one else, made a recanvass of the ballots cast at the general election, Nov., '82, in Tama Township, Tama County, Iowa, for the members of Congress in the fifth district of Iowa?—A. I am not positive of that.

Q. 5. Do you know who called the votes to be tallied?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 6. Who was it?—A. Mr. Day and Mr. Williamson.

Q. 7. What was the result; what did it show as to how many votes were cast for Congress, 5th district of Iowa, for Frederick, also for Wilson, in said township, county, and State?

(Objection; not shown that these were the original votes cast for the election, nor that the ballot-box has remained in the hands of the proper persons from the time of the election up to the time of the examination.)

A. According to the tally of the clerk, Benj. T. Frederick had 218 and Jas. Wilson 176.

Q. 8. Do you believe that these were the same ballots cast at the general election, Nov. 1882, in Tama Township, Tama County, Iowa, at which Mr. Wilson and Mr. Frederick were candidates for Congress, 5th district of Iowa?—Ans. Well, it would be a very hard matter for me to answer. I saw some of the tickets that look familiar to me.

Q. 10. Is there any one of them that you recognize?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 11. What is your judgment of it?—A. Well, I see nothing to make me disbelieve but what they are the same tickets.

Q. 12. State, if you recollect, whether at the time of the election, when you counted the votes on the night of the election, Nov., 1882, in said township and State, there appeared to be more ballots cast than there were men voted for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. I have no recollection about that one part; I know that there was a talk concerning the votes cast, but it slipped my memory so that I can't tell it definitely at this present time.

Q. 13. Do you recollect, as one of the judges of the election at that time and place, whether or no the polls were closed when a man presented himself and offered his vote and they received his vote?—A. I recollected after the polls were closed there was a man who offered to vote.

Q. 14. Where was this voting place?—A. At Mr. Guernsey and Mill's office.

Q. 15. Were the ballots handed in through a window?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 16. Did you shut down the window immediately on closing the polls?—A. I would not say positively; it was announced that the polls were closed; I do not remember whether the window got put down immediately or not; I could not tell positively; I do not recollect of a man coming up, but I recollect of their stating that there was a man there wanting to vote.

Cross-examination:

Q. 17. At the canvassing of the votes was there a talk of a double ballot and as to what should be done with it?—A. Yes, sir; there was a double ballot.

Q. 18. What did you do with the double ballot, and how was it doubled?—A. The two ballots were folded together.

Q. 19. What did you do with them?—A. We threw them both away. That is the recollection. I have the tallies; did not count them both; that is my recollection, now.

Q. 20. Who counted the ballots after the closing of the polls? Mr. Fife, who counted them out?—A. I believe that Mr. Day called off for a while and think that I did the balance; that is my recollection at the present time.

Q. 21. Anybody else you can recollect of?—A. No, sir; I don't recollect of anybody else except Mr. Day and myself.

Q. 22. Did you both look at the same ballots when you called off?—A. No, sir; we selected the ballots; one selected them out of the box and looked them over; we selected them generally if we could get five or ten straight Republican, lay them down, count the tickets while the other counted and called off.

Q. 23. Was each ballot separately counted in that way?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 24. One would open the lid, take out one ballot, lay it in a pile until he got five?—A. Yes, sir; or ten.

Q. 25. Then he would call it to the one counting them, take and read it off to the clerks?—A. Yes, sir; they would tally five or ten in the place of one; we got along faster.

Q. 26. Then when the person calling off would count out the five, what did you do with them?—A. They counted and knew that they were correct, then returned them to the one that strung them on a string.

Q. 27. Would not this judge of the election look over them, or the one that strung them look over them?—A. No, sir; I do not think he looked over only a very small part of the time.

Q. 28. You say you have examined and counted over the tickets in the ballot-box now?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 29. Do you know what became of the ballot-box after the election?—A. No, sir; I do not. It was taken by the clerk.

Q. 30. Do you remember when you got there?—A. I am not positive.

Q. 31. Was it in the day or in the night?—A. It was in the night, or in the morning.

Q. 32. When you counted and called off, did you call it off as it was then?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 33. Now, did anybody but you and Day call off?—A. I think not. That is the best of my recollection now.

Q. 34. As you counted the poll-book, now, is there any of the tickets with no Congressman at all on?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 35. How many?—A. Six, I think

Q. 36. Will you tell us what was originally on it?—A. I could not, without examining the tickets.

Q. 37. Will you examine it now?—A. Yes, sir. (Witness examines it.) I find that originally James Wilson's name was on them.

Q. 38. They were Republican tickets, then?—A. Yes, sir.

Cannot you tell us whereabouts you were when you counted the votes, and who was by?—A. We were in Guerney and Mill's office. I think there was a Mr. Mahona there.

Q. 40. What was he, politically?—A. Greenbacker, I think.

Q. 41. Who else?—Ans. Mr. Murdock; he is a Democrat.

Q. 42. Do you remember Matron being there?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 43. What is he, politically?—A. I do not know.

Q. 44. Do you remember his business in Tama City?—Ans. He is a brewer there.

Q. 45. Was he the proprietor there?—A. Yes, sir; at least I understood it so.

Q. 46. Did he not string the tickets?—A. Yes, sir; a portion of them; he strung half of them.

Q. 47. Who did the balance?—A. Mr. Ramsdell did.

Q. 48. Did Mr. Matron string?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 49. Was not Mr. Matron there to look out for the votes as a representative of Mr. Frederick?—A. I do not know as to that.

Q. 50. Wasn't it talked over before you commenced counting the votes?—A. Well, we thought it would be advisable to let a few of eaeh party in.

Q. 51. Did not Mr. Frederick have a hand in that arrangement?—A. Yes, sir; as I understand it.

Q. 52. The man, Mr. Matron, I mean?—A. Yes, sir; probably.

Q. 53. Where was he during the counting of these votes?—A. He was generally looking before he strung them, that is, looking at the counting of the votes.

Q. 54. Were you judges and the men that strung the votes close together?—A. Yes, sir; all about the box.

Q. 55. After the votes were strung, and after you counted the votes, did you make out the returns there?—A. Yes, sir; I believe we did not finish the returns until the next morning; I am not positive as to that; I think we sent out the returns next morning.

Q. 56. Who made out the returns?—A. The clerk.

Q. 57. That was after you adjourned and went home?—A. Yes, sir; I think so; we were adjourned, and then in the morning sent the poll-books.

Q. 58. Then it was made up after you went home, by the clerks?—A. Yes, sir; on the next morning.

Q. 59. Now, do you recollect what time of the next day it was when you sent up the poll-books?—A. I am not positive; I think in the morning.

Q. 60. When you went away did you leave the clerk there, or did they all go together?—A. The clerk went with me.

Q. 61. All went home as soon as you got through counting?—A. Yes, sir; I think so.

Redirect examination:

Q. 62. You said you threw away two ballots?—A. My recollection is that neither of them was counted.

Q. 63. What did you do with them?—A. I suppose I put them into the box; but my memory is that they were neither counted.

Q. 64. Both for the same man for Congress?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 65. Who for?—A. I do not remember; I do not have any recollection at all who the votes were for; I had a recollection of taking a vote in myself that I suppose was two ballots together; I called the judges attention to it.

Q. 66. Do you recollect whether or not in the canvass of the vote there was any discrepancy between the tallies that the clerks had for Mr. Wilson?—A. Whether there was or not for Congresman I could not tell. I think there was a discrepancy between the tallies of about five votes at one time, if I mistake not.

Q. 68. Do you know how it was fixed, whether the one behind tallied up or the other man scratched off five?—A. I think the matter was that they called off ten and Mr. Birdsall only tallied five, while the others tallied ten. I think that is the way that it was, but would not say whether for Congressman or not.

Q. 69. You know there was some discrepancy of that character?—A. Yes, sir; there was.

Q. 70. Do you recollect when you counted those tickets whether you found any tickets with Wilson's name scratched off and none substituted?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 71. More than one, or several?—A. Yes, sir; more than one.

H. DAY, being produced and sworn before L. G. Kinne, a notary public in and for Tama County on this 6th day of March, A. D. 1883, and, being examined by me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of the contestant and W. H. Stivers on the part of the contestee):

Q. 1. What is your age and place of residence?—A. Have been living in Tama Township, Tama County, Iowa, about 15 years.

Q. 2. What official position do you now hold in Tama Township, Tama County, Ia.?—A. Township trustee; held it for four years; I think 4 years for first time.

Q. 3. Were you holding that position in the year 1882?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. Were you one of the judges of the Nov. election, 1882, in said township, county, and State, in which Mr. Wilson and Mr. Frederick were candidates for Congress, 5th district?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. Have you this morning, in connection with the clerk of said township and one of the trustees, made a recanvass of what purports to be the ballots cast in the election in Tama Township, Iowa, for Congressman, 1882?—A. Yes, sir, of what purported to be the same.

Q. 6. What was the result, taking the clerk's tally?—Ans. For Wilson 176 and for Frederick 218, Platner 11.

Q. 7. Do you recollect that when the canvass of the ballots was being taken in Nov. election, said township, county, and State, of their being any discrepancy in the count between the clerks?—A. I think there was a little once, but how much I cannot tell.

Q. 8. Do you remember whether for Congressman or not?—A. No, sir; I do not remember.

Q. 9. Do you know how it was fixed?—A. No, sir.

Q. 11. Do you remember in canvassing the votes whether or not there were two votes, straight Republican tickets, in which the name of Mr. Wilson had been scratched off and none inserted for candidate for Congress?—A. I remember something of that fact.

Q. 12. Do you remember how many there were?—A. No, sir.

Q. 13. What is your best judgment whether these ballots counted are the identical ballots cast at the Nov. election, 1882, in Tama Township, Tama County, Iowa, for candidate for Congress?—A. I find no ballots there; I recollect distinctly, but as to the other, I cannot say that I know.

Q. 14. Do they look like the same tickets?—A. Yes, sir; they look like the same ones used there at that time.

Q. 15. Do you remember, Mr. Day, of the polls being closed while there were some gentlemen that wanted to vote?—A. Can't recollect.

Q. 16. Do you remember that the window was closed down and then it was announced that the polls were closed down; not then, but after that, that some one made a fuss about some one wanting to vote?—A. Can't say.

Cross-examination:

Q. 17. You have no means of telling that these were the same ballots save one, except the general apppearance of their being printed ballots?—A. No, sir; nothing at all.

Q. 18. Do you recollect what time it was when you got through counting the ballots?—A. No, sir; I do not. In the small hours somewhere; I do not recollect.

Q. 19. Who called off the ballots?—A. I called off the biggest half of the time.

Q. 20. How was that done; how did you manage it?—A. Mr. Fife would sort out five or ten ballots and I would call it off. I would look them over, call so many for Wilson and so many for Frederick, Republican or Democratic ticket, as the case might be.

Q. 21. Fife would sort them out by taking one by one out of the ballot-box, would he?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 22. Five and five you took them and looked at them, called them off, each name to the tallier?—A. I would look right over the list, see that they were all straight, and call five or ten at one time.

Q. 23. That was the way it was managed?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 24. When you called them off, did you call them off correctly?—A. Yes, sir; I think so; I meant to, and think that I did do it, sir; I am satisfied I did it.

Q. 25. Now, after you had done counting off, what was done with these ballots then; do you recollect?—A. The ballots we had there were strung, and the clerk took care of them.

Q. 26. Who strung these ballots?—A. Mr. Ramsdell strung some of them, and Martin strung some of them, and Henry Ramsdell.

Q. 27. Who is Matron?—A. He is the man that runs and owns the brewery down in Tama.

Q. 28. What was he there for?—A. I do not know.

Q. 29. Was there any arrangement made to that effect before you commenced counting?—A. None that I know of.

Q. 30. Did he look over it?—A. He stood over my shoulder so as to know the tickets, counting them off.

Q. 31. Did he ever make any objections?—A. No, sir; never one.

Q. 32. Then the ballot-box was in the hands of the judges?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 33. Three judges?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 34. What did the other judges do?—A. Strung the ballots.

Q. 35. One strung them, one took them out and called off?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 36. Then afterwards what did the trustees do; adjourn?—A. Yes, sir; adjourned and went home, I think, in the morning; if I am not mistaken; we adjourned after we got all through counting. In the morning we sent the poll-books.

Q. 37. Who made up the balance of the return in the box?—A. The clerks.

Q. 38. After your adjournment?—A. I think, right there, before we adjourned; that is my impression now.

Q. 39. Next morning where did you send them?—A. We sent them to Mill's office, I think.

Q. 40. You did not send the book until you sent most of them?—A. Yes. sir; I think that we sent most of them.

Q. 41. This poll-book, you sent?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 42. Were the three trustees there when you sent it?—A. I think that we were all three together when we sent it.

Q. 43. Do you recollect the time of day?—A. I think eight or nine in the morning.

Q. 44. Was the ballot-box there?—A. I do not know.

Q. 45. Do you know whether Birdsall took the ballot-box with him or left it up there?—A. I think that he locked it in the store.

Q. Why think so?—A. Because we all went off together; we went together to Birdsall's store; and my impression is that he took it with him.

Q. 47. That is the last you have seen of it till to-day?—A. Yes, sir; I have not seen the ballots or poll book from that time to this.

Redirect examination:

Q. 48. You say you think you called off correctly?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 49. Might not a mistake of this kind have occurred in the keeping of the tally?—A. It certainly might, I suppose.

A. S. MCPHERRAN, being produced and sworn before me, L. G. Kinne, a notary public in and for Tama County, on this 6th day of Mar., A. D. 1883, and examined by me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and W. H. Stivers on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. State your name, age, and place of residence.—A. Age, 55 years; I reside in Tama Co., Iowa, Perry Township.

Q. 2. Are you acquainted with one Frank Haveran?—A. Yes, sir, personally; he worked with me.

Q. How long have you known him?—A. Since July, 1882.

Q. 4. Do you know when he came to the State of Iowa?—A. I do not know exactly.

Q. 5. What do know about when he arrived here?—A. He worked for Mr. Best, in Traer, but how long before he came to me I do not know. He came to my place in harvest time.

Q. 6. When did you first know him?—A. That was my first acquaintance with him, when he came to my place in July, 1882.

Q. 7. Did you ever have any conversation with him as to when he came to the State of Iowa?—A. Well, I do not know; I think that he left him some time in June.

Q. 8. Where did he reside formerly?—A. Indiana.

Q. 9. Did you learn this from conversation with him?—A. Yes, sir; he had finished harvesting at home before he came out here. He is a man that it is hard to tell where he was. He had been in Nebraska, as to his residence.

Q. 10. That is what he told you?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 11. Do you know whether he voted at the general election, Perry Township, in Nov.?—A. I do not know that he did.

Q. 12. Did you hear him say that he did?—A. Yes, sir; I heard him say that he guessed that he voted.

Q. 13. Did you hear him tell whom he voted for?—A. He said he guessed that he voted for Wilson.

Q. 14. In conversation with him after he voted did you not ask him whether he was a citizen of the State, or simply ask him how long he had been in the State?—A. No, sir; he did not say anything to me; some how or other he had got some tanglefoot whisky or beer. From the time he came to the house I never heard him mention whom he voted for, from the time of the election until he left my place.

Q. 15. This conversation you had with him, when he did tell you that he guessed he voted for Wilson was before you got home?—A. Yes, sir; on the way home.

Cross-examination:

Q. 16. Was that after or before he got his tangle-leg?—A. Afterwards.

Q. 17. Was he drunk or sober?—A. He was pretty drunk.

JAMES SANBORN, being produced and sworn before L. G. Kinnie, a notary public for Tama County, on this 6th day of March, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, W. H. Stivers on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. James Sanborn; residence, Highland Township, Tama County, Iowa; age, 49 years.

Q. 2. What official position, if any, have you held in that township?—A. I was trustee last year.

Q. 3. Are you serving as trustee now?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. Are you elected?—A. Yes, sir; I am elected for three years.

Q. 5. Were you present at the canvassing of the votes of the general election in November, 1882, at which James Wilson and B. T. Frederick ran for Congress?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 6. Were you one of the judges at that election? Have you, in connection with the clerk of the county, who has just testified here to-day, made a canvass of the ballots cast at that election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 7. What was the result of that election, as to the number of votes cast for Mr. Wilson and Mr. Frederick?—A. Wilson, 80; Frederick, 35.

Q. 8. Do you remember how many for Platner?—A. 7.

Q. 9. How many tickets, if any, were there for no candidate, or in which it was scratched?—A. 6.

Q. 10. How does this total number of votes counted to-day compare with the total number of votes as shown by the poll-book?—A. It is even.

Q. 11. I will ask you what your judgment is about these being the same ballots cast at the election?—A. I think they are the same.

Cross-examination:

Q. 12. Mr. Sanborn, this ticket referred to by the witness just preceding you, as Exhibit D, is that one of the votes you counted in the recount as being for no one of the Congressmen?—A. Yes, sir.

E. L. FISH, being produced and sworn before L. G. Kinne, notary public for Tama County, on this 6th day of March, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and W. H. Stivers on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. E. L. Fish, and reside in Highland Township, Tama County, Iowa.

Q. 2. What official position, if any, did you hold during the year 1882, up to the first of January, 1883, in Highland Township, Tama County, Iowa?—A. One of the trustees.

Q. 3. Were you present as said trustee at the general election in November, 1882, when Frederick and Wilson were voted for, for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. Have you, in connection with the other judges, made a recanvass for the ballots cast for Congress? What is the result as to how many votes cast for Frederick, and how many for Wilson?—A. 80 for Wilson, 35 for Frederick, including those that were marked B. F. and Ben.

Q. 5. What is your judgment as to those ballots you have canvassed to-day, being the identical ballots cast at the election November, 1882, Highland Township, Tama County, Iowa?—A. I think that they were the same tickets that were counted at that time.

Q. 6. How many did you find in that count to-day for Mr. Platner, Greenback candidate?—A. I think it was 7.

Q. 7. How many upon which the name of all candidates were scratched, with nobody voted for for that office?—A. I think 6.

Q. 8. How does that compare with the poll-book as to the aggregate?—A. I have not footed that up.

Cross-examination:

Q. 9. This Exhibit "D" for the ticket referred to by the witness Mr. Wilson, is that one of the tickets in your recount to-day counted as not being voted for as member of Congress?

(Witness examines the ticket.)

A. I think that it is the one we counted.

Q. 10. That you counted for whom?—A. That we counted as not being for any person.

Q. 11. Do you know whether it is or not?—A. It is pretty hard matter for me to tell.

Q. 12. You just made a recount; don't you know whether or not this is one of the tickets you recounted to-day that you made in your recount to-day as being one of them?—A. Yes, sir; I am pretty sure of that.

Q. 13. Have you had some hesitation as to whether or not that should be recounted for Mr. Wilson?—A. It is very dimly scratched; I cannot tell what the intention of the voter was.

Redirect examination:

Q. 14. You know that it shows that there has been a lead-pencil mark run over the name?—A. Yes, sir; it shows that the name has been tampered with.

Q. 15. Shows that lead pencil drawn through part or all of it; didn't it? Are not marks there yet?—A. Yes, sir; I should think that lead pencil had been drawn through it.

C. W. BIRDSALL, being produced and sworn before me, L. G. Kinne, a notary public for Tama County, on this 6th day of Mar., A. D. 1883, and examined by me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant and W. H. Stivers on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, and place of residence, and occupation?—A. C. W. Birdsall; I live in Tama City.

Q. 2. In 1882 did you hold any official position in Tama Township up to 1883, and what was it?—A. Township clerk.

Q. 3. As such, were you present at the general election in Tama Township, Tama Co., Iowa, Nov., 1882, at which James Wilson and Benj. T. Frederick were candidates for Congress?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. Did you at that time assist in telling the votes, assorting and declaring the result of that election that day after the result was announced or arrived at? What disposition did you make of the ballots, poll-books, and ballot-box?—A. I took the ballots and ballot-box and poll-books under my arm and came home or took them to the store.

Q. 5. Was the box locked or sealed or otherwise?—A. It was locked.

Q. 6. Was it sealed?—A. No, sir.

Q. 7. Where did you put it in the store?—A. On the upper shelf.

Q. 8. Was this in the business part of the store?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 9. Was it put in the front part of the store, or in the back end?—A. Near the back end.

Q. 10. How long did it remain there?—A. I did not remember, but until just a few days since.

Q. 11. Did you turn it over to Mr. Wilson?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 12. What became of the key of it, do you know?—A. I never had a key that belonged to it, that I know of. The key to-day, I think, belonged to Mr. McAllister; I do not know what we did with the key.

Q. 13. Was it closed in any other way except being locked?—A. No, sir.

Q. 15. When did you put it there, if at all?—A. I did not put it in.

Q. 16. Do you remember when you turned it over to Mr. Wilson?—A. Some time ago; I do not know just when.

Q. 17. Shortly after he called for them?—A. I think so, but don't just remember when.

Q. 18. Do you remember on the night of the election last November, when you were counting ballots, wasn't there a difference between you and the other clerks when you were making up the tally-list?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 19. What was the difference on Representative to Congress, or some other office?—A. I don't remember what it was.

Q. 20. How was it adjusted or arranged?—A. They were calling a list of ten straight votes at a time. In registering I omitted to register five of the ten that were called; in running it over I noticed my mistake, and remembering of having omitted them, I tallied up my five votes with the permission of the board.

Q. 21. At that time did you or the other clerk go back over the ballots to see whether you had five less or five more?—A. No, sir.

Q. 22. Did you do that at any time?—A. No, sir.

Q. 23. During the time that the ballot-box was in your possession was it opened, or ballots taken out or examined or disturbed by anybody besides yourself?—A. No, sir.

Cross-examination:

Q. 24. How many keys are there to your place of business?—A. I think there are three.

Q. 25. You do not carry them all, do you?—A. No, sir.

Q. 26. Do you carry more than one?—A. I carry only one.

Q. 27. Well, your men work in the bakery at night, don't they?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 28. Have access to all parts of the store during the night?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 29. You say that this ballot-box was not sealed?—A. No, sir.

Q. 30. The top hole had no cover placed upon it?—A. No, sir.

Q. 31. That is all you know about whether the ballot-box had been tampered with is that you did not open it or tamper with it yourself?—A. That is all.

Q. 32. It may have been tampered with by others?—A. Such a thing is possible.

Q. 33. That is what I am asking you; you did not say positive that it may have been tampered with by others, and you not have known it.—A. Yes, it might have been.

Q. 34. How many men have access to the store?—A. In what way do you mean?

Q. 35. I mean with a key.—A. Three men; well, four really.

Q. 36. Your bakers have access to the store?—A. One of them has a key and one other man that works with him.

Q. 37. What kind of a lock was on the box?—A. Well, really I don't know.

Q. 38. Just a common lock, was it?—A. Just a common lock, I presume. We had to test it with several keys to open it.

Q. 39. How did you test them?—A. By trying it; that is, prior to the election.

Q. 40. You finally found a key in the hands of a transient party that would open that box, did not you?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 41. What did you do with that key?—A. I do not know what became of it.

Q. 42. The owner kept the key, did not he?—A. I think likely that he did; I don't know what became of it. I do not remember whether he was present or not.

Q. 43, That was J. J. McAllister, was it not?—A. I think so; I am not positive.

Q. 44. At any rate you did not keep the key?—A. No, sir; I did not.

Redirect examination:

Q. 45. Mr. Birdsall, I will ask you if it would be possible, without unlocking the box—in the first place were the ballots all strung?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 46. Would it be possible for any one, without unlocking or opening the box, to string any more ballots on there or to make any other change in this or any other count?—A. No, sir; I do not think it possible.

Q. 47. Did you at any time, as member of the board of election or any others in the board, did you officially declare the result of the election for Congress in this township? Go back and count out the total number of votes, what they all amounted to, which were cast for Wilson, Frederick, Platner, and add them all together, and then compare with names on the tally-list to see whether they were the same number?—A. I add them up in one instance that I remember. I don't remember who that was for. There were 214 tallies and we had 414 votes registered, but do not know what cast it was in. I spoke of it to them, but they did not go over the ballots to ascertain anything different.

Redirect examination:

Q. 48. Do you recollect of a ballot, two ballots rolled together, that were discovered by the board?—A. I do not remember of this; I have heard it spoken of since, but I do not call it to mind when they discovered them.

Q. 1. Where is your place of residence?—A. Toledo, Tama County, Iowa.
Q. 2. What official position in Toledo Township, Tama County, Iowa, if any, did you hold during the year 1882, up to the first of January, 1883?—A. I didn't hold any official position in the township.
Q. 3. Were you sworn in and acted as one of the clerks of the general election, 1882, in Toledo Township, Tama County, Iowa, during the general election, when Wilson and Frederick were voted for as Congressmen in that district?—A. I was clerk.
Q. 4. Were you present after the polls were opened?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. Any proclamation made by the judges of the election, or by the clerks, or by any one in there? Was it at the opening of the polls in the morning that it was announced that the polls would be kept open later than 6 p. m.? Do you remember how many votes were cast after 6 o'clock?—A. I think three, or perhaps five.

Q. 6. Do you remember when Ben Stone voted?—A. No, sir.

Q. 7. Do you recollect how late the polls were kept open?—A. I think after 6 o'clock.

Q. 8. Do you remember when Mr. Beardshea voted?—A. I think after 6 o'clock.

Q. 9. Now, to refresh your recollection, do you recollect that the polls were held open until after the train from the West came in connecting with the train from the West in order to permit Pres. Beradshea to vote?—A. I think it was not until after the train came from the North; am not sure.

Q. 10. You are not certain about that?—A. I think not until after the train came from the North.

Q. 11. You made a proclamation when they would be closed?—A. I did.

Q. 12. Did you proclaim at half-past 8 o'clock that the polls would be closed before 9 o'clock?—A. I do not remember how or what I did now in regard to it.

Q. 13. You know that they were open after 6 o'clock?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 14. If they were kept open after the train came in from the North, it would bring it nearly 7 o'clock.—A. Yes, sir; it may have been that they kept them open until the train came in from the South.

Cross-examination:

Q. 15. Were the polls in Toledo kept open for any particular person or persons, beyond 6 o'clock in the evening. Is it true that they were kept open for the general accommodation of all who wished to vote, who were entitled to vote?—A. Yes, sir; I guess, for any one who wanted to vote. I think there were some; I don't remember who it was, some of the train men who wanted to vote.

Redirect:

Q. 16. If it was kept open long enough for them to vote, do you know whether any of them did vote?—A. Yes, sir; I think so.

Q. 17. They would have been kept open until nearly 8 o'clock?—A. Yes, sir; I have known them to hold them open until that time, to give them a chance to vote.

Q. 18. You have no recollection of their doing that, that night?—A. No, sir; I have not.

Q. 19. Don't you remember that there was a conversation among the board about Mr. Beardshea, besides Mr. Johnson, and others, who wanted to vote, and among other reasons, that was one reason, that they could get back on the train?—A. I think there might have been some back of Mr. Beardshea; don't remember about Mr. Johnson now.

Recross examination:

Q. 20. Do you remember whether the boys came up on the down run and voted?—A. I don't remember whether they voted when they went down, or whether they kept the polls open until they came back.

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. Age, 52 years, and reside in Toledo.

Q. 2. What official position do you hold in this county, and how long have you held the same?—A. I hold the position of county auditor, and have held it a little over five years.

Q. 3. Have you with you the poll-book returned by the township officers to you as county auditor of Highland Township?—A. I have.

(Witness produces the same.)

Q. 4. Tell us, if you please, how many votes were returned for Highland Township by the election board of that township as having been cast there at the general election in 1882 for James Wilson for Representative in Congress and for Benjamin T. Frederic as Representative in Congress, and for David Platner for Representative in Congress.—A. There appears to be 81 votes returned for James Wilson; for Benjamin T. Frederic, 33 votes; for B. F. Frederic, 1 vote; for Ben. T. Frederick, 1 vote, and for David Platner 7 votes.

Q. 5. Have you with you the poll-book of Buckingham Township?—A. Yes, sir; I have.

Q. 6. How many votes were returned by the board of canvassers—that is, of the election board—as having been cast at the general election for James Wilson for Representative in Congress, for B. T. Frederick for Representative in Congress, and for David Platner for Representative in Congress, all of the 5th district?—A. For James Wilson, 861 votes; returned for B. T. Frederick—in the certificate it stands 43 votes, while that poll-list shows only 38 votes.

Q. 7. Have you with you the poll-book of Tama Township?—A. Yes, sir; I have.

Q. 8. How many votes were returned by the board of canvassers of Tama Township, Tama County, Iowa, as having been cast at the Nov. election, '82, for James Wilson, Representative in Congress, and for Benj. T. Frederick for Representative in Congress, and for David Platner for Representative in Congress, 5th district in Iowa?—A. For James Wilson, 185 votes; for Benjamin T. Frederick, 218 votes, and for David Platner 10 votes, and one vote returned scattering.

Q. 9. Have you with you the poll-books of Spring Creek Township?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 10. How many votes were returned by the board of canvassers of Tama Township, Tama County, Iowa, as having been cast at the Nov. election, '82, for James Wilson as Representative in Congress, and for Benjamin T. Frederick for Representative in Congress, and for David Platner, Representative in Congress, 5th dist. of Iowa?—A. For James Wilson, 101 votes returned; for Benjamin T. Frederick, 97, and for David Platner, 52.

Q. 11. In reference to Buckingham Township, in canvassing the votes by the board of canvassers, what was done in reference to the discrepancy or difference between the certificate of the township board giving Mr. Frederick 43 votes and the tally-list giving him 38? You saw them sealed in official count, and in making up the aggregate number of votes they counted 38 votes for Mr. Frederick in certifying the votes to the State board; how many votes were included as having been cast for Mr. Frederick in Buckingham Township?—A. 38 votes.

Q. 12. The same number given in the canvass?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 13. How many votes were given Mr. Wilson, how many Mr. Frederick, in the amount certified to State board of canvassers, as having been cast for them as Representatives in Congress for the 5th dist. at the general election, '83, in High Land township?—A. They counted 81 votes for James Wilson; 35 for Benjamin T. Frederick.

Q. 14. How many votes were counted for Wilson, and how many for B. T. Frederick, in making up the aggregate am't which was certified as they were received in Tama Township, and certified to by the State board of canvassers as having been cast at the general election, Nov., '82, in that township?—A. I found by reference to duplicate returns that 185 votes were certified for James Wilson and 218 votes for B. T. Frederick.

Q. 15. That is the certificate made to the county board of canvassers?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 16. How many votes were certified to in the aggregate by the state board of canvassers by the county board as having been cast for Spring Creek Township, Tama County, Iowa, at the general election, '82, for Wilson for Representative in Congress? Also for B. T. Frederick for Representative 5th dist.?—A. 97 for Frederick; 101 for James Wilson.

EXHIBIT E.

STATE OF IOWA,
Tama County, ss:

I, R. G. McIntyre, auditor of Tama County, do hereby certify that the following is the vote cast for Hon. James Wilson and B. T. Frederick, respectively, in the townships hereinafter named in Tama County, Iowa, as counted by the board of supervisors of Tama County, Iowa, sitting as a board of county canvassers in making up the aggregate of votes cast in said county for said parties at the general election held therein on the 7th day of Nov., A. D. 1882, which was certified by said board of county canvassers to the board of State canvassers, to wit: in Buckingham Township there was 61 votes cast for James Wilson, and for B. T. Frederick 38 votes, and the poll-book of said township, by the tally-list, showed that B. T. Frederick had 38 votes. The certificate of the judges showed that he received 43 votes in Tama Township. For James Wilson there were one hundred and eighty-five votes, and for B. T. Frederick two hundred and eighteen votes. In Highland Township, for James Wilson, there were eighty-one votes, and for B. T. Frederick thirty-five votes. In Spring Creek Township, for James Wilson, one hundred and one votes, and for B. T. Frederick ninety-seven votes, as appears from the records and papers in my office.

Witness my hand and the seal of the county of Tama this 6th day of March, A. D. 1883.

R. G. MCINTIRE,
County Auditor.

STATE OF IOWA,
Tama County, ss:

CHARLES FRENCH, being produced and sworn before L. G. Kinnie, notary public in and for Tama County, on this 6th day of March, '83, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and W. H. Stivers on the part of the contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. Charles French; age, 39; live in Gladbrook, Tama Co., Iowa.

Q. 2. What official position did you hold in that township, and how long did you hold that position?—A. Held the position of township clerk by appointment; was appointed some time last April; I forget; about April, '82.

Q. 3. And have held ever since?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you present at the general election held in Spring Creek Township, Tama Co., Iowa, Nov., '82, at which Frederick and Wilson were voted for for member of Congress, 5th dist. of Iowa?—A. Yes, sir; I was.

Q. 5. Did you act as one of the clerks of that election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 6. After closing of the polls on the night of the election, what disposition did you make of the poll-book and ballots?—A. Ballots were placed in the ballot-box; ballot-box was carried to my office, which was Mr. Wilber's office at that time; it was left there; remained there until just a few days ago; it was carried from there to my harness shop; been there ever since.

Ques. 7. After you had canvassed the votes on the night of the election, what did you do after you put ballots and the poll-book in the box; was it locked and sealed or either?—A. Locked, but not sealed.

Q. 8. I will ask you whether or not in the canvass of the votes at the election if there was any ballot there with the name of B. Frederick written upon it for member of Congress, 5th district of Iowa, which was not counted?—A. Well, I could not say positive. The judges of the election handled the votes; all I did was to keep a record of it.

Q. 9. Have you the ballots and poll-book with you?—A. The ballots are in the box, the book I have with me.

Q. 10. Who were the judges of the election?—A. Hess, Berry, and Wescott. Mr. Berry and Hess are here.

Q. 11. Will you be kind enough to open the ballot-box, and, assisted by the members of the board who are present, determine how many votes there were cast for Mr. Wilson and how many for Mr. Frederick; also, whether or not there are any for B. Frederick or any other Frederick?

(Witness proceeds to open the ballot-box and examines the ballots, assisted by Messrs. Geo. W. Hess and S. W. Berry.)

Q. 12. Are the ballots which you have produced, and which you and Messrs. Hess and Berry have just counted, the same ballots which were cast at the Nov. election, '82, in Spring Creek Township, Tama County, Iowa, at which B. T. Frederick and James Wilson were candidates for and were voted for Representative in Congress, 5th district of Iowa?

(Contestant objects to the question for the reason that they have not shown that the ballot-box has been in the care entirely of anybody.)

A. I believe so.

Q. 13. Whereabouts in the office of Mr. Wilber, after the box was taken there, was it put?—A. I had a desk in Wilber's office, and right under my desk I placed the ballot-box.

Q. 14. It wasn't locked up in any desk?—A. No, sir.

Q. 15. Remained there until how many days ago?—A. I can't remember how many.

Q. 16. How many?—A. Two or three days ago.

Q. 17. Where did it go then?—A. From Mr. Wilber's office to my workshop.

Q. 18. While it was at Mr. Wilber's office, was it your office all the time?—A. No, sir, not all the time.

Q. 19. What portion of the years?—A. Until the first of the year, the first of January.

Q. 20. Have you opened the box yourself, or permitted anybody to open it, or has it been opened with your consent at all or not?—A. The box was opened a few days ago by myself.

Q. 21. In the presence of whom?—A. In the presence of Messrs. Putnam and Stone.

Q. 22. Did they or either of them handle the ballots or any of them?—A. They did not.

Q. 23. Was or wasn't the condition of the ballots at that time the same as when you had placed them in there on the night of the election?—A. I think that it was.

Q. 24. Was it possible that the ballots were strung when you put them in there on the night of the election?—A. No, sir; they were not strung.

Q. 25. Had they, or had they not, all been taken off by the judges?—A. Yes, sir; upon the first deposit of the ballots they were all folded.

Q. 26. Were they strung at all?—A. No, sir.

Q. 27. At the time you made the count when Stone and Putnam were present how did the total number of ballots compare with the number of ballots returned to the board of county canvassers after you made this aggregate cast for candidates to Congress; was it the same or not?—A. Well, for Mr. Wilson at the time I counted the ballots I counted 101, for Mr. Frederick in counting all on which Mr. Frederick's name appeared there were 98.

Q. 28. What did you ascertain by the recount you have made here to-night the vote for Mr. Frederick and Mr. Wilson to be?—A. The same as before.

Q. 29. You say when counting the votes all upon which Mr. Frederick's name appears; please explain that, what do you mean by taking all the votes with Frederick's name on them?—A. I mean by that that there were two votes upon which Mr. Wilson's or Mr. Platner's names were erased and the name of Ben. Frederick or B. Frederick written in with pencil.

Q. 30. Did you know whether all the votes you saw scratched were counted for Frederick or not?—A. I don't know; I was clerk.

Q. 31. How have you kept these ballots since you have had them in your harness shop?—A. They were in the box and locked the same as before.

Q. 32. In what part of the shop did you keep them?—A. On my cutting box.

Q. 33. State, to the best of your knowledge, whether or not these are the identical ballots cast at the Nov. election, '82, at Spring Creek Township, at which Wilson and Frederick were candidates for Congress?—A. Yes, sir; to the best of my knowledge they are.

Cross-examination:

Q. 34. Mr. French, let me ask you, you moved out of Wilber's office the first of January?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 35. When you moved you left the ballot box whereabouts?—A. Well, in the same position under the table.

Q. 36. In the front room?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 37. How many rooms are there to his office that are used?—A. Only one in general use.

Q. 38. Who uses that room? Who did use it at that time?—A. Mr. Wilber and myself.

Q. 39. What was it used for?—A. As lawyer's office, insurance office, also for justice of the peace.

Q. 40. Was it frequented by everybody else?—A. Yes. sir.

Q. 41. Almost any time of day?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 42. What kind of key was to the lock on the box; one difficult to find a key to open or that is not?—A. I think that it was not a very difficult box to open.

Q. 43. Is it just a common ordinary key?—A. It is a common ordinary lock.

Q. 44. Almost any key would open it; it is one of those common ordinary locks?—A. Yes, sir; cheap lock.

Q. 45. Did you leave the ballots in charge of any one when you left it?—A. No, sir.

Q. 46. Just left it here, you went back after it last Feb., was it?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 47. The ballots was just thrown loosely in the box after they were counted?—A. Yes. sir.

Q. 48. Was there any pains taken to keep them in any way separate?—A. I think no particular mode of keeping them.

Q. 49. Who counted them out at the polls?—A. Mr. Washington Hess, Samuel Berry, and Mr. Wilson.

Q. 50. Who took them out of the box?—A. Those parties took them out.

Q. 51. Tell me how they took them out, whether one took them out, and got them into fives and handed them to somebody else?—A. I can't tell; I was busy with my. own work.

Q. 52. You just simply checked them off as they called them?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 53. You did not know anything else about counting them?—A. No sir.

Q, 54. You checked them off as they called them to you?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 55. Now, there are three ballots in there; I want to make an exhibit of these three in your count to-night; how much —— well, in the first place produce these three ballots I have just referred to?

(Witness doesn't find the votes:)

Q. 56. Did you take the ballots back after you quit counting that night; did you take it back into the lawyer's office?—A. I took it there myself.

Q. 57. Where did you get it?—A. At Mr. Riteman's office where we held our election.

Q. 58. How long was it after you got done counting that you found the box and took it away?—A. I removed the box immediately.

Q. 59. You mean after you got done counting?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 60. You mean after you had made out the tally list?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 61. Then the box was set where the judges had left it?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 62. Then you took it from there and carried it up to the justice of the peace's office?—A. The box was on the table where we did the examining; the judges took the ballots and placed them in the box and gave me the key; immediately after the work was done I took the box and removed it to Mr. Wilber's office.

Q. 63. You say the judges put the ballots in the box; were the ballots all out on the table?—A. Yes, sir; at one time they were all out on the table.

Q. 64. They bunched them up in some shape and put them back in the box?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 65. Did you see them do this?—A. Yes, sir; I did.

Q. 66. Was there any stringing of the ballots as they were counting any other time or just laid loosely on the table?—A. They were never strung.

Q. 67. They were packed up on the table and put into the box loosely?—A. Yes, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 68. Were they laid out on the table in bunches, or did you mean to be understood that they were scattered all over the table?—A. When I say loose, I wish to be understood that they lay in piles, in loose piles, not strung.

Q. 69. Were there any other ballots that were used or had been used during the time of counting except these taken out of the box?—A. There were none on the table at the time we commenced to count; it wasn't intended that any person should put ballots there.

Recross-examination:

Q. 70. Let me ask you whether the crowd wasn't all around the table while they were counting out the tickets and those that could get near enough, looking over as though they would come around and count?—A. When I was near, or standing by, there were other parties in the office besides the judges and clerks.

Q. 71. While the judges were taking them out of the box, what I wanted to know is whether the other fellows crowded around the table to look and see whether they were properly called off?—A. There were other parties standing near.

Q. 72. How did they take them out of the box to count them—took one at a time, counted, and laid on the table?—A. No, sir; I think not.

Q. 73. How did they do that?—took them all out of the box, lay them on the table, and sort them?—A. When the polls were closed, the first thing done was to count all the ballots in the box to see if they agreed with the number of ballots cast.

Q. 74. How did they do that?—A. By removing them one at a time.
Q. 75. And put them on the table?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 76. Then what did they do?—A. Their manner of proceeding there at that time was regular; I was busy there that time.

STATE OF IOWA,
Tama County, ss:

G. W. HESS, being produced and sworn before G. G. Kinney, a notary public for Tama County, on this 6th day of March, A. D. '83, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant and L. G. Kinney on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. I am 43 y'rs of age; I live in Gladbrook; I buy butter, and farm a little.
Q. 2. What official position, if any, have you held in Spring Creek Township in '82, up to Jan'y 1st, '83?—A. I was Township trustee; also acted as one of the judges.
Q. 3. In this Township?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 4. Are you still one of the judges of the township?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 5. Were you present at the general election in Nov., 1882, held in Spring Creek Township, Tama Co., Iowa, at which B. T. Frederick and James Wilson were candidates from the 5th Dist. Iowa?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 6. Were you one of the judges of election at that time?—A. Yes, sir
Q. 7. Since you have been here to-day, have you made a recanvass of the ballots purporting to have been cast at that election?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 8. What is the result of that examination as to how many votes you ascertained? How many ballots were cast for James Wilson and how many for B. F. Frederick, for Representative in Congress from the 5th dist. of Iowa?
(Objection not shown that these were the original votes cast at the election, nor that the ballot-box has remained in the hands of the proper persons from the time of the election up to the time of examination.)
A. There were 101 for James Wilson, as we counted them; 98 for B. T. Frederick.
Q. 9. What is your judgment as to whether the ballots which you have canvassed here are the same ones cast at the general election, Spring Creek Township, Tama Co., Iowa, in Nov., 1882, at which time James Wilson and B. T. Frederick were candidates for Congress from the 5th dist. of Iowa?—A. I don't see any reason why they should not be the same any more than it seems by the poll-book that there was one more for B. T. Frederick.
Q. 10. How many—one more now?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 11. How do you account for that—for the vote anyway?—A. I do not know, unless we counted for B. T. Frederick an irregular vote and did not put it down for him.
Q. 12. Do you remember anything about what you did about that?—A. I don't know; only some irregular votes. I saw one with the Wilson scratched out. I should have thought that that was the same ticket.
Q. 13. You remember that there was some question of that kind as to one of the Congressional votes?—A. Yes, sir; I had entirely forgotten what it was until I saw the tickets.
Q. 14. Did you examine the poll-book and send down here to see whether the aggregate number of votes for Congress was the same as you make them here to-night?—A. No, sir; not until to-night.
Q. 15. How do you find it now?—A. 97 for Frederick, 101 for Wilson.
Q. 16. I mean what does the book show?—A. That is what I said, the book.
(Witness examines the book. The book shows 97; as the ballots show it is 98.)
Q. 17. Does that make the number of votes polled altogether; was there 101 votes shown by the poll-book cast for Wilson, 97 for Frederick, and for Platner 52 make in the aggregate the same number of votes as the total number of persons whose names appear on the poll-book as having voted at said election?—A. No, sir.
Q. 18. How much does that lack of it?—A. It lacks two votes.
Q. 19. Then counting one vote, which you might have possibly counted by mistake for Frederick, would it lack one vote of being the total number of votes cast?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 20. How do you account for that one vote being voted in that way?—A. That ticket that has neither Frederick or Wilson's name on it.

Cross-examination:

Q. 21. Who counted the ballots out of the box that evening?—A. I think I took the ballots out of the box that evening.
Q. 22. Will you tell us how you did it?—A. I took out one at a time to see if we tallied all the number of votes, and took them out of the box, laid them on the table one at time.

Q. 23. What did you do with the box—A. It sat there on the table.

Q. 24. Open?—A. Yes, sir; it was open.

Q. 25. Then what did you do with the ballots?—A. I can't remember sure whether we put them back in the box or whether we opened them. I took them out of the box. Just after we folded them up and laid them on the table.

Q. 26. Then what?—A. I don't know whether we put them back in the box or not. We proceeded to open them; I think that we sorted them out.

Q. 27. They were just laid in a loose pile as they were folded on the table?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 28. You don't know whether you put them back in the box until they were tallied?—A. I would not be sure about that.

Q. 29. The box was there on the table?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 30. How did you manage to tally them?—A. My recollection is that we sorted out two straight tickets for each of the candidates, and tallied so many straight tickets.

Q. 31. You tallied out in three or four or five piles on the table straight Republican tickets?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 32. Straight Greenback tickets in another?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 33. Then what did you do with the ballots?—A. Put them in a pile. After we tallied them we went to work and tallied the others one at a time.

Q. 34. What did you do with them?—A. When we would call off a ticket we would lay it back on the pile; we kept a pile of tickets. It does not appear to me that they were sorted out like they are now. Six odd tickets should have been mixed, Democrat or Republican tickets together.

Q. 35. How often have you seen the ballot-box since that night?—A. I might have seen it, but did not pay any attention to it. I might have seen it under the table there.

Q. 36. Do you recollect whether you put the tickets back in the box or not?—A. I could not say whether I did or not.

Q. 37. You have no recollection of putting them back, then?—A. No, sir; I have not.

Q. 37. Who read off the tickets?—A. I don't know which one of us three did.

Q. 38. What did the others do besides the one who read them?—A. I guess that they kept watch that the thing was done straight.

Q. 39. You mean watch of him that was reading them?—A. Yes, sir; I expect so.

Q. 40. Where was the count?—A. They were probably at our box.

Q. 41. How big was the room?—A. It was rather a small room; I think it was about probably twelve, possibly it may be twelve, feet square; a small room.

Q. 42. Standing up full?—A. Quite a good many in the room.

Q. 43. All standing up close around where you were counting?—A. No, sir; not close enough to crowd on to us very much.

Q. 44. Did the folks stand up or sit down?—A. They stood up back of us.

Q. 45. What kind of lock is there on the box; just a common, cheap lock; one of these cheap locks, is it?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 46. Any trouble about the key to unlock it?—A. I think you could not find a key very easy to unlock it.

Q. 47. Was this in French's harness shop?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 48. You used to own this shop?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 49. Was it under the cutting bench?—A. The cutting bench is on the side of the working-room.

Q. 50. Back room?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 51. Where scraps of leather and one thing and another are thrown?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 52. A kind of convenient place for rubbish; is this where it was kept by French?—A. Yes, sir; I don't know whether that is right or not; only what he said.

Q. 53. You know where the cutting bench is in French's shop?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 54. You were harness-maker and owner of the shop previous to French being there?—A. Yes, sir.

Redirect examination:

Q. 55. How as to the location of this table in this room; how was it located, next to one side?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 56. Did you sit behind the table or to one side of the table?—A. It is my recollection that we were between the light and the table; if I recollect right it was in this way; one side of the table was to the wall; we sat around on the other side.

Q. 57. Anybody on the other side of the table at all?—A. No, sir.

Recross-examination:

Q. 58. Your recollection is you counted and tallied all the ballots except that one that was counted for nobody in Congress?—A. That is the way I think it was.

Q. 59. There is no memorandum on your poll-book of one scattering vote being for Frederick, is there?—A. No, sir; there is not.

Q. 60. Now, if you left it off you certainly would if you did not count it for Ben. Frederick, you would put it on for B. Frederick; is not that the rule?—A. It might have been done.

Q. 61. When the name of any one was on the ticket plainly you put it down?—A. Yes, sir; that is the intention.

Q. 62. When there is no name on at all that ticket is left out of the count?—A. Yes, sir; the poll-book does not show any vote for B. Frederick.

STATE OF IOWA,
Tama County, ss:

S. W. BERRY, being produced and sworn before L. G. Kinnie, notary public for Tama County, on this 6th day of March, A. D. 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant; W. H. Stivers, on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. S. W. Berry; age, 43; farmer.

Q. 2. What official position did you hold in Spring Creek Township, Tama County?—A. I did hold the office of trustee of the township at the time of the election.

Q. 3. During what time—you held that position in what year?—A. During the year '81 and '82.

Q. 4. Were you present as judge of the general election, Nov., 1882, in Spring Creek Township, Tama County, Iowa, at which Wilson and Frederick were voted for for Congress in the 5th dist.?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. Did you assist this evening in examining the ballots produced here as having been cast at that election and in counting them?—A. Yes, sir; I looked over to see that it was done.

Q. 6. What is the result ascertained by you and Mr. French and Mr. Hess here to-night; that is, how many ballots did you find for Wilson and how many for Frederick?

(Objection, on the ground that it has not been shown that these ballots are the same as cast for the reason that they have not been safely kept.)

Q. 7. Have you noticed the poll-book to see how the total number of votes as you have counted them this evening, including the ballots for Wilson, Frederick, and Platner, compare with the total number of votes as shown to be polled on the poll-book?—A. No, sir; I have not.

Q. 8. What is your opinion as to whether or not these are the same votes cast in Nov., '82, Spring Creek Township, Tama County, Iowa, for member of Congress?—A. I think that these are the same ballots, to the best of my knowledge.

Q. 9. Explain to us, if you please, how the table was sitting in the room, and whether or not it was so seated that any one but the judges could get in there?—A. The table was sitting middling close to the side of the office, and two of us judges at one end of the table, and one at the side of the table, if I remember right, at the time we counted the votes.

Q. 10. Where were the two clerks with reference to the position of the judges?—A. I am not able to tell.

Q. 11. They were sitting at the table, were they?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 12. In the counting there do you remember any vote for Congressman that was not counted, but was passed over when you just looked them over on account of the name not being very full or something of that kind?—A. Well, it seems to me—I don't remember exactly—it seems as though there was one for Frederick and I calculated to report it for B. Frederick, but I guess I neglected it.

Q. 13. Did you put ballots back in the box after the counting was finished that night?—A. No, sir.

Q. 14. Do you remember who did?—A. I don't remember whether Mr. Hess or Mr. Wescott—one of the two men put them into the box.

Q. 15. When you left there that evening did the clerks and the judges leave at the same time, do you remember?—A. I cannot say for certain; I think so; I think all left at the same time.

Q. 16. Do you remember the number of votes that were certified to by the county auditor as having been cast for Mr. Frederick and Mr. Wilson?—A. No, sir; I don't.

Cross-examination:

Q. 17. Mr. Berry, you have no means of telling, only that they resemble the ballots that were voted that day?—A. No, sir; I have no way of telling.

Q. 18. You say that you did not put the ballots in the box?—A. No, sir.

Q. 19. Can you tell who did?—A. I would not swear who did.
Q. 20. You have no recollection of seeing the men put them in?—A. No, sir; if I did, I could tell it.
Q. 21. The ballots were all taken from the box before they were opened, were they?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 22. Unfolded and put on the table in the room?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 23. Set there where you took them out, and then the ballots were distributed in piles over the table, some four or five?—A. Three piles.
Q. 24. Not more than three?—A. No, sir.
Q. 25. The Democratic vote was in one pile?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 26. The Republican vote in another pile?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 27. Greenback in another?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 28. What did you do with the others?—A. There were no others.
Q. 29. Well, I mean the scratched ones?—A. I think we put them in another pile.
Q. 30. That made four piles?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 31. Then what you call straight votes were counted?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 32. And given to the talliers by numbers not crossed?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 33. Laid back on the table?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 34. Now, after you got through counting the ballots, did you turn to the tally list to see how it came out, you or the other men?—A. No, sir.
Q. 35. What did you do?—A. I was helping unfold tickets.
Q. 36. I mean after you had counted them and tallied, what did you do then?—A. I don't know that I did anything particular.
Q. 37. Did you stay there?—A. Yes, sir; I was there.
Q. 38. What I want to know is, whether you assisted in counting the ballots, or in anything of that kind?—A. Well, what do you mean?
Q. 39. Whether you assisted in any way?—A. I expect so.
Q. 40. What did you do after this?—A. I am not able to tell you just exactly what I did do.
Q. 41. Somebody you think put them back in the box?—A. I think so.
Q. 42. You don't know who?—A. I cannot say.
Q. 43. Now, from the time you counted the ballots on the table, after you put them on the table and counted them, did you see them until you saw them to-night?—A. I did not see them after they were put in the box.
Q. 44. Answer that first.—A. No, sir.
Q. 45. From the time you saw them brought on the table up there, did you see them any more after they were put into the box until you saw them to-night?—A. No, sir; I did not see them.

J. M. PUTNAM, being produced and sworn before E. G. Kinnie, notary public for Tama County, on this 6th day of March, A. D. '83, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, W. H. Stivers on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your age, name, place of residence, and occupation?—A. Name, J. M. Putnam; Gladbrook.
Q. 2. Were you present, some time in the latter part of Feb., at Gladbrook, in Tama County, Iowa, when the votes that had been cast at the Nov. election, '82, in said township, county, and State for Representative in Congress were counted in the presence of Mr. French and Mr. Stone?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 3. Can you tell what day of the month that was, or day of the week?—A. I cannot tell; I think Friday or Saturday of last week.
Q. 4. Well, at the time of that count did you keep tally of the count?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 5. What was the result; how many did Frederick have, and how many did Wilson?
(Objection, because there is no evidence that those are the ballots that were cast, not having been carefully preserved, &c. The count was not made under oath.)
A. 101 for Wilson; 98 for Frederick.
Q. 6. Whreabouts was this count had; where did it take place?—A. At Mr. French's harness store.
Q. 7. Did you handle any of the votes—you or Mr. Stone—at all?—A. No, sir.
Q. 8. Who called them off?—A. Mr. French.
Q. 9. Where did he get them?—A. He got them out of the ballot-box.
Q. 10. This same box produced here to-night?—A. I think so.
Q. 11. Did you look at those ballots as they were being counted here to-night?—A. I looked at them.

Q. 12. Were they the same ballots counted there that day?—A. Yes; they were, I think.

Cross-examination:

Q. 13. What do you form your opinion from?—A. They look like the same ballots.
Q. 14. What did you do at the time of the count?—A. I just said that I tallied.
Q. 15. Did you see the ballots by tallying?—A. I will tell you—let me see—wait a minute. I am not sure now whether I tallied or whether Mr. Stone tallied. I cannot be positive whether I tallied or not.
Q. 16. You did not keep count?—A. I said that because of these——
Q. 17. Answer yes or no. Do you know whether you kept any count?—A. Yes, sir; I have a count here I took myself.
Q. 18. Took at the time of the tally?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 19. Did you tally?—A. I say I won't be sure whether I tallied or not.
Q. 20. Then how did you keep count?—A. If I did not keep count myself I took a count from Mr. Stone's book.
Q. 21. I ask you whether you know anything about it, only what Mr. Stone told you?—A. Just let me think a minute.
Q. 22. I am not hindering you from thinking.—A. I give it up. I do not know whether I tallied or not.
Q. 24. You don't know whether you tallied or not?—A. I think so.
Q. 25. You saw them?—A. Yes, sir, I saw them.
Q. 26. You examined them?—A. I did not take hold of them. I looked over them; I did not compare them. I simply looked over them as we ran them off, to see whether for Frederick or Wilson.
Q. 27. All that you know about it is what Mr. Stone told you?—A. I took it from Mr. Stone's tallying.
Q. 28. You copied from Stone's tallying, of course, alone?—A. I took it from his.
Q. 29. Do you know anything more about the result except what Stone told you?—A. I presume not.
Q. 30. How came you to go there to look?—A. Mr. Stone requested me to go with him.
Q. 31. He is the gentleman from Marshalltown; what does he do up there; what is his given name?—A. I don't know that I can give it to you.
Q. 32. Was he a stranger to you?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 33. You don't know his name or what he follows?—A. Yes, sir; he was a right-of-way-man for a R'y Co.
Q. 34. He came there to see you to get you to come to see the votes counted?—A. I don't know that he came expressly to see me. Yes, sir, he came into my store; asked me to go with him to French's; he wanted somebody to see the votes counted.
Q. 35. This right-of-way man wanted to see the votes counted. Did they count them when you were present?—A. French counted the votes.
Q. 36. He wanted you to be present when the votes were counted?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 37. You were quite an active Frederick man in the canvass?—A. No, sir; not active, but a man.
Q. 39. You were an active man in the canvass?—A. No, sir; not very.
Q. 40. What men were active in the canvass?—A. I don't know any of them.
Q. 41. Were you active?—A. I have answered that question; I don't have to answer it.
Q. 42. What part did you take in the election for Mr. Frederick?—A. What part did I take?
Q. 43. Yes, sir.—A. I walked down and voted.
Q. 44. Is that all?—A. Yes, sir; that is all.
Q. 45. You did not take any part in drumming up votes?—A. If I expressed myself, I expressed myself in favor of Frederick.
Q. 46. You say you did not answer that question as to whether you took an active part in drumming up votes?—A. I say I did not take a very active part.
Q. 47. Did you then take a part in drumming—in drumming up votes for Frederick at the polls?—A. No, sir; I didn't at the polls; I did not say I was at the polls but once; I presume I voted; I am pretty sure I voted; I can not answer that positively.
Q. 48. Now, when you were up there, you and this right-of-way man went up to count these votes, where did you find Mr. French?—A. In his harness store.
Q. 49. In his store?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 50. Where is that, in connection with the shop?—A. In the same building.
Q. 51. In the same room?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 52. About what size was that front room?—A. Well, I don't exactly know.
Q. 53. What do you judge?—A. Probably 20 x 30; I don't know, though.
Q. 54. Well, when you found him, where did you go?—A. We stayed right there.
Q. 55. You stayed in the front room?—A. Well, we were in both rooms.

Q. 56. You say you found him in the front room?—A. We stayed in the store after that; back in the back part of the store is where we did the work.
Q. 57. In his harness shop?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 58. Who found the ballot-box?—A. Mr. French and Mr. Stone, before Mr. French left.
Q. 59. Where was that?—A. He told me——
Q. 60. I did not ask you what he told you. Where did he find it?—A. I don't know where in thunder he found it; I have his word for it.
Q. 61. Did you go into the back room with him?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 62. Stone go too?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 63. How big is this room?—A. 12 x 20, probably.
Q. 64. Back door?—A. I don't know whether or not.
Q. 65. How long had you been there when Mr. French found the ballot-box in the back room?—A. Probably half an hour, though I will not be positive about it.
Q. 66. Was French there all the time this half hour?—A. No, sir; he had gone out to find the ballot-box.
Q. 67. He went out somewhere and found the ballot-box?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 68. Then it was not under the cutting-bench?—A. No, sir.
Q. 69. Was he gone half an hour hunting the ballot-box?—A. I should judge.
Q. 70. When he came back he brought this ballot-box with him; you and Stone and he counted the ballots. Did not get it there in his room at all?—A. I think not.
Q. 71. Who unlocked it, or was it locked?—A. Well, I don't know who unlocked it; I am sure I did not.
Q. 72. Did you see anybody unlock the box?—A. I cannot answer that question.
Q. 73. You have no recollection of seeing anybody unlock the box?—A. I don't know that I noticed; I don't suppose that I did.
Q. 74. Did he bring it under his arm?—A. I dont know whether under his arm.
Q. 75. What did he do with it?—A. Set it on the table.
Q. 76. On the counting table?—A. I suppose so.
Q. 77. Who opened it?—A. Mr. French did.
Q. 78. French opened the box?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 80. How did he do it?—A. I cannot tell for the life of me; I suppose he lifted the lid.
Q. 82. Take them all out, laying them on the table?—A. Yes, sir; took them all out.
Q. 83. Then what did you do when you had all of the ballots out of the box onto the table?—A. French counted; run through them.
Q. 84. French laid them on the table?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 85. Mr. Stone, you said, tallied?—A. I think so.
Q. 86. You looked on?—A. Yes, sir; I think so.
Q. 87. Looked at the tallying or the counting?—A. At the tickets.
Q. 88. When they were counted?—A. Yes, sir.

ELDON MORAN,
Notary Public for Johnson County, Iowa,
and Commissioner agreed upon to take testimony.

No. 3.

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

Deposition of witnesses produced before me, Eldon Moran, a notary public and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony in this cause, and duly sworn before J. H. Bradley, a notary public for Marshall County, on this 11th day of April, A. D. 1883, at Marshalltown, in pursuance of the notice hereunto attached, in a proceeding pending before the House of Representatives of the United States of America, in a contested election for the office of Representative in Congress, in which proceeding Benj. T. Frederick is contestant, and James Wilson contestee; Brown & Carney for contestant, and J. H. Bradley for contestee.

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

D. S. TYNER, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, a notary public for Marshall County, on this 11th day of April, A. D. 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant and J. H. Bradley on part of contestee):

Q. 1. Where do you live?—A. I live in Montour, Indian Village Township.

Q. 2. Did you vote at the Nov. election, '82?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. Where did you vote?—A. At Montour, Tama Co., Iowa.

Q. 4. For whom did you vote for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. Mr. Wilson.

Q. 5. Where did you live prior to that time?—A. My home has always been in Tama Co.

Q. 6. Did you go to Dakota and take a claim?—A. I went to Dakota.

Q. 7. What time did you go to take that claim?—A. I went in March; I don't know whether you would call it taking a claim; I applied for a claim, but did not get it.

Q. 8. How long did you remain?—A. Three days, and then I came back.

Q. 9. Did you go to Carroll County after that?—A. I went to Dakota again; first time went in April.

Q. 10. How long did you stay then?—A. Staid until July.

Q. 10 (a). Did you take a claim? You staid until July; where did you go then?—A. Back home.

Q. 11. To Tama County?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 12. Where did you go then?—A. To the western part of the State.

Q. 12. Where were you—near the Toledo and Northwestern road?—A. As far as Lake City, back through Shelby Co., back into Carroll County, and then home.

Q. 14. How long did you stay in Carroll County?—A. I was there four weeks.

Q. 15. Did you rent some land up there?—A. Yes, sir; I did.

Q. 16. Did you live on it?—A. No. sir.

Q. 17. Did you stay with it?—A. No, sir; I think I was there a couple or three weeks; I was there only a short time, did a little plowing, and came back home.

Q. 18. Did you move all your things away?—A. No, sir.

Q. 19. Did you take anything with you?—A. I took one team and a plow.

Q. 20. Did you have a wife or family at home?—A. No, sir; I am a single man.

Q. 21. Did you leave anything at home?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 22. What did you leave?—A. My money and clothes at home, except my working clothes. I have some bedding, and I left that. I have a buggy, and I left that at home.

Q. 23. Did you take the rest of your property with you?—A. I took nothing, except the team.

Q. 24. Did you take harness and wagon?—A. We had a wagon together. We had that; yes, sir. All I took was a team.

Q. 25. Did you stop there for the purpose of farming?—A. I went to do some fall plowing on the place we had rented.

Q. 26. What time did you return from Carroll County; and what time were you there?—A. I think we were there, it might have been the last of Sep., after the county fair. We got back the last of Oct. some time. I don't remember the day we got home.

Q. 27. Who went with you?—A. Mr. Carter.

Q. 28. What time did Mr. Carter go out there?—A. He went with me and came home with me.

Q. 29. Did he go to Dakota with you?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 30. Did you go to Dakota to take a claim?—A. We expected to take a claim, do some breaking to hold it, and then come home again.

Q. 31. Did you go to Carroll County with the expectation of farming your land in the spring?—A. Yes, sir; we expected in the spring to go back again.

Q. 32. You went with the expectation of moving on the farm and doing business there?—A. Yes, sir; the next year.

Q. 33. You did some business there; expected to live there?—A. All the business that we did was to plow a little.

Q. 34. That is all the farming you did?—A. Yes, sir; all we had to do in the fall.

Q. 35. When you were requested to vote did you not tell them you were not a voter?—A. I went up to the polls to vote; they objected to my voting. I told them I wanted to think about the thing a little. Of course wanted to think about the thing. I studied it out a little while, got a little advice, concluded I was a voter, and voted.

Q. 36. You had some doubts; you had moved away; you afterwards moved up to Carroll County?—A. No, sir.

Q. 37. Was it not just the same as if you had moved anywhere. The fact that you left a few clothes did not make any difference?—A. When I go to move I take all my property; when I go to work I don't take it all.

Q. 38. Did you not know how Mr. Carter voted?—A. No, sir; all I know is what I heard.

Q. 39. Did he state at that time how he voted?

(Objection on the ground that it is incompetent and immaterial.)

A. He said that he voted a straight Republican ticket.

Cross-examination:

Q. 40. You did not intend to move out to Carroll County till this spring?—A. No, sir.

Q. 41. By going out there to make improvements you only intended it to advance your work?—A. Simply to advance our work in the spring.

Q. 42. Did Mr. Carter intend to do the same as you did?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 43. He came back the same as you did?—A. Yes, sir; he was here the whole season; only a few days from home.

Q. 44. Was he a married man?—A. No, sir; he was not.

Q. 45. Did you and Mr. Carter both stay there through the winter, at Montour?—A. Yes, sir; that was our home; he was running around where he had a little business to attend to.

Q. 46. Montour was your home at that time.—A. Yes, sir; he was at different places; he was busily engaged right there. He was at various places away from home.

Q. 47. You say you did not succeed in getting a claim in Dakota?—A. No, sir; we applied for our claim. I did not get any until the other boys got a claim. We did not get the land we took, and our money was refunded to us.

Q. 48. You did not make any home there?—A. No, sir; we disposed of it.

Q. 49. I understood when you went out there, you went temporarily; you intended to return, then decided to go in the spring?—A. Yes, sir; that was so; I intended to go back in the spring.

Q. 50. When did Carter go to Carroll County?—A. I think the first week in March that he moved.

Q. 51. Has he been out there during the winter or fall?—A. I think he made two trips to Carroll in the winter; he was only gone a few days.

Q. 52. How long had you been in Carroll County before you returned to Montour?—A. I think four or five or six weeks. Something like that; I think we went last Sep.; came home last Oct.; some time about that time.

Q. 53. Did you go there the last of Oct.?—A. No, sir; the last of Sep.; returned the last of Oct.

Q. 54. You did not get back until a day or two before election?—A. I don't know how long we were home before the election.

Q. 55. Did you not return home Sat. before election?—A. I got home Sun.

Q. 56. Well, Sun. before the election?—A. I don't know whether that Sun. or Sun. week before the election; it could not have been more than a week.

Q. 57. Did you not return the 5th of Nov., in fact?—A. I could not say about the 5th of Nov.; I could not say in regard to that.

Q. 58. You put money in your claim in Dakota?—A. We deposited money with the land agents when we went there, he returned the money to us.

E. E. WILCOX, being produced and sworn before Mr. Brown, a notary public for Marshall County, on this 11th day of April, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Are you station agent at Montour?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 2. Do you know Mr. Tyner? Do you know of their moving to Carroll County?—A. Yes, sir; only by the record left in the office by what they shipped.
(Contestant objects to the testimony; the record is the best evidence.)
(Witness produces the book.)
Q. 3. You may state what you have recorded here in regard to Mr. Tyner and Mr. Carter.—A. I only have a record of Mr. Carter's way bill of the shipment left in the office: Way-bill No. 6, April 24th, 1882; Montour to Hitchcock, Dakota; emigrant; Dakota Central car, 1522.
Q. 4. What is Mr. Carter's first name?—A. The initials given here are J. O. Carter.
Q. 5. He took a whole car load, did he?—A. Yes, sir; according to the records.
Q. 6. There is no record as to Mr. Tyner—what he shipped?—A. Not that I know of.
Q. 7. Did Mr. Tyner go with Mr. Carter?—A. I could not say.
(Contestant objects to the preceding; evidence is incompetent and immaterial.)
($1.85 paid as fee by contestant.)

E. E. WILCOX.

D. S. TYNER recalled:

Q. 1. Did you go with Carter to Dakota?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 2. Did you have any property in your care?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 3. What was it?—A. Three horses, corn, oats, and a breaking-plow; also a trunk.
Q. 4. Did you have any bedding?—A. Nothing, only I believe a big quilt, and three or four horse-blankets; also a trunk.
Q. 5. You went there to stay when you started, did you not?—A. Yes, sir; I staid a short time and did some breaking.
Q. 6. You had no idea as to when you would come back?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 7. When did you say you would be back?—A. Right in harvest, or August; by fall, any way.
Q. 8. You went to take a claim; locate it and improve it?—A. We left money; we desired to go up there, do some plowing, and return.

Cross-examination:

Q. 9. When you went there you found your claim was not open?—A. Yes; we sold out and came home.
Q. 10. When you went you did not intend to change your residence, then?—A. Yes, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 11. What time did you rent your farm in Carroll County?—A. Some time in the month of September.
Q. 12. How long did you rent it for?—A. For a year from the first of March; the time was to commence the first of March, '83.
Q. 13. Did you not have possession in the fall to do plowing?—A. Yes, sir; we boarded ourselves, that we might do fall plowing.
Q. 14. Did you not have possession for the purpose of improving your farm?—A. I don't know whether you would call it possession or not.
Q. 15. Did you do plowing?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 16. You did not have possession to do plowing?—A. I don't know what you would call it.
(Excused.)

J. A. HARVEY, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, notary public for Marshall County, on this 11th day of April, '83, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, J. H. Bradley on part of contestee):

Q. 1. Do you remember when Mr. Carter and Tyner left for Dakota?—A. Only by referring to the books.
Q. 2. You are one of the station agents?—A. I was a student in the telegraph office.
Q. 3. You may state what they said as to their going away.
(Objection.)

Q. 4. Do you know whether they left as permanently moving, or not?—A. I do not know; I cannot say as to that.

Q. 5. Did you ever have any conversation with him?—A. I don't think I did, only when we were loading the car there that day.

Q. 6. What did they tell you?—A. Mr. Carter told me that he had a nice piece of land up there; was going up there to live on it.

(Contestee objects to testimony as being incompetent and immaterial.)

JAMES L. MCGEE, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, notary public for Marshall County, on this 11th day of April, '83, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, J. H. Bradley on part of contestee):

Q. 1. Where do you live?—A. In Indian Village Township, Tama County.

Q. 2. Do you know Tyner and Carter?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. Where do they reside?—A. Tyner, or his father, lives three-fourths of a mile from my place—our farms are joining; that is, the young man's father. He has no particular home any more than when he is with his father.

Q. 4. He was here last summer. Do you know for what purpose he went away?—A. I knew that he was here; also as to where he was going to be.

Q. 5. What did he say?

(Objection, incompetent and immaterial.)

A. I understood from the neighbors that they were moving up there.

Q. 6. To Dakota?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 7. For the purpose of making that their home?—A. Yes, sir; that seemed to be the understanding.

Q. 8. What did Carter say about that?

(Objection, incompetent and immaterial.)

A. After he came back from there, in the first place, he said that he liked the country, and that he had taken out a nice piece of land. He said that they had found a nice piece of land to suit them, but, finding that the land-office was 80 miles west, caused them to go out there; that they would have to go by stage or walk out. We got men to attend to it; paid them for it. They came down to get horses, and started to move up there.

Q. 9. You may state where they lived during the summer.—A. They were not down there until the fore part of August, and were there, I guess, about two weeks, probably; then they left there and went west.

Q. 10. Do you know what they went west for?—A. I had a talk with Mr. Carter. He said they had lost the piece of ground they wanted to get, and they had made up their minds they would go to the western part of the State to get land. When they went to the ticket office they found they could get a ticket to Montour as a cheap or cheaper to the western part of the State. They concluded that they would run around here, see the boys, and then go on west.

Q. 11. How long were they gone that time?—A. They were gone quite awhile. I did not have any talk with them. I understood they rented a piece of ground; got it to go to work on.

Q. 12. What time did they return before election?—A. The first I saw of them was on the day of the election.

Q. 13. Do you know whether or not they voted at the election?—A. I saw this man Tyner vote. I did not see Mr. Carter vote; this man's vote was challenged, and it went in. Carter voted the fore part of the day. I voted the latter part of the day.

Q. 14. Do you understand that they moved there from Montour and had a residence there before the election?—A. Well, I don't know; they sold out in Dakota. I understood that when they rented a piece of ground they went out to commence work on it.

(Contestee objects to the testimony of this witness, for the reason that it's a declaration which is incompetent hearsay.)

C. A. STEVENS, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, on this 10th day of March, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T Brown appearing on the part of contestant, J. H. Bradley on part of contestee):

Q. 1. How old are you?—A. Thirty-one years old.

Q. 2. Where do you reside?—A. Montour.

Q. 3. Were you one of the officers at the November election held in Indian Village Township, Tama County, Iowa, in which the electors voted for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. What office did you hold?—A. Township clerk.

Q. 4(a). Did you have the ballot-box of that township in your possession after the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. How long?—A. Until January 1st.

Q. 6. You may state where the ballot-box was kept while you had it in your possession.—A. It was kept in the bank. It sat on the safe part of the time and part of the time under the counter.

Q. 7. Who had access to it?—A. C. J. Stevens.

Q. 8. Where was the key?—A. It hung up in the office.

Q. 9. You are C. J. Stevens?—A. No; C. A. Stevens is my name.

Q. 10. Do you know whether the ballot-box was disturbed while in your possession or the ballots taken out or exchanged?—A. I don't know; it might have been.

Q. 11. Who was there that could have done it?—A. Well, I don't know of any one unless it was C. J. Stevens.

Q. 12. What are his politics?—A. Republican.

Q. 13. Is he the proprietor of the bank?—A. Yes, sir; he was at that time.

Q. 14. Was this kept in the back part of the building?—A. Yes, sir; under the counter part of the time and part of the time sitting on the floor beside the safe. I don't know but what I did have it some of the time in the back part of the office sitting on top of the desk.

Q. 15. Who had access to the key besides yourself?—A. I don't know that anybody did, but the ballot-box is in such shape that any one can open it.

Q. 16. How do it?—A. By turning it up on one end.

Q. 17. Well, what persons had access to it?—I don't know of any one except Stevens.

Q. 18. Is he the only person that could have opened it?—A. Yes, sir; the only one that I know.

Q. 19. You never opened it or disturbed the ballots?—A. I took them out once the next morning after the election.

Q. 20. For what purpose?—A. Just to look them over.

Q. 21. Did you alter any of the ballots?—A. No, sir.

Q. 22. Did you recount them?—A. No, sir.

Q. 23. Did you erase any name upon any ballot for any office?—A. No, sir.

Q. 24. Or write anything upon any one?—A. You mean after the election?

Q. 25. Yes, sir.—A. No, sir.

Q. 26. What do you say as to the ballots in the box when you turned it over to your successor being the same identical ballots?—A. Yes, sir; for anything that I know of.

Q. 27. Have you any reason to doubt but that these are the same ballots?—A. No, sir.

Cross-examination:

Q. 28. Is your box so that if turned up on one end the lock will allow it to open?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 29. Where was the safe?—A. In the back part of the building.

Q. 30. Was that back of the counter inside?—A. The bank part of it is in two separate rooms; the first part of the office as you come in is where the safe is kept, and there is a back sitting room; this ballot-box, I think, most of the time was kept in that room.

Q. 31. That was on the back side of the counter?—A. Yes, sir; it was.

Q. 32. You simply know that you did not take care of the ballots yourself?—A. No, sir; I did not.

Q. 33. You did not say anybody had it?—A. No, sir.

Q. 34. You say the ballot-box could have been opened?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 35. Did you make a canvass that night?—A. No, sir; I just kept tally.

Q. 36. Did you keep tally correctly?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 37. Were you particular about it?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 38. One of the judges handed out the tickets, and one of them counted them off?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 39. In the presence of all three?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 40. Did they all examine them?—A. No, sir, I think not; I think that Mr. Taplin unfolded them in tallies of 5 each, and handed them to Mr. ————, and called them off.

Q. 41. Did you make out certificates at the end of the tally-book?—A. No, sir; not in this thing. The one that I made out went to Toledo.

Q. 42. For aught you know?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 43. The ballots may have been changed?—A. Yes, sir; for aught I know.

Q. 44. The key hung up in the office?—A. Yes, sir; the key hung up in the room where the safe was.

Q. 45. You say if you turn the box up on one end you need no key?—A. Yes, sir; that is a fact.

Redirect examination:

Q. 46. Is that place where the ballot-box was kept where everybody went, or nobody besides you and Stevens?—A. Yes, sir; this is about all the people that were allowed in there.

Q. 47. You did not allow everybody in your money drawer?—A. No, sir.

Q. 48. It was not kept where anybody had access to it besides Mr. Stevens?—A. no, sir.

Q. 49. Mr. Stevens is a banker there and a reputable man?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 50. What office has he held?—A. He was clerk of the courts.

Q. 51. Nobody else besides Mr. Stevens and yourself?—A. No, sir; I don't think of anybody else besides my wife. I do not think she did anything of that kind.

C. A. STEVENS.

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

A. B. TAPLIN, being produced and sworn before me, J. H. Bradley, a notary public in and for Marshall County, on this 10th day of March, A. D. 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, and place of residence, and occupation?—A. My name is A. B. Taplin; age, 54; and I live in Montour.

Q. 2. Were you one of the judges of the election held in Indian Village Township in November, 1882?—A. Yes, sir; I was one of the judges.

Q. 3. State what time these votes were counted?—A. We commenced to count votes I think, about half past seven o'clock in the evening.

Q. 4. What kind of light did you have?—A. We had kerosene lamps; three of them, I think.

Q. 5. Who were the other officers?—A. James Miles, Fred Hotchkiss, and myself were all. Chas. Stevens was clerk; Wm. Thomas was the other, I think. That is my recollection.

Q. 6. You may state how you counted the votes, whether in fives or not?—A. Well, I took the votes out of the box very carefully and passed them to Hotchkiss; another judge read them through, and they were tallied, of course.

Q. 7. How old a man is Mr. Hotchkiss?—A. 35 or 36; somewhere along there.

Q. 8. Have you assisted in the recount to-day?—A. Yes, sir; I have assisted in taking the return of the number of votes, also in tallying the names.

Q. 9. How many ballots did you find in the box to-day for the office of Representative in Congress—how many for each man?—A. I think it all foots up to 243.

Q. 10. That is all the votes in the box?—A. Yes, sir; 121 we found it to-day for Mr. Wilson, 108 for Frederick, 6 for Platner; 8 have no Representative on at all.

Q. 11. Are two of these tickets such tickets as might have come off from other tickets?—A. Yes, sir; it looks as though there might be two of them that might have come off.

Q. 12. Was the township ticket written or penciled on?—A. Yes, sir; a good many of them.

Q. 13. They might have come off in the boxes?—A. Yes, sir; it is possible they might.

Q. 14. Yet you have no recollection of any one voting township ticket without anything else?—A. I had no other way of knowing.

Q. 15. From the appearance of these two extra ballots, or rather township tickets, what is your judgment as to their having been attached to other tickets?—A. One of them, I am sure, was attached; as to the other I am not so certain.

Q. 16. Then really only 242 votes were found in the box, if there is over 241?—A. I would say not.

Q. 17. Did you count the tickets over more than once at the election?—A. No, sir; to my recollection I would not.

Q. 18. There were a good many tickets in the box with the name of Frederick written on them, were there not, and you found such at the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. It being in the night time when you counted, what do you say as to the possibility of your making an error in counting the ballots?—A. I will admit that I might make an error now, or either I was careful; I kept close to the light.

Q. 21. Did you wear glasses on that night?—A. Yes, sir; I did wear glasses.

Q. 22. You have made no error in the count to-day, have you?—A. No, sir; I do not know that I have. I do not know that I had then either.

Q. 23. How many times did you count the votes to-day?—A. I have seen them counted twice; tallying after the call was made.

Cross-examination:

Q. You took as much as ordinary care to make a correct canvass, did you not?—A. Yes, sir; I did.

Q. 26. And it may be that the count to-day is right?—A. Yes, it might be.

Q. 27. Well, might it not be now, considering the scratches on the ballots, that the count is right to-day, and was right on that night, and there have been no changes?—A. It might be, sir; I do not know anything about that.

Q. 28. You could not tell from the examination of the tickets whether scratches were made then or since then?—A. No, sir.

Q. 29. Well, as to the probability of your canvassing rightly, you mean to say simply that there was a possibility of an error?—A. Yes, sir; there was a possibility of an error.

Q. 30. You do not mean to say a probability?—A. No, sir; only a possibility.

Q. 31. You mean to say you feel pretty certain it was right?—A. Yes, sir; I felt so all the time.

Q. 32. And you still feel so?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 32 K. These two ballots, if you please; I would like to have you take these two ballots out and let us see them. I now refer to the ballots to which I believe there are no State tickets attached.

(Witness here produces the same.)

These tickets, now, which you say it would be possible to become attached—you think, do you, that it would have been possible for either of them to become attached to another in the box?—A. In case of one I do not see anything to indicate that it could have been attached.

Q. 34. Did you observe any paste or pen-work?—A. No, sir.

Q. 35. The other ticket is all in writing or in printing?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 36. Did you observe any paste on that one?—A. Yes, sir; there is some that came off.

Q. 37. Both are simply township tickets?—A. Yes, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 38. That may have been folded into another ticket, may it not?—A. I do not know at that time—it could have been, of course.

Q. 39. You are not so certain but there was a possibility of a mistake in that election, and that in the count of the votes the clerks might have made an error in the tallying?—A. Yes, sir; there is a possibility of error in almost anything that might be done.

Q. 40. The clerks might have made an error, although you might have called them right?—A. Yes, sir; that might be.

Q. 41. You would be as likely to place it in that direction as in any other?—A. I would hardly know where to put it.

Q. 42. It is not uncommon that errors are made in the tally, is it? There are discrepancies between the two clerks frequently?—A. Yes, sir; there is a discrepancy sometimes of one tally; I have seen that at different times; although I did not notice that one there.

Recross-examination:

Q. 43. Did you count the ballots before you commenced the canvass, after the election, to see whether the number of ballots agreed with the number of voters?—A. No, sir; I do not think that we did. I think that we went to work on them counting them out by fives.

A. B. TAPLIN.

Q. 34. Do you go wherever the company sends you?—A. Yes, sir; when I am pleased with the position.
Q. 35. You have been doing that wherever the company commands you to go?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 36. Did the company give you any time, any length of time, to work at Potter?—A. No, sir.
Q. 37. Did you expect to go wherever they send you?—A. They told me they would give me work at Potter.
Q. 38. You expected to work there as long as they wanted you?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 39. What did you expect to do then?—A. The next best thing.
Q. 40. Did you go wherever they wanted you to?—A. Yes, sir; wherever I wanted to work for them.
Q. 41. You did'nt go to Potter to stay any time?—A. No, sir.
Q. 42. Just as long as they wanted you to work?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 43. The man McGuire you say you knew in Fayette County?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 44. When did you know him there?—A. I knew him there in 1881.
Q. 45. What time of year you referred to in 1881?—A. It was in the winter '80 and '81.
Q. 46. 6 months prior to January '81 you were not referring were you?—A. No, sir.
Q. 47. How long was it, please, before '82, was it 6 months?—A. Hardly that long.
Q. 48. How long was it then?—A. Well, I think it was in August or September I went to Marion.
Q. 49. 1881?—A. No, sir, '82; hold on; I will tell you in a minute; it was in '81, in Aug. or Sept.
Q. 50. Tell us again when you knew this man McGuire in Fayette?—A. In the winter of '80 and '81, some time along during the winter.
Q. 51. When did you first become acquainted with him?—A. Later than that, when I first became acquainted with him.
Q. 52. When did you become personally acquainted with that man McGuire?—A. in March some time.
Q. 53. In '81?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 54. You lived in Fayette in Aug. or Sep., '81?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 55. Have you been back to Montour since?—A. No, sir.
Q. 56. Were you not acquainted with McGuire before '81?—A. Not personally; I knew the man when I saw him; I had seen him at different times; I had been out at different places where they were and met this man.
Q. 57. Previous to March '81 your acquaintance with him was as a section hand on the R'y?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 58. You became personally acquainted with him in March, 1881?—A. Yes. sir,
Q. 59. Are you not mistaken about that?—A. No, sir; I think not.
Q. 60. When did you come to Potter?—A. Along about the first of May.
Q. 61. What year?—A. In '82.
Q. 62. Was he with you when you went from Marion to Potter?—A. No, sir.
Q. 63. How long before or after you were there did he come to Potter?—A. I came to Potter in January, he came in May.
Q. 64. As a section hand on the road?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 65. And stayed there until they discharged him?—A. He became foreman after he was there a while. He agreed to stay until they discharged him.
Q. 66. When they discharged him he went away again?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 67. The same with the rest of the hands and with you?—A. Yes, sir; I never was discharged, though.
Q. 68. You staid just as long as you got employment?—A. No, sir.
Q. 69. You lived in Fayette County in August or September, 1881. When was it you first knew of him?—A. I will tell you, just give me time, that is what I ask you. I cannot give the day; it was a special election called in Fayette County in regard to moving the jail.
Q. 70. That is the only time?—A. No, sir; I voted with him at an election along about ——
Q. 71. The question was about the jail?—A. Yes, sir; in regard to building a jail.
Q. 72. Where was the next election you voted with him?—A. It was between March and August. I only voted with him once. I saw him before that day.
Q. 73. He lived in Fayette then?—A. Yes, sir; in Fayette County.

Q. 75. In what precinct did you vote at this special election—whereabouts did you vote?—A. At Randall.
Q. 76. That was on the railway?—A. Yes, sir; but not on the Milwaukee railway.
Q. 77. You were just a section hand then?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 79. So long as the company sees fit to keep you you will stay?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 80. Is that the way with McGuire?—A. Yes, sir; I presume so.

Redirect:

Q. 81. Are you a Republican?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 1. Are you acquainted with Mr. Thomas McGuire?—A. I am, sir.
Q. 2. How long have you known him?—A. I have known him about three months.
Q. 3. What time did you know him?—A. Well, I don't know what time it was. It was along about August I went to work there.
Q. 4. You first knew him in August?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 5 You saw him on the section previous to that?—A. Yes, sir; I worked right along on the farm, right by the section, where I could see him every morning. I was not acquainted with him.
Q. 6. How long did you see him?—A. Well, I worked under him there three months on the section.
Q. 7. You remember the first time you saw him?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 8. Some time in the early part of summer or spring?—A. Yes, sir; I had seen him, although, many times before, but I did not know him at the time.
Q. 9. You did not know him personally?—A. No, sir.
Q. 10. You knew him afterwards?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 12. Voted, did he?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 13. You have known him for more than 60 days in Tama County, have you not?—A. I had seen him there for more than 60 days.
Q. 14. Was that the township in which he voted?—A. Yes, sir.

Cross-examination:

Q. 15. When was the first time you recollect seeing him?—A. That I cannot tell you.
Q. 16. How do you know it was more than 60 days?—A. Because I had been there more than three months.
Q. 17. Tell us the first time you recollect of seeing him?—A. I cannot tell you.
Q. 18. Well, tell us the first time you recollect of seeing him.—A. It was long about the 1st of August that I recollect of seeing him.
Q. 19. Along about the 1st of August?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 20. Where was it?—A. Right on the railway side of Potter.
Q. 21. Was he a single man?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 22. How do you know?—A. He said he was a single man. He boarded with me.
Q. 23. Is that the only way that you knew that he was a single man?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 24. Did you know that he had a family living in Wisconsin?—A. No, sir.
Q. 25. Do you know where he came from to Potter?—A. No, sir. He said he was a Hawkeye.
Q. 26. This fellow told you that he came from Hawkeye?—A. McGuire told me that he came from Hawkeye. He worked a section in Hawkeye.
Q. 27. You don't know whether or not he was a man of a family?—A. No, sir.
Q. 28. How did he tell you that he was a single man?—A. He did not tell me any more than the rest of them.
Q. 28. Where was it?—A. In the section-house at Potter.
Q. 29. Tell us what he told you?—A. I cannot tell you any more than that he said he did not have a family; said that he was a single man, also that he wanted to get married.
Q. 30. How long after you knew him did he tell you that?—A. About a month or six weeks.
Q. 31. Staid there how low long after the election?—A. I don't know how long.
Q. 32. Don't you konw he went away the next day?—A. Well, he went away the next day or night to stay away. He was back and forth there some time.
Q. 33. He went away the next day after the election, did he not?—A. I don't know whether or not.

Q. 34. Where did he go; off with the work?—A. I don't know that, sir.
Q. 35. Well, tell us about how long it was before he went away?—A. Well, I cannot tell you exactly.
Q. 36. Were you on the works?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 37. Who was boss election day; McGuire?—A. No, sir; Mr. Rose was boss then.
Q. 38. How long had Rose been your section-boss, about, that time; on election day?—A. He had not been our boss over three or four weeks.
Q. 39. Had he been more than three or four days?—A. I don't know that.
Q. 40. Don't you know it?—A. I never bore it in mind.
Q. 41. Did you not know that Rose had been your boss for three or four days before election?—A. No, sir; I don't remember that. He may have been our boss three hours, or he may have been our boss for a year for all that I know.
Q. 42. For all you know, Rose may have been section-boss, for all you know?—A. There or somewhere else.
Q. 43. Now, I mean your boss.—A. I know that he was there five years.
Q. 44. Did you not tell me that he was there five years, possibly?—A. It was that long or longer.
Q. 45. Which way do you want it now?—A. I don't know anything about that.
Q. 46. Well, go about something that you do know something about.—A. That is what I want.
Q. 47. Did this man McGuire tell you how long he was going to stay there when he was talking about getting married?—A. No, sir; he did not know whether he would stay 15 minutes or a year.
Q. 48. He was subject to the order of the company?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 50. He came there at the order of the company?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 51. Did he go away at the order of the company?—A. Yes, sir; that is the way they do.
Q. 52. That is the way you did?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 53. And all of them?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 54. All in the same way; no assurance of staying there one day?—A. Yes, sir; might go away any day; I would not know whether I would stay one day.
Q. 55. He was to go whenever and wherever the company sent him?—A. Yes, sir; that is the way they do it.
Q. 56. And that was the way with McGuire?—A. Yes, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 57. I want to ask you a direct question; did you vote at the election?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 58. How long had you lived in the township before you voted?—A. I came to Mr. McGuire's the second day of Feb.
Q. 59. Did you have any residence anywhere else?—A. No, sir.
Q. 60. You voted at the election, did you not?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 61. Did you have a family?—A. No, sir.
Q. 62. That was your home, then, at that time?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 63. How long did you work for McGuire, and how long did you work at Potter; from Feb. to election time?—A. Well, I think I was on the r'y at election time.
Q. 64. You worked for McGuire a while, then for the r'y co.?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 65. You worked there at that time, and was a resident of that township when you voted?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 66. You had no other home?—A. No, sir.

JAMES DAVIS.

STATE OF IOWA,
Tama County, ss:

JAMES L. MCGEE, being produced and sworn before O. H. Mills, a notary public for Tama County, on this 5th day of May, A. D. 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, W. H. Stivers on part of contestee):

Q. 1. What time did you become acquainted with Davis?—A. 2nd day of Feb., '82.
Q. 2. Did he board at your house?—A. Yes, sir; I employed him to work for me on the 2nd day of Feb., '82. He worked for me until the 29th of July, and the 30th being Sunday, Monday he said he had business in town and he went away. Tuesday he came back and said his brother-in-law had written to him at Marshall. He said he would like to go up there. I said all right; he went there, came back to Montour, staid there for some time, then he went away to Potter and hired out on the Milwaukee R. R. I could see him there most every day. My farm joined up close to the station. He remained there until the Saturday previous to the election at Montour. He came over to my house and said he wanted to help me gather corn. I employed him. He remained with me until court set, in Toledo. About the 14th of Feb. he left me.

Q. 3. He had his home with you?—A. Yes, sir; his trunk and clothes were there; he had his washing done there. He made his home part of the time at the station-house, the balance of the time at Hickson's.

Q. 4. Indian Village Township?—A. Yes, sir.

Cross-examination:

Q. 5. He came home and you hired him to work how long?—A. During the season, that is when I first hired him in Feb., '82. He staid about Montour for 2 weeks; he was about sick.

Q. 6. Then went to work on the r'y?—A. Yes, sir; he hired out to the Milwaukee R'y; left his trunk at my house until Sep. He came to my house in Sep. and told me he wanted his trunk over there.

Q. 7. About Sep. you got him to settle up and he was still working on the r'y?—A. Yes, sir; on Friday night.

Q. 8. Was he working under a section boss?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 9. How far does a section extend along the road?—A. I guess it was about five miles.

Q. 10. From where?—A. Well, it is 2 miles and a little over east of Potter, where the east end of it is; the west end of it may extend into Marshall County.

Q. 11. These section hands have a boarding-house that they take along with them?—A. No, sir; they had a section-house there at which they board.

Q. 12. What do you mean by a section house?—A. Milwaukee Road puts up a house for him to live in and board his hands.

Q. 13. They board their hands in this house along the road?—A. They generally have one on their section.

Q. 14. They shove hands from one section to another? Have they, as a general thing, families living with them? McGuire and Davis don't have, do they?—A. No, sir; no families.

Q. 15. They went wherever the road put them?—A. It might be such a thing; they would take them out wherever there was a day's work to do.

Q. 16. A section hand's home is wherever he boards?—A. Yes, sir; and has his washing done.

Q. 17. Because he boards there, you say his home is there?—A. Generally; they don't have any other home.

Q. 18. How do you know?—A. I was personally acquainted with them.

Q. 18 (a). When did you become personally acquainted with Davis?—A. When he came there to work.

Q. 19. When he came and hired out to you?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 20. How long did he work for you?—A. During the season.

Q. 21. Why did he not stay the season out?—A. He went to Montour; got to drinking, and got a little miffed; he had been drinking some.

Q. 22. Then he changed his home from the r'y to your house; did he change his home—that is what I want to know?—A. He talked of changing his home.

Q. 23. Where did he change his home from your house?—A. He changed his place of work, and was not in my employ any more.

Q. 24. That is as long as he was under your employ?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 25. He was in the employ of the Milwaukee R. R. Co. before he came to your house?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 26. Then his home would be wherever the section extended?—A. Yes, sir; only on that section.

Q. 27. You think his home would be on that section?—A. He could leave any time he wished if they did not discharge him; he could leave of his own accord; at least he told me so when he and I settled up. He was owing me a little and agreed to help me pick corn.

Q. 28. Then he changed his home back to you first before election?—A. Well, there was nothing said about election.

Q. 29. Wasn't it first the Saturday before election?—A. Yes, sir; he came there first before election.

Q. 30. He came there to help you pick corn first the Saturday before the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 31. Nothing said about election between you and him?—A. No, sir. When we settled in Sept. he owed me $3; he said he had no money; he said that he would like to help me pick corn, and would like to have his drink. I said all right. He took his drink very often. I gave him notice when I was going to pick corn, and he came over to my house.

Q. 32. How long was he to stay at your house, two or three days?—A. No, sir; to help me clear through.

Q. 33. How long would that be?—A. As long as it would take to pick the corn.

Q. 34. Then where was he to go?—A. There was nothing said about that.

Q. 35. That was the length of time he was to stay?—A. That was the time for which I hired him.

Q. 36. Then so far as you know he was going away?—A. We did not have any more work for him.

Q. 37. When you got through, if there was no more work, he was to go away?—A. There was nothing said about that.

Q. 38. That was your understanding?—A. I presume so.

Q. 39. When you are through with a man you hire, you expect him to go away?—A. Yes, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 40. Do you know anything about the residence of J. W. Shelton?—A. No, sir; and I cannot tell you anything about him.

Q. 20. What is that?—A. He went down on a visit to Mo.

Q. Hold on a little, what do you mean? You say he came here; do you mean to Indian Village Township?—A. Yes sir, he went on a visit to Mo.

Q. 22. He came back to Indian Village—whereabouts in Indian Village?—A. To Montour. He worked for corn-shellers there.

Q. 24. What corn-shellers?—A. I don't know what the men's names were that shell corn.

Q. 25. How do you know that he did this?—A. I saw him.

Q. 26. When was it?—A. In the month of June, '82.

Q. 27. When else did you see him?—A. He was at my house frequently during the summer; he grubbed for Henry Cooper 2 or 3 months, in Indian Village.

Q. 28. For Cooper?—A. Yes, sir.

P. 29. What months?—A. I think that he commenced there in Aug.; the last of Aug. or the first of Sep.

Q. 30. Did you know where he went last fall?—A. No sir.

Q. 31. Did he leave?—A. He went away in the fall.
Q. 32. What time in the fall?—A. The last of Dec., about the 20th.
Q. 33. Do you know where he was at the time he left in Dec.?—A. He was husking corn for——
Q. 34. Was it for Wilcox?—A. Some for Wilcox and some for another man.
Q. 35. Was it the same man that husked corn for Wilcox?—A. Yes, sir; for different men at Montour.
Q. 36. Was he the man that had difficulty about the horses?—A. No, sir.
Q. 37. Which one was that?—A. That was Arden.
Q. 38. Do you know how long he husked corn for Wilcox?—A. I don't think he husked corn for Wilcox more than a week.
Q. 39. This is the same John W. Shelton?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 40. Arden is a brother of his?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 41. Where did he come from when he came back?—A. He went——
Q. 42. Well, you need not tell me where he went to when he came back there.—A. He went into Mo. on a visit.
Q. 43. How do you know that he went on a visit?—A. He told me so.
Q. 44. When did he tell you that?—A. When he started away; he was at my house on the night previous to the time that he left.
Q. 45. When did he tell you he was going on a visit?—A. Some time in the month of Oct., '1.
Q. 46. Visiting where his father lived, in Mo.?—A. No, sir; his father did not live there. He went down the second winter on a visit to his uncle.
Q. 47. Then in the spring his father moved down there?—A. Yes, sir, in Feb.
Q. 48. Then he came back in June, '82?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 49. He stayed here how long after he came back?—A. Until the last of Dec.
Q. 50. Then went where—to Mo., where his father lived?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 51. Is he there still?—A. Yes, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 52. When he went down there he left his property, took clothes, &c.?—A. Yes, sir.

Recross-examination:

Q. 53. What did he leave in the way of property?—A. It consisted mostly of a grub-hoe and a grindstone.

Redirect:

Q. 54. Did he leave his clothing?—A. Yes, sir; part of it.

Recross-examination:

Q. 55. What did he leave?—A. Coat and vest.
Q. 56. The one that he grubbed in?—A. I expect so.
Q. 57. Where did he leave his coat and vest?—A. At his brother's, Elroy Shelton.
Q. 58. How do you know that?—A. I have seen it there.
Q. 59. What color?—A. About the color you have on there.
Q. 60. How do you know it was his?—A. I have seen him wear it frequently.
Q. 61. You have seen him wear it simply and you supposed it was his?—A. Yes, sir; just the same as I suppose that is yours.
Q. 62. How far apart did you and Leroy live?—A. About 80 rods.
Q. 63. You went there to Leroy's?—A. Yes, sir; frequently.
Q. 64. Did they tell you he had left his coat and vest?—A. I saw them there; I did not ask them if he left them there.
Q. 65. Where was this coat and vest at Leroy's?—A. In the house.
Q. 66. Whereabouts in the house?—A. I don't know.
Q. 67. Where was it hanging up?—A. On the wall in the house.
Q. 68. Which side of the house?—A. On the east side of the house.
Q. 69. On which side is the door?—A. On the west side.
Q. 70. Well is that the time you went in; where did you go in?—A. I think I went in at the west door.
Q. 71. It was in Oct.?—A. In Nov. and Dec., I was there frequently.
Q. 72. What year?—A. '81.
Q. 73. Then you saw his coat and vest hanging up in Leroy Shelton's house?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 74. Where did you see the mattox and grindstone?—A. At his folk's old place?
Q. 75. That is the one he used?—A. Yes sir.
Q. 86. That is why you think it was his?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 77. Was it his grindstone?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 78. He did not take it with him?—A. No, sir; his folks sold it after they went away, and the grub-hoe was sold after he came back,

Q. 79. Did he leave his grindstone and mattox with his father when he went away?—A. No, sir.

Q. 80. With whom did he leave them?—A. Where he was at work on Stevens' farm. The grub-hoe he left at Leroy's.

Q. 81. After he had gone his father sold them?—A. I believe so; I heard something to that effect.

Q. 82. Then it is your idea that before they moved to Mo. they sold his effects; grindstone and grub-hoe?—A. I heard that they sold the grindstone; I am not positive about that.

Q. 83. You were not at the election, were you?—A. Yes, sir; in Howard Township, but I understand it was not recorded there.

Re-direct.

Q. 84. Did this young man tell you he was going to Mo. on a visit?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 85. He stated when he went away that he was going to go?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 35. Did he leave any property?—A. No, sir.

Q. 36. Leave any tools or clothes?—A. Yes, sir.

Recross-examination:

Q. 37. What tools did he leave?—A. He had a couple of grubbing hoes. He left them on Hogan's farm.

Q. 38. What else?—A. Myself and him had a well-auger, and he said if I had a chance to trade it off, to do so.

Q. 39. When his father went away what did you do with it?—A. I turned it on a note that he was owing.

Redirect:

Q. 40. When did he go away permanently? When did he say that he was going to move to Mo.?—A. I don't know that he said that he considered that he was going to move to Mo.

Q. 41. You don't know that he has left yet, but to visit?—A. He calculated to go back there to Mo.

Q. 42. He lived here until election last fall?—A. Yes, sir; nearly all the time he wasn't away.

Q. 43. Well, he was away visiting, wasn't he?—A. I suppose so; I don't know but he was.

Q. 44. Did he tell you that he was coming back the first time that he went away?—A. Yes, sir; he told me that he was coming back.

Recross-examination:

Q. 45. You say that he calculated to go back to Mo. last fall; how do you know that?—A. I didn't say that at all.

Q. 46. I mean that last fall.—A. I guess that he went back.

Q. 47. You say that he told you that he calculated to go back?—A. Well, I don't know but what he did.

Q. 48. What did he say to you, and when was it that he told that he calculated to go back to Mo? Was that when he came up in June, or July, that he told you that he was going back in the fall?—A. No, sir; when he first used to talk about it he said that he didn't know but that he would go back.

Q. 49. When he was going back he was husking corn?—A. He said that after he got through husking corn that he calculated to go back to Mo. I saw him and he said that he was going.

Q. 50. That is when they started to go?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 51. They were going to stay here and husk corn, and then go back to Mo. Wasn't that the way of it?—A. I don't know but that it was.

Q. 52. You say that he told you that they were going back to Mo. When was that? When did this conversation take place?—A. Some time when they were together.

Q. 53. About what time of the year was it that this conversation took place between you and them?—A. It might have been the last of Sept.; I don't know.

Q. 54. It was some time before they went away, any way?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 55. They told you that as soon as corn-husking was over that they were going back?—A. I don't remember just how it was; it might have been after work was done.

Q. 56. After the corn was husked did they tell you that they would go back? Was that the way of it?—A. They told me that after the work was done that they might go back.

Redirect:

Q. 70. You are pretty well acquainted there?—A. Yes, sir.

Recross-examination:

Q. 71. You know of one J. H. Smith, there?—A. I don't know of any more there.
Q. 72. Where does this J. H. Smith live now?—A. He lives just south of Jack Turner's.
Q. 73. Married man?—A. No, sir; then there is another Jim Smith that lives away south.
Q. 74. This is James H. too?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 75. Lives there yet?—A. No, sir.
Q. 76. You know two J. H. Smith's in that township?—A. Yes, sir; I suppose so.
Q. 77. Now, has that J. H. Smith that you testified to have been here right along for each season of the year?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 78. There still?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 79. Not went away at all?—A. No, sir; not that I know of.
Q. 80. You are right there close by?—A. He might have been 4 or 5 months away, and I don't know it.
Q. 81. He is not gone now?—A. No, sir.
Q. 82. Not gone for the last three months?—A. No, sir; he has been around there a long while.

JOHN H. SHELTON.

ARTHUR NELSON recalled.

For Tama County, May 5th.

Q. 1. Did you know J. H. Smith?—A. I know a Smith; I don't know his initials. I know Jim Smith who lives west of Potter, 2 miles.
Q. 2. Do you know this other J. H. Smith?—A. No, sir; I don't know him.
Q. 3. He lives in Highland Township?—A. Yes, sir; I guess so; close to Potter there.
Q. 4. Was there any J. H. Smith, that worked on the Milwaukee R'y?—A. No, sir; he might have worked some place, but not at Potter. He did not work on the Potter section.

Q. 1. Do you know Thomas Caffery?—A. Yes, sir.
Q 2. Are you a citizen of this township?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 3. How long have you lived in this county?—A. 31 years.
Q. 4. You may state whether Thomas Caffery ever stated to you for whom he voted.—A. He said in V. & D.'s drug store that he voted for Wilson.
Q. 5. Was that after the election?—A. I don't think that it was before the election. I think it was the next day.
Q. 6. Did he state that publicly?—A. Yes, sir. I think he was talking to some German when he made that statement.

Cross-examination:

Q. 7. To whom was he talking?—A. I don't recollect any of them that were there who heard it. I think Mr. Marshall was in there for one.

JAMES MCLAUGHLIN, being produced and sworn before O. H. Wells, notary public for Tama County, on this 5th day of May, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and W. H. Stivers on part of contestee):

(Contestee objects to the testimony of the witness for the reason that the residence of the witness is not given in the notice.)

Q. 1. Where do you live?—A. In Van Horn.
Q 2. How long have you lived in Tama City?—A. One year and six months.
Q. 3. Where do you live now?—A. In Van Horn, Benton County.
Q. 4. When did you begin to live in Van Horn?—A. Last Tuesday a year I moved there.
Q. 5. Do you know Tom Morgan?—A. Yes, sir; he is my partner.
Q. 6. Where did he live last Nov.?—A. Here in Tama City.
Q. 7. How long did he live here?—A. He has lived here as long as I have. I came a year ago in April; he was here then.
Q. 8. He was here then?—A. Yes, sir, a year ago this April when I came here; I don't know how long before that.
Q. 9. Where did he live?—A. Right up here. He lived with me from the 27th of August, when we started into business together, 27 Aug.
Q. 10. This was his home, was it?—A. He was in a barn up here owned by Mr. Brown. Myself and he went into business in a grocery store on the 27 of Aug.
Q. 11. Well, what was he doing in the barn?—A. He had the barn rented. It was kind of a stable barn.
Q. 12. His residence was here in Tama City last year?—A. Yes, sir; he was here in April when I came here; I don't know whether he had been here before that or not; I know that he was here a year ago last fall; I went away from here a year ago last fall; he was here when I left and when I came back.
Q. 13. He lived here last fall, did he?—A. Yes, sir.
(Contestee objects to the taking of the evidence of this witness for the reason that his place of residence is not given in the notice.)
Q. 14. Do you know John Holland?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 15. Where does he live?—A. He boarded with us.
Q. 16. When did he commence to board with you?—A. Sept. 4th.
Q. 17. Where did he live previous to that time?—A. He worked for ———; up here at Furguson's.
Q. 18. How long did he live there?—A. I don't know that.
Q. 19. How long have you known him?—A. He came to board with us Sep.
Q. 20. He boarded there until after the election, did he?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 21. Did he leave his trunk and clothes there when he boarded with you?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 22. Do you know James Burns?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 23. Where did he board last fall?—A. Yes, sir; I know where he boarded.
Q. 24. Where did he board?—A. He boarded with us.
Q. 25. When did he come there?—A. Last of Sep.
Q. 26. Where did he make his home?—A. His folks live up nine or ten miles from here.

Q. 27. How long did he live in this county?—A. He has lived here ever since I came here, ever since last April a year ago.

Q. 28. Here in the county, to your knowledge, a year?—A. He has lived here a year ago last April. He was here from April up to the election, because I am here in April and he was here then.

Cross-examination:

Q. 29. You say you kept a grocery?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 30. What do you keep for sale?—A. Groceries.

Q. 31. What else?—A. Groceries.

Q. 32. What else do you keep; don't you keep a lager-beer saloon?—A. I keep some beer.

Q. 33. Answer me yes or no.—A. Yes, sir. What is the matter with you?

Q. 34. You say a lager-beer saloon is a grocery?—A. I said I sold beer.

Q. 36. Did you not keep a beer saloon?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 37. Is a beer saloon a grocery?—A. Yes, sir; I keep a grocery store.

Q. 38. Saloon and grocery in one building together?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 39. Was there a sign out?—A. What kind of a sign do you mean?

Q. 40. Any kind of a sign.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 41. What was the sign?—A. It was a boarding-house sign.

Q. 42. What else?—A. Saloon sign and beer sign.

Q. 43. Was the word "saloon" on the sign?—A. It was a beer sign.

Q. 44. Was the word "saloon" on it?—A. How do I know?

Q. 45. Why don't you tell me?—A. I tell you I don't know.

Q. 46. Did you not have a sign up on your building for a saloon?—A. We had a beer sign.

Q. 47. Answer that, please. Did you not have a sign on your building, on the front of it? It said saloon.—A. I guess not.

Q. 48. You had a beer sign up?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 49. What kind of a sign was it?—A. You go up there now and you will see it; I can't explain it.

Q. 50. You keep a boarding-house?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 51. For the Milwaukee company?—A. I keep it for any one that comes along, if they have the money to pay for it.

Q. 52. In the same room as the saloon?—A. No, sir.

Q. 53. You say this man Morgan boarded with you?—A. No, sir; I did not say anything of the kind. He was a partner of mine.

Q. 54. In the saloon?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 55. How long was he here as a partner?—A. From the 27th of Aug. until Tuesday last.

Q. 56. Did you vote at the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 57. You keep a saloon?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 58. How long did you expect to stay here?—A. I did not know that I should stay any length of time.

Q. 59. Had no intention of going away?—A. No, sir.

Q. 60. Did Morgan have?—A. I did not know his intentions.

Q. 61. You say Elwood boarded with you?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 62. What was he doing?—A. Working on the Milwaukee R'y.

Q. 63. Section hand?—A. No, sir.

Q. 64. What was he doing?—A. Working on the train.

Q. 65. On what train?—A. On the rock train.

Q. 66. What do you mean by that—a gravel train?—A. No, sir; a rock train.

Q. 67. A construction train?—A. Rock train.

Q. 68. What kind of work do the hands do?—A. Shovel.

Q. 69. Shovel what?—A. Dirt.

Q. 70. Where?—A. Wherever they get it.

Q. 71. All along the lines of the R'y?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 72. How far?—A. I don't knw how far.

Q. 73. Do you know how they did that?—A. I saw them.

Q. 74. Where were they?—A. Unloading.

Q. 75. Then it is the train that runs along the road?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 76. He was working on that train?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 77. Do you know about his working anywhere else?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 78. For whom did he work?—A. For me.

Q. 79. When?—A. After he quit the train.

Q. 80. When did he quit the train, please?—A. I cannot exactly say.

Q. 82. About what time?—A. In November.

Q. 83. Up to that time you say Thomas Elwood's father lived out here?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 84. It is in this township; is it?—A. I don't know.

Q. 85. About how far is it from here?—A. 9 or 10 miles.

Q. 86. You don't know what township it is in?—A. No, sir.
Q. 87. And whether it is in this one or not?—A. No, sir; I don't think it is in this one, unless it is a pretty long township.
Q. 88. Do you know where Tom Morgan went home during the time he was here—any part of the time?—A. No, sir; I don't think he did.
Q. 89. What makes you think so?—A. Because I think I ought to know.
Q. 90. Because he boarded with you?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 91. Was he not visiting some of the time?—A. No, sir; not to my knowledge; and I ought to know if he was absent. He was always there at meal times.

HENRY VANDERLIP, being produced and sworn before O. H. Mills, a notary public for Tama County, on this 5th day of May, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, W. H. Stivers on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Where do you reside?—A. Tama City.
Q. 2. What is your occupation?—A. I am a druggist.
Q. 3. Do you know Thomas Caffery?—A. Yes, sir; I do.
Q. 4. You may say if you heard him say for whom he voted in the Nov. election, '82?—A. Yes, sir; I did.
Q. 5. For whom was it?—A. James Wilson.
Q. 6. What others were present at the time?—A. I heard him say the same thing twice. Once on the day of the election, that he had already voted for Wilson. He told me that he had, that the testimony was taken down here some time ago, in the presence of J. B. Waltermult, that be had also voted for Wilson.

Cross-examination:

Q. 7. You say that he said that the testimony was taken down here?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 8. He said on the stand that he had testified that he voted for Frederick?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 9. Before or after that?—A. It was before that.
Q. 10. Were you asking him about it?—A. The way was this: I went to him on the day of the election——
Q. 11. Well, wait a minute please. How did this come up that day, that this testimony was taken?—A. I was in there, and I saw him come in, and I said to him, "Are you subpœnaed, Tom?" (I knew which side of the testimony was taken that day.) Said I, "Did you not tell me you voted for Wilson?" He replied, "Yes, sir; I did." "Then," said I, "they have got a hold of the wrong man."
Q. Well, plenty of them will talk one thing and swear another.

Redirect:

Q. 13. How did the conversation arise on the day of the election?—A. I went to him to electioneer. He said, "I have already voted." I said, "All right; if it is a fair question, for whom did you vote?" He said, "I have voted for Wilson."

Recross-examination:

Q. 14. You say you went to him to electioneer for Frederick?—A. Yes, sir; and he said he had already voted for Wilson.
Q. 15. You found a good many of that kind?—A. Yes, sir.

I, Eldon Moran, a notary public, and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony in this cause, in pursuance of the annexed agreement attached to the testimony of J. L. Adams, whose testimony was taken Feb. 22, 1883, do truly certify that on the 5th day of May, in pursuance of the notice hereunto annexed, I took the depositions of the following witnesses: Arthur Nelson, James Davis, James L. McGee, Jason H. Thurston, John H. Shelton, A. Nelson (recalled), J. H. Smith, James McLaughlin, Wm. Blodgett, Henry Vaderlip, whose testimony is set forth in the following manner:

Each witness was by me duly sworn or caused to be sworn in my presence as provided by law, and when sworn the questions were propounded to him by the respective parties, Benj. T. Frederick, contestant, and James Wilson, contestee, by their respective att'ys, and the same by me read to the witness, who answered the same, and his answer by me, in the language of the witness, taken down under each question propounded, and reduced to writing. till the deposition was completed.

I further certify that when the testimony of each witness was taken I carefully read the same over to the witness, who corrected the same, and each correction noted, and said testimony was then signed by the witness and sworn to by him before me.

I further certify that T. Brown & Carney appeared as counsel for the contestant, Benj. T. Frederick, and W. H. Stivers appeared as counsel for the contestee, James Wilson.

In witness whereof I have set my hand and seal notarially this 5th day of May, 1883.

ELDON MORAN,
Notary Public for Johnson County, Iowa, and
Commissioner agreed upon to take testimony.

No. 4.

No. 1.

FREDERICK
v.
WILSON.

STATE OF IOWA,
Johnson County, ss:

Deposition of witnesses produced before me, Eldon Moran, a notary public and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony, and duly sworn before me, a notary public for Johnson County, Iowa, on this 2nd day of May, 1883, at Iowa City. In pursuance of the notice hereunto attached, in a proceeding pending before the House of Representatives of the United States of America in a contested election for the office of Representative in Congress, in which proceeding Benj. T. Frederick is contestant and James Wilson contestee (Brown and Carney for contestant, and Milton Remley for contestee, the following testimony was taken before me):

STATE OF IOWA,
Johnson County, ss:

L. A. ALLEN, being produced and sworn before me, Eldon Moran, notary public for Johnson County, on this 2nd day of May, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant and Milton Remley on the part of contestee):

(Contestee objects to the witness on the ground that proper notice has not been given.)

Q. 1. You may state if you were clerk of the election, north precinct of Iowa City.—A. Yes, sir.

(Wilson asks privilege of rebutting evidence of this testimony; privilege not granted.)

Q. 2. You may state if you have the ballot-box of the north precinct of Iowa City in your possession.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. Does it contain the same ballots cast in the November election of 1882?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. Has it been open since the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. In whose presence was it opened?—A. It has been opened in my presence several times.

Q. 6. Have any of the ballots been changed?—A. I cannot tell.

Q. 7. Have they been changed to your knowledge?—A. No, sir.

Q. 8. Could anybody have had the opportunity to change them while it was opened, or when any of the officers of the election were there?—A. Mr. Ricord and Mr. Fyfe examined them in my presence. I opened the ballot-box for them; I was busy about the store, and left them.

Q. 9. Were they Republicans?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 10. You may open the box.

(Contestee objects, for the reason that it is not proper to examine him before the box is open.)

(Remley asks witness a question about it.)

Q. 11. Where has the ballot-box been?

(Brown objects; "You need not answer the question." Contestant is through with the witness. No answer to the question.)

Q. 12. Do you refuse to anwer the question?

BROWN. I will ask you where the books have been kept?

(Contestee insists upon a cross-examination of the witness before the ballot-box is opened. "When I see by the witness that the ballot-box has not been in his custody all the time, that it has been kept where other parties have had access to it, and that when I make objection we claim as a right to make a preliminary examination of the witness." To which the contestant objects, and counsels the witness not to answer. Also objection because it has already been developed that other parties have changed them, the ballots; also with the integrity of the ballot-box is not shown to have existed; for the further reason that it is not competent, immaterial, and not proper rebuttal.)

Q. 13. Where did you keep the box?—A. In my house, in the secretary.

Q. 14. Has it been locked?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 15. You believe that it has been kept safely, and that it contains the same ballots?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 16. Where no one but Republicans could have access to it?—A. Yes, sir; I think they have.

Q. 17. Were you present when the box has been opened?—A. Yes, sir; probably when it was open. I do not know that I stayed there all the time.

Q. 18. You may now open the box and examine the ballots in the presence of the trustees.

(Contestee objects, for the reason that it has not been shown that these are the identical ballots cast in the November election; also, that it is not shown that these are the identical ballots originally cast; that the ballot-box has been so far preserved that its integrity of the ballot-box has not been tampered with.)

(Witness proceeds, in the presence of the judges of the election, to examine the ballot-box.)

Brown:

Q. 19. You may state if any tickets are there with the name of Frederick scratched off and the name of Wilson written in.

(Objection, for the reason that a copy of the notice given says nothing about the judges of the election being examined as a witness.)

(Commissioner, by the request of the parties, makes a tally of the votes. Tally shows a number of ballots with Frederick's name crossed out and Wilson's name written in—total, 23.)

L. A. ALLEN continued:

Q. 20. Now, take off one of these scratched tickets and present it to the commissioner.

WILSON. Send all 23 along if you wish.

BROWN. Yes, sir; to see if they are all in the same handwriting.

REMLEY. As a matter of fact, it can't be done, because they are not all in the same handwriting.

Q. 21. I will ask you, Mr. Allen, if you know the handwriting of this ticket presented?—A. No, sir.

Q. 22. How many of these tickets in the same handwriting?

(Objection, immaterial and not proper, not shown that he is an expert in handwriting.)

Q. 23. You write some and see people write?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 24. You are acquainted generally with handwriting?—A. Yes, sir, some; I don't consider myself an expert in that.

Q. 25. State how many appear to be in the same handwriting that have the name of Wilson written in.—A. I should say that they are all written in the same handwriting.

Q. 26. I will ask you if all these tickets that have James Wilson's name on were voted at the election?—A. To the best of my judgment they are all written in the same hand.

Q. 27. Well, now, do you remember whether such tickets were voted at the election?—A. Yes, sir; I do when I first saw them; I should say—well, I don't know what is best for me to state. I am township clerk of Iowa City Township; I wasn't clerk of the north township. Of course I could not swear that these tickets were put in the box; it was brought to me locked up.

(Contestee objects to the same testimony, for the reason that notice wasn't given, and for the reason that it is an improper question, since he wasn't clerk of that election and can't answer the question properly.)

Q. 28. You are the custodian of that ballot-box?—A. Yes, sir; have been ever since the election.

Q. 29. It was brought to you locked and sealed?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 30. Who by?—A. Mr. Pisha, judge of the election.

Q. 31. Where do you live?—A. In Iowa City.

Q. 32. What part of the town?—A. On Burlington street.

Q. 33. What precinct?—A. South precinct.

Q. 34. You were not clerk of the election in north precinct?—A. No, sir.

Q. 35. When did this ballot-box first come into your hands?—A. The morning after the election.

Q. 36. Where has it been ever since?—A. It has been in my secretary at home; also under the counter at the store.
Q. 37. How long was it under the counter at the store?—A. Two months.
Q. 38. What kind of a store is it?—A. Auction store.
Q. 39. Where is that auction store?—A. On the corner of Clinton and College streets.
Q. 40. Is that where the ballots have been?—A. Yes, sir; in this box.
Q. 41. For the last two months?—A. Well, sir, a month and a half.
Q. 42. What kind of a building was it?—A. Well, wooden and frame building.
Q. 43. An old building?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 44. How many doors has it?—A. One outside door.
Q. 45. What kind of a lock on that door?—A. A good, heavy lock.
Q. 46. Isn't there another door? How many doors inside?—A. One.
Q. 47. Isn't there a door at the stairway?—A. It is nailed up.
Q. 48. Isn't there an entrance back?—A. No, sir.
Q. 49. How many windows?—A. The back part of the building is occupied, and all boarded up 12 or 14 feet. There is a door with an entrance into that, but no communication with that from above; also, there is a window on the side of it about 25 feet back.
Q. 50. What kind of a window is it; is it one that is easy to raise?—A. Yes, sir; but it is nailed down.
Q. 51. Now, who has occupied that store with you?—A. Starkey.
Q. 52. No workmen in there?—A. No, sir.
Q. 53. Was it the ballot-box down on Washington street?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 54. How long was it there?—A. Probably 6 weeks; may be not so long.
Q. 55. Around this store there is a great number of people all the time?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 56. You even have auction on that street?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 57. Then is your store left vacant?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 58. Any one in there?—A. Yes, sir; some one is generally in there, either my brother or my daughter.
Q. 59. Was that true down on Washington street?—A. Yes, sir; we were there then.
Q. 60. You didn't have any seal over the lock?—A. No, sir.
Q. 61. What kind of a key did you have on the lock?—A. You can see it there; I don't know that I can explain; it is a common key.
(Witness produces a bunch of keys containing the one.)
I will state that in the auction room on Washington street there is a lobby building there 8 by 10, with a door, but no lock on the door.
Q. 62. Just try this key of mine and see whether it will fit the box.—A. No, sir.
Q. 63. Also you may try this other key of mine.—A. It will not go in.
Q. 64. Is there anything unusual about this ballot-box key?—A. I don't know. It would be a simple matter to get a key of that kind that would fit the lock of the box. Probably a key that would fit the lock would unlock it.
Q. 65. You say that you don't know whether these are the same cast at the election, to your knowledge?—A. I didn't see them cast.
Q. 66. You say that Mr. Fyfe and Mr. Ricord looked over the ballots?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 67. Did any one else look over them?—A. Yes, sir; Mr. Cone looked over them several times with me.
Q. 68. Any one else?—A. Mr. Coldren looked over them.
Q. 69. What is his politics?—A. I can tell you only what I suppose.
Q. 70. Didn't you tell Ricord's and Fyfe's politics?—A. I didn't know that I did.
Q. 71. Didn't you say Republican?—A. Perhaps so.
Q. 72. Then can't you say that with the same certainty with regard to Coldren's politics?—A. I think I may say for certain he is a Democrat. He was elected on the Democratic ticket.
Q. 73. What is Mr. Hershire's politics?—A. Democratic.
Q. 74. Were you with them all the time that they were there?—A. Possibly not.
Q. 75. Did anybody else look over them?—A. Well, there was so many there that perhaps others have looked over them.
Q. 76. Who else?—A. No one.
Q. 77. Did any one come there and count them?—A. I think that they have been counted by all these men.
Q. 78. Have you ever counted them?—A. Yes, sir, I counted them with Cone.
Q. 79. Was it to ascertain how many ballots there was for Wilson?—A. I think that is what we did it for.
Q. 80. What was the result of the count?—A. It seems to me that one time we counted that we come even, and it seems that the second time that we counted we came out one behind; one or the other, I don't know which; I paid no attention to it; it seems to me that Frederick came out one behind the last time.
Q. 81. Was it one or three?—A. I am not positive; I didn't pay much attention to it; I ran the ballots over and Coldren tallied.

Q. 82. Can you tell the Commissioner how many Democrats have been there to see the ballots?—A. I don't know that I can.

Q. 83. Have you ever refused anybody access to it?—A. No, sir; not since the time for opening the box; that is 30 d y ago.

Q. 84. Were these ballots, when they came into your hands, strung on a string?—A. Yes, sir; well, no, sir; I think not strung on a string. I think tied in this manner.

Q. 85. Since they have been in your possession have they not all been loose?—A. Yes, sir; several times been loose.

Q. 86. What is your business?—A. Keep second-hand store.

Q. 87. Have you ever had any experience in comparing handwriting?—A. No, sir; not as an expert at all.

Q. 88. You don't mean to say that these 23 ballots with the name of Frederick scratched out and the name of Wilson written in by the same person?—A. Yes, sir; to the best of my knowledge.

Q. 89. Some are written in with a lead pencil and others with pen and ink, are they not?—A. All lead pencil.

Q. 90. Now, I will ask you to look at them again and see if that is true.—A. Yes, sir; here are two written with pen.

Q. 91. Now compare this pen copy with this pencil copy and see whether they were written by the same person.—A. Possibly not the same handwriting.

Q. 92. Now take next 3 copies and see whether they are the same handwriting.—A. Yes, sir; they are different.

Q. 93. You think that they are not the same?—A. Yes, sir; I think so.

Q. 94. The spelling is not the same, is it? Isn't one written with two "l's" ("Willson")?—A. Yes, sir; this one is; still I believe they are the same writing.

Q. 95. You say that they are all done by the same person, on your knowledge. What look there is like this—tell me that?—A. I go by the general drift of the whole business.

Q. 96. Now, where is the look in these two that looks alike?—A. There is a difference in them, but they have the same pitch.

Q. 97. Now look at the "W"; is that the same pitch? Also look at the "l"; is that the same?—A. Well, it looks as if all might have been written by the same person.

Q. 98. You don't swear that they are?—A. No, sir; I don't swear as an expert in writing.

Q. 99. Were not all these ballots loose on your counter at one time?—A. Yes, sir; they were.

Q. 100. All loose indiscriminately?—A. No, sir; they were loosened, taken from the string, and piled away carefully.

Q. 101. Are these all the ballots cast there?—A. I can't say whether they are or not.

Q. 102. You say that there was plenty of opportunity for people to change them if they had wanted to?—A. Yes, sir; there have been opportunities, of course. Cone and Hershire all been there to them.

Q. 103. You never examined it all to see how many names were written? Have you examined to see how many names had Frederick scratched and Wilson written in?—A. I saw Wilson's name written.

Q. 104. It wouldn't have been easy for persons to have scratched any of the ballots after they came into your hands?—A. Yes, sir; I suppose that could be done.

Q. 105. They could have taken out one and put in another. You don't say that it wasn't done?—A. No, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 106. At the first time that you counted these ballots didn't you find sometimes ballots with Frederick's name erased and Wilson's name written in?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 107. Was that before anybody else handled them?—A. Yes, sir, it was.

Q. 108. All the ballots have the same general appearance that they then had?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 109. Do you remember how many there were that were scratched from the first count?—A. I don't know that.

Q. 110. With Wilson's name written in, and Frederick's erased?—A. I don't know that.

Q. 111. Was there a good many?—A. Yes, sir, quite a number.

Q. 112. How does the number compare in your recollection with the number that you found?—A. I should say the same number; I counted them and kept the record.

Q. 113. Did you hear at the time that the other parties were counting them the number of ballots that were scratched?—A. Of course I heard them mention it, but I couldn't remember it.

Q. 114. Those 23 ballots have been talked about a good deal by the parties that were looking at them?

(Objection, immaterial, not proper rebuttal.)

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 115. Is that the number that you have understood that had Frederick's name erased and Wilson's written in?—A. Yes, sir, it is.

Q. 116. Who examined them first, Democrat or Republican?—A. To my best recollection, Democrats.

Q. 117. It was mentioned, this one that examined them, that there were 23?

(Objection, immaterial, not proper rebuttal.)

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 118. Now, when the Republican party mentioned them, did they mention 33?—A. Yes, sir, they did; but it seems to me that one time when Cone and I counted them that Frederick lost one vote; I would not be positive about it.

Q. 119. That was the second time?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 120. Cone was Wilson's attorney?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 121. None lost after Cone examined them?—A. No, sir, not that I know of.

Q. 122. You think that Frederick lost one?—A. It seems that the last time we counted them there was one behind.

Q. 123. You may take one of these ballots written with a pen and one written with a pencil and make an exhibit of your testimony.

(Objection that the whole 23 shall go.)

Cross-examination:

Q. 124. Did Cone handle the ballots?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 125. At the meeting that you did the counting?—A. I think that Mr. Clark handled them.

Q. 126. What Clark is that?—A. I think that Mr. Clark is one of the trustees.

Q. 127. What are his politics?—A. Democrat.

Q. 128. Did Cone tally?—A. Yes, sir, and looked over them.

Q. 129. Are there any other names written in pencil and the tickets scratched?—A. Greenback ticket there.

Q. 130. I mean other names on the tickets besides Frederick and Wilson. How many tickets cast at the election?—A. I don't know.

Q. 131. Let me ask you to look at the ballots and see whether there are any names besides Frederick that are scratched?—A. Yes, sir; there are.

Q. 132. Didn't you see any in which Wilson's name is scratched, and Frederick's is written in? Also, tell me how many there are like that so as to tell the number of Republican tickets scratched with Frederick's name written in?

(Witness examines the ballot-box.)

Q. 133. Are there not many ballots in the ballot-box that have different names scratched, both Democrat and Republican, and other names written in with a pencil?—A. Yes, sir; there are.

Q. 134. In the State tickets, isn't the name of B——— scratched frequently?—A. Yes, sir; several times.

Q. 135. And the name of Cavanagh, district judge, scratched?—A. Yes, sir; frequently.

Q. 136. And the name of Mr. B——— inserted on some Democratic ticket for supreme court reporter?—A. Possibly; I didn't notice in particular.

Q. 137. At the election wasn't there an unusual number of scratches on both sides?—A. Yes, sir; considerable of scratching.

Redirect:

Q. 138. Didn't find Wilson's name erased on any tickets?—A. No, sir.

Q. 139. In the canvass for district judge, Mr. Boal was local man here?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 140. And there would be natural scratching?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 141. How was district attorney?—A. The same in that case.

Q. 142. You carry the key of the ballot-box with you?—A. Yes, sir; I do. I think that even when I gave him the box that I put the key back in my pocket.

Q. 143. Are these men the only men that have seen the box?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 144. Men of honest integrity?—A. Yes, sir; I think so.

Redirect:

Q. 145. You say that you thought they were at the time?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 146. You would not be willing to vouch much for the same?

BROWN. We are all willing to admit for the purpose of this examination that the Republicans that examined them were not honest.

A. Yes, sir; I had confidence in all of them.

Q. 147. Have you told the names of all those that have examined the box?

(Testimony of this witness objected to for the reason that it is not proper rebuttal.)

A. Possibly not.

JOSEPH PISHA being produced and sworn before Eldon Moran, a notary public for Johnson County, on this 2d day of May, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and Milton Remley on the part of contestee):

(Contestee objects to the evidince of this witness, for the reason that there is no notice whatever.)

Q. 1. Where do you live?—A. In Iowa City.
Q. 2. Did you vote at the election?—A. Yes, sir; I was judge of the North precinct.
Q. 3. I will ask you if you returned the ballots to the clerk, Mr. Allen?—A. Yes, sir; the next morning.
Q. 4. Did you change any of the votes?—A. No, sir; I had the box, the trustee had the key to it.
Q. 5. You may state whether you have examined the ballots since the election.—A. No, sir; I have not.
Q. 6. I will ask you if there were a good many tickets that you recollect had Frederick's name and Frederick's name erased at the election?—A. I recollect a good number, but just how many I don't know.
(Contestee declines to cross-examine the witness, and protests to his testimony being taken for the reason that no notice has been given whatever he will be examined on rebuttal.
(No fee.)

J. P. PISHA.

STATE OF IOWA:
Johnson County, ss:

JOHN L. BERRY, being produced and sworn before Eldon Moran, notary public for Johnson County, on this 2nd day of May, A. D. 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and Milton Remley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Where do you live?—A. In Iowa City.
Q. 2. Were you born in this country?—A. No, sir.
Q. 3. By whom and where did you get your papers?—A At Iowa City.
Q. 4. Before what judge?
(Contestee objects; original testimony not rebuttal.)
Q. 5. Have you your papers with you?—A. No, sir.
Q. 6. And what judge did you get them before?—A. I don't know.
Q. 7. Was it a county judge?—A. I can't tell you, sir; my recollection don't carry me through; I was a young man then.
Q. 8. Have you your papers at home? Where do you live in Tama City?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 9. Have you your naturalization papers at home?—No ans.
Q. 10. I will ask you if you will answer the question?—A. No, sir
Q. 11. Were you subpœnaed to bring them?—A. No, sir.
Q. 12. You have got a copy of subpœna with you?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 13. Please let me see it.
(Witness produces papers.)
Q. 14. Yes, sir; it says naturalization papers to be brought. You will bring them in after dinner.—A. I don't think that I can find them.
Q. 15. Find them if you can.—A. I was taken away from my business; appointed deputy; I could not get here by that time and find my papers.
Q. 15. You may take time.—A. I presume I can tell within a year or two and it can be looked up.
Q. 17. We simply want the papers themselves.
(Excused for the present.)

STATE OF IOWA,
Johnson County, ss:

JOSEPH ZAITHAMEL, being produced and sworn before Eldon Moran, notary public for Johnson County, on this 2nd day of May, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and Milton Remley on the part of contestee):

James Dvorskey sworn as interpreter.
(Contestee objects to the evidence being interpreted by this man for the reason that he is interested in this case, and has served subpœnas, and has been employed in hunting up evidence for contestant.)

Q. 1. Where do you live?—A. In Iowa City.

(Contestee objects to the examination of this witness, for the reason that his name does not appear in the notice served on contestee nor his place of residence given.)

(Interpreter not employed just now.)

INTERPRETER. There are various ways of spelling his name in English.

Q. 2. Please interpret this man's name in English as it should be spelled in English.—A. If I should go to give the pronunciation of his name I should write it Zaith amel.

Q. 3. Did you vote here last fall?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. Did you peddle tickets here?—A. I don't understand.

BROWN. I don't think it is right for you to bring any interpreter here.

(Contestee objects.)

A. Yes, sir; I peddle tickets.

Q. 5. What tickets did you peddle, Democratic or Republican?—A. Both of them, Democratic and Republican and Greenback.

Q. 6. Did you peddle tickets with Wilson's name written on?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 7. In what ward?—A. 3rd ward.

Q. 8. Was Frederick's name scratched off and Wilson's name written on?

(Objected to as leading and incompetent. Witness says he couldn't look into other people's hands to see what ticket they voted. You ask the question of the witness whether he had any Democratic tickets with Frederick's name scratched and Wilson's written in. He swears that he can't look into people's hands to see what they had.)

Q. 9. Now, did you have any tickets with Wilson's name written in and Frederick's name scratched?—A. He says he can't say. It has been so long ago that he can't remember whether he had or not.

Q. 10. Did you have Democratic tickets with the top name scratched off and Wilson's name written in?—A. He says some men scratch one thing and some another, and that when he is paid to hold and peddle tickets he will peddle them just as they are.

Q. 11. Were you employed to peddle tickets?—A. He was paid, but he didn't know which side he was paid by.

Q. 12. Was he paid to peddle Wilson tickets—that is, Republican tickets?—A. He said that it depended upon which side he was paid for his day's work.

Q. 13. What tickets did he peddle, Democratic or Republicau?—A. Without.—Both of them.

Q. 14. Were the tickets that you peddled Wilson tickets?—A. Both kinds.

Q. 15. Who employed you?—A. He says that he don't know the men that hired him. They promised to pay him, but didn't do it,

Q. 16. Ask him if there was any name written on the ticket?—A. He says that his name was written on the ticket.

Q. 17. Was it written or printed?—A. He says that he can't tell by the writing.

Q. 18. You would know the tickets that you peddled if you saw them?—A. He says that the paper was just like any other kind, and that he couldn't tell it.

Q. 19. Did you peddle any tickets like this one [referring to Exhibit A on evidence of Allen]?—A. He says that he had tickets like this and some of the other, and some would come and look at them and take that kind, and others would take that other kind.

Q. 20. Did you peddle some like this kind?—A. Yes, sir; lots of them.

Q. 21. How many that had Wilson's name written on?—A. Maybe one and maybe two, I can't tell.

Q. 22. Did you have a good many—50 or 100?—A. No, sir; not one-third that many.

Q. 23. I will ask you if you have peddled 50 or more of this kind of tickets? How many did he have like this that day?—A. Maybe two, maybe one; I don't know.

Q. 24. He never looked at them?—A. Maybe not one; maybe not two. I didn't look at them at all. Everybody can tend to his own business.

Q. 25. I will ask you if you might have had 15 or 20 of them?—A. He says that he don't remember how many he had very well; he had other things to attend to, a family to keep, and other things on his mind; he can't remember just how many he had.

Q. 26. Didn't you have a whole handfull of these tickets with the name written on?

(Objection as incompetent.)

Q. 27. Didn't you have Democratic tickets with the name of Wilson written on?

(Objection as improper.)

A. No, sir; I say that a dozen times.

Q. 28. Show me the ticket. [Passing tickets to him; Exhibit A on Allen.]

Q. 29. Did you for a fact look at that one with Wilson's name written on?—A. No, sir.

Q. 30. You swear to that, do you?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 31. Didn't you peddle tickets with Wilson's name on?—A. No, sir.

Q. 32. Never peddled one with Wilson's name on?—A. I may never have seen that particular ticket.

Q. 33. Never peddled tickets with Wilson's name on?—A. He says that he noticed that some were written on pencil, but didn't notice just what it was.

Q. 34. Was the top of the ticket just like this one?—A. He says it was about like this one, referring to one of the tickets.

Q. 35. You had a good many of this kind of tickets?—A. No, sir.

Q. 36. How many of them?—A. I didn't count them.

Q. 37. 20 or 30 of them?—A. No, sir.

Q. 38. 15 or 20 of them?—A. No, sir.

Q. 39. Five?—A. Well, I don't know, maybe two or three, maybe 5, maybe 50 or 100; I don't know.

Q. 40. Didn't you vote the Republican ticket last fall?—A. I went to the polls to vote the Republican ticket.

Q. 41. Ask him it he can read English?—A. He can read Bohemian.

Q. 42. Can you read writing?—A. Yes, sir; but I suppose that I will understand if different.

Q. 43. I will ask you if the ticket that had the writing next to the top was Democratic or Republican?—A. He says that he don't know.

STATE OF IOWA,
Johnson County, ss:

GIL. F. FLETCHER, being produced and sworn before me, Eldon Moran, notary public for Johnson County, on this 2nd day of May, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant and Milton Remley appearing on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Where do you reside?—A. Iowa City.

Q. 2. Are you a public officer here?—A. Deputy sheriff.

Q. 3. How long have you been deputy sheriff?—A. Something over 5 years.

Q. 4. You have had some experience in serving papers?—A. I think so.

Q. 5. I will ask you if you served subpœna to-day on Mr. Haddock?.—A. No, sir; I did not serve that.

Q. 6. I will ask you if you have ever had any difficulty in serving papers on Bohemians?—A. I have always found a great deal of difficuly in finding Bohemians by their names as they were spelt in the notice.

Q. 7. Is the pronunciation of these names different from the spelling?—A. Yes, sir; very often it is.

Q. 8. Are they spelt in different ways?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 9. What incongruity did you find in the spelling?—A. I found going by a name in the community in which they lived, and it is spelt different from the pronunciation; I can give an example or two.

Q. 10. Give some.—A. One of John ———, of Newport Township, who answers to the name of ——— ———; he has been sued in court in this county under either name, and he has answered to either name in court.

(Contestee objects to this testimony as incompetent and immaterial.)

Q. 11. State how long you have lived in this county?—A. For 32 years.

Q. 12. Did you know Frank ———?—A. I don't believe I do by that name.

Q. 13. John Kozak?—A. I don't believe I do.

Q. 14. Are you acquainted with Joseph ———?—A. Yes, sir; I am.

Q. 15. What name does he go by also?—A. I know him by that same name, I think.

Q. 16. What is he generally called?—A. If it is the man I think it is, I know him by the name of Haddock.

Q. 17. I will ask you if you know W. J. Haddock?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 18. Has he acted as district judge?

(Contestee objects; incompetent, immaterial; not proper rebuttal.)

Q. 19. Has he acted as circuit judge in this county?—A. I am not positive; I think so; wouldn't say so of my own knowledge.

Q. 20. You don't remember of him acting as such? What are his politics?

(Objection by contestee, not proper rebutting evidence.)

A. Republican.

Q. 21. I will ask you if the one you refer to was Mr. Wilson's attorney in this case at any time?—A. Yes, sir; I think so.

Q. 22. You saw him in the court before the commissioner acting as attorney, examining witnesses at the early part of the term, both before the commissioner and Mr. Swisher, notary. You think you didn't see him there?—A. No, sir; I don't remember whether I saw him there when he was there.

Q. 23. You may state if you heard the contestee refer to him as attorney, or if you ever served papers on him in this case as attorney.—A. I didn't myself; the sheriff served them. I haven't heard Mr. Wilson refer to him as attorney.

Q. 24. You have had records in your hands issued by circuit court while Haddock was judge?—A. No, sir; I never had. I think if he was circuit judge in this county it was before I was deputy sheriff, five years ago.

STATE OF IOWA,
Johnson County, ss:

STEPHEN BRADLEY, being produced and sworn before me, Eldon Moran, a notary public in and for Johnson County, on this 2nd day of May, A. D. 1883, testifies as follows (Milton Remley appearing on the part of contestee, and T. Brown on the part of contestant):

Q. 1. Are you clerk of the district court?—A. Yes, sir; for Johnson County.
Q. 2. How long have you acted as such?—A. A little over two years.
Q. 3. How long have you lived in the county?—A. Over 36 years.
Q. 4. Are you acquainted with W. J. Haddock?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 5. I will ask you if you know of his acting as attorney for Jas. Wilson in this proceeding?

(Objection; incompetent, immaterial.)

A. No, sir; only by hearsay.
Q. 6. I will ask you if the man you refer to is Judge Haddock?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 7. How was he judge in this district?—A. I don't know anything about the time he was judge, personally.
Q. 8. Were you never here when he was on the bench?—A. No, sir; it was a good many years ago.
Q. 9. Do the records in your office show that W. J. Haddock was judge of the district court?

(Objection; not the best evidence.)

A. Well, all I know about the judgeship is from hearsay.
Q. 10. You don't know whether his name appears on the record?—A. No, sir; I have never met it. It may be possible that it is there, for all I know.
Q. 11. You may state if you have the records of naturalization of this court in your possession.—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 12. You may state if you have any difficulty in tracing names of parties naturalized from your papers.—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 13. How does the difficulty exist?—A. Well, mostly with Bohemians' names.
Q. 14. What difficulty arises from Bohemian names?—A. It is difficult to find them beforehand, and the way they spell their names in their own language. Sometimes they are recorded as we would spell them in the English language.
Q. 15. Are there a good many that appear to be naturalized on the record of the county in the county court the names of whom have no person answering to them in the county?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 16. Does the name appear frequently on the county and district courts?—A. Well, I never looked. I have seen the same appear twice on the same record, on the same index.
Q. 17. When Mr. Wilson was taking testimony did they give you the name of Mr. Shondel, and inquire if he was naturalized?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 18. Did you find the name?—A. No, sir; not then.
Q. 19. Have you since found found it?—A. Yes, sir; I have found what I think is the name.
Q. 20. Will you turn to the court which contains a record of it?—[Witness turns to the book.] A. I find here the name of Albert Zandle, issued in the circuit court, Johnson County, and it is generally pronounced Shondel.
Q. 21. Did they give him the name of King?—A. No, sir; I believe not.
Q. 22. Did you keep the records of the names they gave you?—A. No, sir.
Q. 23. Now, is Zendel the correct spelling of that name?—A. No, sir; I don't think that is the proper way to spell that name.
Q. 24. Don't Bohemian names begin with almost any letter of the alphabet?—A. Yes, sir; almost any.
Q. 25. Irrespective of pronunciation?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 26. Are they spelled in different ways in English?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 27. How is the name of Flach spelled?—A. John Wlach; that is the only way of spelling the name of Wlach.
Q. 28. How is the name of Schich spelt?—A. Schich.
Q. 29. Have you the code of '51 in your office?—A. No, sir; the earliest one we have is the revision of '60. There are some in town, though.
Q. 30. You may state who recorded these naturalization papers that appear to be issued in the county court.—A. I find some of them to be recorded by S. Bacheler, clerk in the court at that time.

Q. 31. For what period of time was the record made up by him?—A. The first period of his recording the records of naturalization, 2d of June, '59; that is in the county court. The last one in the county court was the 25th of Nov., '59. The books are badly mixed. Here is the book that appears to be a continuation of the first book. Here is one recorded 27th of Oct., '60.

Q. 32. Don't the records commence way back in '51?—A. Well, '59 is the first I found there.

Q. 33. You say up to '60 the records were made by Mr. Bacheler, clerk of the court?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 34. Some of the records were made up by the county judge himself?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 35. I will ask you if you are acquainted in this county?—A. Yes, sir; I have been here a good while.

Q. 36. Do you know a good many parties that were Republicans that were naturalized in the county court?—A. Yes, sir.

(Contestee objects to it.)

Q. 37. There are a good many persons who are leading Republicans who were naturalized in the county court, whose names appear on the naturalization record?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 38. What are the politics of Judge Haddock?—A. Generally considered Republican.

Q. 39. Can you tell of the naturalization in the county court?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 40. Please do so.

(Witness refers to a book.)

(Contestee objects; not proper rebuttal.)

A. Yes, sir; I have found it here. I have found the naturalization papers of Wm. J. Haddock, a native of Ireland.

Q. 41. Please read that record to the reporter.

(Objection; not competent, immaterial; not proper rebutting evidence.)

RECORD OF NATURALIZATION.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

State of Iowa, Johnson County, ss:

Be it remembered at the term of court holden in and for said county, State of Iowa, on the 5th of November, A. D., 1860, was presented the Hon. Geo. W. McClary, sole presiding judge, S. Bacheler, clerk of said court, when the following, among other proceedings, was had, to wit: Wm. J. Haddock, a native of Ireland, at present residing in said city, appears to be admitted to the satisfaction of the court that he had declared on oath before that he had immigrated to and arrived at the United States under the age of 18 years, and that he continued to reside therein until the present term of the court of record, having common law jurisdiction, and using a seal, two years at least before his application, and that it was bona fide his intention to become a citizen of the U. S., and to renounce for all and forever all allegiance to any foreign power, potentate, State, or sovereignty whatsoever, and particularly to Victoria, Queen of Ireland, to whom he was a subject. The court being satisfied by the testimony of John Haddock that the said applicant had resided within the U. S., and for a term of years, 5, next preceding his admission, without being at any time during the said time, 5 years, out of the U. S., and within his State for one year at least; and it further appearing to the satisfaction of this court that during that time he has behaved himself like a man of good moral character, attached to the principles of the Constitution of the U. S., and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same. Thereupon, the court admitted the said applicant to become a citizen of the U. S., and further, by the proceedings aforesaid, to be entered by record, and it was done accordingly by the clerk of the court.

Q. 41. What record is that?—A. Naturalization record No. 2.

Q. 43. Of the Johnson County circuit court?—A. No, sir; of the Johnson County court.

STEPHEN BRADLEY.

Cross-examination of Bradley by Brown:

Q. 1. Are there books of naturalization outside of those you have referred to on direct examination?—A. Yes, sir; there are books of naturalization, not numbered, called naturalization papers.

Q. 2. Don't you frequently find several of the same name naturalized?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. How many Jerry Malones are there naturalized in your records?—A. I have only found one; I know of two, but one is dead.

Q. 4. One is deceased, is he?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. What Jerry Malony did this book have reference to that you have examined?—A. I think it is the one that is dead.

Q. 6. How many Thomas Berrys do you know?—A. Two living and one dead.

Q. 7. What Thomas Berry; of whom you examined record of naturalization?—A. I have reason to believe that it is the Thomas Berry that is dead, from the fact that it was his brother-in-law who was his witness.

(Contestee objects to the answer for the reason that it is simply an opinion.)

Q. 8. Do you know Patrick Slovan?—A. Yes, sir; I know two of them.

Q. 9. How many Pat Slovans have taken out papers?—A. Only one.

Q. 10. Do you know that these men whose records you have searched to-day are the same ones whose names that were given you by the parties?—A. I don't positively know that they are the same.

Q. 11. Do you know that they are also men of the same name naturalized in these books?—A. Yes, sir; I know men of the same name in these books.

Q. 12. How can you tell that they are the same men we have been inquiring for?—A. I can't tell positively, I suppose.

Q. 13. Now, have you not their record in an index?—A. We have naturalization papers. I can see that they are indexed. Their index is to be found in the old index of the old court papers.

Q. 14. There are a good many men naturalized in the old court records that haven't been present here at all?—A. No, sir, not present here.

Q. 15. They string over a good many books, don't they?—A. Yes, sir; quite a number.

Q. 16. It would take a good while to go over these records?—A. Yes, sir; quite a while.

Q. 17. You find all the names that these present have asked you in these books?—A. No, sir; not all of them.

Q. 18. They may appear on other books than those you have examined, may they not?

(Contestee objects: Leading.)

Q. 19. Do they appear on other books in this county besides what you have produced here?—A. Yes, sir.

Re-direct:

Will you examine the records that you find numbered here and find out whether or not the names of Chas. Tomask, Joseph Hurdluchka, and Joseph Prusha appear on these records? Please go to your office and examine them and report the result of the examination.

(Contestee admits that a certain W. H. Haddock, who has been referred to here, was one of the attorneys for Jas. Wilson, the contestee in Johnson County, in these proceedings.

It is agreed between the parties that the commissioner shall here answer the report of Bradley in regard to the other names given him at any time when he might be able to make a report of the same.)

P. S.—Mr. Stephen Bradley, a witness, on the 4th day of July, 1883, makes the following report to the commissioner:

Having examined through the records in my office referred to in the question, I make answer that no record whatever of the naturalization of the parties named in the question are to be found in any of these records.

STATE OF IOWA,
Johnson County, ss:

J. C. COCHRAN, being produced and sworn before Eldon Moran, a notary public in and for Johnson County, on this 2nd day of May, A. D. 1883, testifies as follows, being examined before me, T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and Milton Remley on the part of contestee.

Q. 1. Where do you reside?—A. In Iowa City.

Q. 2. How long have you lived here?—A. Twenty-nine years; about that length of time.

Q. 3. Were you naturalized here in the county court?

(Contestee objects: Incompetent; not proper rebuttal.)

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. Have you no papers?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. Will you show them, please?

(Contestee objects to all this testimony of this witness on the ground that the time for direct testimony had expired, and protests against the introduction of original testimony during the ten days of rebuttal. There is no law for it; no authority for it.)

Q. 6. You may please present your papers, Mr. Cochran.

(Witness produces the same in court.)

A. Here is the article.

Q. 7. You are a Republican, are you not, in politics?—A. Well, yes, sir.
Q. 8. You voted the Republican ticket many years?—A. Remley says I need not answer unless I wish.
Q. 9. You need not.—A. Then I won't tell.
Q. 10. It is a previously privileged question. Wilson has asked the same question.—A. I have voted for Democrats sometimes when I thought they were better men than the Republicans.
Q. 11. Did you vote for Jas. Wilson last fall?—A. I won't answer that; it is unnecessary.
Q. 12. You have lived here as a citizen a good many years and voted since you have been naturalized?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 13. You took ordinary oath before the county court?—A. Well, really I cannot tell you whether I took the oath. I took the papers.
Q. 14. You have never had a doubt as to your right to vote since you obtained those papers?—A. Well, that is unnecessary, so I will not answer it.
Q. 15. You have voted right along?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 16. Exercised the right of franchise?—Yes, sir.
Q. 17. Your vote has never been challenged, has it?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 18. As soon as you had those papers?—A. Yes, sir; I think so. Unless I understood it was going to be; it was challenged before I got that paper, I think. It was once since then, but I am not at all clear about it.
Q. 19. You put in your vote, did you not?—Oh, yes, sir.
Q. 20. You swore it in, did you not?—A. No, sir; I pulled out that paper.
Q. 21. They admitted it?—A. Yes, sir; they did.
Q. 22. Same paper introduced in evidence by contestant. Have you ever served on juries?—A. Yes, sir; when I could not help it.
Q. 23. Have you held any office?—A. No, sir; none in the gift of the American people.
Q. 24. You have served on juries?—A. Yes, sir; I think so.
Q. 25. You have considered yourself an American citizen since you got those papers?—A. Yes, sir; I think so.
Q. 26. Well, I think so.

STATE OF IOWA,
Johnson County, ss:

I. S. Bacheller, clerk county court in and for the county of Johnson, in said State, do hereby certify that J. C. Cochran appeared before George W. McClary, county judge for said county, and it appears that said Cochran is entitled to become a citizen of the United States; and the court, after hearing the testimony and having filed advice in the premises, order by said court that said J. C. Cochran be entitled to become a citizen of the United States of America.

In testimony whereunto I have hereto set my hand and seal of the said court in Iowa City, this second day of April, A. D. 1860.

I. S. BACHELLER, Clerk.

[Seal of Johnson County attached.]

(Contestee objects to the above; not the best evidence in proper rebuttal.)
Q. 27. You are not ashamed of your politics, are you?—No, sir.
Q. 28. Have you any hesitation to state how you voted?—No, sir; I usually vote Republican.

BROWN. I simply introduce this testimony for the purpose of showing that Republicans in this county have the same kind of papers you introduced. Have papers and have voted regularly and considered themselves citizens. I believe that Cochran is just as good a citizen as Remley.

(Contestee says that he refuses to appear in the taking of the evidence of this witness.)

J. C. COCHRAN.

STATE OF IOWA,
Johnson County, ss:

I, Eldon Moran, a notary public and commissioner, agreed upon by the parties to take testimony in this cause, in pursuance of the annexed agreement attached to the testimony of J. L. Adams, whose testimony was taken Feb. 22, do truly certify that on the 2nd day of May, 1883, in pursuance of the notice hereunto annexed, I took the depositions of the following witnesses: Chas. Holfka, L. A. Allen, Joseph Pisha, John L. Berry, Joseph Zaithamel, Gil Fletcher, Stephen Bradley, J. C. Cochran, Stephen Bradley (recalled), whose testimony is set forth in the following manner: Each witness was first by me duly sworn, or caused to be sworn in my presence, as provided by law, and when sworn the questions were propounded to him by the respective parties, Benj. T. Frederick, contestant, and James Wilson, contestee, by their respective attorneys, and the question by me read to the witness, who answered the same, and his answer in the language of the witness by me taken down under each question propounded, until the whole was reduced to writing and the deposition completed.

I further certify, that when the testimony of each witness was taken, I carefully read the same over to the witness, who corrected the same, and each correction noted, and said testimony was then signed by the witness and sworn to by him before me.

I further certify, that T. Brown and Carney appeared as counsel for the contestant, Benj. T. Frederick and Milton Remley as counsel for the contestee.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal notorially, this 2nd day of May, 1883.

[SEAL.]

ELDON MORAN,
Notary Public for Johnson County, Iowa,
and Commissioner agreed upon to take testimony.

No. 2.

STATE OF IOWA,
Johnson County, ss:

Deposition of JOHN DEVAULT, produced and sworn before A. D. Swisher, a notary public in and for Johnson County, on this 22nd day of Feb., A. D. 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows:

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. Name, John N. Devault; age, 34 years; Big Grove Township, Johnson County, Iowa; occupation, farming.

Q. 2. Were you clerk of the Nov. election, 1882; and, if so, in what township in Johnson County, and who were the other officers of the election?—A. I was clerk of said election in Big Grove Township, in Johnson County; assistant clerk, F. J. Wistner; judges M. M. Carrigan, A. W. Benter, and Jacob Kessler were the judges.

Q. 3. Have you in your possession the ballot-box and votes and poll-books of the Nov. election containing the ballots cast for the office of Rep. in Congress in favor of the several candidates then running for said office?—A. I have the ballot-box and poll-books in my possession.

Q. 4. In whose custody has the ballot-box been since the said election; and how has it been kept as to being sealed, locked, or otherwise safely kept?—A. It has been in my possession until Dec. 28, 1882. Since that time it has been in the possession of M. S. Shircliff, of Solon. While it was in my possession it was sealed and locked, and I found it locked and sealed this morning.

(The first part of the answer, as follows: I found it locked and sealed this morning, objected to by contestee as incompetent, not being the way of proving the manner in which the ballot-box has been kept since the 28th of Dec. 1882.)

Q. 5. Have you at any time examined the ballots in said box since closing the same after the election?—A. We did examine them once.

Q. 6. Who was present at the time of such examination; and when was that?—A. Before it went out of my possession in Dec. There were present myself, assistant clerk, and the judge of election.

Q. 7. Why did you make such examination?

(Question objected to by contestee as immaterial.)

A. We were ordered to by some one. I do not remember who.

Q. 8. Had the ballot-box been opened before, after the election, up to that time?—A. No; I think not.

Q. 9. You may now open the ballot-box in the presence of the judges of the election and notary and count the ballots, and state how many of the ballots were cast at the Nov. election, 1882, for the office of Representative in Congress, and how many votes each person or candidate received for such office.

(Objected to by the contestee for the reason that the ballots and poll-book are shown not to have been in the proper custody, for the reason that the witness does not show that the ballot-box containing the ballots was not open while in his custody, and that it is not fully shown that the ballots and poll-books are in the same condition as when sealed up after the count on the day of election. Objects to certain parties other than the witness taking part in the effort to recount.)

A. I have counted the ballots. There were 246 ballots cast at the said election for the office of Representative in Congress, of which B. T. Frederick secured 174, Jas. Wilson 52, and David Platner 16.

Q. 10. Does this count correspond with the count made by you after the election in Dec., 1882?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 11. How many ballots were returned, as shown by the poll-book, as cast for the office of Representative in Congress to the board of county commissioners for the November election, 1882, and present the poll-book so that the notary may copy the entry therein for the office aforesaid.

(Objected to by the contestee for the reason that the evidence sought to be elicited is secondary, and for further reason that the poll-book sought to be introduced is not the same as used by the county canvassers.)

A. There were 238 votes cast for the office of Representative as shown by the poll-book, of which Benjamin T. Frederick received 172, Jas. Wilson 51, David Platner 15, at an election held at Solon, in Big Grove Township, in Johnson County, State of Iowa, on the 27th day of Nov., A. D. 1882; there were 243 ballots cast for the office of Rep. in Congress, 5th district, of which Benj. T. Frederick had 172 votes, James Wilson 51 votes (the word one has been written over some other word which appears to be seven), David Platner had 15 votes. (And in the vote for Benj. T. Frederick it appears that over the word two has been written.)

Q. 12. Is the poll-book which you have presented to the notary the poll-book for Big Grove Township, in which the vote was recorded at the Nov. election, 1882?

(Objected to by the contestee because the poll-book has been out of his custody.)

A. Yes, sir; it is.

Q. 13. Is the vote recorded as taken down by the notary from said poll-book, and now appearing on the poll-book, the same as was written at the time of the canvass of the votes of the election for the office of rep. in Congress, and has the entry been changed or altered since that time?

(Objected to because the poll-book has been out of his custody and he has had no means of knowing as to matters asked for, and he did not write the book now before him.)

A. It has not been altered or changed that I know of; it appears the same.

Q. 14. Did you examine the poll-book at the time and compare it with the one you made?—A. Yes, sir, I did; we examined both of them and compared the two books.

Q. 15. Where has this poll-book been kept since that time?—A. It has been kept in the ballot-box, as far as I know, while in my possession.

Q. 16. At the time you counted the ballots, in the presence of the judges after the election, in Dec., 1882, where had this poll-book been kept up to that time, and in whose possession?—A. In the ballot-box, and in my possession.

Q. 17. Did you then examine the entry in the poll-book for the office of rep. in Congress, and was such entry as it now is, and state how much the entry was at that time?

(Objected to as leading, except the last clause.)

A. I examined this book and found the entry the same as it now is, and the book the same.

Q. 18. When you counted the ballots in Dec., 1882, were these ballots in the same condition they were when put in the box after the canvass of the Nov. election, 1882?

(Objected to for the reason that there is no showlng as to the result of that surreptitious canvass and leading.)

A. Yes, sir; they were.

Q. 19. How did such canvass correspond with the canvass made to-day, and what was the result of each canvass?

(Objected to because it is an incompetent mode of proving the matter sought.)

A. The canvass compared with that.

Q. 20. State if you are satisfied there was any error or mistake at the original canvass of the votes cast for the office of Rep. in Congress, and the returns made to the board of county canvassers, and, if so, what was the mistake?

(Objected to by the contestee for the reason that the question is not for facts, but mode of mind of the witness, and that it is leading.)

A. There was a mistake made in the canvass, I think, and in fact I am positive there was a mistake in the first canvass of the votes. There were more votes counted than were cast, but it may have been in the tally.

Q. 21. How many votes should have been returned for Benj. T. Frederick, and how many for James Wilson, for said office, as shown by the ballots?

(Objected to, as it is simply the opinion of the witness asked for; that he does not designate which count is referred to.)

A. There should have been returned for Benj. T. Frederick 174, and for James Wilson 52.

Met pursuant to adjournment.

Cross-examination:

Q. 1. Where did you keep this ballot-box before it was turned over to Shercliff, and where was the key to the same?—A. I kept the ballot-box in my house and the key in my pocket.

Q. 2. Did any one have access to said key of said ballot-box before the additional count in December?—A. No, sir; they did not.

Q. 3. From the time the ballot-box was closed after the count at the day of the election until the time you and the assistant clerk and the judges of the election met on Dec. 18th, 1882, to make additional count did you or any one else open the ballot-box?—A. No one else opened it, and I don't think I did.

Q. 4. Are you sure you did not open it?—A. I am not sure I did not, and I am not sure I did; I think it was not open.

Q. 5. Was not Gill Fletcher up there, and opened that box and examined the ballots?—A. I think not; if he did, I knew nothing of it.

Q. 6. On the day of the election were the ballots not carefully counted, and did you not make proper entry on the tally-list?—A. We thought we were doing the vote right, but by the recount it shows that we were not right; we intended to do it right.

Q. 7. In your count on the day of election did you not correct errors that you believed you had found that had been made on the tally-list?—A. We did.

Q. 8. By this correction, was not your attention especially called to the votes for Congressman in the 5th district?—A. I am not positive, but I think it was.

Q. 9. Will you now present to me the tally-list of said election as exhibit in the poll-book to-day?—A. I will (poll-book and tally-list presented).

Q. 10. Does not this tally-list show that had been recorded for Wilson; that had been subsequently erased?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 11. Does not the same tally-list show in the total tallied votes column a blotted and erased condition as to the number of votes for Wilson?—A. Yes, there is a blot there; there is a blot as to the whole. What has been blotted is impossible to say.

Q. 12. Is not the total vote for Congressman in the same blotted condition, and changed from what was originally written?—A. Yes, sir; it looks as though it had been changed.

Q. 13. What is the total number of votes set down for Congressman on the tally-list?—A. I could not say positively; I suppose it was 243.

Q. 14. Does the last figure look like a 3?—A. I would not say positive. It looks like a 3 with 1 written on top of it.

Q. 15. How many votes were cast for Benj. T. Frederick as shown by the tally-list, and how many for James Wilson, and how many for David Platner, and what would the total amount to as appears by the tally-list?—A. By the figures it seems 172 for Benjamin T. Frederick; as to Wilson the figures are blotted bad; it may be 50 or 51 or 56; as to Platner it looks like 15 now, and the total would be 243. I can't read the number as written.

Q. 16. Now, you make Frederick's total 172, Platner's 15, and the aggregate total 243; now what number does that leave for Wilson?—A. I have not said positive that Wilson has 56; if you figure it that way it would leave for Wilson 56.

Q. 17. Please count the tallies on the tally-list for Wilson that still remain there after all erasures, and state what number of votes is that are tallied for Wilson.—A. 54 is the number.

Q. 18. If from all these changes and erasures your attention and the attention of the canvassers was called to this Congressional vote, why was it not absolutely right as you returned it?—A. The reason is that we made a mistake either in counting or tallying.

Redirect examination:

Q. 1. What poll-book is this?—A. This is the poll-book of the Nov. election, '82, Big Grove Township, Johnson County, Iowa.

Q. 2. Who wrote this poll-book?—A. I did; J. M. De Vault.

Q. 3. Is that the poll-book you returned to the auditor's office for the canvassers of the Nov. election, '82?—A. It is.

Q. 4. You may state if you wrote the poll-book that has been presented by you here to-day, a part of which has been copied.—A. No, sir; I did not.

Q. 5. Are you satisfied that you made a mistake in the count of the ballots at the official count?

(Objected to as asking for opinion.)

A. I am satisfied that there was a mistake made either in the count or in the tally.

Q. 6. Are you satisfied that the original ballots cast at the Nov. election, 1882, were in the box at the time of your second canvass, and to-day?

(Objected to as asking for the opinion of the witness.)

A. I am satisfied that they were.

Q. 7. Was there any opportunity for the ballots being changed between the time of the first canvass and the second count; and, if so, what?

(Objected to as asking for the conclusion, not fact.)

A. There was not any chance of their being changed.

Recross-examination:

Q. 1. State who ordered the second count, made in Dec., 1882, as near as you can tell.—A. The judges of the election spoke to me about it. That is the first I knew anything about it.

Q. 2. What did they tell you?

(Objected to as hearsay.)

A. They said it was surmised that there was a mistake, and some one wanted a count.

Q. 3. Does this book written by yourself, sent to the auditor's office, show any signs of erasures and changes in the tally column and total-vote column for Wilson?—A. It shows signs of erasures and changes.

Q. 4. What does the total for Wilson now show?—A. 51.

Q. 5. From what has it been changed?—A. I cannot say positively from what it has been changed. It might have been six or a cipher.

Q. 6. How many votes does the tally column now show?—A. 51.

Q. 7. From what has it probably been changed?—A. I cannot say positively; it may have been either a mark or a blot.

Q. 8. What does the written return now show for Wilson?—A. It might have been 6; I cannot say positively.

Commissioner's, $15.

In the House of Representatives of the United States of America.

BENJAMIN T. FREDERICK, contestant,
v.
JAMES WILSON, contestee.
} Stipulation for commissioner.

It is hereby stipulated and agreed that Eldon Moran, a notary public of Johnson County, Iowa, and short-hand reporter, shall be, and he is hereby, appointed to take testimony at all points in the fifth Congressional district for and in behalf of the contestant and contestee. That said testimony shall be taken down in short-hand writing and transcribed by him; that one transcribed copy of all testimony taken shall be furnished contestant, one transcribed copy shall be furnished contestee, and one transcribed copy shall be transmitted to the Clerk of the House of Representatives, within thirty days from the time of completing the testimony, also accompanied by the original testimony in short-hand, signed by the witnesses. That the transcribed copies certified to by the short-hand reporter shall be read in evidence, and with equal credibility, as though taken in long hand, and in the mode usually adopted in the trial of this class of causes. All objections to this mode of taking the said testimony before said Eldon Moran is waived in all counties of this Congressional district. It is agreed that in case any witness disobeys or fails to obey a subpœna any notary public may issue such subpœna, and we agree to waive time and notice for such witness, and such notary may take such testimony in place of said Moran in other counties than Johnson. Testimony out of the district shall be taken as provided by law. The testimony, both contestant and contestee, shall be taken before said Eldon Moran when taken within the district, except as above stated. In case of sickness or disability or failure of said Moran to meet appointment any notary may be selected to take his place by either party during the continuance of such disability other than said Eldon Moran, who is agreed upon as a commissioner for the purpose of taking the testimony in this case. That all witnesses whose testimony is taken shall be sworn before some notary public or other officer authorized to administer oaths in such cases.

In witness whereof we have hereunto set our hands this the 22d day of Feb. A. D. 1883.

BENJAMIN T. FREDERICK,
By T. BROWN, Att'y.
JAMES WILSON.

STATE OF IOWA,
Johnson County, ss:

Deposition of witness is produced and sworn before me, Eldon Moran, a notary public and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony, on this 22d day of Feb., A. D. 1883, in a proceeding pending before the House of Representatives of the United States of America, in a contested election for the office of Representative in Congress, in which proceedings Benjamin T. Frederick is contestant, and James Wilson is contestee; Brown & Carney appearing as attorneys for Benjamin T. Frederick, and W. J. Haddock and J. W. Cone appearing as attorneys for James Wilson, contestee.

JOHN L. ADAMS, of lawful age, being produced and sworn in due form of law, testifies as follows:

Ques. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—Ans. John L. Adams; am 52 years old; am a farmer, of Solon, Johnson County, Iowa.

Ques. 2. In what township?—Ans. Cedar Township. I live in Cedar Township. Solon is my post-office.

Ques. 3. Were you one of the clerks of Cedar Township in the year 1882?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 4. And do you hold that office now?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 5. You may state if you were one of the clerks of the election at the Nov. election, 1882, in which the electors voted for the office of Representative in Congress in your township.—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 6. Where has the ballot-box been kept since the Nov. election, 1882?—Ans. It has been in my possession ever since.

Ques. 7. How has it been kept?—Ans. It has been kept just as you see it now [pointing to the box present]. It has been locked, but not sealed.

Ques. 8. How was the ballots left in the box, loose or strung?—Ans. They are strung.

Ques. 9. Has any one had access to that box since the election?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 10. Who?—Ans. The trustees of the township. They were the first.

Ques. 11. What do you mean by that—that the box has been opened and examined?—Ans. It was opened and examined by the trustees; yes, sir.

Ques. 12. When was that done? State as near as you can in what month.—Ans. Well, it was in Dec.

Ques. 13. You may state if any other persons other than the trustees have had access to the box.—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 14. Who?—Ans. Shall I name the persons that I saw?

Ques. 15. Yes, sir.—Ans. Mr. Ricord and Mr. Cone, the attorney here.

Ques. 16. Whenever the box has been opened have you been present?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 17. Has any ballot been changed or tampered with since the Nov. election, 1882?—Ans. Not to my knowledge.

Ques. 18. Would you know if they had been?—Ans. Well, I don't know but what I may have; I don't know whether I could say. I have been present always, each time that the box was opened, and never saw any one do anything with the tickets or change them in any way.

Ques. 19. When was that box first opened after the election?—Ans. Well, it was more than a month after the election.

Ques. 20. Had anybody had access to that box before that time?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 21. Where was the key kept?—Ans. It was kept in my possession.

Ques. 22. Who was present when it was first opened?—Ans. The trustees of our township.

Ques. 23. Were you present?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 24. Did you see any one change any ticket or do anything other than look over the tickets in the box?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 25. For what purpose was the box then opened?—Ans. Well, it was by request of—well, believe a party here in Iowa City, that the box be opened.

Ques. 26. And the ballots examined?—Ans. Yes, sir; the ballots examined to see whether there was any mistake.

Ques. 27. Will you open the ballot-box and count the ballots in the presence of the notary and trustees and compare them with the poll-book and see how many ballots were cast for the office of Representative in Congress for the candidate?

(Mr. Haddock objects to the question; objects to the opening of the ballot-box or the comparison of ballots with the poll-books for the reason that it is shown that others have had access to the box. It is not shown that the box has been absolutely kept inviolate since the time of the election up to the time of the opening referred to.)

Ans. Yes, sir; I will do so. (Witness produces box, etc.)

Also objection for the further reason it has not been shown that the poll-book has all the time been in his possession.

(Witness examines and counts.)

Ques. 28. Now you may state.—Ans. I will first state the number of votes cast; shall I?

Ques. 29. Yes, sir.—Ans. 128 ballots cast, of which Mr. Wilson had 36 and Mr. Frederick 63 and Mr. Platner 29.

Ques. 30. Where has the poll-book been kept since the election?—Ans. Well, I have had it in my possession most of the time.

Ques. 31. Did you make out the poll-book?—Ans. I didn't make this one.

Ques. 32. Did you compare the poll-book you had in your possession with the one you made out the time of the election?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 33. Were they correct and alike?—Ans. They were correct.

Ques. 34. Was there any error in the counting of the votes at the time of the election; and, if so, what was it?

(Judge Haddock objects as asking for the opinion.)

Ans. Well, sir, not any to our knowledge. There was no mistake that we knew of.

Ques. 35. I asked if there was any error?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 36. What, did you say there was no error?—Ans. We didn't know of any error at the time.

Ques. 37. Do you find any error by the recount? What is that error?—Ans. Yes, sir; it is 10 votes in favor of Frederick.

Ques. 38. How many does the poll-book show were cast for Frederick at that election; how many for Wilson, and how many for Platner? Please look at the poll-book.—Ans. (Witness examines poll-book.) Mr. Wilson had 37 votes, Mr. Frederick had 53, and Mr. Platner 28, according to the poll-book.

Ques. 39. Then upon comparing the ballots you find that 1 too many was counted for Wilson, 10 too little counted for Frederick, did you?

(Judge Haddock objects to the question as leading.)

Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 40. Had any one been to the ballot-box examining or changing the ballots before the time in Dec. when you opened it and recounted the ballots in the presence of the trustees?

(Same objection by Mr. Haddock as above.)

Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 41. Did that count compare with the count made to-day? If not, what was the difference?

(Mr. Haddock objects to the question as leading.)

Ans. I think we did not discover that Wilson received one more; we find a mistake in the 10 votes.

Ques. 42. Did you compare the Wilson vote at that time; did you look at the ballots for the purpose of seeing whether any mistake was made in the count of the Wilson votes at that time?—Ans. No, sir; only in the Frederick vote. The tickets were all looked over; that is, the Democratic tickets, and were just looking for a mistake in the count of the Frederick vote.

Ques. 43. At the time you opened the ballot box for the count in December, were the votes then strung on the string in the box?—Ans. Yes, sir; I think that they were.

Ques. 44. Were the 10 extra votes you found for Frederick found strung on that string?—Ans. Strung at the time of the election?

Ques. 45. Yes, sir.—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 46. You may state how the ballots were counted at the time of the election, whether separately or in tens, describing the manner.—Ans. They were counted in fives, taking 5 straight tickets as far as they went straight, then afterwards taking them separate, when not straight; all that were straight through the State we took out in fives, five at a time.

Ques. 47. I will ask you if you made this paper or assisted in the making of it. (Showing the witness the paper which the witness examines.)—Ans. Yes, sir; that is my writing.

Ques. 48. When was that made?—Ans. That was made the day that the trustees made it my place to count the tickets.

Ques. 49. That is, for the recount?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 50. You say you didn't examine the Wilson votes to see how many he did have, if you remember?—Ans. Well they were all counted before there was any mistake found.

Ques. 51. Any error discovered?—Ans. None in the Wilson count.

Ques. 52. Have these tickets in this box been changed or any new ones put in since the time of the counting on the 23d of Dec?—Ans. There has been no new ones put in to my knowledge. They were taken off the string and not put back again the second time that the box was opened.

Ques. 53. I will ask you if you made this paper for the purpose of correcting that return after the count on the 13th of Dec. ? (referring to the same paper the witness just now examined; F. vs. W.—A.)—Ans. Yes sir.

[Mr. Brown introduces the same in evidence.]

(Judge Haddock, on the part of contestee, objects to Exhibit A being introduced on the ground that it is incompetent to contradict the returns unauthorized by law.)

Ques. 54. Does the given number of ballots given to-day compare with the number of ballots given at that election?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 55. Could any ballot have been taken out of that box since the election without your knowledge of it?—Ans. I think not.

Ques. 56. Have you changed any ballots in that box either by taking out ballots cast for Wilson or putting any ballots in for Frederick?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 57. What did you say as to ballots, that they have been counted to-day, being the actual ballots cast at the Nov. election, 1882? What do you say as to their being the same?—Ans. I think that they are the actual ballots.

Ques. 58. Who has assisted you in the count to-day?—Ans. You mean in keeping tally?

Ques. 59. I mean in the counting to-day.—Ans. The three trustees have assisted me.

Ques. 60. Name them.—Ans. John E. Adams, Dennis Maloney, and J. W. Douglass.

Ques. 61. Who assisted you in counting on the 13th of Dec. ?—Ans. A. H. Browning.

Ques. 62. Who else assisted in counting, also in looking over the ballots?—Ans. John E. Adams, Dennis Maloney, and J. W. Douglass.

Ques. 63. The same parties who assisted you to-day, except the other clerk?—Ans. No, sir; the other clerk was not present when we counted them in Dec.

Ques. 64. Who else was present then beside the trustees?—Ans. No, sir; only myself and trustees.

Ques. 65. You say that the ballots were examined after the 13th of Dec. by the same parties?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 66. Who was present then ?—Ans. Mr. Ricord, Mr. Cone, and myself.

Ques. 67. Who is Mr. Cone, the attorney for Mr. Wilson, here to-day?—Ans. Well, I could not say; that is the gentleman sitting right there.

Ques. 68. That is the attorney for Wilson; who was Mr. Ricord; what office does he hold; what party does he belong to?—Ans. He is a Republican; I believe he is post-master at Iowa City.

Ques. 69. Were all the parties that examined the ballots since the Nov. election for the purpose of seeing whether there was any error in the count the parties that you have mentioned; were there any others?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 70. Have you any reason to believe that either of those gentlemen changed any of the ballots cast at that election?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 71. You don't think Mr. Cone or Mr. Ricord changed any of them?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 72. The other parties were officers of the election, were they?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Cross-examination by Judge Haddock:

Ques. 73. What office are you holding now ?—Ans. I am assessor.

Ques. 74. Are you no longer township clerk of Cedar Township?—Ans. No, sir; not since the first of Jan.

Ques. 75. Where has this box been brought from to-day?—Ans. It is in my possession; it has never been delivered to the other clerk.

Ques. 76. You have had the custody since Jan. alone?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 77. Without being an officer?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 78. Where did you keep the box?—Ans. I kept it in my place of residence.

Ques. 79. In the kitchen?—Ans. No, sir; it has been in a small unoccupied room.

Ques. 80. Any fire there?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 81. Tables?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 82. Any chairs?—Ans. No, sir; no chairs.

Ques. 83. When you went to count where did you take it to?—Ans. We took it to our sitting-room.

Ques. 84. Where the family was?—Ans. Yes, sir; where they sat. I don't think that they were in the room at the time.

Ques. 85. Where was the key of it all the time?—Ans. I kept it in my secretary in my place.

Ques. 86. The hole in the box was never sealed any of the time?—Ans. No, sir; never sealed or covered.

Ques. 87. Tickets could have been dropped in there?—Ans. Well, I suppose they could have been.

Ques. 88. What kind of a key was it ?—Ans. Just a common key, I suppose.

Ques. 89. Cheap like ?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 90. Was this empty room you kept the box in locked ?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 91. Any out door to it?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 92. What door does open to it?—Ans. Kitchen.
Ques. 93. Your kitchen locked at any time?—Ans. Part of the time, part of the time not.
Ques. 94. Who is the proper custodian of that box now?—Ans. I suppose the clerk or the township.
Ques. 95. Who is he?—Ans. S. W. Bowman.
Ques. 96. When you first counted the ballots on the day of the election, you counted them accurately, of course?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 97. You believe they were correct now? Have you any reason to lead you to believe that you had made any mistake that day?—Ans. No, sir; I think that we had counted them correctly.
Ques. 98. What lead you to believe you had not before any count was made again?—Ans. We did not think that we had made a mistake; we did not think so when we met to count them.
Ques. 99. What was suggested to you by any one as a reason to think you had made a mistake?—Ans. Well, in examining the poll-books the total did not correspond with the number of votes that were cast. In counting out the number that were cast it didn't correspond with the tally of the other officers.
Ques. 100. You mean other officers and Representatives?—Ans. Yes, sir; all three together.
Ques. 101. You mean to say that the total vote cast for Representative in Congress did not correspond with the total vote cast for the same three officers?—Ans. No, sir; it didn't; but that is not what I meant. The tally didn't count up the same as the total vote cast.
Ques. 102. The total vote cast for what?—Ans. The total vote cast at the election; I mean the ballots cast.
Ques. 103 You mean the total ballot cast in the township. The total vote cast in your township for State officers was how many?—Ans. 128.
Ques. 104. The total vote you had reported on your first count on the day of the election was how many?—Ans. It was written out 128; by examination with the tally, 118.
Ques. 105. Your tally-list, as reported on the first count, was in effect 118 for the total votes on Representative?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 106. That is correct now? Does your tally-list now, as made on that day, show 118 votes cast?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 107. How much does it show?—Ans. 128.
Ques. 108. I mean as made on that day.—Ans. It shows 118.
Ques. 109. You now mean to say that the tally-list you made on the day of the election shows 118 votes is the correct number cast for Representative in Congress in Cedar Township?—Ans. Yes, sir; according to the tally-list.
Ques. 110. Made on the day of the election?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 111. Then it was read to you as the understanding that because there was not 128 votes cast that there must be a mistake?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 112. Now I have it correct?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 113. Wasn't there other offices where the total vote of the township was not cast?—Ans. There was not any of the list, but in the county and our township there was scratching done.
Ques. 114. Now look at the office of coroner in that poll-book before you.
(Witness does so.)
Ans. I have it.
Ques. 115. What is the total vote cast for coroner of Cedar Township at that election?—Ans. I guess I had better give the tally-list.
Ques. 116. What is the total vote cast for coroner, as shown by tally-list made on the day of the election in Cedar Township, Johnson County?—Ans. 100.
Ques. 117. Now look at the office of district attorney and see what was the total vote cast as shown by tally-list.—Ans. 122.
Ques. 118. The clerk of the district court for the county of Johnson; total vote cast in Cedar Township as shown by tally-list?—Ans. There were 29 votes cast for Remley, 93 for Preston; making 122.
Ques. 119. Now the clerk of the district court; take him next.—Ans. 126.
Ques. 120. Now the office of coroner, district attorney, clerk of the district court. Have you been impressed with the idea that you had made any mistake because the total vote did not come up to the total vote of the State officers?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 121. In investigation made upon these points?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 122. You did not believe because they did not read total vote for State officers in that township, that there was a mistake?—Ans. No, sir; we didn't.
Ques. 123. Did you find any Democratic tickets in the list without Frederick's name on them?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 124. Now, after the close of the count on the day of the election did you compare the poll-books, one with the other?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 125. What then did you do with the ballots on the poll-books?—Ans. The ballots were left in the ballot-box, and one of the poll-books were delivered to the trustees and then to the county auditor, and the other remained in my office.

Ques. 126. Was it put in the poll-book then?—Ans. Yes, sir; at the time of the election.

Ques. 127. Was the box then locked?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 128. Where was it put?—Ans. It was taken to my place of residence.

Ques. 129. Who took it there?—Ans. I did.

Ques. 130. Who was with you?—Ans. No one.

Ques. 131. You took it to your home?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 132. It was then locked and the key put in your pocket?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 133. It was not sealed?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 134. You then deposited it when you reached home; poll-book in the box when you got home? It was in the box, was it?—Ans. I am not positive whether I took the poll-book out when I got home or not. I know it was put in in order to take home.

Ques. 135. On the day of the election who helped you to canvass the vote?—Ans. These three did.

Ques. 136. You mean three trustees?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 137. Who else as clerk?—Ans. Attorney Browning, as assistant.

Ques. 138. Who called for the votes?—Ans. I think they took it by turns. I think this gentleman here, Mr. J. W. Douglass, did most of the reading, didn't you? (Yes, sir; I think so.)

Ques. 139. You recorded accurately and compared as he called?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 140. He handled all the tickets as far as you know?—Ans. He didn't read off all; no, sir.

Ques. 141. These trustees handled all the votes; took them out of the box carefully?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 142. In the usual mode of doing that work?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 143. Now, after you got home how long was it after their election did you begin to hear rumors of probable mistakes?—Ans. Well, I believe the board of supervisors met the first Monday after the election; it was about the middle of the week that I heard such rumors.

Ques. 144. Whom did you hear it from?—Ans. A gentleman by the name of W. A. Palmer came to where I lived. Shall I tell the story right through?

Ques. 145. What did he tell you?—Ans. He had received a telegram.

Ques. 146. From whom?—Ans. Mr. A. J. Hershire.

Ques. 147. What are his politics?—Ans. Democratic.

Ques. 148. He is the editor of the Democratic newspaper here?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 149. Who is Palmer?—Ans. Democrat, to.

Ques. 150. What does he do?—Ans. I don't know what he does do; I suppose considerable of his time riding over the county.

Ques. 151. Where does he live?—Ans. In Solon.

Ques. 152. He is a Democrat?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 153. He came to you and told you what?—Ans. That he had received a telegram from Hershire asking him to come to me and get the ballot-box.

Ques. 154. Had you returned the poll-book at this time to the board of supervisors?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 155. He asked you for it?—Ans. Yes, sir; I didn't know what he meant. I supposed that poll-book had been returned. I could not understand by the telegram what he did mean, but I understood by that that the book hadn't been returned.

Ques. 156. You got the impression from Palmer and his telegram that the book hadn't been returned?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 157. What did he tell further?—Ans. He wanted the books; he said he had been requested to get it and to take it to the city.

Ques. 158. By Andrew Jackson Hershire, of the political newspaper?—Ans. Yes, sir; I hesitated about giving it to him at the time; I thought there could be no harm in it, so I gave it up to him.

Ques. 159. How long was it out of your possession?—Ans. Well, I don't think more than two weeks.

Ques. 160. Who returned it to you?—Ans. My father, A. Adams, brought it from Iowa City.

Ques. 161. Where did he get it, do you know?—Ans. Well, think that he got it from the auditor.

Ques. 162. Of the county?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 163. What was the next thing chronologically of this thing?—Ans. Mr. Hershire came out to see me personally the next thing.

Ques. 164. What did you do then?—Ans. Nothing.

Ques. 165. What did he tell you to do?—Ans. He wanted me to look at the ticket. I told him I would not do it without having the trustees present; I had no business to.

Ques. 166. What did you do then?—Ans. Well, before he left he asked me if I would notify the trustees and look over the tickets. At last I consented to do so. That was along in the afternoon. I studied the matter over and sat down and wrote a letter that I would not do it.

Ques. 167. What next did you do?—Ans. I didn't do anything more until the trustees——

Ques. 168. Who was next—who did you hear from next after that?—Ans. The trustees, when they came to my place.

Ques. 169. Didn't you know they were coming until they came into your house?—Ans. Well, I think not; I am not positive.

Ques. 170. When the trustees arrived what did you and they do with them?—Ans. Proceeded to open the ballot-box and examine the tickets.

Ques. 171. Name them.—Ans. Adams, Maloney, and Douglass.

Ques. 172. What are the politics of those gentlemen?—Ans. Maloney and Douglass Democrats; Adams is Republican.

Ques. 173. You then made another investigation of all the ballots?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 174. You were present during the whole time those trustees were counting the ballots?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 175. Who else were present besides those trustees?—Ans. My daughter, about five years old.

Ques. 176. Anybody besides your child?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 177. Any politician of anywhere?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 178. Or elector or voter?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 179. After this count was made you put them in the form of a letter or circular?—Ans. I don't know what we did; nothing in the regular order.

Ques. 180. What did you do with that paper?—Ans. It was given to the trustees to mail, I believe.

Ques. 181. What did he expect to do with it, mail it to where?—Ans. As a notice to the supervisors that there had been a mistake made.

Ques. 182. Had you heard of the rumor of the close call between Frederick and Wilson?—Ans. Yes sir.

Ques. 183. Before this rumored error?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 184. And that Frederick would probably be elected if those ten votes should be carried through?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 185. If it had not been for that rumor and the absolute necessity you would not have counted them again?—Ans. Yes, sir; I think that they would. We had been requested to.

Ques. 186. Without that you don't think that you would ever have gone to the trouble of another count?—Ans. Well, if it had not been so close I don't think that these things would have been brought up; don't think it would have been noticed.

Ques. 187. Now, after this count what did you do with the ballots?—Ans. They were strung and put back in the box.

Ques. 188. That is, after the second count made on the 13th of Dec. they were counted, strung, and put back into the box?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 189. The poll-book, too, with them?—Ans. No, sir; I think not.

Ques. 190. When was the box again opened to your knowledge?—Ans. Well, it was opened by myself at the request of Mr. Ricord and Mr. Cone, well, it must have been in Jan.; I don't know just what time, but in the forepart of Jan.

Ques. 191. Who was present when they were tampering with it?

BROWN. Don't say tampering in the presence of Cone.

Ques. 192. Who were present at the time these gentlemen were looking them over?—Ans. These two gentlemen and myself.

Ques. 193. Were the tickets then on the string?—Ans. Yes, sir; when we opened the box.

Ques. 194. When you opened the box?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 195. If the tickets had been off the string, if they had not been on the string, what would you say about that—that they had been opened by somebody else before you opened it?—Ans. It would look so.

Ques. 196. Are you positive that they were on the string at the time you got Mr. Cone and Ricord to examine them?—Ans. Yes, sir; I think so, to the best of my knowledge.

Ques. 197. You put them on the string on the 13th of Dec.—I mean that you put them back on the string? I think that they were on the string when Mr. Cone and Ricord examined them.—Ans. Yes, sir; to the best of my knowledge.

Ques. 198. I will ask you another question. Were not the tickets the time you opened the box in the presence of Ricord and Cone, were they not strung, Democratic tickets in one file, Greenback tickets in one file, and Republican in another?—Ans. I cannot be sure about that; I think that they were all on the string. I cannot swear to it.

Ques. 199. You are certain that on the 13th of Dec. they were unstrung and left in the box?—Ans. My impression is that they were; I cannot swear to it.

Ques. 200. Didn't you state positive a while ago that you strung them and put them back into the box?—Ans. Yes, sir; that is my belief that they were; I don't know that I stated more positive then than I do now; also, I think that when we counted them they separated them. I know that they were not strung after that.

Ques. 201. The question was what condition they found them in before they unstrung any tickets in your presence?—Ans. I could not say.

Ques. 202. Did you stay with them all the time? Now, I mean on the 13th of Dec. you counted them carefully?—Ans. That is what we thought.

Ques. 203. Well, on that day you found no error as you believe, or you found no error at all, except that there were 10 votes you think should have been counted for Frederick which were not counted for him before?—Ans. That is the only mistake we could discover.

Ques. 204. You did not find 36 votes instead of 37 for Wilson on that occasion?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques 205. This is the third count to-day?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 206. Still there is another tally and different result from the first, is there not?—Ans. Yes, sir; we found that there is a mistake in the Wilson count; that we discovered when Mr. Cone and Ricord examined them.

Ques. 207. On the first count Frederick had 55; Wilson 37?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 208. On the second count, Dec. 13, you made them: Frederick 63, Wilson 37?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 209. On this last count you varied it, making Wilson 36?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 210. Then this counting seems to be a very variable quantity, won't stick anywhere; the more you count the worse it goes. Now, after Ricord and Cone canvassed the tickets, who else handled them?—Ans. No one.

Ques. 211. Who else has looked at them? Have they been out of the box since that time, to your knowledge?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 212. Has the box been kept locked?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 213. From the character of your building, the kitchen door being left unlocked part of the time, and either the door of this or another room not being locked, and from the fact that this is a very common key, could not the box have been opened?—Ans. Well, sir, I suppose it could; yes, sir.

Ques. 214. Could not changes have been made in these tickets if it was opened by persons interested in that matter?—Ans. No, sir; I think not; there has been no scratching done at all.

Ques. 215. Could they not have substituted tickets and put in more?—Ans. No, sir; I think that they could not.

Redirect examination:

Ques. 216. How many straight Democratic votes were polled in your precinct at the Nov. election, as shown by the tie tickets?

(Mr. Haddock objects to the question for the reason that it does not specify the office, and for the reason it is improper to count a vote only as for some person.)

Ans. 63.

Ques. 217. Do you remember at the time you counted the votes at the Nov. election, 1882, that Frederick's name for Representative was on all the straight Democratic tickets that were polled; also, what is your recollection about that?

(Mr. Haddock objects to the question, on the ground that it is incompetent to introduce remarks on election day.)

Ans. I don't remember of any remarks being made.

Ques. 218. Turn to page 18 of the poll-book of the Nov. election, 1882, held in Cedar Township, Johnson County, Iowa, and read the entry that was then made, that the notary may take it down, concerning the office of Representative in Congress.—Ans. Shall I read all the headings?

Ques. 219. Yes, sir; all the entries made, anything beginning with the words, "At an election held."

(Witness reads it.)

Ans. At an election held at Antioch, Cedar Township, Johnson County, Iowa, on the 7th of Nov., 1882, there were 128 ballots cast for the office of Representative in Congress, 5th district, of which James Wilson had 37 votes, Benjamin T. Frederick had 53 votes, David Platner had 28 votes.

Ques. 220. Look upon that poll-book I now present you and state who made the same.—Ans. I did.

Ques. 221. Is that the poll-book that was returned to the auditor of that township as a return of the votes cast at the Nov. election for the different candidates that were running for offices you have your township?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 222. Read the return you made for office of Representative in Congress from that township.

(Reads it.)

Ans. At an election held at Antioch, Cedar Township, Johnson County, Iowa, on the 7th day of Nov., 1882, there were 138 ballots cast for the office of Representative in Congress, of which James Wilson had 37 votes, Benjamin T. Frederick 53, David Platner 28.

Ques. 223. Then does your returns show that there were 128 ballots cast for that office? Does it show that number were cast?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 224. Didn't you just read it?—Ans. It says that that many votes were cast, but it don't foot up so.

Ques. 225. Now, does the number of ballots cast for the different candidates for that office foot up 128?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 226. Then don't the tally-books show an evident mistake of ten votes on its face?—Ans. Yes, sir; it shows a mistake. They don't correspond. That is, the total vote as it is written out. They don't foot up to the account.

Ques. 227. The number of ballots cast for the respective candidates then only foots up to 118?—Ans. Yes, sir; that is all.

Cross-examination by Mr. Haddock.

Ques. 228. What does the tally-list on the book show to have been cast as to the number of votes for Frederick, Wilson, and Platner in the box?—Ans. Wilson 37, Frederick 58, Platner 28.

Ques. 229. It foots up to how many?—Ans. 118.

Ques. 230. Now, wasn't the intention in the case to write the total number of votes cast taken from the tally-list?—Ans. For the office, you mean?

Ques. 331. Yes, sir.—Ans. Yes, sir; that was the intention.

Ques. 332. The intention in this case would be to write 118; it should have been, according to the tally-list, 118?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 333. Then the mistake was in writing 128 instead of 118?—Ans. Yes, sir; according to the tally-list.

JOHN L. ADAMS.

STATE OF IOWA,
Johnson County, ss:

Deposition of witness produced and sworn before me, Elden Moran, a notary public and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony on this 23d day of Feb., A. D. 1883, in a proceeding pending before the House of Representatives of the United States of America, in a contested election for the office of Representative in Congress, in which proceedings Benjamin T. Frederick is contestant and James Wilson is contestee. Brown & Carney appearing as attorneys for Benjamin T. Frederick, and W. J. Haddock and J. W. Cone appearing as attorneys for James Wilson, contestee.

JOHN E. ADAMS, of lawful age, being produced and sworn in due form of law, testifies as follows:

Ques. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—Ans. John E. Adams; 45 years of age on the 15th of Sept.; residence, Cedar Township, Johnson County, Iowa.

Ques. 2. Were you one of the judges of election for Cedar Township in the Nov. election, 1882, in which the electors voted for the office of Representative in Congress?—Ans. Yes, sir; I was.

Ques. 3. What is your politics?—Ans. I am a Republican. Occasionally there is a man I don't have any politics on.

Ques. 4. You may state if you have discovered if there is any mistake in the returns of the election made to the county auditor of your township for that election?—Ans. Not until the books were reopened on the 13th of Dec. I had heard nothing of it, and in fact knew nothing of it until Mr. Maloney came here and told me. I thought that it was impossible, and told him that I thought so.

Ques. 5. On the 13th day of Dec. were you present when the ballot-box was reopened and the ballots again counted?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 6. Did you find you had made an error in your former return of votes for that precinct?—A. Yes, sir.

Ques. 7. What was that error?—Ans. Ten votes in favor of Benjamin T. Frederick.

Ques. 8. Do you remember how many ballots known as straight Democratic ballots were cast at the Nov. election of 1882 from your count then made?—Ans. 53.

Ques. 9. How many straight tickets were there, irrespective of Frederick?—Ans. Democratic tickets were all straight on the Representative part of the ticket, no scratches.

Ques. 10. How many Democratic tickets were there cast at the election as you remember from your count made at the time of the election?—Ans. As we counted them, 53; that is as they were polled that night.

Ques. 11. Now, how many Democratic tickets?—Ans. 63 Democratic tickets.

Ques. 12. Do you remember any of the Democratic tickets being scratched?—Ans. No, sir; there was none.

Ques. 13. Are you satisfied, then, that Mr. Frederick received 63 ballots for the office of Representative in Congress at the Nov. election of 1882?

(Mr. Cone, attorney for contestee, objects to the question, on the ground that it calls for the conclusion of the witness and not for the fact.)

Ans. I am satisfied that there were 63 Democratic votes cast for Mr. Frederick.

Ques. 14. On the 13th of Dec., when you re-examined the ballot-box, did its appearance indicate that it was in the same condition as when left after the canvass at the election?—Ans. Yes, sir; it did.

Ques. 15. You may state if at that canvass you looked over the number of ballots that were cast for Wilson.—Ans. You mean the time we opened the box?

Ques. 16. Yes, sir.—Ans. We didn't look over the ballots for Wilson. We merely separated the Democratic tickets and counted Frederick's vote; is all we done at that time.

Ques. 17. Were you present that day, and did you assist in the recanvass of the ballots then in the box?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 18. Did you find by this recanvass any error in your former canvass as to the number of ballots cast for James Wilson?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 19. What was that error?—Ans. It was one too many for Mr. Wilson at the former count—that is, the night of the election.

Ques. 20. How many ballots did you return as the total number of ballots cast for the office of Representative in Congress at the Nov. election?—Ans. 128.

Ques. 21. Who counted up or ascertained that number of ballots? Who was the clerk that evening?—Ans. I don't think of it; take the Representative's name. We took a single one, got done counting, added them up to see whether they tallied the same number of votes cast. They came out even, so we didn't run over any more of them, knowing that the tickets were all straight. We took one we knew was straight all through.

Cross-examination by Mr. Cone:

Ques. 22. How many Republican tickets did you find in the ballot-box at your first canvass of votes on the evening of the election?—Ans. I suppose we found 38. We made it out that night.

By Lawyer Brown:

Ques. 23. Was it not 37?—Ans. I don't know but it was.

Ques. 24. How many Greenback or National tickets did you find in the box on the evening of your first canvass?—Ans. I could not just exactly recollect only from the count here to-day we made of it. I could not have told if I had not have counted it over to-day.

Ques. 25. What did you say?—Ans. We found 28 to-day. The books show we found 29 that night. We kept track of the Greenback vote. They only counted three or four in the last four years. They generally tally about 27 votes.

Ques. 26. Who called off to the clerk the number of votes each person's names on the Democratic ticket received?—Ans. Mr. Douglass and myself.

Ques. 27. Who for the Republican?—Ans. It was mixed up. We would separate out five straight tickets, that is, Democratic tickets, perhaps, and commence at the head reading the name. The clerks tallied them. Next lot, perhaps, five Republican tickets the same way. When we sorted and separated out five straight tickets they would tally them as we read them over. The same way with the Greenback tickets, until we came where they were scattered, then one ticket at a time.

Ques. 28. After the canvass of votes that evening was there any adjournment? Did you sign the returns?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 29. In whose possession were the ballots during the time the clerks were making up their returns or filling out there certificates?—Ans. In the possession of the judges.

Ques. 30. Where were the tickets kept?—Ans. I think that they sat on the bench right on the clerks' stand between two of us.

Ques. 31. On the table or in the ballot-box?—Ans. In the ballot-box set on the bench in front of us.

Ques. 32. Who all were present at the canvass other than the clerks and judges?—Ans. Quite a number were present; I don't know who all; some young fellows, I won't need to tell all of them.

Ques. 33. How many?—Ans. Perhaps a dozen or more.

Ques. 34. Were they close to the table?—Ans. No, sir, not very close; they were looking on.

Ques. 35. Were they taking an interest in the canvass?—Ans. Yes, sir; some of them were.

Ques. 36. I believe that you testified on the direct examination that you only counted votes for Mr. Frederick.—Ans. Yes, sir; that is all at the time we opened the box.

Ques. 37. Did you examine the tickets that were headed Republican tickets to see whether Mr. Frederick's name was on any of them?—Ans. No, sir, we did not.

Ques. 38. Did you examine the Greenback tickets at that time to see whether Frederick's name was on any of them?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 39. Did you examine the Greenback tickets on the second count to see whether any of Wilson's names were on them?—Ans. No, sir. We merely separated the tickets. Saw that Frederick had ten more cast for him than we credited him for. Then we stopped and went no further.

Ques. 40. On the night of your recanvass did you see any Democratic tickets with Frederick's name erased?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 41. Or any with Wilson's name written instead?—Ans. No, sir; I am pretty sure of that. I am satisfied there were no Democratic tickets, only those that were straight so far as Representative was concerned; that is, no tickets of any party were scratched as to the office of Representative.

I, Eldon Moran, a notary public and commissioner agreed upon by the parties to take testimony in this cause in pursuance of the annexed agreement attached to the testimony of M. M. Corrigan, whose testimony was taken February 22, 1883, do truly certify that on the 23d day of February, A. D. 1883, in pursuance of the notice hereto annexed, I took the deposition of the following-named witness, whose testimony is set forth herein in the following manner: Each witness was first by me duly sworn, or caused to be sworn in my presence, as provided by law; and, when sworn, the questions were propounded to him by the respective parties, Benjamin T. Frederick, contestant, and James Wilson, contestee, by their respective attorneys, and the question by me read to the witness, who answered the same, and his answer, in the language of the witness, was by me taken down under each question propounded, and reduced to writing until the deposition was completed. I further certify that when the testimony of each witness was taken I carefully read the same over to the witness, who corrected the same and each correction noted, and said testimony was then signed by the witness and sworn to by him before me. I further certify that T. Brown, esq., appeared as counsel for the contestant, Benjamin T. Frederick, and W. J. Haddock and J. W. Cone appeared as counsels for James Wilson, contestee.

In witness whereof I have set my hand and seal notarial this 23d day of Feb., A. D. 1883.

A. W. BEUTER, of lawful age, being produced and sworn in due form of law, testifies as follows:

Ques. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—Ans. I live in Big Grove Township; am a farmer; 46 years old.

Ques. 2. Were you one of the trustees for Big Grove Township for the year 1882? Were you one of the judges of the Nov. election, 1882?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 3. When the electors of your township voted for the office of Representative in Congress?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 4. You may state if you were present at the original canvass of the votes of that township for that office.—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 5. You may state if at that time or at any time you re-examined the ballots for that office; if so, state when.—Ans. Well, I got there just as they got there. They had just finished. One of the trustees came to me in the forenoon and said that he wanted the votes counted; wanted we should count the votes over. I told them that I could not come; had just commenced butchering. I went right after dinner. I told them I would be there; then when I got there they had just got through.

Ques. 6. Did you look over the ballots?—Ans. No, sir.

M. M. CORRIGAN, of lawful age, being produced and sworn in due form of law, testifies as follows:

Ques. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—Ans. I am 31 years old; am a farmer by occupation; residence Big Grove Township, Johnson Co., Iowa. Yes, sir.

Ques. 2. Were you one of the judges at the Nov. election A. D. 1882, held in Big Grove Township?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 3. Have you since the returns were made by the board of township canvassers of the Nov. election, 1882, discovered any error that was made in copying the ballots for the office of Representative in Congress for the 5th Congressional district? And, if so, state when you discovered it, and what the error was, and how many votes each candidate received.—Ans. It was on the 18th of Dec. We examined them and found that there was a mistake of two votes on Benjamin T. Frederick and one on James Wilson.

Ques. 4. How many ought Benjamin T. Frederick to have received, and how many ought James Wilson to have received credit for in that vote?—Ans. Benjamin T. Frederick ought to have received 174 votes, and James Wilson 52.

Ques. 5. Who assisted you in making the 2d canvass of the count?—Ans. The judge and both clerks, Mr. Beuter and Mr. Kessler; also two clerks.

Ques. 6. How were the ballots put up and placed in the box at the time of the election?—Ans. You mean while they were voting?

Ques. 7. No, sir; afterwards, at the time of the canvass.—Ans. They were taken out and counted and strung the same as they are on the string.

Ques. 8. At the time you counted on the 18th of Dec. did the ballots appear in any way disturbed or changed from what they were when you concluded your count on the 7th of Nov., 1882?—Ans. No, sir, they did not; they were just the way we had left them.

Cross-examined by Mr. HADDOCK:

Ques. 9. What is your official position now in that township?—Ans. Out of office now; I was township trustee.

Ques. 10. When trustee?—Ans. In the year 1881 and '82.

Ques. 11. What is your politics?—Ans. I am a Democrat as a rule.

Ques. 12. What is the politics of the clerk, De Vault?—Ans. I don't know; I could not say exactly; I guess Democrat.

Ques. 13. What the politics of the assistant clerk?—Ans. Greenbacker.

Ques. 14. What was the politics of the other two trustees?—Ans. I believe they were Democrats; of course I am not positive as to that.

Ques. 15. Is that Greenbacker here to-day?—Ans. No, sir; I have not seen him.

Ques. 16. You have not called on him?—Ans. No, sir; I asked a man who came to subpœna me whether he subpœned him, he said, "No, sir."

Ques. 17. Did not want the Greenbacker?—Ans. I asked because he thought judges and clerk were sufficient; that is the way he dated it. I asked him why he did not.

Ques. 18. Didn't you say anything about the Greenback party?—Ans. No, sir; we did not.

Ques. 19. Were you conscious of making any mistake on the day of election when you counted these votes?—Ans. No, sir; we were not.

Ques. 20. You thought you had them right?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 21. How did you count them?—Ans. They counted them.

Ques. 22. You handled them until you understood the manner of managing it?—Ans. They counted ten at a time, the quickest way possible, for they could not count them straight without counting one at a time.

Ques 23. Did you count them correctly?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 24. Wasn't there some scratching and erasing on the books at the time?—Ans. Possibly by clerks, but not by us.

Ques. 25. You did not write in the books?--Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 26. Only your names to the affidavits?—Ans. Yes, sir; that is all.

Ques. 27. You knew clerks may make erasures in reference to this matter of Congressmen?—Ans. Yes, sir; I knew that scratching had been done, but did not know that scratching was done in one party more than in another. I knew that they had tallied too fast, at least they said so.

Ques. 28. They scratched?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 29. That scratching was to make it correct?—Ans. Yes, sir; to bring it up.

Ques. 30. You believed that it was correct?—Ans. Yes, sir; I supposed so.

Ques. 31. At the time you went back, in Dec. in 1882, you and the other clerks, you found the ballots in the same condition?—Ans. Yes, sir; in the same condition as we left them.

Ques. 32. How did you know that?—Ans. Well, sir, from the way we had left them.

Ques. 33. You know in the same condition?—Ans. I had examined them minutely when I had counted them in the first place.

Ques. 34. Did you put them in the box?—Ans. I saw them put in.

Ques. 35. They were on the string?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 36. Were they on the string when put back?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 37. Could you tell by looking at the string in the ballot whether it had ever been off the string or not?—Ans. No, sir; not to be positive as to that.

Ques. 38. Could you tell whether one ballot had been added to the list or one abstracted or not, looking at the box of ballots?—Ans. No, sir; only by counting them.

Ques. 39. Did they not count the same as they did on the day of election, on the 18th of Dec.? Did they count much the same as on the day of election?—Ans. No, sir; not according to the tally-list.

Ques. 40. If not, could you state of your own knowledge whether a ballot had been taken out and another put in or not?—Ans. No, sir; of course not.

Ques. 41. Who first called your attention to the matter? What first called your attention to this matter?—Ans. I was requested to come.

Ques. 42. Who requested you?—Ans. In the first place I thought that they were all right, that there was no mistake in them.

Ques. 43. Who requested you to think differently?—Ans. There was a man came to me, also to the others, and asked if we would not look the matter over. I told him I did not think that there was any mistakes or that there could be any; I was quite positive as to that. I did not think so till after we had counted the votes.

Ques. 44. Who was that man?

(Mr. Brown objects to the question; immaterial.)

Ans. He was a man by the name of Palmer.

Ques. 45. Where does he live?—Ans. In Solon.

Ques. 46. Did Palmer tell you that there was a mistake?—Ans. No, sir; he only requested that we should examine them.

Ques. 47. What did he say?—Ans. To examine them to see whether there was a mistake.

Ques. 48. What else did he say?—Ans. Nothing.

Ques. 49. What did he say about Frederick wanting a vote or two?—Ans. No, sir; nothing of the kind to me.

Ques. 50. Which way did he say the mistake might be?—Ans. He did not say.

Ques. 51. Which way did he say the mistake was?—Ans. He did not say there was any mistake in the matter before that time. I did not gather anything as to it. I didn't think of a mistake.

Ques. 52. You were hunting for a mistake when you thought there was none?—Ans. Yes.

Ques. 53. For the benefit of Frederick?—Ans. No, sir; not any more than for any other man.

Ques. 54. Did you go to the tally-list to examine as to any mistake for any other candidate except Congressman?—Ans. No, sir; I don't think we did.

Ques. 55. This investigation on behalf of the trustees and two clerks, Greenbacker and all, was in reference to vote for Congressman?—Ans. Yes, sir; I guess it was that part of it.

Ques. 56. Had you heard at that time that there was a very close call between Wilson and Frederick?—Ans. Yes, sir; through the papers.

Ques. 57. Was that Palmer that suggested that you might possibly find a mistake?—Ans. He suggested that may be there was a mistake.

Ques. 58. After this rumor through the papers you went in on it?—Ans. No, sir; not for some time afterwards.

Ques. 59. Was it before or after the rumor reached you that Taylor Township, Marshall County, was in dispute?—Ans. Taylor Township had been in dispute a month before that, to my knowledge.

Ques. 60. It was after that?—Ans. Yes, sir; some time after that.

Ques. 61. What reason have you to believe that you are more accurate upon your second call than upon the first one of the same ballots?—Ans. Because in footing up the account we may have made it out correctly, for the first time I did not examine the books very closely; but when we went to examine them the second time I examined them myself, and saw that they did not come out right.

Ques. 62. Was there anybody with you?—Ans. Yes, sir; there were three men with me; Mr. Gessler——

Ques. 63. Was anybody present at the second examination except three trustees and two clerks?—Ans. Yes, sir; one or two others.

Ques. 64. Give names.—Ans. Mr. Walker was one man; I don't know but two or three others.

Ques. 65. Can you give names of any other but Walker?—Ans. I think Mr. Conlay, marshal of Solon.

Ques. 66. What is Mr. Conlay's politics?—Ans. I could not say.

Ques. 67. Have you any impression about it?—Ans. I don't know; the father is a Democrat—I don't know what the boy is. I have a boy that took a notion for voting Republican tickets.

Ques. 68. What is Palmer's politics?—Ans. Votes the Republican ticket, and catches thunder for it; we just give it to them.

Ques. 69. (WILSON.) That is right?—Ans. Yes, sir; it is.

M. M. CORRIGAN.

STATE OF IOWA,
Johnson County, ss:

Deposition of witness is produced and sworn before me, Eldon Moran, a notary public and commissioner, agreed upon to take testimony, on this 23rd day of Feb., A. D. 1883, in a proceeding pending before the House of Representatives of the United States of America, in a contested election for the office of Representative in Congress, in which proceedings Benjamin T. Frederick is contestant and James Wilson is contestee; Brown & Carney appearing as attorneys for Benjamin T. Frederick, and W. J. Haddock and J. W. Cone appearing as attorneys for James Wilson, contesteee.

JAMES M. DOUGLAS, of lawful age, being produced and sworn in due form of law, testifies as follows:

Ques. 1. You may state your name, age, place of residence, and occupation.—Ans. James M. Douglas; I live in Cedar Township, Johnson County, Iowa; I am a farmer and stock-dealer, and am 38 years old.

Ques. 2. Were you one of the judges of the election at Cedar Township at the Nov. election, 1882, in which the electors voted for the office of Representative in Congress?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 3. You may state if since the return of that election was made you have discovered any error you made in the return to the county auditor of the number of votes cast for the office of Representative in Congress, and if so, what that mistake was, if any?

(Lawyer Cone objects, that the witness does not show that he has any knowledge that the votes canvassed at the recount were the same canvassed at the time of the election.)

Ans. After being called upon to count the votes over again we found a mistake of 10 votes in favor of Frederick.

Ques. 4. You may state if you were present at the canvass of the votes at the Nov. election and assisted in that canvass.—Ans. Yes, sir; I was there.

Ques. 5. Have you discovered by the recanvass to-day that too many votes were counted for the office of Representative in favor of either of the candidates, and if so, which one?—Ans. That too many were counted?

Ques. 6.—Yes, sir.—Ans. No, sir. We found that the votes for Frederick ran the same way that they were the day we made the second count at the clerk's office.

Ques. 7. How many ballots did you find were cast in favor of James Wilson for the office of Representative in Congress by your count to-day.—Ans. Thirty-six, I believe; yes, sir.

Ques. 8. How many did you return as being cast for him at your return of the election to the county auditor?—Ans. We returned—well, there was a mistake of one vote. Either we returned one vote less for him according to our count here to-day—I mean one more for him. We didn't know anything about that until to-day; at least I didn't know about it. It was counted by some of the outsiders.

Ques. 9. Are you satisfied you made a mistake in your original return of votes cast for the office of Representative in Congress of Cedar Township?

(Mr. Cone objects to the question on the ground that it calls for the conclusion of the witness and not for the fact.)

Ans. I could not help being satisfied there was a mistake. After numbering the second count we found 10 votes in favor of Frederick. After numbering the second count, of course, we could not think otherwise than that there had been a mistake. We were satisfied that there was a mistake in our count, or at least that there were 10 more votes in the box than we had counted at the time we counted the votes.

Ques. 10. Do you remember, from your examination of the ballots at the time you counted the votes for the office of Representative in Congress in the November election, 1882, in Cedar Township, whether Frederick's name was scratched off from any of the straight Democratic tickets?—Ans. It was.

Ques. 11. How many straight Democratic votes were there cast at the November election, 1882, according to your recollection—I mean for all officers?

(Mr. Haddock objects to the question, that he is asking for that which only pertains to party interest and has no relation to the issue.)

Ans. There were 63.

Ques. 12. Is it your recollection now that Mr. Frederick's name for the office of Representative in Congress appeared upon all the straight Democratic tickets that were cast at the November election in Cedar Township?

(Mr. Haddock objects to the witness' recollection as being a matter we cannot contravene the record, also as not calling for a question of fact.)

Ans. At the time of the count we counted the votes out the night of the election. I didn't pay particular attention who was scratched, only we separated the main votes as they were. I think this man, Frederick, may have been scratched that night.

Ques. 13. You may not have reported him?—Ans. We might have reported him scratched. I paid no attention, not knowing how many scratches each man got. We were requested to come to count the ballots the second time, and in coming to count them, we found——

Ques. 14. I asked you whether you remembered that Frederick's name was crossed off from any of the straight Democratic tickets at the Nov. election at the time you made the original count?—Ans. I said I didn't know he was scratched.

Ques. 15. You have no recollection of his being scratched?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 16. Did the tickets when you opened the ballot-box the second time have the same appearance as they did when they were strung and placed in the box on the evening of the election?—Ans. Yes, sir. I believe they were all strung; any way, I did not see any new scratches.

Ques. 17. If at the time you had counted the votes at the election in your township the same Frederick's name had been scratched from 10 tickets, would you not be likely now to remember it?

(Mr. Haddock objects to the question as villainously leading.)

Ans. I think I would have recollected it and noticed it if there had been that number scratched.

Ques. 18. What is your recollection now as to the tickets being unscratched for the office of Representative in Congress, both Democratic, Republican, and Greenback?

(Mr. Haddock objects to the question for the reason that it is a repetition of the question asked before, and not right to be gone over so often).

Ques. 19. What is your recollection now of their not being scratched?—Ans. I could not answer that, whether any scratches or not.

Cross-examination by Mr. Cone:

Ques. 20. Who filled out the returns in the poll-books?—Ans. Adams, the clerk.

Ques. 21. Was your attention called that evening to the fact that Mr. Frederick had but 53 votes?—Ans. Well, now I think not any more than at the time they were filling out. I believe I read off as he filled out such and such a man had so many votes. If he had so many of course we supposed it to be correct and did'nt go to work to count up exactly ourselves. Of course the clerks done the adding up; we supposed it at that time to be correct.

Ques. 22. Was your attention called at that time to the fact that the Democratic State candidates, auditor, secretary of the treasury, attorney-general of the State, had 93 votes? Was not your attention called to it that night?—Ans. Well, perhaps.

Ques. 23. Was any mention made that evening of the fact that Benjamin T. Frederick had received 10 votes less than the remainder of his ticket, or that he had run behind his ticket in his township?—Ans. No, sir, I didn't notice any such remark, but think he was mentioned.

Ques. 24. What part did you take in the canvass of the votes?—Ans. Well, I read the tickets, perhaps one-half of them. Mr. Adams took a turn, and then I a turn, and then he a turn.

Ques. 25. What kind of tickets did you read, Democratic, Republican or National?—Ans. Well I think the first tickets I read were Democratic tickets, but I won't be positive.

Ques. 26. Did you canvass all the Democratic tickets before you canvassed the Republican tickets?—Ans. I cannot answer that, whether or not; I cannot say which tickets it was we called first. I don't know about that.

Ques. 27. Did you file any class of tickets before canvassing another class of tickets?—Ans. I believe we did. Yes, sir; all of the Democratic or Republican or Greenback first, then the others, I am pretty sure, but which one we took first I don't remember.

Ques. 28. Did you call all of any single class of tickets?—Ans. Myself?

Ques. 29, Yes, sir?—Ans. Well, I could not answer that whether or not I called until I began to get tired; wanted water or something; then he took my place.

Ques. 30. In what mode did you canvass the vote for Representative in Congress?—Ans. Well, I believe there were secleted out of the box 5 straight tickets by Adams or Maloney; one or the other passed them to the other and then to me; I read until I changed with them or I took place.

Ques. 31. And counted them in five?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 32. Showing Mr. Frederick had received 5 votes?—Ans. Yes, sir; also then called the names of all the ticket.

Ques. 33. Did you say you called at that time all the names that appeared on the Democratic ticket for candidate for Congress? Did you say you did?—Ans. That is what our books say.

Ques. 34. Did you say that you called all the names that appeared on the Republican tickets?—Ans. Yes, sir; that is what we were getting at.

Ques. 35. The same on the Greenback tickets?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 36. When you filed your canvass of the votes did you suppose you were signing a true return of the votes canvassed at that time?—Ans. Yes, sir; I supposed so.

Ques. 37. I would ask you who all were present at the canvass of the votes; the evening before the election, how many were present?—Ans. There were boys in there and some men; 10 or 15 men and boys; I could get the names of some, perhaps a dozen more or less.

Ques. 38. After the opening of the ballot-box in the evening or before the close of the canvass and signing of the returns, was there any adjournment from the room where the ballot-box was opened until you got through?—Ans. No, sir; I think not.

Ques. 39. After the ballots were counted, and before the returns were signed, and the ballots returned to the box and delivered to the clerk, was there any adjournment; I mean after the ballots were all tallied and before your official adjournment, and before the returns were signed; was there any adjournment?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 40. Were all the judges present all the time during the canvass?—Ans. Well, they may have stepped out of the door for a minute, nothing more than one at a time; I think probably two were present all the time.

Ques. 41. Did the judges of the election seal the ballot-box at the close of the election when the ballots were returned to the box?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 42. Was the box locked?—Ans. Yes, sir; I think it was locked after the poll-book was put into the envelope and sealed, and then put into the box and the box locked.

Ques. 43. To whom was the key of the ballot-box given?—Ans. Well, the clerk had the key and locked it, and it remained with him secure.

Ques. 44. What means of knowledge have you in saying that the ballots which you canvassed here to-day were the same ballots which you canvassed on the 13th of Dec.?—Ans. I did'nt say that they were the same.

Ques. 45. Have you any means of knowledge?—Ans. No, sir; I have not.

Ques. 46. Is there any way in which you can identify these ballots as being the same ballots that were cast at the Nov. election?—Ans. No, sir; I have no means of identifying them.

Ques. 48. In case a Republican had been taken from the box and a Greenback substituted, could you, at this date, tell as a matter of fact that such had been done?—Ans. No, sir; not from the appearance of the tickets; I could not.

Ques. 49. Would you say that the error had been made in giving Mr. Wilson one vote too many and Mr. Platner one vote too few, merely because you found a discrepancy to-day from the count made on the 7th of Nov.?—Ans. All I can say is they count out differently now from what they did then, giving one more now counted out than a month after we had the election.

Ques. 50. Had you discovered that there was an error in the vote for Mr. Wilson prior to canvassing the vote to-day?—Ans. No, sir; I had not.

Ques. 51. Had your attention at any time been called to the fact that an error might exist in the vote for Mr. Wilson?—Ans. No, sir; I had never heard it until to-day or known anything of it.

Redirect examination by Mr. Brown:

Ques. 52. You took part in the count to-day, did you?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 53. The count to-day was correct, was it?—Ans. Yes, sir; we counted it correct.

Recross-examination by Mr. Cone:

Ques. 54. You counted the ballots correct to-day, did you; that is, as you found them in the box?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 55. You don't wish to be understood as saying that the count you made to-day is correct or is to be the correct count for the 7th of Nov.?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 56. At the time you made your recount on the 13th of Nov. did you restring the ballots?—Ans. No, sir.

Same question was asked Mr. Adams and Maloney.

No, sir; we did not (both answered).

Ques. 57. (To James M. Douglass.) The clerk had an idea to-day that the ballots were strung.—Ans. Well, when we counted the ballots one of the judges spoke of stringing again. We didn't have a needle to string them with. They proposed to put them in without stringing them.

STATE OF IOWA,
Johnson County, ss:

I, Eldon Moran, a notary public and commissioner agreed upon by the parties to take testimony in this cause, in pursuance of the annexed agreement attached to the testimony of M. M. Corrigan, whose testimony was taken Feb. 22d, 1883, do truly certify that on the 23d day of Feb., A. D. 1883, in pursuance of the notice hereto annexed, I took the deposition of the following named witness whose testimony is set forth herein in the following manner: Each witness was first by me duly sworn, in my presence, as provided by law: and, when sworn, the questions were propounded to him by the respective parties, Benjamin T. Frederick, contestant, and James Wilson, contestee, by their respective attorneys, and the question by me read to the witness, who answered the same, and his answer in the language of the witness was by me taken down under each question propounded, and reduced to writing, until the deposition was completed. I further certify that when the testimony of each witness was taken I carefully read the same over to the witness, who corrected the same, and each correction noted, and said testimony was then signed by the witness and sworn to by him before me. I further certify that T. Brown, esq., appeared as counsel for the contestant, Benjamin T. Frederick, and W. J. Haddock and J. W. Cone appeared as counsels for James Wilson, contestee.

In witness whereof I have set my hand and seal notarial this 23d day of Feb., A. D. 1883.

ELDON MORAN,
Notary Public of Johnson County, Iowa,
and Commissioner agreed upon to take testimony.

STATE OF IOWA,
Johnson County, ss:

Deposition of witness is produced and sworn before me, Eldon Moran, a notary public and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony, on this 22d day of Feb., A. D. 1883, in a proceeding pending before the House of Representatives of the United States of America, in a contested election for the office of Representative in Congress, in which proceeding Benjamin T. Frederick is contestant, and James Wilson is contestee; Brown & Carney appearing as attorneys for Benjamin T. Frederick, and W. J. Haddock and J. W. Cone appearing as attorneys for James Wilson, contestee.

JACOB KESSLER, of lawful age, being produced and sworn in due form of law, testifies as follows:

Ques. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—Ans. Jacob Kessler; Big Grove Township; farmer; 44, will be 45 in May.

Ques. 2. State if you were an officer of that township during the year 1882; if so, what office did you hold?—Ans. Yes, sir; I was trustee; I held that office during that time.

Ques. 3. You refer to Big Grove Township, in Johnson County?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 4. Were you present at the November election, A. D. 1882, where the electors voted for the office of Representative in Congress?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 5. State if you have made the recount of the ballots of that election since you made your official count that was returned to the auditor of this county.—Ans. Yes, sir; we made the recount.

Ques. 6. Did you see the ballots in the box when you made the recount?—Ans. Yes, sir; I seen the ballots in the box.

Ques. 7. How did their appearance in the box compare with the manner in which you left them at the time of the election?—Ans. That I couldn't say, that there was or wasn't, because they looked just the same to me. They looked to me just the same as we had left them.

Ques. 8. You may state if you found that you made any mistake in your official canvass before the estimate of the second count; state also when that second count was made.—Ans. We found a mistake of—well, it had been 2 for Frederick and 1 for Wilson more than we returned.

Ques. 9. Also state when it was.—Ans. I guess it was the same time. I think that it was the 18th; some time after the election.

Ques. 10. It was in December?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 11. By the recount how many votes did James Wilson receive for the office of Representative in Congress, and how many did Benjamin T. Frederick receive?—Ans. Mr. Wilson received 52 votes; that left him 52. Frederick's was 174.

Ques. 12. Was that the same as the recount you made to-day?—Ans. Yes, sir; that is the same as we made to-day. We went over each that day several times. We could not make it any more or any less.

Ques. 13. Did the ballots have the same appearance to-day as they did at the time you made the recount after the election?—Ans. I couldn't see any difference in the ballots.

Mr. Cone:

Ques. 14. Did you say the ballots which you recounted on the 18th of December were the same ballots cast at the November election for Congressman?—Ans. Yes, sir; they looked to me to be just the same. I had no right to dispute it.

Ques. 15. Do you know of your own personal knowledge that they were the same ballots?—Ans. I do not think that they had ever been disturbed, because the men did not know anything about it until we told them of it.

Ques. 16. When were you first requested to make the recount, and by whom?—Ans. That is a few days before we had done this work on Saturday; Friday or Saturday; but I forget.

Ques. 17. Who requested you to make the recount?—Ans. Mr. Palmer.

Ques. 18. What reasons did he assign for wishing a recount of votes?—Ans. The way I understood him it was Fletcher ordered Big Grove Township counted over.

Ques. 19. Who is Fletcher?—Ans. I guess he is deputy sheriff, is he not? I think so.

Ques. 20. How soon after the request to recount these ballots was made did you recount them?—Ans. I think it was the third day afterwards.

Ques. 22. What officer, if any, did so?—Ans. He is a constable, that Mr. Devault; yes, sir.

Ques. 23. Did either of the other judges of the election request you to join them in the recount of the votes at that time—either Mr. Beuter or Mr. Corrigan request you to be present?—Ans. I think that they were all three there together that day when Walker came up. I think Mr. Beuter was; I am pretty sure he was.

Ques. 24. Where was this recount made?—Ans. In Solon, at the mayor's office.

Ques. 25. In whose custody had the ballots been at the time of the election to the time of the recount?—Ans. In Mr. Devault's; he took them with him; there's where we found them.

Ques. 26. Is he the clerk?—Ans. Yes, sir.

WILSON:

Ques. 27. He kept both ballot-box and key?—Ans. Yes, sir; he has a box and also a key.

Ques. 28. Neither of you trustees had it?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 29. Does Mr. Devault live in Solon?—Ans. I should judge 5 or 6 miles northwest of Solon.

Ques. 30. Did he bring the box from his home at the day of the recount?—Ans. Yes, sir, I suppose so; he came with his team.

Ques. 31. Did you take them all off the string?—Ans. Yes, sir; we had them off just the same as we have them off to-day.

Ques. 32. Who were present besides trustees and clerks?—Ans. It was this Mr. Walker; he was part of the time; also this young Conlay was there part of the time; others came in and went out.

Ques. 33. Were you in the room all the time during the recount?—Ans. Yes, sir, I was there until the thing was through.

Witness fee, $2.05.

DENNIS MALONEY, of lawful age, being produced and sworn in due form of law, testifies as follows:

Ques. 1. Give your name, age, residence, and occupation.—Ans. Place of residence, Cedar Township, Johnson County; occupation, farmer, sir.

Ques. 2. Were you one of the trustees of Cedar Township for the year 1882?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 3. Were you one of the judges for the Nov. election, 1882, in which electors voted for the office of Representative in Congress?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 4. State if you assisted in the canvass of the ballots at that time cast at that election.—Ans. Yes, sir, I did.

Ques. 5. State if you afterwards made a recanvass and discovered any mistake in your original canvass; and, if so, what.

(Mr. Haddock objects to the question that he asks for the conclusion of the witness, and not for the facts.)

Ans. We did, sir; making a second canvass, and to the best of my knowledge the trustees came to the conclusion that we had got ten votes cast for Mr. Frederick by mistake. That is the conclusion that we came to.

Ques. 6. You say that you had counted ten votes less for Mr. Frederick than you ought?—Ans. I stated that he got——

Ques. 7. I asked you whether you discovered a mistake that you counted ten votes for Frederick more than he was entitled to.—Ans. We counted ten votes more for him than the tally-book gave him credit for. That is the way I understand it.

Ques. 8. How many ballots were cast at the Nov. election, 1882, for Benjamin T. Frederick for the office of Representative in Congress, as shown by ballot?—Ans. I understand 2,163.

Ques. 9. How many ballots returned as cast for him by the return you made to the county auditor?—Ans. I understand that it was 53—that is, for Mr. Frederick.

Ques. 10. How many ballots were cast for James Wilson at the Nov. election, 1882, for the office in Congress, as shown by the ballot cast?—Ans. To the best of my knowledge it was 36 or 37.

Ques. 11. Well, which will you have it?—Ans. I could not say in fact; I could not swear. To the best of my knowledge it was either of the two—36 or 37 votes.

Ques. 12. Did you assist in recounting the ballots here to-day?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 13. How many were there for Wilson?—Ans. 36, if I understand it.

Ques. 14. You may state, if you remember, whether there were any split tickets in which Frederick's name was erased from the Democratic, at the Nov. election, 1882, when you counted the votes?—Ans. To my knowledge I think there was no split ticket or any scratches on the Democratic ticket for Frederick.

Ques. 15. How many straight Democratic tickets were cast at that election?

(Mr. Haddock objects to the question materially as asking for a conclusion of the count that refers to no particular candidate.)

Ques. 16. How many straight Democratic tickets were cast at that election? You may answer it now.—Ans. That I could hardly say how many.

Ques. 17. Was Frederick's name erased from any straight Democratic tickets?—Ans. Not to my knowledge, sir.

Ques. 18. Did you remember in counting Mr. Frederick's name was erased from any of the tickets that were cast at that election?—Ans. Not to my knowledge I do not.

Ques. 19. By the count to-day did you find—— (Objection: Leading.) By the count to-day how many ballots did you find with Mr. Frederick's name put upon that were straight Democratic tickets?—Ans. By the count to-day we found 63.

Ques. 20. When did you first count after the election the second time?—Ans. Well, I have no date of the day, but some time in the fore part of Dec. last.

Ques. 21. Did you make the paper I now hand you?

(Ex. "A" attached to Mr. James Adams's deposition.)

Ans. I did not sign it; it was the time though.

Ques. 22. What was the date?—Ans. The 13th day of Dec.

Ques. 23. Do the tickets appear to-day as they did then?—Ans. Yes, sir; to the best of my knowledge, they do sir.

Ques. 24. Were you at the time you made the second canvass of the votes, the 13th day of Dec., satisfied that you had made an error in the canvass of votes made on the day of election; and if so, what was that error?

(Mr. Haddock objects to the question because it is leading, asking for a conclusion and not for the facts.)

Ans. To the best of my knowledge, I don't think there was an error; that is, at the election.

(Question read by commissioner.)

Ans. No, sir; I don't think that there was an error on the day of election.

Ques. 25. After you counted the votes again were you satisfied that you had made an error upon making the recanvass?—Ans. Yes, sir; I was.

Ques. 26. When you canvassed the votes the first time on the day of the election, for the Nov. election, 1882, were the ballots strung on a string?—Ans. Yes, sir; I am the man that strung them myself.

Ques. 27. When the ballot-box was opened on the 13th of Dec. were they before making the recanvass; did you find them strung as you had left them?—Yes, sir.

Ques. 28. Did they appear as you had left them ?—Ans. To the best of my knowledge they did.

Cross-examined by Mr. Haddock:

Ques. 29. From the looks of the number of ballots taken out of the box on the string could you state of your own knowledge whether they had been taken out prior to that time, or not, or handled by other persons or not, sir ?—Ans. I could not say, sir.

Ques. 30. Could you state whether the ballots had been disturbed, and others put on, if it had been done carefully?—Ans. No, sir; I could not.

Ques. 31. Well, you mean by saying that they had the general appearance of the string of ballots?—Ans. Yes, sir; I am the man that strung these ballots, put on the knot, and delivered over to the trustees.

Ques. 32. You saw the knot cut off?—Ans. It was a running knot; on the 13th of Dec. I was the very man who took off the running knot.

Ques. 33. Anything peculiar about the running knot to-day?—Ans. Yes, sir; others can make a running knot as well as I can.

Ques. 34. Who asked you to go there on the 13th of Dec. and look over the matter?—Ans. Well, I got a card from a brother that resides in Iowa City.

Ques. 35. What name?—Ans. James Maloney. After I got the card from him I remember I started to Iowa City the second day after getting the card.

Ques. 36. What was James Maloney's business?—Ans. He is an expressman.

Ques. 37. Running in Iowa City ?—Ans. Yes, sir; in Iowa City for the last 25 years.

Ques. 38. As an express or dray ?—Ans. Yes, express wagon.

Ques. 39. What is his politics?—Ans. I guess he don't deny his politics. He is a Democrat, sir, and his brother is not ashamed to tell you of it, sir. In fact, you know now about who gave me information of this mistake. I met my brother. I consulted him as to the time of day. Says I, "I have got a card from you day before yesterday that you wanted me on some particular business." Says he, "I don't want to see you, but Mr. Hershire does."

Ques. 40. Editor of the Democratic newspaper?—Ans. I don't know whether editor or proprietor, but I guess that he is running it. Says he, "You had better go over and see Mr. Hershire." Afterwards in the day he said, "Mr. Maloney, are you aware that there was a mistake of the count as to the election?" Says I, "No, sir; I am not." Says he, "There is. For according to the number of votes polled the returns do not correspond with the number of votes polled in Cedar." He told me to see Douglass or Adams or other trustees; go to work and count the ballots over again. I seen Mr. Douglass before I see Mr. Adams; and Mr. Douglass and I we came to the conclusion that if there was a mistake it was our duty to rectify it. We came to the conclusion that we should go and count those ballots over again. I says to Mr. Douglass, "Being that you and I are Democrats, never flinching from the flag, fear that they might throw dirty water at you and I." I called to his house; Mr. Adams came right along.

Ques. 41. Why did they seem to think that there was a mistake?—Ans. Well, I don't know.

Ques. 42. Were you aware then that the total number of votes cast for other officers was less than 118?—Ans. Yes, sir; there was less for other officers, of course. I don't know anything about the suspicion at all.

Ques. 43. Did you not act on a suspicion?—Ans. We acted on a error as much as anything else.

Ques. 44. Did you not act on a suspicion of error?—Ans. Yes, sir; in the first instance.

Ques. 45. Did you not suppose or believe that there was any error until you had the second count?—Ans. No, sir; not to my knowledge.

Ques. 46. Did you believe that the trustees and clerks had faithfully recorded and counted the vote on the day of election?—Ans. Yes, sir; we thought we had done so.

Ques. 47. Did you know before about it?—Ans. No, sir; not at the time of the election.

Ques. 48. You didn't afterwards until compelled by those Democrats to do this thing?—Ans. No, sir; not until I found out that there was a mistake.

Ques. 49. You didn't find out that there was a mistake until you went to the ballot-box?—Yes, sir; when we went to the ballot-box we found a mistake; also found one to-day.

Ques. 50. Your second count on the 13th of Dec. didn't exhibit the mistake you pretended to find to-day with the exception of one ballot?—Ans. We didn't pay any attention to any office; that is the only one; that was Mr. Frederick. We paid no attention on the 13th of Dec. to any other officer that ran for office except this man Frederick. That is to the best of my knowledge.

Ques. 51. You were only instructed to go and dig for votes for Frederick in that ballot-box?—Ans. I don't understand what dig means.

Ques. 52. It means to hunt for.—Ans. Yes, sir; and found them.

Ques. 53. And dug them out?—Ans. Yes, sir; we dug them out; anyway we came to a knowledge of it.

Ques. 54. Was the count in the first place not made carefully and honestly?—Ans. I could not say anything about that.

Ques. 55. In the first count made on the day of election didn't you make your count and record of the vote carefully and honestly?—Ans. That was our notion that it was done so.

Ques. 56. You did not see anything of the ballot-box from the day of election until the 13th day of Dec.?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 57. Were you aware or had you been informed from the 13th day of Dec. that the ballot-box had been opened?—Ans. No, sir; I knew nothing about its being opened.

Ques. 58. Were you aware that the poll-book and tally-list had been disturbed from the ballot-box and sent to the Iowa City Democratic headquarters, Hershire's office?—Ans. I only can say I heard something to-day of it; I don't know that it has been done.

Ques. 59. Have you heard that there was a close contest between Wilson and Frederick?—Ans. Yes, sir; I heard that it was counted pretty close.

Ques. 60. Had you not been informed that ten votes might save Freedrick if they could be found?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 61. Had you not been informed that ten votes would be a big thing for him?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 62. Did you not get the impression that ten votes would be quite an acquisition?—Ans. Yes, sir; of course; even two votes would be quite an acquisition.

Ques. 63. On the first count of the vote on the day of election who called off the name of Frederick?—Ans. You mean who is the first man that commenced calling off names?

Ques. 64. Yes, sir.—Ans. Mr. James Douglass was the first man that proceeded to call names.

Ques. 65. Did he call carefully?—Ans. To the best of my knowledge he did.

Ques. 66. Who called the names in the afternoon?—Ans. Mr. Adams.

Ques. 67. Did he call them carefully?—Ans. Yes, sir; I think so.

Ques. 68. How did the tally-clerks do? Did they put them down each time?—Ans. I don't know anything about that.

Ques. 69. Did ypu hear them call the talley as they went along?—Ans. Yes, sir; several times.

Ques. 70. Didn't you hear them call tally every five votes?—Ans. Yes, sir; I heard them several times calling tally.

Ques. 71. Do you know of your own knowledge how the tally-list is kept?—Ans. I have an idea of it, sir.

Ques. 72. Explain your idea of it.—Ans. The tally-list—supposing that there are two clerks here, suppose one of the trustees calling out names, so we answer on hearing one, two, three, etc., then when it comes to five they mark them across and call tally.

Ques. 73. Don't they call each time?—Ans. Yes, sir; sometimes one, two, three, etc.

Ques. 74. Don't they do that all the time?—Ans. Not to my knowledge; perhaps for a while they call one, two, three, etc.

Ques. 75. In this canvass of the vote you did not go faster than the clerks could keep up?—Ans. No, sir; I guess we gave them pretty good time.

Ques. 76. No crowd around?—Ans. Yes, sir; there was a crowd around.

Ques. 77. How many were there?—Ans. I did not keep count of the number there.

Ques. 78. Did they interrupt you at all?—Ans. They might have done so.

Ques. 79. How did you count votes?—Ans. We counted five straight tickets at a time, sir.

Ques. 80. Then you called names; that is, for instance, Frederick 5 votes, and so with each other candidate?—Ans. Five straight tickets we commenced on first.

Ques. 81. How many straight Democratic tickets did you have altogether; can you state?—Ans. I could not state how many straight Democratic tickets.

Ques. 82. How many did you have altogether counted to-day?—Ans. We counted to-day 65.

Ques. 83. How many votes altogether were there in the box to-day, Democratic, Republican, and all?—Ans. 128.

Ques. 84. If you found 128 to-day, how do you explain that you didn't count them all before, when you counted carefully and well?—Ans. It is not the duty of us trustees to take our pencil, pen, and ink, and take the number of Greenback tickets, Republican tickets, and number of Democratic tickets; I think that is not our duty; therefore, for my part, I did not pay attention in taking the number of votes down.

Ques. 85. Did you pay attention to-day?—Ans. I think that I did, sir.

Ques. 86. Did you take the number down to-day?—Ans. No, sir; I didn't, unless the name was read. We don't generally do that at the day of election; we take the number of different votes.

Ques. 87. Now, upon the matter of Wilson, you don't know whether he had 36 or 37?—Ans. I am not positive, sir; as I said before, and to the best of my knowledge, he had either 36 or 37.

Ques. 88. Could you tell by looking at the book how many votes he had on the day of election? [Examines the poll-book.] Now, here is Wilson, now count the strokes.—Ans. It is right here, 37.

Ques. 89. You see now, from looking at the book, that Wilson had 37 votes?—Ans. I say to the best of my knowledge he had 36 or 37; I see according to the book he had 37.

DENNIS MALONEY.

STATE OF IOWA,
Johnson County, ss:

Deposition of witness is produced and sworn before me, Eldon Moran, a notary public and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony, on this 22d day of Feb., A. D., 1883, in a proceeding pending before the House of Representatives of the United States of America in a contested election for the office of Representative in Congress, in which proceedings Benjamin T. Frederick is contestant, and James Wilson is contestee; Brown & Carney appearing as attorneys for Benjamin T. Frederick, and W. J. Haddock and J. W. Cone appearing as attorneys for James Wilson, contestee.

ARTHUR MEDOWELL, of lawful age, being produced and sworn in due form of law, testifies as follows:

Ques. 1. You may state your name, age, place of residence, and occupation.—Ans. Arthur Medowell; my place of residence is Iowa City; I am county auditor; my age is 40.

Ques. 2. Are you the custodian of the poll-books made of the Nov. election, A. D. 1882, for the office of Representative in Congress for the 5th Congressional district of Iowa—that is, the poll-books for Johnson County?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 3. How many votes does the poll-books show were returned from Big Grove Township to the board of State canvasser; show many for James Wilson and how many for Benjamin T. Frederick?

(Judge Haddock, on behalf of contestee, objects to the question on the ground that the books are the best evidence.)

Please present the books to the notary for that purpose.

(Witness produces a certain book which purports to be a poll-book of Big Grove Township.)

Ques. 4. Please read the return.—Ans. Shall I give the total or the recapitulation?

Ques 5. You may read the recapitulation.—Ans. At the election held at Solon, Big Grove Township, Johnson County, State of Iowa, on the 7th day of Nov., 1882, there were 243 ballots cast for the office of Representative in Congress for the 5th Congressional district; the number is left out, it is —— district, of which Benjamin T. Frederick had 172 votes, and James Wilson had 51, and David Platner 15. That is all. There was a change made in that, but I don't know anything about it. I am reading it as the board of supervisors counted it; that is all I am reading.

Cross-examination by Mr. JAMES WILSON, contestee:

Ques. 6. Does the book show changes or erasures?—Ans. Yes, sir; it does.

Ques. 7. What is the change in the case of the Wilson vote?—Ans. The change in the Wilson vote—you mean on the recapitulation?

Ques. 8. Yes, sir, that is what I mean.—Ans. It is hard to state, but there has been a change made there.

(Witness examines the book with a magnifying glass. To the best of my knowledge the word six has been changed to the word one. It looks plainer with the glass than with the naked eye.)

Ques. 9. Does the official recapitulation correspond with the tally-list?—Ans. I think not.

Ques. 10. Tell us what the tally-list shows.—Ans. Do you mean total or tally list? What is the total, or what is the tally-list?

Ques. 11. Now tell what it shows in totals, also tally-list.—Ans. As changed it shows 172 votes—51 votes for James Wilson; 51 for David Platner.

Ques. 12. Can you tell what it has been changed from in each case?—Ans. Yes, sir; I can give my opinion; that is all that I can give. In my opinion James Wilson's has been changed from 56 to 51.

Ques. 13. What do you call that?—Ans. A magnifying glass.

Ques. 14. Do you use a magnifying glass to determine?—Ans. Yes, sir; I can't determine satisfactorily with the naked eye.

Ques. 15. Can you tell what the change has been in Frederick's?—Ans. It looks very much as though it originally had been 4, but still it is not so plain as in the case of Wilson's.

Ques. 16. How about Platner's?—Ans. From 17 to 15; it now stands 15 as accepted by the board of supervisors.

Ques. 17. What do you make the change in the tally-list on the Wilson tally?—Ans. As it now stands they have erased it until it stands 51.

Mr. HADDOCK:

Ques. 18. What was it, Arthur, as near as you can estimate?—Ans. Pretty hard to estimate.

Ques. 19. (WILSON.) Give us your opinion about it.—(Examines it with glass.) Ans. There is a change of 4 or 5 votes, I could not tell which; whether any more I could not say.

Mr. HADDOCK:

Ques. 20. Was that change made by blotting or by scratching on the paper?—Ans. In this particular case here that has been done by erasing; that is on the tally-list with some instrument, I don't know what.

Ques. 21. How about on the totals?—Ans. That has also been erased by some instrument or eraser perhaps. The Frederick change has been made by eraser, for they have covered it up with ink. It looks like it was done by blotting, for ink covers up everything else as far as I can determine.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 22 day of Feb., 1883.

Deposition of witness produced and sworn before me, Eldon Moran, a notary public and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony, on this 23d day of Feb., A. D. 1883, in a proceeding pending before the House of Representatives of the United States of America, in a contested election for the office of Representative in Congress, in which proceedings Benjamin T. Frederick is contestant and James Wilson is contestee. Brown & Carney appearing as attorneys for Benjamin T. Frederick, and W. J. Haddock & J. W. Cone appearing as attorneys for James Wilson, contestee.

ARTHUR MEDOWELL, of lawful age, being produced and sworn in due form of law, testifies as follows:

Ques. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—Ans. I am 40 years of age; county auditor; residence, Iowa City.

Ques. 2. Have you the poll-book in your possession of the returns of Cedar Township, Johnson County, to the board of supervisors?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 3. For the Nov. election, 1882, for the office of Representative in Congress?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 4. How many ballots are returned for the office of Representative in Congress for each of the candidates for that office? Give it as it appears on said book.—Ans. James Wilson, 37; Benjamin T. Frederick, 53; David Platner, 28.

Ques. 4. State if such was the vote that was abstracted and forwarded to the board of State canvassers of Iowa?

(Mr. Cone objects that secondary evidence and abstract of the votes forwarded to the auditor and secretary of state would be the best evidence.)

Ans. As canvassed by the board of supervisors, is all I can testify to.

BROWN. If you are not satisfied with the poll-book, we will send and get the other.

Ques. 5. You may state it.—Ans. My opinion is that that was the number so canvassed and returned by the supervisors in this county—returned to the secretary of state.

Ques. 6. Are you the custodian of that record?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 7. Give a transcript of the return of that section of the return of Cedar Township to the clerk to be attached as a report to the secretary of state to each of the candidates.—Ans. Yes, sir; I will do so. (Presents paper Exhibit A.)

I, Eldon Moran, a notary public for Johnson County and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony in this cause, in pursuance of the annexed agreement, attached to the testimony of Jno. L. Adams, whose testimony was taken the 22nd day of Feb., 1883, do truly certify that on the 22nd day of Feb., 1883, in pursuance of the notice hereunto annexed, I took the depositions of the following witnesses: Jno. L. Adams, J. E. Adams, A. W. Benter, M. M. Corrigan, Jas. W. Douglas, Dennis Maloney, Arthur Medowell, whose testimony is set forth in the following manner: Each witness was first by me duly sworn, or caused to be sworn in my presence, as provided by law; and when sworn the questions were propounded to him by the respective parties: Benj. T. Frederick, contestant, and James Wilson, contestee, by their respective att'ys, and the question by me read to the witness, who answered the same, and his answer in the language of the witness by me taken down under each question propounded, and reduced to writing till the deposition was completed.

I further certify that when the testimony of each witness was taken, I carefully read the same over to the witness, who corrected the same, and each correction noted, and said testimony was then signed by the witness and sworn to by him before me.

I further certify that T. Brown & Carney appeared as counsel for the contestant, Benj. T. Frederick; W. J. Haddock and J. W. Cone appeared as counsel for the contestee, James Wilson.

In witness whereof I have set my hand and seal hereunto notarially, this 22nd day of Feb., 1883.

ELDON MORAN,
Notary Public for Johnson County, Iowa,

No. 5.

No. 1.

Deposition of witnesses produced, sworn and examined in pursuance of the annexed notice at Mt. Vernon, in the county of Linn, and State of Iowa, at my office, before me, C. W. Kepler, a notary public in and for Linn County, Iowa, in a certain action now pending in the House of Representatives of the United States, wherein Benjamin T. Fredrick is contestant and James Wilson is contestee, on behalf of contestant.

W. G. POWER, of lawful age, being produced, sworn and examined on the part of the contestee, deposed as follows:

Int. 1. State your name, age, occupation, and place of residence.—Ans. W. G. Power, aged 38 years. Am a merchant, and reside in Mt. Vernon, Iowa.

Int. 2. Were you clerk of the election held in Mt. Vernon precinct, Franklin Township, Linn County, Iowa, held in Nov. 7th, A. D. 1882?—Ans. I was.

Int. 3. State if you have the ballot-box of that election for the precinct named in your possession.—Ans. I have.

Int. 4. State how the ballot-box has been kept since election and where?—Ans. It has been kept locked and setting on a shelf in my state, and in my possession.

Int. 5. State where the key has been kept.—Ans. In my pocket.

Int. 6. Does the ballot-box contain the same ballots that were cast at said election, and were they left strung in the box, or were they left loose?—Ans. It does. They are strung.

Int. 7. You may now, in presence of the notary and judges of election, open the box and count the ballots for Representatives in Congress, and state the number of ballots cast for each candiate for said office at said election.—Ans. The total number of votes cast was two hundred and sixty-five; of which James Wilson received one hundred and forty-five (145); Ben. T. Frederick, forty-three (43); and David Platner, seventy-six (76), and Ben. Frederick, one (1).

Int. 8. State who assisted you in making this count, and if you are satisfied the count you make this day is correct.—Ans. S. J. W. Carley, George Johns, two of the judges of said election, and M. K. Neff, the other clerk. I am satisfied the count made this day is correct.

Int. 9. Has the ballot-box been opened before to-day since you closed the same after canvassing the vote the 7th of Nov., A. D. 1882; and if so, when, and in whose presence?—Ans. It has not been opened.

Int. 10. You may now give the duplicate poll-book of said election to the notary, so he can copy the return made by the judges and clerks of said election to the board of county canvassers for the office of Representative in Congress.

(Clerk reads from said duplicate poll-book as follows:)

"There were two hundred and sixty-four ballots cast for the office of Representative in Congress, 5th Dist., for which James Wilson had one hundred and forty-six votes, B. T. Frederick had forty-two votes, and David Platner had seventy-five votes. The tally sheet shows Ben. T. Frederick had forty-three votes, David Platner had seventy-five votes, and James Wilson had one hundred and forty-six votes. And the return made to the county board of canvassers shows same as tally-list.

"I certify that I have carefully examined the poll-book and tally-list, and find that the answers made by the clerk in relation to the returns made to the county board of canvassers are correct and true.

"C. W. KEPLER,
"Notary Public."

Int. 11. What are the errors you find by the recount of ballots to-day in the return made as shown by the poll-book; and are you satisfied you did make an error or errors in the return and counting of the votes at said November election as a member of the board of canvassers for the office aforesaid?—Ans. There were one too many votes counted for James Wilson, and one too little for both Frederick and Platner. I am satisfied that error was made in the return of the election.

W. G. POWER.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence by the said W. G. Power this 26th day of February, A. D. 1883.

[SEAL.]

C. W. KEPLER,
Notary Public in and for Linn County, Iowa.

S. J. W. CARLEY, of lawful age, being produced, sworn, and examined on the part of the contestant, deposed as follows:

Int. 1. State your name, age, occupation, and place of residence.—Ans. My name is S. J. W. Carley; age, 55; occupation, a merchant; and reside in Mt. Vernon, Iowa.

Int. 2. Were you one of the judges of election held at Mt. Vernon, Iowa, Nov. 7th, 1882, at which election the electors voted for member of Congress 5th district of Iowa?—Ans. I was.

Int. 3. State whether you have, since you made a return of the canvass of said ballots of said election, again made a count of the ballots cast at said election, and whether you found there was any error in said return made for the office of Representative in Congress; and, if so, what the error is, and how many votes each candidate as a matter of fact received for said office.—Ans. I assisted in the recanvass of the ballots for said office. I did not count the votes.

Int. 4. State if the appearance of the ballots found in the box to-day is in accordance with their condition in which they were left at the election after the canvass of the votes, and state if you left them strung and fastened at the time of the election canvass, and how they were strung to-day when the box was opened.—Ans. To all appearances in the same condition as when placed in the box after election; they were strung on a cord, the bottom end of the cord was fastened with a knot, the other end was looped around a piece of paper.

S. J. W. CARLEY.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, C. W. Kepler, a notary public in and for Linn County, Iowa, by the said S. J. W. Carley this 26th day of February, A. D. 1883.

[SEAL.] C. W. KEPLER,
Notary Public.

STATE OF IOWA,
Linn County, ss:

I, C. W. Kepler, a notary public in and for Linn County, Iowa, do hereby certify that in pursuance of the annexed notice I caused to come before me at my office in Mt. Vernon, Linn County, Iowa, on the 26th day of February, A. D. 1883, between the hours of nine and eleven o'clock of the same day, in the forenoon, E. Dudley, W. G. Power, M. K. Neff, S. J. W. Carley, and George Johns, witnesses named in said notice hereto annexed. W. G. Power and S. J. W. Carley were then by me duly sworn and examined, and their examinations reduced to writing, and after being by me read over to said witnesses the same were subscribed and sworn to by them, respectively, in my presence, and their said depositions are now herewith returned. And I further certify that Mr. Brown, of the firm of Brown & Carney, attorneys, was present and conducted the examination on behalf of the contestant, and M. P. Mills, esq., of the firm of Mills & Keeler, was present on behalf of the contestee, but did not see proper to cross-examine.

STATE OF IOWA,
Linn County, ss:

Deposition of witnesses produced and sworn before me, Eldon Moran, notary public and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony, and duly sworn by Eldon Moran, notary public for Johnson County, by agreement of contestee, on this 1st day of March, 1883, in the town of Viola, Linn County, in a proceeding pending before the House of Representatives of the United States of America, in a contested election for the office of Representative in Congress, in which proceeding Benj. T. Frederick is contestant and James Wilson contestee; Brown & Carney appearing on the part of contestant and M. P. Mills on part of contestee.

STATE OF IOWA,
Linn County, ss.

STEVEN C. BAILEY, being produced and sworn by Eldon Moran, a notary public of Johnson County, by agreement of contestee, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on part of contestant, and M. P. Mills on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, place of residence, age, and occupation?—A. My name is Stephen C. Bailey; I live in Viola, Brown Township, Linn County, Iowa.

Q. 2. Are you acquainted with Michael Donnahue?—A. Yes, sir; personally.

Q. 3. Do you know when he moved into Linn County?—A. No, sir; not exactly.

Q. 4. Well, state as nearly as you can.—A. Well, some time in Oct.; about the 3rd day, I think; my boy hauled lumber down to him, where he built a house to move into.

Q. 5. Did he live in the county before that?—A. They say not.

Q. 6. Do you know whether he did or not?—A. Well, I don't know exactly; they say that he did not, but lived in Jones County.

Q. 7. That was the 3rd of Oct.?—A. Yes, sir; or a little before.

Q. 8. How long before he built the house was the lumber hauled?—A. A short time before that.

Q. 9. Were you present at the Nov. election, '82?—A. Yes, sir, I was there most of the time.

Q. 10. Did you know whether Michael Donnahue voted or not?—A. I was not there at the time.

Q. 11. Did you say that Mr. Donnahue stated where he had been living; did he live here?—A. Yes, sir; he said he was living in some house over there—well, it was in Jones County, anyway.

Q. 12. Well, whereabouts was it that he said that he had lived; in whose house; where it was?—A. I don't know whose house it was.

Cross-examination;

Q. 13. Mr. Bailey, then all you know about this is simply that on or before the 3rd of Oct. you drew some lumber to build a house?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 14. The balance of what you testify is what you have heard other folks say?—A. Yes, sir; I don't know whether he voted or not.

Q. 15. Simply where he lived when he came here; that is all; just what you heard other folks say?—A. Yes, sir, I heard them say that he lived in Jones County.

Q. 16. Now, Mr. Bailey, don't you know as a matter of fact that he has worked here some time?—A. No, sir, I don't know whether he has or not.

Q. 17. You did not know that?—A. No, sir, I don't know for whom he worked.

Q. 18. I did not ask you for whom he worked. Don't you know as a matter of fact that he has worked in Linn County; been working here for some one quite a while?—A. I don't know.

Q. 19. Don't you know that he lived here in the town of Viola a short time ago?—A. Yes, sir; he used to live here; that has been some time ago.

Redirect-examination:

Q. 20. How long was it that he lived here before Oct. ?—A. I cannot tell you.

Q. 21. How long was it that he lived here?—A. That I do not know.

Q. 22. Was it several years?—A. He used to live out here in John Haddin's house, didn't he?

Q. 23. Never mind about that; was it a month or a year ago?—A. Probably a year ago; I don't know.

Q. 24. Was it more than a year ago that he moved out of this county?—A. I should think that it was; I don't know.

Recross-examination:

Q. 25. Now, on this length of time you are guessing, are you not—have no data or means of knowledge?—A. No, sir; not when he lived here.

STEPHEN C. BAILEY.

STATE OF IOWA,

M. J. DONNAHUE, being produced and sworn before me, Eldon Moran, a notary public and commissioner, agreed upon to take testimony, sworn by consent of contestee and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, M. P. Mills on part of contestee):

Q. 1. State your name, age, place of residence, and occupation.—Ans. M. J. Donnahue; age, 39; reside in Linn County; am a stonemason.

Q. 2. Where do you reside?—A. Linn County, Iowa.

Q. 3. What township?—A. The same township that Viola is in—Brown.

Q. 4. Have you a family?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. When did your family move into Brown Township?—A. To the best of my knowledge somewhere in the latter part of Aug.

Q. 6. What house did you move into?—A. A new house.

Q. 7. The one you built down here?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 8. Of whom did you buy your lumber?—A. Of Mr. Bailey.

Q. 9. Was it at the time you bought your lumber that you moved into it—afterwards, was it?—A. I think it was along about that time; I am not positively sure.

Q. 10. At least you did not buy lumber until the 3d of Oct. Did you move into it then?—A. Yes, sir; I agreed with Mr. Bailey for my lumber a month before time.

Q. 11. Where did you live at that time?—A. On the line between Jones and Linn counties.

Q. 12. In what county was it?—A. I was kind of under the impression other folks said I lived in Jones County five or six feet.

Q. 13. How long did you live there?—A. Five or six months.

Q. 14. With your family?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 15. Which was it, five or six months?—A. Well, all of six, anyway.

Q. 16. What were you doing there?—A. Quarrying.

Q. 17. Working there?—A. In Mr. Jones's quarry the greater part of the time.

Q. 18. Who drew lumber for your house?—A. Mr. Bailey, that is Mr. Bailey's business.

Q. 19. Then you did not buy your lumber until Oct.? You did not move into this county until Oct., did you?—A. Well, sir, it was like this. I am not quite certain about the time I moved into the house. I moved out of the old house I was living in, and moved into the new house when I had built it.

Q. 20. When you had the new house built you moved into it?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 21. Did you vote at the Nov. election?—A. Yes, sir; at Viola.

Q. 22. For whom did you vote as Rep. in Congress?—A. Mr. Wilson.

Cross-examination:

Q. 23. How long have you lived in the county of Linn altogether?—A. Altogether?

Q. 24. Yes, sir.—A. Some eight years.

Q. 25. Did you previously live in the township—Brown Township?—A. Did I live down there?

Q. 26. Yes, sir.—A. Yes, sir, I lived right in this city.

Q. 27. Now, how came you to live there and to quit your other place of business there?—A. It was too far for me to walk; I could get no house; it was in the little house of Webb's. I was compelled to work for a couple of months for the house. I had no place to go when I lived in his house until I got this new house built in the summer, in July.

Q. 28. Did you make any arrangement for the purchase of a piece of land in this county?—A. My intention was to get in there as quick as I could. I could not very well get the place I wanted; it took me some months to get around.

Q. 29. How long had you been working in Linn County here since you worked over the line?—A. I worked there in the summer—in July.

Q. 30. Did you vote in Jones County?—A. No, sir; I never voted in Jones County.

Q. 31. When you purchased this land in July you were working in this county, were you?—A. Yes, sir, I was.

Q. 32. The only reason your family was not there is because you had no house for them to live in, was it?—A. Yes, sir; that is the reason.

Q. 33. Now state as to your residence, say what your intention was, where you intended to reside, which place you intended to be your home, this county or Jones?—A. In Linn County; I would have been living here four months sooner if I could possibly have gotten around.

Q. 34. You never went to Jones County with the intention of residing there?—A. No, sir; not at all. This place I am living on now I have been after for a long time.

Q. 35. You simply moved your family over there so as to get a house near your work?—A. Yes, sir; that is exactly it.

Redirect examination:

Q. 36. How long did you intend to stay in Jones County when you went there?—A. I intended to stay there only until I could get a place.

Q. 37. You did not know how long you would stay?—A. No, sir; I wanted to get back as soon as possible.

Q. 38. In what month did you move there; before last spring or last fall? Was it some time before winter set in, some time before last winter?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 39. Then some time before last fall, in 1881?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 40. Your family lived there until you moved into Linn County? Some time in October you boarded with your family?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. My name is George Felton; I reside in Viola, Iowa; and my occupation is that of agent for the C. M. & St. Paul R. R. Co.

Q. 2. Did you vote at the Nov. election, '82, for Rep. in Congress, and, if so, for whom did you vote?—A. I voted for James Wilson.

Q. 3. What time of the day did you vote?—A. I cannot say exactly, but it was after eight o'clock.

Q. 4. About how long was it?—A. It must have been 8.15 or 8.20 when I voted.

Q. 5. How long have you lived in this county?—A. Since the 1st of Dec., '81, when I came to this town.

Q. 6. I mean in this county?—A. One year and three months to a day.

Q. 7. Now answer this question: how long have you lived in this State?—A. 22 years.

MAT BINGHAM being produced and sworn by Eldon Moran, a notary public for Johnson County, by agreement on part of contestee, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, M. P. Mills on part of contestee).

Q. 1. Your name, age, place of residence, and occupation.—A. Mat Bingham; reside in Viola, Linn County, Iowa; am a blacksmith.

Q. 2. Are you acquainted with Michael Donnahue?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 3. The one who just testified here?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 4. Do you know when he moved into Linn County?—A. Well, no; not exactly.
Q. 5. Well, as to date; what month?—A. Well, it was in Oct., I think.
Q. 6. Did he live in Jones County until he moved into his new house; how often did you go by his house?—A. I went by his house every night for two or three months.
Q. 7. Do you know where he formerly resided?—A. Yes, sir; in Jones County.
Q. 8. Whereabouts?—A. Near Webb's Ferry; close to it.
Q. 9. How long did he reside there?—A. Well, I don't know; it was several months; 5 or 8 months, probably; very nearly a year.
Q. 10. The fall before he moved there?—A. Yes, sir; or spring; I don't know which.
Q. 11. You may state if you are positive that he did not move over there till Oct.—A. I don't think that he did. I am not positive about that; don't think he moved until Oct.
Q. 12. Did you know that he was not in this county to live until the middle of Sept.?—A. I don't think he lived in this county in Sept.
Q. 13. Will you positively fix the time that he did move here until after the middle of Sept.?—A. I think that he did. I know something about that. I went across the line to live. I live in Jones County, and I moved up here.
Q. 15. What time?—A. I moved here in Aug.
Q. 16. Was it a month or two after that that he moved?—A. Yes, sir.

Cross-examination:

Q. 17. Do you know where the line between Jones and Linn is?—A. Yes, sir; close to it or very near it.
Q. 18. Are you able to state positively here that the house that he lived in was in Jones County?—A. I think that it was.
Q. 19. You think so?—A. Yes, sir. It is not far from the line.
Q. 20. Your impression is that it is not in Jones County?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. At what time did you have your attention called to this matter?—A. I saw the place every day—I know where he lived, I knew all the time where he lived; went right by his house, right in sight of it when he built his new house; it was right on the railroad; I could not help but see it; it was the only house on the road, and the second house on the road between here and Stone City.
Q. 22. How often did you go to Stone City?—A. Every day.
Q. 23. You still reside here?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 24. Where was Donnahue working at this time?—A. He worked for Webb part of the time and part for James Roman.
Q. 25. How long did he work for Roman?—A. I don't know.
Q. 26. You have been exact about all of this; make a guess at that.—A. I don't know where he worked, I know where he lived.
Q. 27. You saw him every day?—A. No, sir; I did not see him every day.
Q. 28. To your certain knowledge, how long has he been working over in Linn County?—A. I cannot swear that he worked in Linn County at all.
Q. 29. Did you ever live in Linn County?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 30. Do you know whether he always called Linn County his home or not?—A. No, sir; I do not know that.

JOHN WORRALL being produced and sworn by Eldon Moran, a notary public for Johnson County, by agreement on part of contestee, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on part of contestant and M. P. Mills on part of contestee):

Q. 1. Your name, age, residence, and occupation?—A. John Worrall; age 60 years; live in Viola; I do nothing but practice law a little and act as notary public.
Q. 2. Were you one of the board of trustees of election at the Nov. election '82?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 3. What time did you announce for the closing of the polls?—A. 8 o'clock.
Q. 4. Did you receive any votes after the polls were closed?—A. I believe so.
Q. 5. Whose vote?—A. Mr. Felton's.
Q. 6. What time did he vote?—A. Well, sir, it was after the polls had closed; I don't know how long.
Q. 7. 20 or 30 minutes?—A. It was my impression it was not more than ten or twenty minutes afterwards.

Cross-examination:

Q. 8. Who announced the closing of the polls?—A. Mr. Henry H. Gilliland.

Q. 9. What was that announcement?—A. You mean when the polls were closed?
Q. 10. Yes, sir; give us the phraseology of it.—A. Well, it was late at night at the house there. I think Mr. Gilliland sat in his chair.
Q. 11. What announcment did he make?—A. He said the polls were now closed.
Q. 12. What time was that?—A. I think it was a little after 8 o'clock.
Q. 13. Well, then, did you say that Mr. Felton voted after that?—A. Yes, sir; I think so.
Q. 14. Are you positive about that?—A. Well about as positive as it is necessary to be; yes, sir.
Q. 15. That announcement was public, was it?—A. That announcement was made in the house.
Q. 16. There wasn't anybody knew of it?—A. The announcement was made by him in the house.
Q. 17. Nobody else voted after that?—A. No, sir; I think not.
Q. 18. Did you hear the announcement?—A. I was supposed to, of course; that is what I have said.
Q. 19. Who directed him to make the announcement?—A. I cannot tell for certain—it was the trustees; they were mostly kind of old fellows; they can't talk so very well; they requested the clerk to do it, and he did it.
Q. 20. So this is the announcement that Mr. Gilliland made, that the notice was given to the electors present that in 15 minutes the polls would be closed?—A. I think that was done before.
Q. 21. Was that the only announcement made?—A. No, sir; I think he said the polls are now closed.
Q. 29. Then when the 15 minutes were closed who told him to make the announcement?—Ans. I cannot say.
Q. 30. Now, I want to ask you whether you have a distinct recollection that the announcement was made?—A. That is my impression; I have not a very distinct recollection of this case; I was not watching the polls.

Deposition of witnesses produced and sworn before me, Eldon Moran, notary public and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony, and duly sworn by Eldon Moran, notary public for Johnson County, by agreement of contestee, on this 1st day of March, 1883, in the town of Cedar Rapids, in a proceeding pending before the House of Representatives of the United States of America in a contested election for the office of Representative in Congress, in which proceeding Benj. T. Frederick is contestant and James Wilson contestee; Brown and Carney appearing on the part of contestant, M. P. Mills on part of contestee.

STATE OF IOWA,
Linn County, ss:

IRVING P. BOWDISH, being produced and sworn by Eldon Moran, notary public for Johnson County, by agreement of contestee, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, M. P. Mills on the part of contestee):
Q. 1. What is your age, name, residence, and occupation?—A. Irving P. Bowish; live in Marion Township, this county; I claim to be a farmer, though I also buy grain and sell coal in this city.
Q. 2. Were you present at the Nov. election, '82, held in Marion Township, Linn County, Iowa, at which election votes were taken for Rep. in Congress for the 5th dist.?—A. There are two precincts in that township; Waubeck precinct is the one I was at.
Q. 3. Did you know a man there that voted by the name of Foreman?—A. Yes, sir; two Foremans, John and Joseph; I know them both.
Q. 4. What is the mental capacity of these men?—A. One knows but very little, and the other does not know much of anything.
Q. 5. Which one is the person of some intelligence?—A. John.
Q. 6. Did you see him vote?—A. I did not.
Q. 7. Did you see their names on the poll-list?—A. I did not, not to notice them; I saw the poll-list in looking over, counting, and comparing the ballots; I could not swear their names were on the poll-list.
Q. 8. Did you see them at the election?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 9. Do you know how they voted—what ticket?—A. I did not, but I could tell you what I know, if you wish, as far as I know.
Q. 10. Tell what you know of the manner in which they voted.—A. I was peddling tickets that day—Democratic tickets. I stepped up to these two gentlemen and started to hand them a ticket; a gentleman told me that they voted the Republican ticket—did not want my tickets.

Q. 11. Who was he?—A. I think Dr. Woodbridge, I think that he was the man; I could not swear positively.

(Mr. Mills objects to the question as not being necessary.)

Q. 12. Was this language used in the presence of these men?—A. Yes, sir; he said that he had just supplied these men with tickets; he said they had the Republican tickets and did not want mine. I could not swear positively that he was the man, but he was seen to give a number. We were both peddling tickets, he on one side and I on the other.

Q. 13. What is the Dr.'s first name?—A. Ward.

Now, what is the mental capacity of these men? State whether they are idiots or not.—A. One of them works on the farm at home and he sells what produce there is. I should not consider him a man capable of doing it, though he did do it. He don't know the price of anything, what it is worth, or what it should bring. He has to trust to the buyer to give him what it is worth. I have tried that several times. I have seen him selling his stuff for much less than it is worth. The other one just works when some one sets him at it and shows him how. I don't think that he knows enough to do any kind of business—that is Joseph.

Q. 15. Can Joseph Foreman read or write?—A. I cannot say. I think not. I don't know so as to swear to it.

Q. 16. Is he capable of carrying on or doing any kind of business?—A. Yes, sir; in my judgment he is capable of doing it.

Q. 17. Is he competent to buy and dispose of property or handling it? Did you say capable or incapable?—A. Incapable.

Q. 18. Is he capable of buying or disposing of property or handling it?—A. In my judgment he is not.

Q. 19. Suppose he had an estate, has he sufficient capacity to look after matters himself; to consider the elements of the estate and the nature of those who ought to be recipients of his bounty? In case he was desirous of disposing of it by will, has he that sufficient capacity to form any rational conclusions in the disposition of such matters?—A. No, sir; he has not.

Cross-examination:

Q. 20. You say you were peddling tickets that day, Mr. Bowdish?—A. Yes, sir; I had some tickets I was giving out.

Q. 21. Democratic tickets?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 22. You belong, I believe, to that party?—A. I voted that ticket; yes, sir.

Q. 23. This idiot here you have been testifying about, he was there at the election?—A. Yes; sir.

Q. 24. And you were trying to get him to vote that ticket?—A. I asked him if he would take my ticket; he did not reply; he said nothing.

Q. 25. Now, because he refused to take your ticket and vote it, did that have any weight with you in making up your mind to come to the determination that he was foolish?—A. No, sir; business transactions did that.

Q. 26. I believe you say you don't know anything about what ticket he voted?—A. Yes, sir; I don't that.

Q. 27. You have been testifying here as to his mental capacity; what experience have you had in judging of man's mental capacity?—A. I have known him as a boy in the neighborhood.

Q. 28. Now, I mean as an expert; I want to know, of such persons in general, how much experience have you had in judging such things?—A. Well, sir, the experience of trading since 1858 with men of all kinds and descriptions.

Q. 29. Have you met many such persons in your business transactions?—A. I don't think I ever met or did business with a man who had as little intelligence as he has?

Q. 30. You have made some trades with him, have you?—A. No, sir; I tried to get him to cut some wood for me once, and he did not know anything about it; he wanted me to ask his brother John.

Q. 31. He worked, did he?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 32. Could chop?—A. Never saw him chop; saw him shoveling dirt.

Q. 33. He wanted you to ask his brother John as to what the work was worth?—A. I asked him to chop some wood; he said I would have to ask his brother John.

Q. 34. You did not know whether his time belonged to John or not?—A. No, sir.

Q. 35. Now has not your opinion of that man been formed simply from the fact that as a friend and neighbor acquaintance of yours he refused to vote your ticket; as a matter of fact is not that true?—A. No, sir; nothing of the kind; I did not urge the matter at all.

Q. 36. You hunted up this matter for Mr. Frederick?—A. No, sir; I did not know anything about it till this morning.

Q. 37. How long was this party at the polls?—A. That I can't tell you. I saw him a moment there; I don't know how long; I did not pay very much attention to it. I don't know how much longer he staid. I don't know when he went away. The two brothers came in and sat upon a work-bench; as soon as I got there I stepped up to them.

Q. 38. He and his brother came together?—A. Yes, sir; I suppose they did; they both sat upon the bench.

Q. 39. Did you ever know them to vote before?—A. I don't know whether they ever did or not. This was the first time I had peddled tickets and been at the polls during the day for some time.

Q. 40. That was the first time you had peddled tickets there?—A. No, sir; this was the first time in that precinct; we have divided up a little.

Q. 41. You don't know whether he had been there voting or not?—A. No, sir; I cannot say.

Q. 42. How long have you known him?—A. I don't know about that; somewhere in the neighborhood of ten or twelve years. I have known his father that long

Q. 43. How old a man is he?—A. 23 or 22 of age; I don't know exactly; should judge he is about that old.

Q. 44. How often in the past year have you seen him?—Several times; I don't know exactly; every little while I would see him in town. I saw him working for a neighbor of mine.

Q. 45. What kind of work?—A. Ditching.

Q. 46. Laying tile?—A. No, sir; just ditching to run water off.

Q. 47. Anybody working there with him?—A. Yes, sir; colored men.

Q. 48. Did the colored men appear to have charge of him?—A. Did not appear to me that anybody had charge of anything, from the looks of the thing.

Q. 49. They were striking out on their own hook?—A. Yes, sir; shoveling away in the mud.

Q. 50. Those two brothers are poor men?—A. Yes, sir; their mother has a farm.

Q. 51. They are poor men?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 52. I understand you to say they had to depend upon the produce of their—— —A. Their mother receives a bounty of $1,600 or $1,600. I was going to state that——

Q. 53. I don't care anything about that. I want to know this: when they sold produce of any kind, they had to depend on the judgment of the buyer how much the thing was actually worth?—A. Yes, sir; John, especially. I never saw Joseph make a trade of any kind. I bought hogs of John.

Q. 54. You say John is poor?

Q. 55. What official position have you ever held?—A. Only one—representative of this county. I am holding that now.

Q. 56. Are all the children of that family weak-minded?—A. That I could not tell you, sir; I know only these two. I have seen them, but I do not know. These two are the only ones I have ever talked with.

Q. 57. How much capacity has John?—A. Well, it is limited.

Q. 58. He has some capacity for doing business?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 59. You think he is capable and does attend to such business as farming?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 60. This other man does not?—A. No, sir; I never saw him do it.

Q. 61. Difficult of instruction?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 62. He would not be capable without help of taking care of himself at all?—A. No, sir; I don't think he would be, if depending on his own ability to do it.

Recross-examination:

Q. 63. Then, from what you know of this man you simply think that he is a feeble-minded person; is that the idea?—A. Yes, sir; that is the idea; I think that he has not much of any mind at all.

Q. 64. He would not even make a good Democrat?—A. I represented him last fall.

Redirect-examination:

Q. 65. This is Joseph; how about the other?—A. He does a little business.

Q. 66. What do you mean by that; do you mean that the other one is incapable of doing business?—A. Yes, sir; incapable of doing business.

Redirect cross-examination:

Q. 67. You don't mean to say that he absolutely don't know anything; don't know how to labor, how to eat, how to dress himself?—A. Yes, sir; he feeds himself, but it is only when you show him how. He will sit down, break sticks, and mutter to himself.

Q. 68. I have seen lots of smart men do that. Can he talk rationally on any subject?—A. No, sir; not to be understood unless you are acquainted with him.

IRVING P. BOWDISH.

STATE OF IOWA,
Linn County, ss:

H. O. BISHOP being produced and sworn by Eldon Moran, a notary public for Johnson County, by agreement on part of constestee, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant; M. P. Mills on part of contestee):

Q. 1. Your name, age, place of residence, and occupation.—A. H. O. Bishop; am nearly 43; reside in Waubeck; am a farmer.

Q. 2. You were one of the officers at the Nov. election, '82, at Waubeck precinct, Marion Township, Linn County, Iowa?—A. I was one of the clerks of election.

Q. 2 (a). Do you know whether Joseph Forman voted at that election?—A. Yes, sir; I do.

(Mr. Miller objects to the question, with the understanding that the witness is incompetent.)

Q. 3. State with whom he came to the polls to vote.—A. I don't think I can do it. I did not take notice enough. Voters came in with a rush sometimes; I attended strictly to my business as clerk.

Q. 4. Simply know that he voted?—A. Yes, sir; I simply know that he voted; as to how, I know nothing.

Q. 5. What is the capacity of this man; is he capable of doing ordinary business?—A. His capacity is very limited and he has always had that reputation in the neighborhood. When questioned by any one—he knows enough to go and come, that is all.

Q. 5 (a). The common reputation of an idiot?—A. Hardly that; he has the reputation of a fool in the community; we don't exactly call him an idiot; he has the reputation of a fool. Artemus Ward puts an adjective to it that I don't like to repeat; but that is his reputation.

Q. 6. Has this man Joseph Forman any capacity of taking hold and doing any ordinary business for himself?—A. I cannot conceive of any business that he would have a capacity to perform.

Q. 7. Has he capacity enough to understand the political condition of the country, or to form any rational idea of its politics?—A. No, sir; not at all; don't think his friends would claim it.

Q. 8. Can he carry on any ordinary conversation with his neighbors so as to be understood?—A. Well, to be frank about it, I have conversed with him several times, and could never understand a word that he says; his own people understand him; I can't understand a word that he says. He has lived within a mile of me for ten years and I cannot make out anything; it is gibberish, I suppose.

Q. 9. Do you know the whole family?—A. Yes, sir; I think I do. I know the mother and these two boys; also another that is away from home; there are four of them.

Q. 10. What is the capacity of all these children?—A. Well, this one, John, his mental caliber is a little larger; he transacts ordinary business in an awkward way, like some farmers who do business in a very unsuccessful way. Another boy, 12 years old, is an acknowledged fool by every one. He was away last winter; went to Central, Jones County; could give no account as to where he belonged. They recovered him at the poor-house in Jones County.

Q. 11. What effort did the family make to find this one that had strayed away?—A. Well, John went to assist in finding him. I could not testify as to the rest of it. John knew enough to hunt for him, but did not go a great ways—that is, this family and friends pursued him until they found him. There is also another boy, perhaps 14 years old; I forgot to mention him.

Q. 12. No matter about him. Both of these men, John and Joseph, are weak-minded men, and exceedingly so?—A. Well, I won't say in regard to John being weak-minded; he has nowheres near the average intelligence; but Joseph is very low down—nothing to compare with him in all my knowledge anywhere.

Cross-examination:

Q. 13. How long have you known Joseph?—A. Well, I don't know exactly; I should judge about ten years.

Q. 14. Your name is Bishop?—A. Yes, sir.

Redirect examination:

Q. 15. Do you think his brother John would understand the political condition of the country, or would have any preference for either party as to which one he ought to vote for? Look at the ticket and form any rational conclusion as to the matter.—A. I should hardly think so.

Cross-examination continued:

Q. 16. This is the gentleman of whom you first spoke?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 17. Now, Mr. Bishop, you are a Democrat?—A. Well, I dare not hardly say; I was at the last Democratic election, but I am now a Prohibitionist.

Q. 18. That was at the election before.—A. I was a Prohibitionist on the 27th of June.

Q. 19. What election before that?—A. I voted Democratic; I admit that.

Q. 20. We then understand that you were wavering between Democracy and Prohibition?—A. I am wavering between something and Prohibition.

Q. 21. Now, being a life-long Democrat, until you forsook the party and joined the Prohibitionists, in your opinion, has not Joseph the ordinary intelligence of the Republican voters in that precinct?—A. Their grade of intelligence averages probably with that of most communities. I don't say his intelligence does.

Q. 22. That is not the question; I want to know if his intelligence averages with the balance of Republicans in that neighborhood?—A. I think not, hardly; I think very little of them, but I can't say that much.

Q. 23. Just tell us how it is compared with the Democrats.—A. No, sir; not with them at all.

Q. 24. Let us follow it right along—how is it with the Greenbackers there?—A. We have no Greenbackers there.

Q. 25. I thought you would compare them with John.—A. We have none there.

Q. 26. You have been intimately acquainted with this family?—A. We were neighbors; they lived just a mile from me; I have seen them a hundred times every year at least.

Q. 27. How far from Waubeck did you live?—A. Just beyond the suburbs; I lived right there at the Nov. election.

Q. 28. Well, sir, in your opinion, this family you spoke of here are feeble-minded people?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 29. They are innocent in their intentions?—A. I think so; I don't know of any crimes they have ever committed.

Q. 30. You spoke of one straying off?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 31. Ever heard of a child straying off before?—A. Yes, sir, several of them.

(Witness fee, $3.65, paid by contestant.)

JONATHAN PENLY being produced and sworn before Eldon Moran, a notary public for Johnson County, by agreement on part of contestee, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, M. P. Mills on part of contestee.):

Q. 1. Where do you reside?—A. A few miles west of Waubec.

Q. 2. What township?—A. Main Township, Linn County.

Q. 3. Did you attend the Nov. election in your township, in Linn County, in '82?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. You may state if you know Joseph Foreman.—A. I do.

Q. 5. Is he kind of—state what is his condition as being a man capable of doing ordinary business.—A. I should think that he is deficient in that capacity.

Q. 6. Do you know whether he voted at the Nov. election, 1882?—A. Yes, sir; I do.

Q. 7. Were you one of the judges?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 8. Do you know whom he came to the election with?—A. No, sir.

Q. 9. Whom he got his ticket of?—A. No, sir.

Q. 10. Did you know how he voted?—A. No, sir.

Q. 11. Do you regard him as a man of sufficient capacity to form any rational conclusion of his country?—A. I do not.

Q. 12. What are your politics, Democratic or Republican?—A. Democratic.

Cross-examination.

Q. 13. You say that you were one of the judges of the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 14. You remember distinctly that this gentleman voted?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 15. You received his vote, did you?—A. I did not.

Q. 16. I mean the judges?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 17. You offered no objection to it?—A. Yes, sir; I did.

Q. 18. Did you challenge his vote?—A. No, sir; I made remarks to the other judges that——

Q. 19. Well, I mean that you did not challenge his vote?—A. No, sir.

Q. 20. I understood you to say that you did not think that he understood the politics of the country?—A. Yes, sir; I said so.

Q. 21. You live in Main Township?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 22. What proportion of the male adult inhabitants of Main Township do understand the politics, in your opinion?—A. I don't know that I could state that positively, but I should consider him——

Q. 23. Well, I want you to leave him out of the proportion up there.—A. I should think fair average of intelligence.

Q. 24. Well, this is not the question. I know that this is the home of Bowdish, but what is the proportion, in your opinion, of the male adult inhabitants of that township who understand the politics of the country?—A. I don't know how you would consider that to be answered.

Q. 25. I want you to answer it by making an estimate as near as you can.—A. As far as my acquaintance goes, I should judge that they understood it fairly.

Q. 26. Do you mean to answer by that, that so far as your acquaintance goes and your knowledge extends that the inhabitants of that township understand the politics of the country?—A. Yes, sir; I think so.

Redirect examination:

Q. 27. This man Foreman you would consider an exception?—A. Yes, sir; I do.

Q. 28. Can't he talk so as to be understood by his neighbors?—A. I can't understand him.

Q. 29. He can't express himself intelligibly on any subject; not even so as to be understood?—A. No, sir.

Q. 30. He is not deaf and dumb?—A. No, sir.

Q. 31. But simply incapable of learning how to speak?—A. Yes, sir; I think so.

Recross-examination:

Q. 32. You mean that he cannot articulate so you can understand him?—A. Yes, sir; I do say that.

Q. 33. You don't speak of others; you mean he don't articulate so you can understand him?—A. That is what I say.

(Witness fee, $3.35. Paid by contestant.)

JONATHAN PENLY.

STATE OF IOWA,
Linn County, ss:

H. P. GILLILAN, being produced and sworn before Eldon Moran, a notary public for Johnson County, by agreement on part of contestee, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, M. P. Mills on part of contestee):

Q. 1. Where do you reside; name and residence?—A. H. P. Gillilan; residence, Brown Township, Linn County, Iowa.

Q. 2. Were you one of the officers of the Nov. election, 1882?—A. I was clerk.

Q. 3. I mean when the people voted for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. I will ask you whether you are a Republican?—A. Yes, sir; I am.

Q. 5. Do you know Joseph Foreman?—A. Yes, sir; I should say I do.

Q. 6. What is his mental capacity as to his being able to do ordinary business?—A. Rather small calibre his, I should say, although I never had any business transactions with him.

Q. 7. Can he speak so you can understand him?—A. No, sir; not so I can understand him.

Q. 8. You regard him as a fool, and don't his neighbors?—A. I can't say how I regard him; I think his neighbors generally regard him so.

Q. 9. You may state if you know Michael Donohue.—A. Yes, sir; I do.

Q. 10. Do you know when he moved into Linn County?—A. No, sir; I don't know when he moved in.

Q. 11. You say you don't know?—A. No, sir; I don't know when he moved into this county.

Q. 12. You know that he has been a resident of Hones County?—A. Yes, sir; I knew he had been.

Q. 13. You know where he now lives?—A. He resides in Linn County.

Q. 14. What time did he get his house?—A. I don't know as to that.

Q. 15. At your election, November, 1882, state if any one voted after the polls closed?—A. Well, sir, I can not state positively whether any one did or not.

Q. 16. Don't you remember if George Felton voted?—A. Yes, sir; he voted.

Q. 17. What time did he vote?—A. He was the last man who voted, I think.

Q. 18. What time was it announced that the polls would be closed?—A. 8 o'clock.

Q. 19. What time was it when he voted?—A. I don't know; I cannot say.

Q. 20. Was it after 8 o'clock?—A. I cannot say positively.

Q. 21. Didn't you as clerk announce that the polls had closed at that time?—A. I will tell you exactly. My best recollection is that I announced that the polls should be closed in 15 minutes. I remember it had been announced that the polls would be closed at 8 o'clock; then one of the judges announced that the polls would be closed in 15 minutes.

Q. 22. But you didn't see whether or not Felton had voted within that 15 minutes?—A. I cannot say.

Q. 23. Did you announce that the polls were closed?—A. Not to my recollections.

Q. 24. Were you not counting on a large open ballot-box?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 25. You considered the polls closed?—A. Yes, sir; I think so. My memory is not distinct on that.

Q. 26. You don't swear that they were not closed, but you swear that you considered that they were closed?—A. I don't know whether or not, but swear that I don't know that they were not closed. This is my opinion on it.

Cross-examination:

Q. 27. Was there any question raised about Felton by the judges?—A. No, sir; no question or objection whatever.

Q. 28. Nothing of the kind?—A. No, sir.

Q. 29. You say that you made the announcement, as you recollect, that in 15 minutes the polls would be closed?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 30. You have no recollection that you made the announcement that the polls were closed?—A. I have no recollection that I made any announcement the polls were closed, only that that they should be closed.

Q. 31. Had they been voting up to the time that Felton voted?—A. Yes, sir, only very slowly, one at a time.

Q. 32. This was the country township; they came straggling along?—A. I cannot say; this is my first experience on the election board.

Q. 33. You say that he came and tendered his vote?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 34. Who were the judges?—A. Worrel, Arthur, Garretson, and Mr. W. R. Brown.

Q. 35. I judge from the men that Mr. Garretson and Brown were Republicans, and Mr. Worrel a Democrat?—A. Yes, sir; that is a fact.

Q. 36. He is the same Worrel that testified here this morning in this case?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 37. Was he there when Felton voted?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 38. He didn't challenge Felton's vote?—A. No, sir; I think not.

Q. 39. If he had you would have known it, would you not?—A. Yes, sir; I think so.

Q. 40. This Joseph Foreman—you consider him foolish?—A. Yes, sir; I do, certainly, so far as my judgment goes. He is according to my judgment, nothing else.

Q. 41. There are other foolish people in that neighborhood?—A. Only one more that I know of.

Q. 42. You may state first, Mr. ——, state if you opened the ballot-box for the purpose of counting? Before you closed the polls, didn't open the box till you considered the polls closed?—A. Yes, sir; I think that we did.

Q. 43. You yourself got the polls closed at the same time?—A. Yes, sir; this is my impression—that they were closed.

Q. 44. Now state if Mr. Shanklin didn't object to your receiving votes when Mr. Felton came in there to vote?—A. I don't know that he did or didn't.

Q. 45. Mr. Shanklin was there all the time, I think?—A. I didn't pay much attention to that, as the judges should have done, because I was not one of the judges.

Q. 46. You say that your position as clerk had nothing to do with opening or closing the ballot-box?—A. Yes, sir; that is all that I had to do with it.

Q. 47. You were simply there for the purpose of closing the polls?—A. Yes, sir; that is all.

(H. P. Gillian paid $2.75 as fee by contestant.)

STATE OF IOWA,
Linn County, ss:

F. M. SHANKLIN, being produced and sworn before Eldon Moran, a notary public for Johnson County, by agreement on part of contestee, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, M. P. Mills on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. F. M. Shanklin; live in Viola, Brown Township, Linn County, Iowa; I am a carpenter by trade.

Q. 2. I will ask you if you know Joseph Foreman?—A. No, sir; I don't know him.

Q. 3. I will ask you if you know Michael Donahue?—A. Yes, sir; I do.

Q. 4. What time did he move into Linn County?—A. I cannot state the exact time Donahue moved into Linn County; I think somewhere in the month of Oct., though.

Q. 5. Where did he formerly live?—A. In Jones County.

Q. 6. How far did he live from the place he now occupies?—A. I judge it to be about two miles.

Q. 7. Are you sure that the house was not erected and that he didn't live in that house as early as the 7th of Sept.?—A. I am positive of it.

Q. 8. You are positive that he had not been there 60 days before the November election, 1882?—A. I am positive that he did not live in that house.

Q. 9. Your judgment is that the house was not erected till what time?—A. Some time in the forepart of October, 20th or 15th.

Q. 10. How long did he live in Jones County?—A. That I don't know.

Q. 11. Did he live there for a year or more?—A. I cannot tell you about that; I don't know. He was living there when I came back to Viola. I had been in Kansas for eleven years. He was living there when I came back.

Q. 12. You may state, if you know, whether Mr Felton voted at the November election, 1882?—A. Yes, sir; I know that he voted.

Q. 13. State whether you were there.—A. Yes, sir; I was there.

Q. 14. Were you there at the time the polls were closed? A. Yes, sir.

Q. 15. Were they announced closed?—A. In the morning Mr. Gillilan, the clerk, made a proclamation that the polls would be closed at 8 o'clock, perhaps a little later, I think 8 o'clock; well, about 8 o'clock, perhaps, he made a proclamation that the polls would be closed in 15 minutes. My recollection is that at 8 o'clock he declared the polls closed.

Q. 16. At what time was this man permitted to vote? At what time did he vote?—A. I do not know what time.

Q. 17. How long was it after the closing of the polls?—A. About 15 or 20 minutes after 8.

Q. 18. Did you object to his voting?—A. Not at the time that he voted, but afterwards; says I, "That is an illegal vote;" at the time I did not really think of it.

Q. 19. Did they consider that the polls had been closed?—A. I don't think that they made any answer, one way or another.

Cross-examination:

Q. 20. Mr. Worrel did not accede to your proposition.—A. No, sir; he did not.

Q. 21. Now, Mr. Shanklin, this matter was something that happened some time ago.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 22. Has there been anything in particular since that time to keep it fresh in your memory? Do you state it now as you recollect it, without being positive?—A. Yes, sir; there has been something on my mind, from the fact that I heard right away after the election that Frederick was going to contest the seat. I always considered there were two illegal votes there.

Q. 23. You had been interested in looking up matters.—A. Yes, sir; I am interested.

Q. 24. For that reason you kept it in your mind?—A. No, sir; not for that reason. I was interested in looking it up; not for that reason have I kept it in my mind.

Q. 25. Why, then?—A. For the reason that I thought Frederick was going to contest the election.

Q. 26. You are a Democrat?—A. Yes, sir; I am.

Q. 27. I see by your testimony that you have said something about coming back after having been a resident of Kansas?—A. Yes, sir; I have been away from Viola, Linn County, Iowa, almost 11 years.

Q. 28. When did you come back?—A. In March, about a year ago.

Q. 29. Have you been living in Viola ever since?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 30. Working at your trade?—A. Yes, sir; mostly.

Q. 31. Your recollection of that matter is that Mr. Gillian announced in the morning that the polls would be closed at 8 o'clock; at 8 o'clock he announced that the polls would be closed in 15 minutes. Then you say, to the best of your recollection, he announced that the polls were closed?—A. Yes, sir; I think so.

Q. 32. Any one else make an announcement?—A. I didn't hear any; people kept right on voting there; there was but one that voted after that.

Q. 33. Well, I mean in a straggling manner kept on voting up to the time that Felton voted, didn't they?—A. There was no vote received after the announcement was made but Mr. Felton's.

Q. 34. You mean that announcement that the polls would be closed in 15 minutes?—A. Yes, sir; I think so.

Q. 35. Then your recollection is that there was no vote received from the time that Gillian announced that the polls were closed except Mr. Felton's?—A. Yes, sir; that is my recollection.

SHACKLIN recalled.

Q. 36. Were they counting votes at the time that Felton voted?—A. Yes, sir; they were.

F. M. SHACKLIN.

Paid $2.75 as fee by contestant.

H. P. GILLILAN recalled.

Q. 1. Have you been assessor for Brown Township?—A. I am this year.

Q. 2. Did you know where Mr. Donohue lived before he moved into your county; what county did he live in?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. What county?—A. Jones County.

Q. 4. You say you were assessor this year or last?—A. I am assessor now; I have not got through yet.

Q. 5. You were last year?—A. No, sir.

Q. 6. Did you say when you recollected that he moved back?—A. No, sir; I don't remember when he moved into this county.

Q. 7. Had been living there for many months, hadn't he?—A. Yes, sir; I should say from 6 to 8 months.

Q. 8. Man of family, isn't he?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 9. Did you know the house he lived in?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 10. He and his family lived in Jones County until he moved into this county?—A. Yes, sir; lived in Webb's house.

Cross-examination:

Q. 11. Prior to this he lived in Viola?—A. Yes, sir; he did.

I, Eldon Moran, a notary public and commissioner agreed upon by the parties to take testimony in this cause, in pursuance of the annexed agreement attached to the testimony of J. L. Adams, whose testimony was taken Feb. 22d, 1883, do truly certify that on the 1st day of March, 1883, in pursuance of the notice hereunto attached, I took the depositions of the following witnesses: Stephen C. Bailey, W. J. Donnahue, G. L. Felton, Mat. Bingham, John Warrall. Taken at Cedar Rapids by agreement of parties: Irving P. Bowdish, H. O. Bishop, John Penly, H. P. Gillilan, F. M. Shanklin, whose testimony is set forth in the following manner:

Each witness was first sworn by me duly, or caused to be sworn in my presence, as provided by law, and when sworn the questions were propounded to him by the respective parties: Benjamine T. Frederick, contestant, and James Wilson, contestee, by their respective attorneys, and the questions by me read to the witness, who answered the same, and his answer, in the language of the witness, was by me taken down under each question propounded, and reduced to writing, until the deposition was completed.

I further certify when the testimony of each witness was taken, I carefully read the same over to the witnesses, who corrected the same and each correction noted, and said testimony was signed by the witness and sworn to by him before me.

I further certify that T. Brown and Carney appeared as counsel for the contestant, and M. P. Mills appeared as counsel for James Wilson, contestee.

In witness whereof I have set my hand and seal notarially this 1st day of March, A. D., 1883.

STATE OF IOWA,
Benton County, ss:

Deposition of witnesses produced before me, Eldon Moran, notary public and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony, and duly sworn by G. W. Burnham, a notary public of Benton County, on this 27th day of Feb., 1883, in pursuance of the notice hereunto attached, at office of J. F. Payne, Vinton, Benton County, Iowa, in a proceeding pending before the House of Representatives of the United States of America, in a contested election, for the office of Representative in Congress, in which proceeding Benj. T. Frederick is contestant, and James Wilson contestee, Brown appearing on the part of contestant, Nichols and Burnahm and Nichols on part of contestee.

STATE OF IOWA,
Benton County, ss:

JOHN M. YATES, being produced and sworn before G. W. Burnham, a notary public in and for Benton County, on this 27th day of Feb., and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, Nichols and Burnham on part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. My name is John M. Yates, and I am on a farm now.

Q. 2. Age?—A. About 50 years; I could not say positively.

Q. 3. Where did you say your residence was?—A. In the suburbs outside the city limits in the city of Vinton.

Q. 4. Where did you live last fall, Nov. last?—A. In Nov. last I was living about one and three-quarter miles southeast of Garrison, Iowa.

Q. 5. Your family with you?—A. No, sir; I have a brother, but no family; I have a brother and his wife with me, but no family.

Q. 6. Is that in Taylor Township?—A. I don't know exactly; it is in Benton County. I think that is Johnson, is it not?

Q. 7. Do you know what section of land you live on?—A. Yes, sir; I know the owner; it belongs to Mr. Wolf; he has owned it a long time.

Q. 8. What section is it?—A. I could not say, sir.

Q. 9. What is Mr. Wolf's first name?—A. I don't know positively; perhaps he has a middle H.

Q. 10. Who are his neighbors; that is, neighbors about this land where you lived last Nov.?—A. Barkdall on the N. E.

Q. 11. What is his name?—A. I don't know; he keeps a lumber-yard in Garrison; I don't know his first name; I think the Isley farm is on the east of him.

Q. 12. You think Barkdall is on the east?—A. Well, sir, partially on the east; some of his land is on the east and some of it on the north.

Q. 13. Who did you say lived directly on the east?—A. Isley owns the farm, but it is rented, on the east.

Q. 14. Who lives on the west?—A. Well, there is a road on the west; right along the road there is a man living by the name of Taylor; that is the farm he rents from the Farmers' Trust and Loan Co.

Q. 15. Farmers' Loan and Trust Co.?—A. Yes, sir; a company of the city of Vinton.

Q. 16. Who lives on the south of you?—A. The man that did live there was named Wing; the man who now lives there is Kugman; I don't know his first name; I was a stranger there; I mind my own business.

Q. 18. How long did you reside there before the month of Nov.?—A. I rented the farm; I got possession on the first of Nov.

Q. 19. You mean Nov. or Dec.—A. I mean Nov.; in fact, I had possession sooner, but you may call it then, because Wolf went to Neb.

Q. 20. Where did you live before that?—A. I lived before that—well, I may say I was boarding in my sister's house before that, if you go back a year or two, in New Jersey, 20 miles from New York City.

Q. 21. What I mean to ask you is where your home was on the 1st of Nov. last; where did you get your washing done; where did you board?—A. I got it right there in the house, because I was there alone. My brother had gone east, and I had to board out. I was close to the farm; I was on the farm every day I could go.

Q. 22. At what house were you boarding?—A. At Mr. Siller's.

Q. 23. What is his first name?—A. John. You will understand me to say I was in the house I had rented every day except Sabbath. I did not generally go on Sabbath. I was there because I had a little stock there.

Q. 24. Do you know the number of the section you boarded on?—A. No, sir; I don't. I could not say now.

Q. 25. Do you know the section?—A. No, sir, I do not.

Q. 26. Where you boarded—which way was it from the farm you rented?—A. It was northwest a short distance; it is the second house from Wolf's, on the road to Garrison.

Q. 27. You don't know the number of the land you lived on, or the section?—A. I do not; I have not the papers, so I can't tell.

Q. 28. You say you don't know the section of the land he and you rented?—A. It is not in my memory now so that I can swear to it.

Q. 29. Of whom did you say you rented?—A. Mr. John Wolf; he is a wolf, too, if there ever was one. If you want to be positive and will give me time, I will go home and get the papers.

Q. 30. Which way was the farm you rented from the town of Vinton?—A. From Garrison now?

Q. 31. No, from Vinton.—A. Well, it will be southwest; the city is right southwest, travel one mile south and keep—possibly two miles south—then keep right straight through.

Q. 32. You know the McCrackner farm?—A. No, sir; Isley was on the east of me; Raymond was on the south; I had 60 acres; then the road is on the west, and Borkdall on the north with part of his farm on the east; I think it is Peter Borkdall. He keeps a lumber-yard in Garrison.

Q. 33. Which way did you live from Blackford's?—A. I don't know any person by that name.

Q. 34. What is Wolf's first name?—A. John.

Q. 35. John I. Wolf?—A. I don't know whether it is John I. Wolf or not. He owned that 80 acres some time, mostly rented except Borkdall's, who lives on his own place.

Q. 36. What other neighbors did you say you had within a mile of you?—A. Well I will tell you—the man who owned a quarry with Frazier, he was southwest of me, but across the road. Then there was this man that lives up——

Q. 37. Where do you live now?—A. I live close to Vinton, one and a half miles from Vinton, right southwest.

Q. 38. What farm?—A. It formerly belonged to John Porterfield, 60 acres.

Q. 39. Now which way was the farm you live on from that?—A. It would be southwest of that.

Q. 40. How far?—A. Well, we call it from 7 to 8 miles; I suppose to go around the road; there is no straight road through, so we would have to go around. The direct line is not more that 6 or 7 miles,

Q. 41. When did you move on the farm you live on now?—A. Well, I did not move; my brother moved; but that has nothing to do with me, I suppose.

Q. 42. Well, when did he move on the farm you live on now?—A. I think he moved about the first of Nov., but would not be positive.

Q. 43. Didn't you board with your brother?—A. No, sir; sometimes I boarded one place, and sometimes another, wherever I could get it the handiest.

Q. 44. Where did you get your washing done, and where do you make your home now?—A. With my brother.

Q. 45. How long have you made your home with your brother?—A. Well, perhaps three months; I could not say positive.

Q. 46. With whom did you make your home before that?—A. We all lived on the same farm; that is, my brother, his wife, and myself.

Q. 47. On what farm?—A. On Wolf's farm.

Q. 48. When did your brother move from Wolf's farm?—A. I think about the first of Nov., because we could not go in to this place; it was not fit to live in; we could not stay in it.

Q. 49. You moved before election, did you not; your brother moved on this farm where he lives before that?—A. You mean my brother?

Q. 50. Yes, sir.—A. My brother moved about one week before election.

Q. 51. Into Vinton Township; no, I mean Taylor Township?—A. You mean the township where we live now?

Q. 52. Yes, sir.

Q. 53. Did you have a trunk?—A. No, sir; I am not so rich.

Q. 54. Did you have any wearing apparel except what you wear every day?—A. Well, sir, I had a change, but it was not much of a change.

Q. 55. Now, where was that wearing apparel?—A. My wearing apparel was over at Wolf's, except what I had on me; sometimes one place, and sometimes another.

Q. 56. Did you have any at your brother's?—A. I don't know that I had; perhaps there was.

Q. 57. How long have you lived with your brother?—A. Well, I think about three months.

Q. 58. Did you live with him before?—A. I lived with him on Wolf's farm.

Q. 59. How long did you live with him on Wolf's farm in all; how long have you been making your home with your brother?—A. I don't always make it there.

Q. 60. How long have you made it there?—A. I could not say positively.

Q. 61. State as nearly as you can.—A. Well, I suppose that taking the farm and getting possession of Wolf's farm on the first of Nov., was 11 or 12 months, or about that; I could not be positive about that.

Q. 62. Did you rent the farm of Wolf, or did your brother rent it?—A. I rented it.

Q. 63. Your brother lived with you?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 64. He let you farm it?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 65. He moved the first of Nov., and you with him over to this township?—A. No, sir; I did not move at the time he moved, because I had to attend to things over there.

Q. 66. Who rented this farm over there, yourself or your brother?—A. We did not rent the farm over there at all; we did not rent Porterfield's farm at all; we bought it.

Q. 67. Did you buy this farm?—A. Yes, sir; I bought it, but not for myself.

Q. 68. You bought Porterfield's farm?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 69. Do you live on it?—A. Yes, sir; I do now.

Q. 70. You intended to live on it as soon as you bought it, intended to make it a home?—A. Well, I could not, because it was not fit to live on.

Q. 71. Was it not fit to live in?—A. No, sir; not at that time.

Q. 72. It was then when your brother moved in, was it not?—A. No, sir; it was not; it is not even fit to live in now in cold days during the winter.

Q. 73. What was the difficulty?—A. The difficulty was that the house was not fit to live in.

Q. 74. Your brother did live in it, did he not?—A. Yes, sir; he tried to.

Q. 75. You intended to fit it up for a home, did you not?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 76. You had been on the Wolf farm only a short time—how long?—A. Well, for a year, I guess; I rented it for a year.

Q. 77. When was your lease out?—A. That would bring it out in Nov.

Q. 78. First of Nov.?—A. Yes, sir; about that time.

Q. 79. Now, where did you stop the night before the Nov. election, on the first of Nov., where did you stay?—A. Well, I could not say positive, I could not.

Q. 80. Where did you stay the last three nights before that?—A. Possibly here at what was Porterfield's place, one of the nights out of three.

Q. 81. You were staying there at your home, were you not; you had attempted to make your home there?—A. I intended to, yes, sir.

Q. 82. Your brother moved on to the farm, and you intended to live with him as soon as the house was in order?—A. Yes, sir; as soon as it was in good condition—as soon as I could stay there.

Q. 83. You had gone there to stay a few nights. How many nights have you staid there since he moved?—A. You mean at the Porterfield place?

Q. 84. Yes, sir.—A. I cannot state, sir.

Q. 85. Three or four nights?—A. No, sir; I think not.

Q. 86. Well, how many?—A. I could not possibly say.

Q. 87. State as many as you can; was it more than one?—A. No, I think not.

Q. 88. You had staid one night?—A. Well, I may have staid one night.

Q. 89. Did you help move?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 90. What did they move?—A. We moved furniture and wearing apparel.

Q. 91. You moved your wearing apparel?—A. They may have put it in, I did not.

Q. 92. Who owned the furniture, you or they?—A. Well, I don't know; I could not say. I might not have paid all the money; they paid part.

Q. 93. You substantially paid the money for that furniture?—A. Yes, sir; I think so.

Q. 94. You moved it over to the place you had bought; that is, the Porterfield place?—A. Yes, sir; we moved it over; we wanted to get into the house as soon as we could make it comfortable.

Q. 95. You put it into the house?—A. No, sir; I believe not; I don't know. There was a barn there.

Q. 96. You put it on the place?—A. Yes, sir; we got it on the place, and got it inside in the afternoon.

Q. 97. They had a bed and table; I guess they were short.

Q. 98. They had bedding there?—A. Yes, sir; some.

Q. 99. They lodged there?—A. No, si ; they did not. It comes to my memory now that they did not lodge there.

Q. 100. Where did they lodge?—A. At old Mr. Porterfield's, right west of here.

Q. 101. Did you lodge there?—A. I may have staid a day or two.

Q. 102. This house and furniture that was moved to this place was yours?—A. No, sir; I didn't say so.

Q. 103. Didn't you say you bought it?—A. Many a man can buy a thing not for himself.

Q. 104. Was it deeded to you?—A. No, sir; it was not.

Q. 105. Who was it deeded to?—A. Robert Yates.

Q. 106. Who is he?—A. My brother.

Q. 107. Was it a place you intended to keep?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 108. You intended to make it your home?—A. I intended to do so, yes, sir.

Q. 109. You had moved your things over upon it and you have remained there ever since, have you?—A. I could not swear positive to that.

Q. 110. What do you say to-day?—A. Well, was having Wolf's farm——

Q. 111. Well, hold on, not that—have you remained there ever since as your home?—A. Yes, sir; I think I have.

Q. 112. Your lease of Wolf's farm expired the first of Nov.?—A. He allowed me time.

Q. 113. The lease expired?—A. Yes, sir; I suppose so.

Q. 114. You were over to the Wolf farm to clean up the harvest and to take care of the property you had on it?—A. Yes, sir; to take care of it.

Q. 115. You helped your brother move the things you had bought?—A. Well, I lifted them up to him on the wagon.

Q. 116. That was assisting him about the moving, wasn't it?—A. Yes, sir; that would be the way of it.

Q. 117. You considered yourself a member of your brother's family, didn't you, and do now?—A. Well, I do now.

Q. 118. You had for a year?—A. We were living on the Wolf farm.

Q. 119. You then considered yourself a member of your brother's family?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 120. You were a part of your brother's family when you lived on the Wolf farm, and have been ever since you moved over into Taylor Township first of Nov. last?—A. Yes, sir; I suppose about that time; don't know positive.

Q. 121. Did you vote at the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 122. Whom did you vote for as Representative in Congress?—A. I think it was Wilson.

Q. 123. You voted the Republican ticket?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 124. What township did you vote in; whereabouts did you vote?—A. I voted in Garrison.

Q. 125. That is in Jackson Township, is it not?—A. I think so.

Q. 126. Your brother's farm on the place where you now live and where he moved the first of Nov., 1882, in Taylor Township, is it not; that is this township?—A. I think it is, but I don't know.

Q. 127. It is about a mile and a half from this town, is it not?—A. Yes, sir; about that, I suppose.

Q. 128. You had some conversation at the time you voted with the members of the board as to where you lived?—A. No, sir; they did not ask me.

Q. 129. Did they not ask you anything about it?—A. No, sir.

Q. 130. Did they talk with you anything about it afterwards?—A, No, sir; I don't remember anything about it that they did.

Q. 131. You had been in the habit of voting in that township before?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 132. You went there to vote notwithstanding you moved into the township?—A. No, sir; I did not move at that time.

Q. 133. You had not gone to live personally, but your family had gone?—A. No, sir; because I could not.

Q. 134. Your family had gone?—A. No, sir; not my family.

Q. 135. Your brother's family, where you made your home?—A. Yes, sir.

Cross-examination by Mr. Nichols:

Q. 136. Mr. Yates, what property belonging to you was on the Wolf farm at the time of the election in November?—A. There were some tools; that is, farming tools.

Q. 137. Was any part of the crop?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 138. What part of the crop, the corn?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 139. Had you any stock there?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 140. What stock had you in Nov., at the time of the Nov. election?—A. I don't know but the stock was moved, because there was difficulty about getting it pastured; they gave me trouble, that is, Wolf did.

Q. 141. Your brother took the stock over to the other place?—A. No, sir.

Q. 142. When was it moved?—A. I moved a portion of it myself to Porterfield's.

Q. 143. Where did you get your meals up to the Nov. election?—A. Sometimes I ate in Garrison.

Q. 144. Who got your meals when in Garrison?—A. I went to a restaurant or boarding-house.

Q. 145. Did you get your meals, or any part of them, at Siller's? That was between the Wolf's place and Garrison.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 146. How frequently did you get your meals at Siller's?—A. Very frequently.

Q. 147. Up to that time; until after election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 148. Where did you lodge?—A. Sometimes one place, sometimes another.

Q. 149. Did you lodge any at Siller's?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 150. How frequently?—A. I was there often; I could not say positive.

Q. 151. Did you sometimes lodge in Wolf's house?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 152. Till after election?—A. Yes, sir; I had a bed there.

Q. 153. You had a bed there till after the Nov. election?—A. Yes, sir; I think so.

Q. 154. How long was it after the Nov. election before you moved the bed out?—A. I don't know; I didn't keep a record.

Q. 155. Did you stay there until after you had gathered your corn?—A. No, sir; they would not let me.

Q. 156. How long after the election was it you gave up the house?—A. Well, he wanted to put me out.

Q. 157. I don't care anything about that; I want to know as a matter of fact when you moved?—A. Hold on, give me fair play, because Wolfe, put me to trouble. He had rented his farm over my head. Before my time was out he forced a man into the house. That is Wolf, that is one of his tricks, yet I paid him every cent cash for rent.

Q. 158. When did you move your bed away?—A. I don't know, sir; I could not swear to it.

Q. 159. Do you know whether you moved it away before the November election?—A. I don't know, but I think not, sir.

Q. 160. I nnderstand you to say you did not move over here until after the November election?—A. No, sir; I might have stopped a night, and if I did, it was only to see into things.

Q. 161. You got your meals over in Jackson, in Garrison, or at Sillers?—A. Yes, sir; I think so.

Q. 162. 'Till after the the November election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 163. You are a single man?—A. Yes, sir; I am a single man.

Q. 164. Can you tell about how long it was after the November election before you moved over here?—A. No, sir; I did not keep a record.

Q. 165. Somewhere about the time?—A. I could not say positive, because certain parties gave me a good deal of trouble, that is, Wolf and others.

Q. 166. Are you positive that it was after the November election?—A. I think so.

Redirect examination by Mr. Brown:

Q. 167. What is your brother's name?—A. Wm. C. Yates.

Q. 168. When you moved out of the house where your brother and his wife lived, didn't you take what furniture there was in the Wolf house?—A. No, sir; we could not take it all.

Q. 169. Did any family move into the Wolf house when you moved out?—A. No, sir; not for some time; that is, you see, I held possession because Wolf was forcing this man in; this man wanted very much to get into the house; my time wasn't out.

Q. 170. When was your time out?—A. I think about the first of November.

Q. 171. When your time was up, didn't you leave the house?—A. Well, I was in the house, because I carried the key. I was there often working.

Q. 172. Didn't you leave the house and another family move in when your time was up, the first of November?—A. Yes, sir; I let the party in the house before my time expired; they begged me to give them that privilege.

Q. 173. That was before the first of November you let this party into the house, before your time was up?—A. I could not say positively about that.

Q. 174. You know your time was up the first of November?—A. I do not know about that sure.

Q. 175. Have you a copy of your lease?—A. Yes, sir; but not with me.

Q. 176. Will you produce it here?—A. Yes, sir; I think I could produce it here if it is not mislaid.

Q. 177. Before your time was up, you say you went into the house first about the first of November, did you not; a year ago last November you took possession of your farm; you went in a few days, did you not, before the first of November a year ago?—A. No, sir; Wolf lived there up to the time.

Q. 178. You went into it the first of November a year ago?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 179. You went in for one single year, did you not?—A. He did not confine me altogether.

Q. 180. Your lease called for one year rent?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 181. Your time was the first of November last?—A, Yes, sir; according to the papers.

Q. 182. This other family came in the first of November?—A. No, sir; I don't know.

Q. 183. You and your brother moved most of your things over to the present farm?—A. Yes, sir; the first of November.

Q. 184. You helped them load things when they moved and you moved your stock?—A. I helped them move things; I did not go there.

Q. 185. Did you move your stock?—A. Yes, sir; or part of it.

Q. 186. What part did you leave on the farm; that is, the Wolf farm?—A. I had a team occasionally.

Q. 187. What stock there at the time?—A. No stock.

Q. 188. Now, you used the team there for a few days for the purpose of gathering up your corn and produce, and such things as you wanted to move off the place, or draw off to market?—A. No, sir.

Q. 189. For what did you use the team?—A. Bringing them over to Porterfield's.

Q. 190. Bringing what over?—A. You mean the furniture, &c.?

Q. 191. Yes, sir.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 192. When did you get them moved over?—A. I don't know, sir.

Q. 193. Before or after the election?—A. I think before.

Q. 194. Before election you got all tools and furniture moved there?—A. No, sir; I think not.

Q. 195. Well, you got the furniture all moved there?—A. No, sir.

Q. 196. Did not get it quite all moved?—A. No, sir.

Q. 197. What part of it remained?—A. Well, I could not say positive.

Q. 198. Well, state as near as you can?—A. It is too much; I don't know.
Q. 199. How many loads did you draw after the first of Nov.?—A. I don't know all told; you could not call them loads.
Q. 200. Tell me one article that remained after Nov. 1st, after the election?—A. Well, I kept a bedstead and chairs and other things.
Q. 201. Did you not go from your brother's house in this township the day of election over to Garrison to vote?—A. Yes, sir, I did.
Q. 202. Then you had stayed over night that night at your brother's house, the night before election?—A. I could not say, sir.
Q. 203. I mean the night before the day of election; where did you get breakfast when you went to election?—A. Well, I could not swear to that.
Q. 204. Did you not go from Porterfield's place? A. I had been on the Porterfield place that day.
Q. 205. You got breakfast there, and stayed all night?—A. I could not swear to that.
Q. 206. What is your best impression?—A. I wouldn't like to give an impression.
Q. 207. Give your best impression as a man and witness; now didn't you leave Porterfield's that morning to come to Jackson to vote?—A. No, sir.
Q. 208. Where did you stay the night before election?—A. Well, I could not swear where I stayed.
Q. 209. Were you at your brother's place that day?—A. Yes, sir, I had been there.
Q. 210. On that morning?—A. You mean of election?
Q. 211. Yes, sir.—A. Yes, sir; I think I was there that day; that is, part of the day.
Q. 212. You mean that morning, when you got your breakfast there that morning?—A. I could not swear to that.
Q. 213. If you got breakfast at all, you got it there?—A. I couldn't swear to that; sometimes I went without.
Q. 214. Then you either went without breakfast, or got it there? Do you remember of taking breakfast at any other place?—A. Yes, sir; but I don't know about that morning; I couldn't say.
Q. 215. Where did you get your supper that night of election; that is, the night of the day when you voted; did you go back to the Porterfield place?—A. Yes, sir; I think so.
Q. 216. And got supper, and stayed over night, didn't you?—A. I couldn't say.
Q. 217. What is your best impression as to that?—A. Well, under this case, it don't do to give impressions, it may be wrong.
Q. 218. I want you as a witness to tell your impression of this.—A. I think I stopped on the Porterfield place.

MATTHEW BROWN, being produced and sworn before G. W. Burnham, notary public for Benton County, on this 27th day of Feb., 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, Nichols and Burnham on part of contestee):

Q. 1. Were you one of the trustees of Vinton Township?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 2. How long have you acted in such capacity?—A. 3 years.

Q. 3. Were you one of the judges of the November election, '82, in which the electors of Vinton Township, Benton Co., voted for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. You may state what part you acted in the canvass of the votes in that election?—A. I sat in there and looked at them part of the time—part of the time I took in the tickets while Mr.——— was gone.

Q. 5. I mean in canvassing the votes, what did you do?—A. Most of the time I strung them—part of the time I read them.

Q. 6. Were the ballots strung on a string?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 7. Do you know whether any ballots were cast at that election—do you remember of any in which there was only partial tickets voted?—A. Yes, sir; I remember something of the kind, but not distinctly any State or Congressional.

Q. 8. Did it have any of the State officers upon it?—A. No, sir; my impression now is that it was only a township ticket.

Q. 9. Have you assisted since that election at any time in the recanvass of the tickets cast in Vinton Township for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir; I did.

Q. 10. Did you find any discrepancies in the count, from what you found in the count at the time of the election; if so, state what it is?—A. Yes, sir; discrepancies of two in favor of Frederick for Congress against Wilson.

Q. 11. Did the tickets have the same general appearance as when left by you and placed in the ballot-box immediately after the close of the election?—A. I don't remember that I saw them in the box; I strung them and think that I gave them to Mr.———; he put them in; I don't think I looked at them in the box.

Q. 12. Did they have the same general appearance as when you canvassed the votes?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 13. Have you recounted the tickets, and if so, how does it compare with the number of votes cast at the November election?—A. I don't remember just exactly what the number was; I did know.

Q. 14. Do you remember how many ballots were found in the box when you counted them?—A. 17, 225, 399.

Q. 15. For whom were they cast?—A. 399 for Wilson, 225 for Frederick, and 17 for Platner.

Q. 16. Did you assist in counting all the ballots which you found in the box to-day?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 17. How many ballots did you find?—A. I don't remember now.

(Paid, 85 cents by contestant.)

MATTHEW BROWN.

STATE OF IOWA,
Benton County, ss:

E. A. PYNE, being produced and sworn before G. W. Burnham, a notary public for Benton County, on this 27th day of February, A. D. 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, Nichols & Burnham on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. Residence, Vinton; professional printer; age 27.

Q. 2. Were you one of the clerks of the November election, 1882, in which the electors of Benton County, Vinton Township, voted for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. I was elected as one of the tallying clerks.

Q. 3. Did you attend such election as clerk?—A. As assistant clerk.

Q. 4. State who were present at that election, other than the officers of that election, that aided in the canvass of the votes on the evening of the election.—A. (Witness names judges and clerks.)

Q. 5. Who other than the judges and the clerks aided in the canvass of votes at the November election, 1882, for this precinct?—A. Mr. Colcord; Messrs. Steadman and Traer acted as clerks part of the time.

Q. 6. Were they sworn officers of the election?—A. No, sir.

Q. 7. Do you know of any error that was made in the return of that election, so far as you know, in the counting of the votes for the office of Representative in Congress, in Vinton precinct?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 8. State what the error was.—A. One was found in the vote for recorder.

Q. 9. I mean as to the office of Representative in Congress.—A. One was found at the time; there were two votes found afterwards; an error was found at the time in the recorder's votes; also a discrepancy in the vote for justice of the peace.

Q. 10. State what error was found for the office of Representative in Congress.—A. The error was found to be two votes.

Q. 11. You do not answer my question; state what the error was for Representative in Congress. How many did each candidate receive in fact; also, how many were returned for him?—A. Frederick received 225; Wilson, 339; the returns show Frederick, 225; Wilson, 401.

Q. 12. When did you first recount the votes; since the day of election?—A. I could not state the exact time; some four or five weeks afterward.

Q. 13. Who assisted in the count?—A. Messrs. Whipple and Shunk.
Q. 14. Were there any votes taken out or changed in any way at the recount?—A. None.
Q. 15. Did you at any time change any of the ballots, or alter them in any way after the election?—A. I did not.
Q. 16. You may state if at any time of the election or afterwards, there were any errors made in the count as to other officers than the Representative in Congress, that you discovered at the time or since, there was found to be a discrepancy of one vote?—A. Between the tallies 10 votes for justice of the peace. Also a discrepancy was found to exist in the recorder's vote, which made a difference of five votes.
Q. 17. Did you look over, after you found this discrepancy, to see whether there was an error made for the office of Representative in Congress, as to the candidates that were running?—A. We did not.
Q. 18. You may state if one Buren R. Sherman voted in Vinton Township at that election?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 19. State if his vote was challenged by any one.—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 20. Who challenged him?—A. E. A. Pyne.
Q. 21. State whether he was required to swear in his vote?—A. He was not.
Q. 22. Did he vote?—A. He voted.
Q. 23. For whom did he vote for Representative in Congress; do you know?—A. I saw him take a Republican ticket off the table and pass it to the judge.
Q. 24. Where did Mr. Sherman live at that time; where was his home?—A. I think at Des Moines.
Q. 25. How long had he resided at Des Moines?—A. Several years; as Auditor of State, one year as citizen out of office, some little time as Gov. of the State. About one year out of office. I believe he owned property there, has a family there.
Q. 26. Has he a wife and children?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 27. They lived with him at Des Moines during the time he lived there?—A. Yes, sir; nearly all of the time; he has visited here occasionally.
Q. 28. Has he any home in this township for the last three or four years to your knowledge?—A. He owned a house here some time ago, but sold it.
Q. 29. Did he live in that house?—A. No, sir; it was rented.
Q. 30. Do you know whether one John Shane voted at the Nov. election, '82?—A. Yes, sir; he did.
Q. 31. Do you know with what disease he was afflicted?—A. Paralysis.
Q. 32. Were you acquainted with him?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 33. How often did you see him?—A. Several times after he could get around.
Q. 34. He had formerly been afflicted with a stroke of paralysis; a leading citizen, was he not?—A. Yes, sir; he was.
Q. 34. You say he was generally regarded by the citizens of this town, at the time of the election, as being a man of unsound mind, or sound?—A. As of unsound mind.
Q. 36. Do you know how he voted?—A. I saw him take a ticket; but I did not see the names on it.
Q. 37. What had been his politics?—A. He is a Republican; he came in a few steps behind his son-in-law, who is a Republican.
Q. 38. You did not hear him say, at the time, how he voted?—A. No, sir; I did not.
Q. 39. Did he give his name to the judge of the election?—A. I failed to hear him give any name.
Q. 40. Do you know Joseph Arrowwood, of Taylor Township?—A. No, sir.
Q. 41. Do you know Samuel Lowe?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 42. Where does he reside?—A. He is overseer of the poor-farm.
Q. 43. Do you know where John Yates resided in Nov. '82?—A. No, sir; I don't.
Q. 44. Do you know a man by the name of L. M. Burrows?—A. Yes, sir; by sight.
Q. 45. You are acquainted with him?—A. Slightly.
Q. 46. How long have you known him?—A. I have seen him for some years.
Q. 47. In what township does he live?—A. Vinton.
Q. 48. Did he vote at the Nov. election '82?—A. Yes, sir; he did.
Q. 49. Do you know for whom he voted?—A. I don't.
Q. 50. What is the mental capacity of Mr. Burrows, do you know?—A. I could not state from actual knowledge.
Q. 51. State any other fact within your knowledge you may deem a benefit to the contestant in this case.—A. That is about all that I know in regard to it.

Cross-examination:

Q. 52. You stated that you were well acquainted with John Shane?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 53. How long have you known him?—A. Ever since I was big enough to know anybody.
Q. 54. Do you know what public offices he has held within the last ten years?—A. Yes, sir; some of them.

Q. 55. What public position has he held?—A. Senator and judge.
Q. 56. Senator from where?—A. State senator.
Q. 57. And district judge?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 58. Do you know whether he had any profession or not?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 59. What was it?—A. Lawyer.
Q. 60. Do you know anything from reputation as to his standing at the bar?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 61. What was it?—A. Good.
Q. 62. Do you know what his reputation was as a judge?—A. I have always heard that it was good.
Q. 63. Do you know anything personally about his mental capacity?—A. I only judge from seeing him.
Q. 64. How could you tell from seeing him?—A. I could tell considerable difference before and after.
Q. 65. In what way?—A. In all ways.
Q. 66. State in what particular regard you saw a difference.—A. He was incapable of talking—at that time he was nearly incapable of talking.
Q. 67. His power of speech was affected, was it not?—A. Well, I suppose that is one of the points.
Q. 68. Did you know that his mind was affected?—A. As a medical expert, I don't.
Q. 69. Answer as a matter of fact.—A. I consider of my own knowledge that he was injured mentally.
Q. 70. Now, to what extent?—A. I could not say that.
Q. 71. Was he injured to such an extent that he would not know for whom he was voting?—A. Well, I could not say as to that; I should judge that he was a man of unsound mind at the time.
Q. 72. Would you not judge that a great many men that voted then were men of unsound mind?—A. A man who has been judge and senator is supposed to be a man of very sound mind; then when badly afflic ed mentally there would be a great difference; you could distinguish a man who never had such standing.
Q. 73. Now, take an ordinary man; your judgment is that Judge Shane had a mind as strong as an ordinary man.—A. No, sir; not by any means.
Q. 74. A little below mediocrity?—A. Yes, sir; quite a ways below.
Q. 75. Now, fix the standard of unsoundness; you say a good ways below; now fix it.—A. I did not say I could fix any standard.
Q. 76. Was he able to get about by himself?—A. Yes, sir; tottering some.
Q. 77. Answer my question. You know whether he was or not.—A. At that time, I don't know; I think he walked on the street alone.
Q. 78. Did he not come down from his residence and come back alone?—A. I don't know whether he did, at the time, or not. He came there with Mr. Cooper.
Q. 79. He came in when Mr. Cooper did?—A. Yes, sir; Mr. Cooper was a little ways ahead.
Q. 80. Did that indicate unsoundness, for him to come a little ways after his son-in-law?—A. That would not be very much of an indication.
Q. 81. Suppose he had followed you in; would that have been an indication of unsoundness?—A. He came more like a child than a man.
Q. 82. In what way did he come in like a child?—A. Tottering and weak.
Q. 83. He had been sick, had he not?—A. He had received a paralytic stroke.
Q. 84. When?—A. Some time before.
Q. 85. Was it not in July?—A. It might have been that long ago.
Q. 86. Was it not as early as the middle of July?—A. I think, about that time.
Q. 87. He was confined to his house for some time, was he not?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 88. Then he got so that he was abie to get out?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 89. And able to talk to people?—A. Only slightly.
Q. 90. His power of speech was affected was it?—A. Well, I don't think that he was able to talk on all subjects as well as before, by any means; he was flighty and of unsound mind.
Q. 91. Did you ever meet him personally?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 92. Did he recognize you?—A. He knew my face.
Q. 93. Spoke to you, didn't he?—A. I never heard him speak my name.
Q. 94. He passed the usual compliments, didn't he?—A. He just shook hands, that is all.
Q. 95. Did you ever hear him speak since he had the attack in the summer?—A. I heard him try to say a few words.
Q. 96. Do you know whether he was capable of choosing for himself on the day he voted—for whom he would vote?—A. I should judge him to be a man of unsound mind.
Q. 97. That is not the question at all. I want to know whether he was capable on that day of choosing for himself, as between two men for whom he would vote?—A.

I don't think he would have paid any attention—he would not have been around of his own accord.

Q. 98. That is no answer to my question.—A. No, sir; I don't.

Q. 99. Now, sir, on what basis do you form that opinion?—A. His general actions and looks.

Q. 100. Do you think he knew the difference between the Democratic and the Republican tickets?—A. I could not say.

Q. 101. Do you know whether he voted the Democratic or Republican ticket?—A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. 102. What was there about his looks that would induce you to believe that he did not know for whom he voted?—A. His general debility.

Q. 103. Don't you think, possibly, that he got hold of a Democratic ticket, and voted for Frederick?—A. No, sir; not with Cooper walking along with him.

Q. 104. You did not see Cooper give him any ticket?—A. No, sir.

Q. 105. Do you know who Cooper voted for?—A. No, sir.

Q. 106. Didn't you know that Cooper had always been a Democrat?—A. No, sir.

Q. 107. You do not know what ticket he voted?—A. No, sir; I know what he talks.

Q. 108. You do not know what ticket he voted for Representative in Congress?—A. No, sir.

Q. 109. Do you know where Shane got his ticket?—A. No, sir.

Q. 110. Didn't pick it up here?—A. No, sir.

Q. 111. Do you know how he came to go to the election?—A. No, sir.

Q. 112. Do you know where he resides now?—A. I think that I know.

Q. 113. Where is it?—A. In the best part of town here.

Q. 114. Have you seen him lately?—A. I saw him on the streets two weeks ago.

Q. 115. He is getting a good deal better, isn't he?—A. I have not seen him to talk with him; he walks as though he was suffering some yet.

Q. 116. He is much the same?—A. The same.

Q. 117. He is able to attend here as a witness?—A. I do not know whether he is or not.

Q. 118. You do not know whether he would be able to get down town or not?—A. No, sir.

Q. 119. You are not a physician?—A. No, sir.

Q. 120. Have you heard anything particular on that subject?—A. No, sir.

Q. 121. Did you ever read a scientific work on the subject of paralysis?—A. No, sir.

Q. 122. Do you know how it affects the mind?—A. No, sir.

Q. 123. Do you know whether it is true or not, that persons may be deprived of speech without affecting the mind?—A. I don't know.

Q. 124. Then you know not the condition of his mind, excepting as you guess?—A. I know by his looks and talk.

Q. 125. I thought you stated that you never heard him talk any?—A. I heard him try to talk some time ago, but not recently.

Q. 126. Had you heard him try to talk before the election?—A. I think I had; I met him on the street before that.

Q. 127. Did you hear him try to talk?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 128. Where was it?—A. Right at the foot of the stairs where I work.

Q. 129. With whom was it?—A. Myself.

Q. 130. Upon what subject were you talking?—A. No particular subject, I guess

Q. 131. Were you trying to talk upon any subject of importance?—A. I asked him how he was getting along, something like that.

Q. 132. What did he say?—A. I couldn't recollect.

Q. 133. Didn't he say he was getting better?—A. He was injured in his speech so that he could not carry on a conversation.

Q. 134. Did you try to carry it on?—A. No, sir; for I saw he could not.

Q. 135. Did you try to carry on a conversation with him at all?—A. I think I stated about what I said.

Q. 136. All you said was about asking for his health?—A. Well, I think probably that is about all.

Q. 137. You didn't try to carry on another conversation, or to suggest another, did you?—A. Well, I think that I found by his reply——

Q. 138. How do you know that he could not converse on any other subject if you didn't try to converse with him?—A. I judged by his inability to recollect speech.

Q. 139. That he didn't know what he was talking about?—A. No, sir; I didn't judge that.

Q. 140. Do you think that he didn't know you?—A. No, sir; I thought that he knew me; I thought so then.

Q. 141. Now about Buren R. Sherman. Do you remember when he first went to Des Moines to live?—A. Why, I don't remember the exact time.

Q. 142. Did you know him before he went to Des Moines? Do you know of his having been clerk of the courts of Benton County?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 143. For about how many years?—A. Seven or eight years.
Q. 144. He was elected State auditor in 1875?—A. Yes, sir; about that time.
Q. 145. Didn't he consider his home in Vinton after he was elected State auditor?—A. Well, sir, I don't know; he had lived there for a number of years. His family had lived there also.
Q. 146. He had a wife and children, hadn't he?—A. I believe that is right.
Q. 147. Now, when he went to Des Moines didn't he move his family to Des Moines?—A. I don't know whether his family went with him or not.
Q. 148. You know of his being State auditor?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 149. Did he enter upon the office of auditor at the time he left Vinton?—A. I think in January.
Q. 150. Did he leave Vinton for that purpose?—A. I did not hear then.
Q. 151. What is your impression?—A. I think that he left here to assume the duties of that office.
Q. 152. Do you know how long he was State auditor?—A. I think two terms.
Q. 153. Do you know where he voted at that time?—A. No, sir; I don't.
Q. 154. Don't you know that he came home every general election to vote?—A. I think sometimes. I don't know; he wasn't home every general election.
Q. 155. Didn't he claim this as his place of residence?—A. I don't know; he must have, for he came here to vote.
Q. 156. Is not that what you heard reported? - A. I know that he came here to vote several times.
Q. 157. Didn't he claim this as his home?—A. I believe so.
Q. 158. The same year his term expired he was candidate for governor, wasn't he?—A. Yes, sir; along there, late in that year.
Q. 159. I mean now, during the year next succeeding his term of office as auditor, wasn't he a candidate for governor?—A. I think that he went canvassing as soon as he got through with the auditor's office. I think that he was here at different times to visit his family.
Q. 160. Don't you know that he claimed this as his home?—A. I knew that he had a house and lot, and had two children attending the public schools.
Q. 161. Do you know that his children attended the public school in Des Moines?—A. No, sir; I didn't know that.
Q. 162. Don't you know that he claimed this was his home?—A. No, sir; I don't know whether he did or not.
Q. 163. Didn't he claim that on the day of his election?—A. I believe that he claimed this as his home.
Q. 164. Didn't he claim that he had been in the Army—that he had lived here many years, and ought to be allowed to vote without being challenged?—A. No, sir; I didn't hear him say that.
Q. 165. Well, what was the substance?—A. I think that he claimed that this was his voting place. He seemed to be surprised to be challenged.
Q. 166. Didn't he say that he expected to come back here to live after his official life closes?—A. No, sir; I don't remember of his saying that.
Q. 167. Do you know, as a matter of fact, bona-fide, that when his term of office closed he intended to return to Vinton?—A. I don't know that he calculated to come back here; I don't know that he knew what his calculations were.
Q. 168. Do you know anything about what his intentions were?—A. I don't know; I never heard him say.
Q. 169. Do you know if he intended to return to Vinton to make it his home after his term of office expired?—A. He might have, so far as I know.
Q. 170. Then you don't know where his local residence was last November, do you?—A. I know where I thought it was.
Q. 171. I ask you if you do know where his local residence was?—A. I don't know; that is a question for the law to decide.
Q. 172. Now I want to know where his local residence was.—A. That is all I know; I am not thoroughly enough acquainted with the law to know.
Q. 173. Well, do you know where his local residence was? You may answer it in that way if you want to.—A. So far as my best knowledge of the law is concerned, I think that his local residence was in Des Moines.
Q. 174. Now, upon what do you base that; give us your best knowledge of law on that subject?—A. During the year, while out of office, his family still lived in Des Moines. He had furniture there, because his family lived there at least a portion of the time. They visited here, I think, during the year. His children were there a portion of the time at least. He did not come here and enter into any business whatever. He was here only a small portion of the time, a very small portion of the time. Then, further, from the information I have received, his children attended the public schools in Des Moines. He refused to pay any fee for their attendance there, claiming that his residence was there.
Q. 175. Do you know that he made any such claim?—A. That is what I said.

Q. 176. Give us the source of information on that question. Your source of information.—A. Well, I can't say just who stated that now.

Q. 177. Was it a Democratic rumor?—A. I will have to study that a little. I am not sure but that you informed me.

Q. 178. You don't say that I told you that his residence was in Des Moines; that he claimed it was?—A. Well, it was some Republican. I heard it prior to the election.

Q. 179. You have no distinct recollection as to the source of your information in regard to the subject?—A. No, sir; I am pretty confident it was some Republican.

Q. 180. Who was it?—A. I can't name the party; it has slipped my mind.

Q. 181. Now, then, upon the fact with reference to his intention, from your knowledge of law, you determine his local residence was in Des Moines?—A. I consider that he was a citizen and resident of Des Moines.

Q. 182. That is derived from your legal knowledge as applied to the facts?—A. Yes, sir; all my knowledge, legal knowledge and all.

Q. 183. Do you claim to know anything about the fact?—A. I have stated all that I know about it.

Q. 184. I want to know whether you are willing to put on the record as knowing anything of the facts in regard to the matter? I will put it in this form: Do you claim to have any personal knowledge of the facts you stated; that he sent his children to school, and declined to pay tuition fees? You grant his residence was in Des Moines. Do you claim to have any reliable information on that subject?—A. You mean as to his refusal to pay on that account?

Q. 185. Yes, sir.—A. It has been generally understood that his children attended public school there.

Q. 186. That is not the question at all. I want to know whether you claim it is so, or whether you claim to have any reliable information that he sent his children to the public school, and refused to pay tuition on the ground that he was a resident of Des Moines?—A. I have never looked into that matter at all; never have been there to inquire. I think that it is probably correct, and the case should be inquired into. I do not know to my knowledge that these are the facts.

Q. 187. You are a lawyer; you have read law?—A. Some.

Q. 188. Been admitted to the bar?—A. That is a very easy matter.

Q. 189. You have been admitted to the bar?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 190. You claim now to be an attorney at law; have been admitted to the bar and in good standing at the bar. I don't ask you in reference to business. Do you claim to be in good standing at the bar of Benton County?—A. I have not practiced law; I don't know whether that throws a man out or not.

Q. 191. Are you willing to say that you do not know the difference between claiming to have reliable information and knowledge as a lawyer and witness also?—A. I have no reliable evidence to substantiate it.

Q. 192. Would not information be very different from personal knowledge of the fact?—A. Pointed evidence to back it would of course be better.

Q. 193. I will ask you whether you had it from any person who claimed to know that it was a fact that Sherman sent his children to the public school and refused to pay tuition on the ground that he was a resident of Des Moines?—A. No, sir; only general information. I do not claim anything else.

Q. 194. Do you claim to have it from any person that claimed to know the facts?—A. They tell it just as if they knew it.

Q. 195. Who was it that told you?—A. That is what I am trying to think.

Q. 196. Was it the invisible somebody?—A. I cannot say who told me. Judge McPortney opposed his voting here on the ground that he was a resident—left a written challenge at the same time there at the polls. I do not know but what he might have been the party who made the statement. I am not sure of it.

Redirect cross-examination:

Q. 197. You may state whether in your judgment, that John Shane, at the time of the November election, was in a condition to transact ordinary business as he was accustomed to do?—A. No, sir; I think he was not in a condition to transact it as he formerly had done.

Q. 198. Did B. R. Sherman's family, during the time of the year between the time he quit the office of State auditor, at the time of his election as governor, reside here, as counting the residence a home, or simply here as a visitor?—A. At the time they were here a brother-in-law, M. Colcard I believe, kept his residence property here, and while they were here they stayed there and visited other persons and relatives here. Possibly might have stayed a part of the time at the hotel taking meals, but am not sure of that. They moved no furniture here from Des Moines that I have ever heard of.

Q. 199. What time did he sell his home here, as near as you can remember?—A. I think it was sold since he was governor.

Q. 200. Before or since the election?—A. Since the election, I think.

Q. 201. Before or since the election last fall?—A. It was before the election.

E. A. PYNE.

STATE OF IOWA,
Benton County, ss:

SAMUEL LOWE, being produced and sworn before G. W. Burnham, notary public for Benton County, on this 27th day of Feb., A. D. 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, Nichols and Burnham on part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. My age is 53; I live in Taylor township, and am a farmer.

Q. 2. Do you hold any official position in the county?—A. I am now steward of the poor-farm.

Q. 3. Are you acquainted with Joseph Arrowood?—A. Yes, sir; for 25 years.

Q. 4. Is he an inmate of the poorhouse in this county?—A. Yes, sir.

Q 5. What is his mental capacity for transacting business?—A. Mr. Arrowood is a man whose mind, if it had been affected by insanity, he is far above the average of those I have got.

Q. 6. That is not the question.—A. I hardly know how to answer it. He makes a very good kind of a hand. He is fatting 60 or 70 of the fattest hogs ever sent from this country.

Q. 7. I asked you his capacity for doing general business.—A. I don't hardly know what you mean.

Q. 8. I mean carrying on business for himself.—A. He says he can not do it; people would not pay him for it. He said that he had more trouble to get his pay than it was worth.

Q. 9. You think he is not incapable of carrying on business for himself?—A. No, sir; can not carry on farming for himself.

Q. 10. Now, is there any business that you know of that he could take hold of?—A. I don't know that there is; I don't know of any thing that he could do.

Q. 11. Do you regard him as a man deficient in intelligence, as compared with the ordinary man in this country?—A. Yes, sir; he is deficient in intelligence to a certain extent. I have half a dozen others below him yet.

Q. 12. You mean there is a lower grade of intellect on the poor-farm?—A. Yes, sir; and outside, too.

Q. 13. Now, state if you know whether he voted at the Nov. election, '82?—A. Yes, sir. Two or three days before election I came into town, and took back a handful of Democratic and a handful of Republican tickets, and said "Boys, choose which you please." I did not tell them which I was going to vote. How he voted I don't know. I took him, in company with four or five others, and turned them loose. I don't know how they voted.

Q. 14. He has been under subpœna, has he not?—A. Yes, sir, he has; right here in town.

Q. 15. You are a Republican, are you not?—A. Yes, sir; I am.

SAMUEL LOWE.

It is here expressly agreed between Messrs. Nichols & Burnham, att'ys for contestee, and Mr. Brown, att'y for contestant, in this case, that Mr. Eldon Moran, commissioner agreed upon to take testimony, shall administer the oath to the witness, and that such oath shall be regarded as sufficient.

J. C. PARMETER being produced and sworn before G. W. Burnham, a notary public for Benton County, on this 27th day of Feb., and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, Nichols and Burnham on part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. My name is J. S. Parmeter; age 56; reside in Taylor Township, Benton County, Iowa.

Q. 2. Were you present at the Nov. election, '82, in Taylor Township?—A. Yes, sir; I was.

Q. 3. Do you know Joseph Arrowood?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. Do you know whether he voted at the Nov. election, '82?—A. Yes, sir; I think he did.

Q. 5. Did you know for whom he voted for Congressman?—A. I cannot swear to that.

Q. 6. Do you know whether he voted the Republican ticket?—A. My impression is that he did.

Q. 7. What is his mental capacity; what was it? Did you know his mental capacity before the Nov. election, '82, and at that time, as being a man of sound or unsound mind?—A. I have known him over 20 years.

Q. 8. How near do you live to him?—A. Part of the time within a mile, part of the time two miles.

Q. 9. Is he a man of sound or unsound mind?—A. I would consider him far below the average.

Q. 10. Is he capable of doing ordinary business?—A. No, sir.

Q. 11. Where does he live?—A. He is now at the poor-house, has been for the last two years; I think perhaps more.

Q. 12. What is his mental difficulty, general weakness, or what?—A. General weakness or what, yes, sir; rather bordering on the idiotic. I do not consider that he would know enough to vote unless directed.

Q. 13. Who came to the election with him?—A. Mr. Lowe, overseer of the poor-farm.

Q. 14. What are his politics?—A. Republican, I believe.

Cross-examination:

Q. 15. Mr. Arrowood is capable of doing work?—A. Yes, sir; some, when told.

Q. 16. His condition is such that he could be brought here if summoned, could he not?—A. You mean afoot and alone?

Q. 17. Yes, sir.—A. I think that he would.

Q. 18. How far is it from here to the poor-farm?—A. About two miles.

Q. 19. You do not know of any reason why he could not come down here if called upon?—A. How do you mean?

Q. 20. I mean that he could be present at this examination if called upon; do you know any reason why he could not?—A. No, sir; I suppose he might come here if told. I don't know whether he could find the office or not.

Q. 21. How do you know what ticket he voted?—A. I don't know, sir.

Q. 22. Is he not intelligent enough to tell what ticket he voted?—A. I think not.

Q. 23. Why don't you think so?—A. Because I don't think he has sense enough to tell the difference between Republican and Democratic tickets.

Q. 24. Can he read?—A. My impression is that he can.

Q. 25. Do you know positively?—A. No, sir; my impression is that he can.

Q. 26. Do you suppose that if you asked him he could tell whether or not he could?—A. I think he could, certainly.

Q. 27. Would he know what you meant when you would ask him if he could read?—A. Yes, sir; I think he would know that much.

Q. 28. Do you think he is absolutely void of memory, so that he could not remember anything at all?—A. No, sir; he can remember some things.

Q. 29. He can remember some things pretty well, can he?—A. I don't know why he should not.

Q. 30. Do you know from conversation with him whether he can remember for whom he has worked for some little time back, or where he has lived?—A. Yes, sir; he can tell that.

Q. 31. Can he remember the man's name?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 32. He would be likely to remember to vote the Republican ticket, and he would remember if he voted it or not?—A. Yes, sir; still I don't know whether he would remember if he voted the Republican ticket.

Q. 33. He would be likely to remember whether he voted as he was told, would he not?—A. I don't know whether he would or not.

Q. 34. You did not see his ticket?—A. I did not.

Q. 35. You did not hear anybody say that they knew how he voted?—A. Not that I recollect.

Q. 36. With whom did he come?—A. Mr. Lowe.

Redirect examination:

Q. 37. Is he capable of doing any ordinary business?—A. No, sir.

Q. 38. In buying or disposing of property?—A. No, sir.

MICHAEL DONELAN, being produced and sworn before G. W. Burnham, notary public for Benton County, on this 27th day of Feb., 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, Nichols and Burnham on part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. My name is Michael Donelan; grocer at present.

Q. 2. Were you one of the judges of the election of Vinton Township, Benton County, Iowa, in Nov., 1882?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. Were you present at the said election during the time the electors were having a canvass of the votes Nov., 1882, at which the electors voted for Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir; most of the time.

Q. 4. State who assisted at the canvass of the votes at your election, if any other than trustees and clerks?—A. Mr. Colcord assisted in reading for a time; Mr. Steanman, of Vinton, assisted the clerk for a time.

Q. 5. What were their politics?—A. I believe Republican.

Q. 6. How were the ballots at said election left when placed in the box after the canvass of votes?—A. They were left strung on to a cord or string.

Q. 7. Have you since examined the ballots cast at said election; if so, how did their appearance correspond with the appearance they were in at said election after they had counted the votes?—A. I examined them to-day; they appeared to be in the same condition in which I left them.

Q. 8. Upon the recanvass of them to-day for the office of Representative in Congress, did you find any error in your former count made at the Nov. election, '82?—A. We found a discrepancy of two.

Q. 9. In whose favor was the discrepancy of two?—A. It was given Mr. Wilson; the first discrepancy would be in favor of him and the second against him.

Q. 10. Was he counted with more votes than the ballots showed that he received; if so, how many more?—A. We found to-day that he was counted with two more.

Q. 11. You may state whether at said election there was a ballot in the box that you counted out that you found was not strung?—A. You mean to-day?

Q. 12. Yes, sir; are there any ballots that you did not string at the election that you do not find now in the ballot-box?—A. We did not find any but what had been strung; there was one that had slipped off after we had taken it out.

Q. 13. State how many ballots you found in the box, and how does it compare with the number originally voted?—A. We found one ballot there of the original vote.

Q. 14. Do you remember of a ballot voted in which the number voted had one vote for a township office?—A. Yes, sir, I think there was one.

Q. 15. Did you notice that vote was not on the string to-day?—A. No, sir, I did not see it to-day.

Q. 16. Do you remember the party voting that ballot, that he did not vote for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. No, sir, only the township, as near as I can recollect.

Q. 17. Do you remember whether that ballot was strung or not?—A. Yes, sir, I presume so; I did not string them.

Q. 18. Are you satisfied that the count you made to-day is correct?—A. From the ballots found it was correct as near as I can see.

Q. 19. Are you satisfied that you found all the ballots that were originally cast for Representative in Congress?—A. I believe I am, sir.

Q. 20. At the time of the election did you find any discrepancy as to other candidates that were voted for; any errors that were made?—A. Yes, sir, we did.

Q. 21. For what officers?—A. For the office of recorder and justice of the peace.

Q. 22. How many for each?—A. I think one ballot for one and two for the other; and in office of justice of the peace one, and one for the office of recorder.

Q. 23. Was it not five or ten votes?—A. I mean one or two tallies.

Q. 24. How did you count the votes, by fives or tens?—A. No, sir, in fives and ones, where we had good straight tickets that counted for tallies. All the erased tickets were counted singly; all of us read the tallies, so as to have them right.

Q. 25. Were there a good many people around during the time the votes were tallied after the general election?—A. Yes, sir, a good many, part of the time.

Q. 26. The count to-day was made more carefully than at the time of the election?—A. I don't think it was made any more carefully than it was at first; still we might find an error there yet; we had to read them in the night time.

Q. 27. Well, for the office of Representative in Congress, it has been made carefully to-day in view of the fact that it was daylight. You lack one for that office?—A. Yes, sir, I suppose so.

C. M. EVANS, being produced and sworn before G. H. Burnham, notary public for Benton County, on this 27th day of February, A. D. 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant and Nichols and Burnham on part of contestee):

Q. 1. Are you auditor of Benton County, Iowa?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 2. How long have you filled that office?—A. Since Jan. 3rd, 1870.

Q. 3. You may state if you have in your possession returns made in the different townships of Benton County at the November election of which the board of supervisors of Benton County made an abstract of returns to the board of canvassers from this city?—A. They were there when I was taken ill, five weeks ago (having examined ballot-box which was just brought in).

Q. 4. Well, look at the return made by the board of township canvassers of the township of Vinton, and read to the commissioner, so that he may take it down, the entries showing the votes cast as returned for the office of Representative of Congress for each candidate.—A. The clerk has brought me township book instead of city book. My clerk has gone after the other one—the poll-book which is returned for the office of Representative in Congress for the 5th dist. There were 645 ballots cast, of which James Wilson had 401 votes, Benjamin T. Frederick had 225 votes, David Platner had 19.

Q. 5. You may state if the poll-book shows that James Arrowwood and Samuel Lowe voted at the Nov. election, 1882?

(Witness examines poll-book of Taylor Township.)

A. Yes, sir; they are these, the 120 and 122 votes that were cast.

Q. 6. Was the abstract of the votes which was certified by the city canvassers the same that is shown by that poll-book?—A. Yes, sir.

W. P. WHIPPLE, being produced and sworn before G. W. Burnham, a notary public for Benton Co., on this 27th day of Feb., A. D. 1883, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, Nichols and Burnham appearing on the part of the contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. W. P. Whipple; 20 years old; live in Vinton; attorney-at-law.

Q. 2. Are you one of the clerks of Vinton Township precinct, Benton Co.?—A. I was during the year 1882.

Q. 3. Have you the ballots used at the Nov. election, in the year 1882, in your possession, with the poll-book of that township, in which the electors voted for the office of Representative in Congress in this precinct?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. How and where has the ballot-box been kept since the time of the election?—A. The ballot-box has been kept in the law office of Whipple and Shunk.

Q. 5. How has it been fastened?—A. It has been fastened with a screw on the upper side running through the lid into the box.

Q. 6. Has the box been sealed?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 7. Does that box contain the same ballots now that were cast during the election in Nov., 1882?—A. I think that it does.

Q. 8. Have the ballots in that box been examined at any time since the election?—A. Yes, sir; once to my knowledge.

Q. 9. In whose presence?—A. In my presence; also in the presence of Mr. Shunk and Pyne.

Q. 10. Where had it been kept previous to that time?—A. In the law office of Whipple and Shunk.

Q. 11. Who had access to it to your knowledge?—A. Mr. Shunk and myself; that is, we had all the keys to the office, but I don't know that anybody ever examined it at any other time.

Q. 12. Have you any reason to think that anybody examined it at any other time, or had access to the ballots?—A. I think not; they might have had access to it and might have examined the ballots, but I don't know.

Q. 13. How were the ballots left as to being strung or unstrung?—A. They were strung.

Q. 14. You may state if the law office of Whipple and Shunk has been locked when you didn't occupy the same?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 15. And the ballot box might have been examined without your knowledge or the knowledge of your partner during the time it has been there in the office?—A. I think not.

Q. 16. Where is Mr. Shunk now?—A. He is in Cheyenne, Wyoming Territory.

Q. 17. Is he to be absent long?—A. I don't know; he and I have dissolved.

Q. 18. Do you know of his having observed the ballots other than at the time it was opened in your office?—A. I don't know.

Q. 19. At the time you examined the ballots did they have the same appearance as to the manner in which they were fastened that they did have upon the night of the election after the box was closed and the ballots put in there the night of the canvass?—A. Yes, sir; they had the same appearance.

Q. 20. Will you open the ballot-box in the presence of the notary and call to your assistance the other clerk or one of the trustees present at the election and examine and count the ballots for the office of Representative in Congress, and tell the commissioner how many each candidate received?—A. Yes, sir; I can do that. (Witness proceeds to open the box, assisted by Mr. Donnelan, trustee, and Mathew Brown, trustee, and E. W. Pyne, clerk.) The result, 399 for James Wilson, 225 for Benjamin T. Frederick, and 19 for Platner.

Q. 21. State if the ballots have the same appearance that they had at the time of the election, and if, in your judgment, they are in the same condition as they were when they were strung at the day of election?—A. Well, the ballots are in appearance the same; my opinion is that they are the same ballots that were cast at the day of election.

Cross-examination:

Q. 22. Did you, on any occasion with E. W. Payne, or any other person make a count of the ballots after the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 23. Who were the three persons?—A. W. L. Shunk, Pyne, and myself were the persons present.

Q. 24. Where was that count made?—A. In the law office of Whipple and Shunk.

Q. 25. What was the result of the count?—A. I don't remember of having kept any date of it; I think there was a difference in one way or other; I think that the result of the count was the same as to-day.

Q. 26. When was that?—A. I think three or four weeks after the election.

Q. 27. Now, have you no means of knowing whether the ballot-box had been opened, or ballots handled by any other person in the interim, between the time you made the count?—A. They might have been opened and handled, I was not able to know anything about it.

Q. 28. Have you any impression or information that would lead you to think that they had been handled in the meantime?—A. No, sir.

Q. 29. Who was your law partner? A. W. L. Shunk.

Q. 30. What are his politics?—A. Democratic.

Q. 32. You may state whether Mr. Shunk had access to this ballot in your absence from the office?—A. Yes, sir, he had.

Q. 33. Had he access to it between the time the election was held and the count was made, the time you made the count?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 34. State whether you had any conversation with Pyne separately, or when they were both present between election and the time the count was made?—A. I think a day or two before there was an effort made by J. F. Pyne and E. W. Pyne to see the trustee to come and make a recount; I think that that was the substance of all that was said.

Q. 35. Where did that conversation take place?—A. Mr. J. F. Pyne came into the office, and in the presence of Mr. Shunk, I think; I made an informal visit on the trustees upon the same errand.

Q. 36. What reason did they assign for a new count?—A. The reason assigned by J. F. Pyne was this: The trustees called in one Joe. Collard to read off the ballots when the count was originally made.

Q. 37. Did he make any claim that there was a mistake?—A. No, sir, I don't think that he claimed any mistake, he wanted to satisfy himself to-day.

Q. 38. When did you first hear the claim made that there was a mistake?—A. I never knew that they were going to make a claim until to-day, when the questions were asked me; that is the first I knew that they were going to make a claim of that kind.

Q. 39. Now, I will ask you, Mr. Whipple, whether you had such custody of this ballot-box that you can testify you knew it was not tampered with in the interim?—A. No, sir, I have not had.

Q. 40. Whether it was where any person but yourself could have had access to it?—A. No, sir, it was where Mr. Shunk had access to it in my absence, and I suppose other parties could have had access to it in my absence; could have had access through him.

Q. 41. State whether E. W. Pyne was frequently in your office.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 42. State on what terms of intimacy he was with your law partner, Mr. Shunk.—A. Well, they were very intimate; frequently met there in the office.

Q. 43. Do you know of either being left there when you were away?—A. Yes, sir; I do.

Q. 44. Before the time the count was made?—A. I don't remember about that.

Q. 45. Well it was prior to this time, between the Nov. election and the present time?—A. Yes, sir; they have been in the office, I know.

Q. 46. When you were not there?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 47. How frequently?—A. I will not answer that question very intelligently; at least two or three times.

Q. 48. When did your law partner go away?—A. Last Friday morning.

Q. 49. Had there been any conversation between yourself and Shunk or Pyne in reference to the contest of the election between Wilson and Frederick?—A. No, sir; I think not since the talk we had before.

Q. 50. Whereabouts in your office was that ballot-box kept?—A. In the back office, in the back room, in the consultation room.

Q. 51. Is there any door leading from the hall into the back office?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 52. Did any one have a key to it?—A. The key usually remains in the door on the outside; I don't know of any other key to the door.

Q. 53. Whereabouts was it? Was it set so anybody could see it going into the room?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 54. In plain sight?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 55. How many persons do you know of who knew where this ballot box was, from the time of election up to the time you made the count?—A. J. F. Pyne, E. W. Pyne, W. L. Shunk; the present township clerk, Mr. Gerdon; I could not state positive as to any one else.

Q. 56. Do you know what are J. F. Pyne's politics?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 57. State what they are.—A. Democratic.

Q. 58. Did he vote for Mr. Frederick?—A. Yes, sir.

Redirect examination:

Q. 59. Your partner's name is Shunk?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 60. Is your partner a member of the bar of this county in good standing?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 61. Is he a man of probity and honest intention of purpose, so far you know?—A. No, sir, not much property.

Q. 62. You say he is a man of probity?—A. Yes, sir, I think so.

Q. 63. Are these other men men of good moral character and standing?—A. Yes, sir, they are of good standing.

Q. 64. Were you one of the clerks of the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 65. Was there other persons other than the judges of the election and the clerks that aided in counting the votes?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 66. Who?—A. Glenn Trayler, E. D. Stedman, assisted a part of the time in re counting the ballots; Mr. Collard assisted the trustees; I don't remember of any one-else taking part.

Q. 67. They were not sworn officers of the election?—A. No, sir.

Q. 68. What were their politics?—A. With the exception of Mr. Pyne, I think that they were all Republicans; I mean Mr. E. A. Pyne.

Q. 69. These men that aided you, aided you in the election, they were not officers of the election, were they? They were not Republicans?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 70. Was E. A. Pyne, one of the officers of the election, regularly sworn in?—A. Yes, sir.

J. F. PYNE being produced and sworn before C. W. Burnham, notary public for Benton County, on this 27th day of Feb., A. D. 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant; Nichols Burnham on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your age, name, place of residence, and occupation?—A. J. F. Pyne; age, fifty-three; and reside in Vinton; and am a printer.

Q. 2. What are your politics?—A. Democrat.

Q. 3. Were you present at the Nov. election, '82, where the electors of Vinton Township, Benton County, Iowa, voted for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir; part of the time.

Q. 4. You may state all you know, whether Buren R. Sherman voted at that election or not?—A. I did not see him.

Q. 5. You may state, if you know, where Mr. Sherman resided in Nov. last?—A. In Oct. I called at his house in Des Moines.

Q. 6. Do you know where his children attended school?—A. No, sir, I do not know.

Q. 7. How long did he reside there?—A. About six years ago he moved there.

Q. 8. How long ago was it since he sold his homestead here in Vinton?—A. I think one year since he sold it to Mr. Avery.

Q. 9. Prior to his election as governor, and after the expiration of the office as State auditor, where did he reside?—A. To the the best of my knowledge and belief he lived at Des Moines. He had his money there before and since that.

Q. 10. Did he live at Vinton?—A. He did not.

Q. 11. Are you acquainted with Joseph Arrowood?—A. Yes, sir; I have known him for 25 years, anyway.

Q. 12. What is his mental capacity for doing ordinary business?—A. I do not think that he is competent for any ordinary business.

Q. 13. Is he capable of doing or carrying on any ordinary business you know of?—A. No, sir.

Q. 14. Is he capable of either buying or disposing of property?—A. I think he is incapable of either one or the other.

Q. 15. Are you acquainted with A. L. Burroughs?—A. I am not much acquainted with him; I have met him often for the last three years; I have seen him often on the street.

Q. 16. You know him, do you?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 17. What is his mental capacity?—A. I think far below mediocrity, mentally. He has been sent to the insane asylum; I know that by hearsay. He has been supported by the public.

Q. 18. Is he generally regarded as an insane man in the county, as far as you know?—A. As far as I know he has been called insane, and as weak-minded.

Q. 19. You think not a man of sound mind?—A. No, sir; I think not.

Q. 20. Is he capable of carrying on business in his own behalf?—A. I do not think that he is.

Q. 21. Do you know John Shane?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 22. How long have you known him?—A. I have known him over 26 years.

Q. 23. He has been formerly judge of this judicial district, has he not?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 24. State senator?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 25. You may state what Judge Shane's mental capacity has been since the 7th of July last up to and after the 7th of November.—A. I think that he was disqualified from performing any kind of business in mental ability.

Q. 26. Have you met him frequently?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 27. Is that the understanding of the people after the 7th of November as to his condition?—A. Yes, sir; that has been the understanding as far as I know or have heard.

Q. 28. Do you know where Mr. William C. Yates lives?—A. I know of the farm he resides on; it is in Taylor Township.

Q. 29. Do you know how long he has been there?—A. No, sir; only by hearsay.

Q. 30. He now resides in Taylor Township?—A. No, sir.

Q. 31. Does his brother, J. M. Yates, live with him?—A. Yes, sir; and that I only know by hearsay.

Q. 32. You may state any other matter you may know of benefit to contestant in this case.—A. Well, I know by hearsay about money being brought by parties in town to our Democratic friends, saying that if they could not elect their man by votes they could by money.

Q. 33. Do you know of any money being used to elect Congressman?—A. No, sir; not for either party.

Q. 34. Were you present, or did you know whether any persons besides qualified officers, assisted in counting the votes at the November election, 1882, when the office of Representative was voted for, etc., other than the judges and clerks?—A. I saw one gentleman help about counting the votes; I didn't see the three brothers Stechman; I was there only a short time; I don't know whether they were qualified or not; the first two I know of, J. A. Colcord and Mr. Traer. I saw them but do not know whether they were qualified or not.

Q. 35. What were they doing?—A. Trear was tallying and Colcord was reading votes.

Q. 36. What are their politics?—A. Republican.

Cross-examination:

Q. 37. What did you mean by not knowing whether qualified or not?—A. Sworn.

Q. 38. You do not mean to say they were not the clerks?—A. No, sir; one clerk of the three was missing.

Q. 39. Traer is competent, honest, straightforward?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 40. His reputation is good?—A. I don't know anything against either of them. I think, however, they were a little officious on account of Colcord being brother-in-law of the governor, and Traer having the promise of the postal route; that is the floating report.

Q. 41. Did you think that that particularly disqualified them?—A. I think it might possibly.

Q. 42. In what way does it affect his actions?—A. I cannot define more particularly; I cannot catch that part.

Q. 43. You do not wish it implied it would make them dishonest so that they would become corrupt?—A. No, sir; I don't know as it would.

Q. 44. How frequent have you seen Judge Shane since July?—A. Well, I think that the first that I saw him was the latter part of October; then saw him perhaps once a week; saw him on the street once or twice, riding with Mr. Cooper.

Q. 45. Walking, too?—A. Walking apparently from the office this way.

Q. 46. All about town?—A. No, sir.

Q. 47. Did you talk with him?—A. I spoke to him.
Q. 48. He knew you, didn't he?—A. He couldn't talk; he simply bowed.
Q. 49. Did he seem to lack the power of expressing himself?—A. He cannot talk; there was a blank look on his face, different from his usual look; expressionless, compared with what it used to be.
Q. 50. So that it changed his general appearance?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 51. Don't you know that it is the common report that to see Judge Shane you would not think anything the matter with him?—A. No, sir; I never heard any such report as that.
Q. 52. You remember that he was a candidate for judge, even after he had this attack?—A. No, sir; only that he was nominated.
Q. 53. Do you remember of seeing the letter that he wrote, declining such?—A. No, sir; I don't remember about that.
Q. 54. Do you know that he voted?—A. No, sir; I saw his name on the roll; that is all.
Q. 55. Whereabouts does Mr. Burrows live; where did he live during the fall, about the time of the election?—A. He used to live in the south part of Vinton; he lives in Will———
Q. 56. What was he doing at that time?—A. Nothing; he was a county charge.
Q. 57. Didn't he work about?—A. I never saw him.
Q. 58. Has he a family?—A. Yes, sir; I believe so.
Q. 59. How long have you been acquainted with Mr. Burrows?—A. For some two or three years I have seen him about, and knew who he was.
Q. 60. Did you ever have any business transactions with him?—A. No, sir.
Q. 61. Have you ever talked with him particularly?—A. Have spoken to him two or three times.
Q. 62. What you know of his condition is more what you have heard than personal knowledge?—A. Yes, sir; more hearsay than personal knowledge; but I have met him often, and knew that he belonged to an inferior class of humanity.
Q. 63. In morals?—A. No, sir; but demented.
Q. 64. How does that manifest itself?—A. He didn't seem to know anything. He has been subpœnaed. You can have him up here before your eyes.
Q. 65. Now, Mr. Pyne, in regard to Mr. Sherman. What office did he hold when you were at his house?—A. I think he was governor at the time.
Q. 66. What office did he hold previous to his election as governor?—A. State auditor.
Q. 67. How many terms had he been State auditor?—A. Two terms, I think.
Q. 68. Three terms, wasn't it?—A. Well, I don't remember that; it may have been so.
Q. 69. He went from this county to Polk County on his election as auditor the first term?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 70. Immediately after the expiration of his last term of office that same year he was elected governor, wasn't he?—A. Yes, sir; I think so. I think his office expired in January; elected governor the next October.
Q. 71. Answer in regard to his homestead. Did he own it when he was elected governor?—A. Yes, sir; I think that he did. His year expired the year after his election—fore part of October last.
Q. 72. Do you know when he sold his homestead?—A. It seems to me it was last winter.
Q. 73. Do you know Avery, who came here last winter?—A. No, sir; I came in October.
Q. 74. Mr. Avery came here; lived in the Mordoff House?—A. Yes, sir; it seems to me, nearly a year before he bought the homestead.
Q. 75. Did the governor still own the homestead—how long after he was elected governor?—A. Possibly a few months. I do not know exactly how long.
Q. 76. Do you know of his voting here right along every election?—A. Yes, sir; I know of his voting at several elections.
Q. 77. Do you know of his voting here the 27th of June?—A. Yes, sir, I think he did; although I did not see him.
Q. 78. And this election for Congress was the October following?—A. Yes, sir; the November following.
Q. 79. I believe you say you don't know of any money being used improperly in the election?—A. No, sir; not a dollar.
Q. 80. This report you heard you considered a sort of campaign braggadocia?—A. That I referred to was genuine money.
Q. 81. I mean to say that it was general campaign braggadocia?—A. No, sir; I really thought that that was a legitimate story.
Q. 82. Who told you?—A. My son told me that Jim Bock took out the money and said if they could not do it by votes they could by that stuff. However, that is only hearsay.

Q. 83. What notion did you form in regard to that—that it was a real, genuine proposal to use money?

(No answer furnished.)

Q. 84. Do you believe it was a proposal to use it?—A. Yes, sir; my son said it was a proposal to use money; also heard of money being paid to individuals.

Q. 85. Did you hear of money being used on the other side?—A. No, sir; with no reasonable amount of certainty.

Q. 86. Didn't hear anything about that?—A. No, sir; I heard talk of it. On my own knowledge, it is not certain. So far as I am concerned, I did not use a dollar corruptly or otherwise, although I needed it bad enough. I got left.

Q. 87. Were you disappointed?—A. No, sir; I got enthusiastic. I spent money during the time of the election without any consideration.

Q. 88. You did spend money?—A. I paid my own livery hire.

Q. 89. No compensation for it?—A. No, sir.

Q. 1. Where do you reside—A. In Vinton.

Q. 2. How old are you?—A. Will be 38 the 14th of April.

Q. 3. Did you vote at the November election, 1882?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. What ticket did you vote?—A. I voted Republican.

Q. 5. For whom did you vote for Representative in Congress, Frederick or Wilson?—A. I voted for Wilson.

C. C. GRIFFIN, being produced and sworn before G. W. Burnham, notary public for Tama County, on this 27th day of February, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and Nichols and Burnham on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Are you a physician?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 2. How long have you been engaged in the practice of medicine?—A. 15 years.

Q. 3. Are you acquainted with George Arrowood, in Taylor Township?—A. I don't think I am; I might know him if I should see him on the street; I don't know anything about the poor farm at all; I know Mike though.

Q. 4. I will ask you if you are acquainted with A. L. Burrows?—A. I am acquainted with Mr. Burrows here; I don't know his initials.

Q. 5. Do you know whether he has been an inmate of the insane asylum?—A. Yes, sir; I think that he has.

Q. 6. What was his mental condition as to being a man of sound intellect? A. He is a man of no bright intellect at all; still he could not be charged as imbecile.

Q. 7. Is he a man, in your judgment, of sound mind?—A. Yes, sir; at times.

Q. 8. Was he returned as incurably insane?—A. I don't know, sir.

Q. 9. Is he a man incapable of attending to, or carrying on, ordinary business of his own?—A. I think that he would sow wheat well. I think he would do very well at something of that kind.

Q. 10. I mean carrying on or doing business of his own other than that of a common laborer. Are you acquainted with John Shane, and were you acquainted with him in the fall of 1882?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 11. Did you attend him as a physician?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 12. What kind of a disease was he affected with prior to the November election, 1882?—A. He was suffering from the effects of cerebral congestion, followed by serous effusion; he has been suffering from the effects of it.

Q. 13. Prior to that time he was a man of more than usual strength of mind?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 14. What was his condition after that disease?—A. Immediately after his attack his mental faculties were more or less impaired.

Q. 15. Is he still suffering from that complaint?—A. He is still suffering from the effects of it.

Q. 16. What was his condition in November last?—A. He was suffering from aphasia.

Q. 17. There are two classes; to which did he belong?—A. Inability to express himself; also a loss of power to remember words.

Q. 18. That is caused by a failure of the blood in one of the arteries that supplies the base of the brain, is it not?—A. Not necessarily clogging of blood; there is a variety of conditions of the brain that might cause it.

Q. 19. It is a paralysis of the whole of the brain?—A. No, sir; not the whole; only a portion of it.

Q. 20. Was he competent on the 7th day of November last of doing or carrying on his ordinary business as he formerly did?—A. No, sir, he was not.

Q. 21. Doesn't aphasia more or less always impair the mental faculties in a business point of view?—A. Yes, sir; it does in a business point of view.

Q. 22. The want of power to speak in aphasic persons is caused by the paralysis of the palatal organs, or organs of the throat, is it not?—A. No, sir; I don't think that it is. I don't understand it in that way. I think it is a disease of the brain when there is an inability to speak language.

Q. 23. Producing confusion of thought?—A. No, sir; not that, exactly; but the inability to remember words to express himself in language.

Q. 24. Does it not apply equally well to the recollection of facts?—A. Yes, sir; I believe that also.

Q. 25. For an apasic person is capable frequently of remembering some few things that he was very intimately acquainted with before, but is less likely to remember anything requiring fixed attention, or thought?—A. Well, that is the tendency; it is not always the case however.

Q. 26. Could John Shane converse on any ordinary topic, rationally, on the 7th of November last?—A. Not intelligently, I don't think.

Cross-examination:

Q. 27. Doctor, in case of Judge Shane, was his disease of such a character that you could locate it with some degree of certainty?—A. Yes, sir; nearly so.

Q. 28. How much and what part of the brain is still diseased, and to what extent; say on the first of November, in his case?—A. It would be impossible to state exactly the extent of the disease; probably located in the posterior part of the convolutions of the brain.

Q. 29. Was the first cause of his paralysis partially removed by absorption at this time, or during the fall?—A. The paralysis was removed.

Q. 30. Do you know about when he had this attack?—A. I have forgotten the exact date, but can tell by reference to my books.

Q. 31. Along in June some time, was it?—A. I think that it was; yes, sir.

Q. 32. Do you remember whether it was after the 4th of July, to your own recollection?—A. I think it was after.

Q. 33. The judge has been somewhat of a politician in local matters, before his attack, has he not?—A. Yes, sir; I think that he has that reputation.

Q. 34. Did you have any talk with the judge on political matters, in the fall campaign?—A. I don't remember having any talk on this topic.

Q. 35. Do you remember whether he was able to take much interest, or have much knowledge of the political situation, from what you saw of him, and know of his condition?—A. Well, from what I saw of him, and know of his condition, I think that he has something of an idea of what was going on, but not a distinct knowledge.

Q. 36. What was his capacity for comprehending and understanding his general business matters in a general way?—A. I don't think that he was competent to transact any business in a general way. I don't think that he is at the present time. I don't think that he has at any time since his first attack.

Q. 37. Do you think that he could exercise the right of franchise intelligently, in regard to voting at that time?—A. I don't know, sir, whether he could or not. I don't know what the law is in regard to that.

Q. 38. I mean to say whether he could determine whom he was voting for?—A. I don't think he could take up a ticket and determine from that ticket for whom he was voting; I don't think he would, of himself, understand the ticket.

Q. 39. Well, did he know or have any ability to determine for himself which of the men he wanted to vote for; did he recognize men?—A. Yes, sir; he seemed to recognize; I don't believe he could call my name now.

Q. 40. That is caused by his inability to reproduce words?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 41. Now, in regard to Mr. Burrows, would you say that he was; did you see him about the time of the general election?—A. Well, I have seen him on the streets occasionally.

Q. 42. Do you know about what his condition was at the time?—A. He is speechless occasionally

Q. 43. There are times when he was of sound mind and competent?—A. Yes, sir; I should think that he was at times.

Q. 44. You don't know what his condition was on the day of the election?—A. No, sir; I don't know what his condition was on that day.

Redirect:

Q. 45. If you were called to answer this question, whether John Shane, on the 7th day of November, had sufficient capacity to make a will, what would be your answer; that is, a will disposing of all his estate?—A. I don't think that he would be competent, sir.

Q. 46. You don't think, then, that he had sufficient mental capacity to take into consideration the general outlines of his estate, to look about himself, and form any rational conclusion as to which of his relatives in justice he ought to make recipients of his bounty; to hold and retain all business in his memory a sufficient length of time to form a rational conclusion concerning them?—A. I don't think that he would be competent to do that.

Q. 2. Did you vote in this precinct in the November election, 1882?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. For whom did you vote for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. The Republican candidate, Wilson.

Q. 4. You were convicted of a criminal offense in Buchanan, were you not?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. What was it?—A. Larceny.

Q. 6. Did you serve your time?—A. Sentenced one year; served 9 months.

Q. 7. You were released for good behavior only?—A. Yes, sir.

Cross-examination:

Q. 8. Were you pardoned out?—A. Through my good behavior, which entitled me to citizenship, so I was told, and voted ever since.

Q. 9. How long ago was that?—A. 5 years, the 13th of March.

Q. 10. You voted ever since?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 11. Have not been arrested since that time for any offense?—A. I was last summer; just a little bit of a case.

Q. 12. You were not indicted, were you?—A. No, sir; not at all.

Q. 13. Acquitted, were you not?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 1. What is your age, name, place of residence, and occupation?—A. 26 years; Homer Township, Benton County, Iowa; farming.
Q. 2. Did you vote at the November election, '82, for the office of Representative in Congress; and if so, for whom did you vote?—A. I voted the straight Democratic ticket; for Frederick.
Q. 3. How do you know you voted for Frederick?—A. Because I read the ticket.
Q. 4. How long have you lived in this township?—A. Three years and over.
Q. 5. Where were you born?—A. In Denmark.

Redirect:

Q. 6. You have been naturalized?—A. Yes, sir; I was naturalized in Vinton.

Q. 1. What is your name, age, residence, and occupation?—A. Tom Collins.
Q. 2. What is your age?—A. 58 years.
Q. 3. Residence?—A. Homer Township.
Q. 4. Benton County, Iowa?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 5. Occupation?—A. Farming.
Q. 6. You voted at the November election, '82, for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir; and I have not missed an election in 23 years in Homer Township; I know that.
Q. 7. For whom did you vote?—A. For the Hon. Ben. Frederick; that is the man I voted for.
Q. 8. Did you peddle tickets that day?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 9. These tickets you gave out, whose name did they have on for Congressman?—A. The name of B. T. Frederick; I did not peddle tickets for any other man; all the tickets I gave out had Ben. Frederick's name on. I saw some others that did not have his name on. I told them not to vote that ticket; that it was not a straight Democratic ticket.
Q. 10. Who was peddling these other tickets?—A. Mr. Smith here; he pretended to be a Democrat, I guess.
Q. 12. And his tickets had Wilson's name on?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 13. Smith peddled; did he tell them they were Democratic tickets?—A. Yes, sir; they were headed Democratic, but they had Wilson's name on them.
Q. 14. Did you hear him tell them that they were Democratic tickets?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 16. Did he not tell them that it was a Democratic Representative in Congress?—A. I don't know whether he mentioned that; he said here is a Democratic ticket; I heard him say that.

Cross-examination:

Q. 17. They were Democratic tickets, were they not?—A. They were headed Democratic.
Q. 18. Most of the names on the ticket were Democratic?—A. Yes, sir; all but Wilson's.
Q. 19. Some of these tickets were voted?—A. Yes, sir; I understood so.
Q. 20. A number were voted, were they not?—A. I expect so.

Q. 7. Did you vote at the Nov. election last?—A. Yes, sir; I did.

Q. 8. For whom did you vote as Representative in Congress?—A. Well, I could not tell that for sure.

Q. 9. Did you vote the Democratic or Republican ticket?—A. Democratic.

Q. 10. For whom did you intend to vote?—A. I voted the same ticket that Mr. Collins gave me. I voted the ticket that Smock's name was on. I did not know which Congressman was on. I could not tell that for sure.

Q. 11. Who gave you that ticket?—A. I got 3 or 4 of them—lots of tickets were there.

Q. 12. Who gave you the one you voted?—A. Mr. Meyer.

Q. 13. Was the township ticket printed on it?—A. I could not tell that.

Q. 14. Did you intend to vote for Republican or Democratic candidate for Congress?—A. I suppose the Democratic.

Q. 15. Tell whether he who gave you the ticket told you whether it was a Democratic ticket?

(Objection).

Q. 16. Did the party from whom you got the ticket tell you it was a Republican or Democratic?—A. Democratic.

Q. 17. Did he say a clear Democratic ticket?—A. It says on the ticket that it is a Democratic ticket.

Q. 18. Did you intend to vote for Mr. Frederick as Democratic candidate for Congress?—A. I intended to; I can't tell for sure that I did.

Q. 19. Can you read English?—A. No, sir.

Cross-examination:

Q. 20. There were some Democratic tickets with Wilson and Smock's name on?—A. Yes, sir; I know I voted the ticket that had Smock's name on. I know Smock; he is a straight man, so far as I know. I don't know which Congressman was on; I can't swear to that.

Q. 22. You know Smock's name was on that ticket?—A. Yes, sir; I know that.

Q. 2. How long have you resided there?—A. 13 years.

Q. 3. Did you vote at the November election, '82?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. For whom did you vote for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. Well, I voted for Frederick.

Q. 5. From whom did you get your ticket?—A. That is something that I don't know. Smith gave me one, and Collins gave me one, and I don't know which one I voted.

Q. 6. You know that you voted for the Democratic candidate for Congress, Mr. Frederick?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 7. Was it your intention so to vote? You wanted to vote for Mr. Frederick, did you not?—A. Yes, sir; that is it.

Q. 8. What did Smith tell you about the ticket he gave you as to its being a Democratic ticket? Did he tell you that it was a Democratic ticket?—A. Yes, sir; he said it was a Democratic ticket.

Q. 9. Did he tell you that it was a straight Democratic? And you voted a ticket with Wilson's name on it? Did you intend to vote for Frederick?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 10. You can't be positive which ticket you voted?—A. No, sir; I can't.

Q. 11. You are positive that Smith told you they were both alike?—A. Yes, sir; I know that.

Q. 12. And you read the ticket?—A. Yes, sir; I can read it.

Q. 13. You can read English?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 14. Was Mr. Frederick's name on the ticket that you voted? Can you read English?—A. Yes, sir; I can read tickets well enough. I can read a little English.

Q. 16. Was Frederick's name on the ticket you voted? You don't read English very well. You can read English newspapers?—A. Yes, sir; a good deal.

Q. 16. You can read them very well?

Q. 17. You know that it was for Frederick, unless it was a bogus ticket; that he told you it was a Democratic ticket? You know that you intended to vote for Frederick anyway?—A. Yes, sir; I intended to vote for him whether that was the ticket or not.

Q. 18. If his name was not on the ticket they deceived you?—A. Yes, sir.

I, Eldon Moran, a notary public and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony in this cause, in pursuance of the annexed agreement attached to the testimony of J. L. Adams, whose testimony was taken 22d day of Feb., 1883, do truly certify that on the 14th day of March, 1883, in pursuance of the notice hereunto annexed, I took the depositions of the following-named witnesses: Dan McGraw, Michael Donnelly, John Coan, John Kirchner, Henry Schaffer, Peter Madison, Thos. Collins, Theis Seeck, Jacob Boge, Geo. Mehr, James Lynch, Claus Kirchner, Thos. Donnelly, F. C. Byers, John Lynch, J. Struck, F. Kuck, M. Kaibach, J. Scheel, R. Schellhase, whose testimony is set forth in the following manner: Each witness was by me duly sworn or caused to be sworn in my presence as provided by law, and when sworn the questions were propounded to him by the respective parties, Benj. T. Frederick, contestant, and James Wilson, contestee, by their respective att'ys; and the question by me read to the witness, who answered the same, and his answer by me in the language of the witness taken down under each question propounded, and reduced to writing till the deposition was completed.

I further certify that when the testimony of each witness was taken I carefully read the same over to the witness, who corrected the same, and each correction noted, and said testimony was then signed by the witness and sworn to by him before me.

I further certify that T. Brown & Carney appeared as counsel for the contestant, Benj. T. Frederick; G. W. Burnham appeared as counsel for James Wilson, contestee.

In witness whereof I have set my hand and seal notarially this 15th day of March, 1883.

[SEAL.]

ELDON MORAN,

D. 1883, at 2 o'clock p. m., your contestant, Benjamin T. Frederick, will take the testimony of the following-named witnesses, residing in Cedar Township, in Benton County, Iowa: Henry Lamb and A. Kile; also residing in Vinton, E. M. Evans, whose testimony, when so taken, and at the proper time, will be read in evidence before the House of Representatives of the United States, in the contest of your election as a member of the House of Representatives, between Benjamin T. Frederick, contestant, and you, James Wilson, respondent or contestee.

Dated at Marshalltown, this 15 day of March, A. D. 1883.

BENJAMIN T. FREDERICK,
BROWN & CORNEY,
His Attorneys and Counselors.

We acknowledge and admit service of this notice Mar. 15th, 1883, and waive time and consent the testimony may be taken.

March 15th, 1883.

NICHOLS & BURNHAM,
Att'ys for Contestee.

STATE OF IOWA,
Benton County, ss:

Depositions of witnesses produced before me, Eldon Moran, notary public and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony, and duly sworn before G. W. Burnham, a notary public for Benton County, Iowa, on this 15th day of March, 1883, in pursuance of the notice hereunto attached, in a proceeding pending before the House of Representatives of the United States of America, in a contested election for the office of Representative in Congress, in which proceeding Benj. T. Frederick is contestant, and James Wilson contestee. The following testimony was taken before me:

STATE OF IOWA,
Benton County, ss:

H. G. LAMB, being produced and sworn before G. W. Burnham, notary public for Benton County, on this 15th day of March, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and Nichols & Burnham on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your age?—A. 27 years.

Q. 2. What is your name?—A. H. G. Lamb.

Q. 3. What is your place of residence?—A. Mount Auburn, Cedar Township, Benton Co., Iowa.

Q. 4. Were you one of the clerks of the November election, in 1882, in Cedar Township, Benton Co., Iowa, in which the electors voted for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. I was.

Q. 5. Have you the ballot-box in your possession, as such officer, at the present time?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 6. You may state how the ballot-box was kept since the election?—A. I took the ballot-box, when we closed the polls, to our store, across the street, and put it under the counter; it has been there ever since the election.

Q. 7. Did you put anything on top of it?—A. Yes, sir; the books.

Q. 8. Have you ever opened the ballot-box from that day to this?—A. No, sir.

Q. 9. Anybody else been to it, to your knowledge?—A. No, sir.

Q. 10. Was this box put under the front side or back side of the counter?—A. Back side.

Q. 11. Who has access to the box but yourself? anybody? what clerks are in your store but yourself?—A. I have no clerks.

Q. 12. Have you assisted in the counting of the votes for the office of Representative in Congress; did you assist in counting the ballots in the presence of Mr. Burnham, Mr. Wilson, and Mr. Frederick?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 13. How many did you find for the office of Representative in Congress for each of the candidates?

(Contestee objects, because it has not been proven that the ballots have not been interfered with, and that these are not entirely different votes voted at the November election.)

Q 14. Now, how many votes did you find in the count to-day?—A. Wilson had 123.

Q. 15. Now, was it 123?—A. Well, taking it out of the poll-book, there was 122.

Q. 16. How many for Mr. Frederick?—A. 60, I think.

Q. 17. How many blank ballots were there?—A. Six, I believe.

Q. 18. How many for Mr. Platner?—A. Well, I didn't count the blank votes.

Q. 19. You had better count them now.

(Witness proceeds to count the ballots again.)

A. There are six.

Q. 20. How many votes were there received as shown by the poll-books?—A. 196, I think.

Q. 21. You may state whether there was any ballots other than in the box cast at the election; state whether any ballots have been disturbed since the election?—A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. 22. Was not there a controversy there at the time as to whether the ballot had Frederick's name on it or not?—A. No, sir; not to my knowledge.

Q. 23. I will ask you if there was any Democratic ballot with the township ticket, and whether you had a controversy in regard to counting at the election; whether there was a Democratic ballot found in the box in the evening of the canvass, after the election, with a township ticket attached, that the parties had a controversy as to whether it should be counted or not?—A. There was a ticket there, and there was a question about it, but I didn't think there was a township ticket attached to it.

Q. 24. What kind of ticket was that, and is that ticket in the box?—A. I don't know; my understanding is that there was a Democratic ticket; that there was a county and township ticket torn off from the State ticket.

Q. 25. Did that ticket have a Democratic name on it?—A. I don't know.

Q. 26. Was that ticket strung with the other tickets?—A. I don't know that.

Q. 27. How did you find the ballots as to their having been strung, whether they were strung or not?—A. Yes, sir; they were.

Q. 28. I will ask you did you leave them strung on the night of the election?—A. They have been strung until to-day.

Q. 29. Did the ballots have the same general appearance they had on the night of the election when they were put in the box?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 30. I will ask you, when you took the box away, whether it showed any appearance of having been disturbed when you took it from under the counter to-day?—A. No, sir; it did not.

Q. 31. What appearance, if any, did the box show that it had been disturbed?—A. Well, from the books I put on top of it.

Q. 32. Did it have the appearance of any dust having settled upon it?—A. Yes, sir; there was some dust; I took the duster and dusted it off.

Q. 33. Now, was there a Democratic ticket that two of the judges took out of the box and voted not to count, and one of the judges voted that it would count?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 34. Did that have Frederick's name on it for Congress?—A. I do not know.

Q. 35. It was a Democratic ticket, was it?—A. That was my understanding; I did not see the ticket or read it.

Q. 36. That makes a difference in the number of tickets found in the box to-day, doesn't it?—A. Yes, sir, I think so.

Q. 37. That ticket was not strung on the day of the election?—A. I do not know.

Q. 38. Did you keep the tally when the count was made on the day of the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 39. Have you one of the poll-books of Benton Co. in your possession?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 40. Is it here?—A. Yes, sir; it is.

Q. 41. You may take the poll-book and state how many votes were cast at the November election, 1882, as shown by the list of voters?—A. 196.

Q. 42. State how many votes, as shown by the tally-list, as being cast for Benj. T. Frederick?—A. 60.

Q. 43. How many for James Wilson?—A. One hundred and twenty-three.

Q. 44. How many for David Platner?—A. Seven.

Q. 45. You may read the voters in that book and see how many were returned for the office of Representative in Congress; read so that the commissioner may take it down.

(He reads it.)

A. For the office of Representative in Congress, 5th district, there were 190 ballots cast, of which James Wilson had 123, Benj. T. Frederick had 60, and David Platner had 7.

Q. 46. Upon the recount of the votes you find an error of one ballot less than were returned for Mr. Wilson, did you not?—A. Yes, sir, I believe so; one less.

Cross-examination:

Q. 47. You also find on the recount one less number of ballots than there were persons voting on the day of the election, didn't you?—A. Yes, sir, I think so.

Q. 48. In taking the number of votes for Wilson, the number of votes for Frederick, the number of votes for Platner, and the number of blanks upon which the voter has shown by the ticket he didn't vote for Congressman, their sum makes one less than the number of voters on the day of the election, does it not?—A. I haven't added them up; I have counted them but not added them up.

Q. 49. Please do so as shown by the count to-day.—A. I find one vote short.

Q. 50. You also find one vote short for Wilson, by the return made?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 51. Didn't you conclude then that the ballot that is lost, that does not appear as a vote for Wilson and makes this error?—A. Yes, sir, I do; I think that that vote was counted for Mr. Wilson.

Q. 52. If that vote was here it would make the number of ballots correspond with the number of persons voting, would it not?—A. Yes, sir; if that vote was counted; that vote has been counted, has it not?

Q. 53. No, sir; I am not talking about that now.—A. I understand you now; if that vote was counted, it would make the ballots correspond with the poll-book.

Q. 54. It would make the number of votes for Wilson as he has returned in the returns of the election.—A. It would not change it any.

Redirect:

Q. 55. What vote do you mean, that the last ballot voted was a Republican ballot?—A. I don't know which one was last.

Q. 56. Or did you mean that if this vote was scratched and counted for Wilson he would have one more?—A. I think that that one vote was counted for Wilson.

Q. 57. That the vote that you now referred to the commissioner, which at the election was counted for Wilson and have it marked exhibit, now is this the ballot, the one you believe to have been counted on the day of the election for Wilson?—A. I think that it is.

Q. 58. And the vote that is short from the box was Democratic ballot; would you remember it?—A. That is my understanding of it.

Q. 59. You may now present the ballot to the notary and have it attached and made a part of this return in this matter, and have it marked Exhibit "H."—A. We have already used "H."

Q. 60. There was a Democratic ballot thrown out on the day of the election, was not there?—A. Yes, sir.

Cross-examination:

Q. 61. When you speak of the absent ballot being the one that was counted for Wilson, you had reference to this one being erased marked just now, and placed on evidence?—A. I think that is the one we had some ques. about whether or not it was scratched.

Recross-examination:

Q. 62. Do you know to your own knowledge whether or not the ballot now as an exhibit was counted for James Wilson?—A. I do not.

Q. 63. Now do you know what name for Congressman was upon the ballot that was thrown out as you have testified?—A. I do not know.

Q. 64. In this the particular ballots found to-day upon the count taking into account these blank ballots make one less than the number of names upon the poll-book, and you also find one less for Mr. Wilson to-day than you found when you made the count on the day of the election the return by you as clerk, did you not agree that the ballot that was thrown out to have Ames Wilson's name on it for Congress?—A. I can't say as to that; I don't know what name was on.

Q. 65. If it had it would make his vote the same as the return by you, would it not?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 66. It would take this ballot, would it not, to equal what you found in the ballot-box?—A. Yes, sir; it would take that one.

Q. 67. Taking this one out from among the blanks leaves this one short, does it not?—A. Yes, sir; I think that it does.

Q. 68. Who handled the ballots that were counted on the day of the election?—A.

I think Mr. Kile was the one who took the ballots out of the box; he counted them, I think; any way he looked them over; handed them to Mr. Larmore; Mr. Cooney called the names.

Q. 69. Who besides yourself kept tally?—A. Mr. Sullivan.

Q. 70. Did your tallies agree on the day the count was made?—A. Yes, sir; I think they did.

Q. 71. Has this box been locked?—A. No, sir.

Q. 72. Has this ballot-box been in a position or situation where it would be impossible for any one of them to have taken a ballot from the string since the count was made?—A. No, sir; it is possible that such a thing would be.

Q. 73. You are not prepared to say that no one has taken a ballot out of the box since the day of the election?—A. No, sir; I can't say that, but I don't think that it has been so.

Q. 74. It might have been without your knowledge?—A. Yes, sir; it might.

Q. 75. Was the box kept in the public store building?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 76. Was it where the public had access?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 77. Have parties been in your store in your absence?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 78. Did you know of any talk about what the box contained, and since this contest?—A. No, sir; I didn't.

Q. 79. How did you come to be subpœnaed as a witness here?—A. I don't know.

Q. 80. When were you subpœnaed; by whom?—A. I don't know by whom; Mr. Frederick, I suppose.

Q. 81. You knew nothing of any claim being upon you that there was a less number of ballots and voters until you came here to-day?—A. No, sir; I did not know.

Q. 82. Did you know for what purpose you were to be subpœnaed here to-day?—A. No, sir; I did not know; I judged though. There was a question asked me awhile ago about there being any talk between us shortly after the election in my store, something about a vote not being counted that ought to have been counted, I forget that. I believe there was a talk in our own store. What parties were in there for awhile, I do remember one, however.

Q. 83. Do you know who talked about it?—A. No, sir; I can't tell you. That is the only talk I know of, except on the night of the election when the votes were being counted; there was quite a number of people in there.

Q. 84. Were you ever asked anything about this missing ballot, of your knowledge, when they told you to come here to-day?—A. No, sir; I don't think I was ever asked that ques.

Q. 85. Did you say to any one that there was a ballot that was not counted or thrown out on the day that the count was made since the election?—A. I don't know of this talk you speak of.

Q. 86. Then, so far as any knowledge you have communicated to any one, there would be no reason to suppose there was a ballot not counted or thrown out at the time the canvass was made?—A. No, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 87. What was the substance of the talk, immediately after the election, that you had in the store about the ballot being thrown out?—A. Well, I can't tell you; the question was sprung, but there was a ques. among the trustees whether that vote should be counted or not; I think I made the expression that the votes should have been counted, that there was one in favor of counting it and two against counting it. I thought it should be counted in; we studied over the matter; that is the substance of it.

Q. 88. You know that ticket was a Democratic ticket?—A. They said that it was; that is my understanding of it.

Q. 89. On the day of the election, at the time it was being counted?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 90. You understand that; you understand it to be a Wilson ballot did you?—A. No, sir; I understood it to be a Democratic ticket. I don't know what name was on it for Congress.

Q. 91. Did you see the ballot yourself?—A. I saw it as they read it in their hands.

Q. 92. And you determined whether it was a Democratic or Republican ticket?—A. I cannot tell you from my own knowledge.

H. G. LAMB.

STATE OF IOWA,
Benton County, ss:

A. KILE, being produced and sworn before G. W. Burnham, notary public for Benton County, on this 15th day of March, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant and Nichols & Burnham on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, place of residence, and occupation?—A. I live in Cedar Township; I am a farmer by occupation.

Q. 2. What county and State?—A. In Benton Co., Iowa.
Q. 3. Were you one of the judges at the November election, 1882?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 4. Did you assist in canvassing ballots cast at that election for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 5. You may state if there was a ballot in that election in the box that was thrown out.—A. There was.
Q. 6. What was the ballot, Democratic or Republican ballot?—A. It was a Democratic ballot.
Q. 7. You may state whose name was on it for Representative in Congress?—A. To the best of my knowledge Mr. Frederick's name was on the ballot.
Q. 8. Was the ballot strung with the other ballots in the box?—A. I cannot say.
Q. 9. Did you find out about it?—A. I tried to find out, but I didn't find out, and didn't any one here who knows; if I did perhaps I could.
Q. 10. Don't you think you could?—A. The township ticket on the ballot was blank; I noticed that before it was put in the box, and the count was sprung after the ballot was put into the box, whether it was legal or not. The township ticket was separated from the main ticket; it was laid on the top of the township ticket; I passed it open to the judge and he received it and held it in his fingers this way, and asked the voter whether he should put it in; whether he wanted to vote that ticket; I cannot tell which he used, but he said, yes; I think thereupon he folded it up and put it in the box; the judge and I both took pains to find out whether he wanted to vote it or not, and this is what the dispute was about.
Q. 11. Now, that ticket was not strung with the other ballots in your judgment, was it?—A. I didn't attend to that part; one of the other judges tended to the stringing; whether he strung that ballot I cannot tell.
Q. 12. Did you assist to-day in counting the number of ballots in the box?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 13. Did you find this ballot with this township ticket on it?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 14. You didn't find it with the township accompanying it?—A. I cannot identify it to-day.
Q. 15. Is there one ballot short of the number of voters found on the tallying list?—A. I do not think there is. I think that it balances with the tally-list.
Q. 16. Will you look at the number with the clerk? How many votes did you find by your count to-day that were cast for James Wilson?—A. I should have to refer to the poll-book; but I think they corresponded.
Q. 17. I mean from the count to-day made in your presence here?—A. 123, I believe.
Q. 18. Are there 123 for Wilson to-day?—A. As many as that.
Q. 19. You do not know how many were counted for Wilson to-day, do you?—A. I think 123.
Q. 20. Let me count the Wilson ballots, and see whether 122 or 123 here, as the tally-list shows. You may refresh your memory.
(Witness examines the papers.)
Q. 21. What do you see?—A. 123 I see.
Q. 22. Let me count the ballots, and see whether you find it?—A. If you will allow me to explain it.
Q. 23. Yes, sir; go ahead and explain it.—A. There is a blank in there that was not counted for Mr. Wilson on the night of the election. I cannot show you the vote, but you know that ticket was not counted; it was returned as scratched. We had a dis. about that; I used specks, and I did not trust my specks, and held it to the light; and there was a good many present, but I could see the pencil mark.
Q. 24. Is this the one?—A. Yes, sir; here it is; I could tell it when the light shone on it; there was a lead-pencil mark. I claimed 123 with this one.
Q. 25. Without that, only 122?—A. Yes, sir; that is, as near as I know.
Q. 26. If this other Democratic vote was counted that was not counted there would have been 61 ballots for Frederick, would there not?—A. Yes, sir; to my understanding.
Q. 27. Did you say you saw the voter when he voted that particular ticket, and that he voted it with the township ticket blank, and the balance of the ticket a printed Democratic ticket?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 28. And the judges received that ballot; one of the judges rolled it up, knowing that the township ballot was detached from the ballot?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 29. And that these same judges refused to count that for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 30. It was not counted on that night, and that causes a discrepancy between the ballots and the box, does it not?—A. I think so; my understanding that it did not correspond; and one of the clerks made the remark, I cannot account for that, and that was thrown out.

Cross-examination:

Q. 31. So that vote was thrown out?—A. It was claimed that it was illegal; that it was not voted if there were two separate tickets.

Q. 32. Two tickets folded up together?—A. I will show you how they were presented; I have a few of the tickets in my pocket. (Witness produces some tickets from his pocket.) Here is a blank Greenback ticket; don't matter, as I can explain it just as well with that. (Explains it.) Now, here is the township ticket; this is the blank. Now, I had another ticket which was like this; he held it right up on there that way and passed it to the judges; he received it, and asked whether he wanted to vote it or whether he should put it in. He said yes, and then rolled it up and put it in in place of the blank, and put this on top; yes, in this way, and handed it to the judges. The question came up, is that legal, and two of the judges decided that it was not legal, and it was rolled up.

Q. 33. Then the vote that was thrown out had another ticket and a part of a ticket rolled up inside, and one of the judges took it from the ballot-box; didn't he?—A. The judge rolled it up; I identified it. I watched that there was no other like it.

Q. 34. Do you know whether the township ticket that was rolled up inside this Democratic ticket, or places for the same office?—A. The township part, you mean?

Q. 35. Yes, sir.—A. Whether they were the same tickets?

Q. 36. Yes, sir; on the main ticket, that was on the township ticket?—A. No, sir; no other names on it; no other names on the main ticket in the township offices.

Q. 37. Did you surely put both Democratic ticket and the township ticket together? You rolled it up inside the Democratic ticket?—A. We did not throw them out at all; we kept them in the box till the last night, when we were stringing them; they were then passed to another judge; whether he strung both of them I cannot tell; I found one to-day that I thought is the one.

Q. 38. Will you find that one that you think was strung?

(Witness examines the ballot-box.)

A. This is the one, or one of those like it, that was rolled up.

Q. 39. Did you, then, to-day, count this blank in making what you called 195 votes found?—A. It seems kind of that way.

Q. 40. You counted this part which you say was rolled up in the Democratic ticket to-day, which makes the number of ballots found 195, did you, if you counted that as a blank?—A. Well, it seems to correspond. It seems to me that the ticket was counted, and it of course would be counted there.

Q. 41. Then, if you counted the township part on that ticket which you say was found rolled up in the Democratic as one ticket as one ticket, the number of ballots should correspond, should they not, with the number of names?—A. It seems so, but it was not counted that night, that I recollect. Neither of these tickets were counted.

Q. 42. You found it here to-day?—A. It seems to correspond with the number of tickets.

Q. 43. Then if there is one less vote for Wilson than you found on the night of the election, how do you account for that discrepancy, and also the fact that there is one less ballot to-day than there were voters, if you count this township ticket as one ticket?—A. It seems to me that it does not change Mr. Wilson's votes at all.

Q. 44. Must you not, then, conclude that the Wilson ticket had been taken from the ballot-box in order to make this mistake or to account for this mistake?—A. I didn't say that. Now, I handed you the ticket marked Exhibit H.

Q. 45. I ask you whether or not that ticket was counted for Wilson on the night of the election?—A. I say that it was not counted.

Q. 46. Mr. Wilson had 123 votes without this being counted on the night of the canvass?—A. I would not say that positive. I do not think that was counted, for when we compared the votes there was one more for Wilson. We tried to rectify it. I remember that that vote that was thrown out made it balance.

Q. 47. When you made the comparison and found one less vote than voters, as shown by the poll-book, did you take into account either the township ticket or the Democratic ticket in which it was wrapped up?—A. Neither of them.

Q. 48. You now find the township part of that ticket in the box to-day?—A. Yes, sir, I think I do.

Q. 49. Isn't it probable that the Democratic is here?—A. Yes, sir; it may be here, but I cannot identify it. I think that I could if I could see it. I do not know whether it was here or not. I don't believe that it is here, honestly.

Q. 50. What is your judgment as to the count that was made on the night of the election? Was it correct or not?—A. My judgment was that it was correct. We were all satisfied that everything was right, with the exception of that one ticket that was rolled up.

Q. 51. That night, as I understand it, you did not take into account either of these two tickets that were rolled up?—A. No, sir.

Q. 52. In throwing both out you found a discrepancy of one ballot?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 53. If one of these ballots are here to-day and there is still a discrepancy, how do you account for that?—A. I only counted for the loose ticket; it is not here and it is not counted here; if this count is as I think it is; then the one that was rolled up was counted to-day, but there is a little more to that; I would not remark very positive that such is the case; it was a ticket just like that; there are other tickets here that it would fit, but there are tickets voted with the township ticket that was not voted at the same time; I do not think that that has anything to do with this case.

Q. 54. How many votes did you find and count, how many ballots did you find and count them for Wilson on the night of the election?—A. Well, my understanding is 123.

Q. 55. Do you think it was possible that any mistake was made in the count?—A. I was satisfied at the time that there was no mistake made.

Redirect:

Q. 56. You did not count the ballots on the night of the election, did you, any further than call them?—A. I counted them from the books, and one of the judges counted them too, and thought that the clerks kept a correct account. We compared afterwards and counted the tickets, and every one of the judges counted them and they corresponded.

Q. 57. There was one ticket there that was a Democratic ticket that was thrown out?—A. It was supposed so.

Q. 58. After that Democratic ticket was any other name than Frederick's on making 61 votes in all?—A. Does the book appear to show that there were 60 cast on the night of the election?

Q. 59. Yes, sir.—A. Then he should have had 61.

Q. 60. Wilson appears to have had one more if that one is counted?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 61. Wilson appears to have had one more vote counted to him than he would have had unless you counted that scratched ticket?—A. Without that ticket that was counted that night?

Q. 62. Let me ask you if there were any other persons that voted a township ticket without any other?—A. I don't remember of any such vote occurring.

Q. 63. Cannot this township ticket you refer to have been attached to some other ticket at the same time it was voted before separately?—A. It might be.

Q. 64. You do not pretend to say that this township ticket that was thrown out is a ———?—A. No, sir, but a ticket just like it; I think that it was the same ticket; I am not positive of that.

Q. 65. This ticket that was thrown out was a Democratic ticket with Frederick's name on it, with township ticket blank, and township ticket when it was passed to the judges by the voter making one entire ticket only, if it had been attached?—A. Yes, sir; one entire ticket in two separate tallies.

Q. 66. It was received by the judges, and the judge threw it out?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 67. You only find 122 ballots with Wilson's name now in the box; did you accept that scratched ticket (referring to Exhibit H)?—A. I did not count in these two tickets that have been counted here, I understand you 122, and threw that one out; I claim that that ticket was thrown out the night of the election.

Q. 68. The same number of ballots appear in the ballot-box that were put in on the night of the election; when you came to compare the ballots, you then had one short?—A. Yes, sir; the whole number of votes polled.

Q. 69. Without throwing out this Democratic ticket, if you had counted that it would have made your list full?—A. Yes, sir; it would have.

Q. 70. Then suppose on the night of the election the clerks had counted one of the too many votes for Wilson, would not that make your count correct with the count to-day, not counting these scratched tickets?—A. It seems so.

Q. 71. Who was the other clerk of the election besides Mr. Sunderland, and where does he live?—A. I don't know; I think he lives in Cedar Township.

Q. 72. Were the members of the board of the election, the clerks in that township, all Republicans?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 73. Do you remember the name of the voter that voted that ticket that was thrown out?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 74. Who was he?—A. His name is Mr. Hatch; I don't know his given name; he was a young man.

Q. 75. The judges did not tell him that they would throw that ticket out if he voted it that way?—A. I was not there at the time of the dispute.

Q. 76. They did not tell him at the time he voted it that it would be rejected because he did not have that attached?—A. No, sir.

Q. 77. Did you see the ticket after it was voted that night, that double ticket?—A. Yes, sir; I saw it, and I saw the heading of the Democratic ticket, but that is all I saw till after it came out again; then the other judge found it and passed it to me; says he, "here is his ticket;" he identified it, and I found it just as I thought that it was.

Q. 78. You regarded it as a double ticket, and threw it out on that account; that it was a double ticket?—A. Yes, sir; being two ballots voted, the dispute was that it should have been voted in one ticket, should have been attached to the other; the judge threw it out on that account.

Q. 79. You are not sure but what it is in the ballot-box now?—A. No, sir; I am not positive, but I think that it is not.

Q. 80. But this ticket he referred to as Exhibit H is one of those blanks you found to-day?—A. Yes, sir; it is one of them.

Q. 81. Then if this is counted in among these blanks that would be only 122 for Wilson?—A. Is that the way of it?

Q. 82. Yes, sir; that is the way of it.—A. That is not right, according to my understanding.

BROWN. That is right according to the count to-day.

Q. 83. Now, do you know whether or not there was more than one township, more than this one township ticket, which was rolled up in the Democratic ticket, voted on the day of the election?—A. Not to my knowledge; there were voted tickets on that count, but they were printed on.

Q. 84. Your best judgment is that this is the township ticket found rolled up in the Democratic ticket?—A. Yes, sir; I believe it is the one.

Q. 85. Then if the vote is one short of the number of voters, if the ballots found to-day are one short of the number of those who voted on the day of the election, don't you conclude that there is one ticket besides the Democratic ticket thrown out that is not here to-day that was voted on that day, counting this as one ticket?—A. No, sir; that is not my understanding; my understanding is that the tickets were all here that should have been here, that is, so far as the count is concerned.

Q. 86. But it is not possible that the ticket has been taken out of the box since the day of the election?—A. Yes, sir; it is possible.

Q. 87. Must it not be so if you count this township ticket as the ticket that was rolled up in the Democratic ticket, if there is one short of the number of voters?—A. No, sir; I think that a ticket that is counted to-day only the other part is not here; I think that it is not.

Q. 88. If they were both here and you counted both it would make one more than the number of voters?—A. Yes, sir; well, I don't know that it would make more, but there would be one ticket more; but if I could find that I could not count it that way, but as I cannot find it, and as we counted, I think we have counted one more to-day than we counted that night, because that ticket was rolled up.

Q. 89. This ticket now in dispute being among the blanks, that leaves Wilson only one short?—A. It seems so, but it is——

Q. 90. You do not get my idea of it?—A. Well, I have an idea; I think that I know just how it was if I can find it, and explain it.

Q. 91. You have explained it in your way; if both tickets were counted it would make one more than the number of voters?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 92. If you had this ballot it would be a Wilson ballot?—A. If there was only another Democratic ticket the box would balance.

Q. 93. Well, if you put this in then the Wilson ticket would make the Wilson vote the same as that; also, your number of ballots the same. If you had any more tickets in that box you would have more than the number of people voted; as it stands now, there is a Republican ticket gone.

Redirect:

Q. 94. Is that a Democratic or Republican township ticket you find there, and that you think that was rolled in that ticket?—A. I know that it was gotten by a Democratic.

Q. 95. Yes, sir; this one was.—A. This is one of those very tickets that that young man voted; he got up this ticket, that young man.

Q. 96. Are you positive that there was a name written on the ticket not printed he voted?—A. No, sir; but those that voted after this young man had it printed, but the assessor was not printed on this ticket; I cannot say whether he had that name on when he voted.

Q. 97. Are you positive that this is the ticket he voted?—A. No, sir; not positive of that.

Q. 98. This ticket may have been on some other Republican ticket and not separate?—A. Yes, sir; it is possible, but that could be destroyed—the half of the ticket.

Recross-examination:

Q. 99. One idea we cannot mutually understand in that count to-day; you find 122 for Wilson, don't you?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 100. You find 60 for Frederick?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 101. You find 7 for Platner?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 102. You find 6 blanks?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 103. That makes 195 in all, don't it?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 104. The night of the election you had 196. Look at the returns of your poll book.

(Examines poll-book.)

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 105. In this return you gave Wilson 123?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 106. Now, one of Wilson's ballots are gone?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 107. Still this ballot-box has as many ballots in as on the night of the election?—A. That is my impression, that there was.

Redirect cross-examination:

Q. 108. When you came to compare the ballots on the night of the election, didn't you find one ballot less in the box than voters on the list by throwing out this Democratic ballot?—A. It was so expressed.

Q. 109. Isn't it your understanding that that Democratic ballot that was thrown out was not strung at all?—A. My impression is that it was not strung, although it might have been strung after all; I don't know about that.

Q. 110. Your impression is that it was not strung?—A. My impression is that it was not strung on account of our not being able to find it here, althongh it may be here; I looked for it; I found a Greenback ticket in the shop up there; but he didn't vote the Greenback ticket; that is where I am bothered.

Q. 111. Then, if the State ticket was not strung, the township ticket was not strung, was it; you didn't count the township ticket either; you didn't count either part?—A. It would not be reasonable that it would be strung.

Q. 112. Now, didn't you find all the tickets strung to-day? Look at it and see.—A. No, sir; it was not strung.

Q. 113. Then you have not found anything of that ballot that was thrown out in your judgment to-day, have you?—A. I am not positive that I have.

Q. 114. Then all the ballots that were not yet cast that night for Wilson, you have found in the box that these parts of ballots correspond, do they not?—A. No, sir; we are one short.

Q. 115. Who for?—A. For Wilson.

Q. 116. You don't find that the ballot is gone; you find the same part of ballots in the box, as you ought to have, don't you? In counting the one out that was voted for Frederick, what do you say to that? There is a miscount of one for Wilson on the night of the election.—A. I do not know; I am not able to find out if there is a mistake.

Q. 117. There was one ticket short on the night of the election, and you know that was a Democratic ticket, don't you?—A. That was so reported; when the last count was made there might have been a mistake in that count; one of the judges made the final count, and that was one short of the names, but where or what ticket I don't know.

Q. 118. You don't wish to be understood that one of Mr. Wilson's tickets have been taken out of the box?—A. No, sir.

Q. 119. What do you mean, that there was a miscount of Mr. Wilson, as I know that the ballots to-day don't agree with your returns within one?—A. No, sir; it don't seem to agree within one ballot.

Q, 120. Then, if the clerk had tallied one too many for Wilson, your ballots to-day would be right?—A. Yes, sir; if they were counted right.

Q. 121. If the clerk tallied one too many for Wilson, that would be all right to-day?—A. It seems so.

Re-examination:

Q. 122. If one had been taken out it would account for it?—A. Yes, sir.

E. M. EVANS, being recalled and sworn before G. W. Burnham, notary public for Benton County, on this 15th day of March, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant and Nicholls & Burnham on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Have you the poll-books of Cedar Township, Benton County, Iowa?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 2. Have you an abstract of the returns made by the board of county canvassers to the board of State canvassers of the election of Nov., 1882, for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir; I have.

Q. 3. How many were returned for Wilson from Cedar Township, and how many for Benj. T. Frederick?—A. What township would be in this large abstract here? (Witness examines.) For Wilson, 123 votes; Frederick, 60 votes; David Planter, 7 votes.

Q. 4. You may state how many votes are shown by that abstract to have been returned to the board of State canvassers for Homer Township, Benton County, Iowa, for the same offices.—A. Homer Township, for James Wilson, 66 votes; B. J. Frederick, 35 votes.

Q. 5. How many votes were returned from that township for the other Democratic candidates who were on the Democratic ticket at the Nov. election, 1882; also, Gaston for sec. of state?—A. For Walker, candidate for sec. of state, is 67; for treas., 67; for auditor of state, 67; for Palmer, 67.

Q. 6. State how many votes Republican candidates received for these same offices, secretary and others.—A. Hull, sec. of state, 34; treas., 34; attorney-general, McPherson, 34; for judge of supreme court, 34; clerk of the supreme court, 34; reporter of supreme court, 34; Representative, James Wilson, 66; district judge, 34.

Q. 1. Where do you reside?—A. Cedar Township, Benton County, Iowa.

Q. 2. How long have you resided there?—A. In Cedar Township with the exception of three years; been in Benton County most of the time since '53.

Q. 3. Did you vote at the election in November, 1882, in Cedar Township, Benton County, Iowa, for the office of Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir; I did.

Q. 4. For whom did you vote for the office of Representative?—A. I voted for Mr. Frederick.

Q. 5. For Benj. T. Frederick?—A. Yes, sir; I did.

Q. 6. Now, you may state whether the name was written or printed on the ballot.—A. It was written on mine very poorly.

Q. 7. With colored ink?—A. It was a rather pale red-colored ink.

Q. 8. What are your political opinions?—A. Republican. I did not vote for any township officer in the township except for Mr. Lamb; his name was on the bottom of the ticket; he is the only township I voted for.

Q. 9. You may look in the ballot-box and see if you can find it.—A. Yes, sir; I find the ticket in the box, but the ink is not all the same color.

I, Eldon Moran, a notary public and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony in this cause, in pursuance of the annexed agreement, attached to the testimony of J. L. Adams, whose testimony was taken Feb. 22nd, 1883, do truly certify that on the 15th day of March, 1883, in pursuance of the notice hereunto annexed, I took the depositions of the following-named witnesses: H. G. Lamb, A. Kile, E. M. Evans, Wm. Engledon, whose testimony is set forth in the following manner:

Each witness was by me duly sworn, or caused to be sworn in my presence, as provided by law, and when sworn, the questions were propounded to him by the respective parties—Benj. T. Frederick, contestant, and James Wilson, contestee—by their respective att'ys, and the same by me read to the witness, who answered the same, and his answer in the language of the witness by me taken down under each question propounded, and reduced to writing, till the deposition was completed.

I further certify that when the testimony of each witness was taken I carefully read the same over to the witness, who corrected the same, and each correction noted, and said testimony was then signed by the witness, and sworn to by him before me.

I further certify that T. Brown and Carney appeared as counsel for the contestant, Benj. T. Frederick and Nichols & Burnham appeared as counsel for the contestee, James Wilson.

In witness whereof I have set my hand and seal notarially, this 15th day of March, 1883.

THOMAS COLLINS, being produced and sworn before me, John Baum, a notary public in and for Benton County, on this 19th day of April, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (Nichols and Burnham appearng on the part of contestant, and T. Brown on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Where do you reside?—A. Homer Township, Benton County, Iowa.
Q. 2. Do you know Michael Driscoll?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 3. Did you attend the Nov. election, 1882, in Homer Township, Benton County, Iowa, in which the electors voted for Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir; I did.
Q. 4. Did you know how Michael Driscoll voted?—A. Yes, I did.
Q. 5. How did he vote?—A. I filled out his ticket for him. I came right up to the box with him. I filled out tickets for Daniel McGraw, also. I was looking after them.
Q. 6. What ticket did he vote?—A. Democratic ticket.
Q. 7. For whom did he vote for Reprepresentative in Congress?—A. For B. T. Frederick.
Q. 8. Daniel McGraw voted the same ticket, did he?—A. Yes, sir, he did.
Q. 9. They both voted in that Township in your presence at that election?—A. Yes, sir; they did.

THOMAS COLLINS.

THOMAS COLLINS recalled:

Q. 1. Did you know Justice Nelhaus, last witness?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 2. Did you give him a ticket last November election?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 3. Did the ticket you gave him have Frederick's name on for Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir; it did.
(Excused.)

THOMAS COLLINS recalled:

Q. 1. Did you attend the November election in Homer Township, Benton County, Iowa, 1882?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 2. When did you first know of the bogus tickets, or in other words Democratic tickets, with Wilson's name on? What time of day did you first know of these tickets?—A. I can not tell you the hour exactly, but I believe I noticed it in the forenoon, but I can't tell the hour exactly.
Q. 3. When did you first have a talk about it?—A. Well, I don't know; David Smith and I had some talk about it some time at the door there; came up to me and I heard that Wilson's and Smock's name was on the ticket, so I handed it back to the German; he tore it up and threw it away. Here is a straight ticket, said he; I took that and voted it.
Q. 4. Now, was there such a discussion there about these bogus tickets; everybody knew of it at the time?—A. No, sir; not many. They could not all hear. We talked about it.
Q. 5. Wasn't the tickets given to men who voted, without your seeing it?—A. I expect lots of them.
Q. 6. Did you know of Smith telling the voters that they were straight Democratic tickets.—A. I don't know whether he said they were straight tickets or not; I have heard them say so to some of them; he would give Republican tickets; they would not take it; then he would say here is another kind, a Democratic ticket; I heard him say that.
Q. 7. Were you present when we took testimony in the school house near your place of residence?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 8. Did you hear Mr. Smith say that he could not remember what the stories were told at the time of the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 9. That he did not consider himself responsible for what lying he did?—A. Yes, sir; I heard it.

Q. 10. Neither did you consider yourself responsible for the lying you did on the day of the election?—A. I expect we all had to lie a little on election day.

Q. 11. You did it all around, didn't you?—A. I told the other man just what I thought. I never pressed a man to vote; I said, here is a straight Democratic ticket, you can vote it if you want to. I didn't lie to anybody as I know of; of course, we joked about a great many things, but that had nothing to do with the election.

Q. 2. What county?—A. Benton.

Q. 3. Did you vote at the Nov. election, 1882?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. What township did you vote in?—A. Moor Township.

Q. 5. Whom did you vote for for Representative in Congress?—A. I intended to vote for Mr. Frederick.

Q. 6. Whom did you get your ticket of?—A. Mr. David Smith.

Q. 7. Did he tell you that it was a Democratic ticket?—A. Yes, sir; he said it was a Democratic ticket.

Q. 8. Straight Democratic ticket?—A. I do not remember.

Q. 9. Did he tell you any Republicans on it?—A. Not that I know of.

Q. 10. You intended to vote for B. T. Frederick?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 11. Did you read your ticket?—A. Yes, sir; but Mr. Wilson's name was on there; I know that.

Q. 12. Did you suppose he was Democratic candidate from what Mr. Smith told you?—A. I do not remember Smith telling me anything about it; I think I rubbed his name out and put Mr. Frederick's name on; I intended to, if I did not.

Cross-examination:

Q. 13. What is your best recollection as to whether you did rub out this Mr. Wilson's name?—A. I do not understand that.

Q. 14. Did you rub out Mr. Wilson's name and put Mr. Frederick's on?—A. I think I did, but I am not certain of it.

Q. 15. You knew Mr. Wilson's name was on that ticket?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 16. You read it?—A. Yes, sir; I can read English.

Q. 17. You read your ticket?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 18. Did you know whom you voted for?—A. Well, I read it; I suppose I am not certain of it.

Q. 19. Do you remember testifying that Wilson's name was on the ticket?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. For whom did you vote for Representative in Congress?—A. I did not vote for any one.
Q. 6. You did not vote for that office?—A. No, sir.
Q. 7. Have you the ballot-box of this township in your possession?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 8. Has anybody opened that box since election?—A. No, sir.
Q. 9. Does it contain the same votes put in at election?—A. Yes, sir; I never knew it to be opened. I had the key in my box where I kept my papers. Unless some one has opened it, the box has been kept shut.
Q. 10. Any one there to open it?—A. There was a man there, but I did not open it.
Q. 11. Who was the party that came there to open it?—A. Mr. Smith came here to see it opened. I told him I would not open it till the board called for it.
Q. 12. You may now open the box in the presence of the commissioners, count the ballots, and tell how many were cast.
Witness, assisted by D. W. Shoemaker and Moran, the commissioner, proceeded to make an examination of the ballots.
Q. 13. Have you canvassed the votes cast for Representative in Congress at the general election, Nov. last?—A. Yes, sir; I have counted them.
Q. 14. Did you count them correctly?—A. Yes, sir. Our township clerk, Mr. Morgan, also.
Q. 16. Well, who kept it just now?—A. Mr. Shoemaker, and Mr. Moran, the commissioner.
Q. 17. Did he call the votes correctly?—A. Yes, sir; he did.
Q. 18. You may now select out all the Democratic tickets in that box that have Wilson's name printed on. First, did you hear the tally announced every time?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 19. How many votes did each of the candidates receive?—A. I do not remember that.
Q. 20. Well, you may look at the paper of the clerk.—A. 66 for Wilson, and 35 for Frederick, and one for B. Frederick.
Q. 21. You may now go over the ballots and ascertain how many Democratic tickets have Wilson's name printed on them as Representative in Congress.
(Having made examination.)
A. 28.
Q. 22. Please attach one of these tickets and make an exhibit of your answer; that is, one of the Democratic tickets that has Wilson's name on it, marked Exhibit F. vs. W. "A."

Q. 25. How many tickets were cast at the Nov. election in this district altogether?—A. I do not know, but I think there were 102 cast altogether.

Q. 25. Have you the poll-book of the Nov. election, 1882?—A. Yes, sir; here it is.

Q. 26. What is the return for the office of Representative in Congress? Read it.—A. For Wilson 66, for Frederick 35; that is what the book says here.

Q. 28. Did you find that there were 36 votes actually cast for Frederick by a recount of the ballots?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 29. Has the ballot-box been unlocked since the election?—A. No, sir.

Q. 32. Are the tickets cast at that election the identical tickets you have counted to-day?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 33. How many votes appear by the poll-books to have been cast at that election? (Witness examines the book.)

A. 102.

Q. 34. In what room in your house has the box been kept?—A. Up stairs in the bed room.

Cross-examination:

Q. 35. How many votes do you find for Mr. Wilson on actual count?—A. By the book here?

Q. 36. You counted them to-day?—A. Yes, sir; I counted them to-day.

Q. 37. Do you know how many were counted to-day for Mr. Frederick?—A. So far as they counted them is all that I know; I do not know personally.

Q. 38. How many of the Democratic ballots, how many of the straight Democratic ballots had the name of James W. Smock printed on them?—A. I do not know that.

Q. 39. Well, you will have to count them over in the box. Take these straight tickets, straight Democratic, and see how many of them have the name of James W. Smock on them.

(Witness counts the tickets.)

A. 27.

Q. 40. Now I ask you to look at the tickets, Exhibits A and B. Is it printed on there?—A. Yes, sir; it is on both of them.

Q. 41. Do you know James W. Smock?—A. Yes, sir; I do.

Q. 42. Do you know whether he holds any official position in Benton County? Do you know whether or not he is county recorder?—A. Yes, sir; he is recorder.

Q. Do you know what his politics are, whether they are Democratic or Republican?—A. I do not know; I do not talk about politics. I have always heard he is Republican.

Q. 44. I will ask you if you knew the name of Smock as not on the regular Republican ticket in 1882 for recorder in Benton?—A. I would have to look at that and see. Yes, sir; I find it here.

Q. 45. I will ask you if that is not the same name that is found on the Democratic ticket, James W. Smock?—A. Yes, sir; it is the same name.

Q. 46. You find the same name on the Republican ticket in the same election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 47. I will ask you if it was not voted at the same election with the Democratic tickets on which you find the name of James Wilson?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 48. Deposited in the same ballot-box?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 49. On the same day?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 50. You were one of the judges of the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 51. Also one of judges that received the ballots?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 52. Deposited them in the ballot-box?—A. Yes, sir; I put them in myself.

Q. 53. Can you state now from the count that was made to-day, how many votes were cast for B. T. Frederick?—A. I think that was 35.

Q. 54. How many votes from the count to-day were cast for James Wilson?—A. Sixty-six.

Q. 55. Did you find any Democratic tickets on which the name of Frederick was printed where his name was scratched off, and the name of Wilson written in?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 56. How many?—A. I have two, if I remember; I am not sure.

Redirect:

Q. 57. You may state if there is one ticket besides that 35 with B. Frederick's name on it?—A. I do not know that there is. I do not know for sure whether that one is counted in.

Q. 58. There are 36 with that, according to the clerk's announcement.—A. Well, I do not know; I cannot say as to that.

Q. 59. Did you not find Democratic tickets with Wilson's name printed in and then erased and Frederick's name written in?—A. Yes, sir; I did.

Q. 60. How many?—A. I can not remember whether one of them or two. I do not know. I find some of them that way.

Recross-examination:

Q. 61. On the night of the election you counted every ticket marked B. Frederick for Frederick, did you not?—A. I do not remember any more; according to that last I did not.

(Evidence of this witness to be continued.)

LOUIS ILLIAN, being produced and sworn before me, John Baum, a notary public in and for Benton County, on this 19th day of April, A. D., 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (Nichols and Burnham appearing on the part of contestee, and T. Brown on the part of contestant):

Q. 1. Where do you reside?—A. Homer Township, Benton County, Iowa.
Q. 2. Did you vote at the Nov. election, 1882?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 3. What ticket did you vote, Democratic or Republican?—A. Democratic.
Q. 4. Did you vote for B. T. Frederick for Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 5. Whom did you get your ticket from?—A. From Tom Collins.
Q. 6. Did you see Mr. Frederick's name on it?—A. Yes, sir.

LOUIS ILLIAN.

$1.00 paid as fee by contestant.

LOUIS ILLIAN, recalled:

Q. 1. Do you know Hans Peterson?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 2. Do you know whether he attended the November election in Homer Township?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 3. Did you see him there?—A. Yes, sir; I came with him.

Q. 4. Do you know whether he voted Democratic or Republican ticket?—A. Democratic ticket.
Q. 5. Did you see him vote?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 6. Do you know for whom he voted for Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 7. Who was it for?—A. For Frederick.
Q. 8. Who made out his ticket?—A. We made out our tickets, and one was myself, Gahagan, and Hans Peterson.

Cross-examination:

Q. 9. Did you see his ticket after it was made out?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 10. Was the name of Frederick written in?—A. No, sir; it was a ticket we got of Collins.
Q. 11. Was it printed in?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 12. How long after you made out the ticket was it until he voted?—A. Well, we came here in the morning and went home at noon.
Q. 13. Where were you and he all the time until the tickets were made out?—A. We were right here.
Q. 14. Did you keep your eye on him all the time?—A. No, sir.
Q. 15. Well, did you see him vote it?—A. We talked the matter over. He said: "This is the ticket I want," and that he was going to vote the ticket. I could not swear that it was the same one.
Q. 16. He might have got one of somebody else?—A. I don't think so.
Q. 17. You didn't have your eye on that ticket?—A. Can you have your eye on other folks' tickets and keep it in them also?
Q. 18. I am asking you?—A. I am asking you. You see, I cannot swear that it is the same one; you can go and find out; Peterson lives in Clay County.
Q. 19. I want to find out by you?—A. You cannot do it; it is impossible now for me to tell just what his ticket was; we talked the matter over; we all said that we were going to vote that ticket; that is all I know about the matter; I saw him vote; I don't pretend to keep my eye on other folks' tickets.
Q. 20. That is what I want to get at.—A. That is what I told you in the start; if you want to find out whether he voted that same ticket, telegraph to him in Clay County; he will see to it quick, I tell you.
Q. 21. Did you know when Gahagan voted?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 22. Were you present when he voted?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 23. How long was it after Gahagan voted until Peterson voted?—A. I don't know that.
Q. 24. I am asking you a question; I want to know if you have any recollection of how long it was after Gahagan voted that Peterson voted?—A. No, sir; I don't know that. If I would have known it I would have watched them.
Q. 25. Did you know when Gahagan voted?—A. I saw him vote; yes, sir.
Q. 26. Do you know when Peterson voted?—A. Yes, sir; it was in the afternoon.
Q. 27. Was it at least 5 hours from the time Gahagan voted until Peterson voted?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 28. Where were you when you had conversation with Peterson?—A. Right here in this house.
Q. 29. Who else was here?—A. Gahagan.
Q. 30. Anybody else?—A. I suppose David Smith was here.
Q. 31. Anybody else?—A. Kussel. I think Meyer was here.
Q. 32. The room was pretty full, was it?—A. No, sir; not full.
Q. 33. What did Peterson do with his ticket after he filled it out?—A. I suppose he put it into the ballot-box.
Q. 34. I asked you what you knew?—A. I don't know; I expect he put it into the ballot-box.
Q. 35. Do you know whether he put it into his pocket or not?—A. I don't know that.
Q. 36. How long was it from the time you filled it out until you supposed he put it into the ballot-box?—A. I don't know.
Q. 37. Was it a half a day?—A. We came in the morning, and went home at noon.
Q. 38. What time in the morning was it that you fixed up your tickets?—A. I suppose it must have been 8 or 9 o'clock.
Q. 39. What time did you vote?—A. In the forenoon.
Q. 40. What time in the forenoon?—A. That is nobody's business; I voted on election day.
Q. 41. What time in the forenoon did you vote?—A. In the forenoon.
Q. 42. What time in the forenoon?—A. Between 7 and 12 o'clock.
Q. 43. Can't you answer me any other way than that?—A. No, sir.
Q. 44. Is that the best answer you can give?—A. Yes, sir; that is the best I can give.
Q. 45. Between 7 and 12 o'clock?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 46. Did you know what time of day Peterson voted?—A. Some time between 7 and 12 o'clock.

Q. 47. What time did Gahagan vote?—A. I think about the same time. I did not keep the time, of course, but I know that he voted that forenoon.

Q. 48. Did you see him when he voted?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 49. Did he vote the same ticket you did? Were you watching him?—A. No, sir; then I would have known.

Q. 50. Were you watching Peterson?—A. No, sir.

Q. 51. Did you follow Peterson around to see when he put his ticket in?—A. No, sir.

Q. 52. As a matter of fact, you did see him put it into the ballot-box?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 53. Who did he get it of?—A. A Mr. Kussel.

Q. 54. Who was the other fellow that was there?—A. The other trustee, I suppose.

Q. 55. Who was he, and what was his name? Do you refuse to give your best recollections to the time of day when they voted?—A. I gave you the best I have.

Q. 56. Did you vote before you fixed up those tickets?—A. No, sir.

Q. 57. Then it was after nine o'clock when you voted?—A. Yes, sir; after the box was open.

Q. 58. Then you can answer me somewhere nearer than by saying between 7 and 12 o'clock?—A. I thought that was near enough.

Q. 59. I did not think that it was. You can answer me better than that.—A. I don't know exactly what time it was when we put in votes. I know that it was between these hours.

Q. 60. It was after 9 o'clock, was it?—A. I know it was between these hours.

Q. 61. What did you do afterwards?—A. We came here and appointed township officers.

Q. 62. After the ballots were fixed up?—A. No, sir; before that.

Q. 63. What did you do after you had fixed up your ballots?—A. Peddled out tickets.

Q. 64. Did Peterson peddle tickets also?—A. No, sir.

Q. 65. What was he doing?—A. He was voting.

Q. 66. What did he do then?—A. Standing around like the most of us.

Q. 67. Were you not watching him?—A. No, sir.

Q. 68. Do you know whether he had any talk with anybody else?—A. With David Smith, I am certain.

Q. 69. Did he talk with Henry Meyer?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 70. With Fred. Henson?—A. I suppose so.

Q. 71. Were you watching him when you were talking with them?—A. No, sir.

Q. 72. Do you know that he did not get a ticket from one of these men?—A. No, sir.

Q. 73. You know that you fixed up the ticket, and that some time after that he voted?—A. Yes, sir; that was all I know about it.

Redirect:

Q. 74. Do you remember, after you fixed up your tickets, how long after you last saw his ticket before you went up and voted?—A. He had them in his hand; I did not watch him.

Q. 75. It was a short time, wasn't it?—A. Gahagan and I talked the matter over, whom we were going to vote for; we fixed up the tickets, and that was all the watch I kept of them.

Q. 76. You are sure that he voted the Democratic ticket?—A. Yes, sir; that is what he said he was going to vote.

Q. 1. Where do you reside?—A. Homer Township.

Q. 2. Did you vote at the last election held in Homer Township, Benton County, Iowa?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. What ticket did you vote?—A. Democratic.

Q. 4. Whom did you get your ticket from?—A. From Fred Hansen.

Q. 5. Did you vote the clear Democratic?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 6. Who did you vote for for Representative in Congress?—A. I guess Wilson was on there, but I thought he was Democratic.

Q. 7. Did he tell you it was a Democratic ticket?—A. Hansen told me that it was a Democratic ticket.

Q. 8. You did not intend to vote for a Democrat, did you?—A. No, sir.

Q. 9. What did Hansen tell you about this?—A. He did not tell me anything about that. I did not look the ticket over at all. He said to vote that ticket for the reason that it was the best.

Cross-examination:

Q. 10. Did you know that Wilson's name was on the ticket?—A. Did not look it over at all.

Q. 11. He simply handed you a ticket and told you that it was the best?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 12. Did he ask you to vote it?—A. Yes, sir; but I would not have done it if I had known that it was for Wilson, a Republican.

Q. 13. He told you he thought it was the best ticket?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 14. Did he tell you that Wilson's name was on the ticket?—A. I guess so, but I do not know whether he told me or not.

Q. 15. You voted that ticket because Mr. Hansen told you that it was the best ticket?—A. Yes, sir; but I did not want to vote for any Republican.

Redirect:

Q. 16. Did you know that Wilson's name was on it when you voted it?—A. No, sir; I did not read it.

Q. 17. You would not have voted the Republican ticket at all?—A. No, sir; I never heard of Frederick or Wilson before.

Q. 18. You did not intend to vote for Wilson when you voted?—A. No, sir.

Q. 19. You did not know that his name was there at all until you voted it?—A. No, sir.

Q. 20. If you voted for a Republican, you were fooled in doing so, were you not?—A. Yes, sir.

Recross-examination:

Q. 21. You tell us that you voted for a Republican. You knew that Hansen was voting that ticket?—A. Yes, sir; I knew that. All those other men said was so.

Q. 22. He told you that it was the best ticket. He gave you his judgment. You took his opinion?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 23. You know Hansen to be a man that you respect?—A. I guess so.

Redirect:

Q. 24. Did you know that when he gave you the ticket, that he was st——ing until afterwards?—A. No, sir; I did not know anything about it. I just wanted to vote a straight Democratic ticket.

Q. 25. He gave you a ticket as such and you voted it, and afterwards learned that he was working for Wilson?—A. Yes, sir; I would not vote for Republican Congressmen

Recross-examination:

Q. 26. You do not know now that you did vote for Wilson?—A. Yes, sir; I do.

Q. 27. How do you know?—A. Because the other men said they voted for Wilson and they got their tickets from Hansen.

Q. 28. Your impression in regard to the ticket that you voted is what you heard these men say about it?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 29. Have you been spoken to by anybody as to the ticket you voted?—A. No, sir.

Q. 30. You have talked to somebody about the ticket he was peddling?—A. No, sir; not before the election.

Q. 31. I mean since the election.—A. Yes, sir; I heard that Hansen voted for Wilson.

Q. 32. You suppose that because you got your ticket from him that you voted that ticket too?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 33. You voted that ticket because Hansen told you to?—A. Yes, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 34. Hansen called himself a Democrat?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 35. You suppose that he was peddling Democratic tickets?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 36. You did not suppose he was peddling bogus tickets?—A. No, sir.

Q. 37. You say that you would respect him?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 38. You would not respect him so much now, since he has fooled you?—A. No, sir.

Recross-examination:

Q. 39. Hansen used to be Republican?—A. I do not know.

Q. 40. You testified that he was Democratic.—A. I saw a Democratic ticket when he voted. He gave me a ticket and I read Democratic ticket on the top of it. I can read that much.

Q. 41. You could read your own ticket?—A. Yes, sir; I could have read it.

Q. 2. What ticket did you vote, Democratic or Republican? Who did you vote for for Representative in Congress?—A. I do not know.
Q. 3. Who did you get your ticket from?—A. From Henry Meyers.
Q. 4. Were you told it was a straight Democratic ticket?—A. Yes, sir; Henry Myers gave me a ticket, but did not tell me what kind of a ticket it was.
Q. 5. Ask him if he told Henry Myers what kind of a ticket he wanted to vote?—A. No, sir; he did not.

Q. 6. Did he tell you whether he wanted you to vote the Democratic or Republican ticket or not?—A. Yes, sir; he said to Henry Myers that he wanted a Democratic ticket.

Q. 7. And Henry Myers gave him that for a Democratic ticket?—A. Yes, sir; he said that Henry Myers gave him a ticket, and he thought that it was a Democratic ticket.

Q. 8. Ask him if he had known that a Republican member of Congress was on it if he would have voted it?—A. He says that he wanted to vote a Democratic ticket.

Cross-examination:

Q. 9. Ask him if Mr. Myers told him who was running for Congress?—A. Yes, sir; he says that he told him that Wilson and Frederick were running for Congress.

Q. 10. Ask him if Mr. Myers told him which he thought was the best man?—A. He says that Myers wrote the name on the ticket—the best man.

Q. 11. Ask him if Myers wrote the name on the ticket that he told him to write?—A. He did not see any name.

Q. 12. Ask him if he told Myers to write the man's name down that he thought was the best man?—A. Yes, sir; he says that he did.

Q. 13. Now ask him if Myers gave him that ticket, and if he voted it?—A. Yes, sir; he says that he did.

Q. 14. Ask him if he told the man to write down the name of the man that he thought was the best man?—A. He had the ticket, and Henry Myers was going to fix my ticket, and I voted that ticket.

Q. 15. Ask him if he voted that ticket because Myers told him that he thought it was the best ticket?—A. He says that he voted that ticket because he had confidence in Henry Myers.

Q. 16. Ask him if he had faith in Henry Myers' judgment as to its being the best?—A. Yes, sir; he says it was the best, whatever Henry Myers said.

Redirect:

Q. 17. Ask him if he intended to vote for a Democratic Congressman?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 18. Ask him if he would have voted for Mr. Wilson and not for a Democrat?—A. He says that he wanted the ticket to make the thing sure. He says that he thought that he could put confidence in Henry Myers. He voted that ticket because he thought Henry Myers put the right name on the ticket. He says that he did not know either Frederick or Wilson, but he put confidence in Henry Myers when he voted that ticket.

Q. 19. Did the witness ask Henry Myers for a Democratic ticket?—A. No, sir; he says that he thought that he could see that it was a Democratic ticket.

Q. 20. Would he have it if he had known that it was a Republican ticket?—A. No, sir; he says that he would not.

Recross-examination:

Q. 1. Did you vote at the November election, 1882?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 2. What ticket did you vote, Democratic or Republican?—A. I intended to vote Democratic.
Q. 3. From whom did you get your ticket?—A. Dave Smith.
Q 4. What Smith; is he this man here?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 5. What is his name?—A. Dave Smith.
Q. 6. For whom did you intend to vote for Congressman?—A. I intended to vote the straight Democratic ticket.
Q. 7. Did you ask for a straight Democratic ticket?—A. No, sir.
Q. 8. What did he tell you about the ticket?—A. Nothing. I asked him for a Democratic ticket, or for a ticket. He gave me a Democratic ticket; I don't know whether it was straight or not.
Q. 9. Can you read English?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 10. Did you read it?—A. No, sir.
Q. 11. Did they tell you that it was a straight Democratic ticket?--A. No, sir.
Q. 12. You asked for a Democratic ticket?—A. Yes, sir; I asked for a ticket.
Q. 13. Did he tell you anything about the ticket?—A. No, sir; not that I know of.
Q. 14. You just asked for a Democratic ticket, and he gave you that ticket, and you put it in?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 15. You intended to vote the Democratic ticket?—A I always do; I intended to vote the straight Democratic ticket.

Cross-examination:

Q. 16. Was the ticket open when he gave it to you?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 17. You could read it, could you?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 18. Who folded it up?—A. I did myself.
Q. 19. The ticket was spread out the whole length when he gave it to you?—A. I looked at the ticket to see whether it was a Democratic that I had.
Q. 20. Mr. Smith did not make any revisions about the ticket at all for you?—A. Not that I know of.
Q. 21. He did not deceive you in any way; did not make any revisions, did he; that it was any different from what it actually was, did he?—A. No, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 22. You asked for a Democratic ticket?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 23. What were the words you said to Mr. Smith? Just state them.—A. I asked him for a ticket; that is all I know of.
Q. 24. Did you ask him for a Democratic ticket?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 25. Now, if you had known that that ticket had Wilson's name on it would you have voted it?—A. No, sir.

Recross-examination:

Q. 26. You would have seen it for yourself?—A. Yes, sir; it may have been straight for all that I know.

Q. 27. He handed you the ticket and you folded it up and put it in the box? You knew that Smith was a Republican, did you?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 28. You knew that he was working for Wilson, did you?—A. No, sir; not at the time I voted.

Q. 29. Didn't you know that he was working for the whole Republican ticket?—A. Not when I came here; I came late.

Q. 30. How long have you known Mr. Smith?—A. 8 years.

Q. 31. He has been a Republican all the time?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 32. When he handed you that ticket did you know that Smock's name was on the ticket; that one-legged man in Vinton?—A. Yes, sir; I knew that.

Q. 33. You intended to vote for him?—A. Yes, sir; I intended to vote the straight Democratic ticket.

Q. 1. Are you township clerk?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 2. Did you assist in counting the ballots in this township to-day?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. What is the result of the count for the office of Representative in Congres?—A. 34 Republican tickets, 1 Greenback ticket, 3 straight Democratic tickets, 66 votes for Wilson, 35 for Frederick.

Q. 4. What do you mean by bogus Democratic tickets?

(Contestee objects for the reason that there is a ticket noticed, and that it is not the best evidence.)

Q. 5. What do you mean by bogus Democratic tickets?—A. That they were mixed.

Q. 6. That they had Wilson's and Smock's name on them?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 7. Democratic otherwise, except that they had Wilson's and Smock's name printed on?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 8. I will call your attention to Exhibit "B;" is this the kind of a ticket you denominate bogus Democratic ticket?

(Witness examines it.)

A. Yes, sir; that is the bogus ticket with Smock's and Wilson's name on it.

Q. 9. How many ballots were cast for the straight Democratic tickets?—A. 67.

Q. 10. How many straight Republican tickets cast?—A. 34.

Cross-examination:

Q. 11. Did you find straight Democratic tickets there with Frederick's name scratched off and Wilson's name put on in this recount?—A. Yes, sir; 3 of them were.

Q. 12. Is there a single ticket in the box with all the names on from top to bottom that are Democratic?—A. Well, I don't know.

Q. 13. From the fact that you live there, and know these people, I want to find out is there a single straight Democratic ticket in that box?—A. Yes, sir; 35, I believe.

Q. 14. Well, is there a straight Democratic ticket in that box?—A. I don't know about the last.

Q. 15. Did you find David Smith's name on some tickets for justice of the peace?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 16. Was he elected?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 17. Elected justice of the peace for this township?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 18. Did you then find a single straight Democratic ticket from top to bottom voted by the people in this election; now look?—A. I don't know whether they were straight Democrats or not; I don't know what they claim to be.

Q. 19. Is David Smith a Democrat?—A. Well, sir, he is a stranger to me.

Q. 20. How long have you been there?—A. 14 months; I don't know their politics at all; if I could know their politics I could testify different.

Q. 21. You are the present township clerk?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 22. You keep the township records now, and have them in your possession?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 23. Did you know that Mr. D. L. Smith was elected, was qualified, is now acting as justice of this township?—A. I saw it so recorded in the book, for I was one of the supervisors here. I didn't see anything where he said that he was qualified; nothing to show to that effect.

Q. 24. There was notice given him of his election; didn't the records show that?—A. No, sir; the records didn't show that he was notified.

Q. 25. How long has he been acting as township clerk?—A. 2 months, about.

Q. 26. Well, the David L. Smith elected justice of the peace; is he the same man who was there peddling tickets on the day of the election?—A. He was a stranger to me.

Q. 27. Were you in there yourself?—A. No, sir; I wasn't there; he may have been there, I don't know him.

C. O. BYAM, being produced and sworn before G. W. Burnham, notary public for Benton County, on this 19th day of April, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and Nichols and Burnham on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Where do you reside?—A. Homer Township, Benton County, Iowa.

Q. 2. Were you present at the November election, 1882, at the general election?—A. I was here part of the day.

Q. 3. What part of the day was you here?—A. Well, from half-past twelve, while the polls were opened in the afternoon until after they were closed and the vote all counted out at night. I came right after dinner.

Q. 4. Do you know whether there was any particular discussion and controversy about any particular candidates for any offices?—A. The main point was on Wilson and Frederick, on Smock and McAllister, these men, the two that wanted the most help; for, as we understood it, they were the weakest candidates.

Q. 5. State whether or not the matter was talked publicly.—A. I think so; there was plenty of men on each side.

Q. 6. On which side did Tom Collins talk?—A. He worked faithful and true for Mr. Frederick.

Q. 7. Did you know anything of Mr. Collins making an explanation to voters, telling them who Wilson was?—A. I heard Collins say repeatedly, whenever Smith showed a Democratic ticket, "Hold on, boys, that is a bogus ticket, don't vote that; here is the true blue."

Q. 8. State whether Collins stated at that time, in your presence, and in the presence of those parties, that Smith was electioneering for Wilson and Smock; that the names had been printed on the Democratic tickets.—A. He told them that they were not straight Democratic tickets; that is the understanding I got from him.

Q. 9. Tom was working here in the afternoon?—A. He was here all the time I was here. I know that he stayed until the votes were all counted out. They had some little jokes and fun about it. I think that he was here when I came.

Q. 10. Didn't Tom generally make his appearance whenever any other fellows were trying to get votes for Wilson?—A. Yes, sir; I think that Tom worked faithfully.

Q. 11. Can you remember any particular person that he talked to?—A. I don't know that I can in particular. Whenever there was a voter coming up, that is, one that that was anywhere doubtful, that he thought he could pull over, he always made for them. He generally got two together, you know.

Q. 12. From your observation do you know whether the matter was fully explained by these men, that is, to the voters, as to the looks of these tickets?—A. I heard it explained to most of them; I won't say all of them, because some of the men voted before I came here.

Q. 13. I mean after you came?—A. Not much excitement in only a few votes after dinner.

Q. 14. Were you present all the time taking part in the electioneering men to vote from the time you came until the polls were closed?—A. Yes, sir; I staid here and tried to get all the voters for Wilson and Smock as I could fairly. I didn't deceive anybody. I polled the straight Republican tickets. Those were the only tickets I tried to poll that day. I knew that other tickets were there.

Q. 15. You knew there were; Collins said that he knew that those tickets were split tickets that Smith had?—A. Yes, sir; he knew that.

Q. 16. Did they talk it publicly?—A. Yes, sir; of course he knew it just as well as I did, that there were tickets here with Wilson's and Smock's name on; I heard him say "that is a bogus ticket"; I heard him tell a good many that these were not straight tickets.

Cross examination:

Q. 17. You only polled Republican tickets?—A. I polled straight Republican tickets.

Q. 18. Let me here ask you if you heard Tom speak to other men that you talked with? Did you hear Tom Collins talk?—A. No, sir; I didn't pretend to say that; I don't pretend to say that he absolutely knew that there were Democratic tickets that were split tickets. I heard him say that Smith had such tickets.

Q. 19. What time of day was it?—A. Afternoon; I came at half-past 12 o'clock.

Q. 20. Do you know whether he told them in the first or latter part of the afternoon?—A. Right along all the time; I heard it.

Q. 21. Do you know whether he said anything about it until the middle of the afternoon, at least?—A. To the best of my recollection he mentioned it right off.

Q. 22. You are positive of that, are you?—A. I am just as positive of it, that he knew it in the start, and I think that he knew it right along.

Q. 23. Did you hear men inquire of those men that had bogus tickets for Democratic tickets, and got one of these tickets?—A. Those Wilson and Smock tickets?

Q. 24. Did you hear men asking for straight Democratic tickets and get one of these Wilson and Smock tickets?—A. I heard men asking for straight Democratic tickets, and after talking with them awhile they would take one of those other tickets and vote it.

Q. 25. You don't know what was said to them?—A. I understood some of that talk; it was German.

Q. 26. There are a good many foreigners here, are there not?—A. Yes, sir; some of them in favor of that ticket.

Q. 27. Can they understand English very well?—A. Yes, sir; but not all intelligently.

Q. 28. Do you know that men received that Democratic ticket with Wilson and Smock's name on them, and thought that there were no Republican names on them?—A. I don't understand you.

Q. 29. Didn't you know that men got those tickets with Smock's and Wilson's names on without knowing but they were straight Democratic tickets?—A. I did not know of anybody in that case.

Q. 30. You don't know that these men that testified here to-day were honestly deceived, do you?—A. No, sir; of course I did not; I could not see every voter.

Q. 31. You do not feel as though it was fair to have Democratic tickets and have 2 or 3 Republican names on, do you?—A. Well, I do not think it was fair; I did not see anything wrong about it. What is the difference whether you write it or print it in?

Q. 32. You don't think it was right to impose on the men?—A. I would not ask a man to vote unless I would tell him that I believed that Mr. Wilson was the best man. I worked for Mr. Wilson because I thought he was the best man.

Q. 33. Did not try to deceive anybody about it, neither?—A. No, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 34. Do you believe as a matter of fact that they were deceived?—A. No, sir; I don't believe that they were deceived.

Recross-examination:

Do you know Henry Tluisson?—A. Yes, sir; I think that is the name.

Q. 36. Do you know Henry Steen?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 37. Were these honorable men and good citizens?—A. Yes, sir; first-rate men.

Q. 38. You believe what these men say?—A. I won't say all of them, but I will say Jacob Schellerman.

Q. 39. If he said he was deceived, or any of them were deceived, would you believe it?—A. If Jacob Schellerman should say he was deceived I would believe him; I would not say the same of all of them.

Q. 40. You don't know all of them as well as you know him?—A. I know enough to say that I would not take all of their word; I don't want you to question me any more as to that.

Redirect:

Q. 41. How long have you lived in the township?—A. 15 years.

Q. 42. Do you know those men pretty well?—A. Yes, sir; I have polled votes up there every election.

Q. 43. You are satisfied with the publicity of those ballots; that everybody must have known about it?—A. They had an extra good chance to know. A man might come up in a hurry, vote, and not know of it; but then there was too much excitement over it. For there was so much talk at the election; they were quarreling about it all the time.

Q. 44. They quarreled about those votes?—A. Yes, sir; that was the main fight.

Q. 45. Collins was trying to prevent it?—A. Yes, sir; that is the fight.

C. O. BYAM recalled.

Q. 1. Can you say that there was a single straight Democratic ticket voted that day?—A. D. L. Smith was elected justice of the peace; I don't know of another.

Q. 2. Smith was known to be a Republican?—A. Yes, sir; always as far as I know.

By Frederick:

Q. 3. Was any one voting for township officers on the Democratic ticket?—A. There was no opposition at all; they just picked out who they wanted, and nobody ran against them. If we didn't like them we scratched them; there was no real township ticket.

Wilson:

Q. 4. Did a good many of these men that had formerly voted the Republican ticket?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. A change on the account of the liquor question?—A. Yes, sir; that is the way I understood it.

Frederick:

The same with the Democrats and the same with Republicans; they would pick out from the township wherever they could get a good man; some times it depended on whether they would serve.

Q. 1. Where do you live?—A. In Homer Township.

Q. 2. How long have you lived in Homer Township?—A. 13 years.

Q. 3. Were you present at the election November, 1882?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. Did you hold any official position at that time?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. What was it?—A. I am one of the trustees.

Q. 6. Were you present all the time the polls were open that day, and did you hear any controversy or discussion about the candidate for Representative in Congress?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 8. Did you hear the question raised as to there being Democratic tickets with Wilson's and Smock's name on?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 9. Who did you say was mentioned on the Democratic side?—A. I heard Mr. Collins frequently speak of it.

Q. 10. What id he say about it?—A. He said it was a bogus ticket, and warned others not to vote it.

Q. 11. Collins was very active there, was he?—A. Yes, sir; apparently.

Q. 12. Was there any one else active on the Democratic side beside Collins?—A. I don't now remember exactly.

Q. 14. What did you hear Collins say about these bogus tickets as you call them?—A. He mentioned that Mr. Wilson's name was on the ticket.

Q. 15. Do you know who was handling these Democratic tickets with Wilson's and Smock's names on?—A. Yes, sir; Mr. Smith.

Q. 16. Anybody else?—A. Not that I recollect.

Q. 17. Did you hear Mr. Collins, in the presence of Mr. Smith, make any statements in reference to it about any one?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 18. Do you remember the person's answer; you may state whether it was repeated.—A. Yes, sir; it was.

Q. 19. Was Mr. Collins generally present when they were trying to get men to vote his ticket?—A. Yes, sir; Mr. Smith was flying around too. They are about alike, I guess; pretty well matched.

Q. 20. Smith tried to get votes for his man, and Collins for his man?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 21. Do you know about any misrepresentations made about Smith?—A. No, sir; I do not know of any.

Q. 22. Who were they that were generally in controversy; were they Germans?—A. Yes, sir; very often.

Q. 23. They did not have any controversy over their Irish brethren, did they?—A. No, sir; I guess they were——

Q. 24. Did you know any one voting Smith's ticket after Collins had expostulated?—A. I don't know whether they voted that or not; I saw them take them.

Q. 25. It was in the room, was it, where the voting was done?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 26. Did you peddle any tickets yourself?—A. No, sir; I did not.

Q. 27. Were you one of the judges at the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 28. You did not enter into the controversy?—A. No, sir.

Q. 29. Do you remember what time in the day the controversy came as to the bogus tickets?—A. Different times of the day.

Q. 30. Can you fix the time?—A. I am certain the polls were open in the afternoon; it may have been before that time; I am not positive.

Q. 31. Did you hear Smith say to the voters, "Here is a State Democratic ticket"?—A. No, sir.

Q. 32. You did not hear what conversation he had with the men, how many he deceived, did you?—A. I don't know.

Q. 33. You don't know but he might have deceived a great many, do you?—A. I can't tell.

Redirect:

Q. 34. You don't know that he deceived anybody?—A. No, sir.

Q. 35. Didn't you know that it was one of the warmest fights ever had in your township?—A. Yes, sir; it appeared to be.

Q. 36. Both parties were very active in examining the situation?—A. Certainly they were.

Q. 37. Did not Smith also explain the situation as to why he voted for Wilson and Smock?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 38. You are one of the trustees?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 39. Did you help count the ballots?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 40. Help to count them in the box?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 41. Didn't throw out any?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 42. Made what you considered a correct count?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 43. Made a correct return according to the count, as near as you could make it?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 44. There was no ticket refused to be counted for somebody?—A. No, sir; none refused.

Q. 45. What is your recollection as to the No. of votes cast for Wilson?—A. I can't tell at present. I remember a number of Republican votes, but how many I can't remember.

Recross-examination:

Q. 46. How many times did you count the tickets over?—A. Twice.

Q. 47. Did you count them then?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 48. Did you count them all?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 49. You did not say, but you might have made a mistake in counting the votes?—A. The three trustees counted the same number.

Q. 50. What kind of light did you have?—A. Kerosene lamps.

Q. 51. You can't say but that the clerks in counting might have made a mistake?—A. The No. of ballots corresponded.

Q. 52. You can't tell but what they made a mistake in tallying?—A. I don't see how they could.

Q. 53. You don't know but what they made a mistake in some votes where there were split tickets like those for Representative in Congress; how many times did you go over them; you don't see but what the man might have put down one for Frederick when the name of Wilson should have been tallied, according to the call?—A. Of course, the tallies work.

Q. 54. How many straight Democratic tickets were there on the State ticket?—A. I can't remember at present.

Q. 55. Do you remember how many Republican there were?—A. Yes, sir; there were 35 State Republican tickets.
Q. 56. How many ballots cast altogether?—A 102.
Q. 57. The ballots were State Democratic tickets, were they not?—A. I cannot say whether they were Democratic tickets or not. There was a Greenback ticket, I believe.
Q. 58. There were 35 straight Republican tickets?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 59. Might you not be mistaken about there being 35?—A. I don't think there could be.
Q. 60. Were you here when they were counting?—A. Yes, sir. I helped to count the ballots twice.
Q. 61. Did you help to make up the poll-book?—A. Yes, sir; I signed it.
Q. 62. You were here until it was all finished up; did you sign both papers?—A. No, sir; I did not.
Q. 63. You were not here, then, until it was all finished?—A. No, sir; not until it was all finished.
Q. 64. You were positive there were 35 tickets cast for the State Republican ticket?—A. Yes, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 65. Did the number of ballots correspond with the number of voters?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 66. There are so many men voted?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 67. So many names on the book?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 68. And then the No. corresponded?—A. Yes, sir.

STATE OF IOWA,
Benton County, ss:

FRED. HANSON, being prodnced and sworn before, John Baum, a notary public in and for the county of Benton, on this 19th day April, A. D. 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and Nichols and Burnham on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Where do you live?—A. Homer Township, Benton Co., Iowa.
Q. 2. How long have you lived in Homer Township?—A. About 15 years.
Q. 3. Were you present at the election in Nov., '82?—A. I was.
Q. 4. Did you occupy any official position?—A. I was one of the trustees.
Q. 5. Were you present all day, from the time the polls were opened until the polls were closed?—A. Yes, sir; I was.
Q. 6. You remember there being any discussion during the day about the candidates for Representative in Congress; there was a pretty warm controversy at first over that particular office?—A. Yes, sir; on both sides.
Q. 8. Do you remember of Thos. Collins being here?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 9. Did he have anything to say?—A. He worked for Frederick.
Q. 10. Did he engage in securing votes for Frederick?—A. I saw him hand out tickets.
Q. 11. Do you know Mr. Smith?—A. Yes, sir; I do.
Q. 12. He was trying to get men to vote, too?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 13. You remember Collins asking about there being Democratic tickets that had Wilson's name printed in; was it at one of the elections you have had here?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 14. Do you remember Tom. showing 2 bogus tickets?—A. No, sir; I don't remember it.
Q. 15. Who were the trustees?—A. Jas. Storey and another man.
Q. 16. I would ask you whether there was any other Fred. Hanson here that day besides yourself?—A. There is a voter here by that name.
Q. 17. Was he here electioneering, the other Fred Hanson?—A. I did not know that he was.
Q. 18. What were his politics?—A. I don't know positive. I don't know whether he was here or not.
Q. 19. Did you give out tickets for or to any one that day?—A. I gave tickets, and, in the morning before we opened the polls, I handed a ticket to a man. Then I had some other tickets to give to the men when the polls were open.
Q. 20. Did you electioneer to vote; did you talk to your German friends to get them to vote, before the polls were opened?—A. No, sir.
Q. 21. Did you hand tickets to any one that day with Mr. Wilson's name printed in, Democratic tickets with Mr. Wilson's name printed in, and tell any one that they were straight Democratic tickets?—A. No, sir; I said Democratic tickets. I handed them to them without saying a word.

Q. 23. Did you hand your tickets to them in bunches, to peddle around?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 24. Did you not solicit any one to vote yourself?—A. No, sir.

Q. 25. After the polls were open, did you take any part in peddling tickets and soliciting votes?—A. I cannot say for sure; I may have handed out a very few tickets.

Q. 26. I suppose there were tickets of all kinds lying on the table when you were holding the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 27. So that a man could get whatever kind he wanted?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 28. Printed so that a man could read it plainly?—A. Yes, sir.

Cross-examination:

Q. 29. Did you vote the Republican ticket?—A. No, sir, I voted the Democratic ticket; that is, one of those bogus tickets.

Q. 30. You understood what you were voting?—A. Yes, sir; I understood it.

Q. 31. Who got you to vote that ticket?—Well, I always vote what I want to.

Q. 32. Were you employed by any one for electioneering?—A. No, sir.

Q. 33. Let me ask you, did you attend election all day?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 34. What time did Jas. Storey go away; when did he sign the poll-book, that night or the next day?—A. I do not know when he signed them.

Q. 35. Did you object to his signing them that night?—A. No, sir; he did not sign them that night at the election.

Q. 36. He went away before the poll-books were signed, did he?—A. Yes, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 37. Can you read English yourself?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 38. Can the most of the Germans here that you are acquainted with read English?

Q. 39. Are they intelligent men?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 40. Can they read English?—A. Yes, sir: they can read their name anyway. Most any one I know can read the name on the ticket.

Q. 41. They are good enough men to know that much?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 42. Do you believe from your knowledge of the election that day that men were deceived by the tickets?

(Objection, hearsay, leading; asking for the opinion rather than the fact.)

Q. 42. Do you know these people?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 43. Are they intelligent people; people that can read any other than their own language, most of them?—A. Yes, sir.

In English can they read the name on the ticket?—A. Yes, sir, I guess they can.

Q. 45. You take proper names as Fred. Hanson, as it is ordinarily printed in German or in English either, must a man be an English or a German scholar in order to read it?—A. It is just the same in our language; the only difference is in spelling.

Q. 46. Now take the name of Jas. Wilson, as it is printed on those tickets in large letters, would it not be printed substantially in the same characters in German?—A. Yes, sir; in Wilson, we put in E instead of O.

Q. 47. In Frederick, in German, the characters would be substantially in the same?—A. Yes, sir; the same.

Q. 48. So that if a man could read Frederick in German he could read it in English, could he not?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 49. So if you take candidates whose names are on the tickets, if a man could read them in German he could read them in English, could he not?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 50. Those people can all read English?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 51. Most of them read English?—Yes, sir; such as the names.

Recross-examination:

Q. 52. Are you acquainted with these men who have testified here to-day; for instance, are you acquainted with Charles Malerbrook?—A. I just know him by sight.

Q. 53. Do you know Henry Slake?—A. Yes, sir.

Do you know Jas. Wohl?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 55. Do you know Peter Seek?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 56. Do you know Geo. Thode?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 57. Do you know F. F. Goken?—A. Yes, sir; I know him.

Q. 58. Now are all these responsible people?

(Contestant objects, as not proper cross examination, and also that there has been no attempt to impeach the character of any of these parties; also that it is not a proper manner of showing reputation, character.)

Q. 59. Are these responsible people?—A. I think so.

Q. 60. If they swore they could not read those names, would you believe them?

(Contestee objects to the question, as for the reason that it calls for an opinion as to the question of veracity.)

Q. 61. You don't know but some of those men could not read those names.—A. I think that every man could read every name.

Q. 62. Did you ever hear them read names?—A. No, sir.

Q. 63. You don't know absolutely that they can read names or pronounce them in English?—A. No, sir.

Q. 64. You don't want to swear that those men can read those names.—A. I do not swear anything about that.

Q. 65. You are a very good scholar in your own language, are you not?—A. I count myself fair.

Q. 66. Some of those men who have not had so much scholarship as you might not be able to pronounce as well as you.—A. That is hard to say.

Q. 67. You say there is another Fred. Hanson?—A. Yes, sir; another in the township; I don't know for sure whether he was here that day to vote.

Q. 68. You did not hear Jas. Collins say anything about bogus tickets that forenoon?—A. No, sir.

Q. 69. You do not remember that he said anything about it that forenoon?—A. No, sir; I know that they had some talk about it; I did not pay much attention to it.

Q. 70. Did you make a correct count?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 71. You counted all the ballots in the box?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 72. Did the ballots in the box correspond to the number of men who voted?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 73. You think you made a correct count?—A. Yes, sir; I counted them over twice.

Recross-examination:

Q. 74. You don't say but what you might have made a mistake when those tickets were scratched for some particular officer; you don't say that it would be possible for you to make a mistake as to some of the names on the tickets; you don't say that it was impossible to make a mistake?—A. No, sir; but I think we got it right.

Q. 75. Do you know that the clerks tallied right?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 76. How do you know it?—A. That is, I read off all the names; they put it down; after we got through they corresponded with the number of tickets and the number of names. I think that that was right.

Q. 77. You don't pretend to know but when they called Frederick's name they might have made a tally for Wilson by mistake, do you?—A. No, sir; but I guess not; I cannot swear to that.

Q. 78. You tried to read them right, did you?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 79. How many Republican tickets cast for the State, do you remember?—A. No, sir; I don't remember.

H. A. MEYER, being produced and sworn before G. W. Burnham, a notary public in and for Benton County, on this 19th day of April, A. D. 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and Nichols and Burnham on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Where do you reside?—A. In Homer Township.

Q. 2. How long?—A. Since '72.

Q. 3. Were you present at the Nov. election, '82?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. Did you hold any official position?—A. I was township clerk.

Q. 5. Were you present all day?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 6. What kind of an election was it, pretty warm?—A. Yes, sir; the hottest that I have ever seen in this township.

Q. 7. Who was general-in-chief on the Democratic side; Mr. Collins?—A. Yes, sir; that is, he was there.

Q. 8. Was there anybody else on the Democratic side except Mr. Collins taking particular part?—A. I guess not; I did not see anybody else.

Q. 9. Mr. Collins was all around here.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 10. Whenever a man was coming up to vote Collins was after him?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 11. Who was peddling on the other side?—A. David Smith.

Q. 12. Did he and Mr. Collins have any conversation during the day?—A. Well, they had a little fun sometimes, I guess.

Q. 13. What was it about?—A. I heard him say he had a bogus or a mixed ticket; a Democratic ticket with other names on it.

Q. 14. Was that talked public here?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 15. What did Collins say about it?—A. I cannot say what he said about it.
Q. 16. They talked about it?—A. Yes, sir; they did,
Q. 17. A good many times during the day?—A. I could not tell you about it; I heard them talk about it, though.
Q. 18. Was it done publicly here, so that everybody could hear it?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 19. What time of day was it that you heard it?—A. I don't know, but I guess it was in the afternoon.
Q. 20. Tom was here when the ballots were opened, was he not?—A. I cannot tell whether he was or not.
Q. 21. Did you know whether anything was said about it in the forenoon?—A. I believe in the afternoon, but I can't tell for certain which time it was.
Q. 22. Did you know whether Smith was there in the forenoon? How many ballots were polled in the forenoon?—A. I can't remember.
Q. 23. Were there only a few?—A. Not a great many.
Q. 24. Can you tell about how many were polled before noon? Give us your best recollection.—A. Well, I cannot tell; it is not in my mind; I guess about 30 votes in the forenoon.
Q. 25. Mr. Meyer, you are a German, are you not?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 26. You are educated in the German language?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 27. Now I will ask you to take the words Democratic State ticket, at the top of Exhibit A, which I hand you, and I will ask if the characters are not sufficiently alike so that the man who can read them in German can read them in English?
(Contestant objects, for the reason that it is asking for information requiring an expert.)
Q. 28. Now take Jas. Wilson. Suppose that was written in German, would not the characters be substantially as they are in that word, with the exception that you would spell "sen" instead of "son"?—A. Yes, sir; that is the way it is spelled in my language.
Q. 29. So that any person that could read it in English could read it in German?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 30. Now take the name Henry Davis or S. Hock, and others, is not that true of all?—A. Yes, sir; I guess any one who could read it one language could read it in the other.
(Same objection to all the above questions, as leading, suggestive, &c.)
A. In our language we use roman letters, too, for proper names.
Q. 31. Now, in the word Bronson, you would spell it "sen," instead of "o"?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 32. You use roman letters in proper names?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 33. Take a ticket printed in this kind of letters, a German, you think, would be able to read it?—A. Yes, sir; if he wanted to.
Q. 34. Were you present when the count was made?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 35. Were you tally-clerk?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 36. How many times did you count the ballots over?—A. Twice.
Q. 37. What did you count them over the second time for?—A. I guess we counted them over three times. In the first place we only counted 101 ballots, but there was one Greenback ticket in it; we did not count that, and that is the reason. We overlooked it, I guess, and then counted again.
Q. 38. Did you make a correct count?—A. Yes, sir; we did.
Q. 39. Did the number of ballots you counted agree with the number of voters whose names were on the poll-books?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 40. Now, did you explain to every person to whom you gave a ticket just what it was?—A. Yes, sir; I explained it to them.
Q. 41. Did you hand anybody Democratic tickets that had Wilson's name on it?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 42. How many of them?—A. Five or six, I guess.
Q. 43. You may state whether you did, or did not, explain to the parties to whom you gave them just what those tickets were?—A. Yes, sir; I did.
Q. 44. Did you tell them why you wanted them voted?—A. Yes, sir; I gave the reason.
Q. 45. What reason did you give?—A. I told them that the reason is this: that I thought he would make a good Representative. Also, for the reason that he was an old farmer; that he would do better for the farmers in Congress.
Q. 46. You may state whether you deceived or attempted to deceive any of the men to whom you gave the tickets. Do you remember the names of the parties to whom you gave the tickets?—A. I guess I can remember some.
Q. 47. Please give the names you can remember.—A. I guess I gave the tickets to Haack, also to George Mohr.
Q. 48. Now, was there any single instance where you gave a ticket to any of your German friends, in which you did not fully explain the nature of the ticket to him, and why you wanted him to vote?—A. Yes, sir; I explained to him just the reason why.

Q, 49. Do you remember an old man by the name of John Johnson?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 50. Did you give him a ticket?—A. I do not know whether I did or not.

Cross-examination:

What explanation do you remember, now, given to John Johnson?—A. Well, I cannot tell.

Q. 52. Do you remember what conversation you had with John Johnson?—A. No, sir; I don't.

Q. 53. Do you remember what conversation you had with Mr. Mohr?—A. No, sir; I explained to him what kind of a ticket it was.

Q. 54. What words can you swear you used to Mr. Mohr?—A. I cannot say exactly.

Q. 55. What words can you say you told Mr. Haack?—A. I told him what ticket it was.

Q. 56. Did you tell him that it was a Democratic ticket?—A. Yes, sir; that there were two other names on it.

Q. 57. Did you tell him that those names were Republicans?—A. No, sir; I did not say Republicans, but Wilson and Smock.

Q. 58. You told him that they were Democratic tickets that had the names Wilson and Smock on them?—A. Yes, sir; I explained that I thought Wilson the best man.

Q. 59. You did not pretend to say you told him that Wilson was a Republican?—A. I do not remember that.

Q. 60. You did not say that Wilson was in Congress before?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 61. And that he was a farmer?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 62. And would do more for farmers for that than any others?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. Did you help canvass that day?—A. Yes, sir; that night.
Q. 4. Did you help canvass them to-day again?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 5. In your opinion are these the same tickets you canvassed that time?—A. I should not know but what they were, they look like them.
Q. 6. Do you not see any alteration about them that you know of?—A. No, sir; that double ticket looks as though it had been open and folded up a great many times.
Q. 7. You handled it that night then; opened it and folded it?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 8. Do you remember whether that co. ticket was voted alone or with another ticket?—A. It is my impression that it was folded inside of another ticket—the State ticket—but I might be mistaken about that.
Q. 9. Had you ever heard Mr. Ernet announce positively that his was folded inside of another ticket?—A. To the best of my ability to see, I should think it was; Mr. Swaney counted the tickets out; I did not take so particular observation as if I had counted them myself.
Q. 10. Swaney counted them out?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 11. Took them out of the box, you mean?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 12. What did you do?—A. I strung them on a string.

STATE OF IOWA,
Iowa County, ss:

A. M. HENDERSON, being produced and sworn before A. J. Morrison, notary public for Iowa County, on this 8th day of March, A. D. 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, A. H. Simpson on part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. A. M. Henderson; age, 33; residence, Marengo; occupation that of cashier in a bank.
Q. 2. Did you reside in Marengo in Nov., '82?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 3. What official position did you hold at the time, if any?—A. Township clerk.
Q. 4. Marengo Township?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 5. Were you in attendance at the election held in Marengo on the 7th of Nov. last?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 6. Act as township clerk there?—A. Yes, sir; I did.
Q. 7. Did you take into your custody the ballots and poll-books of that election?—A. I did.
Q. 8. Have they been in your charge ever since the election?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 9. How have they been kept?—A. Kept in the ballot-box.
Q. 10. Was the box locked all the time?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 11. Where is the ballot-box and ballots?—A. They are here (witness produces the box).

Q. 12. Will you please produce the ballots; and you may, assisted by two of the trustees, recount the ballots for Representative in Congress for Nov., 1882.

(Assisted by Messrs. B. F. Reno, Ed. Tucker, J. S. Swaney, recounts the votes.)

Q. 13. I will ask you now if you have recounted the ballots cast at the Nov. election last for Congressman, and also what the result is, and how it compares with the tally-list made at the time of the original canvass in Nov.?

(Contestee objects to the question for the reason that it has not been shown that the ballot-box was preserved inviolate, and that these were the identical ballots cast at the election.)

A. The result of the present count for Wilson, 263; for Frederick, 211; for Platner, 24; it differs from the original count in Frederick only, which was 209 according to the original count.

Q. 14. Now, I will ask you if you are satisfied that these are the same ballots that were cast at the Nov. election; the same ballots counted by you and the trustees at the Nov. election, '82?

(Contestee objects to the question for the reason that it has not been shown that the ballot-box has been preserved inviolate, and that these were the original ballots cast at the election.)

A. I am certain they are.

Q. 15. I will ask you if the ballot-box has been in your charge all the time since then and locked?—A. Yes, sir; it has been locked all the time where I keep my township records, in Squire Simpson's office; I have had the key.

Q. 16. Who, if any person, has handled these tickets since the last Nov. election?—A. Thomas Stapleton counted them; he is the only one since.

Q. 17. Who counted the tally?—A. I did.

Q. 18. And saw them counted?—A. Yes, sir; saw them counted.

Q. 19 Did you think it possible that there could have been any change made in any of the ballots during the time of the count that you and Stapleton made?

(Contestee objects to the question for the reason that it has not been shown that the ballot-box has been preserved inviolate, and that these were the same identical ballots cast at the election.)

A. I think not.

Q. 20. At the time you opened the ballot-box, when you and Stapleton recounted it, did you find the ballot-box in the same condition which you left it in, and the ballots in the same condition also?—A. Yes, sir; we did.

Cross-examination:

Q. 21. Mr. Henderson, did you act as clerk at the last election? -A. Yes, sir; I did.

Q. 22. You took possession of the ballot-box after the count was made?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 23. What did you do with it?—A. I took it and left it at Squire Simpson's office; that is where I have the records and keep my ballot-box.

Q. 24. Were you doing business there?—A No, sir.

Q. 25. How long after you left it there did you see it again?—A. I did not open it all till within the last week or ten days.

Q. 26. How long after you left it there did you see the box again?—A. I cannot tell that; I have not been by the office only a few times

Q. 27. The box was in Mr. Simpson's office where you did not see it at all, that you remember of, until you went to have the vote recounted?—A. No. sir; I never examined it. I remember seeing it, but not more than once or twice, from the fact that I have not been in the office more than once or twice, or have had business there.

Q. 28. You saw them counted?—A. Yes, sir; saw them counted.

Q. 29. Do you think it possible that there could have been a change made in any of the ballots during the time of the count that you and Stapleton made?

(Contestee objects to the question for the reason that it has not been shown that the ballot-box was preserved inviolate, and that these were the identical ballots cast at the election.)

A. I think not.

Q. 30. At the time you opened the ballot-box—at the time you and Stapleton recounted—did you find the ballot-box in the same condition in which you left it, and the ballots in the same condition in which you left them also?—A. Yes, sir; I did.

Redirect examination:

Q. 31. Mr. Henderson, did you act as clerk at the last election?—A. Yes, sir; I did.

Q. 32. You took possession of the ballot-box after the count was made?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 33. What did you do with it?—A. I took it and left it at Squire Simpson's office; that is where I have the records and keep the ballot-box.

Q. 34. Were you doing business there?—A. No, sir.

Q. 35. How long after you left it there until you saw it again?—A. I did not open it until within the last week or ten days.

Q. 36. How long after you left it there until you saw it again?—A. I do not know that I have been in the office but a few times.

Q. 37. The box then was in Mr. Simpson's office where you did not see it until—that you remember of—until you went to have the votes counted?—A. No, sir; I never examined it. I remember of seeing it, but no more than once or twice, from the fact I have not been in the office but once or twice, nor have had any business in the office.

Q. 38. Who last had access to the office?—A. Nobody but his boys, I guess. Well, I believe prior to the first of Jan. the office was kept by Gus Holms.

Q. 39. Do you know whether the door of the justice office was locked or not?—A. No, sir; I do not.

Q. 40. Did you say that Tom Stapleton counted these ballots?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 41. Who is Mr. Stapleton; an att'y in town? You tallied?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 42. He took the ballots into his possession and counted them out and you tallied?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 43. In whose interest was he counting?—A. In Mr. Frederick's, I suppose.

Q. 44. Who else was present when this counting was done?—A. Squire Morrison.

Q. 45. Who else?—A. That was all.

Q. 46. Was Mr. Simpson present?—A. No, sir.

Q. 47. How did you get into his room?—A. Mr. Stapleton——

Q. 48. Stapleton had a key that opened into Mr. Simpson's room?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 49. When Mr. Stapleton counted these ballots he took them all off the string, did he?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 50. He strung them on again after he got through? Now what was the result?—A. The same as the original, with the exception that Mr. Frederick had 210.

Q. 51. You made one more for Frederick?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 52. Did you count them once or twice?—A. Only twice.

Q. 53. You counted the votes over, and found 210?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 54. One gain from the official count on the night of the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 55. You say this ballot-box, with the ballots, has only been in your charge in a figurative sense; that is, you have not had them?—A. No, sir; not in my immediate possession.

Q. 56. What kind of a lock is on the box?—A. I do not know what you would call it; it is a peculiar lock.

Q. 57. Is it a cheap lock?—A. No, sir; only one key that will fit it that I know of, that will fit it; it is different from any lock I have ever seen.

Q. 58. You do not know whether the room was locked at night by the man that kept this room before Mr. Simpson?—A. No, sir.

Q. 59. Was the ballot-box sealed?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. In what way was it sealed?—A. In the top; with paper and mucilage is all.

Q. 61. That is to prevent other ballots from being put in?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 62. Did he lock and then seal it, so as to tell whether it had been opened or not?—A. No, sir.

Q. 63. Was this second count had in the daytime or night?—A. In the daytime.

Q. 64. How long ago did you say that the count was made?—A. Last Sunday.

Redirect examination:

Q. 65. You were present all the time when these ballots were being counted?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 66. Did you think it was possible for any one to take out or put in ballots without you saw them?—A. No, sir; I think not.

Recross-examination:

Q. 67. What position did you sit in while you were tallying?—A. I stood at the end of the table, and he stood at the side.

Q. 68. Did you have your eyes on the ballots?—A. Yes, sir; only when tallying.

Q. 69. You could not say but what one or two ballots could have been put in?—A. No, sir; but I was careful in that respect.

Q. 70. Were you present in the room at that time?—A. Yes, sir; I was.

Redirect examination:

Q. 71. Do you remember anything about two tickets that were folded together at the time of the election?—A. Yes, sir; there are two that are not counted in this count.

Q. 72. Who were they counted for?—A. I think that they were Democratic tickets, but I am not positive as to that.

Q. 73. Do you recollect any time during the day that the box was full and you put in a pencil to shove them down further?—A. Yes, sir; they did that to jar the box.

Q. 74. Then you think it might be possible one ticket might have been shoved down inside another?—A. No, sir. Well, I think that in this case they were both folded together.

Q. 75. Will you produce the tickets?—A. Yes, sir; here they are.

Q. 76. Please say whether or not you found these folds in them different from this when they were originally folded together.

(Witness examines them.)

A. Well, sir, as found in this box, they were found folded in that position.

Q. 77. Did you say that they had been folded different from what they were folded originally?

(Contestee objects to the question, for the reason that it is arswering something not proved.)

A. The ticket looks like it had been handled; perhaps there is one folded there.

Q. 78. I asked you whether or not you did not find either folds or creases in these tickets, showing that they were folded before they were folded when you found them together.—A. No, sir; I do not see any now.

Q. 79. Who were these tickets voted for on the Representative ticket, 5th district?—A. For Frederick—both of them. They were both straight Democratic tickets.

Recross-examination:

Q. 80. Have these tickets been handled a good deal?—A. No, sir; only since the election they have been handled by the trustees.

Q. 81. By different persons?—A. Only by the trustees; I think they examined them that night.

Q. 82. You did the tallying at the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 83. Was it carefully done?—A. Yes, sir, as possible.

Q. 84. Made no mistakes as you went along?—A. No, sir; not that we know of.

Q. 85. You did not see the tickets as they were counted out?—A. No, sir.

Q. 86. You could not say whether they counted them; whether they called them correctly or not?—A. No, sir; nor I could not tell to-day or the other day whether the call was correct. I tallied the first call.

Q. 86. You kept them on the tally-sheet?—A. Yes, sir.

A. M. HENDERSON.

STATE OF IOWA,
Iowa County, ss:

B. F. RENO, being produced and sworn before A. J. Morrison, a notary public for Iowa County, on this 8th day of March, A. D. 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of the contestant, and A. H. Simpson appearing on the part of the contestee):

Q. 1. You may give your name, age, place of residence, and occupation.—A. Age 53, or very near it; groceryman; residence, Marengo, Iowa County, Iowa.

Q. 2. You may state whether you held any official position in 1882.—A. Yes, sir; one of my positions was trustee of Marengo Township.

Q. 3. Were you present at the election in 1882, wherein James Wilson and Benjamin T. Frederick were candidates for the office of Representative of the 5th Congressional district?—A. Yes sir.

Q. 4. You acted as one of the trustees?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. You have recanvassed the ballots to-day that were cast at that election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 6. You think that those are the same ballots that were voted that day?—A. I snppose they are the same ballots.

Q. 7. Do you see any familiarity about them that tells you they are the same ballots?—A. I took out one ticket which I showed the gentleman, that was recognized by myself.

Q. 8. Have you any reasons to believe that they are the same ballots?—A. Well, Mr. Frederick, that is a hard question. I called off the ballots according to the tally that night. There were 209 for yourself, and 263 for Mr. Wilson.

Q. 9. Well, I will ask you if you might not have made a mistake that night?—A. All men are liable to mistakes. I have been very particular. I have been at this business 8 or 9 years; the first I recollect calling the tickets.

Q. 10. Perhaps the matter has not been brought to your mind, or it has not been looked up so closely. You believe that they are the same ballots, and that you might have made a mistake on that night, do you?—A. No, sir; I don t think that I made a mistake.

Q. 11. You don't think so?—A. No, sir.

Q. 12. But you might have made a mistake.—A. Yes, sir; I might.

Q. 13. You have helped recanvass the vote to-day.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 14. How do you find it to-day?—A. There are 211 for Mr. Frederick, against 209 formally.

Q. 15. How many votes were polled at that precinct that day?—A. I don't recollect exactly. [Witness examines the poll book.] 500 votes.

Q. 16. It is 500?—A. Yes, sir; I recollect very well that I drew a ticket with Mr. Swaney as to who voted last. Mr. Swaney was one of the trustees.

Q. 17. Then you threw out one of those for a double ticket?—A. We didn't count that vote at all. If you will look at the ticket, you will see it is put on as for two tickets, and voted together. We did not count that vote at all; we virtually threw it out.

Q. 18. How do you find that as compared with the vote as you have tallied the votes to-day?—A. Well, the votes would exceed two.

Q. 19. Not counting the one you have here?—A. No, sir; not counting that.

Q. 20. Is not the man's name on the tally book who voted that doubtful ticket? Did you put any ticket in the box with nobody's name on?—A. Well, that would be rather strange if we had done it.

Q. 21. You must have counted that doubtful ticket with somebody's name on the register that voted it, didn't you?—A. It would be hard to vote in this way except in case of some man who didn't vote for Congress.

Q. 22. You would have their names on the tally-book, wouldn't you?—A. Yes, sir; the name of every one who voted.

Q. 23. Then the name must appear on the tally-list? That is, the name of the man that voted that double ticket.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 24. Then you would have the name there that you didn't count?—A. No, sir; I don't think that we could get at it, because, as I say, there were men that voted for neither Congressman.

Q. 25. How many tickets were there in the box—that gentleman voted for neither Congressman?—A. I cannot tell that, but I will tell you who voted. You recollect that gentleman.

Q. 26. How many tickets are there that have not a Congressman on at all?—A. There were 263 voted for Wilson, 209 for Frederick, and 24 for Platner.

Q. 27. How many national tickets were there?—A. There were two gentlemen voted that did not vote for any Congressman; that is two polls.

Q. 28. Then there was one besides that first, a county ticket, wasn't there?—A. Well, I don't know; there was a county ticket in the State ticket box; sometimes it gets mixed.

Q. 29. If that man voted a county ticket, you would put his name on the poll-list, would you not, the same as if he voted another ticket?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 30. Then there is a double ticket you have not counted?—A. Yes, sir; there is a double ticket.

Q. 31. Would you put that man's name that voted that also on the poll-list?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 31. Then there are two national tickets?—A. Yes, sir; 263 for Wilson, and 209 for Frederick.

Q. 32. 211, you make it now?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 34. There is no ticket voted for county officers, and one ticket you put down that did not have anybody. How many does that make?—A. That would make the tickets short about one vote; according to that, 499 votes; we polled 500.

Q. 35. You are positive that when you called the tickets at that election that there could not have been any mistake at all?—A. To my best knowledge and belief, I am.

Q. 36. Then there could not have been a mistake?—A. No, sir.

Q. 37. You called off the tickets yourself?—A. Yes, sir; every one.

Q. 38. Anybody else call any of them?—A. No, sir; not a man.

Q. 38 (a). Did you take them out in fives or tens in the tickets?—A. We took out the scratched tickets and called them off singly.

Q. 39. Were there many scratched tickets?—A. Quite a number.

Cross-examination:

Q. 40. Now, we want to settle this thing; you are sure there were 500 ballots polled?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 41. 263 for Wilson?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 42. On the night of the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 43. How many for Frederick?—A. 209.

Q. 44. How many for Platner?—A. 24.

Q. 45. How many tickets did you find in the box with nobody on for Congress?—A. My recollection is two.

Q. 46. Then a county ticket with nobody on for Congress?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 47. And a man voted two tickets you did not count?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 48. That makes four names, does it not?—A. Yes, sir; it is equivalent to four names.

Q. 49. That makes four votes?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 51. Where did these votes come from? Is it not evident that they were put in by some one?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 52. You know they are there, and you know that there are not men enough to vote 502?—A. Yes, sir,

Q. 53. The box has increased two tickets since you counted them that night?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 54. Did you count them carefully that night?

Q. 55. Explain the modus operandi of it.—A. Yes, sir. Mr. Swaney sat at my left; then Mr. Tucker took the ballots out of the box, or rather Mr. Swaney, I mean, took the ballots out of the box; he handed them to me as he took them out of the box. I called the names, and Mr. Tucker put them on the string.

Q. 56. How many of you, or, rather, did each of you trustees inspect each ballot?—A. Whenever there was anything of a question we all looked at the ticket.

Q. 57. You took them one at a time?—A. Yes, sir; one at a time.

Q. 58. You didn't count them in fives or tens?—A. Yes, sir; the straight tickets.

Q. 59. You examined each ticket?—A. Yes, sir, thoroughly; twice counted them over.

Q. 60. You are satisfied now, are you not, that there are two more ballots in that box than you believed voted at that election?—A. Yes, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 61. In counting tickets, you counted straight tickets by themselves?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 62. Whether 40 or 80, you put them down in figures so many?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 63. Could it not be possible for you to make a mistake in counting the tickets that way?—A. No, sir; we counted the tickets over each time; twice particularly; I counted them as I took them; then I counted them again before I handed them to the gentleman who put them on file.

Q. 64. Don't you remember that that county ticket that was voted there was rolled up inside of another ticket when you found it?—A. No, sir; I don't remember that.

Q. 65. According to the best of your impression was not that ticket inside of another ticket that had no county ticket on it?—A. No, sir; as Mr. Swaney said, here is a county ticket in this box without any head on it, or to that effect, when he handed me the ticket.

B. F. RENO.

STATE OF IOWA,
Iowa County, ss:

J. S. SWANEY, being produced and sworn before A. J. Morrison, notary public for Iown County, on this 8th day of March, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and A. H. Simpson on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. My name is J. S. Swaney; I am 62 years old; I live in Iowa County, Marengo Township; I am a farmer by occupation.

Q. 2. State if you held, or do hold, in 1882, any official position in Marengo Township, Iowa County?—A. I was trustee of the township.

Q. 3. You attended the general election in November, 1882?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. What part did you take that day in canvassing the ballots?—A. I took the tickets out of the box, and unfolded them and laid them down separate, the Democratic from the Republican; kept them so as to count them out together; run on one awhile, and then on the other.

Q. 5. You found the tickets in the box together?—A. I found two together; I laid them back just as they were folded together, and afterwards called their attention to it.

Q. 6. Did you know who was voted for for Representative?—A. Yes, sir; after they were opened; they were Democratic tickets, both of them.

Q. 7. Do you know whether that county ticket was folded by itself or not?—A. Yes, sir; it was folded by itself. It was not an accident; it was put in that box, in the place of the county box.

Q. 8. Do you think, then, the party voting that ticket didn't vote the State ticket at all, or do you think that was torn off, and put in the county box at the same time with the other ticket, and was put in when the other State ticket was voted?—A. I think it was in there by mistake; it was folded by itself; it wasn't with any other tickets.

Q. 9. You think that the voter didn't have any intention of voting that by itself?—A. I don't think that it was intended to go in that box.

Cross-examination:

Q. 10. You do not recollect who voted that ticket, do you?—A. No, sir, of course not.

Q. 11. You do not know whether the man that voted that ticket, also voted another, do you?—A. No, sir I do not.

Q. 12. You are only supposing that it was put in there by mistake?—A. Well, that is the idea I have of it.

Q. 13. That is your best guess?—A. On account of its being alone.

Q. 14. Well, if he had voted two tickets, would he not have likely put them in the other box?—A. Well, that wasn't correct. I did not think that we found any such tickets in the county box.

Q. 15. Is it not probable that some one did not want to put in any more of the whole ticket, than just that in?—A. Yes, sir; there are some that did do that, only filled a part of the ticket.

Q. 16. Some voted more of the ticket than others, and in this case there was just this county part voted?—A. Well——

Redirect:

17. Did you have two places in the box to put ballots in?—A. We had a county and State box there; also had a township box, with the different road supervisors in that, so there were some 6 or 7 probably.

Q. 12. If a man gave you a ticket that said "State ballot," another "county ballot," what did you do with them?—A. We would put them in the boxes he told us.

Q. 19. One in the county box, another in the State box?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 20 Your best opinion is that there was a mistake in putting that county ticket in the State box?—A. Yes, sir; I think it was a mistake.

Recross-examination:

Q. 21. You stated that some of the other tickets had part of them torn off?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 22. Didn't you think that this man didn't desire to vote any more of the ticket than just that?—A. Well, I think it likely.

($0.85 paid as fee by contestant.)

J. S. SWANEY.

A. M. HENDERSON recalled:

Q. 1. Do you remember during the day of election, November 7th, 1882, while you were tallying, whether at any time during the day there was a discrepancy; whether at any time you disagreed in your tallies?—A. My recollection is that we agreed right along, all the time.

Q. 2. Any discrepancies in the tallies at any time?—A. No, sir.

Recross-examination:

Q. 3. You stated that Mr. Stapleton was not then counting?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. What are Mr. Stapleton's politics?—A. Democratic.

Q. 5. He came in the interest of Frederick to do this work?—A. I believe so; he said he wanted to see them counted out.

Q. 5. He came, too, in the interest of Frederick to do this work?—A. I believe so; he said that he wanted to see it counted out.

A. M. HENDERSON.

ED. TUCKER recalled:

Q. 1. I want to know if, in your opinion, a man voting these two township or county tickets might not have also voted a State ticket?—A. The two county tickets? Yes, sir; he might have voted the State ticket and these at the same time. For instance, he wanted to vote the Republican or Democratic ticket—the State Democratic and the county ticket Republican—and might have torn off the county part, and then put the other county ticket with the State ticket, and voted them.

(Contestee objects that this is only the opinion of the witness.)

Q. 2. I will ask you if that is not the custom with a great many voting?—A. I do not know whether that is the custom or not.

Q. 3. You find that these two tickets, from the amount on your tally-list, over, do you?—A. Well, I don't know about that, either.

Q. 4. You find 500 names on your poll-list?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. Counting these two tickets there are 502?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 6. That would be two over and above your poll-list?—A. Yes, sir; it would be that much.

Q. 7. According to that, if there are 502 tickets, there are men who voted, whose names you did not put down.—A. Well, I do not know how that would agree; I am sure I do not know how it came.

Q. 8. According to the best of your judgment and belief, the men who voted these tickets also voted the State ticket.

(Objection; not proper, as asking the opinion of the witness.)

A. Well, I am sure I didn't see anybody to hinder a man voting in that way.

Q. 9. You don't see anything to hinder a man voting in that way?—A. No, sir; I don't.

Q. 10. Do I understand you to state, when I ask you whether a man could vote the county and State ticket together, that he could file each of them separately?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 11. You mean that he might attach one to the other, two different tickets, and vote as a whole?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 12. That is the condition in which these county tickets are found?—A. Yes, sir; that is what they say. I have the impression that they were folded up inside the State.

Q. 13. You are not the gentleman who took them out of the box?—A. No, sir; anyone, of course would know whether they were inside the State ticket or not.

Q. 14. In making your count to-day you find two more tickets than there are names on the poll-book?—A. Yes, sir; two more.

Redirect:

Q. 15. These two county tickets might have been rolled inside the State ticket, and voted, and they could get shaken out by shaking up the box, could they not?—A. Possibly they might, but I hardly think that they would in the same way these two tickets we folded together might have been shaken in together in the box, but I have no idea they were.

Q. 16. You are speaking now of these two Democratic tickets that were together?—A. Yes, sir; I think possibly, but I don't think they were, because they were folded tight together.

Q. 17. They might have in shoving them down into the box, one might have shoved right inside of the other?—A. That would hardly be possible to shove them so close together, when they were taken out.

A. J. MORRISON, being produced and sworn before a notary public, for Iowa County, on this 8th day of March, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and A. H. Simpson on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. A. J. Morrison; age, 52; residence, Marengo, Iowa County, Iowa; occupation is that of an agent.

Q. 2. State whether you are in public office now; are you not mayor of the city?—A. Yes, sir; I am.

Q. 3. Mr. Morrison, please state if you were present a few days ago when the ballots of Marengo Township, Iowa County, was canvassed by Mr. Stapleton and Mr. Henderson.—A. Yes, sir; I was.

Q. 4. State if you were present all the time they were handling them, and if you were looking on at the time Henderson was handling them.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. In what position was Mr. Henderson then in?—A. Henderson wrote at the end of the table, about as you sit, and I was right opposite, on this side of the table; Henderson and Stapleton were only about a foot apart, anyway.

Q. 6. Were you looking at Stapleton all the time he was canvassing the the votes?—A. I could see all the time, of course; I might have taken my eyes off, for I was not watching.

Q. 7. You were standing towards him?—A. Yes, sir; sitting with my right towards him.

Q. 8. Do you believe that he had a possible chance of having changed any of these tickets; of taking any out, or to have put any in, without you having noticed him?—A. Well, there is a chance, of course; but would not say that he did not have a possible chance of doing it.

Q. 9. Do you believe that he could have done it without you seeing him?—A. No, sir; I do not believe he could have done it without Henderson or one of us seeing him, because one of us or both had eyes on him all the time; Henderson was keeping tally and looking over tickets at the same time; he would count out a pile of so many.

Q. 10. Then Henderson would look them over, and say whether right or not?—A. Yes, sir; Henderson would tally them.

Q. 11. You were looking them over at the same time?—A. I was sitting right at the opposite side of the table watching them.

Q. 12. One other question: Did you go up there at the solicitation of any one?—A. Well, I don't know of any one in particular; I knew that they were going to count them and so I went down. I don't think I was solicited by any one of them.

Cross-examination:

Q. 13. What are your politics?—A. I am a Democrat.

THOMAS STAPLETON, being produced and sworn before A. J. Morrison, notary public for Iowa County, on this 8th day of March, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and A. H. Simpson on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Were you present a few days ago when the tickets of Marengo Township were recounted?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 2. Did you count them yourself?—A. Yes, sir; the first time I did.

Q. 3. Did you take out or put in, or change in any way these tickets?—A. No, sir.

Q. 4. Who were present when these tickets were recounted?—A. Mr. Henderson, township clerk, and A. J. Morrison.

Q. 5. You were present also when there was a recount in Hardin Township?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 6. Did you handle the tickets there?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 7. Who was present?—A. Mr. Jacobs, township clerk, and Mr. Shipton, one of the editors of the Marengo Messenger; also there were four or five, or six others in the room, besides members of Mr. Jacobs' family who were present; merely sat by and watched one way or another, that I knew of.

Q. 8. Were any ballots taken out, or others put in, or any change made in any shape or form during that time?—A. No, sir; not any to my knowledge.

Cross-examination:

Q. 9. You have been having this work done for Mr. Frederick, Mr. Stapleton?—A. Yes, sir; Mr. Frederick spoke to me about examining and having the ballots recounted.

Q. 10. Employed you to do it?—A. Well; yes, sir.

Q. 11. You have been making and doing this work there for Mr. Frederick. I want to know the nature of your connection with him.—A. Well, I have done part of it in Iowa County, and some others. I had Mr. Holms go to one place—Mr. Gus. Holms, of Marengo, Iowa.

Q. 12. Is this Mr. Holms that had the custody of this ballot-box before Mr. Simpson went into the room to do busines where it was kept?—A. Well, I don't know of my own personal knowledge whether Mr. Holms had the custody of it or not. Mr. Holms was in that room before Mr. Simpson came in.

Q. 13. Is that the same man?—A. Yes, sir; that is the same one.

Q. 14. He took an interest in having the count for Frederick, too, did he?—A. I don't know that he had any particular interest. I had him go down to the colony, because he could speak the German lauguage, and I could not. I thought that he could do the work more satisfactorily.

Q. 15. He looked through the ballots down there?—A. I don't know about that. In order to answer that question I will have to say this: Do you want me to tell what Mr. Holmes reported? He reported to him that the ballots down there had been destroyed; that they made no count at all; they made no recount of the votes.

Q. 16. Had all the colony folks destroyed the ballots?—A. It was this: That they were carelessly destroyed down there. I do not know that I can give the exact words.

Q. 17. I merely wanted to learn about the nature of Mr. Holmes' interest in this busines.—A. That is all. I requested him to go down there because he could speak the German language.

Q. 18. Did you request him or employ him?—A. I gave him two dollars and a half.

Q. 19. When was it he went down there?—A. I can't give the exact date.

Q. 20. Was it after Morrison became on occupant of your room where the ballot was?—A. It was since then; I will give you the date if I can; I will think a minute. I think it was two weeks ago last Friday.

Redirect:

Q. 21. Don't you remember when I employed you to look up this business I told you not to touch the ballots, to be careful to have a township clerk handle them, not to touch them yourself?—A. The best of my memory is like this: you told me to have a township clerk recount the vote; I cannot remember certain that you gave me strict orders not to touch the ballots. You might have said that and I might have forgotten it.

Q. 22. The best of your recollection is what, then?—A. That is the township clerk; I don't know whether you mentioned the trustees, too, that I should get the trustees to recount the vote, if convenient.

Recross-examination:

Q. 23. You say you handed the ballots?—A. Yes, sir; I did.

Q. 24. In Hardin Township also?—A. Yes, sir.

THOMAS STAPLETON

STATE OF IOWA,
Iowa County, ss:

ANDREW JACOBS, being produced and sworn before A. J. Morrison, notary public for Iowa County, on this 8th day of March, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant and A. H. Morrison on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. I reside in Hardin Township, Iowa County; my age is 33 years; my occupation is farming.

Q. 2. Did you hold any office in Hardin Township in the year 1882?—A. Yes, sir; I was township clerk.

Q. 3. Were you at the election in November?—A. Yes, sir; I was.

Q. 4. Did you act as township clerk there?—A. Yes, sir; I did.

Q. 5. You kept the poll-box and ballots since the election in November?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 6. Have they all been in your care all the time?—A. Yes, sir; they have.

Q. 7. How did you keep them?—A. Up stairs in a box.

Q. 8. Was the box locked up?—A. Yes, sir; it was locked up.

Q. 9. You had possession of the key?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 10. Have these ballots been recounted or handled by any one since they were counted in November last?—A. Yes, sir; Stapleton and Mr. Shipton, editor of the Messenger, were up there and counted them over.

Q. 11. When were they there?—A. I cannot tell you.

Q. 12. About how long since?—A. Inside of a week and a half or two weeks, something like that.

Q. 13. Did you assist in counting them over?—A. I did not, but I counted them after they counted them over.

Q. 14. You were present; they counted them and watched them?—A. Yes, sir; I was.

Q. 15. Do you think they could have taken out or put any ballots there without you having seen them at the time of the recount there?

(Objection as asking opinion of the witness.)

A. They could have done so, and possibly they did so; I was standing looking at them, but I was not watching them closely; I was not suspicious of any wrong doing, and they could have possibly have done such a thing.

Q. 16. Do you believe that they did change any on them—take any out or put any in?

(Objection to the question.)

A. I cannot answer that question.

Q. 17. I just want to know your belief?—A. Well, I cannot tell.

Q. 18. You don't know?—A. No, sir; I don't know.

Q. 19. Did you string the ballots on a string?—A. They were tied with a string around each package.

Q. 20. They were not strung on a string?—A. No, sir.

Q. 21. How did you find the ballots to compare with the tallies on your book when you recounted them?—A. We found one more than the number of polls cast in the township.

Q. 22. Who was that one more?—A. For Frederick.

Q. 23. How many votes did you have tallied on your book for Frederick?—A. 132.

Q. 24. How many did you find in the box for Frederick, on the recount; how many were found on the recount for Frederick?—A. I don't remember.

Q. 25. Were there any more found than there were tallies?—A. There was one more, both Democratic and Republican tickets, one more than we had tallied.

Q. 26. Any more for Wilson than we had tallied?—A. No, sir.

Q. 27. How many would that make; if 132, and one more found, would not that make 133?—A. Yes, sir; that is what it would make. There were some American tickets there; counting them in would make 133.

Q. 28. Were there any more votes for Frederick than you had tallied on your books?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 29. Have you the tickets with you?—A. Yes, I have.

Q. 30. Will you please produce them?—A. Yes, sir.

(Witness produces ballot-box, and assisted by the trustee, Mr. H. Martin, makes a recount of the ballots; Frederick gets 55, Wilson 75.)

Q. 31. What was the vote as counted on the evening of the election; after the election, what was the result as shown by the poll-book?

(Witness examines poll-book.)

A. James Wilson has 75 votes, B. T. Frederick 54.

Q. 32. That is as shown by the poll-book?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 33. Do you believe these to be the same identical tickets you counted at the time you wrote these tallies on the book?—A. They ought to be.

Q. 34. Do you believe them to be the same?—A. Yes, sir; I kept them in the box so, ever since the election.

Q. 35. You believe that these are the same identical tickets?—A. As far as I know they are not changed or been changed to my knowledge.

Q. 36. You now find one more for Frederick than found at that time?—A. Yes, sir; the way it is counted now.

Q. 37. How do you account for that vote?—A. I cannot tell.

Q. 38. Do you think that you made the mistake when you counted the votes on the evening of the election?—A. I cannot tell you that.

Q. 39. Is it possible that you might have made a mistake?—A. Yes, sir; possibly so.

Q. 40. What are your politics?—A. Republican.

Cross-examination:

Q. 41. Tell us how you counted the votes on the night of the election?—A. We counted them in this way; the judges counted out all the straight ballots, that is, straight ballots for the State and county.

Q. 42. Did they count them one by one?—A. At first we did, if I recollect right.

Q. 43. I mean did they examine each ballot?—A. We tallied for Wilson and Frederick; we tallied there; we did not see the heading of the page until we got started.

Q. 44. I mean did you examine each ballot when you took it out of the box, to see who was voted for?—A. No, sir; I was clerk.

Q. 45. You kept tally as the judges called them?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 46. You returned 75 for Wilson in the poll-book?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 47. 54 for Frederick?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 48. Did you make a careful count?—A. Yes, sir; we were careful about it.

Q. 49. Were they counted more than once?—A. Yes, sir; they were counted several times.

Q. 50. To see that they came out right?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 51. You numbered them out the same each time?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 52. Now we find here 7 ballots with nobody on them for Congressman, were they not? Now, was each of these ballots found in the box when you opened it that night?—A. Yes, sir; they were in the box.

Q. 53. Were they tallied separately?—A. I could not answer that.

Q. 54. Now, you say Mr. Stapleton and Mr. Shipton came down to your house to count the ballots?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 55. They counted them?—A. Mr. Stapleton and Mr. Shipton did, if I remember right.

Q. 56. They took them out of the box?—A. No, sir; I took them out of the box and laid them on the table.

Q. 57. They counted them?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 58. You didn't tally?—A. No, sir.

Q. 59. You didn't count with your own hands?—A. No, sir.

Q. 60. Which one of them did the tallying?—A. Mr. Shipton did the tallying.

Q. 61. Who handled the ballots?—A. Mr. Stapleton.

Q. 62. Was that he who counted them, when they counted them over that night of the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 63. Had they been, previous to that time, where nobody could get at them?—A. Yes, sir; they were locked up.

Q. 64. Were they in a room where nobody had access to it?—A. No, sir; I was frequently there myself; I was working up there.

Q. 65. Who else went up there?—A. My children did.

Q. 66. Any strangers?—A. Not that I remember of any strangers.

Q. 67. Was the box locked?—A. Yes, sir; it was.

Q. 68. Was it sealed; was any cover put over the hole at the top?—A. No, sir.

Q. 69. Any cover put over the key-hole?—A. No, sir.

Q. 70. Was it a common lock?—A. I guess so; I didn't examine it.

Q. 71. Was it kept in a bed-room up-stairs?—A. No, sir; it was kept in a new building I got; I have no bed or anything up there. I have some seed-corn up there.

Q. 72. Any strangers ever up there?—A. Not that I know of to my knowledge.

Q 73. Was the ballot-box ever brought down that you know of?—A. No, sir; not up to that time.

Q. 74. While those men were counting, you were about the house talking, I suppose?—A. Yes, sir; I was there.

Q. 75. Did you have your eyes on the ballots all the time?—A. No, sir; I did not.

Q. 76. They might have added a ballot without your seeing it?—A. Possibly they could.

Q. 77. How do you account for this discrepancy? You say that there was only 132 votes that day of the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 78. And yet we find 5 more ballots than that; 137 instead of 132; can you account for that difference?

(Witness examines poll-books.)

A. I cannot tell you how that came.

Q. 79. The ballots were not strung together?—A. No, sir; they were tied with a string around each bunch; Democratic tickets by themselves; Republican tickets by themselves; torn tickets indicated with a pin run through them.

Q. 80. In this count, did you take them afterwards, and tie them in the same papers again, just as counted, and in a bunch instead of stringing them again?—A. When Mr. Stapleton looked them over?

Q. 81. I mean when Mr. Stapleton and Mr. Shipton looked them over?—A. No, sir; they were scattered around the table, so.

Q. 82. You left them scattered around the table?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 83. Then they had to be searched out after they went away?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 84. Well, how long were they there?—A. I cannot tell exactly; about an hour, I guess, or three-quarters of an hour.

Q. 85. Was it in the day time or in the night?—A. In the day time.

Redirect examination:

Q. 86. Do you remember tallying during the day, that you or the other clerk, one getting ahead of the other; that one of you tallied so as to keep up with the other?—A. Sometimes one of us was absent to get a drink, when we came up we would just put down the names we had voted.

Q. 87. I mean in the evening when all the voters had all voted, did either of you get ahead?—A. No, sir.

Q. 88. You always kept even right along?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 89. No question of the count carried up?—A. No, sir.

Q. 90. When the tickets were counted they were poured out on the table, or taken out by hand?—A. I don't remember that.

Q. 91. You don't remember?—A. No, sir; I don't remember how they were taken out, but they were not poured out on the table; I can answer that.

Q. 92. Did you count these tickets over the same time Mr. Stapleton was there? Did you count them over yourself?—A. Yes, sir; just as we were ready to go they arose and were going to go when Stapleton requested me to count them.

Q. 93. You counted them?—A. Yes, sir; I did.

Recross-examination:

Q. 94. At the tallying in the evening of the 7th, when the tickets were called off, do you know who handled them at that time? Was it one of the trustees? Can you tell what he did with them? How he kept them?—A. It was handed to one of the trustees.

Q. 95. You may tell what he did with them, whether he put them in another place or laid them on the table?—A. The way they counted; they counted straight tickets; straight ballots by themselves; then those that were not straight by themselves.

Q. 96. What did they do with them immediately after they were counted; just after they were taken out of the box?—A. Well, I don't know; they went into possession of another judge or clerk.

Q. 97. Well, state whether or not there were any loose tickets lying around there; being around during the day; whether they were all entirely cleared away from the table?—A. Yes, sir; I think that they were.

Q. 98. You stated in the direct testimony that they could have been tampered with while the recount was being made?—A. Possibly so; I went into the room after the poll-book.

Q. 99. When you were gone they were alone?—A. No, sir, not exactly; my brother was there, and several others in the house were there.

Q. 100. Did they take any particular interest in it?—A. No, sir; not particular. I sat there awhile; also my brother sat close by there too.

Q. 101. While they were sorting out on the table—while they were counting—you went to get the poll-book?—A. Yes, sir; I did.

Q. 102. After they had counted them and left them on the table you counted them for the first time, and you found 55 instead of 54 for Frederick?—A. Yes, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 103. In counting them, that time, did they leave the tickets lying loosely over the table, or leave each party tickets in a pile by themselves?—A. I think that they laid them over, and just shoved them to one side to make room for the others.

Q. 104. You then piled them up in piles just about as they found them, did you? I understand you to say you recounted the ballots while they were there.—A. Mr. Stapleton was standing there looking at me at the time.

Q. 105. You made 55 of them?—A. Yes, sir.

Recross-examination:

Q. 106. That was after they had counted them?—A. Yes, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 107. Who asked you to go out of the room after the tally-sheet?—A. Nobody; I went myself.

Recross-examination:

Q 108. Did they want to ascertain what was on the tally-sheet?—A. I don't think that they requested me for anything at all that I can remember; Stapleton looked at it, as I can remember, after I brought it in.

ANDREW JACOBS.

STATE OF IOWA,
Iowa County, ss:

MARTIN HANSON, being produced and sworn before A. J. Morrison, notary public for Iowa County, on this 8th day of March, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant and A. H. Simpson on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. My name is Martin Hanson; my age is 40 years; I live in Hardin Township, State of Iowa, Iowa County; my occupation is that of a farmer.

Q. 2. State if now or in 1882 you held an official position in Hardin Township, State of Iowa.—A. I was township trustee.

Q. 3. You attended the election November, 1882?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. Did you help recanvass the ballots?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. What did you do during the day of the election?—A. Well, part of the time I was receiving the ballots and putting them into the box, and part of the time I was sitting around the table by the clerk.

Q. 6. Do I understand you to say that you didn't help recanvass the ballots in the evening?—A. Yes, sir; I did in the evening of the election.

Q. 7. What part did you take in the canvass in the evening of the election?—A. I read off the names of the ballots.

Q. 8. You have helped canvass them here this evening, havn't you?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 9. What is the result you found now as compared with the result then; what is the difference?—A. As I understood it there was one more vote than our returns showed that night.

Q. 10. Do you think you could possibly have made a mistake on the evening of the election?—A. Such a thing might be, although we counted them over several times and we felt confident that we had them right.

Q. 11. In counting these ballots, did you count out all the straight Democratic tickets there were in a pile?—A. In the first place we separated them; I think it was Mr. Powell, the other trustee, who took the Democratic tickets; I took the Republican tickets and strung them out in our hands and put them in square packages; then we looked them over and saw how many straight tickets there were; then afterwards I read them off.

Q. 12. You told the clerk how many straight tickets there were?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 13. He tallied them down on his book?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 14. Do you remember how many straight Democratic tickets there were?—A. No, sir; I cannot remember.

Q. 15. Did you lay them out in piles of 5 or 10, or did you give him the whole list of straight tickets there were at one time?—A. He tallied them down; afterwards we read them over again to compare them.

Q. 16. Then you took the split tickets?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 17. And read them over?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 18. You believe them to be the same tickets voted November 7th, the ones you have canvassed to-night?—A. As far as I know; I have not seen them since; I cannot say for certain; we put them back into the box the evening of the election; we took the box and turned it over after we got them all out; we strung them and put them back in there.

Q. 19. Who took the tickets out that evening?—A. Myself and Mr. Powell.

Q. 20. How did you take them out; one at a time?—A. Yes, sir; one at a time; then strung them and made packages of them.

Q. 21. About how many straight Democratic tickets were there voted straight?—A. Well, I cannot tell you; I don't know; I don't remember how many there were; I did know that night, but I cannot tell now.

Q. 22. You believe these tickets to be the same tickets that you canvassed that night?—A. Yes, sir; they look like the same tickets.

Cross-examination:

Q. 23. You took the tickets out of the box when you commenced counting them?—A. I helped to take them out.

Q. 24. You examined them one by one to see whether Democratic or Republican?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 25. Then you looked them over carefully and rapidly?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 26. You are positive that you got them right?—A. Yes, sir; we thought we were pretty positive of it.

Q. 27. Now there are 7 tickets here that have no Congressmen on them by your count to-night; now in what shape did you find these tickets in the box?—A. The same number.

Q. 28. Were they folded or by themselves?—A. By themselves.

Q. 29. Each of these is where one man voted, and all the ticket he had a chance of voting?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 30. How do you account for the fact that there are 132 men who voted there that day; is that the number?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 31. You find 75 for Wilson?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 32. You find to-night 55 for Frederick, which makes 130, and then there were 7 of these little tickets, which make 137?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 33. And only 132 names on the poll-book?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 34. Can you explain that?—A. I can't do it.

Q. 35. You are positive that you counted them right on the night of the election?—A. Yes, sir; we counted them over several times, and thought we had them right.

Q. 36. Did you count the ballots to see whether they corresponded with the names on the register?—A. Yes, sir; we compared them that night.

Q. 37. Did you find that they corresponded; 132 ballots, and 132 names on the poll-book?—A. That is the way we had it that night; yes, sir.

Q. 38. How did you find it that night?—A. There seems to be 5 more to-night.

Redirect:

Q. 39. You say positively that there were only 132 tickets in the box that night?—A. We compared the ballots with the figures that night.

Q. 40. Are you positive that there were only 132 ballots in the box that night when you counted them?—A. According to what we counted.

Q. 41. Is it not a fact that during the evening you had some trouble in counting these ballots?—A. I remember we counted them several times.

Q. 42. Did you not have some trouble, something about these American tickets, you didn't know what to do with them; that you had more names than you had on the tally-list?—A. Yes, sir; we did, but we kept on counting them until we got them straight,

Q. 43. How did you get it straight?—A. We counted the tickets over.

Q. 44. Isn't it a fact, sir, that you didn't get it straight at all; that you had more tickets; you did not know what to do with these two American tickets; you did not have tallies for them, or names on the poll-book for them?—A. I can't remember about that.

Q. 45. Don't you remember you had trouble about these tickets?—A. We counted them over several times.

Q. 46. Do I understand you to say that you are positive there were only 132 ballots in the box, counted the county ballots and American tickets? Are you positive there are only 132 ballots in the box?—A. Well, we counted; I know in the first place there was one of these State tickets in the township box, and, and I changed them, and counted them in.

Q. 47. Are you positive there are only 132 ballots in the box, counting all the tickets?—A. Well, I cannot say for certain; I know we counted them until we were positive we were right.

Q. 48. Then you can't say for certain that there were only 132 tickets in the box; did you have a good deal of trouble counting them?—A. No, sir; I don't know that we did; I know we counted them several times.

Q. 49. What was your object in counting them over several times?—A. To be sure that we had them right.

Q. 50. Didn't you make up your minds that some men voted county tickets; also voted State tickets with them that you did not count out as a full ballot?—A. There was some such, as we were talking about it at the time, before we found that ticket in the township box; when we found that we counted them over again. I think that we had it right according to the numbers on the book.

Q. 51. Then you are positive there are only 132 ballots in the box that night? Now wasn't it the tally-list you compared with on the books? Did you compare them with the tallies?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 52. You didn't look back to see how many names had been tallied before you compared them with the tally-list?—A. Well, I don't know as I looked at the names; how many names, but I think the clerk said we had corresponded with the names; that is the best of my recollection.

Q. 53. You compared the tickets with the tally-lists?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 54. That is the best of your recollection, is it?—A. Yes, sir; as near as I can recollect.

Recross-examination:

Q. 55. Whenever you are clear in your own mind that you counted over the tickets for every man for Congress, as you counted them; that you felt sure that you are right?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 56. You didn't leave any ticket for anybody that you didn't count?—A. No, sir.

Q. 57. You are clear in your own mind that you are right?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 58. You are a good deal surprised to find one more for Frederick to-night?—A. Yes, sir; I am.

Q. 59. You have no doubt in your mind but what you got these tickets for Congressman the proper number in each list?—A. I know that we tried to count them for the ones they belonged to; at least I always tried to. If they made a mistake it was not willingly on my part.

Redirect:

Q. 60. You are not positive that you did not make a mistake?—A. I am liable to make a mistake as well as anybody.

C. L. SHIPTON, being produced and sworn before A. J. Morrison, notary public for Iowa County, on this 8th day of March, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and A. H. Simpson on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. Marengo is my residence; I am one of the publishers of the Marengo Messenger; I am 25 years old.

Q. 2. How long have you resided there?—A. About three months.

Q. 3. Were you present at Jacobs' when Stapleton and Jacobs were looking over the tickets a few days ago in Hardin Township, Iowa County?—A. Yes sir.

Q. 4. Where were you when this was being done?—A. I was in the room with them at the table.

Q. 5. Were you watching them?—A. Yes, sir; I was tallying.

Q. 6. Did you see them handle the tickets?—A. Well, we were handling them; yes, sir.

Q. 7. Do you believe or know whether there was a chance for a man to change the tickets, or take out any?

(Objection as being the opinion of the witness and not a fact.)

A. I think that I saw Mr. Jacobs bring the tickets into the room; they were tied up; I saw him untie them; I saw Stapleton take them up. I sat there and tallied; then—well, he counted them, for I followed him with my eye most of the time.

Q. 8. You didn't see any change, or any tickets being taken out or put in during the time?—A. No, sir.

Q. 9. Who else was in the room?—A. Andrew Jacobs, the clerk; John Jacobs, one of the trustees; also two other young men; also two women, the wives of Andrew and John Jacobs.

Q. 10. You think if there had been anything of that kind done, any change of the tickets, in either marking or erasing, or writing names in, that you would have seen them?

(Objection as asking for an opinion of the witness, rather than for a fact.)

A. Yes, sir; I think that I would.

Q. 11. You are most positive that there was nothing of that kind done?—A. I feel positive that there was not anything of that kind done.

Cross-examination:

Q. 12. You are the editor of the Messenger, are you?—A. Yes, sir; one of them.

Q. 13. Did you write for it?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 14. Was it a political paper?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 15. Frederick paper?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 16. That is, against Wilson?—A. Yes, sir; as far as politics goes.

Q. 17. Does it pronounce decidedly in his favor, and has it through the canvass?—A. Yes, sir; as far as politics are concerned.

Q. 18. Are you the gentleman who writes the editorials?—A. No, sir; not that part.

Q. 19. What part did you?—A. Some of the local writing.

Q. 20. Did you do the writing as far as Frederick and Wilson were concerned?—A. No, sir; I never wrote any of them.

Q. 21. Politically you are the friend of Frederick?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 22. You and Mr. Stapleton went down there to count these ballots?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 23. You did the tallying; he did the counting.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 24. Anybody else assist in the operation?—A. No, sir; there wasn't.
Q 25. Anybody else tallied?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 26. Was it done rapidly?—A. Yes, sir; as rapidly as is commonly done.
Q. 27. Your attention was given to it.—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 28. He counted them off and you tallied.—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 29. Your eyes had to be on your business?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 30. Your eyes had to be on your tallies; you could not see the tickets.—A. Yes, sir; I saw the tickets. I watched him as he laid them down, and made a mark each time.

Redirect:

Q. 31. At the time Stapleton was counting these tickets wasn't Mr. Jacobs watching him about all the time?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 32. How long was Mr. Jacobs absent from the room?—A. I don't know. I believe he stepped out for a poll-book, and wasn't absent more than a minute or so. I don't know but what we had counted once. I don't recollect that, though my recollection is that the count had been made and the discrepancy discovered; he stepped out for the poll-book.
Q. 33. He went and got a poll-book to see how it compared with the count, did he?—A. Yes, sir; that is my recollection of it.
Q. 34. Neither of you knew what the count was on the poll-book until after the count was made of the tickets.—A. I don't know, sir.
Q. 35. You didn't hear any one say just what it was until after the poll-book was brought in.—A. No, sir; not that I recollect of.
Q. 36. You don't recollect of hearing any one say what the count of the poll-book was until after the poll-book was brought in after the count had been made.—A. No, sir; I don't recollect of having heard it at all.

I, Eldon Moran, a notary public and commissioner, agreed upon by the parties to take testimony in this cause, in pursuance of the annexed agreement, attached to the testimony of J. D. Adams, whose testimony was taken Feb. 22nd, 1883, do truly certify that on the 8th day of March, 1883, in pursuance of the notice hereunto annexed, I I took the depositions of the following-named witnesses: J. B. Lyon, A. M. Henderson, B. F. Reno, Ed. Tucker, J. S. Swaney, A. M. Henderson (recalled), Ed. Tucker (recalled), A. J. Morrison, Thos. Stapleton, Andrew Jacobs, Martin Hanson, C. L. Shipton, J. S. Wagner; and upon the same conditions as above mentioned, and at the same place, on the 16th day of March, the testimony of J. S. Wagner was taken, whose testimony is set forth in the following manner:

Each witness was first by me duly sworn, or caused to be sworn in my presence, as provided by law, and when sworn the questions were propounded to him by the respective parties, Benjamin T. Frederick, contestant, and James Wilson, contestee, by their respective attorneys, and the questions by me read to the witness, who answered the same, and his answer, in the language of the witness, was by me taken down under each question propounded, and reduced to writing until the deposition was completed.

I further certify that when the testimony was taken I carefully read the same over to the witness, who corrected the same, and each correction noted, and said testimony was signed by the witness and sworn to by him before me.

I further certify that T. Brown and Carney appeared as counsel for the contestant, and A. H. Simpson and J. N. W. Rumple appeared as counsel for James Wilson, contestee.

In witness whereof I have set my hand and seal notarially, this 16th day of March, 1883.

To all whom these presents shall come, send greeting:

Whereas at the term of the county court begun and held in the court-house, at Ottumwa, on the 11th day of October, A. D. 1859, in and for said county and State above mentioned, Edward Fitzgerald, an alien and a native of Great Britain and Ireland, the subject of the Queen thereof, personally came before the judge of said county court and made application to be naturalized under the laws of the United States, and it appearing by sufficient testimony to the satisfaction of said court that the said Edward Fitzgerald had made declaration of his intention to become a citizen by due form of law, at least two years before making application, that he had been a resident of the United States for at least five years, then last passed, and, also, that during that time he had behaved like a man of good moral character, attached to the principles of the Constitution of the United States, and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same.

Whereupon, by order of the said court, the oath of allegiance was administered in due form of law to the said Edward Fitzgerald in open court, that he would support the Constitution of the United States, and that he absolutely and entirely renounced and abjured all allegiance and fidelity to every foreign prince, potentate, state, or sovereignty whatsoever, and particularly to Queen Victoria, Queen of England and Ireland, of whom he was a subject.

And thereupon it was ordered by said court that the certificate of naturalization be granted to the said Edward Fitzgerald according to the form of statute in such cases made and provided, which by these presents is accordingly done; and that the said Edward Fitzgerald be therefore entitled to all the rights and privileges and immunities of citizenship.

In testimony whereof I, Joseph Hayne, clerk of said county and court, do here subscribe my name and affix the seal of said court, at Ottumwa, this 11th day of October, A. D. 1859.

THOMAS CAREY, being produced and sworn before Eldon Moran, notary public for Johnson County, on this 30th day of March, A. D. 1883 (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant and W. H. Stivers on the part of contestee), testifies as follows:

Ques. 1. Where do you live?—Ans. In Tama County.
Ques. 2. In what township?—Ans. In Indian Village.
Ques. 3. How long have you lived there?—Ans. Since 1860.
Ques. 4. What is your age, now, please?—Ans. About thirty-three, I guess.
Ques. 5. Do you know where you were born?—Ans. In Vermont.
Ques. 6. John Carey, senior, here is your father, is he?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 7. Did you vote at the last November election, in Indian Village Township, in which Mr. Frederick and Mr. Wilson were candidates for Congress?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 8. Which ticket did you vote?—Ans. For Benjamin Frederick; I always vote the Democratic ticket.

THOMAS CAREY.

THOMAS CAREY recalled:

Ques. 1. Are you a brother of Jno. Carey?—Ans. Both are sons of the Carey, senior, who was on the stand. Do you know where your brother voted at the election?—Ans. At Montour.
Ques. 2. Indian Village Township?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 3. Do you know what ticket he voted?—Ans. No, sir; I don't know; I suppose he voted for Frederick.
Ques. 4. Well, not what you suppose. Did you and he ever talk about it?—No, sir; I don't remember of having any talk; I never asked him; I suppose he would do so; that is his way of voting.
(Objection; moved to strike it out.)
Ques. 5. What makes you think he voted for Frederick?—Ans. Because I think he is a man of pretty good judgment.
Ques. 6. Is that the only reason you have?—Ans. Yes, sir; that is the only reason I have.
Ques. 7. Have you never talked with him any?—I do not remember of talking with him any.
Ques. 8. You do not know anything about what his politics are?—Ans. I have heard him say he was a Democrat.
Ques. 9. That would be another reason for you thinking so?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Q. 10. When did you hear him say he is a Democrat?—A. I cannot tell you.
Q. 11. You have always understood it so?—A. Yes, sir; always supposed so.
Q. 12. Is not that another reason?—A. No, sir; I am a Democrat; I sometimes vote for Republicans.
Q. 13. I will ask you if there is another reason why you think he voted for Frederick, because you have always understood that he was a Democrat?—A. Yes, sir; I suppose a Democrat would support a Democrat nominee.
Q. 14. Then it is not altogether because you thought that he had good judgment?—A. No, sir.

Cross-examination:

Q. 15. You have no knowledge of how they probably voted?—A. No, sir.
Q. 16. He has always voted Republican, though?—A. Yes, sir; I believe he has voted for county clerk and other officers.

Ques. 1. Did you vote at the last election at Montone?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 2. You voted at the election when Mr. Frederick and Wilson were running for Congress?—Ans. Yes, sir; I voted for supervisor.
Ques. 3. What ticket did you vote, Democratic, Greenback, or Republican ticket, if any?—Ans. Democratic ticket.
Ques. 4. Well, let us get along. Where were you born?—Ans. I was born in Donegal, Ireland, parish of Glen.
Ques. 5. When did you first come to America?—Ans. I can't give the date; but I know I have been in America 40 years.
Ques. 6. How old are you now?—Ans. I am about 65 or 70.
Ques. 7. About 70.—Ans. Yes, sir; I was in this country since 25 years.
Quest. 8. Have you citizen papers?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 9. Never had?—No, sir; I never voted for Congressman in my life until last November, but I had voted for supervisor and school director in my district.
Ques. 10. You have never had any naturalization papers or citizen papers?—Ans. No, sir; I thought as long as I was in the country that I didn't need any, because I was so long in the country.

Cross-examination:

Ques. Have you any knowledge whom you voted for last election?—Ans. Yes, sir: I have voted for Fergusson; I voted the Democratic ticket. That is all the voting I have done since the last 40 years.
Ques. 2. You voted for the Congressman that Mr. Wilkes told you, did you?—No, sir.
Did he tell you the name?—No, sir; I knew the name myself.
Ques. 4. Did you read it?—Ans. No, sir; I could not read it. Wilks told me here too that I voted Democratic.
Ques. 5. Did you read the ticket yourself?—Ans. No, sir; I could not read it. I can't tell what ticket I voted. I got two or three or four of them. I can't tell who gave them to me.
Ques. 6. Did you know whether the name of any Congressman at all was on it?—Ans. No, sir; I could not know it; I can't read.
Ques. 7. It could be off entirely, might it not?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 8. There might not be any Congressman's name on it at all, might there?—Ans. They may have thought I was a fool, you know.
Ques. 9. Now there were 3 Congressmen candidates last November, wasn't there?—Ans. Yes, sir; I didn't know anything about any of them. My man was a Democrat.
Ques. 10. You did not know whether the Congressman's name was on it or not, did you?—Ans. No, sir; I could not tell.
Ques. 11. You thought you were a voter in good faith?—Ans. Of course I did.

Redirect:

Ques. 1. Did you think you voted the Democratic ticket?—Ans. Well, I am not sure, because I got 3 or 4 of them. I can't tell which ticket I voted.
Ques. 2. Which one did you intend to vote?—Ans. Democratic.
Ques. 3. Did you ask anybody whether it was Democratic?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 4. How did you know it was a Democratic ticket; anybody tell you?—Ans. No, sir; my pocket was full; I had my pocket full of Republican tickets.
Ques. 5. How do you know that, if you cannot read?—Ans. Because the clerk told me.
Ques. 6. Is that the way you did?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 7. How did you tell?—Ans. I told him that I meant to work for the Democrat.

Recross-examination:

Ques 1. You might have voted for a Republican?—Ans. Yes, sir; or a Democrat.
Ques. 2. You might have voted for a Republican?—Ans. Yes, sir.; I might.

Redirect:

Ques. If you voted for a Republican, somebody fooled you, didn't they; they fooled you?—I don't believe they fooled me in my mind.

EDWARD YATES, being produced and sworn before Eldon Moran, notary public for Johnson County, on this 31st day of March, A. D. 1883, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and W. H. Stivers on the part of contestee):

Where do you live?—Ans. In Columbia Township, Tama Co.

Ques. 2. How long have you lived there?—Ans. Nearly 20 years. I was raised in this co.

Ques. 3. Do you know John Stum?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 4. How long have you known him?—Ans. I have known when I would see him for 5 years.

Ques. 5. Where does he live, do you know?—Ans. In Columbus Township.

Ques. 6. Is he a man of family?—Ans. He has a wife, I know.

Ques. 7. Do you know whether he is foreign born?—Ans. Only from what I have heard him say.

Ques. 8. What did he say about that?—Ans. I have heard him say that he was born in Germany.

Ques. 9. Do you know anything about whether he was ever naturalized? Did he ever say anything about it?

(Objection: hearsay.)

Ans. I have heard him say that he was never naturalized,

Ques. 10. Do you know whether he voted at the last election, in Nov., in Columbus Township, in which Wilson and Frederic were candidates for Congress?

(Objection: hearsay.)

Ans. He told me he voted at last election.

Ques. 11. Did he tell you for whom he voted?—Ans. For Frederic.

Recross-examination:

Ques. 1. How far do you live from him?—Ans. Between one and one-half and 2 miles.

Ques. 2. What are your politics?—Ans. I voted the Republican ticket.

Ques. 3. Whom did you vote for?—Ans. Wilson.

Ques. 4. What was your object in inquiring of Mr. Stun whether he was naturalized?—Ans. The way I came to ask him about his being naturalized, he was talking about his nationality, and so on.

Ques. 5. Were you employed to do it?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 6. Did any one instruct you to ask him about it?—Ans. No, sir; no one.

Ques. 7. What was your object in asking?—Ans. Simply to know where he was from.

Ques. 8. Did you reveal it?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 9. Whom did you tell it to first?—Ans. To Mr. Stevens.

Ques. 10. Did they know you had any knowledge of it?—Ans. I don't know that they did.

Ques. 11. How did they know you knew these facts before you were called on the stand?—Ans. I can't tell you.

Ques. 12. Never told it to any one in the world, did you? Not until you told it upon the stand here?—Ans. State that again.

Ques. 13. When did you tell these facts in regard to Mr. Stein being an unnaturalized voter at the last Nov. election? Whom did you tell it first?—Ans. I was asked about it by a man on the street.

Ques. 14. Who was it?—Ans. James D———.

Ques. 15. What did he say to you at that time?—Ans. What about?

Ques. 16. In regard to this Mr. Stein.—Ans. Well, he said, "Do you know whether he was ever naturalized or not?"

Ques. 17. What did you tell him?—Ans. I said that he had told me that he never was.

Ques. 18. Did he ask you how he voted at the last election?—Ans. I believe not. I believe he asked me his politics.

Didn't he ask you for whom he voted?—Ans. No, sir; I don't believe he did.

Ques. 20. You don't remember to have told that party of it before?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 21. Never remember telling anybody else those facts? Did you tell him on the streets to-day?—Ans. No, sir; not that I remember of.

Ques. 22. Where did this conversation take place, in which Mr. Stein told you that he was not naturalized—before or after last election?—A. That was, to the best of my knowledge, 3 years ago.

Ques. 23. Was that in election time?—Ans. No, sir; it was in the threshing crowd it came up. I can call it to memory.

Ques. 24. Who was present at the time?—Ans. My partners; two of them.

Ques. 25. Give their names.—Ans. Wm. Stein was present; also Clarke.

Ques. 26. Was this a brother of the other one?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 27. Did he hear the conversation?—Ans. I believe so.

Ques. 28. Where was it?—Ans. At John Stein's, three years next threshing time.

Ques. 29. Does John Stein vote at the same place you did?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 30. When did he tell you that he voted for Frederick at the last election for Congress?—Ans. Yesterday.

Ques. 31. Where was that?—Ans. At his own house.

Ques. 32. What were you doing over there then?—Ans. I went there to buy a horse of him.

Ques. 33. You asked him at that time whom he voted for?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 34. Did he ask you whom you voted for?—Ans. I don't remember.

Ques. 35. Did you buy the horse?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 36. You went there for that purpose?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 37. Didn't you go to see whom he voted for?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 38. Who was present when he told you that?—Ans. Mr. Teak.

Ques. 39. Did he vote for Frederic that time?—He told me that he had voted for Frederic; that is, in the presence of Teek.

Ques. 40. Do you know whether he has been naturalized since that time?—Ans. The way as he spoke three years ago that he didn't have his papers.

Ques. 41. He spoke of first or second papers?—Ans. No, sir; I think not of 2d papers. The conversation ran about like this: I asked him if he had taken out his papers, and to my knowledge he said no. We had no reference to 1st or 2nd papers.

Ques. 42. You knew he was an illegal voter?—Ans. No, sir; I never knew until yesterday that he was at the election.

Ques. 43. You never met him at the election?—Ans. I have no recollection of it.

Ques. 44. Did you ever report it to any one?—A. Yes, sir; I never knew that he cast a vote in America until yesterday.

Ques 45. Do you know that he did this?—Ans. No, sir; only what I was told.

Ques. 46. State to us the conversation in which he told you that he voted for Frederick. How did that arise?—Ans. It came up in the same argument between him and Peck about Wilson and Frederick. I asked him if he had turned to be a Democrat, or something like that. He said that he had. I said to Stein, maybe I am getting into a Democratic nest here. He said, I guess you are. Said I, are you a Frederick man? He said, yes, sir. I said, did you vote for Frederick last fall? He said he had. That is all of the conversation.

Ques. 47. Did you say anything more about that?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 48. Did you not tell him that he was not naturalized and had no right to vote?—I said nothing about it.

Ques. 49. Didn't that occur to your mind at that time?—Ans. I didn't give it a thought.

Ques. 50. You never spoke to him?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 51. You didn't ask him whether he got papers since that time?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 52. Didn't speak to him about being an illegal voter?—Ans. No, sir; I said nothing about it.

Ques. 53. Were you in town yesterday?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 54. Were you not subpœnaed?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 55. Did you come in voluntarily to testify?—Ans. No, sir; not to testify. I did not know there was a trial.

Ques. 56. You came in here voluntarily?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 57. Anybody force you to come in here?—Ans. Not that I know of.

Redirect:

Ques. 1. How many brothers has Mr. Stein that you know?—Ans. Four, or rather three besides himself.

Ques. 2. Tell us their names.—Ans. Wilton Theodore, one they call Gus; one lives in Columbia; another lives in Richland Township. I know them when I see them. They are not old enough to vote.

EDWARD YATES.

O. H. MILLS, being produced and sworn before Eldon Moran, notary public for Tama County, on this 31st day of March, 1883, testifies as follows (W. H. Stivers appearing on the part of contestee, and T. Brown on the part of contestant):
Ques. 1. Where do you reside?—Ans. In Tama City, Tama County, Iowa.
Ques. 2. How long have you lived there?—Ans. for 12 years.

Attorney-at-law:

Ques. 3. Were you in Tama City at the last November election, at which election B. T. Frederick and James Wilson were candidates for Congress?—Ans. Yes, sir; I was.

Ques. 4. During the day, did you notice any of the Milwaukee hands voting?—Ans. Yes, sir; I did.

Ques. 5. What employment were these men in on the road?—Ans. Surfacing on th track.

Ques. 6. Section hands?—Ans. Well, they were men working on the construction on the track. They were fixing it up; it had been laid down and they were coming along surfacing up the track.

Ques. 7. Did you know their names?—Ans. Some of them.

Ques. 8. Give them.—Ans. John Holland, J. Burns, T. Ellwood, and E. Gillespie.

Ques. 9. Did you know how long they had been here, Mr. Mills?—Ans. I know that they came in here when they commenced fixing the track and went out of here. They were transient men here.

Ques. 10. How long after the election did they go away from here?—Ans. Probably the next week; inside of two weeks.

Ques. 11. Were they fixing up the surface of the track of the Milwaukee road; surfacing up the track?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 12. As they finished up surfacing, they went along?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. Do you know how long they were here before election—how long they had been stopping?—Ans. I don't know exactly, probably 30 days.

Ques. 14. Were they residents here, citizens of the town?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 15. Do you know who they voted for for Congressman?—Ans. I know that they were furnished tickets by men running for Frederick.

Ques. 16. Do you know the tickets they had? Did you see these tickets that these men were peddling and know that were Frederick tickets?—Ans. Yes, sir; I knew that they were.

Ques. 17. How long after they got these tickets from the men did they deposit their votes?—Ans. These men were there in the office; their votes were challenged; they swore in their votes; they handed in their tickets right off, then and there, and put them in the box.

Ques. 18. Did anybody go up with them to the polls?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 19. And were they Frederick men or not?—Ans. Yes, sir; Frederick men.

Cross-examination:

Ques. 20. I understand you to say Holland, Burns, and Gillespie were at the last Nov. election, '82, took the oath that they were legal voters, and voted?—Ans. Their votes were challenged, and they swore in their votes.

Ques. 21. They swore they were residents of the co. for 60 days, in this precinct for ten days, before election?—Ans. Yes, sir; they did.

Ques. 22. Did you see the votes after they got them?—Ans. I saw them get the tickets; I didn't see what was written on them.

Ques. 23. The reason you think they were for Frederick is that the tickets were given them by men supporting Frederick?—Ans. Yes, sir; that is it.

Ques. 24. You didn't see the ballots yourself?—Ans. I didn't see the names all myself.

Ques. 25. Did you say that these men did not live in this co. 60 days prior to the election?—Ans. I say that they were not residents of the township and county.

Ques. 26. Well, do you think that they were not residents of Tama County for 60 days prior to the last election?—Ans. Yes, sir; I know it.

Ques. 27. Did you know these men 60 days before the election?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 29. For that reason you think that they were not residents of Tama Co.?—Ans. I think that they had not lived here inside of this co. 60 days. I know that they were transient men.

Ques. 29. Do you know where they resided before that time?—Ans. Yes, sir; because I interrogated them each separately in regard to their residence. They insisted in swearing in their votes.

Ques. 30. After their votes had been challenged?—Ans. I think that Mr. Hill and Mr. ——— opposed and challenged their votes.

Ques. 31. Are you positive that T. Elwood was not a resident 60 days before the election?—Ans. I am positive that he was not a resident of this township. He might have been a resident of the county.

Ques. 32. How long was he resident of the township?—Ans. I don't think I can tell.

Ques. 33. Was he working in the township?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 34. Was he a single man?—Ans. Yes, sir: I think so.

Ques. 35. You know who I refer to? I mean T. Elwood.—Ans. Yes, sir; I think that is the one.

Ques. 36. Do you say that he was not in the township 30 days?—Ans. He may have been here that long.

Ques. 37. How about Gillespie?—Ans. No, sir; I don't know about him. I never knew him before election.

Ques. 38. How did you know that he was not a resident?—Ans. From what he told me.

Ques. 39. Did you know J. Burns before the election?—Ans. I never saw him before.

Ques. 40. Didn't know his name until that day?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 41. How did you know that he was not a resident of this county?—Ans. From the answer he gave me when I examined as to his qualifications.

Ques. 42. He might have lived in the county for all you know?—Ans. Yes, sir; but I don't think that he did, from what he told me.

Redirect:

Ques. 43. When these fellows presented themselves to vote did you inquire of them how they happened up here, on what business?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 44. What did they tell you that they were doing?—Ans. They said that they were working on the railroad here; they claimed to be naturalized; that they had a right to vote wherever they were.

Ques. 45. They were working along the line of road, surfacing up?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 46. They are away now?—Ans. Yes, sir; they were not here ten days after the election.

Recross-examination:

Ques. 47. Did you know that these men boarded with James McLaughlin here 60 days before the election?—Ans. No, sir; I know that they did not, only one or two of them.

Ques. 48. Do you know that these four men did not board with this man for 60 days before the election?—Ans. No, sir; I don't know that.

Recalled:

Ques. 49. You are Republican, I believe?—Ans. Yes, sir; born Republican.

Ques. 50. You voted Republican ticket last election for Congressman?

Ques. 51. For James Wilson?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 52. You supported actively, I believe?—Ans. Yes, sir; actively I worked for him.

Ques. 53. Worked at the polls?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 54. Since that you have been assisting in this contest?—Ans. Never, except looking up evidence. I have suggested names to Wilson.

Ques. 55. Assisted in looking up evidence?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 13. Where was McDonald's headquarters then?—Ans. Here.

Ques. 14. Do you know whether he came here to make his headquarters?—Ans. No, sir; I don't know.

Ques. 15. How do those hands manage it in reference to places to stop?—Ans. They boarded here.

Ques. 16. Under McDonald?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 17. Were these men under him?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques, 18. Where did they go from here?—Ans. I can't tell that.

Ques. 19. How long did it take them here.—Ans. McDonald commenced the 1st of Nov.

Ques. 20. Does not that give the time of the men?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 21. When did Mr. Holland commence?—Ans. I was looking at it the time.

(Objection, for the reason that the witness reads from a book that he did not make himself.)

Ans. No, sir; I did not make this book.

Ques. 22. Now, sir, the hands of this train came to the place and boarded until they got through there and then went to another place.—Ans. This train didn't have any other place. Their headquarters were here until I discharged them.

Ques. 23. They were here to work until you discharged them?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 24. When you discharged them did they go away?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 25. All of them?—Ans. Well, I don't know that all of them did.

Ques. 26. Well, those four men, did they go away?—Ans. Yes, sir; I guess they are here now. I don't know this Burns, I think it must have been the old man Burns across the track. I don't know anything about it. There were three Burns' in all; one family here working on the train.

Ques. 27. Now, were these men, Holland, Burns, and Gillespie employed hands working on the train?—Ans. I can't find it at all.

Ques. 28. Take Burrows, Ellwood, and Holland.—Ans. Yes, sir; I find these three.

Cross-examination:

Ques. 29. Have you any personal knowledge of it except what you derive from the book that you hold, as to the length of time these men were here?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 30. Did you make these entries in this book yourself?—Ans. No, sir; I merely audited the book.

Ques. 31. Holland had the entry of witnesses?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 32. You have no personal knowledge of the whereabouts of this man you were asked about?—Ans. No, sir; not at all.

Ques. 33. When did you say that McDonald's men worked here?—Ans. I see by this book here, that he was working here when I came here, the 1st of Oct.

Q. 34. When did it begin, the first of Sept.?—Ans. Yes, sir; this book did.

Ques. 35. Do you know that they might have been here before that?—Ans. Yes, sir; I know that they might have been here before that.

Ques. 6. How old were you when you came to this county?—Ans. I am 35; take off 11 years and that will give it.
Ques. 7. You were a single man?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 8. You were naturalized, and have citizen papers?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 9. Have you them with you?—Ans. They are in Minn. The first ones that I got were burned; I was burned out. The first I got in St. Paul; the other and second I got in Chicago, of Mr. Blinn, in Chic.
Ques. 10. When did you get your second papers?—Ans. 4 or 5 years ago.
Ques. 11. Did you come from there here?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 12. 4 or 5 pears ago you got your papers from Blinn, city clerk?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ans. Didn't you say city clerk?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 13. How long after you got your papers did you leave Chic.?—Ans. I staid in Chic. almost 4 years.
Ques. 14. Have you got your papers?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 15. How long after you got your papers did you stay in Chic.?—Ans. One or two years.
Ques. 16. You have been here how long?—Ans. 3 years.
Ques. 17. In what street did you live in in Chic.?—Ans. Erie street.
Ques. 18. What number?—Ans. I think 68; either 168 or 68; I think 68.
Ques. 19. Can you tell me who your witness was?—Ans. There are so many; everybody knows me.
Ques. 20. At the time that you took second papers who was your witness?—Ans. I don't remember who it was exactly; plenty know me. I had a witness when I got the first papers; that is in St. Paul.
Ques. 21. I mean your second papers; you don't remember your witness's name?—Ans. One name was Swanson, the other was Gealher.

Ques. 22. What did you do in Chic.?—Ans. Clerking.

Ques. 23. For what?—Ans. In a dry-goods store; R. W. Springer, of Milwaukee; then across the street for the Farmers' Hotel.

Ques. 24. You voted for Frederick or Wilson in Tama City last election?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 25. What ticket did you vote?—Ans. I always vote straight ticket; I never tell anybody what ticket I vote.

Ques. 26. Which, if either, one of the candidates did you vote for?—Ans. I didn't know; I mixed them up; so I can't tell, sir. I put down the name that suits me.

Ques. 27. Now I ask you who it was?—Ans. I don't want to tell; I will never tell you.

Ques. 28. Did you say that you didn't know who you voted for?—Ans. Yes, sir; of course I know who, but I never tell anybody.

Ques. 29. Didn't you tell me a little while ago that it was mixed up so that you didn't know?—Ans. I mixed up the tickets.

Ques. 30. Didn't you tell me a while ago that you mixed them up so that you didn't know who you voted for?—Ans. I know who I voted for.

Ques. 31. Didn't you say a while ago that you didn't know who you voted for?—Ans. I say that I mixed the tickets up so.

Ques. 32. You mixed up the candidates so?—Ans. Yes, sir; that is it.

Ques. 33. So you can't tell who you did vote for?—Ans. Yes, sir; I know who I voted for.

Ques. 34. Didn't you tell me that you didn't know?—Ans. I say that I mixed up the candidates. Each person that I like I vote for.

Ques. 35. So you can't tell which one you did vote for; isn't that what you told me a while ago?—Ans. I said that I mixed up the tickets.

Ques. 36. Didn't you tell me that a while ago?—Ans. Yes, sir; I mixed up the tickets.

Ques. 37. Now, have you got that so unmixed that you ean tell me who you voted for?—Ans. Well, sir, I put in Frederick's name.

Cross-examination:

Ques. 38. This Blinn was the clerk of the court of record?—Ans. Yes, sir; on Mad. street.

Ques. 39. You got your papers from him?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 40. The same man that issues papers to all voters?—Ans. Yes. sir.

Ques. 41. Clerk of Cook County, wasn't he, before the court?—Ans. Yes, sir; of Cook County, near Chic.

Ques. 42. That is what you meant, that he was city clerk—that he was clerk of the court?—Ans. Yes, sir; some call him city clerk.

Redirect:

Ques. 42. How did you know that he was clerk of the court; was it because Carney told you so?—Ans. Because I have been a good many times to see him.

Ques. 44. You have seen him in his office on Madison street?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 45. Where did you get it, right in the court? You got it in the court on Madison street?—Ans. No, sir; he brought me the paper.

Ques. 46. Where were you when he brought it to you?—Ans. Over where he lives. I went to him on the south side in a big house, and he told me to come along with him.

Ques. 47. You went up to his office in the court-house, did you?—Ans. No, sir; I think that is on Clark street, in that big room there; that is where I got it.

Ques. 48. Who else was there?—Ans. Swanson and Geagher.

Ques. 49. Who else was there?—Ans. I don't recollect all the names that were there.

Ques. 50. Were there other people there?—Ans. Yes, sir; a good many of them. The other folks wanted papers, too. I went along with him so that I could get mine.

Ques. 51. It was several people that wanted papers?—Ans. The room was full of people. I don't know what they were after.

Redirect:

Ques. 52. It was in the court-house in Chicago that you got your paper?—Ans. Yes, sir; certainly.

STATE OF IOWA,
Tama County, ss:

E. J. WILCOX, being produced and sworn before Eldon Moran, notary public of Tama County, on this 1st day of March, 1883, W. H. Stivers appearing on the part of the contestee, and T. Brown on the part of the contestant, testifies as follows:

Ques. 1. Where do you live?—Ans. Montour, Tama County, Iowa.

Ques. 2. How long have you resided there?—Ans. 13 years.

Ques. 3. Were you at the election last fall in Nov.?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 4. At that election were Frederick and Wilson candidates for Congress in this district?—Ans. Yes, sir; they were.
Ques. 5. Were you there most of the time?—Ans. Yes, sir; I was there from the time that the polls were opened until they were closed. I was there also in the evening.
Ques. 6. Did you see one John W. Shelton vote at that election?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 7. A. J. H. Smith?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 8. A James Davis?—Ans. Yes, sir; also McGuire and railroad men that were section hands at Potter.
Ques. 9. McGuire and Davis?—Ans. Yes, sir; section hands at Potter, all except Shelton.
Ques. 10. Did you see Shelton vote?—Ans. Yes, sir; I did.
Ques. 11. Do you know he voted?—Ans. He voted Democratic ticket for Frederick.
Ques. 12 Did you know this man Shelton? Was he a man or boy?—Ans. He was a man about 23 or 24 years of age.
Ques. 13. Where does he live?—Ans. He came back from Missouri. His father formerly lived here in Indian Village Township. They went to Missouri a year ago last spring.
Ques. 14. Did you say since they went, or since the father moved?—Ans. His father sold out and went there, and they came back and they commenced working Tues. morning. John W. Shelton said that he wanted to work just before the polls were open. I told him that my teams had gone to the fields. He wanted to vote, but he said that he wasn't a voter really. He had just come back to pay for a horse. Then he said that they were going back to Missouri. He went down to my house in the evening; commenced work on Wednesday morning after the election; but he voted.
Ques. 15. How long did he remain there?—Ans. He worked for me that week; then for Mr. C.; then for Buchannan; then he went back to Missouri.
Ques. 16. You say that he voted Democratic ticket?—Ans. Alva Shelton didn't vote.
Ques. 17. Well, John W. Shelton voted?—Ans. He voted straight Democratic ticket.
Ques. 18. How do you know?—Ans. I saw his vote challenged.
Ques. 19. How long before he voted was it that he told you that he just got back to pay for a horse?—Ans. 8 or 9 o'clock. I afterward talked about it when Smith was there. He said that he wasn't a voter. In the afternoon, about 3 o'clock, he said that he was going to vote; I said that "they won't let you." He said that Butler had given him a ticket, and said that he was a voter. He said that he was going to vote. The challenge wasn't withdrawn, and he swore it in.
Ques. 20. Now that is all about Shelton; what do you know about that man Smith, and McGuire and Davis; were they section-hands on the Milwaukee road?—Ans. Well, long a month after the election——! These men voted on that day—Mr. McGee voted and Smith voted. When he went to vote inquiry was made where they were from. Two or three were there; Putnam was present. McGee said that they were voters; Davis and Smith, I suppose, were McGee's hands. I don't know anything about it prior to that. Afterwards I found out that they were merely section hands. As to whether I knew them, they all worked down there.
Ques. 21. Do you know how long they remained there after the election?
(Objection; immaterial.)
Ans. Smith left next day but one.
Ques. 22. Do you know Davis?—Ans. They all staid a short time, and left.
Ques. 23. They were all residents there all the time?—Ans. They were all section-hands, and boarded with Mr. Hickson that worked on the section. James D. was boss.
Ques. 24. How long had D. been section-boss before the election?—Ans. Perhaps 60 days.
Ques. 25. With whom did he board?—Ans. With a man by the name of Hickson. Hickson didn't vote; Burrows didn't vote; but all the rest voted.
Ques. 26. Did they live there before they came to vote?—Ans. No, sir; they haven't been around since.

Cross-examination:

Ques. 27. Did you know that Smith, Davis, and McGuire had not been residents of the county 60 days?—Ans. I don't know, only as to Indian Village Township.
Ques. 28. Answer my question. Do you know whether they were residents of the county 60 days before the election?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 29. Do you know that they were not in the precinct 60 days?—Ans. No, sir; I know that some of them were not.
Ques. 30. How about James Davis and McGuire?—Ans. They were not in the township 10 days
Ques. 31. Where was Smith?—Ans. He wasn't in the precinct.
Ques. 32. Were you all through the precinct?—Ans. Pretty near.

Ques. 33. You know that he wasn't in the precinct 10 days before; where did he come from?—Ans. I don't know.

Ques. 34. You say that he wasn't in the precinct 10 days before the election?—Ans. I know that he wasn't in Indian Village Township.

Ques. 35. Were you with him all the time?—Ans. If he had been there in the township I would have known it.

Ques. 36. Now, in regard to Shelton, his father had moved into that precinct?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 37. How long prior to this election?—Ans. In the spring of '82.

Ques. 38. They had gone down to Missouri?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 39. You don't know whether he had intended to return or not?—Ans. Yes, sir; he says that he intended to return. I am going to state that my brother here helped him most 40 days within going back to Missouri.

Ques. 40. You don't know whether he intended to return, do you; don't know whether he intended to come back to Indian Village Township? Did you have any conversation with him at that time?—Ans. I talked with him election day and afterwards.

Ques. 41. I mean before he moved?—Ans. Yes, sir; I tried to buy a cow from him.

Ques. 42. You talked with J. W. Shelton?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 43. How old was he at that time?—Ans. 23 or 24 years old.

Ques. 44. Then he came back to work for you?—Ans. Yes, sir; he worked the balance of that week, I think.

Ques. 45. You challenged his vote at the election; he swore it in, did he?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 46. And swore that he was resident of the county 60 days and of that township 10 days?—Ans. Yes, sir; I think so.

Ques. 47. Who gave the ticket to him?—Ans. He says that Butler gave it to him. He came in and said that he was going to vote.

Ques. 48. Did he come and bring it to you?—Ans. I asked him to let me look at it, and I told him that they wouldn't let him vote, and he polled it right away.

Ques. 49. He knew that you were favorable to Wilson?—Ans. I don't know whether he did or not.

Ques. 50. You are in favor of Wilson?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 51. Have you ever been indicted for any criminal offense?—Ans. No, sir; I don't know that I have.

(Objection; incompetent.)

Ques. 52. What did you do before the election?—Ans. I didn't do anything.

Ques. 53. Did you tell anybody at that time in regard to the vote of John W. Shelton?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 54. Who did you tell?—Ans. We talked about it right there; Smith was present.

Ques. 55. You say that you saw the ticket?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 56. And it bore Frederick's name?—Ans. Yes, sir; it was straight Democratic ticket.

Ques. 57. Who were the judges of the election at that time?—Ans. Mills and Taplin.

Ques. 58. Who administered the oath; what was his name?—Ans. James Mills.

Ques. 59. He put in the same ticket, you say?—Ans. Yes, sir; he swore it right in.

Ques. 60. In spite of you?—Ans. Yes, sir; next morning when told about it he cried like a baby.

Redirect:

Ques. 61. Who was present next morning when he talked about it?—Ans. Johnson and Lawson.

Ques. 62. What did he say about it?—Ans. He said that he would never have voted if Butler hadn't urged him and told him that he was a voter. He says that Butler did it because I had the Turner boy vote.

Ques. 63. That is the reason Butler gave for having him vote?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 64. Is Butler justice of the peace?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 65. Did Butler work for Frederick the day of the election?—Ans. Yes, sir; he did.

Cross-examination:

Ques. 66. In the conversation you had with Shelton, before his father had moved to Mo., what did John say in regard to his intention in regard to his residence in the future?—Ans. They were all out there talking in the yard. E. J. Wilcox. They were going to Mo. next week.

Ques. 67. What did John say about it?—Ans. He said that they had made a home there, and that they were going there to live.

Ques. 68. Did he say that he was going to make it his home?—Ans. No, sir; he said that he was going back.

Ques. 69. I mean in the first place.—Ans. He said that he was going there to live—that is, before they first moved to Mo.

Q. 14. The lawyer Bell?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 15. The lawyer in Belle Plaine?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 16. Are these all the citizen papers you have?—A. Yes, sir; it is all that I have.

Q. 17. Mr. Bell is no clerk, is he?—A. He was a clerk at the same time.

Q. 18. Bell was clerk of the court?—A. No, sir; there was another man up there.

Q. 19. The clerk of the court was at Bell's office, in Belle Plaine?—A. Yes, sir; that is it.

Q. 20. That was in '71?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 21. You have never made any application for any other papers; you supposed that that was all you needed to give you the right to vote?—A. Yes, sir; that is all.

Q. 22. You voted at the last State election in Belle Plaine last fall?—A. I believe I did.

Q. 23. Did you vote the Democratic or Republican ticket?—A. I tell you right straight. You see I got plenty to do right along. Mr. N——— came around: "Here is a ticket, you go and vote it." I can't tell exactly which ticket it was I voted; I can't tell now.

Q. 24. Can you tell whether you voted the Democratic ticket or Republican?—A. He says it ought to be good; it made no difference to me; he says it ought to be a good ticket; I voted it; that was all.

Q. 25. I ask you whether Democratic or Republican?—A. You see it did not make any difference to me.

Q. 26. Well, tell me that, please.—A. Sometimes I vote for a Democrat; it don't make any difference to me. Mason came in to vote, and he said, "Here is a ticket." I took it, and voted it.

Q. 27. You vote whichever way they tell you to vote? Do you vote whichever way a fellow tells you to vote?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 28. What business do you follow in Belle Plaine, and how long have you been following it?—A. No answer.

Q. 29. What business do you follow?—A. Harness business.

Q. 30. How long have you been following that?—A. Ten years last Jan.

Q. 31. Who gave you your ticket last fall to vote?—A. [Laughs.] I can't tell you exactly now.

Q. 32. Well, tell us as near as you can?—A. I can't tell now exactly.

Q. 33. Well, tell as near as you can?—A. I can't hardly tell.
Q. 34. Do you know anything about who gave you your ticket?—A. I can't tell now exactly.
Q. 35. Can you tell anything about it?—A. I can't do it; I can't tell; that is all.
Q. 36. Do you know anything about what time of day it was when you voted?—[Laughs.] A. You see my business did not amount to much for me; that is all; every man must look out for his own business. If you make something from this business you will remember it; if you don't make anything it don't make any difference; that is the way it goes.
Q. 37. Have you any recollection at all as to who gave you the ticket?—A. I can't tell exactly.
Q. 38. Have you any recollection at all?—A. No, sir; I can't tell.
Q. 39. Have you any recollection who gave you the ticket?—A. No, sir.
Q. 40. Can you read English printing?—A. Yes, sir; I read it.
Q. 41. Did you read the ticket?—A. Sometimes I read it.
Q. 42. Did you read your ticket last fall?—A. I cannot tell. [Arises.] You see now I am busy.
Q. 43. Well, just sit down, it is not necessary to make a speech right here.
Q. 44. How did you know that it was N——— that gave you the ticket? [Laughs.] A. You ask me too much questions.
Q. 45. Let us have the answer.—A. You see N——— came and stopped at my place; I followed along with him; that is the way of it.
Q. 46. What neighbor was it?—A. I cannot tell exactly; if I tell you one time that is enough.
Q. 47. Did you have a talk with Jack Mason?—A. I believe I know.
Q. 48. Did you have a talk with him in the last few days as to how you voted?—A. I cannot tell whether I did or not.
Q. 49. You cannot tell what?—A. Whether I talked with him or not.
Q. 50. You have not a very good memory, have you?—A. Well, I tell you right straight, if somebody pay you $200.00 you would remember it better than for a cent or two.
Q. 51. You have a good memory, have you?—A. It is just as I tell you.
Q. 52. If it is $200.00 you have a good memory?—A. Yes, sir; that is the way it goes.
Q. 53. Did you not tell Jack Mosnat in the last few days in Belle Plaine that you voted for Frederick for Congressman?—A. I cannot tell.
Q. 54. State whether you did or not.—A. I cannot tell.
Q. 55. Did you not tell Mosnat in Belle Plaine within the last few days that you voted the Democratic ticket?
(Contestant objects to the question for the reason that it is immaterial and irrelevant.)
Q. 56. Now, did you not tell Mosnat in the last few days in Belle Plaine that you voted the Democratic ticket?—A. No, sir; I did not say that.
Q. 57. You did not do that?—A. No, sir.
Q. 58. Did you ever vote the Republican ticket in your life?—A. Yes, sir; a good many times.
Q. 59. Did you do it last fall?—A. Well, I cannot tell; may be I did.
Q. 60. And may be you did not?—A. It will be the same thing as I say now—you did not be there; I did not be there.
Q. 61. State whether or not you did not tell him in Belle Plaine in the last four or five days that you voted the Democratic ticket at the last fall election.—A. I did not say so.
Q. 63. You did not tell him so?

CHARLES GELLINEK.

CHARLES GELLINEK recalled.

Redirect:

Q. 63. After you were subpœnaed in this case in Belle Plaine, Benton County, Iowa, you did not have a conversation with J. J. Mosnat, of the same place, in which conversation you stated to Mosnat that if I had told you I voted the Republican ticket instead of the Democratic ticket you would not have subpœnaed me, or words to that effect?
(Contestant objects to the question as being irrelevant, immaterial, and leading.)
A. I cannot tell. Now, look here right straight; he don't prove it to me; I don't prove it to him; that is the way it be.

Recross-examination:

Q. 65. You mean whatever you said to Mosnat, you were not on oath and Mosnat was not on oath?—A. No, sir; I don't recollect anything about it. I say that we did not prove it.

Redirect (continued):

Q. 66. You say you read over the names of the candidates on the tickets that you voted last fall?—A. Yes, sir; I did say so. What for do you ask me that question?

Q. 67. (Omission here.—PRINTER.)

——— time to-day, and my time for a whole day is $5.

Q. 72. You wanted $5?—A. I would like to get pay for my time or I lose it. You talk for money, but I lose my time.

Q. 73. Who did you want $5 from?—A. If you were hired or get a job, I work for half and you work for double.

Q. 74. Who did you want $5 from?—A. I talked about it with Mosnat.

Q. 75. He would not give it to you?—A. No, sir; I got a few cents, but did not pay anything for me to be away; $1.75 was all that was paid me.

Q. 76. Are you out of humor and mad, too, because you did not get $5?

(Contestant objects to the question as being immaterial and irrelevant.)

A. I would like to say that if I had all such business as this is now, I would like to know how I could make a living. But as it is, you make money and I lose time.

(Excused for the present.)

Q. 14. Did you say you wanted a Democratic ticket?—A. Well, I told him——
Q. 15. What did you tell him?—A. I told him I wanted a Democratic ticket.
Q. 16. What did you want a Democratic ticket for?—A. I cannot read.
Q. 17. What did you tell them a Democratic ticket for?—A. Because all the Bohemians voted that.
Q. 18. So you told them you wanted a Democratic ticket?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 19. Who handed you the Democratic ticket?—A. Krutcher gave it to me.
Q. 20. Did you tell them for whom you wanted to vote?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 21. Before they gave you one?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 22. Did you vote it?—A. I don't know.
Q. 23. Did you ever vote a ticket you did not want to?—A. No, sir.
Q. 24. Can you not tell for whom you voted?—A. I cannot tell that; I pulled one out of my pocket.
Q. 25. You say you don't know whether you voted the Democratic ticket or not?—A. I don't know which one is right.
Q. 26. You say you don't know whether you voted the Democratic or Republican ticket?—A. I don't know; I never read it.
Q. 27. You mean all of the Democratic ticket?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 28. You wanted to vote the Democratic ticket?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 29. Did you mean to vote the Democratic ticket?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 30. When did you first know about it; to-day?—A. No, sir.
Q. 31. When did you first know about it; somebody been talking to you?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 32. Did they ask you how you voted?—A. Yes, sir; but I said I did not know which was the best.
Q. 33. I mean since you first knew of it, has somebody been talking to you?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 34. Did you tell any one you voted the Democratic ticket?—A. That is what I heard; I don't know what I voted.
Q. 35. Did you always tell them you voted the Democratic ticket?
(Brown says "Probably he don't know how he voted.")
Q. 36. Now, was it Mr. Herrick who first talked to you since the election?—A. I think it was Mr. Scott.
Q. 37. Since the election?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 38. Did you not tell Scott that you voted the Democratic ticket?—A. No; I said——
Q. 38*a*. Did you talk to anybody about it?—A. I voted the Democratic ticket.
Q. 39. Did you talk to anybody to-day about how you voted, before you came on the stand?—A. No, sir.
Q. 40. Do all the Bohemians vote the Democratic ticket?—A. Almost all.
Q. 41. You think you did?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 42. You do know how you voted?—A. Of course.
Q. 43. Don't you vote the Democratic ticket, usually?—A. I don't know for sure.
Q. 44. Do you think you voted the Democratic ticket last fall?—A. My notion is, I did; I don't know whether I did or not.

Cross-examination:

Q. 45. Did your parents come here with you; was your father a voter here?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 46. He is a naturalized citizen?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 47. How old were you then; about 16 or 17 years old?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 48. Your father has been a voter since he came here?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 49. You lived with your father after you came here?—A. Yes, sir; three years.

Q. 50. You say you got a Republican and Democratic ticket at the election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 51. You voted one of them, but you cannot state which one?—A. I don't know; I cannot tell.

Q. 52. Only you state you voted the Democratic ticket, because you were inclined to vote that; but you cannot tell whether you did or n ;t?—A. No, sir.

Q. 53. Well, how do you know your father was naturalized?—A. He told me.

Q. 54. Where?—A. In this county.

Q. 55. He told you he was naturalized in this county?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 56. When did he tell you that?—A. Before he got his first naturalization papers.

Q. 57. He told you he was going to be naturalized?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 58. That is all you know about it?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 59. What is your father's first name?—A. John Herak.

Ques. 2. Where were you born?—Ans. In the old country.

Ques. 3. What country?—Ans. In Bohemia.

Ques. 4. When did you come to the U. S.?—Ans. I came to Iowa City in 1857, on the 10th day of July.

Ques. 5. When and where were you naturalized?—Ans. I cannot tell.

Ques. 6. Take this paper and state to the commissioner whether it is a copy of your naturalization or not.

(Contestant objects to the question, for the reason that the certificate is the best evidence.)

The question is whether that is the certificate of naturalization that you received when you were naturalized?—A. I think it was in 1863.

Ques. 7. Well, the question is, is that the paper you got from the court when you were naturalized?—Ans. Yes, sir; I did not understand the question. That is it.

Ques. 8. I will ask you whether you voted at the election held in Iowa City Township, Johnson Co., Iowa, on the 7th of Nov., in 1882, at which election the votes were cast for the office of Representative in Congress, fifth dist. of Iowa?—Ans. I voted, but I cannot tell what I voted.

Ques. 9. I have not asked you that. What are your politics? What party do you belong to?—Ans. It don't make any difference which party.

Ques. 10. Yes, sir; it does. What party do you belong to?—Ans. If I see a good man who is a Democrat, I vote the Democratic ticket; if I see a good man who is a Republican, I vote the Republican ticket. That is the kind of party mine is.

Ques. 11. You may state what ticket you voted on the 7th of November at the election held in Iowa City?—Ans. Well, Mr. Cone, I think that is my business what kind of ticket I voted.

Ques. 12. Well, it is public business just now.

BROWN. Witness has a right to state what he pleases in regard to it.

Ques. 13. Now, was the name of Benjamin T. Frederick on the ticket; were there any scratches on that ticket?—Ans. No, sir, I put in the straight ticket.

Ques. 14. I would ask you if the name of Benjamin T. Frederick appeared on that ticket as a candidate for Congress, the ticket you voted, the straight Democratic ticket?—A. Yes, sir, of course; he being a Democrat of course he would be on that ticket.

Contestee now offers in evidence a certificate of naturalization given to Mathias Kratz, by George W. McCleary, county judge of Johnson County, Iowa, on the 3d day of Oct., 1883.

(Objection to the paper for the reason that you can only have a copy of it.)

Copy offered in evidence.

(Objection to the same being introduced given in the answer of this witness, being an illegal witness, because no notice is given in the answer that no illegal voters voted in the North precinct of Iowa City, because the answer does not set forth the names of the illegal voters, if any there were. Also because it is incompetent, irrelevant to the issues made. The notice in this case does not set forth the illegal voters in the North precinct of Iowa City.)

Copy read in evidence.

CERTIFICATE OF NATURALIZATION.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
State of Iowa, Johnson Co., ss:

Be it remembered, that at a term of the county court holden in and for said county, State of Iowa, on the 3d day of Oct., in the year of our Lord 1863, was present the

Hon. Geo. W. McCleary, sole presiding judge and ex-officio clerk of said court, when the following, among other proceedings, were had, to wit: Mathias Kratz, a native of Bohemia, at present residing within said State, appeared in open court and made application to be admitted to become a citizen of the U. S.; and it appearing to the satisfaction of the court that he had declared on oath before the clerk of Johnson Co., Iowa dist. court, a court of record having common-law jurisdiction and using a seal, 2 years at least before his admission, that it was bona fide his intention to become a citizen of the U. S., and to renounce forever all allegiance to any foreign prince, potentate, state, or sovereignty whatsoever, and particularly to Francis Joseph, Emperor of Austria, of whom he was heretofore a subject; and said applicant ha ing declared on oath before this court that he will support the Constitution of the U. S., and he doth absolutely and entirely renounce and abjure all allegiance and fidelity to every foreign prince, potentate, state, or sovereignty whatsoever, particularly to Francis Joseph, Emperor of Austria, of whom he was a subject. The court being satisfied by the testimony of Frank Huber the said applicant had resided in the U. S. for the term of 5 years next preceding his admission, without being at any time during the said 5 years out of the territory of the U. S., and within the State one year at least; and it further appearing to the satisfaction of this court that during this said time he has behaved as a man of good moral character, attached to the principles of the Constitution of the U. S. and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same; thereupon the court admitted the said applicant to become a citizen of the U. S., and ordered the proceedings aforesaid entered of record, which was accordingly done by the clerk of this court.

In witness whereof I, Geo. W. McCleary, county judge and ex-officio clerk of said court, have hereunto set my hand and fixed the seal of the said court, at my office in Iowa City, in said Co., this 3d day of October, A. D. 1883.

GEO. W. McCLEARY,
County Judge.

Ques. 4. North or South precinct?—Ans. North.

Ques. 5. Did you vote at the last election, '82?—Ans. Yes, sir; I did.

Ques. 6. At which the candidates for the office of Representatives in Congress were voted for?—Ans. I voted the straight Democratic ticket.

Ques. 7. Were there any scratches on it?—Ans. No, sir; no scratches.

Ques. 8. Did you vote straight?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 9. Where were you born?—Ans. In the old country, in Austria.

Ques. 10. When did you come to this country?—Ans. 26 years ago.

Ques. 11. Have you your naturalization paper?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 12. Are they with you?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 13. Let me look at them, please?

(Witness produces papers.)

Ques. 14. Is this the only paper that you ever had?—Ans. No, sir; this is my second paper.

Ques. 15. This is the one produced in evidence?—Ans.

(Objection to the copy being in evidence, on the ground that no notice has been given in the answer, and no name of the witness, or any illegal votes in the precinct in which the individual resides. Irrevelant, incompetent, not best evidence.)

A. I have told you I would not tell how I voted.
Q. 5. What ticket did you vote?—A. I generally vote the Democratic ticket—split ticket—sometimes Greenback, sometimes Democratic, sometimes Republican.
Q. 6. Did you vote for Frederick or Wilson?—A. I decline to say which of these men I voted for. I understand Mr. Wilson was a very good man. I might have voted for him, or might have voted for Frederick. I won't say who I voted for.
Q. 7. You say you don't know who you voted for?—A. I say I didn't have to tell you who I voted for.
Q. 8. Where were you born?—A. In Ireland.
Q. 9. Where naturalized?—A. In Johnson County.
Q. 10. In what court?—A. I could not say.
Q. 11. About when were you naturalized?—A. 15 or 16 years ago.
Q. 12. Have you got papers with you?—A. I haven't.
Q. 13. Were you subpœnaed to bring them with you?—A. Yes, sir. On account of them being mislaid somewhere I didn't find them.
Q. 14. Did you know the name of the judge that granted them?—A. I cannot say.
Q. 15. Was it McCleary?—A. I don't know whether or not.
Q. 16. Or Cavanagh?—A. I can't say as to that. I can't recollect the judge's name.
Q. 17. Were you naturalized the same day your brother was?—A. Yes, sir; I was.

JOHN PETERS, being produced and sworn, before Eldon Moran, notary public for Johnson Co., on this 5th day of April, A. D. '83 (J. W. Cone and Milton Remley appearing on the part of contestee, and T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant), testifies as follows:

Ques. 1. Where do you reside?—Ans. Graham Township.
Ques. 2. What is your age?—Ans. 56 years.
Ques. 3. Did you vote at the Nov. election, '82, at which Representatives for Congress were voted for?—Ans. I cannot tell you, sir.
Ques. 4. Did you vote at that election?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 5. What ticket did you vote?—Ans. I don't know as it is any of your business to ask me what ticket I voted. I went there to vote for some man who I thought was a good man; I am no reader or writer; I vote to suit myself. It is not anybody's business to ask me what I voted.
Ques. 6. Did you vote the Democratic or Republican ticket?—Ans. I don't know that it is any of your business what ticket I voted. I went there as a white man and voted. I had my papers with me.
Ques. 7. Do you decline to answer the question?—Ans. I don't, if the question ought to be asked me, what ticket I voted.
Ques. 8. What party do you belong to?—Ans. To the United States.
Ques. 9. What party do you belong to?—Ans. It is for you to find out and me to know.
Ques. 10. What party do you belong to?—Ans. I vote the Republican ticket, also the Democratic ticket, whenever there is a good man on either one.
Ques. 11. What party do you belong to?—Ans. I don't favor any of them.
Ques. 12. Do you decline to answer that question?—Ans. You cannot compel me to answer that question.
Ques. 13. Do you know who you voted for for Congress?—Ans. No, sir; I don't know. I voted a ticket; I did not think it was necessary for me to tell who I voted for.
Ques. 14. Did you vote a straight Democratic ticket?—Ans. It is my business, not yours.
Ques. 15. Do you decline to answer?—Ans. I am not inclined to answer anything.
Ques. 16. Do you refuse to answer that question?—Ans. No, sir, I do not, if it is right for me to answer.
Ques. 17. Do you refuse to tell the commissioner who you voted for?—Ans. I don't know that I have any power to tell that. I don't believe that it is in your power to force me to tell you that; I don't believe any court in the country can force me to tell you that; I am an old man; I have voted ever since I came from York State.
Ques. 18. Have you your naturalization papers with you?—Ans. Yes, sir; I have them here.
Ques. 19. Please present them to the Commissioner.—Ans. I don't show them to anybody.
Ques. 20. Mr. Commissioner, please ask them to be presented.—Ans. Yes, sir; here they are; I got them from Ohio, not from a jury; I got them from a court, no judge or jury.
Ques. 21. Are these all you have?—Ans. Yes, sir; that is all. Mr. Peterson is a lawyer, he can make them good. When my papers were needed in this city two years ago, he wrote to Clark Co. for my papers.

Ques. 22. Did you get any naturalization papers in Iowa City?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 23. Do you know the date?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 24. Is there any other John Peters?—Ans. Yes, sir; my boy.

Ques. 25. Was he naturalized in Iowa City?—Ans. No, sir; my boy was born in this State.

Ques. 26. Did you get any naturalization papers?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 27. Did you know of any others?—Ans. No, sir; my boy is not of age.

Ques. 28. You had papers before that, but not before you got these?—Ans. I think that these are right; if it is not right I can make it right. Mr. Peterson can write to Clark Co., Ohio.

Q. 3. Don't do much of anything?—A. No; not a great deal.

Q. 4. You live in Johnson County?—A. Yes, sir; at Morse Station.

Q. 5. Did you vote at the election Nov. 7th, 1882?—A. Yes, sir; at last election I did.

Q. 6. At last State and Congressional election?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 7. What ticket did you vote?—A. I always vote the Democratic ticket.

Q. 8. Straight Democratic last year?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 9. Did you vote for the Democratic nominee for Congress?—A. Yes, sir; always.

Q. 10. Where were you born?—A. In Ireland, County Claire.

Q. 11. Were you naturalized?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 12. Didn't you get any citizen's papers?—A. Yes, sir; but I have lost them.

Q. 13. Where did you get them?—A. I got them both times from the court-house in Iowa City; and I enlisted in the 37th Iowa Volunteers.

Q. 14. Did you get the second papers after you got back from the Army?—A. Yes, sir; when the war was over I worked for George Clark; when the election went off I was to go to the court and get my papers; I got them from the clerk of the court.

Q. 15. Did you get the papers, and before what judge?—A. I cannot tell the name of the judge.

Q. 16. Was it Judge McCleary or Judge Cavanagh?—A. I don't know what his name was.

Q. 17. Was it Judge Cavanagh?—A. No, sir.

Q. 18. Did you know the sheriff, Cavanagh?—A. Yes, sir. It was before his time.

Q. 19. Was it Judge McCleary?

(Objection.)

Q. 20. Did you know the clerk of the court at that time; was it Judge Lee?—A. I got my papers from him; I lost them, though.

Q. 21. Was it Judge T. H. Lee; was that the man?—A. He was judge once, but he was clerk of the court at the time I got my papers.

Q. 22. What year was that in, do you remember, Mr. Carroll?—A. Well, it was in '55, I think, when the war was over, that we came here.

Q. 23. 1865, was it not?—A. Yes, sir; in '65.

Q. 24. Do you remember the year in which you got them; was it in '65?—A. We came home when the war was over.

Q. 25. How soon after that was it that you got the second papers?—A. I cannot tell whether in that year or not; I don't want to tell a lie.

Cross-examination:

Q. 26. Do you remember whether or not Judge Miller was judge at that time on the bench?—A. I don't know; I forget; I won't tell a lie.

Q. 27. There was a clerk of the court, was there not?—A. I heard once before that he was judge.

Q. 28. He was clerk when you got your last papers?—A. Yes, sir; he was clerk of the court.

Q. 29. Was it in the court-house, up-stairs, and was it in open court?—A. Yes, sir; it was in court that I got the papers.

Q. 30. Was it in the court-room?—A. In the court-house.

Q. 31. Was it up-stairs in the court-room; that is, the big room?—A. It was in some room; I cannot tell what room; in the court-house, some room.

Q. 32. Did you have witnesses? Did the judge sit in the bench when you got the papers?—A. I had some lawyer.

Q. 33. Who was the lawyer?—A. He was a young fellow.

Q. 34. Was it Cornell?—A. No, sir; he was a young fellow; he was attorney here, and ran for election once.

Q. 35. What did he run for?—A. For senator, I believe—no, sir; for something in the court-house.

Q. 36. Was it not Mr. Cornell?—A. No, sir.

Q. 37. Was it Mr. Fairall?—A. No, sir.

Q. 38. You may state if there was a judge in the bench when you got your papers.—A. He must be in the bench; I could not get them if he was not.

Q. 39. You had a seal on your papers?—A. I did not take any note of that.

Q. 40. Lee signed the papers and the judge swore you?—A. Yes, sir.

Redirect examination:

Q. 41. Was it up-stairs in the court-room or down on the first floor?—A. I don't want to tell a lie, but it was in some room in the court-house that I got my papers.

Q. 42. You don't remember?—A. No, sir; I forget.

Q. 43. Did you see any there in the court except this judge that signed the papers?—A. The clerk of the court that gave me the papers gave them to the judge again, and then he gave them to me, and told me to be off; that it was all right.

JOHN H. WILSON, being and sworn before Eldon Moran, notary public of Johnson Co., on this 5th day of April, 1883, testifies as follows (J. W. Cone and Milton Remley appearing on the part of contestee, and T. Brown on part of contestant):

Ques. 1. Where do you live?—Ans. In Oxford.
Ques. 2. What is your business?—Ans. Miller.
Ques. 3. What is your age?—Ans. Forty-one years.
Ques. 4. Are you acquainted with Samuel Bernizer?—Ans. Yes, sir; I am.
Ques. 5. Did you know of his voting at Oxford, at the election held in Nov. '82?—Ans. Yes, sir; I did.
Ques. 6. Do you know who he voted for, for Representative in Congress?—Ans. Only what he said about it. He told me afterward how he voted.
Ques. 7. How did he vote?
(Contestant objects to the same as hearsay and not proper.)
Ans. He said he was going to vote for Frederick. The ticket I saw him prepare was a straight Democratic ticket with the exception of one or two men on the county ticket. I think he changed two men.
Ques. 8. Did you see him vote?—Ans. No, sir; I did not.
Q. 9. Do you know whether his name is on the poll-list?
(Objection, not the best evidence; poll-book the best evidence.)
Ans. I cannot say.
Ques. 10. Did you have any connection with him afterwards?—Ans. Yes, sir; we talked about it.
Ques. 11. Did he inform you then as to how he voted?
(Objection hearsay.)
Ans. He said he voted for Frederick.
Ques. 12. Do you know what place he is a resident of?—Ans. He lived in Geneseo, Ills.
Ques. 13. How long did he live in Oxford?—Ans. He commenced working for me the 27th of June, '81, I guess, and quit there the 7th of Dec., '82. That makes about 17 months.
Ques. 14. Where did he go to?—Ans. He went home. I have heard several times that he went home.
Ques. 15. He has a family living in Geneseo?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 16. Was his family ever in Oxford?—Ans. No, sir; never lived there. At least his wife never came to see him.
Ques. 17. Where did he consider it his home; did he ever have a residence at Oxford?—Ans. I don't know what you call a residence. He never had a family there; he boarded there at the hotel.

Cross-examination:

Ques. 18. Do you know that Samuel Bernizer has a family at all?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 19. Do you know that he has a family at all?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 21. Do you know that he has ever lived in Illinois?—Ans. All I know is what others have told me.
Ques. 22. Do you know from your own knowledge?—Ans. No, sir; only from hearsay.
Ques. 23. Did you see him vote?—Ans. No, sir; I did not.
Ques. 24. You did not know anything about how he voted except what?—Ans. I saw him vote a ticket; we fixed the ticket on the table.
Ques. 25. Do you know whether he changed the ticket before he voted?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 26. Why do you say that he resided in Illinois?—Ans. He worked for me 17 months, and when he went away he claimed his home was in Geneseo, Ills., and bought a ticket for Geneseo. That is all I know.
Ques. 27. What time did he commence working for you?—Ans. The 26th or 27th of June, '81.
Ques. 28. He lived from June, '81, at your place until the election?—Ans. I think that he lived there until the 7th of Dec., '82.
Ques. 29. Well, that was after the election?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 30. Are you a Republican?—Ans. Yes, sir; I am.
Ques. 31. Were you at the election?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 32. Did you challenge this man's vote?
(Objection, incompetent, immaterial.)
Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 33. Did you tell any of the judges that he was an illegal voter?—Ans. I went before the judges at a prior election and stated just how he was situated.
Ques. 34. He had voted there before this time?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 35. Do you know that he ever kept house?—Ans. I do not know from my own personal knowledge; no, sir.

Ques. 36. You never saw a woman that claimed to be his wife?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 37. Never saw any family that claimed to be his?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 38. You did not go to Geneseo, then?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 39. It is not uncommon for millers, or those who work in mills, for single men to board in hotels?—Ans. Yes, sir, they usually board with the family.

Ques. 40. I will ask you if you did not run for alderman in that neighborhood in the spring?

(Objection, improper examination, also incompetent, immaterial.)

Ques. 41. Did you run the spring before?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 42. Did you ask this man to vote for you?

(Objection, improper examination.)

Ans. Mr. Bernizer wanted to vote. I went to those judges and stated his condition exactly, asking them to decide whether he was a legal voter or not. Mr. Rain here was one of the judges. I told them of his family living in Illinois.

Ques. 43. Well, did he vote at the election?—Ans. I think so, just the same as he voted for Frederick the last election.

Ques. 44. What year was that in; what time was that?—Ans. In 1882, in the spring, I think.

Ques. 45. He voted for you at that election?—Ans. No, sir, I didn't say that he voted for me at that election.

Ques. 46. The judges decided that he was a legal voter?

(Objection, improper examination.)

Ans. Yes, sir; they said so.

Ques. 47. Did they say that he was a legal voter in Iowa?—Ans. No, sir; I said to him, I will tell the judges, and if they decide you are a voter, you may go and vote, for if I were in your place I would not swear it in. His vote was challenged.

Ques. 48. Did he put it in?—Ans. The challenge was withdrawn.

Ques. 2. What is your age?—Ans. 35 on the 27th of this month.

Ques. 3. Did you vote at the Nov. election, '82, at which the candidates for Congress were voted for?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 4. What ticket did you vote?

(Contestee informs witness that he need not answer unless he wishes.)

Ans. I voted the split ticket, as I generally vote.

Ques. 5. Do you vote the Democratic or Republican ticket, generally?—Ans. Mixed ticket, generally.

Ques. 6. At the last election?—Ans. Some Democratic, some Republican.

Ques. 7. For whom did you vote for Representative; Frederick or Wilson?—Ans. I cannot tell you that exactly; I do not know for certain; I do not know either one of them.

Ques. 8. What ticket did you use to cast your ballot?—Ans. Democratic.

Ques. 9. Have you any recollection of scratching off the name of Benjamin T. Frederick for Congress?—Ans. No, sir; don't have any recollection of it.

Ques. 10. Can't you state whether you voted for Frederick for Congress or not?—Ans. Well, to the best of my knowledge I did.

Ques. 11. I suppose so. Where were you born?—Ans. In Canada.

Ques. 12. When did you come to the United States?—Ans. In '50 or '51.

Ques. 13. Where were you naturalized, if anywhere?—Ans. In Iowa City.

Ques. 14. Before whom?—Ans. Judge Cavanaugh, in the fall of 1868.

Ques. 15. Have you your papers with you?—Ans. No, sir; they are lost.

Ques. 16. County judge?—Ans. Yes, sir; in the fall of '68; Cavanaugh was judge.

Ques. 17. You never have had any other naturalization papers except those you got through Cavanaugh?—Ans. No, sir; I didn't need them at the time, either, because I was a voter without the papers, and I did not know it.

Ques. 18. How was you a voter without them?—Ans. Because my father had his papers in Rochester in 1849 or '50.

Ques. 19. Did you know that?—Ans. He himself said that.

Ques. 20. You do not know anything about that, only what he himself said?—Ans. No, sir; that is all I know about it.

Ques. 21. You did not see him naturalized anywhere? How old was you when your father came here to live?—Ans. I was about 2½ or three years old; that is what they say; I was born in '47; they came to New York State in '50 or '51; I don't know which.

Cross-examination:

Ques. 22. Was your father a voter?

(Contestant objects to the question on the grounds that it is incompetent.)

Ques. 23. You may state whether you voted; whether your father attended the election and voted.—Ans. Yes, sir; he did; in Iowa.

Ques. 24. How old were you then?—Ans. I came here in the fall of '67, and in the year '68 I was 21.

Ques. 25. You know your father had been a voter after he came to Iowa, at least?—Ans. Yes, sir; I know he voted here; as to New York State, I don't remember.

Ques. 26. You understood that he was naturalized in New York?

(Contestant objects to the question on the ground that it calls for the witness's opinion.)

(Contestant objects to the counsel instructing witness.)

BROWN. You are not obliged to tell whether you are naturalized or not.

Q. 8. Were you naturalized here in the court-house?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 9. Have you got your naturalization papers with you?—A. I lost them.

Q. 10. Before what court were you naturalized?

(Contestant objects on the ground that it is not best evidence.)

Q. 11. Tell the commissioner whether it was the county judge or not.—A. I could not tell what judge.

Q. 12. Do you remember the name of the man?—A. No, sir; not exactly any more. It was Sam. Workman, or old Stev. Groner, one or the other.

Cross-examination:

Q. 13. How long have you voted?

(Contestee objects to the question on the ground that is incompetent and immaterial.)

A. I guess I got my second papers in '45 or '50; I could not tell that; but I have voted the whole time.

Q. 14. You took second papers; did you have a seal of the court on them?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 15. You were naturalized in the court, were you?—A. Yes, sir; in the court-house.

Q. 16. Did you have witnesses?—A. Yes, sir; not without that.

Q. 17. You had witnesses to prove you were a citizen, a good honest citizen?—A. Yes, sir; I can prove that.

Q. 18. Did you have this man up to the court-house; did you have witnesses when you got your second papers?—A. Yes, sir, I have; yes, sir. I couldn't tell any more who was there.

Q. 19. What room in the court house was it?—A. I could not tell that; I was a greenhorn at the time; I couldn't tell that.

Q. 20. There was a court-house there, was there?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 21. Did they have jury and clerk, do you know?—A. No, sir; I don't know that.

ALBERT KESSEL, being produced and sworn before me, Eldon Moran, a notary public for Johnson County, Iowa, this 6th day of April, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. W. Cone and Milton Remley on the part of contestee):

(Contestant objects to the question, for the reason that it is not shown that the vote is illegal, and the same is immaterial.)

Q. 1. Where do you live?—A. In Iowa City.

Q. 2. Did you vote at the Nov. election, '82?

BROWN says: You need not tell how you voted unless you see fit.

(Contestee objects to any suggestions by the counsel to the witness.)

Q. 3. Did you vote last election?—A. I vote every election.

Q. 4. What ticket did you vote last fall?—A. Democratic ticket.

Q. 5. Did you vote for Frederick for Representative in Congress, on the Democratic ticket?—A. I don't know; I can't tell who all.

Q. 6. Did you vote the straight Democratic ticket?—A. Yes, sir; straight ticket.

Q. 7. Where were you born?—A. Born in Bohemia.

Q. 8. Where were you naturalized, if at all?—A. In Iowa City.

Q. 9. Is this the certificate of naturalization?—A. Yes, sir; this is the paper.

Q. 10. Is this the only one you have?—A. Yes, sir; this the only one. (Paper produced in court. It is agreed by the court that the paper produced is the certificate of naturalization by Judge McCrary, county judge, Sep. 28, '63, with the seal of Johnson County, Iowa, impressed upon it.)

Cross-examination:

Q. 11. Do you know you voted the Democratic ticket?—A. Sometimes; well, I voted it last fall.

Q. 12. Do you know for whom you voted as Representative in Congress?—A. No, sir.

Q. 13. Don't know whether you voted for Frederick or Wilson?—A. No, sir; I don't. I did not read it.

Q. 14. A good many of the Congressional tickets were straight tickets. You don't know how you voted?—A. Yes, sir; that is so.

Q. 15. How long have you voted?

(Contestee objects to the question on the ground that it is incompetent and immaterial.)

A. I can't tell.

Q. 16. A good many years?—A. Yes, sir; 17 or 18, I guess.

Q. 17. Voted ever since?—A. Yes, sir; I have been here 28 years.

Q. 18. Then, you don't know whether you voted for Frederick or Wilson for Congress?—A. No, sir; I don't.

Q. 19. You never looked at the ticket for the purpose of seeing it; you could not read it?—A. No, sir; I could not.

Q. 20. Do you know who you got your ticket of?—A. No, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 21. You voted the straight Democratic ticket last?—A. Yes, sir.

Recross-examination:

Q. 22. When you mean you did, you suppose you did. You don't know whether it was straight ticket or not. You suppose you did; you don't whether you did or not?—A. Yes, sir; I know it was.

Q. 23. Somebody told you so?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 24. That is all you know about it?—A. Yes, sir; that is all the way I know.

(Signed) ALBERT KESLER.

(Contestee objects to the further examination of the witness, for the reason that he has been excused.)

Q. 25. Did you not have a talk with Mr. Frederick in the back room?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 26. Did he not tell you you voted a Democratic ticket?—A. I voted it.

Q. 27. Have you not said that you voted a Republican ticket for Congressman?—A. That was in the spring; I voted for two Republicans.

Q. 28. What did Mr. Remley tell you in the back room?—A. That is what he told me; that is all.

Q. 29. What did he tell you?—A. What ticket I voted; what kind of a ticket I voted.

Redirect:

Q. 30. Did you ask what ticket you voted?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 31. Did I tell you, or just ask you? You told me what ticket you voted, did you not?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 32. I asked you what ticket you voted?—A. Yes, sir.

STATE OF IOWA,
Johnson County, ss:

THOMAS REED, being produced before Eldon Moran, a notary public for Johnson County, but refuses to be sworn (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. W. Cone and Milton Remley on part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your name, age, place of residence, and occupation?—A. Thomas Reed; I don't know my age; I am a farmer.

Q. 2. About what is it?—A. Somewhere about 50; I never knew my age.

Q. 3. Where do you reside?—A. Pleasant Valley, Johnson Co.

Q. 4. I will ask you if you voted at the Nov. election in '82, when the candidates for Representative in Congress were voted for?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. What ticket did you vote?

(You are not obliged to answer that question unless you please.)

(Objection to counsel instructing witness in that way.)

Q. 6. What ticket did you vote?—A. I don't know that I am obliged to answer that question.

Then you will have to take the responsibility.

BROWN. You can do that safely.

Q. 7. You must answer that question.—A. What is the reason people do not have tickets around so that everybody can see them?

BROWN. You are not obliged to answer unless you care to.

Q. 8. What ticket did you vote?—A. I voted some of each kind; I always split my ticket.

Q. 9. Did you vote for Representative in Congress?—A. No answer.

Q. 10. Did you vote for the Democratic Representative in Congress?

(Objection by the contestee, because it is leading; also, because witness is not obliged to answer that question.)

Q. 11. Now, you may answer the question.—A. I don't believe that I am obliged to answer it.

Q. 12. Well, we think you are. (Commissioner will instruct you.)

BROWN. Witness is not obliged to answer the question.

Q. 13. It cannot harm you to answer, whereas it may if you do not answer it.—A. I don't believe a man is obliged to tell how he votes, because, if so, then they might vote with open votes. The reason that they roll up ballots and shove them into the ballot-box and not open them for every one to see them. I don't want to let some one see how I vote.

Q. 14. It is a matter that we are entitled to inquire into.—A. I don't think that that is any other man's business.

BROWN. You are not obliged to tell those things unless you wish to.

A. I voted for some Republicans and some Democrats.

Q. 15. I am only asking you in regard to one candidate.—A. Well, how does that make any difference?

Q. 16. Do you decline to answer that question?—A. Yes, sir; I do.

Q. 17. Where were you born?—A. In Ireland.

Q. 18. How long have you been in this country?—A. I don't know how long I have been here.

Q. 19. Did you get your naturalization papers?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 20. In what court; was it before the county judge?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 21. What was his name?—A. Cavanaugh.

Q. 22. Have you your papers with you?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 23. We will look at them.

BROWN. You need not show your papers unless you want to.

(Objection: contestee to counsel showing the witness how to answer.)

Q. 24. You will show these papers.—A. No, sir; I will not show them to you.

Q. 25. Show the commissioner these papers.—A. I showed my papers to the township clerk where I live.

(Contestee objects to the answer; not responsive to the question.)

Q. 26. What party do you generally vote for, Democrat or Republican?—A. I have told you I voted sometimes for each.

Q. 27. What are your politics, Democrat or Republican?—A. I am a Democrat.

Q. 28. Did you talk to anybody this morning?—A. Yes, sir; to two men about a cow scrape.

Q. 29. I mean about this testimony?—A. We had a law-suit yesterday about a cow.

Q. 30. Have you talked with any person in regard to your being a witness here this morning?—A. Who could I talk to?

Q. 31. Did you talk to any one?—A. I was talking about the cow lawsuit on the road yesterday; that is all.

Q. 32. Did any one tell you this morning not to testify until you had talked with Tim Brown?—A. No, sir.

Q. 33. Did any one tell you to see Mr. Brown before you had testified?—A. No, sir, they did not.

Q. 34. Did you talk to any one in regard to what you were to testify to here?

(Objection.)

Q. 35. Did you talk to any one?—A. I told you I talked with some one. I don't know who.

Q. 36. Did any one tell you not to testify until you saw Mr. Brown?—A. How?

Q. 37. Did any one tell you not to testify until you saw Mr. Brown? If so, who told you not to testify?—A. Who told me? That is some of Mr. Cone's work, there.

Q. 38. Who told you?—A. Who did you want to tell me.

Q. 39. Did you tell anybody that you wanted to see Mr. Brown? Did you tell any one that you wanted to see Mr. Brown before you testified?—A. Mr. Brown.

Q. 40. Yes, sir.—A. I don't know Mr. Brown.

Q. 41. Did you tell any one that?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 42. Who did you tell?—A. I told that man I wanted my papers. I told him I wished to see Mr. Brown.

Q. 43. Who told you to see Mr. Brown?—A. No one told me.

Q. 44. Did any one talk to you about your being a witness here this morning?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 45. Did any one speak to you this morning?—A. No, sir, only about the cow; that is all.

Q. 46. Did any one talk to you about this matter?—A. I don't know what you mean about this matter. I thought you hinted to play some trick on us up here. A man as long as he can't get to Congress by fair means, he might get there by foul means, likely.

OWEN CAWLEY, being produced and sworn before Eldon Moran, a notary public for Johnson County, on this 5th day of April, A. D. 1883, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant and J. W. Cone and Milton Remley on the part of contestee):

(Contestant objects, for the reason that the vote is not yet shown to be illegal.)

Ques. 1. Where do you live?—Ans. No answer.

Ques. 2. What is your business?—Ans. No answer.

Ques. 3. Did you vote at the election last fall, Nov. 7th, at which candidates for the office of Representative in Congress were voted for?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 4. What ticket did you vote?

(Brown objects, for the reason that the vote is not yet shown to be illegal.)
Ans. Democratic ticket.
Ques. 5. Did you vote a straight ticket?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 6. Did you vote for Democratic candidate for Congress?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 7. Where were you born?—Ans. In Ireland.
Ques. 8. How long have you lived in the county?—Ans. Longer in this country than I was in the other; since '48, I think; somewhere there.
Ques. 9. Where did you get your citizen papers?—Ans. In Ohio.
Ques. 10. That is your first papers?—Ans. Yes, sir; then I was in the Army, and when I came back I lost my papers.
Ques. 11. Where did you get your last papers?—Ans. Here in the city.
Ques. 12. From what court?—Ans. Well, it was a good while ago.
Ques. 13. Here is the name, is it not?—Ans. Yes, sir; Cavanagh.
Ques. 14. Is this the paper you got?—Ans. Yes, sir.
(Papers introduced in evidence the same as other; contestant objects, the introduction of the same is immaterial and incompetent, not best evidence; papers issued by James Cavanagh, Oct. 24th, 1868, with the seal of Johnson County, Iowa, attached to it; that he had served in the Army of the U. S. during the late rebellion; had resided in the U. S. over 5 years before his application.)
(Paper read.)

U. S. OF AMERICA,
State of Iowa, Johnson County, ss:

Certificate of naturalization.

Be it remembered that at a term of the county court held in the said county, State of Iowa, on the 24th day of Oct., in the year of our Lord 1868, was present the Hon. James Cavanagh, sole presiding judge and ex-officio clerk of said court, when the following among other proceedings, to-wit, was had: Owen Cawley, a native of Ireland, and at present residing in said State, appears in open court and makes application to be admitted as a citizen of the U. S., and it appearing to the satisfaction of the court that he had served in the Army of the U. S. in the late rebellion, and had resided in the U. S. 5 years before his application for admission, and that it was his bona fide intention to become a citizen of the U. S., and to renounce forever all allegiance to any state or sovereignty whatsoever, and especially to Victoria, Queen of Great Britain, to whom he was heretofore a subject; and said applicant having declared on oath before the court that he will support the Constitution of the U. S., and that he doth absolutely and entirely renounce and abjure all allegiance and fidelity to every foreign prince, state and sovereignty whatsoever, and particularly to Victoria, Queen of Great Britain, of whom he was a subject. The court being satisfied by the testimony of David Flattes that said applicant has resided in the U. S. for the term of 5 years next preceding his admission, without being during that time out of the territory of the U. S., and within the State 1 year at least; and it further appearing to the satisfaction of the court that during that time he has behaved as a man of good moral character, attached to the principles of the U. S., and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same. The court admit ing said applicant to become a citizen of the U. S., and ordered all the proceedings aforesaid to be entered of record, which was accordingly done by the clerk of this court.

In testimony whereof I, James Cavanagh, county judge and ex-officio clerk of the said court, have hereunto set my hand and fixed the seal of said court, at my office in Iowa City, in said county, this 24th day of Oct., A. D. 1868.

[SEAL.] JAMES CAVANAGH,
County Judge.

Cross-examination:
Ques. 15. You say you served in the rebellion?—Ans. Yes, sir, in the 6th Iowa Cavalry. I served there 9 months altogether. I got sick and got a discharge.
Ques. 16. Were you honorably discharged?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 17. How long have you voted?
(Objection. Immaterial and incompetent.)
Ans. Since I came to this country.
Ques. 18. Did you get citizen papers in Ohio?—Ans. I cannot say anything about that.
Ques. 19. Did you get citizen papers?—Ans. I got papers in Ohio after I was there 5 years.
Ques. 20. Before a court?—Ans. Yes, sir, the same as I did here in town; then I lost them.
Ques. 21. Did it have a seal on?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 22. What court was it?—Ans. I do not know.
Ques. 23. What court was it?—Ans. In Cincinnati, Ohio.
Ques. 24. In a court having a clerk and jury?—Ans. Yes, sir; the same as here.
Ques. 25. You have been here 5 years when you got these papers?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 26. After you got papers you voted?—Ans. I did not until I got papers; yes, sir.
Ques. 27. Then when you lost your papers you thought it necessary to get other papers?—Ans. Yes, sir; they swore me every time.
Ques. 28. You did have papers in Ohio?—Ans. Yes, sir; of course I did.

Redirect:

Ques. 29. You got first papers in Ohio?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 30. Did you get any second papers in Ohio?—Ans. I don't know.
Ques. 31. This is the only citizen paper you have?—Ans. I lost the other; I do not know where I lost it.
Ques. 32. You say you lost them?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 33. Did you get one or two sets in Ohio?—Ans. I think I must have two, for I could not vote with one.
Ques. 34. Were the papers there similar to these?—Ans. I think my naturalization papers were like these; perhaps they do not say it the same here; I do not know.

Recross-examination:

Ques. 35. You remember if there was a court and jury sitting there, and a judge sitting there on a bench?—Ans. Yes, sir; every other man was going in and getting papers.
Ques. 36. You voted after you got your papers?—Ans. Yes, sir; but not before I got them; I got these so as to certify so I would not have to be sworn.
($1.05 paid as fee by contestee.)

OWEN CAWLEY.

STATE OF IOWA,
Johnson County, ss:

STEPHEN BRADLEY, being produced and sworn before Eldon Moran, notary public for Johnson County, on this 5th day of April, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and Cone and Remley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. What is your age?—A. 32.
Q. 2. What is your business?—A. Clerk of the courts of this county.
Q. 3. What courts?—A. Dist. and the circuit courts.
Q. 4. Have you in your office, in your possession, the records of the naturalization of aliens to be citizens?—A. In what courts—dist. or circuit courts?
Q. 5. In all the courts; are you the custodian of all the records?—A. Yes, sir; of all the records in this office; I cannot say what courts.
Q. 6. Are you the custodian of the county court record?—A. As to naturalization?
Q. 7. Yes, sir.—A. Yes, sir; there are some records in there; I do not know whether they are complete or not; I never looked them.
Ques. 8. They are in your office?—Ans. Yes, sir; some of them.
Ques. 9. These three books here on the table belong to your office?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 10. Are these the only records you know of of naturalization?—Ans. The only records.
Ques. 11. These are the only records of naturalization, and the proceedings?—Ans. No, sir; there is one more down there.
Ques. 12. What is that—for first or second papers?—Ans. Second papers.
Ques. 13. It is generally called minute paper; that is what it is labeled on the back.—Ans. The records of naturalization are there.
Ques. 14. Is it a record of issuance of final papers?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 15. You say that it is a minute book?—Ans. Yes, sir; that is what we call it.
Ques. 16. Are the entries there transcribed into this?—Ans. I do not know whether or not; I never investigated the matter; never had occasion to.
Ques. 17. You did not see that name?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 18. You say you never examined it so as to know what it is?—Ans. No, sir; I did not understand your question.
Ques. 19. How did you know that it is a record of naturalization?—Ans. I say I never examined it to any extent; only that is the book that is intended for record of all matters transacted in the county court.
Ques. 20. It is to be recorded from that book into other records; is that it?—Ans. The book is not of any use now; I do not know enough about it to speak of it.
Ques. 21. These three books which you have here you can identify to be books, whether or not there are any naturalization papers in your office?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 22. What are these backs here called?—Ans. Naturalization Record No. 2.
Ques. 23. And this book is Record No. 1, is it?
(Witness examines the back.)
Ans. Yes, sir; this is No. 1 and there is No. 2.
Ques. 24. Now, Mr. Bradley, you may examine the record and state whether Frank Blaha was ever naturalized in Johnson Co.
(Contestant objects to the evidence, for the reason that it's incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, because the question does not identify the witness which was in the question, because there might have been a dozen in the country by that name.)
[Witness examines records.]
Ans. Shall I examine the books and all the records?
Ques. 25. Yes, sir.—Ans. There is no record of naturalization of a man of this name.
Ques. 26. You may tell the commissioner whether there is a record of the naturalization of Joseph Freisch.—Ans. Here is the record of Joseph Friest; it is pretty hard to get these Bohemians just right, especially for one that is not a Bohemian. That is the nearest approach to the name I can find.
Ques. 27. You may tell the commissioner whether there is a record or not of the naturalization of John K. Ozishk?—Ans. Here is John Koza. [Examines record.] I do not find it; I have not the record.
[Examines the other record, under the head of "C."] Ans. Here is John Konetshin.
Ques. 28. Give us the date when Konetshin was naturalized, according to the record.—Ans. He was naturalized in the county court by J. W. McCleary, Oct. 6th, 1860.
[Witness now examines records as to the "C."]
Ans. No, sir; I do not see it.
Ques. 29. Now, then, tell the commissioner whether there is a record of Albert Stemocher?—Ans. It is not in No. 2.
Ques. 30. What is No. 2 a record of—dist. and circuit court?—Ans. It is record of the present circuit court, also of the latter part of the county court. It is the present naturalization record used for the district and circuit court, the other record, I think, is of the county court altogether; record number one was used for the county court altogether.
Ques. 31. Now, look in No. one and state to the commissioner whether there is any record of the naturalization of Albert Stemacher.—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 33. Tell the commissioner whether there is any record of the naturalization of Albert Schondle.
(Contestee objects to the question, for the reason that the record is the best evidence.)
Ques. 34. And the clerk can testify as to its contents?—Ans. I did not say that this is all the record or that the complete records are given. Well, sir; I do not find the name Schondle; I have looked under the head of "Sh," "Ch," and "Sch."
Ques. 35. Please examine the records of any person of the name Joseph Holthe?—Ans. That name has been used in our courts, because it was spelled Lhotka. I cannot find the name of Holthe as beginning with an H.
Ques. 36. Then look for it as spelled the other way?—Ans. Nor can I find the name commenced with an "L."
Ques. 37. Tell the commissioner whether there is a record of John Vorrel; whether there is such a person of that name with "V" or "W"?—A. No, sir; I can't find it.
Ques. 38. Did you look at both "V" and "W"?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 39. Common record, you say?—Ans. No, sir; not of these books I have examined, nor of records one or two.
Ques. 40. Tell the commissioner whether or not there is a a record of the naturalization of Weutzel Patera?—Ans. There is a record of Wa Clan; Shimek says that that is the same as Weutzel, which means James in English.
Ques. 41. Tell the commissioner whether there is a record of the naturalization of James Latcima?—Ans. Here is Weutzel Letzingal.
Ques. 42. What book is this, Mr. Bradley?
[Presents the book of the witness.]
Ans. It is the record of naturalization under Judge J. W. McCleary, part of it; I don't know whether all are there or not; also James Cavanagh, county judge.
Ques. 43. Please tell the commissioner whether there is any record of the naturalization of John Carrol?—Ans. Yes, sir; there is on page 488.
Ques. 43. Please turn to that page?—Ans. March 19, '80.
Ques. 44. Who was clerk of the court at that time?—Ans. Mr. George W. Koontz.
Ques. 45. Of what county was this Carrol a native?—Ans. Of Ireland.
Ques. 46. Look and see whether there is another John Carrol naturalized—whether there was one naturalized in '66 or '67?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 47. When was that?—Ans. 27th of Oct., 1868.
Ques. 48. Who was the clerk of the court at that time?—Ans. F. H. Lee.
Ques. 49. I will ask you if there is the record of Owen Cawley?
(Witness examines the record.)

Ques. 50. Was there any of the naturalization of Owen Caley by the county judge?—Ans. There is a record here of Caley's naturalization before Hon. James Cavanagh 24th Oct , '68.

(Record offered in evidence.)

(Contestant objects for the reason that he has not identified any parties who have testified. It is not shown that this Owen Caley is the identical person.)

Cross-examination as to the record:

Ques. 51. Do you know whether that is the record of the county court or not, and if it was that evidence have you that it is except what it has on the face of it?—Ans. I have no other record except what appears on the record.

Ques. 52. What appears on it except copies of naturalization papers?—Ans. Nothing more.

Ques. 53. Do it purport to be the record of the county court? Is it marked as the record of the county court?—Ans. It is marked first record of naturalization.

Ques. 54. What court does it say; is there any heading showing what court it is marked in; is it the court of naturalization?—Ans. Yes, sir; it is marked as naturalization certificate.

Ques. 55. Is there any other evidence except printed certificates that this is the record of naturalization, and does it appear printed on the back?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 56. Do you know that to be the copy of any record that was kept by the county court at the time that court existed, and a complete record of that county court kept at the time it was in existence?—Ans. No, sir; only as I found it in the office at the time that I came here.

Ques. 57. What law is there that makes you custodian of the record of county court, do you know?—Ans. No, sir; I never saw any; only I suppose there was when the county court record was showed.

(Contestee objects as incompetent and immaterial.)

Ques. 58. Is not the record of the county court generally kept with the clerk with the board of supervisors?—Ans. Yes, sir; part of it.

Ques. 59. Do you know of any law that provides that there should be any records of the naturalization of the county court kept by you?

(Contestee objects as calling for a———, and not for a matter of fact.)

Ques. 60. Do you know of any law whereby you are made custodian by the county judge as to naturalization?—Ans. No, sir; I don't know of any.

Ques. 61. What records of the county court are required by law to be kept in your possession; was it from the records of probate?

(Contestee objects, for the reason that the law is the best evidence.)

Ans. None that I know of.

Ques. 62. Does not the State require that the only record that shall be kept by the clerk of courts is the record of probate?—Ans. I don't know about that.

Ques. 63. Do you know that this a copy of the record used by any court except what is on its face?

(Objection.)

Ques. 64. Is there any indication of the record you referred to?—Ans. Yes, sir; there is to this one.

(Witness refers to the book.)

Ques. 65. Do you know of any record of any court that is not required to be indexed?—Ans. I don't know whether it is necessary or not; we have indexed the majority of them.

Ques. 66. Is there no index to this book that has been introduced?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 67. Is there anything outside of the printed sheets of this book indicating that it was other than you find it now; were there any copies of certain naturalization papers?—Ans. All I can find out about it I find on the face of it.

Ques. 68. State whether it is written or printed.—Ans. It is partly written and partly printed.

Ques. 69. What portion of it is written and what portion printed; is it not a blank naturalization paper, with the name of the party and the date, and the title of the court written out?—Ans. It has the date, and the name of the court, and the name of the presiding county judge, also the name of the person naturalized, and the place where he was born, and the name of the court; also the name of the reigning sovereign of the country where the naturalized person came from.

Ques. 70. That it is simply printed blank of naturalized record filled out, without indicating who did it other than what is written in the certificate?—Ans. I don't understand the question.

Ques. 71. Is there anything more than the blank naturalization paper filled out and unsigned?—Ans. Yes, sir; it is unsigned, but the name of the immigrant appears on it; the judge, as it appears here, was judge and ex officio clerk.

Ques. 72. Is it certified anywhere in the book as being the record of the county court by any certificate?—Ans. No, sir; I believe not.

Ques. 73. Do you know that this, the only record that was kept by the county court?—Ans. No, sir; I don't know.

Ques. 74. Do you know that the records you have noticed are all the records of naturalization in Johnson County?—Ans. No, sir, I don't; I did not examine the records in any office to know whether they were complete or not.

Redirect:

Ques. 75. Does this last book No 2 seem to be the only record of naturalization of district and circuit court of Johnson County?—Ans. I can't say positively; this is a record in use now, but I can't say positively what it is.

Ques. 76. How far back does it date?—Ans. The first entry made in this book of naturalization in the district court was made on the 6th of Nov. 1860.

Ques. 77. Now, then, is that book used and kept as a record of naturalization since that of all the naturalizations that had been made in the District and circuit courts? —Ans. I don't say as to that only as to my term of office.

Q. 78. Do you know of any other book, any other office, in which there is another copy?—A. No, sir; I don't know of any other book which purports to be the record of the county court of naturalization.

Q. 79. Where did you find that book—that book which Mr. B. Brown has in his hand on the one introduced in evidence among the records? How long have you been in office?—A. Over two years.

Q. 80. As a matter of fact, are not the records of the old county courts lying in your office?—A. No, sir.

Q. 81. Except as to the roads and county matters?—A. We have the probate records of the county courts; also, what I consider naturalization records. They appear to be naturalization records of the county court; whether complete or not, I do not know.

Q. 82. Now then, when where these records begun?—A. Jan. 12th, 1861.

Q. 83. When does it end, and when does the last record of naturalization made?—A. the third of Nov. '68 was the final entry of this book.

Q. 84. Do you know from your own knowledge when the circuit court was organized?—A. I forget now.

Q. 85. And when the county court ceased to be; was it on the 1st of Jan. 1869?—A. Yes, sir; I believe so.

Q. 86. When does this book that is called No. 1—when does it begin?—A. The first entry is made on the 31st day of May, 1859.

Q. 87. Now turn to the record that you made of Mr. Cowley, and see if you can find the records of naturalization of Owen Cowley; and if so by what court?

(Contestee objects to the question, that it is not the best evidence, record being best evidence.)

A. Yes, sir; it has.

Q. 88. What court is it in?—A. County court.

Q. 89. Do you identify that book as the record of the county court of naturalization, and are you the custodian of it?—A. Yes, sir; I am custodian of this book.

Q. 90. Do you identify it as the record of the county court, the record of naturalization?—A. Only by what appears on its face.

Q. 91. Do you recognize that as the book of record of naturalization?—A. Yes, sir; I do.

Q. 92. What is it you call this book?—A. Sole record of the county court.

Q. 93. Well, I will now offer in evidence this record.

(Copy offered in evidence.)

(Contestee objects for the same reason—that the record is without paging; because there is no index to it; because it does not purport to be the record of any court on its face. It is simply a lot of printed pages, certificates to be filled out. They may have been made by any one; because the law requires that all records shall be signed by each judge; also, incomplete and immaterial.)

(The copy read in evidence containing copy of the naturalization record of Owen Cawley.)

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
State of Iowa, Johnson County, ss:

Naturalization.

Be it remembered that at the term of the county court, on and for said county, in State of Iowa, on the 24th day of October, in the year of our Lord 1868, was presented the Honorable Jas. Cavanagh, sole presiding judge and ex-officio clerk of said court, when the following proceedings were had, to wit: Owen Cowley, native of Ireland, at present residing in the said State, appears in said court and makes application to be admitted to become a citizen of the United States, and it appearing to the satisfaction of the court that he served in the Army in the United States in the late rebellion, and has been a resident of the United States over 5 years before his application for admission; that it was bona fide his intention to become a citizen of the United States, and to renounce forever all allegiance to any foreign prince, potentate, State, or sovereignty whatsoever, and particularly to Victoria, Queen of Great Britain, to whom he was formerly a subject; and said applicant having declared on oath before this court that he will support the Constitution of the United States, and that he doth absolutely renounce and abjure all allegiance to every prince, potentate, State, or sovereignty whatsoever, and particularly to Victoria, Queen of Great Britain, to whom he was a subject, the court being satisfied by the testimony of Daniel Flaltes that said applicant has resided in the United States for the term of five years next preceding his admission, without having been at any time within the said five years out of the United States, and within the State one year at least; and it further appearing to the satisfaction of this court that during that time he has behaved himself as a man of good moral character, attached to the Constitution of the United States, and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same; thereupon the said court admitted the said applicant to become a citizen of the United States, and ordered the proceedings aforesaid to be entered upon the record, which was accordingly done by the clerk of this court.

Q. 94. I will ask you if you find the record of the naturalization of John Crey, in the fall of 1868?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 95. What is the date of that record?—A. 19th of Oct., 1868.

Q. 96. In what court was that?—A. County court.

Q. 97. Who was the judge?—A. Jas. Cavanagh.

(Contestee offers in evidence the record of John Cooney.)

Q. 98. Is this the record of John Cooney?—A. I don't know whether it is or not; I have no evidence of it.

(Contestee now offers in evidence the record of naturalization of John Cooney, the witness who was examined this forenoon, before Jas. Cavanagh, as appeared in the same book before referred to, being the record of the county court.

Contestant objects to the same, for the reason that the record is not identified as any record, and as the record does not purport to be the record of any court; because the record is not signed as required by law; because it does not appear that the witness who has presented it is the custodian of any such record; because the printed record of naturalization of John Cooney does not appear to be the same John Cooney who has testified before this commission.

It is agreed that the form is the same as the one which is read in evidence, being the record of the naturalization of John Cooney, native of Canada; also it appearing to the satisfaction of the court that he came into the United States under the age of 18 years, and has resided in the U. S., &c., the court being satisfied, by the oath of Michael Cooney, that said applicant has resided in the U. S. for the term of 5 years.)

Q. 99. Did you find the record of the naturalization of Jas. Loney?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 100. I will ask you if this is the record of the naturalization of Jas. Loney?—A. Yes, sir; it appears so here. I have nothing to identify it by.

(Referring to the same book.)

Q. 101. I will ask you what this book is you have before you?—A. What is it?

Q. 102. Yes, sir.—A. I got it in the clerk's office.

Q. 103. Is it not the record of the county court, the naturalization record?—A. I cannot swear it was; I found it there since I came there. I supposed it was, but have nothing to show me that it was anything more than what appears on the face of it.

Q. 104. Do you know of any other book of records of naturalization; is there any other in your office court for this period?—A. No, sir; I don't know of any except this one.

(Contestee offers the record in evidence.)

A. Well, this naturalization business, for years gone by, had been pretty badly mixed up. We find them in the court records or minutes, in the index of the court records; we find them in this book—in fact, in all three of these books.

Q. 105. There is no question of its having been done, for you find it in this book, is there?

(Objection.)

A. Here is the naturalization year, dated 1863.

Q. 106. Who is it by?—A. It does not say.

(Contestee offers in evidenc the record of the naturalization of Jas. Loney, also in the same form as the last record introduced. Both being natives of Ireland, came to the U. S. under the age of 18, and naturalized before Jas. Cavanagh Oct. 17th, 1868, both on the same day, Jas. Loney as witness for Patrick and Patrick witness for Jas.)

(Now offer in evidence naturalization of Thos. Reed, before Jas. Cavanagh, dated Oct. 10th, 1868.)

(Contestant objects to the same as irrelevant, immaterial, incompetent, not being required of any court; not identified by the same party; that it does not show that it is the same Thos. Reed that voted. Came to the U. S. under the age of 18 years-has resided here over 5 years; was a native of Ireland; naturalized by Judge Cav; anagh.

Contestee now offers in evidence page 103 of the record-book before referred to, being the record of naturalization of Michael Holland before county court here, Geo. W. McCleary, sole presiding judge and ex officio clerk; a native of Ireland; that he declared his intention before the Johnson County district court, being the court required, and the evidence was Elijah Quinn. Record otherwise the same as the last.

Contestant objects; incompetent, irrelevant, immaterial. It is not shown that the record has been identified; that it does not appear to be the same Michael Holland that testified; besides witness, Michael Holland, that he was naturalized in New York.

Contestee objects; incompetent, immaterial; that the record introduced is not shown to be the record of any court not identified as such, no record kept by law being found in the proper custody.)

Q. 107. Now, please turn to the minute-book in which you said there were some naturalization records, and state whether there was a record in that book of Frank Blaha.—A. No, sir; I have no such name on the index.

Q. 108. Look and see if you have there a record of the naturalization of Jos. Freisch.—A. No, sir; there is no such name that I find on the index.

Q. 109. Also examine whether you can find the recard of the naturalization of Jas. Kratka.—A. Here is the record of the man Jas. Kratka.

Q. 110. Please turn to that and see what the date is.

(Witness refers to the minute-book.)

Q. 111. Of what court is this a record?—A. I cannot tell you.

Q. 112. What do you do with the the book now?—A. Use it to make minutes of the issuance of marriage licenses.

Q. 113. What does this book purport to be, a minute-book?—A. It is the record of the county court.

Q. 114. Did you find the record of the name of Jas. Kratka upon the record of the county court?—A. Yes, sir; perhaps I can find Kratka also.

Q. 115. Please examine and see if you can find that also or not?—No, sir.

Q. 115. You find no record of the naturalization of Jas. Kratka; now, is there no record of the naturalization of John Kiozshek?—A. The index to our court record in the office has the names of men naturalized and indexed in the district court record. [Witness examines index.] No, sir; I have not any such name.

Q. Now examine whether or not there is any record of the naturalization of Albert Stanohaz.—[Witness examines index.] A. I find the record of no such names.

Q. 117. Now examine as to Albert Schondle.—A. I find no such name as Albert Schondle.

Ques. 118. Tell the commissioner whether in this index of the record there is a record of the naturalization of Joseph Holtke.—Ans. I don't find it under "H"; we looked awhile ago under the "L's."

Ques. 119. Tell the commissioner whether there is a record of the naturalization of John Wood.—Ans. No, sir; there is none here.

Cross-examination:

Ques. 120. Have you presented all the records of naturalization that there are in that county, so far as you know?—Ans. What would you call a record?

Ques. 121. I mean the records of naturalization in your county.—Ans. Well, I know there are to be some indexed; I don't know that there are any records.

Ques. 122. Have you examined all the records of that county, and do they contain records of naturalization?—Ans. No, sir; I never examined them closely.

Ques. 123. Must there not be records of naturalization in the complete record of the district court?—Ans. Yes, sir; there should be.

Ques. 124. Must there be records of naturalization in the records of the circuit court?—Ans. Yes, sir; there should be.

Ques. 125. Now, you may state if you didn't fine that the names of persons naturalized are misspelled in many instances.

(Objection, immaterial.)

Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 126. Don't you find in the records that there is much difficulty in identifying the names of persons naturalized on account of the manner in which they are spelled?—Ans. Yes, sir; I find much difficulty.

Ques. 127. Have you examined these records, so as to swear that these records do not contain the records of naturalization of this man John Worrell?—Ans. How is it?

Ques. 128. Can you swear that the records do not contain the record of naturalization of John Carroll; may he not have been naturalized for all you know in the district court of this county?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 129. Were there any records of naturalization in the United States district court that were permanently held in this county?—Ans. I have no knowledge only of hearsay of that.

Ques. 130. You know that there has been a United States district court held over here?—Yes, sir; I have heard that.

Ques. 131. Do you know that these books do not contain a record of the naturalization of Patrick Loney in the district and circuit court?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 132. Do you know that the records of the district court did not show that Patrick Loney was not naturalized in this court?—Ans. I have not thoroughly examined them, so I don't know.

Ques. 133. Do you know that there is no record of naturalization of John Kozihek?—Ans. No, sir; I don't.

Ques. 134. Do you know that there is no record of naturalization in this county of Stemocher?—Ans. I don't.

Ques. 135. What do you say as to Albert Shondle; do you know that there is no record of naturalization of that man?—Ans. I don't know.

Ques. 136. Do you know that there is no record of naturalization in the county of Joseph Holtka?—Ans. I don't.

Ques. 137. Do you know that there is no record of naturalization Wetzel Pautera?—Ans. We find record of some of them.

Ques. 138. If this record of naturalization is prepared from each council, are records in evidence; is there any signing of that record by any judge or clerk of any court; is there any signature of verification of the record itself; what is printed on the back of the book containing naturalization papers?—Ans. Well, I don't really know how to answer that; all the evidence I have is on the book itself.

Ques. 139. I will ask you if there is any certificate here attached to any of these records showing what kind of record it is?—Ans. No, sir; there is not.

Ques. 140. Do you know that that record was ever used in a county court as a record, to your own knowledge?—Ans. Of my own knowledge I don't know if it is such a court record.

Ques. 141. Have you presented all the records of naturalization in which the records of naturalization may be entered, that are in your county?—Ans. I don't know whether I have or not.

Ques. 142. Is there any index to all the books of all records of naturalization?—Ans. I can't answer that; I have never examined the naturalization papers in full of any.

Ques. 143. I will ask you if this record of naturalization from each council contains the record of Owen Cawley and John Cuney; is any paging in it?—Ans. The front part of it is paged. I think it has paging from one to three hundred and nine, inclusive.

Ques. 144. How much of the book does that take?—Ans. You mean the whole book, or what is filled out?

Ques. 145. First one and then the other.—Ans. Well, probably paging starts from one and went through the whole book. Yes, sir, all but those that have been recently kept.

Redirect:

Ques. 146. Were you subpœnaed to bring all the records of naturalization?—Ans. I don't know; I lost the copy of my subpœna.

Ques. 147. Do you understand that that was what you were subpœnaed for?—Ans. No, sir; Mr. Cone asked me if I had been supœnaed, right after dinner; I said no. He said that I was to be subpœnaed, and was talking about the books.

Ques. 148. Do you know of any records here other than these before the commissioner?—Ans. No, sir; I don't know of any others; I can't say that there are others.

Ques. 149. I will ask you if you know of any other?—Ans. No, sir; I don't know of any other.

Ques. 150. Mr. Bradley, in looking over the record that you have here this afternoon, have you ever known that there was any kindred in spelling or sound?—Ans. I don't know that I understand that question.

Ques. 151. Will you tell Mr. Brown that the names of these Bohemians may be spelled different, so that they would be difficult to recognize?—Ans. Yes, sir; I said so.

Ques. 152. Now, in your examination this afternoon, haven't you noted every name that had either kindred spelling or sound?—Ans. Noted them?

Ques. 153. Yes, sir; didn't you call your attention to the fact?—Ans. To the similarity here?

Ques. 154. Yes, sir; to the similarity between them.—Ans. I may or may not; I don't know.

155. Ques. Some names are given to you, and you find them to be in a little different form in the record?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 156. Where have you had reason to believe that the names you were looking for appeared in so different form, you have so stated to the commissioner, have you?—Ans. I don't know whether I did or not; some of them I think I did.

Ques. 157. Didn't you intend to do it in every case?—Ans. I don't know that I did.

Ques. 158. As a matter of fact, wasn't it so in every case?—Ans. Yes, sir; in a number of cases at least.

Ques. 159. For instance, in the name Patera, beginning with "K" you looked at "C"?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 160. And when the name began with "H" you looked for "L"?—Ans. Yes, sir; once.

Ques. 161. Take now, for instance, the name of Joseph Freisch; you find a name that is similar?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 162. Well, in the case of Wertzel, Worckla (or something like that), you understood it to be the same?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 163. Now in the case of "Lacina," you understand that differently, don't you?—Ans. That was the same name.

Ques. 164. That was spelled differently on the record?—Ans No, sir; I think not.

Ques. 165. It had Ger instead of Na, didn't it?—Ans. Yes, sir; I believe so.

Ques. 166. Is there any case you can recollect now, any case of these names we have given to you, that you have omitted to state whether the record shows the name of the person a similarity there of sound and spelling?—Ans. Two; yes, sir.

Ques. 167. Have you omitted to state that?—Ans. Yes, sir; I have.

Ques. 168. You think that they were not sufficiently similar?—Ans. Yes, sir; and it also occupied too much time.

Ques. 169. Did you ever omit to give the name of the person that might have been the one?—Ans. Yes, sir; if we had had more time I would have mentioned more names.

Ques. 170. Are the names of the parties on the list that now appears on the record supposed to have been naturalized?

(Gives witness the list.)

Ques. 171. Have you any other records in your possession?—Ans. I am not positive about that. All I know about it is this, I think the names of naturalized persons on our court records away back.

Ques. 172. How far back?—Ans. I cannot say.

Ques. 173. Will you make any inquiries, and come in this afternoon?—Ans. Yes, sir; certainly.

Recross-examination:

Ques. 174. Have you time this afternoon to examine each page to see whether the persons are naturalized or not? Will you have time to examine each record and see?—Ans. No, sir

Ques. 175. Don't you find many records that are not indexed?—Ans. I find records, some that are not indexed; perhaps one or two.

Ques. 176. Do you ever find in your records some whole books that are not indexed?—Ans. I don't know about that.

Ques. 177. How about the book in your hand?—Ans. I think there is an index to this; probably these names are indexed in the minute book, if you would call that an index.

Ques. 178. Does it require a pretty extensive examination to determine whether or not there is a record of naturalization in your county?—Ans. Yes, sir; it would require quite a time to find it. It is almost as difficult to find as anything in the office.

Ques. 179. These different names have been spelt in different ways. In how many different ways is the name Wentzel spelled?—Ans. Some spell it "Wentzel"; some say the same as Voclav. I suppose that is the English of it.

Ques. 180. (By Mr. WILSON.) That is my name; I didn't know that I had so many names.—Ans. That is the reason Wilson got so far ahead of Frederick here.

Ques. 181. Are there others of these names spelled differently?—Ans. Yes, sir; Jake and John, for instance.

Ques. 182. How is that spelled?—Ans. Some spell John; some spell it Jon.

Ques. 183. Ever spell it Yon?—Ans. No, sir; I guess not.

Ques. 184. How in German?—Ans. Some Germans spell it, when they write their name for first papers, Yohan.

(Objection, incompetent and immaterial.)

Ques. 185. How is the name of Locina; in what different ways do you find that spelled?—Ans. I never met that name except in this record.

Ques. 186. How is the name of Shendel spelled?—Ans. Some with S, some with C, and some with Sch; some dle, and some del.

Ques. 187. Is the name of Kessel spelled in different ways?

(Objection, not proper examination.)

Ques. 188. How is Albert spelled in Bohemian?—Ans. I don't know; I never knew of any variation in that.

Redirect:

Ques. 189. You say you know of no other record of naturalization that you could call an index to this part of the record?—Ans. No, sir.

Recross-examination:

Ques. 190. Have you examined all the pages of this book; you have no index here that is called naturalization records?—Ans. No, sir; I haven't.

(Referring to the book marked Record of naturalization by the judge.)

Ques. 192. Have you examined all the pages in record No. 2 for naturalization?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 193. Do you know that to have been indexed?—Ans. No, sir.

STEPHEN BRADLEY,
Clerk of Courts, Johnson Co., Iowa.

$0.85 paid as fee by contestee.

STATE OF IOWA,
Johnson County, ss:

I, Eldon Moran, a notary public for Johnson County, and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony in this cause, in pursuance of the annexed agreement, attached to the testimony of J. L. Adams, whose testimony was taken Feb. 22d, 1883, do duly certify that on the 4th, 5th, and 6th days of April, 1883, in pursuance of the notice hereunto annexed, I took the depositions of the following witnesses: Pleasant Harris, Phillip Zimmerman, Joseph Bartocha, Joseph Zeozoley, Mathias Kratz, James Dobcky, John Kopsa, Frank Tremmel, Albert Kessel, Frank Jettek, Steven Benda, John Reynolds, Eckhart Hornel, James Loney, Patrick Loney, Michael Holland, J. W. Holland, John A. Holland, John Paters, John Carroll, Patrick O'Connor, John W. Wilson, Joseph Kirkoff, Frederick Rothweiler, Christian Schmidhelm, Joseph Friesch, Joseph Holtka, James Lacine, Frank Blaha, John Kozishek, Albert Stimocher, Albert Schondl, James Kratky, John Vorel, Wenzel Patera, Joseph Selky, Martin Keppel, John Peckman, John Cooney, Joseph Beranek, Frank Temmel, Albert Kessel, Thomas Reed, Owen Cowley, Stephen Bradley, whose testimony is set forth in the following manner: Each witness was first by me duly sworn or caused to be sworn in my presence, as provided by law, and when sworn the questions were propounded to him by the respective parties, Benj. T. Frederick, contestant, and James Wilson, contestee, by their respective att'ys, and the question by me read to the witness, who answered the same, and his answer by me in the language of the witness taken down under each question propounded, and reduced to writing till the deposition was completed.

I further certify that when the testimony of each witness was taken I carefully read the same over to the witness, who corrected the same, and each correction noted, and said testimony was then signed by the witness and sworn to by him before me.

I further certify that T. Brown & Carney appeared as counsel for the contestant, Benj. T. Frederick, and Milton Remley and J. W. Cone appeared as counsel for the contestee, James Wilson.

In witness whereof I have set my hand and seal hereunto, notarially, this 19th day of April, 1883.

ELDON MORAN,
Notary Public for Johnson County, Iowa, and Commissioner agreed upon to take Testimony.

No. 3.

MARSHALL COUNTY.

FREDERICK
v.
WILSON.

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

Deposition of witnesses produced before me, Eldon Moran, a notary public and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony, and duly sworn before me, a notary public for Johnson County, Iowa, on this 9th, 10th, 11th, and 12th days of April, 1883, at Marshalltown, in pursuance of the notice hereunto attached in a proceeding pending before the House of Representatives of the United States of America, in a contested election for the office of Representative in Congress, in which proceeding Benj. T. Frederick is contestant, and James Wilson contestee; Brown & Carney for contestant, and J. H. Bradley for contestee.

The following testimony was taken before me:

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

FRANK A. SCOTT, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, notary public for Marshall County, on this tenth day of April, A. D. 1883, testifies as follows on the part of contestee (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Were you one of the judges of election for Washington Township at the last election?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Quest. 2. Did you make a canvass of the votes on the evening of the election?—Ans. I helped to make it.

Quest. 3. What part did you take in counting the ballots?—Ans. I took half of the ballots in the box and looked them over carefully and handed them to the three judges to be read to the clerks and made tally of his reading.

Quest. 4. Who was the other judge who examined the ballots with you?—Ans. I declare I can't say positive. Mr. M. E. Andrews was one of the other judges and Mr. E. B. Potter was the other, but whether Mr. Andrews took the other half of the ballots in the box and handed them to Mr. Potter to read to the opposite I don't remember,

Quest. 5. Were the ballots correctly counted that night and was a correct return of the ballots made?

(Contestant objects to the question as leading.)

Ans. To the best of my knowledge, they were.

Quest. 6. What kind of light did you have?—Ans. Kerosene lamps.

Quest. 7. Was the light good or poor?—Ans. It was good.

Quest. 8. How many hands did these ballots pass through?—Ans. Two hands.

Quest. 9. Were any mistakes in counting that night that was ascertained?—Ans. No, sir; I didn't observe any mistakes.

Quest. 10. State to the court was to make a correct return and correct count.—Ans. Do you mean to ask how we handed the ballots in taking them from the box?

Quest. 11. Yes, sir.—Ans. Well, sir, we opened the box and one of the judges and Mr. Andrews took out five ballots, took one at a time, and looked it over carefully to see if it was straight Republican or Democratic ticket. If it proved to be a Republican ticket, he took out another that would correspond with his, was a straight Republican, until there were five, and after they were all straight, either Democratic or Republican, we counted all the votes, five at a time; read the name and tallied five for each candidate; think they were straight. We put them all back into the box until we had got out all the straight tickets on each side, then took out one ballot at a time and called out the candidate's name separately; that is, the correct ballots.

Quest. 12. From the manner in which you made the canvass, have you reason to believe that the return you made was a correct one?—A. Yes, sir.

Quest. 13. This was Washington Township, Marshall County, Iowa?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Quest. 14. At the November election, 1882?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Cross-examination:

Quest. 15. Did you know whether the clerks tallied correctly or not?—Ans. Speak louder, please; I don't hear.

(Question read.)

Quest. 16. Do you know whether the clerks tallied correctly or not?—Ans. I have every reason to believe that they did.

Quest. 17. Well, do you know whether they tallied correctly or not?—Ans. No, sir; I don't.

Quest. 18. Do you know whether all three judges called correctly?—Ans. No, sir.

Quest. 19. Were you not liable to make a mistake in the counting honestly?—Ans. Yes, sir; we are liable to make mistakes at any time.

Quest. 20. How many times were the ballots counted?—Ans. I don't know that I understand your question definitely to answer it. I would say that the ballots were not through our hands; we counted once, and after the tallies were made we went over the ballots again to see that they corresponded with the number on the tally list.

Quest. 21. Did you count over all the ballots and look to the number of Congress separately when you went over it the second time?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Quest. 22. Did you count them the second time just by straight tickets?—Ans. No, sir; we counted the number of tickets again to see that they corresponded with the number of ballots that had been tallied.

Quest. 23. You didn't count the ballots for the purpose of as certaining the name and number of any candidates the second time?—Ans. No, sir.

Quest. 24. Then you simply state here that you, as a public officer, tried to make a square count as far as you are concerned?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Quest. 25. You don't go any farther than that you would use nothing farther than hat you, as a public officer, made a correct and straight count?—Ans. Yes, sir; I did.

Quest. 26. That is as far as you can state?—Ans. Yes, sir.

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

W. H. STEWART, being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradly, a notary public for Marshall County, on this 10th day of April, A. D. 1883, testified as follows:

Ques. 1. Were you judge of the election in Taylor Township at the last November election, 1882, in the State of Iowa?—Ans. I was.

Ques. 2. Did you assist in making the canvass of the polls of that election?—Ans. Yes; I remained I think till about eight o'clock.

Ques. 3. At night?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 4. Were you present until the canvass was entirely made?—Ans. Nearly so; I handed Mr. Fogg the tickets out of the box; two tickets, perhaps, were left unstrung; I handed all of the tickets in the box.

Ques. 5. You mean those last two tickets?—Ans. Yee, sir; the two last.

Ques. 6. Who took the tickets out of the box?—Ans. I did.

Ques. 7. Did you take them both out?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 8. Those two were the last tickets in the box?—Ans. Yes, sir; I called them off for the clerk, Mr. Fogg.

Ques. 9. Did you examine them as you took them out of the box?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 10. Did Mr. Fogg examine them after that?—Ans. Yes, sir; I think that he did look them over.
Ques. 11. Did Mr. Malmsberry or their judge examine them?—Ans. He strung them on a string after we called them off.
Ques. 12. After they were called off?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 13. I will ask you if you were away from the polls about 5 o'clock, or before the polls closed that night?—Ans. I left there about 8 o'clock in the evening.
Ques. 14. You staid there until that time?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 15. Who went away with you when you left?—Ans. Nobody but the man who took me there—Horner.
Ques. 16. Is that William Horner, the man who testified in this case?—Ans. He was subpœnaed here before.
Ques. 17. What care was taken by you in making the count of the ballots to count correctly?—Ans. I took ballots out of the box. I would take out 5, and when we got 5 Republican tickets, I took them out and looked them over as I took them out; I turned them over to see that they were straight Republican tickets; then I counted them over to see that I had 5; then handed them to Mr. Fogg.
Ques. 18. Is that all?—Ans. Well, when I would come to the Democratic ticket, I would lay it down at one end of the desk until I got four; if they were straight when I got four or five I would count them.
Ques. 19. Did you count the ballots correctly as they were taken from the box?—Ans. I think that I did, sir.
Ques. 20. Made a correct assortment, did you?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 21. Who were present at the time you counted the ballots except the judges?—Ans. George Kaler was there most of the time; I don't remember; there might have been some others there when we first commenced to count.
Ques. 22. Were there any changes made in the ballots after they were put in the box by anybody?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 23. Did you make any changes?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 24. Did you see any made?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 25. Did you open the box during the day and count the ballots and examine them?—Ans. No, sir; the box wasn't opened until about five o'clock, I think.
Ques. 26. By anybody?—Ans. No, sir; not by anybody until five o'clock.
Ques. 27. Who had the key of the box?—Ans. Mr. Fogg had the key, I think; he opened the box.
Ques. 28. It wasn't opened then nntil you began to count, was it?—Ans. No, sir; it wasn't.
Ques. 29. Not any ballots handled whatever?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 30. I will ask you whether you remember a William Ernst asking you to look over the ballots, and how many Frederick tickets there were in the afternoon?—Ans. No, sir; no such thing.
Ques. 31. Did you take any ballots out of the box when you commenced to count?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 32. Were they taken out of the box for any purpose except for canvassing the returns?—Ans. No, sir; they were not.
Ques. 33. Did you at any time in the afternoon see Mr. Ernst the box, and the ticket with Wilson's name erased, and Frederick's name written on the ticket?—Ans. No, sir; I didn't.
Ques. 34. Do you know how many votes in Taylor Township were cast for Mr. Wilson for Congress?
(Contestant objects to the question as immaterial—not best evidence, the returns being better evidence than testimony of the witness.)
Ans. I have forgotten how many ballots there were cast in the township; I can hardly remember now.
Ques. 35. Were there any more tickets cast for Mr. Wilson than were counted for him, or taken from the box?—Ans. No, sir; there were not.
Ques. 36. Do you recollect when Mr. Ernst left the polls?—Ans. I don't know; I didn't see him around there after along toward evening, well, probably about—well, a little before sundown.
Ques. 37. Did you leave at the same time he did?—Ans. No, sir; that is not true; I left about eight o'clock; he was gone a good while before I left.

Cross-examination:

Ques. 38. Did you have a watch with you?—Ans. No, sir; I didn't.
Ques. 39. I mean on the day of the election?—Ans. No, sir; I didn't.
Ques. 40. Where did you go the night of the election?—Ans. I came home, and then went to town.
Ques. 41. Did you get away from town?—Ans. Yes, sir; went west.
Ques. 42. On what train?—Ans. I went west at about eleven o'clock.

Ques. 43. Did you leave the polls before dark?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 44. How long after dark?—Ans. Quite a while after dark. I got home at 9.20, drove three and three-fourths miles; we drove pretty lively; it was 9.20 when I got home.

Ques. 45. You didn't go with Mr. Ernst home, then?—Ans. No, sir; I didn't.

Ques. 46. How did you know that he was there when you went away?—Ans. Well, he wasn't in the house; I don't think he would be standing around out doors in the dark.

Ques. 47. How did you know that he wasn't there?—Ans. Because I didn't see him; don't think that he was there.

Ques. 48. Do you know that you didn't make any mistake in the count?—Ans. I feel pretty well satisfied that I didn't make any mistake.

Ques. 49. You don't know it as a matter of fact?—Ans. I know that we were just as particular as we could be.

Ques. 50. Had there been any announcement that the polls would be closed when you left?—Ans. No, sir; we had got through counting.

Ques. 51. The polls had not been closed when you left; you don't know but what there were more votes cast after you went away, do you?—Ans. No, sir; I don't think anybody voted.

Ques. 52. Well, do you know that there were any more votes cast after you went away?—Ans. I can't say about that.

Ques. 53. You are a Republican, are you not, and voted for Mr. Wilson?—Ans. Yes, sir; I am, and voted for Mr. Wilson.

Ques. 54. Do you say positively that the ballot-box wasn't opened at all until after five o'clock?—Ans. I say about five o'clock.

Ques. 55. What do you mean by about? you didn't look at your watch?—Ans. I went out doors; saw that the sun was about half an hour high. We were in the clerk's office with the poll-books; we were all counting; sun set within 15 or 20 minutes.

Ques. 56. You only judge by the sun. Did you see Mr. Hubbard there that day?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 57. Didn't you that he refused to vote because of the ballots being taken out and handled by you?—Ans. No, sir; I don't know any such thing.

Ques. 58. Did he say to you that he would not vote where there was such corruption in the ballot-box?—Ans. No, sir; he said no such thing at all.

Ques. 59. Was there any voting done after box was opened?—Ans. Yes, sir; after we commenced to count, I closed box and three——

Ques. 60. Several voted?—Ans. Yes, sir; two or three; I don't remember just how many.

Ques. 61. Didn't you receive a good many votes after the box was opened?—Ans. Not a great many.

Ques. 62. You received some?—Ans. Yes, sir; a few votes after we commenced to count.

Ques. 63. How many did you count out? How many did you leave in the box when you closed it for parties to vote?—Ans. I could not tell you.

Ques. 64. Didn't you get nearly all the ballots counted out?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 65. Didn't you announce to Mr. Ernst, and others, that Frederick could not have had more than 8 or 9 votes?—Ans. No, sir; I don't think that I did.

Ques. 66. Is it not true that the ballot-box was opened at three o'clock?—Ans. No, sir; that is not true.

Ques. 67. Did you show the ballots there to Mr. Ernst, and others, that had Mr. Frederick's name written on it?—Ans. No, sir; I didn't. Mr. Ernst sat behind me. I will state the facts in the matter. Ernst sat behind me; some man had scratched Mr. Jennings' name and put Mr. French on, for recorder. When I took up the ticket I saw they were running French for recorder. Ernst sat right behind me; he might have seen that; it was nothing in regard to Frederick and Wilson at all.

Ques. 68. You didn't sign the returns, did you?—Ans. I signed the poll-books in the returns.

Ques. 69. When did you sign the poll-book?—Ans. Just before I left.

Ques. 70. Then you signed the poll-book before the polls were closed, did you; before you were through counting?—Ans. We were just about through counting.

Ques. 71. It was before the polls were closed you signed it?—Ans. I signed it just before I left.

Ques. 72. That was before the polls had been closed?—Ans. No, sir; we were just through counting.

Ques. 73. There had been no announcement of the polls being closed, had there?—Ans. I don't know; I didn't get any announcement; I don't know whether the other gentlemen had or not.

Ques. 74. Were not the tickets in the box when you left?—Ans. No, sir; there were none. I handed out the last tickets in the box; at least had them in my hand.

Ques. 75. Did you know that the tallys were all made?—Ans. I think that they were, sir.

Ques. 76. Had those two tickets been called before they were tallied?—Ans. As to those two tickets, I saw them when they were counted; I didn't hear, but I suppose they were counted.

Ques. 77. You don't know whether they were connted or not; you don't know whether those tallies were made or not?—Ans. I can't say as to that.

Ques. 78. Then you don't know whether the return was made; don't know whether it was the correct return or not?—Ans. I can't say as to that; I suppose it was.

Ques. 79. Where was it you saw the poll-book? Was it in the front side or back side?—Ans. Well, I don't know; I saw the poll-book any way.

Ques. 80. That is the first time you had seen the poll-book that day?—Ans. Yes, sir. Well, I am not positive but that I know I saw it.

Ques. 81. That was the oath of office of election judge that you signed?—Ans. No, sir; it was not.

Ques. 82. Did you sign the poll-book, rather the return in the book, of the book for each officer, before the election polls were closed?—Ans. I signed the poll-books. When Mr. Sante, the clerk, handed the poll-books to me, he said you had better sign it before you go; I took the poll-book and signed it.

Ques. 83. You don't know what votes were cast after you left?—Ans. I don't know that there were any votes cast after I left.

Ques. 84. You don't know but what there was?—Ans. No, sir; of course not.

Ques. 85. You didn't tell Mr. Ernst that there were only 8 ballots for Frederick in the box?—Ans. I don't remember of telling him anything about that.

Ques. 86. Didn't you tell him in the afternoon only those votes were for Frederick, along about half past two o'clock, when you opened it?—Ans. No, sir; I didn't do any such thing: because the box wasn't opened.

Ques. 87. When it was opened didn't you tell him—didn't you finger over them—look at the Democratic ballots?—Ans. No, sir; I didn't.

Ques. 88. You didn't authorize anybody to sign the poll-books for you?—Ans. In the morning I told the clerk that I didn't know but that I had to go away; and if we could not get through, I would have to get them to sign my name; for it would be legal; I didn't know whether it would be or not. I told Mr. Sante that I would have him sign my name to the books if I had to go away before we got through.

Ques. 89. That was in the morning? Did you expect the position as judge of the election?—Ans. No, sir; I told them I didn't know whether I could stay until they got through; I didn't know when we could get through.

Ques. 90. Did you look at your watch when you left, or anybody's time?—Ans. I didn't have any time.

Ques. 91. You didn't look at any time?—Ans. Not until I got home, until 8 o'clock.

Ques. 92. You don't pretend to say it was just 8 o'clock?—Ans. I say that it was about 8 o'clock.

Ques. 93. Somewhere in the neighborhood of 8 o'clock?—Ans. Yes, sir; about that.

Redirect:

Ques. 94. What do you mean? That the polls did not close until about 8 o'clock? How late did you receive any tickets?—Ans. The last tickets might have been about 6 o'clock; about that time.

Ques. 95. Do you remember who voted before the last votes were cast?—Ans. I have the impression that William Horner was the last man that voted; that is my impression.

Ques. 36. What time was it?—Ans. 5 o'clock.

Ques. 37. Was your watch correct?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 38. You were positive it was just 5 o'clock by your watch?—Ans. Yes, sir; 5 o'clock.

Ques. 39. Well, you say it was about 5 o'clock, or just 5 o'clock?—Ans. It would not have varied many minutes from 5 o'clock.

Ques. 40. It might have been a few minutes before 5 o'clock.—Ans. Yes, sir; it might have been.

Ques. 41. You don't remember just what time.—Ans. No, sir; not exactly.

Ques. 42. Did you receive votes after the box was opened—after you commenced counting?—Ans. Yes sir.

Ques. 43. Do you know how many you received?—Ans. I think about two votes.

Ques. 4 4. Might you not have received three or four?—Ans. I don't know just how many we received.

Ques. 45. Was not the box opened when Mr. Ernst was there?—Ans. I don't remember when he was there.

Ques. 46. Was it open when Mr. Hubbard was there?—Ans. I don't remember when he was there.

Ques, 47. How far does he live from the place of the election?—Ans. Two and a half miles, perhaps.

Ques. 48. Was the box open long enough before sundown for a man to go four and a half, and get home when the sun was shining?—Ans. No sir.

Ques. 49. Mr. Bosworth is incorrect when he says the sun was still shining when he got home, if he was there when the box was opened.—Ans. Yes sir; I think he was mistaken there.

Ques. 50. Where were the returns signed—the returns of the election you made to the auditor?—Ans. Those made to the auditor was signed there.

Ques. 51. Where were they signed?—Ans. In the auditor's office.

Ques. 52. Who was present; the judges and the clerks—all the judges present?—Ans. All except Mr. Stewart.

Ques. 53. Now, didn't you return the tally-list before you read the tally-list over?—Ans. I didn't.

Ques. 54. Did you bring it over sealed or unsealed?—Ans. Sealed.

Ques. 55. Did you open it afterwards?—Ans. Yes, sir; I did.

Ques. 56. You opened your returns?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 57. Did you return it to the auditor before you opened it?—Ans. No, sir; I forgot to sign it before we sealed it up; we took it in there and asked him about it; he says, open it and sign it; I said, have you any envelope; we will get a new envelope.

Ques. 58. Then you opened your returns at Marshalltown.—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 59. You don't know whether the clerks counted off the returns correctly or not?—Ans. I suppose they counted them right; the books corresponded.

Ques. 60. You don't know whether they counted them right or not?—Ans. I know that the books corresponded.

Ques. 61. With what?—Ans. With each other.

Ques. 62. You don't know whether they were counted correctly or not?—Ans. I can't tell, of course.

Ques. 63. Did Mr. Stewart want to do his chores that evening; is that the reason he wanted to go away?—Ans. No, sir; he said he wanted to go on the train, 11 o'clock.

Ques. 64. Was he out during the afternoon at any time?—Ans. No, sir.

Redirect:

Ques. 65. When you opened the return to sign it, was there any change made in the return?—Ans. No, sir; there was no change made at all.

Ques. 66. How far do you live from here?—Ans. 7 miles.

Ques. 10. Did you see Mr. Stuart have the ballot-box open in the afternoon?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 11. Did he show the ballot to Mr. Ernst at any time?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 12. Do you remember how many votes at your election was cast for Wilson for Congress?—Ans. No, sir; I did not pay much attention to it; I could not tell much about it.
Ques. 13. Was the number made by the return a correct number?—Ans. Yes, sir; it was a correct one.
Ques. 14. You intended to sign the returns that night?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 15. You signed it the next day, did you?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 16. Now, was there any change made in the return at the time you signed it?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 17. At any other time?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 18. Do you recollect seeing Mr. Ernst there that afternoon?—Ans. Yes, sir; I saw him there in the afternoon.
Ques. 19. Do you remember what time he went away?—Ans. No, sir; I do not know what time he went away.
Ques. 20. How long did Mr. Stuart stay?—Ans. He left about 8 o'clock.
Ques. 21. Had you finished counting votes?—Ans. Yes, sir; the last two tickets were handed out just before he left.
Ques. 22. Do you remember with what care the ballots were counted out?—Ans. As much care as I ever saw in counting; as much as I have ever used in counting; we were very careful in counting.
Ques. 23. Was there more than one return made from that township from the election?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 24. The return that was made was the one counted out that night, was it?—Ans. Yes, sir; it was the only one.
Ques. 25. Now, if that return shows 48 votes cast for Wilson, it is correct. is it?—Ans. Yes, sir; I won't swear to that, because I did not pay much attention to it. I supposed that it was all right.

Cross-examination:

Ques. 26. You did not count the votes to know how many votes were cast for Wilson or Frederick, did you?—Ans. No, sir, I did not.
Ques. 27. You were one of the judges?—Ans. Yes, sir; but I did not particularly count them.
Ques. 28. You do not know whether the votes were counted correct or not, do you?—Ans. Well, no, sir; I don't say that I do, for I supposed they were counted correctly.
Ques. 29. You relied upon those other gentlemen entirely?—Ans. I did not question them about it; no, sir.
Ques. 30. You do not know but what Frederick received more votes than you know of so far as your own observation is concerned?—Ans. I do not know that he did.
Ques. 31. Well, I mean by your own count?—Ans. I did not count particularly.
Ques. 32. Did you consult your watch when that box was opened?—Ans. No, sir; I saw Mr. Fogg's watch.
Ques. 33. Did you know what time it was?—Ans. About 5 o'clock.
Ques. 34. Do you know whether before or after 5 o'clock?—Ans. I do not know whether it was a few minutes before or after 5 o'clock.
Ques. 35. It might have been several minutes before that time?—Ans. No, sir; I think not many minutes.
Ques. 36. You do not know whether his watch was correct or not?—Ans. I do not know that.
Ques. 37. You saw William Ernst there after that, did you?—Ans. No, sir; I do not recollect seeing William Ernst after that. He left some time in the afternoon; I cannot say just when he left.
Ques. 38. Didn't Stewart talk about how parties voted in the presence of Ernst about Mr. Horner voting? Did he say anything to you? Did not Stewart want to see Horner's ticket to see how he voted?—Ans. I cannot say that I know anything about that; I was not paying much attention.
Ques. 39. These returns were signed in the morning? They were sealed up and brought to the auditor's office before they were signed, were they not?—Ans. Before they were signed they were brought to the auditor's office.
Ques. 40. They had been sealed before that?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 41. They were put in an envelope and sealed and you went into the office and signed them?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Q. 1. You live in Liberty Township?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 2. Did you vote at the last Nov. election there?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 3. Did you vote for Mr. Frederick for Congress?
BROWN. You need not state unless you please.
A. I don't know who I voted for.
Q. 4. You voted the Democratic ticket, though, did you not?—A. I don't know whether I did or not.
Q. 5. You say you voted the Democratic ticket?—A. I never voted very much.
Q. 6. Don't you know what ticket you voted?—A. No, sir.
Q. 7. Don't you know what names were on your ticket?—A. I don't any more than I got a ticket and threw it into the box.
Q. 8. Who did you get the ticket of?—A. I don't know, there were so many men there.
Q. 9. Don't you remember who gave you your ticket?—A. I don't remember it now.
Q. 10. Who was present when you voted?—A. When I put it into the box Bailey was there, Dunn, Sam Maloney, and some others.
Q. 11. Is William Dunn your father?—A. No, sir.
Q. 12. Have you any idea whether you voted the Democratic or Republican ticket?—A. No, sir; I could not say which.
Q. 13. Did you not see your ticket, and see whether it was Democratic or Republican?—A. Well, I did not look at it; I couldn't read it.
Q. 14. You may have voted the Republican ticket?—A. I don't know whether or not.
Q. 15. Do you think you did?—A. I cannot say whether I did or not.
Q. 16. You believe you vote the Republican ticket?—A. No, sir; I don't.
Q. 17. You believe you voted the Democratic ticket?—A. No, sir; I don't; I don't know what ticket I voted.
Q. 18. You did not vote the Greenback ticket, did you?—A. I don't know whether I did or not.
Q. 19. Did you ever vote any other than the Democratic ticket?—A. I never voted only that time, I guess.
Q. 20. Is that the only time you ever voted?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 21. How long have you been in Iowa, Mr. Dunn?—A. Pretty nearly 13 years.
Q. 22. Where were you born?—A. In Ireland.
Q. 23. How old are you?—A. 31 or 32.
Q. 24. Did you ever get any naturalization papers?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 25. What court did you get them from and what county?—A. Right here.
Q. 26. Have you them with you?—A. No, sir.
Q. 27. Now, Mr. Dunn, don't you know you voted the Democratic ticket?—A. Well, I cannot say; I just threw it in; I don't know whether it was a Democratic or Republican.
Q. 28. Did you not at the time suppose you were voting the Democratic ticket?—A. No, sir; I did not.
Q. 29. Did you suppose you were voting the Republican ticket?—A. No; I did not.
Q. 30. At the time did you suppose you were voting the Republican ticket?—A. No; I did not.
Q. 31. Do you not know who gave you your ticket; from whom did you get your ticket?—A. 9 or 10 gave me tickets; sometimes there were 5 or 6 at a time.
Q. 32. How many gave you this ticket you voted?—A. I don't know; I don't remember who gave it to me.

Q. 33. You saw your ticket?—[To a bystander. Did you see my ticket?]—A. I cannot say now who gave it to me.
Q. 34. Did you ever vote before this last fall?—A. No, sir.
Q. 35. When did you get your papers; how long ago?—A. My last paper?
Q. 36. When did you get any paper?—A. I got my first paper about 6 or 7 years ago.
Q. 38. When did you get the other?—A. I got that here, too.
Q. 39. When did you get it; last Dec.?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 40. Don't you know you voted the Democratic ticket?—A. I told you two or three times I did not.
Q. 41. You don't know that you did?—A. No, sir.
Q. 42. Did you not at the time suppose you were voting the straight Democratic ticket?
(Objection.)
Q. 43. Did you not at the time suppose you were voting a straight Democratic ticket?—A. I don't know, I think.
Q. 44. You don't know what you supposed at the time?—A. I don't know what ticket.
Q. 45. Don't you know what you supposed at that time?—A. Not being accustomed to voting, the first thing I did was to throw the ticket in; there were dozens of them there; I picked up one; I did not know which one.
Q. 46. That is the first time, you say, you ever voted? When you got your papers the last time, who was the judge; was it Henderson?—A. I don't know. It was at the time of Smith's term over here.
Q. 47. Who was present besides Mr. Saint and Wm. Dunn; was Peter Dunn present?—A. Yes, sir; also 50 or 60 men there.
Q. 48. Did you look at the head of your ticket to see what was upon it?—A. No, sir.
Q. 49. To see whether Democratic or Republican ticket?—A. I did not notice.
Q. 50. Did you know at that time what ticket you voted?—A. No, sir; I do not know as to what ticket. I was not very particular, I guess.
Q. 51. You intended to vote the Democratic ticket?—A. No, sir; I was not particular.
Q. 52. Are you not a Democrat?—A. I do not know; I never voted much; I never knew what Democrat or Republican was; I suppose I am a Democrat.
Q. 53. Would you not be likely to look at that Republican ticket if you supposed it to be such?—A. Well, I was not interested enough in the matter.

Q. 1. You live in Liberty Township?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 2. Did you vote for Frederick for Congress?—A. I voted the Democratic ticket.
Q. 3. Straight ticket, was it?—A. I suppose so.
Q. 4. I suppose that you voted for Frederick?—A. That was the calculation.
Q. 5. You have no doubt of it?—A. The ticket was handed to me by a Democrat; I suppose, probably, it was a Democratic ticket; I didn't read the name.
Q. 6. You have no reason to doubt it now; the ticket was full, except for the township, and that you filled out yourself?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 7. It was a regular Democratic ticket?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 8. Where were you born?—A. In Ireland.
Q. 9. Were you present when Mr. John Dunn voted?—A. No, sir.
Q. 10. Do you know how he voted?—A. I wasn't at the polls only a few minutes.
Q. 11. Do you know what ticket he votes usually?—A. No, sir; I didn't really think that he was a voter; I never saw him vote.
Q. 12. You knew as a fact that he wasn't a voter at that time—you understood at that time that he wasn't a voter?—A. No, sir; I didn't understand anything about it.
Q. 13. How long have you been here in Iowa, Mr. Dunn?—A. 29 years.
Q. 14. How old are you now?—A. 53, past.

Q. 1. You are the son of Geo. Bowman, are you?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 2. You are a voter in the county, are you not?—A. I guess so.
Q. 3. Do you know John Stindoff who worked for Bowman brothers?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 4. Do you know where is now?—A. No, sir.
Q. 5. Do you know that he voted last Nov. here?—A. I could not swear.
Q. 6. Were you present last Nov. when he voted?—A. I was here; I did not see him vote.
Q. 7. Were you not at the polls when he voted?—A. No, sir.
Q. 8. You know where he lives?—A. No, sir; not now.
Q. 9. Where did he live then?—A. All I know is that he worked for Bowman.
Q. 10. Did you know Fred. Slingman?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 11. While he worked for Bowman?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 12. Does he now?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 13. Did he vote last Nov. election?—A. I could not swear to that either.
Q. 14. Were you not present when he voted?—A. No, sir.
Q. 15. Did you recollect telling Mr. Stindoff and Slingman voting?—A. Yes, sir; I don't say that they voted.
Q. 16. Don't you know that they voted?—A. I could not swear to that. They might have done so, and I not have known anything about it.
Q. 17. You know that they were not legal voters, don't you?
(Objection not proper, asking the opinion of the witness.)
Q. 18. Where were they born?—A. I could not tell where; whether in the old country or no.
Q. 19. Don't you know what country they are natives of?—A. I don't know whether from Pennsylvania or not.
Q. 20. May they not be natives of Germany?—A. It would be as well to say I am a German.
Q. 21. I know you are a German, but are they not Germans?—A. I could not swear to that.

Q. 22. What is the fact about their having voted; don't you know Fred. Slingman voted for Frederick?
(Objection, leading.)
A. I don't know whether he voted or not; I was not at the polls when he voted.
Q. 23. Didn't you hear him say that he voted?
(Objection, hearsay.)
A. I never asked him whether he voted, or not.
Q. 24. Didn't you hear him say that he voted for Frederick?—A. No, sir, I never.
Q. 25. Where is Slingman now?—A. You were born in this city?—A. Yes, sir, in this city.
Q. 26. How old are you?—A. Going on 24.
Q. 27. You say you didn't see these men, either of them, vote?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 28. You didn't hear them say they voted?—A. I never did; didn't hear them say anything about it.
Q. 29. Don't you know that they voted?—A. I don't know anything about it; they may have voted for all I know; I could not swear to it.

Ques. 1. Where do you live, in Liberty Township?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 2. Did you vote in Liberty Township last Nov. election?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 3. You voted for Frederick for Congress, did you?—Ans. That I won't swear to.

Ques. 4. What ticket did you vote?—Ans. I voted the Democrat ticket; I can't say if he was on the ticket I voted or not.

Ques. 5. You didn't look to see?—Ans. No, sir; I went there late in the evening, about the last voting that was done; I asked for a ticket; I supposed I had a straight ticket; I just handed it in.

Ques. 6. You have no reason to believe you didn't vote for him, have you?—Ans. I have as much reason to believe I didn't as I did, as long as I don't know.

Ques. 7. Have you doubt about it?—Ans. No, sir; I didn't read it; I am no scholar; I supposed I was voting the Democratic ticket.

Ques. 8. Did you look at it?—Ans. I just folded it up and voted it.

Ques. 9. You didn't vote the Democratic ticket?—Ans. Yes, sir; probably.

Ques. 10. Who gave you the ticket, do you remember?—Ans. I think Mr. Tite.

Ques. 11. Was your ticket put into the box?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 12. By the judges of the election?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 13. Was Mr. Tite giving out Democratic tickets?—Ans. I don't know what kind he had been giving out.

Ques. 14. Mr. Tite is a Democrat?—Ans. Yes, sir; he claims to be; I just got there about the last voting; I just went up and asked for a ticket.

Ques. 15. Where were you born?—Ans. In Ireland.

Ques. 16. How long have you been in the United States?—Ans. Some over 20 years.

Ques. 17. Do you know about John Dunn's voting?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 18. Were you there when he voted?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 19. Ever hear him say that he voted?—Ans. No, sir; never heard him speak anything concerning the election whatever.

Ques. 1. Do you know one A. N. H. Gadd?—Ans. I don't think I ever heard the name.

Ques. 2. Do you remember a man by the name of Gadd voting in the second ward last Nov. election?—Ans. He might have been at the polls there; I don't vote in that ward, though.

Ques. 3. Don't you remember of the fact of being there and recommending him as a voter at the polls?—Ans. No, sir; I don't remember the man?

Ques. 4. You don't remember anything about it?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 5. You don't know any such man?—Ans. I think I have heard the name; I think I knew him by such; but I don't know for certain that I have heard the name.

Ques. 6. What ward do you live in?—Ans. In the fourth ward. I suggest here that it is possible that you have that mixed; I have recommended some other man by the name of Burr that lived in the second ward. I know that he desired me to be there that evening of the election. I think that he can read and write. I think that he can read. I presume that this may be your impression.

Ques. 7. You don't know any such man as A. N. H. Gadd? Do you know of any other Sheldon?—Ans. No, sir; not in town. There is one near Albion.

Ques. 1. You live in Washington Township?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 2. You were one of the judges of the election at that time, were you not?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 3. Did you assist in making the canvass of the returns of the votes that night after the election?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 4. Who assisted you?—Ans. Mr. Andrews and Mr. Scott.

Ques. 5. Mr. Scott now moved to State Center?—Ans. No, sir; I think out to Eagle Grove. He has sold his farm.

Ques. 6. Did you examine the ballots that night?—Ans. Yes, sir; what I counted I did.

Ques. 7. Who counted the ballots besides yourself, what other judge; who examined the ballots to see what they were?—Ans. Mr. Andrews and Mr. Scott.

Ques. 8. You may tell the commissioner what care you exerted to see that no mistakes were made in counting the ballots carefully.—Ans. We counted them out by fives; that is my own manner of doing. If there were any straight tickets they were counted so; if there were any tickets that were split, so called, they were counted the same way. Of them we took out five ballots at a time. We would take out five Republican votes, probably, and the next time five Democratic votes, next time five Greenback votes, if there were as many as five.

Ques. 9. Didn't you make a pretty thorough examination in the canvass?—Ans. Yes, sir; I did.

Ques. 10. Did you count the ballots correctly?—Ans. We endeavored to.

Ques. 11. From the one in which you counted them have you reason to believe you made a correct count?—Ans. I have.

Ques. 12. Who was the clerk of the election?—Ans. Mr. Ezra Wyatt. His assistant, I think, was his brother.

Ques. 13. That was the last Nov. election?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 14. Do you know where the ballot-box was left after the election?—A. Mr. Wyatt took charge of it.

Ques. 15. That was the box left in the school-house?—Ans. I don't know anything about whether it was or not. I don't know whether I staid there; I might have staid to walk home with M. Wyatt; but whether at the scool-house I do not know.

Cross-examination:

Ques. 16. You didn't count all the votes, did you?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 17. You don't know how the other judges counted them?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 18. You don't say it was impossible for you to have made a mistake?—Ans. No. sir; I didn't.

Ques. 19. You only counted them once?—Ans. That is all; that is, we counted to see they tallied all right.

Ques. 20. You selected as near as you could, you took the straight ticket, laid down a ticket, and waited until you got five?—Ans. No, sir; we laid it back in the box.

Ques. 21. Didn't you object to the mode or manner of counting there?—Ans. No, sir; I don't know that I ever made it known that I objected; I have been on the board, and we always counted by ones. I don't think I said anything about it.

Ques. 22. You don't think you made it as carefully as you are accustomed to make it?—Ans. I always felt better satisfied to count by ones; we always did it.

Redirect:

Ques. 23. Did you take the tickets out of the box?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 24. Did you examine each ticket?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 25. In bunching you examined each one separately?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 26. And each name on the ticket?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 1. Were you one of the judges at the election in Washington Township?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 2. Did you assist in making the canvass on the night of the election?—Ans. Yes, sir

Ques. 3. You may tell the commissioner what care you exercised; how you examined the ticket with reference to correctness?—Ans. Well, sir, we selected 5 straight tickets that were not scratched, so far as the State and the county were concerned; the township office we were not so particular as to the scratching. We invariably took 5 so far as we found them straight tickets. Where we found tickets that were scratched we took them in ones. The township clerk of the election tallied. When he tallied 5 he said "tally," and if there were no mistakes; if the other clerks didn't come out with the tally at the same time, then it was corrected before the ballots were laid down or disposed of in any way. That is as near as we could state as to how we counted them.

Ques. 4. Was the Congressional ticket scratched some?—Ans. Yes, sir; some.

Ques. 5. Did you examine each name on each ticket as you bunched them?—Ans. Yes, sir; I did.

Ques. 6. You were careful about that?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 7. Do you believe that the count that you made was correct?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 8. Have you any reason to believe from what has been said that the count was incorrect?—Ans. No, sir.

Cross-examination:

Ques. 9. Did you count all the ballots?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 10. You don't know whether the rest made any mistakes or not?—Ans. Not so far as I examined; I examined as far as I could.

Ques. 11. Well, do you know whether they made any mistake or not?—Ans. I don't know whether they did or not.

Ques. 12. Do you know that it was impossible for you to make a mistake?—Ans. Well, rather improbable.

Ques. 13. You were liable to make mistakes even if you were careful, were you not?—Ans. I don't know as we were, sir.

Ques. 14. You didn't say you couldn't make a mistake, even if you meant to do it accurately?—Ans. It is possible; I don't know; I do not think probable.

Ques. 15. You, as an officer, attempted to count them correctly?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 16. You believe all the judges did?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 17. You don't know but what the clerks might have made a mistake in tallying the votes, for all you know?—Ans. I think not in tallying.

Ques. 18. You heard them announce the tally?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 19. But you don't know but what the clerks might have made a mistake when Wilson's name was tallied? Suppose they had their pencils and marked so many for Wilson and you called the tally off as they marked it, might you not have made a mistake in tallying on the Wilson list?—Ans. No, sir; not as liable for 5 as for one.

Ques. 20. They might have done it, might they not?—Ans. Yes, sir; of course.

Ques. 21. Some tickets were scratched for Wilson and Frederick?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 22. When they came to call these single ballots they might have made a mistake then?—Ans. I don't know, sir; I can't tell whether or not; I am not positive as to that. It is possible we might.

Ques. 23. If you recounted them yourself and saw that a mistake had been made you would not say that it was impossible for a mistake to have been made?—Ans. No, sir; we did that before the tallies were closed; before the count was made.

Ques. 24. Well, suppose you had done afterwards, after the ballot-box had been perfectly kept?—Ans. Yes, sir, of course I would have to succumb to a mistake.

Ques. 25. You don't say but what there might have been a mistake in counting a larger number of tickets?—Ans. No, sir, of course not.

Ques. 26. Tickets were not all passed through your hands, were they?—Ans. Pretty much so.

Redirect:

Ques. 27. In taking tickets out of the box what did you do with them; did you pass them to another judge of the election?—Ans. Yes, sir; it was so required.

Ques. 28. Well, it is not impossible to make a mistake. You mean that it is impossible in view of the fact that this ballot-box was unopened for 3 or 4 months?—Ans. I say a mistake on that evening was not improbable.

Ques. 29. Do you know as a fact anything about where this ballot-box was kept?—Ans. Yes, sir; on top of a cupboard in a school-house.

Ques. 30. Did you see it there?—Ans. Yes, sir; I saw it there.

Ques. 31. Did you see it there during the lyceum meeting there, or other meeting?—Ans. I saw it there one day in the school-house.

Ques. 32. Did you know whether the box had been opened or not?—Ans. No, sir.

Cross-examination:

Ques. 6. How long have you been a voter?
(Contestant moves to strike out the answer as incompetent and immaterial, being a statement of the records without producing them.)
Ans. I got my paper when Mr. Frederick was at home.
(Witness returns with proper naturalization papers, dated June, '82. Papers admitted by the parties to be good and sufficient.)

It is agreed that WILLIAM BRODHEAD is a resident and occupant of the "Poor-House Farm," in Marshall County, and that he was unable to appear, but will testify as follows:

That he did not read his ticket at the last Nov. election, State of Iowa, Washington Township, but supposed that he was voting a straight Democratic ticket, and that he got his papers at New Orleans, in the year '38 or '39, he is not positive which. He got them from George Baldwin; that he voted in Washington Township, and is 87 years old. Now, E. S. Shaw says that he will testify and thinks that he is in his 78th year. I think that is his age from the register. He got his first papers and made application at a place called Brigham City, Utah Territory; got second papers at Omaha, Neb., and Samuel Wedlock was his voucher. He was going to a place where he usually stopped and left them in an old trunk here, and says that he voted straight Democratic ticket. This man also is a resident of the "Poor-House Farm."
(The agreement is that the witness would testify as above. Also, that neither of these men never were naturalized in this county; the second man mentioned was naturalized several years ago.)

Q. 15. It was Democratic ticket?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 16. You didn't scratch it?—A. No, sir; I didn't scratch anything; I don't do such things as that.

Q. 17. Did you ever vote before?—A. Yes, sir; I have been here 18 years.

Q. 18. Where were you born?—A. In Germany.

Q. 19. Is there any other Louis Scheidings now in the 4th ward?—A. Only my brother, and he is not here.

Cross-examination:

Q. 20. How long have you been a resident in that ward?—A. I came here in 1866, to Marshalltown.

Q. 21. Have you lived here since 1866?—A. It was just a little town when I came here.

Q. 22. Lived here ever since that time, have you?—A. No, sir; not all the time; I was out in the country some of the time; I voted out in the country.

Q. 23. You have been a voter for a good many years?

(Objection, incompetent, immaterial.)

A. Sometimes I voted, and sometimes I have not been there.

Q. 24. You have citizens' papers?—A. Yes, sir; I have got one; I haven't got it here, though.

Q. 25. Who was your witness when you got your citizens' papers, and where did you get them?—A. From here in the court-house.

Q. 26. Do you know who was your witness?—A. Mr. Wilter.

Q. 27. What is your age?—A. I am 41.

Ques. 28. How long have been in the U. S.?—Ans. 18 years.

Redirect:

Ques. 29. You didn't get but one paper, did you?—Ans. That is all.

Ques. 30. When did you get your last one, last Feb.?—Ans. Yes, sir; I believe so.

Ques. 31. You got it the last Jan. term of court, didn't you?—Ans. I believe that is when it was.

32. Ques. That is last winter, wasn't it, since last Nov.?—Ans. I cannot tell now.

Ques. 33. Wasn't it Jan. 17th of this year?—Ans. I believe it was; I cannot tell.

Ques. 34. You never had but one paper?—Ans. I guess I must have had as many as ten.

Ques. 35. You got your paper in this court-house here?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Recross-examination:

Ques. 36. You say you don't know who you did vote for?—Ans. I cannot swear who I voted for. I was too old to learn English when I came to this country.

Ques. 37. Did Frederick speak to you about the election?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 38. Didn't you intend to vote for Frederick—didn't you suppose you were voting for him at the time?—Ans. I cannot say about that.

Ques. 39. That was what you intended to do, wasn't it?

(Objection, leading)

Ques. 40. You supposed you were voting the straight Democra ic ticket, didn't you?—Ans. Yes, sir; that is what I thought.

EXHIBIT J.

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

We, the undersigned, members of the board of supervisors, and ex-officio board of county canvassers for Marshall County, hereby certify the following to be a true and correct abstract of the votes cast in said county at a general election held on the 7th day of November, A. D. 1882, for the office of Representative in Congress, for the fifth Congressional district, as shown by the poll-books returned from the several townships and election precincts: For the office of Representative in Congress, there were thirty-four hundred seventy-six (3,476) votes cast, of which James Wilson, received eighteen hundred (1,800) votes, B. T. Frederick received sixteen hundred seventy-six (1,676) votes.

In testimony whereof, we have hereunto set our hands and caused this to be attested by the clerk of the board of supervisors, and the seal of said county.

Done at Marshalltown, the county seat of said county, this 13th day of November, A. D. 1882.

[SEAL.]

GEORGE A. TURNER,
Chairman.

R. H. ARCHERD,
J. M. GILCHRIST,
Members of the Board of Supervisors, and ex-officio Board of County Canvassers.

Attest:

A. N. FRENCH,
County Auditor, and Clerk of Board of Supervisors.

We, the board of supervisors of Marshall County, Iowa, hereby certify to the following facts in regard to the canvass of votes cast at the last general election in Taylor Township, in said county, on November 7th, 1882:

The poll-book of votes cast in said Taylor Township showed that it was attested as "a true return" by two judges of said election signing their names in proper form and in the proper place; but the name of the third judge, W. H. Steward, was written in the following manner: "W. H. Steward, per cl'k," and showed on its face that the returns were not signed by W. H. Steward. Two clerks signed the said returns in proper form as clerks of said election.

We further certify that the said returns show that—

For Sect'y of State:
J. A. T. Hull rec'd 54 votes.
T. O. Walker " 4 "
Wm. Gaston " 2 "

For Auditor of State:
John L. Brown rec'd 54 votes.
Wm. Thompson rec'd 4 "
G. A. Wyatt " 2 "

For Treas. of State:
Edwin H. Conger rec'd 54 votes.
John Foley rec'd 4 votes.
Geo. Derr " 2 "

For Attorney-General:
Smith McPherson rec'd 54 votes.
J. H. Bremerman " 4 "
James Rice " 2 "

For Judge of Supreme Court:
Wm. H. Seevers rec'd 54 votes.
Charles E. Bronson rec'd 4 votes.

For Clerk of Supreme Court:
Gilbert B. Pray received 54 votes.
H. F. Bonorden " 4 "
E. N. Clark " 2 "

For Reporter of Supreme Court:
Ezra C. Ebersole rec'd 54 votes.
L. A. Palmer " 4 votes.
I. H. Wilson " 2 "

For Judge 11th Judicial Dist.:
H. C. Henderson rec'd 54 votes.
B. L. Burritt " 5 "

For Dist. Attorney 11th Judicial Dist.:
John L. Stevens received 54 votes.
Martin W. Anderson rec'd 4 votes.

Forty-eight votes were cast in said Taylor Township for James Wilson for Representative from the 5th Congressional district of Iowa, and that eight votes were cast at said election for B. T. Frederick, and two votes were cast for David Platner, candidates for said office.

We further certify that because the said returns showed they were not signed by all of the judges of the election in Taylor Township, we rejected the vote of said township, and if the same should be counted under the facts shown, the votes above named should be added to the number of votes of each candidate named.

The auditor is hereby directed to certify to the State canvassing board the returns from Taylor as they appear on file in his office.

Done at Marshalltown this 14th day of November, 1882.

Moved by Supervisor Archerd that the within certificate be adopted and spread upon the records. Seconded by Supervisor Gilchrist. On call of the roll Supervisors Turner and Archerd voted aye, and Supervisor Gilchrist voted nay. So the motion was adopted.

Done at Marshalltown, Nov. 14, '82, in session.

STATE OF IOWA, ss:

We, the undersigned board of State canvassers of the State of Iowa, do hereby certify that at the general election held on the seventh day of November, A. D. 1883, there were twenty-four thousand eight hundred and twenty-two (24,822) ballots cast for the office of Representative in Congress for the fifth Congressional district of the State of Iowa, of which James Wilson received eleven thousand seven hundred and ninety-one (11,791) votes, and B. T. Frederick received eleven thousand seven hundred and sixty-eight (11,768) votes, and David Platner received one thousand two hundred and fifty-three (1,253) votes, and scattering received ten (10) votes.

We therefore declare that James Wilson is duly elected Representative in Congress of said district for the term of two years, ending March 3d, A. D. 1885.

In testimony whereof, we have hereunto set our hands and caused to be affixed the great seal of the State, at Des Moines, this 11th day of December, A. D. 1882.

STATE OF IOWA,
Office of the Secretary of State:

I, John A. T. Hull, secretary of state of the State of Iowa, hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of the regular and supplemental returns from Marshall County of votes cast at the general election held Nov. 7th, A. D. 1882, for the office of Representative in Congress for the fifth Congressional district of the State, and of the abstract made by the board of State canvassers of the votes cast at said election for said office in all the counties composing said fifth district, to wit, the counties of Benton, Iowa, Johnson, Linn, Marshall, and Tama, as appears from the records of this office.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the great seal of the State at Des Moines, this 20th day of February, A. D. 1883.

J. A. T. HULL,
Secretary of State.

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

ROBERT BINFORD, being produced and sworn before T. Brown, notary public for Marshall County, on this 11th day of Apr., 1883, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Ques. 1. You are township clerk of Marshall Township?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 2. Were you during last year, '82?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 3. What is the population of Marshalltown by the last census?

(Objection, not the best evidence).

Ans. I don't know exactly, but think somewhere in the neighborhood of 62 or 65 hundred.

Ques. 4. I mean the census before the last election.—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 5. There was a register made of the voters for the different precincts of Marshalltown Township, of Marshalltown, for the last Nov. State election?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 6. Have you the record of papers in your office of that register?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 7. Will you turn to the 4th ward and tell me whether Wm. Gada was registered before that election?

(Contestant objects as incompetent, and immaterial whether or not he was registered, because it does not show that there was any necessity for a register, because there was no report of the amount of the census by the sec. of state to the trustees or to the auditor of the county certifying the number of inhabitants in Marshalltown as provided by the law, because it is immaterial and incompetent).

Ans. I don't find his name at all registered in the fourth ward.

Ques. 8. I will ask you who made this register?

(Objection by contestant as immaterial and incompetent.)

Ans. I made the register.

Ques. 9. As township clerk?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 10. You don't find Wm. Gada on the register?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 11. Is there anything on the register or any affidavit filed there in that precinct which remains on record in your office showing that an affidavit was made of the qualifications for voting in that ward?

(Contestant objects—incompetent, irrelevant, immaterial.)

Ans. Well, I find a paper here which says Wm. Gada, 4th, 302 South 2nd avenue, by the handwriting of Wm. Gada, signed Gilchrist, signed by the judges of election, and signed by the members of the board of the election.

Ques. 12. Is that in the paper there attached to it?—Ans. Yes, sir; except the heading.

Ques. 13. Please read the proper evidence.

(Objection; incompetent, irrelevant, immaterial.)

Ans. Wm. Gada, 4th ward, 302 South 2nd avenue; signed Wm. C. Gada, J. M. Gilchrist; Wm. C. Gada signed Gilchrist.

Ques. 14. Is that all there is in the nature of the paper?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 15. Look for the name of Peter Hanson, 4th ward, first; observe whether his name is on the register.—Ans. Yes, sir; his name is on the register.

Ques. 16. Look for Henry Schneider, 4th ward? (Witness examines register.)
Ans. I don't find his name on the register.

Ques. 17. See whether you find any affidavit filed in your office of his qualifications as an elector of that precinct?

(Objection; incompetent, irrelevent, immaterial.)

Ans. I find one described similar to the other one I read in evidence.

Ques. 18. Did you find any affidavit?—Ans. No, sir; but a paper described similar to the one made out for Wm. Cada. [Copy]: Henry Schneider, 4th ward; Byron Webster, Henry Schneider, Byron Webster, R. Estabrook.

Ques. 19. Look for Joseph Beranak, as to whether or not he is registered?

(Witness examines the register.)

(Contestant objects to the question as incompetent, immaterial.)

Ans. I don't find his name on the register.

Ques 20. Now, look as an affidavit being filed?—Ans. I don't find any affidavit; but find a paper similar to the one being presented. [Copy:] Joe Beranak, 4th ward; Joe Baranek, Chas. Bushnald, Joe Beranak, Chas. Bushnald, R. Estabrook. Filed, marked Nov. 7th, '82.

(This file marked is on all the papers.)

Ques. 21. Look for George Carther, 4th ward.

(Objection; incompetent, immaterial.)

Ans. He is registered.

Ques. 22. Now pass to M. J. Rowley. (Witness examines register.)—Ans. I do not find him on the register.

Ques. 23. Look and see whether there is any affidavit of his qualifications.—Ans. I find a paper similar to the others; nowhere any affidavit. [Copy:] M. J. Rowley, 4th ward; M. J. Rowley, and also J. M. Colcords, J. M. Rowley, J. M. Colcords, R. Estabrooks. Filed, 4th ward, Dec. 7, 1882.

Ques. 24. Now take Jno. Langan, 4th ward, and see if you find his name on the register. (Witness examines.)—Ans. I do not find him registered.

Ques. 25. See whether there is any affidavit of his qualifications.

(Objection; incompetent and immaterial.)

Ans. I find a paper similar to the others.

Ques. 26. Any affidavit?—Ans. No, sir. [Copy:] Jno. Langan, 4th ward; Jno. Langan, Frank Loucks, Jno. Langan, F. Loucks, R. Estabrooks. Filed; Jno. Langan, 4th ward, Nov. 7th, 1882.

Ques. 27. Now look for Frank Lourcks, 4th ward.

(Objection; incompetent, immaterial.)

Ans. He is registered 309 South, as voting.

Ques. 28. Look for C. C. Shepherd.—Ans. He is not registered.

Ques. 29. Examine whether or not there is any affidavit on file.—Ans. I find a paper similar to the other paper here.

Ques. 30. Any affidavit?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 31. Give a copy of the paper.

(Objection; immaterial and incompetent.)

[Copy]: C. C. Shepherd, 4th ward; C. C. Shepherd, Charles Jacobs, C. C. Shepherd, Charles Jacobs, R. Estabrooks. Filed; C. C. Shepherd, 4th ward, Nov. 7, 1882.

Ques. 32. Look in the 3rd ward for Frank J. Bates, and see whether or not he is registered there.—Ans. He is registered; 207 West Church street.

Ques. 33. Is it F. J. Bates?—Ans. This is F. Bates; I do not find any F. J. Bates.

Ques. 34. See if there is any affidavit showing his qualifications to vote in that ward.

Q. 35. Now take Amasy Hoit.—A. He is registered in the 3rd ward.

Q. 36. Take John Hagan, 2nd or 3rd ward; who vouched for him?—A. I find a paper here.

Q. 37. Do you find any affidavit at all?—A. No, sir; not any.

Q. 38. What is the paper?—A. It is a blank sheet of paper with the exception of two names.

Q. 39. What names are on it?—A. John Hagan and J. J. Hall.

(Objection by Brown, as the question is leading.)

Q. 40. You mean that his name is on the register back of that day?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 41. And the paper was used as an authority for registering him?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 32. Who put his name on the register; did you do it?—A. No, sir; I did not put it on. I think it was done by O. P. Arnold. I saw the man who attended to the register, for he was there. It looks like the handwriting that he writes.

Q. 33. This was on election day?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 34. Take the 3rd ward and the name of Eugene Kirkaff.—A. His name is on the register; put there on election day.

Q. 35. Is there any affidavit for the authority in the register?—A. There is a paper.

Q. 36. Any affidavit?—A. No, sir.

Q. 37. What is the paper?—A. It is a half sheet with the name of Kirkaff and John Herbert.

Q. 38. Do you know Herbert?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 39. Where does he live?—A. I am not positive where he lives.

Q. 40. Is Herbert's name on the register?—A. Yes, sir; he is registered at 701 South street.

Q. 41. Now look for John Seener.—A. Yes, sir; his name is on there; spelled Seaner.

(Objection; incompetent, immaterial.)

Q. 42. When registered?—A. On election day.

Q. 43. Any affidavit?—A. No, sir.

Q. 44. What is on the paper?—A. John Seaner, T. C. Brady.

Q. 45. Look for the name of O. J. Worley in that ward.

(Objection; incompetent, immaterial.)

A. O. J. Worley was registered on election day, but there is no affidavit. There is a paper with the names of O. J. Worley and J. K. Haas.

Q. 46. Is Haas registered in the 3rd ward?—A. He is registered 301 South 2nd street.

Q. 47. That is in the 3rd ward?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 48. Look for Wm. Wallace, in the 2nd ward.

(Objection; incompetent, immaterial, irrelevant; and for the further reason that it does not appear to be the same identical person referred to.)

Q. 49. See if there is any affidavit for a register?—A. I find an affidavit for Rowley.

Q. 50. There is no W. J. Rowley registered?—A. I will look and see if I can find any W. J. Rowley. There is some one who voted and gave his name as W. J. Rowley. (Witness examines the book.)—A. I don't find him.

Q. 51. State who made affidavit for qualifications for W. Rowly.—A. A. Boyl was the man who vouched for him.

Q. 52. Does the affidavit show the residence of Mr. Rowley; where does he reside?—A. No, sir.

Q. 53. Does the affidavit show the number of the street of Boyl in the ward?—A. No, sir.

Q. 54. C. F. Boyl; he is on that register, in that precinct?—A. I believe so; Andrew Boyl, South Center street; on the ward west side of the city is one ward; another ward is on another side; I know where he lives.

Q. 55. Now take 2nd ward; W. Wallace.—A. He was registered on election day.

Q. 56. See if there is an affidavit of his qualifications.—A. I don't find any affidavit of W. Wallace.

Q. 57. Do you find any paper?—A. I find a sheet of paper.

Q. 58. What is the paper; what is upon it?—A. Two rows of names, marked non-registered voters; the others are voters; among these is the name of Will Wallace; opposite is the name of D. K. Wolf.

Q. 59. Is Wolf registered in 2nd ward?—A. Yes, sir; also F. J. Bates' name is in the same list.

Q. 60. Let's have it.—A. F. J. Bates is registered on election day, and there is no affidavit for him; I find his name in this list as spoken of as a non-registered voter; voucher, Byron Webster.

Q. 61. That is from what ward?—A. 2nd ward.

Q. 62. Where does Byron Webster live?—A. He lives in 4th ward, 411 East Lynn st.; that is in the 4th ward.

Q. 63. These 4 wards are 4 precincts in the city, are they not?—A. Yes, sir.

Cross-examination:

Q. 64. What ward do you reside in?—A. 3rd ward.

Q. 65. State how it was these blank affidavits and papers were taken as to these parties in the 3rd ward, Langen Kirkaff and others.

(Contestee objects; incompetent, immaterial.)

A. We run out of the regular printed forms. The judges of the election took this blank paper out and signed their names and the voters signed their names.

Q. 67. Were they all sworn?—A. I think they were all sworn; most of them had one. Yes, sir; they were all sworn.

Q. 68. Was the witness sworn?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 69. Sworn after, before you had any printed forms filled out, so you took their oath orally?—A. Yes, sir. They were sworn just the same as they were sworn on the regular forms.

Redirect:

Q. 70. Do you know that they were sworn? It does not appear in these papers that they were sworn?—A. When I was there all whose names appear were sworn while I was there; might have been one or two that were not sworn.

Q. 71. That is the 3rd ward?—A. I do not know anything about it.

Q. 72. Were not these papers issued in all these wards for parties that voted, and were not these papers issued in all these wards for parties who did not appear to have been sworn and no affidavit at all made?—A. Well, in the 4th ward there was no name registered on election day; in the 2nd ward without any regular affidavits.

Q. 73. In this case you testified in the 4th ward?—A. No, sir; nothing to show that they were ever sworn.

Q. 74. You were clerk of the elections in the 3rd ward?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 75. Any person in any of the wards, anywhere?

Recross-examination:

Q. 76. The judges run out of blank affidavits for the parties and signed papers which they filled out, and the oath was administered, and they testified in this way?—A. Yes, sir; the oath was administered regularly, the same as on the regular form, and they signed the blank pieces of paper.

Q. 77. In the 3rd ward they left room for writing the regular affidavit; but it was never done. Is there any file in your office showing the population of Marshalltown?—A. I have not.

Q. 78. Did you have any before the making out of the register list?—A. No, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 79. Look at the 2nd ward and see if you can find the name of A. N. C. Gadd.—A. I do not find it on the register.

Q. 80. Look in the 3rd ward and see if it is there.—A. I do not find him registered.

Q. 81. Will you please look in the 4th ward?—A. No, sir; he is not there. I will look in the first ward.

Q. 82. Well, it is not registered at all.

(Objection by contestant as irrelevant, immaterial, incompetent.)

Q. 83. Look for the name of B. F. Myers.—A. It is not in the 2nd ward.

Q. 84. Now look in the 4th ward.—A. No, sir; it is not here.

Q. 85. Now look in the first ward.—A. It is not in the first ward.

Q. 86. Now look for G. W. Hoyter. Look in all the wards.—A. I do not find his name. He is not registered.

Q. 87. Look for the name of A. Ganch.—A. August Ganch was registered in the 2nd ward on election day.

Q. 88. Who vouched for him?—A. J. B. Dishner.

Q. 89. Was there any affidavit?—A. No, sir; no affidavit.

Q. 90. Is Johnson registered?—A. No, sir; not in that ward.

Q. 91. Look for A. D. Reeve in the 3rd ward.—A. He was registered on election day.

Q. 92. Any affidavit?

(Objection: Incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.)

A. No, sir; there was no affidavit.

Q. 93. What is the paper?—A. Files of the copy paper, with the names of A. D. Reeve, A. D. A. Hoit.

Q. 94. That is all there is of that paper?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 95. How far down is the name of A. D. Reeve?—A. Just below the middle of the page.

Q. 96. How far down is Hoyt?—A. Down near the bottom.

Q. 97. Are all the papers of that character?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 98. Was it your intention to fill them out afterward?—A. Yes, sir. That was the case at the time when they were taken.

Recross-examination:

Q. 99. That is, the witnesses were sworn in the ward.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 100. The oath administered, these persons were proved to be residents of the ward where they were registered?—A. Yes, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 101. You say they were proved to be residents of the ward, or simply said to be so?—A. They were not, and said that they knew that they were residents of the ward and legal voters.

Q. 102. Was the only reason that the affidavits were not taken and filed that there was not time to do it?—A. I would not say as to that; the regular forms run out. The judges decided to take their votes simply by administering the oath in writing. They signed the paper and the voter also signed it.

Q. 103. Then the writing was never made in this case?—A. No, sir; never.

Q. 104. These papers, then, were all that there were?—A. Yes, sir; all that there was ever filed.

R. BINFORD.

Ques. 5. Do you know whether he voted there or not?—Ans. Yes, sir; I do.
Ques. 6. Do you know whom he voted for for member of Congress?—Ans. Yes, sir; I do; Benjamin Frederick.
Ques. 7. Did you see his ticket?—Ans. I gave it to him.
Ques. 8. Did it have Frederick's name on it for Congressman?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 9. This was at the last general election in Nov. '82?—Ans. Yes, sir; last Nov.
Ques. 9. State Center Township, Marshall County, Iowa?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 10. Do you know a man by the name of Frank Delaware?—Ans. Yes, sir; I do.
Ques. 11. Where does he live?—Ans. State Center.
Ques. 12. How long has he lived there?—Ans. I cannot say the number of years, but I guess nine or ten.
Ques. 13. Do you know of what country he is a native?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 14. What country?—Ans. Canada.
Ques. 15. Did you know him before he came here?—Ans. Yes, sir; I did.
Ques. 16. How old a man is he?—Ans. I cannot say how old he is. I should judge in the neighborhood of 50. He has children 24 years old.
Ques. 17. Did he vote at the last general election?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 18. For whom did he vote—for which candidate for Congress?—Ans. For Frederick.
Ques. 19. Do you know whether he was naturalized or not?—Ans. No, sir; I do not. I suppose so; I cannot say.
Ques. 20. If he was naturalized, where did he get his papers?
(Objection, immaterial.)
Ques. 21. Do you know whether he got them here or not?—Ans. No, sir; I don't know that.

Cross-examination:

Ques. 22. How long has he voted, this man?—Ans. I don't know how long.
Ques. 23. Did you know of his voting before?—Ans. No, sir; I don't know. He might have voted, however.
Ques. 24. How do you know this Demange voted? Did he get the same tickets or other tickets?—Ans. He is a shoemaker, and lives only a little ways from the place where the polls were held; he walked over with me.
Ques. 25. Do you know that he didn't get a ticket from somebody else?—Ans. He had a ticket in his hand.
Ques. 26. If he had two or three tickets in his hand, how do you know which he voted?—Ans. I had both kinds of tickets, and wanted to vote Democratic ticket; I gave him one.
Ques. 27. Do you know that he did not have any other ticket?—Ans. He might have had it in his pocket.
Ques. 28. Did you see him deposit the ticket?—Ans. Yes, sir; I walked up with him.
Ques. 29. Do you know that he deposited the one you gave him?—Ans. I am satisfied in my own mind.
Ques 30. If he had 2 or 3 tickets, how could you tell which he voted?—Ans. No, sir; he didn't have them in his hands, he might have had them in his pocket.

Ques. 31. Do you know that he didn't put his hand in his vest pocket and pull out a ticket?—Ans. I am satisfied in my own mind; that is all I can say. He might have had a dozen in his pocket for all I know.

Ques. 32. Did you say this other man's name was Delaware?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 33. Where does this man Delaware live, since he came from Canada?—Ans. In State Center Township and Minerva Township. Lived in State Center some years ago. Was there 8 or 10 years ago, may be longer.

Ques. 34. How far was he from Storey County?—Ans. He has a piece of land in Story County; but doesn't live on it.

Ques. 35. Does he not do business there in Nevada?—Ans. He pays taxes for land there.

Ques. 36. But he has rented his farm to his son?

Redirect:

Ques. 36. This Mr. Demange, you say, you gave him a ticket as you were going over?—Ans. I gave him a ticket at the shop; I walked over with him.

Ques. 37. Went right to the polls and voted?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Recross-examination:

Ques. 38. You say you voted the Democratic ticket?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 39. Do you know that the name of Frederick was on the ticket as member for Congress?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 40. Do you know whether he got any other ticket or not?—Ans. As I said before, he might have had some in his pocket.

Ques. 41. You don't know absolutely what tickets were in his pocket?—Ans. I am certain in my own mind.

Ques. 42. I want to know, though, whether you are absolutely certain what ticket he voted.—Ans. Yes, sir; I think so.

Ques. 43. Do you know that he could not have changed that ticket before he got there?—Ans. I have seen three-card monte men handle cards pretty quick, but I don't think he did.

Ques. 44. Did you keep your eye upon that ticket all of the time?—Ans. He had it in his hand and carried it in his hand.

Ques. 45. Suppose he had other tickets; he could have voted whatever he pleased?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 46. What were you giving Democratic tickets if you were Republican?—Ans. I was working for constable more than any one else.

Ques. 47. Was he Republican?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 48. Then there was a Republican on the ticket?—Ans. Yes, sir; he wrote it down there; we wrote the constable on the ticket.

Ques. 49. Your township ticket had all to be written down?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 50. Some were printed?—Ans. Yes, sir; on both sides.

Ques. 51. How near the polls did you go with this man?—Ans. About half the distance between the door and the table; three or four feet from him; it might have been five feet.

Ques. 52. Now, were you conversing with other men?—Ans. No, sir; not at that time.

Ques. 53. Did you talk with anybody from the time you started with him, besides him, until you got to the polls?—Ans. No, sir; I don't think so.

Ques. 54. Did you meet anybody in the hall?—Ans. No, sir; there is no hall there.

Ques. 55. Do you know that you did not meet anybody or have your attention attracted by anybody else?—Ans. I didn't give any other ticket, although I saw other men.

Ques. 56. May you not have spoken to them?—Ans. It is likely that I might have spoken to some one.

Ques. 57. How did you walk, which one ahead?—Ans. Part of the time I was ahead, part of the time side by side.

Ques. 58. He had abundance of time to change his ticket if he had a mind to?—Ans. Yes, sir; I say it could have been done; he held the ticket in his hand.

Ques. 59. Every man would hold his ticket in his hand when he votes!—Ans. Some held it in their thumb and forefinger, and some in their hands.

Ques. 60. He had his in his hand?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 61. Was it folded up?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 62. Did you see the ballot from that time until he deposited it in the box?—Ans. Part of the time I could not see the ticket.

Ques. 63. Part of the time you walked ahead of him, you say?

Ques. 64. Part of the time by his side; we walked over together.

Ques. 64. You didn't watch that hand and ticket all the time?—Ans. No, sir.

Redirect:

Ques. 65. You say you wanted him to vote the Republican ticket?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 66. He would not do it?—Ans. No, sir; he said he would vote for the other man.
Ques. 67. He wanted to vote for Frederick, did he?—Ans. Yes, sir. He wanted to vote the Democratic ticket. He would not vote any other ticket.
Ques. 68. He agreed to put your man for constable down there?—Ans. Yes, sir; it was written on there.

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

EDWARD WILLIGROD being produced and sworn before J. H. Bradley, notary public for Marshall Co., on this 12th day of April, '83, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and J. H. Bradley on the part of contestee):

Ques. 1. You live in the 4th ward?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 2. Did you vote there in the last general election in '82?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 3. Did you vote for Frederick as cand. for Congr. in the election in the 4th ward?—Ans. I did.
Ques. 4. Do you know whether your name was on the register or not?—Ans. Yes, sir; I suppose so. I think it was.
Ques. 5. That is the 4th ward in Marshalltown, Iowa?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 6. Are you a native of Germany?—Ans. I left Germany in 1848.
Ques. 7. Where did you get your naturalization papers?—Ans. I got them in the county and city of Marshalltown, which used to be Marietta.
Q. 8. Do you remember when?—A. I came here some time between 1853 and 1856; I do not exactly remember.
Q. 9. Did you get both papers at the same time? Did you ever get more than one paper?—A. I believe I got two papers; I made application for citizenship; then I got papers after the proper time; three or four years after.
Q. 10. Did you get them in this county?—A. Yes, sir.
Q. 11. You remember when you got your first papers?—A. No, sir; I don't remember.
Q. 12. You don't recollect when you got the last; have you a certified copy of the last papers at home?—A. I presume I have.
Q. 13. It may be difficult to find them?—A. Yes, sir; it would probably be.
Q. 14. Do you recollect who the witnesses were with you?—A. No, sir; I don't remember.
Q. 15. Now do I understand you to say that you have second papers? Now, if you have them it would set the matter at rest?—A. You mean first papers?
Q. 16. Yes, sir; that is, the first.—A. I think I got my second papers of James Williams.
Q. 17. You recollect of going twice to Marietta to get them?—A. Well, I went there probably a dozen times, but on different errands.
Q. 18. I mean on purpose for these.—A. Yes, sir; I went on purpose.
Q. 19. How long do you think it was before the county seat was moved to Marshalltown?—A. Well, that I don't recollect; it was moved here about one year before the Northwestern Railroad run here in 1862.
Q. 20. Do you remember who your witnesses were that you had when you obtained your papers; or did you have any witnesses?—A. I think I had witnesses; but I don't remember who they were any more.
Q. 21. Now, will you be so kind as to make a sort of copy of your last papers if you have them?—A. Yes, sir; I can do so.
Q. 22. Did you vote here prior to 1858?—A. I don't think I did.
Q. 23. At the time of your first county-seat contest; did you vote at first county seat contest in 1854? The second, in 1856, when the vote carried; didn't you vote in that election in 1856–'57?—A. I cannot remember, it is so long ago.
Q. 24. Do you remember whether you voted at the Presidential election in 1856, when Buchanan was a candidate?—A. No, sir; I do not remember that.
Q. 25. Do you remember whether you voted when Kirkwood was first elected governor in 1858?—A. I don't think I voted until I voted for Mr. Lincoln for President; I think it was in 1860; still I am not positive.

Cross-examination:

Q. 26. You are certain you got your citizen first papers?—A. Yes, sir; I am certain of it.
Q. 26. You are certain you got the second papers when you got the first?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 37. You haven't been subpœnaed to produce your first or second papers, have you?—A. No, sir.

Redirect:

Q. 28. You think you got your papers between 1853 and 1856?—A. That is the time I made my application; some time along there. I think I got my second papers 3 or 5 years after I made my application.

Q. 29. Now, have you a place where you keep such matters? Do you recollect of ever having seen that paper since?—A. Yes, sir, I have seen it; but I have lost a good many papers at the time I moved from my old shop to my new store, Mr. D—— would not give them up; they were thrown around in his cellar and wasted; I think either Mr. Williams or Mr. G—— would probably remember it.

Q. 30. Do you remember what court, whether cot. court, and who was judge at the time?—A. I only remember that Mr. Williams was figuring in the cot. court as clerk; that much I remember.

Q. 31. Do you remember whether it was Judge Thompson, or Judge Porter, or Judge William C. Smith, or was it the county court?—A. I don't remember that.

EDWARD WILLIGROD.

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County, ss:

JAMES K. JOHNSON, being produced and sworn before T. Brown, notary public for Marshall County, on this 12th day of April, 1883, testifies as follows (J. H. Bradley appearing on the part of contestee and T. Brown on the part of contestant):

Ques. 1. You are deputy clerk?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 2. Have you examined the naturalization records of this county?—Ans. Yes, sir; and also all the record that was kept of the district court and the circuit court.

Ques. 3. Have you made a minute or memorandum of the facts of the records?—Ans. I have.

Ques. 4. Take for instance James Dunn, jr.

(Contestant objects to this evidence as immaterial and incompetent and not the best evidence; that the books should be admitted.)

Ques. 5. I will ask your attention to the declaratory statement made by James Dunn, and I will ask you if you have ever examined the record in reference to that; and, if so, when you found it was made?

(Not the best evidence that the record of it must be taken.

Incompetent and immaterial unless the evidence is from the original books; objection to the witness testifying from any document unless the books are produced.)

Ans. I have examined all the records carefully, and find that there two James Dunns. One made declaratory statement on the 28th of July, '56. The other made declaratory statement 10th of Sept. '66. I also found from a careful examination of the naturalization records of the district and circuit court journals from the beginning, that is from the journal A and journal I, down to the time when the naturalization record was kept; there is no evidence of James Dunn having been naturalized.

(Contestant moves to strike out the answer as incompetent, immaterial, being the statement of the records without producing them.)

Ques. 6. There have no second papers, you say, been issued?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 7. And neither James Dunn, jr., only James Dunn?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 8. Now take Patrick Dunn.—Ans. On the 27th of Aug., 1866, Patrick Dunn, declaratory statement. There is no record of his being naturalized.

(Contestant moves to strike out the ans. as incompetent and immaterial, being a statement of the records without producing them.)

Ques. 9. No evidence at all?—Ans. No, sir; none.

Ques. 10. Now I will ask your attention to William Broadhead?—Ans. He filed declaratory intention the 5th of Nov., 1868. No subsequent record as to naturalization.

(Contestant moves to strike out the ans. as incompetent and immaterial, being a statement of the records without producing them.)

Ques. 11. So that William Broadhead, the one we call "Uncle Billy" Broadhead, in the Poor House?—Ans. The name is the same; I suppose that it is the same man.

Ques. 12. Did you find the naturalization papers issued to C. L. Renstemmage? If so, give the date?

(Contestant moves to strike out the ans. as incompetent and immaterial, being a statement of the records without producing them.)

Ans. On the 22nd of June he filed his declaratory statement.

Ques. 13. That is all the papers you found issued to him?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 14. You found no official papers issued to him as to a minor?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 15. Did you find any papers issued to Frank Delaware?—Ans. I did not.

(Contestant moves to strike out the ans. as incompetent and immaterial, being a statement of the records without producing them.)

Ques. 16. Now, I will ask you if you have gone through these naturalization papers and the records of the courts, by index, or how did you examine them?—Ans. I examined them both ways; first by index and a careful examination of each page.

Ques. 17. I will now ask you if there is any record of the naturalization of Edward Willingrod; if so, when was it?

(Contestant moves to strike out the ans. as incompetent and immaterial, being a statement of the records without producing them.)

Ans. I can find the book and the page from memory. It is in minute-book No. 1, and the county judge records it on page 14; the date is somewhere between '56 and '58.

Ques. 18. Were there two papers issued?—Ans. No, sir; it was the official naturalization paper.

Ans. And what court was it issued from?

(Contestant moves to strike out the ans. as incompetent and immaterial, being a statement of the records without producing them).

Ans. From the county court. William C. Smith was judge.

Ques. 19. Now, Mr. Johnson, you say you have examined these records from the beginning, page by page; will you state more fully?—Ans. I have examined the Journals 1, 2, 3, of the circuit court, and Journals A, B, C, of the district court; these form a book called the First Paper or Declaratory Book; I examined them page by page.

Ques. 20. Are there more journals in the circuit court?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 21. How far down does the third journal go, of the circuit court?—Ans. It did not go down to '73 at the time that first official naturalization was kept.

Ques. 22. And the journals of the district court covered the same period?—Ans. Yes, sir; as long as we had begun the matter.

Ques. 23. Up to that time they had begun to print the naturalization record?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 24. Now, Mr. Johnson, I will ask you to bring from the book, if you please—bring all the papers issued to Willigrod; also the declaration of C. L. Petit Demange.

(Witness produces naturalization No. 2, belong to the clerk's office in the county.)

Ques. 25. Does that contain the declaration of C. L. Petit Demange?—Ans. Yes, sir; on page 117.

STATE OF IOWA,
Marshall County:

Be it remembered on this 22nd day of June, 1882, before C. H. Brock, clerk of the district court in and for said county and State, personally appeared C. L. Petit Demange, who, being duly sworn according to law, did depose and say that he is a native of France, now residing in Marshall County, Iowa; that it is his bona fide intention to become a citizen of the U. S. of America, and to renounce all allegiance and fidelity to other foreign powers, potentate, state, and sovereignty whatsoever, and particularly to the Republic of France, of whom he was a subject.

C. L. PETIT DEMANGE.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the district court to be attached, at Marshalltown, this 22nd of June, '82.

C. H. BROCK,
Clerk of the District Court.

Ques. 26. Is that the book of the clerk's office of the district and circuit courts?—Ans. Yes, sir; it is.

Ques. 27. Is that the office of which you are the deputy?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 28. You may look at your other book and tell us what it is?—Ans. It is called minute-book No. 1.

Ques. 29. Of what court and county?—Ans. Marshall County court; William Smith, judge.

Ques. 30. What page is it?—Ans. Page 14.

(Same to be put in evidence.)

Marshall County, Feb. term, A. D. 1856.

On this 26th day of Feb., '56, appeared Edward Willigrod, and producing satisfactory evidence that he had been resident of the U. S. five years, and had resided in the State at least one year, and during that he had behaved himself like a man of good moral character and attached to the principles of the Constitution of the U. S., and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same; taking oath to support the Constitution, and that he doth absolutely and entirely renounce all allegiance and fidelity to every foreign prince, potentate, state and sovereignty, and particularly the King of Hanover, reigning King of Germany, of whom he was late a subject—Edward Willigrade having produced satisfactory evidence that he had filed his declaration and intention more than two years preceding this time, he is therefore admitted to citizenship.

WILLIAM C. SMITH, County Judge.

Ques. 31. What do you say the date of that first should be?—Ans. I should say it is Feb. 26th. It has been made the 27th, and then changed to the 26th.

Ques. 32. Is there any heading to that paper to show that it was during the county court?—Ans. Yes, sir, Marshall County court, Feb. term, 1856.

Ques. 33. You say you have formally examined records of clerk's office as to James Dunn, and that you find that they have received no second papers?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 34. That Henry Dunn is not shown to have received any papers whatsoever?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 35. And that William Broadhead received no second papers?—Ans. Yes, sir; I found that John Dunn filed the declaratory intentions Dec. 1st, '73; his final papers granted here Dec. 18th, 1882.

Cross-examination:

Ques. 36. What is your position in the county, Mr. Johnson?—Ans. I am deputy clerk of the county.

Ques. 37. Are you deputy county clerk or deputy county auditor?—Ans. I am both at present.

Ques. 38. When were you appointed deputy of county clerk?—Ans. It was on the 10th of April, '83.

Ques. 39. When did you make an examination of the county records you have referred to?—Ans. Since receiving the appointment.

Ques. 40. Where does your work lie; are you engaged in the clerk's office?—Ans. I am at work in the auditor's office.

Ques. 41. You retain your position in the auditor's office?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 42. By whom were you appointed deputy clerk?—Ans. By Mr. M———, clerk of the district court and circuit.

Ques. 43. Since that time you have made an examination of the records?—Ans. Well, I can say that prior to that time I was about two weeks looking up the matter; but I made a thorough review after my appointment.

Ques. 44. At what hours of the day were you engaged in that examination; I mean when you first began?—Ans. I was kept during the day, both during the day and during the evening.

Ques. 45. All through the days for two weeks were you kept in the investigation of the records?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 46. What portion of the day, what time did you spend in the search?—Ans. The greater portion of the time, except when the board of supervisors were not here; then I worked nights.

Ques. 47. How much of the evening did you spend?—Ans. I would go to work shortly after 7 o'clock and work until 10 or 11 o'clock.

Ques. 48. Has your testimony here in reference to the records been that the books before you, except in regard to Edward Willigrode, Mr. Petit Demange, or has it been from your memory or what you found from the examination from the records prior to the time to what you are now testifying?—Ans. I took the minutes of these names only; I had not the names; there names are on the record, and I have used these minutes in refreshing my memory.

Ques. 49. Have the books been presented; have you had the books except in the two cases referred to?—Ans. Yes, sir; certainly I had the books.

Ques. 50. I mean, did you have any presented here before the commissioner except in the case of Demange?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 51. Then your testimony, except in the two given in regard to record of Demange, has been given from minutes made by your previous examination?—Ans. That is what I said.

Ques. 52. Are you able to swear positively that in the case of James Dunn, or of Thomas Dunn, that no official naturalization papers appeared on record in Marshall County? Are you able to swear positively in the case of Patrick Dunn that no official naturalization papers on the record in Marshall County?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 53. Are you able to swear positively in regard to Henry Dunn that papers or records of naturalization do not exist in Marshall County?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 54. Are you able to swear that he is not naturalized?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 55. Are you able to swear that neither of the Dunns are not naturalized?—Ans. I might say that there is no record of it in this county.

Ques. 56. Are you able to swear that they are naturalized?—Ans. I will say there is no record of it.

Ques. 57. Well, are you able to swear that they are not naturalized?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 58. Are you able to swear that C. L. Demanyr wasn't naturalized?—Ans. Where?

Ques. 59. Anywhere.—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 60. Or Frank Deleware?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 61. Or any of the persons that you have named?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 62. And it is possible that the naturalization papers have been taken from these courts and not indexed?—Ans. Yes, sir; it was frequently done before I examined the books.

Ques. 63. You examined the books yourself?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 64. And they could be taken without being recorded?—Ans. I suppose so.

Ques. 65. You were not able to swear that any one of these persons were not properly naturalized in Marshall County if the papers existed without the record being copied?—Ans. I only say that there is no record of it.

Ques. 66. That is the extent of your knowledge?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 67. Was that appointment of dept. clerk made for this examination?—Ans. I believe that it was; yes, sir.

Ques. 68. You performed no other duties in that office?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 69. It was ——— —Ans. I don't know.

Ques. 70. Have you been paid for such duties or did you expect it?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 71. You have spent in the examination of the about two weeks of steady work?—Ans. No, sir; I didn't say two weeks of steady work.

Ques. 72. What would you estimate the amount of work you have done there to be?—Ans. I should think about six days of solid work.

Ques. 73. Did I understand you to say you examined all the records of the circuit court or only Journals 1, 2, 3 of circuit court?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 74. And since that time what did you say was the form of naturalization?—Ans. The printed blank.

Ques. 75. What evidence of naturalization having been printed are kept; when these forms are used they are simply filled out in the record, are they not?—Ans. Yes, sir; that is all.

Ques. 76. And the index copied off of them?—Ans. I cannot say as to that; I didn't examine them.

Ques. 77. You looked over the work, did you?—Ans. Yes, sir, but there is no index, so I don't know whether it is correct or not.

Ques. 78. In the district court A, B, C, and D?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 79. After that printed forms were used, all being in one book?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Re-direct:

Ques. 80. Mr. Johnson, where is the record of the declaratory statement of Lewis Shielding; what book is that in?—Ans. It is found in book 3, Mar. 17th, 1883.

Ques. 81. You say it may be possible that some naturalization papers may be issued without making record of it; can you conceive of the court entering a document without making the record of it?

(Objection.)

Ans. I think not.

Ques. 14. Where did he get them?—Ans. In Toledo.
Ques. 15. Your father's name is what?—Ans. Frank.
Ques. 16. How did he spell it?—Ans. Parizk.
Ques. 17. When was it that he got his paper?—Ans. I could not say what year it was; I was 17 or 18 years old, I should think.
Ques. 18. You voted on the strength of your father being naturalized in Tama Co.?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 19. Who did you vote for in that election?—Ans. I should think that is a pretty difficult question, who I voted for.
Ques. 20. What ticket did you vote?—Ans. I took a Democratic ticket; I don't think I need to tell who I voted for.
Ques. 21. Not if you are ashamed of that ticket.—Ans. Of course, I am not ashamed of it.
Ques. 22. Did you vote for James Wilson for Congress?—Ans. I believe if I voted for Wilson I need not tell it. I voted for who I wanted to.
Ques. 23. How did you know it was a Democratic ticket?—Ans. Because I saw it.
Ques. 24. How could you tell it was Democratic?—Ans. I read it.
Ques. 25. How did it read?—Ans. I could read that it was Democratic ticket.
Ques. 26. Did you peddle tickets?—Ans. Yes, sir; I did.
Ques. 27. You peddled tickets?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 28. You voted just such a ticket as you peddled?—Ans. Yes, sir; of course, I did; yes, sir, I peddled to him, also to lots more. I didn't vote for Wilson; of course, I didn't vote for Wilson, I want you to understand that; I didn't vote for Wilson, and I wouldn't do it either.

Cross-examination:

Ques. 29. I want to know of Mr. Chervery, whether you saw him vote?—Ans. Yes sir; I did.
Ques. 30. Do you know who else gave him tickets?—Ans. No, sir; I don't know that; I saw him pass my own ticket, that I peddled.
Ques. 31. Do you swear that you saw him put your ticket in the box?—Ans. Yes, sir; I know that he didn't change it.
Ques. 32. How do you know?—Ans. I saw him.
Ques. 33. Did you go to the polls with him?—Ans. I wasn't very far away.
Ques. 34. Did you see him put any ticket in the box?—Ans. Yes, sir; I saw him put that ticket in there.
Ques. 35. Do you know that he didn't change it?—Ans. I know that he didn't have any other ticket.
Ques. 36. Did you keep watch of that ticket from the time you gave it to him?—Ans. Yes, sir; I kept watch of it.
Ques. 37. How far were you from him?—Ans. Not two miles away, I am sure.
Ques. 38. You are sure of that?—Ans. I was near; about two steps from him.
Ques. 39. Two long steps?—Ans. You can tell yourself.
Ques. 40. You may state how far.—Ans. Not six feet from him.
Ques. 41. Were you ten or twelve feet from him?—Ans. No, sir; not that far when I passed it.
Ques. 42. How many persons were there at that election?—Ans. (My gosh)! I never counted them.
Ques. 43. There were a good many about there?—Ans. Yes, sir; of course.

Ques. 44. What did you do after you gave him a ticket, pass one to somebody else?—Ans. Yes, sir; of course.

Ques. 45. Did you him and talk to others?—Ans. I was talking; but I kept my eyes on him to see if he changed it.

Ques. 46. Do you know that he could not have changed it?—Ans. I know that he could not have changed it.

Ques. 47. You believe it, and do you swear here that you didn't know that he didn't change it there?—Ans. I don't know how he could have got other tickets.

Ques. 48. Do you know that he didn't change it?—Ans. Yes, sir; I know that he didn't.

Ques. 49. Do you know that he did change it?—Ans. No, sir; I know that he didn't.

Ques. 50. How do you know?—Ans. Because he took it and passed it in right there.

Ques. 51. Did you watch him all the time until he went to the polls with the ticket?—Ans. Not all day; but I could watch him while I was there.

Ques. 52. Did you give him a ticket and believe that he voted it?—Ans. I know that he voted my ticket that I passed to him.

Ques. 53. How do you know it?—Ans. I saw him take that ticket and pass it in right there.

Ques. 54. Did you watch him all the time until he voted it?—Ans. Yes, sir; I did watch him.

Ques. 55. Could he have changed that ticket without your knowing it?—Ans. He could not have changed it, and he could have voted another one before I gave him one, if he wanted to; that is all.

Ques. 56. You say he could have changed that ticket after he voted it?—Ans. Yes, sir; but he didn't want it changed; he wanted to vote just as I did.

Ques. 57. You didn't know, as to matter of fact, but what he might have changed that ticket?—Ans. I didn't say but what he might have changed any ticket; I saw him step up and pass a ticket in right there.

Ques. 58. Did you read the ticket you voted?—A. Yes, sir; because I wrote it myself.

Ques. 59. Tell me the names of the State officers on that ticket.—Ans. I can't remember all the names on it, because I did not keep it in my memory.

Ques. 60. Who did you vote for for secretary of state?—Ans. Now, look here; I don't want to keep such a head on me that I could remember all of it.

Ques. 61. Who did you vote for for State auditor; tell me one man you voted for, besides member of Congres.—Ans. I wrote the ticket. I say I didn't want to remember all of them; if I did, my head would have to be as big as a bushel. I don't want to carry such a big head.

Ques. 62. Tell me just one man, besides Congressman, you voted for.—Ans. That is more than I can tell.

Ques. 63. You don't know whether there is a single Democratic candidate on your ticket, that you can remember of now?—Ans. There is one that I can remember.

Ques. 64. Can you remember any more of them?—Ans. I don't want to remember any more of them; when I voted it, I voted it.

Ques. 65. Didn't you know that you voted the Republican ticket?—Ans. I could swear who I voted for, but I don't want to.

Ques. 66. You won't swear you didn't vote for Wilson?—A. I won't swear I voted for anybody; I have sworn once; that is enough.

Ques. 67. You didn't swear who you voted for?—Ans. That is passed now.

Ques. 68. Can you swear to any man's name on that ticket that Mr. Chervery voted, if you can remember?—Ans. I know that he voted as I did.

Ques. 69. What name did you vote for for any State officer?—Ans. That is more than I can tell.

Ques. 70. Who did you vote for for county officer?—Ans. I don't remember that; if I did I would have to carry too large a mind; I have too much other business to carry around.

Ques. 71. Can you tell who you voted for in any office?—Ans. No, sir; I can't tell.

Ques. 72. Who did you vote for for township officers?—Ans. That is more than I can tell.

Ques. 73. Can you tell anything about who you did vote for?—Ans. I believe that I could after I should take two days to practice on them; then I might change some of them; this way I couldn't do it.

Ques. 74. You can't, now, think of anybody?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 75. You would want a couple of days to practice?—A. Ans. Yes, sir; perhaps a whole week.

Ques. 76. You would have to consult others about it?—A. Yes, sir; I expect so; if I ever did know, I have forgotten. I wouldn't peddle any tickets for Stivers.

Ques. 77. You came here and helped Stivers, didn't you?—Ans. Yes, sir; I helped put him in jail.

Ques. 11. I say you are—you can do just as you please.—Ans. I said once I did not want to tell what ticket I voted.
Ques. 12. Now we say you must tell; you mark that, if you don't tell we will see which comes out ahead in the end.
(Witness refuses to tell which ticket he voted, whether Democratic or Republican.)
Ques. 13. Who gave you the ticket you voted?—Ans. I don't know that myself.
Ques. 14. You peddled them all day?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 15. How long did you peddle tickets?—Ans. That is more than I know.
Ques. 16. Do you know anything of your brother?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 17. Was he there?—Ans. Yes, sir; he was peddling.
Ques. 18. Were you and he peddling the same tickets?—Ans. That is more than I can tell.
Ques. 19. He was carrying them in his hands? Where did you get your tickets?—Ans. On the desk.
Ques. 20. Who did you get them from?—Ans. I took them up from the desk.
Ques. 21. Did you look at them when you took them up?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 22. What for?—Ans. To know what kind they were.
Ques. 23. What kind of tickets did you take up from the desk?—Ans. That is my business.
Ques. 24. I insist that you shall tell what kind of tickets you took up from the desk?
Ques. 25. Did you vote the same ticket you peddled?—Ans. I didn't say that I will tell that; I said I wouldn't tell what ticket I voted.
Ques. 26. You voted the same ticket you peddled?—Ans. That is no one's business.
Ques. 27. I want an answer, or I will see that you do tell.—Ans. I won't tell.
Ques. 28. Didn't you say a while ago that you peddled tickets yourself?—Ans. I didn't say that I voted the ticket that I peddled.
Ques. 29. Didn't I ask you that, if you peddled the tickets yourself? Didn't you tell me that? Yes or no.—Ans. Didn't I say——
Ques. 30. Yes or no.—Ans. Didn't I say——
Ques. 31. Say yes or no.—Ans. I say I won't tell you what ticket I voted.
Ques. 32. When I ask you what ticket you voted, you told us you voted the one that you peddled yourself.—Ans. I say I peddled tickets; I didn't tell you what ticket I voted.
Ques. 33. I didn't ask you that.—Ans. You asked that a while ago.
Ques. 34. You peddled it yourself; now what ticket did you vote?—Ans. How many times have I answered that?
Ques. 35. I ask you, and expect you to answer.—Ans. That is not my business to answer.
Ques. 36. Did not you tell me a minute ago that you voted the ticket you peddled yourself?—Ans. I voted the ticket; I won't say what ticket I voted.
Ques. 37. Did not you say that you peddled the ticket that you peddled yourself?—Ans. I say I voted.
Ques. 38. Did you vote the ticket you peddled yourself?—Ans. I voted a ticket. I said once I was not going to tell what ticket I voted.
Ques. 39. I asked you whether you did not say you peddled the ticket you voted.
BROWN. It is not likely that he voted the ticket he peddled.
Ques. 40. Answer me yes or no. I ask you whether you picked up off the table Democratic or Republican tickets, and I wait for an answer to that question.—Ans. I will give it whenever I please.
(Witness declined to answer the question. After waiting some time the witness said it was Frederick's ticket.)
Ques. 41. How long did you peddle Frederick's tickets?—Ans. Well, I staid there, I cannot tell how long it was; I won't say whether one or two hours.
Ques. 42. Did you peddle any other ticket?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 43. Did you vote the same ticket you peddled? Whenever you get ready to answer that question you may signify it.
(Brown instructs witness that he is not obliged to tell what ticket he voted. Counsel objects. Contestee objects to the counsel directing the witness as to whether or not he is obliged to answer the question.)
Ans. I voted Frederick's ticket.

Cross-examination:

Ques. 44. How old were you when you came to the United States?—Ans. I was a little child.

Ques. 45. Was your father a voter?—Ans. Yes, sir; he was.

Ques. 46. How long had he been a voter before his death?—Ans. He is not dead yet.

Ques. 47. How long since he voted? Your father was naturalized, as you understand it?—Ans. I guess so.

Redirect:

Ques. 48. This Parizek was a brother?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 49. Your witness' name is Frank?—Ans. Yes, sir.

F. A. PARIZEK.

(Objected to because the residence of the witness is not given and a false residence given.)

Ques. 1. You said where you live. Where do you live?—Ans. Tama County.

Ques. 2. What township?—Ans. York Township.

Ques. 3. Where did you live last fall?—Ans. Same place.

Ques. 4. Were you at that election?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 5. Did you vote there in that township?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 6. Where were you born?—Ans. In the old country, Austria.

Ques. 7. How long have you been in America?—Ans. 17 years.

Ques. 8. How old are you now?—Ans. 37.

Ques. 9. Have you been naturalized?—A. No, sir.

Ques. 10. What ticket did you vote, the Democratic or Republican?—A. I don't know; I got 3 tickets; maybe I voted the Democrat or the Republican ticket. Of course, I never read them.

Ques. 11. Who did you get it from?—Ans. I got it from Mr. Scott.

Ques. 12. Who did you get the one you voted from? You can read English?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 13. Who did you go to the election with?—Ans. Myself.

Ques. 14. Who did you get that ticket of that you voted?—Ans. He gave me one. This Scott gave me one and Rogers gave me one.

Ques. 15. Did you say that you wanted a Democratic ticket?—Ans. Well, he told me I did.

Ques. 16. Did you tell them?—Ans. Yes, sir; I wanted a Democratic ticket.

Ques. 17. What did you want a Democratic ticket for?—Ans. I cannot read.

Ques. 18. What did you tell them that you wanted a Democratic ticket for?—Ans. All the Bohemians voted that.

Ques. 19. So you told them that you wanted a Democratic ticket?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 20. Who handed you a Democratic ticket?—Ans. Krutcher gave it to me.

Ques. 21. Did you tell them that you wanted to vote that?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 22. And he give you one?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 23. Did you vote it?—Ans. I don't know.

Ques. 24. Have you ever voted any ticket you did not want to?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 25. Can you tell what ticket you voted?—Ans. I cannot tell.

Ques. 26. Why?—Ans. I pulled one out of my pocket; I cannot tell which one it was.

Ques. 27. You say here to the stenographer that you do not know whether you voted the Democratic ticket or not?—Ans. I do not know which one is right.

Ques. 28. Did you say that you do not know whether you voted a Democratic or Republican ticket?—Ans. I don't know; I never read it.

Ques. 29. You meant to vote a Democratic ticket.—Ans. Yes, sir; and maybe I voted a Republican.

Ques. 30. You wanted to vote a Democratic ticket.—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 31. And you meant to vote a Democratic ticket.—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 32. When did you have any doubt it first; to-day?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 33. When did you first have any doubt; has anybody been talking to you about it?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 34. Asked you what you voted.—Ans. Yes, sir; and I said I didn't know which was the best.

Ques. 35. I mean since you have voted, has anybody been talking to you?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 36. Did you tell them that you voted a Democratic ticket?—Ans. That is what I meant; I don't know whether I did or not.

Ques. 37. Did you aways tell them that you voted the Democratic ticket, until to-day?

(Brown says that he probably don't know then how he voted).

Ques. 38. Now then, Mr. Herrick, who has talked to you since the election?—Ans. I suppose Scott did.

Ques. 39. Since the election?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 40. Didn't you tell Mr. Scott that you voted the Democratic ticket?—Ans. No.

Ques. 41. Have you talked to anybody how you voted?—Ans. I voted a Democratic ticket.

Ques. 42. Didn't talk to anybody the day before you came on to the stand?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 44. Did all the Bohemians vote the Democratic ticket?—Ans. Most all.

Ques. 45. You think you did?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 46. You do now?—Ans. Of course.

Ques. 47. Did you vote a Democratic ticket?—Ans. I don't know for sure.

Ques. 48. But you think you did?—Ans. And, my opinion is, I did; I don't know whether I did or not.

Cross-examination:

Ques. 49. Did your parents come here with you; is your father a voter here?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 50. And your father has been a voter since he came here?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 51. You lived with your father after you got here?—Ans. Yes, sir; 3 or 4 weeks.

Ques. 52. You say that you got a Republican and a Democratic ticket at the election?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 53. But you voted one of them and yon can't tell which you voted?—Ans. I don't know; I can't tell.

Ques. 54. When you said you voted a Democratic ticket you were telling what you intended to, but don't know whether you did or not?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Redirect examination:

Ques. 55. How do you know that your father is naturalized?—Ans. He told me.

Ques. 56. Where?—Ans. In this county.

Ques. 57. He told you that he was naturalized in this country?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 58. When did he tell you that?—Ans. Before he got his naturalization papers.

Ques, 59. He told you that he was going to be naturalized?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 60. That is all you know about it?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 61. Your father's name is what?—Ans. John Herrick.

JOHN BOHEMAL, being produced and sworn before Amos Rogers, notary public for Benton County, on this 14th day of April, 1883, testifies as follows (Nichols & Burnham appearing on the part of contestee and T. Brown on part of contestant):

Ques. 1. Where do you live?—Ans. In town, here.

Ques. 2. This is York township, is it?—Ans. I guess that it is.

Ques. 3. Where did you live last election?—Ans. Here.

Ques. 4. Were you at the last when Frederick and Wilson ran for Congress?—Ans. I was.

Ques. 5. Did you vote at that election?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 6. Did you vote the Democratic or Republican ticket?—Ans. I am not sure for whom I voted.

Ques. 7. Did you vote for any one?—Ans. I knew when I voted.

Ques. 8. You have forgotten how you voted?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 9. Did you do anything at the election peddling tickets?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 10. Who gave you your ticket?—Ans. I don't know; I had two or three tickets; I guess I had one from Rodgers; I don't know whether it was you or your brother.

Ques. 11. Then what?—Ans. The other one I can't tell for sure who gave it to me; I think Mr. Scott; I don't remember that.

Ques. 12. Which one gave you the Democratic ticket?—Ans. I can't tell you.

Ques. 13. Did you go there to vote?—Ans. I was at work on the railroad at that time.

Ques. 14. Where did you live when you were at home?—Ans. Here; I was working on the road.

Ques. 15. Did you go there to vote the Democratic or Republican ticket?—Ans. I don't know what kind I did vote.

Ques. 16. What kind of ticket did you go to vote?—Ans. It was in my mind to vote the Democratic ticket.

Ques. 17. When was it in your mind to vote the Democratic ticket; when you were going to the election?—Ans. I don't know whether I did or not.

Ques. 18. You can't tell whether you changed your mind from voting?—Ans. No, sir; I don't know; I think that is what I did; I can't say that I voted the Democratic ticket.

Ques. 19. You tell that too often; of course you can tell how you voted; do you want to vote the Democratic ticket? Did you have it in your mind to vote the Democratic ticket when you started?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 20. Did you keep that mind when you voted?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 21. Didn't you vote the Democratic ticket, don't you think?—Ans. I can't tell that for sure.

Ques. 22. What did you vote before that?—Ans. I think I don't know.

Ques. 23. What makes you think so?—Ans. Well, because it was in my mind; I forgot it.

Ques. 24. Didn't you tell them that you wanted to vote the Democratic ticket?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 25. How did you know what ticket you voted?—Ans. Because I had the boss tickets.

Ques. 26. Could you read that—them?—Ans. Yes, sir; a little.

Ques. 27. Enough to know what they were?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 28. You could read them enough to tell what was Republican, what was Democratic ticket?—Ans. Yes, sir; that difference.

Ques. 29. Didn't you read the ticket you voted?—Ans. I did; some.

Ques. 30. Well, was it Democratic or Republican?—Ans. I am not sure what it was.

Ques. 31. You read it to see, didn't you?—Ans. I saw it; I know that.

Ques. 32. You read it to see, didn't you?—Ans. I don't understand that.

Ques. 33. You read it so as to tell whether or not it was Republican or Democratic?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 34. You wanted to vote Democratic ticket, didn't you?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 35. Did you read to see if it was a Democratic ticket?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 36. Now can you tell whether it was or not?—Ans. I have forgotten it now.

Ques. 37. Forgot what now?—Ans. What I voted.

Ques. 38. You mean you forgot the name?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 39. Was it printed Democratic ticket on the top?—Ans. I don't know for sure; guess that it was.

Ques. 40. What makes you guess that it was; because that you read it?—Ans. Because it was in my mind.

Ques. 41. Was it also because it was in your mind?

(Objection, leading.)

Ques. 42. Was that it; it was in your mind to vote Democratic ticket, and you read it to see whether it was Democratic ticket?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 43. You read it and found it just what you wanted?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 44. Then you voted it?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 45. Where were you born?—Ans. In Austria.

Ques. 46. When did you come to America?—Ans. I guess it was '68.

Ques. 47. Where did you come to; what part of America?—Ans. To this county.

Ques. 48. In '68? Have you lived here ever since?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 49. Have you a father?—Ans. He is dead.

Ques. 50. Did he come here?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 51. Did you come before he died in this country?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 52. When?—Ans. About 7 or 8 years ago.

Ques. 53. What was his name?—Ans. John.

Ques. 54. Did you ever take out any citizen's papers?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 55. When?—Ans. Short time ago.

Ques. 56. Since the election?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 57. Last Tuesday, at our place, was it?—Ans. May be.

Ques. 58. You didn't have citizen's papers at the election?—Ans. No, sir; I didn't.

Cross-examination:

Ques. 59. Did your father ever vote?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 60. You don't know whether you voted for Frederick or Wilson?—Ans. I can't remember the name.

Ques. 51. You don't know whether the ticket you voted was a Republican or Democratic in fact?—Ans. I am not sure about that; it was my mind to vote Democratic ticket.

Ques. 52. It was in your mind to vote Democratic ticket, and you can't tell whether you actually voted Democratic ticket or not?—Ans. I didn't notice that much.

Ques. 53. You got some tickets of some Republican man, didn't you?—Ans. No, sir, I had the boss ticket.

Ques. 54. You don't know now which kind you voted?—Ans. I say I guess I voted the Democratic ticket.

Ques. 55. You don't know positively now?—Ans. I am not very sure whether I did or not.

JOHN ROGERS, being produced and sworn before Amos Rogers, a notary public for Tama County, on this 14th day of April, A. D. '83, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and G. W. Burnham on the part of contestee):

Ques. 1. Where do you live?—Ans. Oneida.

Ques. 2. How long have you lived there?—Ans. Thirteen years, next fall.

Ques. 3. Tama Co., Iowa?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 4. Were you at the election last fall in Oneida Township, this co.?—Ans. Yes, sir; at Center school-house.

Ques. 5. At which Mr. Frederick and Wilson were candidates for Congress?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 6. Did you vote at that election?—Ans. Yes, sir; I voted there.

Ques. 7. Did you have citizen papers?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 8. Have you them with you?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 9. Will you please let me see them?

(Witness produces papers.)

Ques. 10. Did you vote Democratic or Republican tickets?—Ans. I voted Democratic.

Ques. 11. Did you vote for Frederick or Wilson for Congress?—Ans. I voted for Frederick.

Ques. 12. These are your naturalization papers I hold here, are they?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Witness cross-examined:

I had a ticket of each kind there.

(Same papers offered in evidence—naturalization papers of the witness, John Rogers, showing that he was naturalized on the 15th Feb., '83, before district court, Tama Co., Iowa, Hon. J. D. Griffin, sole presiding judge; Leland, clerk; witnessed with the seal of the district court, Tama Co., Iowa; dated Feb. 15th, '83.)

Ques. 13. How long were you at the polls that day?—Ans. A good share of the time; well, I didn't carry a watch.

Ques. 14. It does not take a watch.—Ans. Yes, sir; to tell the truth.

Ques. 15. About what time did you go there?—Ans. You may keep me in view an hour and a half, and might not think it was an hour; it might be five. I took dinner and footed it down three miles, lacking a few rods.

Ques. 16. Did you peddle tickets after you got there?—Ans. No, sir; I am not a peddler. I took tickets.

Ques. 17. Did you peddle tickets?—Ans. No, sir; I took tickets from peddlers.

Ques. 18. Did you know Velcome Mowery?—Ans. I am acquainted with him.

Ques. 19. Did you see him there that day, at election? Did you have a talk with him?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 20. Before, or after you voted?—Ans. Before.

Ques. 21. How long before?—Ans. A few minutes; I could not tell exactly.

Ques. 22. Was it immediately before you voted?—Ans. No, sir; not immediately. It might be an hour or only half an hour.

Ques. 23. Did you have tickets there, distributing them to voters?—Ans. No, sir; I did not.

Ques. 24. At that time do you recollect having conversation with Mowery as to whom you were going to vote for?—Ans. No such question with me. You need not start it. I was not going to put that question to him. I knew what he was going to vote.

Ques. 25. I mean as to how you were going to vote.—Ans. He knew that I was going to vote the Democratic ticket. I said that before.

Ques. 26. I didn't hear that you said that before.—Ans. Are you hard of hearing?

Ques. 27. No, sir; I forget sometimes.

Cross-examination:

Ques. 28. Did you know who you voted for for State officers?—Ans. Well, I really don't know. I put in a ticket there. I don't know which carried. I heard afterwards that—it came to my knowledge that mine was in favor of Wilson; I heard so.

Q. 29. Did you think that you voted for Wilson?—Ans. Not according to my knowledge.

Ques. 30. Did you read Wilson's name on the ticket? Who did you get the ticket from?—Ans. From Valcome Mowery; he put one in. Says he, "John" ——

Ques. 31. Did you get your tickets from others, too?—Ans. I got tickets from Matison, another from Valcome Mowery. I had two tickets; I don't know which it was.

Ques. 32. They told you afterward to vote the Republican?—Ans. I don't know; I could not swear to it.

Ques. 33. You may have voted the Republican ticket?—Ans. I wouldn't swear it.

Ques. 34. You had both kinds?—Ans. Yes, sir; I had.

Ques. 35. You had intended to vote the Democratic ticket, did you?—Ans. I certainly did.

Ques. 35. You might have voted the Republican ticket?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 36. Can you read?—Ans. No, sir.

Redirect:

Ques. 38. You say you can't read?—Ans. I have said so.

Ques. 39. You say you got tickets from Matison? What kind of tickets was he peddling?—Ans. For a man that can read them.

Ques. 40. Don't you know that they were Democratic or Republican?—Ans. How can I swear to that? I don't know. Can you swear through that board? You are asking an unreasonable question.

Ques. 41. Do you know anything about what tickets they were?—Ans. How do I know?

Ques. 42. Do you know?—Ans. No, sir; only supposing.

Ques. 43. What do you mean by supposing?—Ans. Natural ideas.

Ques. 44. What natural ideas?—Ans. Because I thought it might suit myself.

Ques. 45. What might suit you?—Ans. The ticket.

Ques. 46. What ticket?—Ans. The one I voted.

Ques. 47. The one you always vote?—Ans. No, sir; not the one I always vote.

Ques. 48. I thought Mowery knew you of old to be a Democrat?—Ans. Didn't I vote before I came to Iowa, before Mowery ever knew me?

Ques. 49. I don't know anything about that.—Ans. I know that you do not know everything; if you did you would be smarter than the rest.

Ques. 50. Did you say that Mowery was peddling Republican tickets?—Ans. No, sir; I didn't say anything like that.

Ques. 51. Did you know?—Ans. He had some papers in his hand; more than one or two.

Ques. 52. More than one or two?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 52. You say that the reason Mowery didn't say anything to you about voting was because he knew you of old to be a Democrat?—Ans. I reckon so.

Ques. 53. You knew Matison to be a Democrat?—Ans. He was formerly a Republican.

Ques. 54. I mean at that election.—Ans. I could not tell.

Recross-examination:

Ques. 55. Did you have papers before you got these papers here?—Ans. I don't know; I was entitled to those papers some time ago.

Ques. 56. You never got first papers?—Ans. Yes, sir, I have; but I was entitled to those long time ago, before I went to take them up.

Ques. 57. You had both Democrat and Republican tickets handed to you, and you do not know which you voted?—Ans. No, sir, I don't know; I was in favor of so-and-so, according to my estimation on both sides; I wanted to vote to suit myself.

Redirect:

Ques. 58. At the time you voted you knew what you were doing?—Ans. At the time I voted no one was passing anything stronger than water.

Ques. 58. You knew what you were doing?—Ans. Yes, sir; if I could read it.

Ques. 59. You believe those who read to you?—Ans. Nobody read for me.

Ques. 60. I mean those who gave you the information?—Ans. I didn't question any person.

Ques. 61. You didn't vote a ticket without knowing about it?—Ans. I just saw other parties getting tickets there; I was satisfied from my tickets the same as in a saloon; you go for a glass of beer; you see the sign up, and you go there too. [Great applause.]

Ques. 62. The treat is on me; if you saw a fellow going to a sign, is it a sign that he wanted beer?—Ans. Yes, sir; if I see a man going to the pump to light his pipe, I would swear that he was drunk.

Ques. 1. Where do you live?—Ans. Otter Creek Township.

Ques. 2. Mr. Connors, I will ask you if you were at Otter Creek at the last election, in which Frederick and Wilson were candidates for Congress?—A. Yes, sir.

Ques. 3. I will ask if you voted at that election?—A. Yes, sir.

Ques. 4. Did you vote the Democratic or Republican ticket?—A. I voted the Democratic ticket; never would have voted the Republican ticket.

Ques. 5. Did you vote for Frederick?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 6. Where were you born?—Ans. In Ireland.

Ques. 7. When did you first come to America?—A. I cannot tell exactly the year; I was only 12 or 15.

Ques. 8. Is this paper here your citizen paper?—Ans. Yes, sir; it is.

U. S. AMERICA,
New Jersey, to wit:

I, James Tomlinson, clerk of the court of common pleas, county of Hunterdon, in the State of New Jersey, do hereby certify that Sam'l Connors appealed before the said judges of the said court on the day and date hereof, and by his petition presented to the said court and prayed that he might be admitted a citizen of the U. FRANK NOVAK, being produced and sworn before Amos Rogers, notary public for Benton County, on this 14th day of April, A. D. 1883, testified as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and Stivers on the part of contestee):

Ques. 1. Where do you live?—Ans. At Chelsea.

Ques. 2. What township did you live in at the time of the last election?—Ans. At Chelsea.

Ques. 3. Were you at the election last fall in which Mr. Frederick and Wilson were candidates for Congress?

Ask the witness whether he voted at the election in Salt Creek Township, Tama County, Iowa, last November.

Ans. He says that he thinks that he did.

Ques. 4. Ask him what makes him think so.—Ans. Just because he says that he does sometimes come to vote and don't.

Ques. 5. Ask him whereabouts the election was held.—Ans. In Chelsea.

Ques. 6. Ask him if he voted the Republican or Democratic ticket.—Ans. He says he didn't know, because he couldn't read it; he did not know which one he put in.

Ques. 7. Ask him what he went there for?—Ans. He went down to vote.

Ques. 8. Went down to vote what ticket?—Ans. He says he don't know because he couldn't read it.

Ques. 9. Ask him what ticket he was going to vote?—Ans. He says that he didn't know which one he was going to vote; he didn't know one from another.

Ques. 10. Ask him who he got the ticket from he voted?—Ans. He says that he got so many of them that he don't know who he got this one from.

Ques. 11. Ask him how many he voted?—Ans. One.

Ques. 12. Ask him how he knows?—Ans. Because he threw the others away and one.

Ques. 13. How many did he throw away; as many as three or four; ask him if he got three or four different kinds?—Ans. He said he got as many as three of some men; he didn't know whether they were all alike or not.

Ques. 14. He doesn't read any himself, does he?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 15. Ask him if he voted the ticket he was told to vote?—Ans. He says he don't know what one he voted, because he could not read it; he don't know whether it was a ticket some one told him to vote or not.

Ques. 16. Ask him who was there when he voted?—Ans. He says he don't know; that when he got a ticket and went to vote he didn't know who was present.

Ques. 17. Ask him whether he had made up his mind when he went to the election whether he was going to vote the Democratic or Republican ticket?—Ans. He says that he don't know that there was any difference; he went with the intention to vote for an officer.

Ques. 18. He didn't have any mind made up whether he would vote the Democratic or Republican ticket?—Ans. He says that he didn't know that there were two different men and two different parties.

Ques. 19. Ask him if he thought they all voted one way?—Ans. He says that he didn't know that; he went with the intention to vote for an officer, but didn't know that there were two different parties.

Ques. 20. Ask him how long he has been in America?—Ans. 7 years.

Ques. 21. Ask him how old he is?—Ans. 26 or 27 years old.

Ques. 22. Ask him if he lives with his father?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 23. Ask him if he ever came to America?—Ans. He thinks not.

Ques. 24. Ask him if he ever got any citizens papers?—Ans. He took out first papers.

Ques. 25. When was that?—Ans. Three years ago last March.

Ques. 26. Ask him where he was living last fall at the time of the election?—Ans. He says that he don't know whose house it is.

Ques. 27. Ask him what man it was that lived at the house where he was living at the time of the election?—Ans. This man is a married man and lives by himself.

Ques. 28. Ask him if he is a married man and lives, and who his neighbors are. Did you ask him if he is a married man and lives alone. I ask you to ask him who his neighbors are?—Ans. You ask me to ask the witness whether he was a married man and lived by himself, and that is just what I asked him.

Ques. 29. Is he a married man and lives without his wife; is that it?—Ans. Yes, sir, it is.

Ques. 30. Ask him who his nearest neighbor is?—Ans. Mel Holmes.

Ques 31. How does he know it was election day the time he went down there?—Ans. Because they gave him a ticket and told him it was election day.

Ques. 32. What did he go down to Chelsea for?—Ans. He lives there in Chelsea.

Ques. 33. Who told him that it was election, and gave him a ticket?—Ans. Every one that gave him a ticket told him it was.

Ques. 34. Tell him to give the name of any one who gave him a ticket?—Ans. He says he couldn't tell.

Ques. 35. Ask him if he knew the names of those who gave him tickets at the time.—Ans. He says that he did.

Ques. 36. Ask him to tell the names of these?—Ans. Kemer was one of them.

Ques. 37. Who else?—Ans. John Prusha gave him a ticket.

Ques. 38. What did he do with the ticket Prusha gave him?—Ans. He says he don't know whether he threw it away or what he did with it.

I, Eldon Moran, a notary public for Tama County and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony in this cause, in pursuance of the annexed agreement attached to the testimony of J. L. Adams, whose testimony was taken Apr. 14th, 1883, do truly certify that on the 14th day of April, 1883, in pursuance of the notice hereunto annexed, I took the depositions of the following witnesses: Frank Sankat, Charles Jelinek, Michael Corcoran, Michael Foley, William Gebers, Joseph B. Dvorzark, Wentzel Herezak, Wentzel Husak, Joseph Benda, Owen O. Connor, Albert Snyder, Peter Kupka, Joseph Vavra, Martin Cibula, Wentzel Novak, Paterick Lynch, Chas. Jelinek, Joseph Varba. Wentzel Cherveny, Anthony Parizek, Frank Cibula, F. W. Prusha, Frank A. Parizek, Martin Herrick, John Bohumil, John Rodgers, Samuel O'Connor, Frank Novak, whose testimony is set forth in the following manner:

Each witness was first by me duly sworn or caused to be sworn in my presence, as provided by law, and when sworn the questions were propounded to him by the respective parties, Benj. T. Frederick, contestant, and James Wilson, contestee, by their respective attorneys, and the question by me read to the witness, who answered the same, and his answer by me in the language of the witness taken down under each question propounded, and reduced to writing, till the deposition was completed.

I further certify that when the testimony was taken of each witness I carefully read the same over to the witness, who corrected the same, and each correction noted, and said testimony was then signed by the witness and sworn to by him before me.

I further certify that Brown & Carney appeared as counsel for the contestant (Benjamin T. Frederick), and W. H. Stivers for the contestee (James Wilson).

In witness whereof I have set my hand and seal hereunto, notarially, this 14th day of April, 1883.

Deposition of witnesses produced before me, Eldon Moran, a notary public and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony, and duly sworn by E. M. Evans, a notary public for Benton County, on this 20th day of April, 1883, at Vinton, in pursuance of the notice hereunto attached, in a proceeding pending before the House of Representatives of the United States of America in a contested election for the office of Representative in Congress, in which proceeding Benj. T. Frederick is contestant and James Wilson contestee. (Brown and Carney for contestant, and Nichols and Burnham for contestee.)

The following testimony was taken before me:

STATE OF IOWA,
Benton County, ss:

AUGUST MEEHAM, being produced and sworn before E. M. Evans, a notary public for Benton County, on this 20th day of April, 1883 (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and Nichols and Burnham appearing on the part of contestee), testifies as follows:

Ques. 1. Where do you reside?—Ans. Tama County.

(Contestant objects to the testimony for the reason that no notice has been given to the witness, nor of his place of residence.)

Ques. 2. Did you live in Vinton, Iowa, last November?—Ans. I don't know whether I did or not.

Ques. 3. Did you vote at the November election, 1882?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 4. Where did you vote?—Ans. In Dysart.

Ques. 5. What ticket did you vote, Democratic or Republican?—Ans. I don't know which I voted.

Ques. 6. What are your politics, Mr. Mayhem?—Ans. Democrat.

Ques. 7. Do you know for whom you voted?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 8. Have you your naturalization papers with you?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 9. You were subpœnaed to bring them, were you not?—Ans. Yes, sir; but the papers got destroyed.

Ques. 10. Where did you get your second papers?—Ans. Right here in Vinton.

Ques. 11. Did Judge Gilcrest issue them to you?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 12. Who did, John Traner?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 13. You did not know whom you voted for?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 14. You do not know but what you voted the Republican ticket?—Ans. I don't know anything whatever about it; I could not read my ticket; how in the world could I tell who I voted for? I had both tickets in my hand.

Ques. 15. Which ticket did you intend to vote?—Ans. I intended to vote the Democratic ticket; I do not know whether I did or not.

Ques. 16. Did you intend to vote for Mr. Frederick for Member of Congress from the 5th district of Iowa?

(Objection, leading.)

Ques. 17. You may answer the question whether you intended to vote for Frederick for Member of Congress of 5th district?—Ans. Yes, sir; when I left home.

Ques. 18. Did you at the time you voted intend to vote for Frederick for Member of Congress 5th district Iowa?—Ans. I cannot answer that question.

Ques. 19. I want to know which you were intending to vote for?

(Objection, leading, incompetent.)

Ques. 20. You know what you intended to do?—Ans. I told you my intention when I left home, that I should vote the Democratic ticket.

Ques. 21. What did you intend to do at the time you did vote?—Ans. I told you I did not know which of the two I put in.

Ques. 22. That is not the question.—Ans. That is the one I cannot answer.

Ques. 23. Did you intend to vote for Frederick at the time you did vote?—Ans. Yes, sir; I intended to vote for him, but I don't know which one of them I did vote for.

Ques. 24. Who gave you your tickets?—Ans. I got them from several people there.

Ques. 24. Whom did you get the ticket from that you voted?—Ans. I do not know, because I had so many in my hands.

Ques. 25. Were they all Democratic tickets?—Ans. No, sir; they were not. One of them was a Democratic ticket with Wilson's name on it. I don't know whether I put that in or —

Ques. 26. How did you know Wilson's name was on it if you cannot read?—Ans. Because the man told me so.

Ques. 27. Did the same man hand you a Democratic ticket that did not have Wilson's name on it?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 28. Another man handed you that?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 29. You were told at the time that one of the tickets handed to you did not have Wilson's name on it?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 30. You were told that it was a straight Democratic ticket?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 31. That was the ticket you intended to vote—the straight Democratic ticket?—Ans. Yes, sir; that is what I intended to vote.

Ques. 32. Now, is it not your impression that you voted the straight Democratic ticket?—Ans. No, sir; because I don't know which of them I put in.

Ques. 33. Is it not your impression that you voted the Democratic?—Ans. My impression was at the time, if I had any, that is the one I voted for; but I say I don't know which of them I did vote for. I had 3 of them.

Ques. 34. You did not vote the Greenback ticket, did you?—Ans. I told you I did not know which one of them I voted.

Ques. 35. You haven't any recollection whatever which ticket you voted?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 36. You are a Democrat?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 37. You intended to vote the Democratic ticket?—Ans. Everybody knows that.

Ques. 38. You had a Democratic ticket in your hand—in your possession—at the time you did vote?—Ans. Yes, sir; also a Republican ticket.

Ques. 39. Well, did you vote the Democratic ticket that you had in your hand?—Ans. No, sir; I put all 3 in my pocket; when I voted I pulled out one; I don't know which one I voted.

Ques. 40. It was your intention to vote the Democratic ticket?—A. Yes, sir; it was.

Cross-examination:

Ques. 41. The Democratic ticket you had had Wilson's name on?—Ans. Yes, sir; one of them.

Redirect:

Ques. 42. And one had Frederick's name on, didn't it?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 43. That is the one you intended to vote?—Ans. Yes, sir; but I don't know which one I voted.

Recross-examination:

Ques. 44. You were just as liable to vote the one for Wilson as the one for Frederick?—Ans. Yes, sir; because I didn't know the difference between them, since I can't read.

Deposition of witness, produced before me, E. M. Evans, a notary public and commissioner agreed to take testimony this 20th day of April, A. D. 1883, in a proceeding before the House of Representatives of the United States of America in a contested election for the office of Representative in Congress, in which proceedings Benjamin T. Frederick, is contestant, and James Wilson is contestee, and Nichols & Burnham, appearing as attorneys for James Wilson, contestee, and T. Brown, appearing as attorney for B. T. Frederick:

JOHN JOHNSEN, of lawful age, being produced, and being sworn by E. M. Evans, in due form of law, testifies as follows:

Ques. 1. Where do you reside?—Ans. Fremont Township, Benton County, Iowa.

Ques. 2. Did you vote at the November election, 1882?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 3. What ticket did you vote; Democratic or Republican?—Ans. Democratic,
Ques. 4. For whom did you vote for Representative in Congress for the Fifth Congressional District of Iowa; for Frederick or Wilson?—Ans. For Frederick.
Quest. 5. You are a naturalized citizen, are you, Mr. Johnsen?—Ans. I would suppose I was.
Quest. 6. When did you get your second papers?—Ans. About March, 1860.
Quest. 7. Have you them with you?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Quest. 8. Will you produce them, please?
(Witness produces papers.)
Quest. 9. Before what judge did you appear?—Ans. I do not remember who the judge was then.
Quest. 10. Did you know Judge Trayner?—Ans. I believe I did at that time.
Quest. 11. Was it before Judge Trayner?—Ans. I do not remember; Mr. Allen, old man Baja, and Charles Baja, his son, six or seven of us, got our papers all the same day.
Quest. 12. Yes, sir; that is what the record says; now, did you appear more than once in Benton County in 1860 for the purpose of taking out your naturalization papers?—Ans. No, sir, not that I remember; never more than once.

Cross-examination:

Quest. 13. Is this paper your naturalization paper?—Ans. Yes, sir.
(We introduce the same in evidence.)

Certificate of naturalization of the United States of America.

To all to whom these presents shall come, greeting:

Whereas at a term of the district court, begun and held at Vinton, on the eighth day of March, A. D. 1860, therein and for the county of Benton and State of Iowa, John Johnsen, an alien and a native of Ireland, and subject of the Queen of England, personally came before the judges of the said district court and made application to be naturalized under the laws of the United States, and it appearing by sufficient testimony to the satisfaction of said court that the said Johnsen had admitted and declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States, in due form of law, at least two years before making said application, that he had been a resident of the United States for at least five years then last past; and also that during that time he had behaved as a man of good moral character, attached to the principle of the Constitution of the United States, and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same. Whereupon, by way of said court, and the oath of allegiance was administered in due form of law to the said John Johnsen in open court, that he well would support the Constitution of the United States, and that he will absolutely and entirely renounce and abjure all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince, potentate, state, or sovereignty whatever, and particularly to Queen Victoria, Queen of England, whose subject he was; and thereby it was ordered by the said court that that certificate of naturalization be granted to John Johnsen according to the form of the Statute of the United States in such case made and provided, as done by the court. Therefore the said John Johnsen is a citizen of the United States.

In testimony whereof I, James ———, and the clerk of the said district court, do subscribe our names and seal of the thereof, at Vinton, this eighth day of March, in the year of our Lord 1860.

JAMES CHAPTN, Clerk.

(Seal of the district court of Benton County.)

Ques. 4. Have you the records of the probate court, containing naturalization proceedings of 1860?

(Witness refers to the record book.)

(Contestee offers in evidence one page of the record of the probate court of Benton County marked on the margin 1860.

Contestant objects for the reason that it is not shown to be the record of any court; also, because it is immaterial, incompetent, irrelevant to the issue; because it does not show that the record of naturalization was made by the court; because it is not shown that it relates to the same person, John Jackson, who has been on the witness stand; also, because it contradicts the record of the district court; also, because counsel for contestant offers to show by the clerk that the district court shows that the aforesaid John Jackson was naturalized by the district court.)

In the matter of naturalization of John Jackson, an alien, to wit:

This 18th day of October, A. D. 1860, came John Jackson in person, before the judge of the county court, in and for Benton County, Iowa, and made application to be naturalized under the laws of the United States; and it appearing from sufficient testimony that the said applicant had made declaration of his intention to become a citizen, at least two years previous to making said application; that he had been a resident of the United States for at least five years last passed, and in the State of Iowa for at least one year last passed; and that during that time he had behaved like a man of good moral character, attached to the principles of the Cons't United States, and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same. Thereupon the oath of allegiance was administered according to law.

Ques. 5. Now, Mr. Thompson, I will ask you whether this is the record kept by the county judge, for the year 1860, of such parties in your office?—Ans. It is.

Cross-examination:

Ques. 6. Do you know that the John Jackson that is named in your record is this gentleman who has testified here?—Ans. No, sir; I don't know that.

Ques. 7. Is not John Jackson a common name?—Ans. Quite common.

Ques. 8. Do you know any others by that name in this county?—Ans. No, sir; I don't think I do.

Ques. 9. Are you acquainted with all the people in the county?—Ans. Probably not all of them; no, sir.

Ques. 10. Have you looked at the record of the district court of March, 1860, and examined it?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 11. Is this paper I now present to you (referring to naturalization paper of John Jackson, before introduced in evidence), purporting to be the naturalization paper of John Jackson, now in evidence; does it bear the seal of the district court of Benton County?—Ans. Yes, sir; it does.

Ques. 12. Is it signed by the clerk of Benton County, or the man who was clerk at that time?—Ans. I know that he was clerk; I can't say that that is his handwriting.

Ques 13. Have you the record of this Mr. Chapin, now before me?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 14. What is your judgment as to that being in the same handwriting of other records made by him, and other signatures of his?—Ans. I would have to examine to see.

Ques. 15. Will you do it?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 16. Have you ever had any reason to dispute any record made by the former clerk, Mr. Chapin, who signed that paper?—Ans. I don't know that I have.

(Witness proceeds to examine records at court-house.)

Witness having returned, and records being produced, it is agreed between the parties that the records of the clerk show that Mr. Jackson was naturalized as stated in his certificate of naturalization and introduced in evidence.

JAMES HICKEY, being produced and sworn before E. M. Evans, on this 20th day of April, A. D. 1883, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and Nichols and Burnham on the part of contestee):

Ques. 1. Where do you live?—Ans. Union Township, Benton Co., Iowa.

Ques. 2. Did you reside there in Nov., '82?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 3. Did you vote at the general election in '82?—Ans. Yes, sir; I did.

Ques. 4. Did you vote Democratic or Republican ticket?—Ans. I cannot tell.

Ques. 5. Do you know who you voted for for Representative in Congress?—Ans. I do not know; my memory is short.

Ques. 6. What are your politics?—Ans. Most anything; when I find a good man I vote for him.

Ques. 7. I will ask you if you are a Democrat in politics?—Ans. Yes, sir; I am.

Ques. 8. You can read, can you?—Ans. Yes, sir; I can read a little.

Ques. 9. You can read enough to read a ticket?—Ans. Yes, sir; in large print.

Ques. 10. Have you got your naturalization papers with you?—Ans. Yes, sir; I think so.

Ques. 11. You will let me see them, will you not?

(Witness produces papers.)

Ans. I served in the army three years and two months; one oath ought to be just as good as another.

Ques. 12. Can you tell for whom you voted for Representative?—Ans. It has been so long that I havn't any memory of it; I did not set it down.

Ques. 13. Well, I know that; but you can remember that long, can't you?—Ans. Well, I guess a man could remember it; but I do not remember it now.

Ques. 14. Well, did you vote Democrat or Republican?—Ans. Well, I want to find a good man on my ticket generally and vote for him; sometimes for Democrat; according to how I feel about it.

Ques. 15. How did you do last fall?—Ans. As I told you; I say that I can't remember.

Ques. 16. You don't remember who you did vote for?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 17. Did you vote for Wilson?—Ans. I don't know who I voted for; I cannot remember.

Ques. 18. Who was peddling tickets in your district?—Ans. A good many of them were peddling tickets down there.

Ques. 19. Give me the names of some of them?—Ans. I cannot remember the names. I might have had tickets; lots of them had Democratic tickets.

Ques. 20. They had both Democratic and Republican tickets too.—Ans. (Contestee offers in evidence the naturalization papers of this witness.)

(Contestant objects as incompetent, immaterial.)

Ques. 21. In the first place I will ask you if you are not a Democrat in politics?—Ans. Sometimes.

Ques. 22. If you do not usually vote the Democratic ticket?—Ans. Well, if I find a good man in the Republican party I always vote for him; I have every time, sir.

Be it remembered, at a term of the Co. court holden and in said Co. in Vinton therein on the 2nd day of Nov., 1868, was present the Hon. G. M. Gilgrist, sole judge presiding; H. M. Wilson, sheriff of said county, and G. M. Gilcrist, ex-officio clerk of said court, when the following, among other, proceedings, to wit: James Hickey, a native of Ireland, and at the present residing within said State, appeared in open court and makes application to be admitted to become a citizen of the U. S.; and it appearing to the satisfaction of the court that he had served in the Army of the U. S. for the time required by law, and upon honorable discharge therefrom that it was bona fide to become a citizen of the U. S., and to renounce forever all agents to any foreign prince, potentate, state, sovereignty whatsoever, and particularly to Victoria, Queen of Great Britain, of whom he was heretofore a subject; and said applicant having declared on oath before this court that he will support the Constitution of the U. S., and that he doth absolutely entirely renounce and abjure all allegiance of fidelity to every foreign prince, potentate, state, sovereignty, and particularly to Victoria, Queen of Great Britain, to whom he was heretofore a subject; and the court being satisfied that said applicant has resided in the U. S. for the term of 5 years next preceding his admission without being at any time during the said 5 years out of the territory of the U. S. and within this State one year at least. It further appearing to the satisfaction of the court that during that time he has behaved as a man of good moral character, attached to the principles of the Constitution of the U. S., and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same:

Thereupon the court admitted the said applicant to become a citizen of the United States, and ordered by the presiding official judge to be entered upon the record. It was accordingly done by the clerk of this court.

In testimony whereof, I, G. M. Gilchrist, judge and ex-officio clerk aforesaid, have set my hand and fixed the seal of the city court, at my office in Vinton, in said Co., this 2nd day of Nov., in the year of our Lord 1868.

(Contestee introduces in evidence the poll-book of Moore Township, saying that at Nov. election, 1882, Charles Allbright voted, and also Martin Allbright; Charles Allbright appearing number 37 and Martin Allbright number 40.

Contestant objects to saying as immaterial and incompetent.

Contestee also introduces naturalization record book No. 2, of Benton Co., page 48.

This to show that Martin Allbright was naturalized the 15th Dec., 1882; also page 488 to show that Charles Allbright was naturalized on the 15th Dec., 1882.

Contestant objects to the same as immaterial and incompetent, because it does not show that these are the same parties and the same men that voted in Moore Township; also, contestee reads from page 486 of same record, naturalization of aliens of the United States of America, State of Iowa, Benton Co.: Be it remembered that at the term of the circuit court, holden in the aforesaid Co., in Vinton, therein on 15 Dec., in the year of our Lord '52, was present a Mr. Christian Hedges, sole presiding judge; P. Adams, whose testimony was taken Feb. 22nd, 1883, in pursuance of the notice hereunto annexed, I took the depositions of the following witnesses: August Meehem, Thos. Perry, Thomas Redmond, John Redmond, Arad Thompson, James Hickey, whose testimony is set forth in the following manner:

Each witness was first by me sworn or caused to be sworn in my presence, as provided by law, and when sworn the questions were propounded to him by the respective parties, Benj. T. Frederick, contestant, and James Wilson, contestee, by their respective att'ys, and the question by me read to the witness, who answered the same, and his answer by me in the language of the witness taken down under each question propounded and reduced to writing till the deposition was completed.

I further certify that when the testimony of each witness was taken, I carefully read the same over to the witness, who corrected the same, and each correction noted, and said testimony was then signed by the witness and sworn to by him before me.

I further certify that Brown and Carney appeared as counsel for the contestant, Benj. T. Frederick, and Nicholas and Burnham appeared as counsel for the contestee, James Wilson.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal notarial this 20th day of April, 1883.

Deposition of witnesess produced before me, Eldon Moran, a notary public and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony, and duly sworn before me, a notary public for Johnson County, Iowa, on this 24th and 25th day of April, 1883, at Marengo, in pursuance of the notice hereunto attached, in a proceeding pending before the House of Representatives of the United States of America, in a contested election for the office of Representative in Congress, in which proceeding Benjamin T. Frederick is contestant and James Wilson contestee; Brown and Carney for contestant, and Mr. Simpson for contestee.

The following testimony was taken before me:

STATE OF IOWA,
Iowa County, ss:

PATRICK MCGRUE, being produced and sworn before Mr. Feenie, notary public for Iowa County, on this 24th day of April, A. D. 1883, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant and Mr. Simpson appearing on the part of contestee):

Ques. 1. You may state your name, age, and place of residence.—Ans. Patrick McGrue; 55 years of age; Hartford Township, Iowa county, Iowa.

Ques. 2. You may state, Mr. McGrue——

(Contestant objects to the testimony for the reason that the name and residence of the witness is not in the notice.)

Ques. 3. Did you vote at the general election, Nov. 7, 1882?—Ans. Yes, sir; I did.

Ques. 4. What ticket did you vote?—Ans. I voted the straight Democratic ticket.

Ques. 5. Where were you born?—Ans. In Ireland.

Ques. 6. What age were you when you arrived in this country?—Ans. I was 20 years of age.

Ques. 7. Did you ever take out any naturalization papers?—Ans. Yes, sir; I have.

Ques. 8. In what State and county?—Ans. Iowa County, State of Iowa.

Ques. 9. Have you your papers with you?—Ans. Yes, sir; I have.

Ques. 10. Will you produce them?—Ans. Yes, sir.

(Witness produces papers in court.)

Ques. 11. Are these all the naturalization papers you ever took out?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 12. Are these all the naturalization papers you ever had?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 13. Was Mr. Frederick's name on the ticket you voted for Congress?—Ans. Yes, sir.

(Same paper introduced into evidence by contestee.)

Cross-examination:

Ques. 14. Have you any other naturalization papers?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 15. Only one paper?—Ans. Only one.

(It is admitted by the contestant that the paper is only the first paper, and not sufficient to entitle the witness to vote.)

PATRICK McGRUE.

CHRISTIAN MOHRE, being produced and sworn before John Hughes, jr., a notary public for Iowa County, on this 24th day of April, 1883, and examined before me, testifies as follows (T. Brown appearing on the part of contestant, and A. H. Simpson on the part of contestee):

Q. 1. Where do you live?—A. Hartford Township.

Q. 2. Iowa County?—A. Yes, sir; Iowa County, Iowa.

Q. 3. Did you vote there last fall?—A. Yes, sir; I did.

Q. 4. What ticket did you vote?—A. I don't know that that is a fair question to ask.

Q. 5. I guess you are not ashamed of what you did?—A. I do not care. I don't know that that question should be asked.

Q. 6. Where were you born?—A. In Germany.

Q. 7. Have you any naturalization papers?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 8. What age were you when you came from Germany?—A. Fourteen and a half.

Q. 9. In what year did you come?—A. Eighteen hundred and fifty-nine, I think.

Q. 10. You were then 14½?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 11. Did you come with your father?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 12. Have you got naturalization papers?—A. No, sir.

Q. 13. Did you ever vote?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 14. When did you vote?—A. When I was 21.

Q. 15. What year was that in?—A. I don't recollect that, but it was for the first President; I think it was for the one before Abe. Lincoln.

Q. 16. You came to the United States in '59, you say?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 17. When was it when Lincoln ran?—A. In '63 or '64, I think. Well, I think it was in '59 I came.

Q. 18. Now we want to be perfectly fair with you—you refuse to say for whom you voted, and have now shown that you were born abroad, and have no naturalization papers.

(Brown, on the part of contestant, asks for the privilege of recross-examining the witness before he is required to say for whom he voted.)

Q. 19. Was your father naturalized?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 20. Where?—A. In Illinois.

Q. 21. When and in what year?—A. He voted for the President in the same year I did, in 1862.

Q. 22. He was naturalized in 1862?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 23. Got his second papers, then?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 24. You did not get any papers?—A. No, sir.

Q. 25. You came in 1859?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 26. With your father?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 27. He got his papers in 1862?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 28. You are positive about that?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 29. You are sure he got his second papers in 1862? I must take your word for it.—A. I would not say positive, but I know my father voted.

Q. 30. What ticket did he vote?—A. At that time he voted the Republican ticket.

Q. 31. I mean at the last election in Hartford Township?—A. I don't know that I ought to answer that question, but if it is proper to answer it I will do it.

Q. 32. We have had three or four hundred witnesses, and all but one have told how they voted.—A. I would vote sometimes a mixed ticket, and sometimes a straight ticket.

Q. 33. For whom did you vote for Congress, Frederick or Wilson?—A. I don't know that I have to answer that.

BROWN. Witness is not obliged to answer the question.

Q. 34. Yes, sir; you will have to answer that question. We will wait for your answer.—A. If it is proper for me to answer it, I will answer it.

(Contestant objects to the question being answered for the reason that the law does not require an answer, and under no circumstances can a witness be required to tell how he voted.)

Q. 35. Then Mr. Mohr will have to wait then.—A. It is just as you gentlemen agree about that.

Q. 36. Well, we take testimony here; that is settled in Washington. The objection of the contestant goes down and Congress will decide it.—A. Well, I voted for Mr. Frederick.

Cross-examination:

Q. 37. You say your father applied for papers after you came while you were yet a minor?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 38. And afterwards he voted?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 39. You considered that he was a naturalized citizen, and that he was such?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 40. Did he ever hold any office?

(Objection to the contestant asking for the opinion of the witness as to whether his father was a naturalized citizen.)

You may state whether you live in the same town as your father?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 41. I will ask you if you voted in Illinois, right after that.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 42. And since you became of age?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 43. In the very neighborhood where your father resided?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 44. Where the people knew about it?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 45. You voted at the same election with your father then, did you?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 46. What county in Illinois did you live?—A. In De Kalb County.

Q. 47. What was your father's first name?—A. George Mohr.

CHRISTIAN MOHR.

Q. 1. Where do you live?—A. Marengo, Iowa.

Q. 2. Did you vote at the Nov. election, 1882?

(Contestant objects to the witness on the ground that the residence of the witness is not given.)

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. What ticket did you vote?—A. I generally vote the Democrat ticket.

Q. 4. Where were you born?—A. In Ireland.

Q. 5. At what age did you come to America?—A. Twenty years of age.

Q. 6. Did you ever receive naturalization papers?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 7. Will you produce them?—A. I have lost them. I think that they were stolen from my pocket.

Q. 8. How did you vote?—A. I am not in the habit of telling how I voted.

Q. 9. Well, our time is precious.

CONTESTANT. You need not tell for whom you voted unless you want to.

Cross-examination:

Q. 10. Where were you naturalized?—A. In New York City.

Q. 11. How many papers did you get?—A. Two.

Q. 12. In what court?—A. In the city of New York.

Q. 13. Court of record?—A. I suppose so.

Q. 14. Did your papers have the seal of the court on them?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 15. Certified by the clerk?—A. Yes, sir.

(Objection.)

Q. 16. You may state the circumstances. When did you take out the first papers?—A. In '67. I came to the country in '66. I came to Iowa in '68. I lost my first papers and could not find them. Here, in '64 or '65, I wanted to take part in politics, and I found I could not do so without second papers; I could not get first papers without going to New York City. I went to New York in '75, and found a man, and got a copy of the other; I could not tell which court that was.

Q. 17. You got papers in open court in the city of New York?—A. Yes, sir; as I understand it.

Q. 18. Was it in one of the court buildings there?—A. Yes, sir; that is what the man told me.

Q. 19. What became of these papers?—A. They were either lost or stolen.

Q. 20. How long have you been a voter?—A. Since '75; except I lost one year.

Q. 1. You may state your name and place of residence.—A. I live in this town. My name is John W. Nelson.

Q. 2. What is your age?—A. Well, I was born in '50; my age is 33 now.

Q. 3. You may state whether you voted at the general election, Nov. 7th, '82, in Marengo Township.—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. What ticket did you vote?—A. Straight ticket.

Q. 5. Democratic or Republican?—A. I guess it was a Democratic ticket.

Q. 6. You may state whether you have your naturalization papers.—A. Yes, sir; I have two of them.

Q. 7. Will you produce them in court?—A. Yes, sir.

(Witness produces them.)

(Omission:———) papers with a name is Jno. N. Winbar. Also second papers are in the same name as above—in the name of the witness.)

Cross-examination:

Q. 8. What is your full name?—A. John Winbar Nelson.

Q. 9. Were these papers issued to you?—A. Yes, sir; but they got the name down wrong; they got it down Nelson Winbar; it should be John Winbar Nelson.

Q. 10. Did you ever go to have it rectified?—A. Yes, sir; I went to the clerk's office once; I believe it was A. B. Eshleman was the clerk; he was going to fix them there; Cap. Smith was in there; Eshleman spoke to Cap. "You fix these." He said, "this is somebody's name written backward," and afterwards he said, "You just let them go, for we find so many of them."

Q. 11. Who was your witness in court?

A. G. F. Eyrich. He always called me Winbar; it was wrong; some call me Winbar; some call me Nelson.

Q. 12. Do people call you by the name of Winbar here?—A. No, sir; not that I know of. I don't sign my name so.

Q. 13. Some parties call you that?—A. Yes, sir; when I first came here they called me that.

Q. 14. Were these papers issued to you and to no one else?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 15. You were the person?—A. Yes, sir. I have been here since '68. I have never been out of this town, because there are papers which will show where I paid my taxes in the name of John W. Nelson in '74.

Q. 16. You may state if you gave the correct name when you got the papers.—A. I think J. Farland gave the name, and he gave it wrong; I was going to have it fixed over when I got the second papers. I think David House was deputy in the clerk's office; he made it out before I went to see it. I was going to have it fixed over once, and he saw Cap. Smith about it; he said it was all right.

(It is agreed by the parties that the papers are regularly given by the circuit court of the State of Iowa, held in and for Iowa County, for the second papers; also, the first papers are from the dist. court of Iowa County, and are regularly given on their face, with the exception of the name of John N. Winbar appears on the papers, when the witness' name is John Winbar Nelson. In all other respects the papers are perfectly regular.)

My boss also would call my name wrong. I could not then speak English well.

Q. 17. The man you worked for gave the name wrong?—A. Yes, sir.

Q. 18. Is he the man you formerly worked for here?—A. Yes, sir; his name is G. F. Eyrich.

Ques. 10. We will have to wait until you do tell.—Ans. You will wait until noon, then.

Ques. 11. You are not ashamed to tell for whom you voted?—Ans. I would rather get through quick.

Ques. 12. Tell for whom you voted and we will get through in a moment.—Ans. I won't tell.

Ques. 13. We will have to wait until you do tell.—Ans. Well, all right then.

(Witness refuses to answer the question.)

Contestee states that the naturalization papers of this witness were got out in the county court of Marengo, Iowa County, Iowa, by A. H. Willet, judge of the county court of Iowa, dated the 7th day of Nov., 1864.

Ques. 14. You had better let us get through with this; it is all settled but to tell us what ticket you voted; you are losing your time and ours; Frederick is not ashamed of it, and I know that you are not.

(Witness refuses to answer.)

Ques. 15. You had better tell us what ticket you voted.—Ans. I won't tell.

Ques. 16. Tell us what party you belong to.—Ans. I always belong to the Democratic party.

Ques. 17. Well, that is a good old party.—Ans. I think so.

Ques. 18. And you generally vote that ticket, don't you?—Ans. Sometimes I do, sometimes I don't.

Ques. 19. Did you vote it last November?—Ans. Yes, sir, I did.

Ques. 20. Did you vote the straight ticket?—Ans. No, sir; I didn't vote the straight ticket.

Ques. 21. Did you vote for Frederick for Congress?—Ans. I won't tell.

Ques. 22. Who gave you your tickets?—Ans. Well, I don't know; three or four gave me tickets.

Ques. 23. Did you vote the Democratic ticket?—Ans. Yes, sir; I think I did once for Mr. Morrison.

Ques. 24. Has anybody advised you not to tell? You are under oath now.—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 25. Has anybody advised you not to answer this question?—Ans. They told me I didn't have to.

Ques. 26. Who told that?—Ans. Most everybody said that.

Ques. 27. Name somebody that said that. Did Frederick tell you that?—Ans. No, sir.

FREDERICK: I told the witness that he does not need to tell unless he wants to.

Ques. 28. Did Mr. Brown?—Ans. No, sir.

(Brown makes some remarks.)

WILSON. I want to know, Mr. Brown, whether you say to the witness that he is not compelled to answer that question.

BROWN. I refuse to answer any question. I am not on the witness stand.

WILSON. Well, I want to know if you didn't instruct the witness not to answer that question.

BROWN. Well, I say that the witness cannot be compelled—if he is an illegal voter—that he cannot be compelled to state whether he voted or for whom he voted.

(Among discussions all went into particulars as to what the law is.)

Ques. 29. You are keeping yourself and all these people from their work?—Ans. (Witness refuses to answer.)

Ques. 30. I send for people to come here to carry on this contest, and pay them for it. I dislike to keep all these people waiting here; I dislike it very much.—Ans. (Witness still refuses to state for whom he voted.)

Ques. 31. I don't want to ask the House of Representatives to send here to take you down to Washington.—Ans. I say I belong to the Democratic party.

Ques. 32. Did you scratch the ticket last fall?—Ans. I won't tell that now.

Ques. 33. You have said it once, that you voted mixed tickets?—Ans. I say sometimes I do that.

Ques. 34. Didn't you say last fall you voted a scratched ticket?—Ans. I believe not; I said I scratched the ticket sometimes. I didn't mean that election.

Ques. 35. You didn't mean that you did that last election?—Ans. I didn't say that.

Ques. 36. Did you scratch the ticket last fall?—Ans. I didn't say that.

Ques. 37. You may stand aside a little while; we will go along with the rest?—Ans. I can stand it here all day long, if you fellows don't want me; I will send to have some lager beer brought up here.

(Excused for the present.)

JOSEPH SCHMUKY recalled.

Ques. 1. We wanted to know what ticket you voted last fall?—Ans. I will tell you I made up my mind that I wasn't going to answer any questions any more.

Ques. 2. Well, I have made up my mind that you are going to answer this question, so far as I am concerned. I will ask you this question: Do you know who you voted for for Representative in Congress? Which one of these two men or either of them did you vote for?—Ans. I told you that I didn't answer any more questions.

Ques. 3. Did you get your fees as a witness in this case?—Ans. Yes, sir; I did.

Ques. 4. How much did you get?—Ans. Eighty-five cents.
Ques. 5. You refuse to answer any more questions?—Ans. Yes, sir; I have nothing more to say.
Ques. 6. Now, Mr. Schmuky, I will read you the law, section 709 of the statutes of the State in regard to contested elections. [Reads the statutes to the witness.] I wanted you should hear this in the presence of both parties.

(Excused.)

STATE OF IOWA,
Iowa County, ss:

Deposition of witness produced and sworn before me, John Hughs, jr., a notary public and commissioner agreed upon to take testimony, this twenty-fourth day of April, A. D. 1883, in a proceeding before the House of Representatives of the United States of America, in a contested election for the office of Representative in Congress, in which proceedings Benjamin T. Frederick is contestant and James Wilson is contestee, T. Brown appearing as attorney for B. F. Frederick and A. H. Simpson appearing as attorney for Wilson.

JAMES QUINN, being of lawful age and being produced and sworn by John Hughs, jr., in due form of law, testifies as follows:

Ques. 1. You may state your name, age, and place of residence.—Ans. My age is about 55 or 56.
Ques. 2. Where do you live, township and State?—Ans. Two and a half miles south.
Ques. 3. What township?—Ans. This township, Marengo Township.
Ques. 4. Did you vote at the general election Nov. 7th, 1882?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 5. What ticket did you vote?—Ans. I don't know.
Ques. 6. What country were you born in?—Ans. Ireland.
Ques. 7. At what age were you when you came to America?—Ans. I wasn't 21.
Ques. 8. Did you ever take out citizen papers and become a citizen of the United States?—Ans. No, sir, I never did; I never took out citizen papers.
Ques. 9. You didn't take out naturalization papers; do you know that difference between them?—Ans. Naturalization papers and citizen papers are different.
Ques. 10. Have you the papers with you?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 11. How many papers did you take out?—Ans. One set.
Ques. 12. In what county and State?—Ans. Johnson County, State of Iowa.
Ques. 13. You declared your intentions there to become a citizen of the United States?—Ans. Yes, sir.
Ques. 14. You never took out any other papers?—Ans. No, sir.
Ques. 15. What political party do you belong to?—Ans. I don't belong to any particular.
Ques. 16. What ticket do you generally vote?—Ans. I generally vote for the best man.
Ques. 17. Which ticket do you generally put into the box?—Ans. Sometimes one, sometimes another.
Ques. 18. Which one at last fall election?—Ans. I don't know.
Ques. 19. You are under oath.—Ans. Yes, sir; but I can't tell exactly.
Ques. 20. Who gave you your ticket?—Ans. I believe Mr. Lake.
Ques. 21. He is a Democrat, is he not, and belongs to the Democrat party?—Ans. I don't know; I expect he does.
Ques. 22. He was distributing tickets for the Democrat party?—Ans. It seems he was; he had some Republican tickets also.
Ques. 23. You expected you were voting for the Democratic man, did you not, at that election?—Ans. I thought I would any way.
Ques. 24. Did you know who were the candidates for Congress?—Ans. I don't know exactly.
Ques. 25. Have you read that Frederick and Wilson were running for Congress?—Ans. I heard something about it.
Ques. 26. There was no scratching on your ticket, no names scratched off, you say; it was a straight ticket?—Ans. I cannot tell whether it was scratched or not.
Ques. 27. Did you not intend to vote a Democrat ticket?—Ans. Well, I generally scratch some men off every time.
Ques. 28. You didn't scratch any?—Ans. No, sir, I didn't; I don't know that I meant to scratch any; I wa snot acquainted with them.
Ques. 29. You expected you were voting for the Democratic nominees this time? Ans. I don't know; I can't tell; I took a mixed ticket anyway, I expect.
Ques. 30. What part was mixed, the township part?—Ans. I can't tell; some scratching, of course.

Ques. 31. You had confidence that Mr. Lake would give you the right ticket?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 32. You knew that Mr. Lake was a leading man in Marengo?—Ans. No, sir; I did not know that he belonged to the Democrat party.

Ques. 33. How did you happen to vote this ticket, or how did you happen to go to him for the ticket?—Ans. He asked me if I was going to vote. I said I was. He said, "I will give you the right ticket."

Ques. 34. What kind did he say that it was?—Ans. He had two or three kinds there.

Ques 35. Did you hear anybody say, or did you hear Lake say, that he was working for Republican candidates?—Ans. I cannot tell anything about that. I was not there many minutes; just came in and voted and went back again.

Ques. 36. You belong to the Democratic party, don't you?—Ans. Not exactly; I vote for the best man I know of when there is going to be an election.

Ques. 37. You have faith that the Democrats are the best men?—Ans. I have faith in the others, too. There are just as good men on the other side as there is on the Democratic side.

Ques. 38. How long have you voted?—Ans. I guess I have been voting about twenty-four or twenty-five years.

Ques. 39. You didn't think you needed the second papers?—Ans. I was told by Mr. Clark in Iowa City, that I did not need any; that I came under age.

Ques. 40. Did you come with your father?—Ans. No, sir; I came alone.

Cross-examination:

Ques. 41. Did you say Lake was peddling two kinds of tickets?—Ans. Yes, sir; he had more than one kind.

Ques. 42. You don't really know what kind of a ticket you voted?—Ans. I cannot tell what kind of a ticket I voted. I vote for one as well as the other.

Ques. 43. Did you serve in the Army?—Ans. No, sir.

mark.

Redirect:

Ques. 44. Did you know Mr. Frederick prior to the election, also Mr. Wilson; and did you know which was the Democratic candidate?—Ans. I didn't know at the time, but did afterwards.

Ques. 45. Can you read print?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 46. What did you intend to vote at that election, Democrat or Republican ticket for the State ticket?—Ans. I meant to pick out the best men, I began with Mr. Lake.

Ques. 47. You depended on his judgment?—Ans. He gave me a ticket and he said that was a good ticket; and for me to vote it.

Ques. 48. Did you get your fees from Mr. Wilson when he subpœnaed you?—Ans. No, sir; I live two and a half miles from here.

Recross-examination:

Ques. 49. Didn't some one else give you tickets during the day?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 50. You may have voted some other ticket then?—Ans. Yes, sir; I cannot tell, only I put one in.

Ques. 51. You cannot now tell positively what ticket you voted?—Ans. I think it was the one that Mr. Lake gave me.

Ques. 52. You would not swear positively?—Ans. No, sir.

Ques. 53. You had more than one?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 54. You have said, first, that you were only a few minutes at the polls?—Ans. I was not there more than half an hour or three-quarters.

Ques. 55. You think you voted the ticket that Mr. Lake gave you?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Redirect:

Ques. 56. You said it was your best recollection you voted a ticket that Lake gave you?—Ans. Yes, sir; that is it.

Recross-examination:

Ques. 57. You had more tickets than the one Lake gave you?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 58. You put them in your pocket together?—Ans. Yes, sir.

Ques. 59. Can you tell positively which one you took out; the one that Lake gave you, or one of the others?—Ans. I can't tell for certain whether I voted that one or the other.

Redirect:

Ques. 60. You have said you voted a ticket Lake gave you?—Ans. Yes, sir; I think so.

Ques. 61. You think you did so?—Ans. I just put it in my pocket; I probably had some others in my pocket at the same time, so I can't swear I voted that particular one; I know that I voted some ticket.

Ques. 62. You think you voted the one that Lake gave you?—Ans. Yes, sir; I do think so; that is my opinion.

Recross-examination:
